SCHOOL SONG

Oh M-A-D-I-S-O-N Madison,
Oh sing of the praises of the victories we have won.
Oh M-A-D-I-S-O-N Madison,
Oh that's alright we've won the fight,
But we must keep right on.
Here's to the blue and white of M.H.S..
May she lead us to success,
And may we show our fine school spirit grand,
And prove ourselves a loyal band!
M.M.H.S. M.M.H.S.
Keep that goal in sight,
Find your work and never shirk,
And we will be alright.
Rah! Rah! Rah!
M.M.H.S. M.M.H.S.
Strive on for her fame,
Strive, ever strive and we will win again!

DEDICATION

WE dedicate this Cauldron to Shirley Cowles appreciation of her helpfulness to both faculty and students, and as an expression of the love and respect we hold for her!

ADMINISTRATION

MR. Howard Donaldson joined us immediately following the Christmas holiday. Mr. Donaldson was formerly superintendent of Ravenna Township Schools. We look forward to an agreeable association with him.

MR. Givens, after being with us for nearly two and one half years, resigned his position as Superintendent to rejoin the army as a Lieutenant Colonel. We were regretful to see him leave but realize the army has gained a fine man.

FACULTY

First Row: Mr. Howard Tidd, Mr. Alvin Flint, Mr. Alexander Barr, Miss Margaret Pipas, Miss Helen Jones, Mrs. Gertrude Trescott, Mrs. Betty Behm, Mrs. Shirley Cowles.
Second Row: Mr. Clayton West, Mr. James Meyers, Mr. William Moritz, Mr. Ralph Subotnik, Mr. Theodore Grafel, Mr. Raymond Givens, Mr. Emil Raveling
Inset: Miss Jacqueline Franck

WHEN school opened this year we found a number of the "old guard" still in the fold. They were Mrs. Trescott, Miss Jones, Mrs. Behm, Mr. Barr, Mr. Raveling, Mr. West, and Mr. Subotnik. We also discovered some "new faces" in our faculty, among whom were, Miss Pipas who was with us until "mid-year", and later Miss Francks who replaced her, Mr. Grafel, Mr. Flint, Mr. Myers, and Mr. Tidd who returned to M. M. H. S. after a few years absence. This faculty, is considered by many Seniors, to be just about the best faculty they've had in their four years at M. M. H. S.

HISTORY

ON the fifth day of September, 1945, sixty-five very frightened Freshmen entered the halls of M. M. H. S. Being a large class we all wandered around in a daze at first but were finally assigned to rooms two hundred and three and four, the study hall, with Mr. Tomlinson as our advisor. It wasn't long before our class "learned the ropes" and our reputation was soon established. The class held a dance on February 1, (the best dance of the year, we thought) and also contributed its talent to the "Stunt Night" program. Nine of us obtained membership in the Scholarship Club, with a majority of the class joining other clubs of the school.

September, 1946, found our class with fifty-nine students. Our advisors were Mr. and Mrs. Hengesbach and Mr. Subotnik. The outstanding event of the year was, "The Snowball Dance," held for the student body and Alumni on January 18. We did our best for inter-class basketball and were well represented on the football and basketball squads. We were sorry to lose one of our advisors, Mr. Hengesbach, who re-enlisted in the Marines in January.

As school opened again in September, we found Mrs. Trescott and Mr. Subotnik as our advisors. Mrs. Trescott also directed our Junior Play, "Papa Says No," which was a great success. Our big social event of the year was the "Prom" held at the Ashtabula Hotel on May 22.

In September, 1948, we returned for our last year at M. M. H. S., with Mr. Barr as our advisor. On October 27, we sponsored a skating party and on November 13, "The Pigskin Hop," which was well attended by everyone.

In the spring, we held our annual senior play, which was directed by Mrs. Trescott; and later attended the prom sponsored by the Junior Class. The last few weeks were high-lighted by our preparation for the impressive ceremony to which we had looked forward with so much anticipation-Graduation! Never will we forget the thrill of marching down the aisles in the auditorium, wearing our caps and gowns, and finally receiving those longed-for diplomas.

ON this blissful planet, which we call Earth, in the year 2500, a Professor Myron Mackleheimer, noted genealogist and student of the fourth dimension traced his ancestry back to almost the Dark Ages of 1949, and, in particular, to one Norman Alber, the first of a long line of famous bluebloods. Having a burning desire to learn more of his ancient ancestor and the people with whom he had associated, Doctor Mackleheimer searched more deeply and furnished us with these facts. His illustrious ancestor, he found had been famous for his agricultural genius, especially in having perfected a very edible weed called the carrot. One of Norman's best friends was one Robert Signet whom it seems had ambitions to become a doctor. (Editor's Note -term "doctor" not to be confused with modern interpretation.) This Alber, also associated with Bernard Hein, one of the last of the not extinct race of "people" with red hair. Bernard played an ancient instrument called a trumpet, and was the leader of a famous band. (E. N.-a noisy aggragate of musicians.)

Most of his more personal friends were his senior classmates of 1949. Joanne Ernst, who resided just a little distance from Norman, was a noted author of "Secretarial Methods and Procedures." Charlotte Cooper, who later became a fashion designer, attended the same school as Norman.

Dan Brown chose the one profession that is still honored today, the ministry, and was instrumental in bringing the good life to his community.

Bob Warner raced automobiles; his cars were capable of traveling over 100 miles per hour. (E. N.-such trivial speed was considered a very great thing for the ancients.)

Pat Hubbard had married and lived in a palatial home where she had many servants to do her work for her--a way of life which was just to her liking.

Barbara Allan was married and did considerable traveling to far off places. (E. N.-this was all intra-earth travel as they did not know our neighbors from Mars at that early era.)

Quentin Himebaugh, another fellow-graduate, employed his patience and understanding in his valiant, but vain effort to preserve a lasting peace among nations.

Richard Hayes ran what was then called an exclusive hotel. He was well liked because of his genial hospitality.

Ruthella Paine, who worked for Dick, was hostess of the dining room and added graciousness to the pleasant atmosphere.

Unlike most of the girls who pursued a career before getting married, Janet Johnson settled down to a long and happy married life soon after graduation.

Richard Woodworth was engaged in agriculture and dairying besides working part time as a veterinarian.

Shirley Rooks, too, married soon after high school and lived in the vicinity of Unionville.

Marilyn Crum and Betty Shaffer were the proprietors of a candy shop. In this place were sold the choicest varieties of candy.

Xafrie Dodge ran a small town newspaper in which all the gossip in town appeared. Sometimes it carried news items also, but because people didn't read them, they became all but extinct.

Ann Gifford married and settled down. Little is known about her as her records have become lost.

Ruth Morris lived in a small town in Texas. (E. N.-this is the famous Texas of our time.)

Barbara Gibbon was in the employ of Joan Toppari, who like many successful secretaries married her boss.

Richard Keyse was a prosperous insurance salesman. He sold theft, fire, wind, and damage from atomic bomb insurance. His records reveal that few of the latter group were ever collected.

PROPHECY

Roland Titman was also a musician; he played a queer instrument in which the object was to bring the fingers down upon black or white levers at the proper time. This device was called a piano. His assistant, protegee, and pupil was Ruth DeHaney.

Paul Widlets manufactured dog food. (E. N.- our antiquated ancestors kept the beasts for entertainment and company).

Robert Jopko was noted as a criminologist, having worked his way up from a traffic cop. (E. N.-those inefficient vehicles called automobiles, needed manual operation). His sister, Delores, headed a Medical Clinic with Patricia Kemerait as her special assistant. (E. N.- you must understand that, unlike our civilization, they were plagued with many illnesses).

Joanne Fuller made a considerable amount of money in the floral business. (E. N.- the common orchid which we feed to our animals was then, very rare and consequently, very expensive).

Senor Donald Mah went back to his Alma Mater in later years as a Spanish teacher. During the summer vacations he usually traveled through Mexico where Spanish was the native tongue.

Helen Bukky owned an exclusive fur shop and employed Richard Bender as experienced hunter and trapper to secure furs for her in the far distant wilds of the Northland. It wasn't unusual for Mr. Bender to be gone from three to five years at a time.

Tom Barry became manager of the Standard Oil Co. of Lake County and his two Irish sons excelled in the fame of Football at Notre Dame a university of higher knowledge. (E. N.- football has since been outlawed as promoting the primitive instincts of man).

James Hearn, we thank even today, for his magnificent work in revising the dictionary for common use.

Berdina Kangas, possessing very artistic talent, pursued as a hobby, painting. Her works were even awarded a place in the Cleveland Museum of Art. (E. N.- Cleveland was a suburb of our metropolis of Madison).

Bill Herr was an entertainer upon the stage and through the medium of television, his greatest attributes were a fine line of jokes and a perfectly comical facial expression.

Jack Mercer became a teacher and coach of football at a medium sized high school in the midwest. (E. N.- this game of football will be explained a little later).

Charlotte Bunnell was a housewife, nothing more, nothing less.

Fred Prinz was a gentleman farmer who did much to better agriculture.

Ruth Ryel and Frances Sironen did much traveling, (this was of course upon the earth alone).

Robert Luikart, because of his ability to make people laugh, finally became a professional comedian (E. N.- the fools still enjoyed laughing then).

James Shimek and William Marks became partners and soon were the proud owners of a garage which repaired cars and trucks. (E. N.- further evidence of the inefficiency of ancient machines).

Ralph Downing. It is very strange, but there were no records to be found telling anything about his occupation and achievements. This leads us, and probably you also, to the same conclusions.

This paper has always had the reputation of printing only facts and as amazing and unbelievable as Dr. Mackleheimer's findings may seem, they are based wholly on fact. It may be that you, the typical reader could trace your ancestors back to the dim ages also, and find as did the good Doctor, what your ancestors and their associates were like.

What we have presented, illustrates the difference between civilization as we enjoy it today and life as it was immediately following 1949.

THE Juniors started the year 48-49 off with a "bang," by electing the following class officers: President, Stanley Lackey; Vice President, Tom Miller; Secretary, Joyce Bukky; and Treasurer, Dorothy Anderson. Myrna Stanley, Ruth Becker, and Joe Barrett were chosen as representatives of Student Council.

The enthusiastic Juniors' first money making project was selling, magazine subscriptions, followed by the sale of candy and gum during noon hour. Both of these projects were successful, especially the sale of candy and gum at noon, which was continued throughout the school year.

THE entire action of the play took place in the living room of the Murray home.

The action centered about the three old maids, one very dominating, one who hated all men and one who was constantly complaining about her sickly condition.

These maids tried to browbeat their niece, Patsy, who had been left a large sum of money. Patsy, an innocent, shabby girl in Act I, later is beautiful and does not tolerate the Aunts' orders. Patsy, Leona Busch, Successfully won her lover, Bob Heckel.

Comedy hits were furnished by Uncle Ed, a big game hunter, portrayed by Stan Lackey and also by the clumsy maid, Judy Lange.

Lee Skidmore cleverly impersonated a Professor of Psychology.

David Hills, a sophisticated legal adviser, was rather nervous when he was informed about baboons.

Wanda Brake, the reporter who spent most of her time behind a screen contributed to the comedy with her little bag containing lingerie.

The entire cast contributed to a comedy that will be long remembered.

A very frightened and bewildered freshmen class entered the portals of M. M. H. S. early in September of '48.

They were unfamiliar with High School subjects, its tradition, and its customs, but were determined to adjust themselves and soon became an important "cog" in the school life and activities of M. M. H. S.

They elected as officers: Robert Frink, President; Robert Reese, Vice President; Marilyn Ferrick, Secretary; and Elizabeth Raveling, Treasurer.

As the class was composed of students from two different grade schools it took some time for the class to adjust to one another and to work together in a harmonious fashion. One of our activities was a skating party which was well attended.

Robert Frink and Sue Brichford represented the Freshmen in the Student Council while Donna Eager, Patricia Miller, and Judy Cone, were junior varsity cheerleaders. A list of promising athletes headed by Robert Frink, Richard Harmon, Buddy Nicely, Robert Piefelice, and others spells well for the future fortunes of Madison High in sports.

CAULDRON STAFF

THIS Cauldron was compiled by our staff with the able direction of Mrs. Trescott and Mr. Barr. Literary compositions were composed by Donald Wyman, Betty Strickler, and Bob Signet, with Tom Barry handling the Sports. Jim Hearn, business manager, relieved the editors of much work. Snapshots were in charge of Bernard Hein, while Bill Herr did the art work. Sales were conducted by Janet Johnson and Bob Warner. The important advertising department consisted of Norman Alber, Dick Keyse, and Dick Woodworth. Typists were Barbara Allan, Charlotte Cooper, Ruth Ryel, Joan Toppari, and Joanne Ernst. The entire staff hopes that this Cauldron meets the approval of all concerned.

STUDENT COUNCIL

First Row: Joan Toppari, Earl Schiring, Marilyn Woidtke, Robert Snyder, David Behm.
Third Row: Robert Sidley, Stanley Lackey, Daniel Brown, Ruth Becker, Norman Alber, Robert Frink.

THE Student Council under the advisorship of Mr. Tidd was again organized for the benefit and general welfare of the student body. The officers of the Council were: Joan Toppari, Pres.; Stanley Lackey, Vice Pres.; and Daniel Brown, Secretary. Passing many needed proposals which included hall guards, traffic regulations, and special seating arrangements during assemblies, the Student Council enjoyed the whole hearted cooperation of the administrative head, the faculty, and the student body.

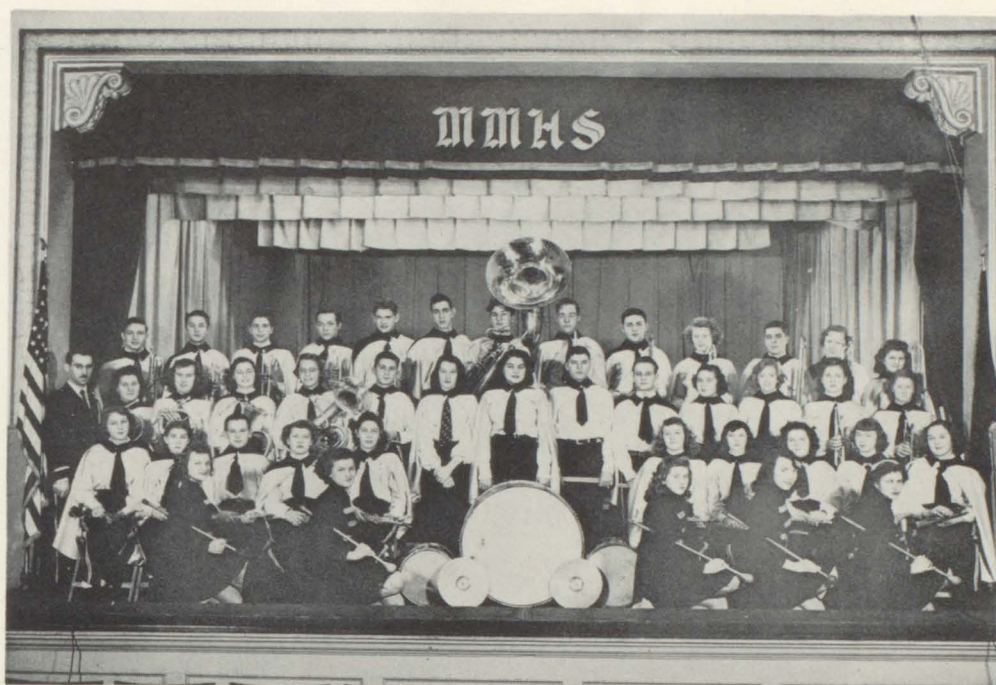

SCHOLARSHIP CLUB

Second Row: Miss Jones, Jean Hanson, Mary Nash, Betty Luhnaw, Barbara Naughton, Richard Donaldson, Rosanne Trescott, Carolyn Woodworth, Wanda Brake, Earl Schiring.

THE Scholarship Club is an honorary club in which membership is obtained by high scholastic standing. The club under the advisorship of Mr. Grafel organized at the start of the second semester and elected the following officers: Thomas Miller, President; Jean Hanson, Vice President; and Patricia Miller, Secretary-Treasurer. Highlighting the years activities was the Lake County Scholarship Banquet, at which Carolyn Woodworth was elected County Secretary. Richard Keyse was the only senior to be a member four years in a row.

BAND

Second Row: Elizabeth Raveling, Myrna Raveling, Robert Wickert, Eileen Ellertson, Sue Brichford, Barbara Gibbon, Joanne Haris, Wilber Griggs, Doralee Fish, Carolyn Ritola.

OUR band, in their smart blue uniforms with white satin-lined capes, expertly went through intricate marching formations during the "half" at our home football games, and also at several out-of-town games. Credit is due the great comedy team Norman Alber and Stanley Lackey, whose humorous antics so thoroughly captivated the spectators at our games.

The band also presented two formal concerts, cooperating with the two choral groups and presenting to Madison audiences, music at its best. Frequently, these musical organizations gave concerts at special assemblies, for the enjoyment of the student body. What Mr. Barr is going to do next year without his star senior players in the band is beyond "thinkability." (Note: Senior band members opinions only.)

SENIOR CHORAL CLUB

First Row: Frances Nash, Doralee Fish, Wilda Griggs, Dorothy Hummel, Betty Luhnnow, Carolyn Woodworth, Nancy Peterson, Lois Nichols, Leona Busch, Jean Hanson, Iva Brainard, Adeline Larko, Catherine Berus, Nancy Fisher.
Second Row: Joseph Barrett, George Gabel, Betty Woidtke, Joan Davidson, Barbara Naughton, Eleanor Wickert, Norma Nichols, Rosanne Trescott, Clara Cutler, Jean Beck, Evangeline Bobitch, Joanne Blackburn, Richard Bates, Earl Schiring.
Third Row: Stanley Lackey, Thomas Williams, Robert Warner, Frank Ellis, Lee Skidmore, Jack Mercer, Harry Stanton.

THE Senior Choral Club, under the direction of Mr. A. J. Barr was a very active organization. Besides presenting innumerable programs for different clubs in the town the Club also held their annual winter and spring concerts. On numerous occasions they entertained the student body at assemblies. A group to be proud of we wish them every success next year.

JUNIOR CHORUS

Seated: Alice Jones, Nancy Kuehnle, Myrna Raveling, Donna Eager, Jean Weyhenmeyer, Iva Whipple, Marilyn Quirk, Barbara Keyse, Patricia Blackburn, Evelyn Brainard, Beverly Euype, Vivian Barber, Edith Somitz, Jean Morris, Marilyn Woidtke.
Second Row: Carol Wickert, Olga Sekulich, Mary Jo McCormick, Carolyn Ritola, Elizabeth Raveling, Donna Kent, Patricia Miller, Alice Hunt, Patricia Jopko, Joella Orgel.
Third Row: Shirley Scott, Margaret Jones, Sue Brichford, Ruth Nellis, Barbara Powell, Patricia Shupe, Barbara Jerome, Robert Reese, Mr. Barr.

THE Junior Chorus, organized just this year, and consisting of eighth and ninth graders, participated in the winter and spring concerts. It would seem that from the excellent manner in which this young group handles itself, that MMHS will have a still better senior choral group in the next few years than has been enjoyed in the past.

SERVICE CLUB

First Row: Barbara Keyse, Ruthella Paine, Doralee Fish, Ruth Morris, Donna Eager, Jean Morris, Evelyn Brainard, Beverly Euype, Vivian Barber, Edith Somitz, Nancy Kless, Carol Wickert, Betty Brown.

Fourth Row: Alfred Nicely, Phillip Hearn, Adeline Larko, Sue Brichford, Alice Hunt, Margaret Jones, Betty Shaffer, Judy Lange, Joan Davidson, Lois Nichols, Yvonne Herlin, Wandalee Winland, Norma Nichols, Ann Gifford, Nancy Fisher, Clara Cutler, Joanne Blackburn, Joseph Barrett, Frank Ellis.

Fifth Row: Alvin Krauss, Carolyn Ritola, Betty Luhnnow, Frances Nash, Barbara Naughton, Rudy Claypool, Marilyn Crum, Xafrie Dodge, Joyce Bukky, Charlotte Cooper, Myrna Stanley, Patricia Shupe, Carol Fuller, Joanna Fuller, Thomas Williams, John Davidson.

THE Service Club is a very effective organization which has been in existence since 1946. It has been under the able leadership of Mr. E. M. Raveling since it was first formed.

The officers for 1948-49 were:

President: Charlotte Bunnell

Vice Pres: Paul Quayle

Secretary: Joan Davidson

CHEER LEADERS

Marilyn Brockway, Evangeline Bobitch, Joanne Blackburn, Leona Bush.

Adeline Larko, Patricia Miller, Judy Cone, Donna Eager.

THESE girls in their attractive uniforms, and twirling their gleaming batons added greatly to the festivities of the "half" at every football game. Special acclaim was won by the Fisher sisters, Nancy and Barbara who thrilled the spectators with their breath-taking exhibitions of acrobatic skill.

THE Blue Streaks, coached by Clayton West, played a nine game season this year; winning four, losing four, and fighting a strong Fairport team to a 7-7 tie. A precedent was set up when the Streaks traveled to Kent to play the University High School. Ten members of the squad are graduating, but a promising group of underclassmen will fill in for next year's varsity.

JUNIOR VARSITY

THE Junior Varsity Basketball team this year was composed entirely of underclassmen, and coached by Mr. Moritz. Although they didn't win many games or loud praise from the crowds they gained the one most important thing such a group could. Experience. With this year of competition under their belts the returning letter men from this years varsity better not loaf of they'll be sitting on the bench.

SPRING SPORTS

DUE to the fact that Baseball and Track seasons come very late in the year, very few follow these sports, and it has generally been the custom to ignore this phase of athletics of M. M. H. S. as far as the Cauldron write-ups were concerned. This year however we are writing an account of last year's track and baseball season.

Madison entered both league and independent competition in both track and baseball. The baseball team had a mediocre season winning four and losing four but played good, hard, and clean which really counts. Dick Keyse and "Mole" Bender alternated between the pitchers box and 3rd base. Dick Woodworth, Donald Wyman, and Thomas Miller played the outfield while the infield was composed of: Samuel Miller, catcher, Jack Mercer at 1st base, Robert Luikart at 2nd, Thomas Barry at short stop and either Keyse or Bender at 3rd. Substitutes were: Lee Cornell, Richard Bates, Frank Ellis, Fred Ellis, and Stanley Lackey.

Since only two players were lost by graduation last year, the prospects of a good season this year are bright.

Track was not dealt with extensively but Madison was represented at Fairport in the annual Western Reserve Track Meet, finishing fourth ahead of Chardon. Representing the team at the meet were Jack Laurie and Jack Mercer. Other members of the squad included: Thomas Barry, Fred Ellis, Robert Cornell, Lee Cornell, Stanley Lackey, and Robert Luikart. Again the outlooks are bright for this year with many members returning for another season's competition.

Wanda Brake, Rosanne Trescott, Carolyn Woodworth, and Thomas Miller were members of our class who made the Scholarship Club.

Junior boys on our football team were: Bob Heckle-varsity end; Tom Miller-varsity center, and Bob Cornell-our kicking specialist.

Tom Miller, Stan Lackey, and Albert Povhe were the members of our class on the varsity basketball team.

Several members of our class, among whom were, Bob Pastor, Harry Stanton, Tom Williams, Joe Barrett, and George Gable were in chorus, Stanley Lackey sometimes added his fine voice in solo. Carolyn Woodworth accompanied the chorus.

Carol Fuller, Lee Skidmore, Nancy Peterson, Rosanne Trescott, and Carolyn Woodworth were in the band.

Plans were made for a skating party March second, and most important of all, were plans for a sensational Junior-Senior Prom, which we hope was the best one ever.

And now in retrospect, we all feel that we have had a very successful year and are looking forward to being seniors next year.

KEY CLUB

First Row: Fred Prinz, Raymond Berus, Ralph Downing, Mr. Tidd, Tom Miller, Dan Brown, Richard Hayes
Third Row: David Hills, Stanley Lackey, Bob Warner, Bob Heckel, Norman Alber, Jack Mercer, Dick Woodworth, Bob Signet, Frank Ellis

SENIOR PLAY

THE Senior Class play, a comedy in three acts by Fred Ballard, and Mignon Eberbart, and produced in the MMHS auditorium, Friday and Saturday nights, May 6 and 7, was first successfully produced in the Hollywood Community Theatre where it was given enthusiastic reviews by the theatre critics of that city. In addition to the comedy throughout the plot, there is exciting mystery which keeps the audience in suspense until the final curtain. Twenty characters comprise the cast of the play, which has its locale, a sorority house, which, during a party, a collegiate murder mystery unfolds with complications galore. At this writing, the cast has not been chosen, but you who read this article will agree that the play was a tremendous success. It could not have been otherwise for the plot is a super one and the seniors have what it takes in talent.
