Athletics have always captured a high point in school activities. This past year proved no exception: the coaches and students who upheld our name in spirited competition exceeded remarkably in both ability and sportsmanship.

Madison Harriers Repeat Undefeated Season for League Crown

A great year for the athletics at Madison was unfolded in the fall season by another remarkable cross country team.

The road to the third championship in its six-year existence was not as easy as was sometimes revealed by the cores, however. Madison's schedule accounted for only three home meets, thus giving many of their opponents a slight edge.

But this bothered the Har riers very little, as the team had fine depth and team effort. Coach Don Strother welcomed the return of many of last year's best runners. Senior Jay Fabian climbed to greater heights as he broke course records three times.

Madison opened its league season against a respected Chardon team at Hogan's Farm. In a most dramatic closing, Fabian pushed himself past a strong Chardon. freshman at the finish to take first. In doing so, Jay eclipsed the old course record by a second.

Madison was sporting a 6-0 record when they played hosts to the NEC-championGeneva team, also undefeated. Although racing through very wet ground conditions, Jay amazingly shot down the course record by 23 more seconds. This set up the nowstanding record time of $11: 18$.

Fabian's heroics and the many Madison victories would certainly not have stood up without fine team support. Jim Jackson, Jim Fabian, Steve Foster, Bill McGinnis, Mark Nixon, and Bob Leitch many times decided the outcome of meets by their last minute efforts.

The Perry meet once again was the deciding match for the league title this year. Our boys fought the rough Perry course and extremely cold weather to take the crown. Fabian also eclipsed that course's record by ten seconds.

Madison's great running ability also revealed itself in the WRL meet in Willoughby South, where the team took first place. By good showings in the district and regional meets, Fabian moved up to the state finals.

The turnout of boys for the sport this season enabled a strong J.V. team to be formed Freshmen Jeif Jackson and Don Webb were the leading finishers as they racked up four shutouts during the season.

Final WRL Crown

A strong offense that could score from anywhere on the field, a jarring defense, and few key injuries-these were the ingredients of a thoroughly successful season of football at Madison High new faces. Seniors predominated the rugged front lines, while several underclassmen won starting positions in the backfield. Junior Doug Norris impressively stepped into the duties of quarterbacking.

Senior Rich Svage rikos switch to fullback really payed off, as his three touchdowns meant the difference in our opening conquest of Geneva, 20-8. The Eagles were kept off the scoreboard until the final minute.

In the following victories over Conneaut and Edgewood, sophomore Mike Murray dashed into the spot light. His six touchdowns aided in bolstering the growing team momentum.

Chardon Breaks 7-Game Winning Streak

Fine overall effort by the Streaks enabled us to roll over our first league opponent. Perry. Svagerko repeated his three-TD spirit of the Geneva game. The $28-8$ triumph built up the team for its clash with highly-ranked Fairport the following Friday.

The Skippers' spirits were up that evening too, as the Streaks barely edged them, 26-20. With two minutes left, Norris tossed a long scoring strike to erase a 12-12 deadlock. In an amazing comeback, Fairport retied the score. But the Streaks' tremendous desire for victory drove them for the winning TD before time ran out.

Homecoming weekend began on a spirited note as Madison froze Jefferson in their tracks, 42-0. Svagerko Murray, Brown, Norris, and Edmundson all got in on the scoring to make it our biggest rout of the season.

Traveling to Kirtland, both Svagerkoand Trivisonno scored a pair of touchdowns. We finally halted late scoring heroics by the Hornets to ice the game 36-22, and more importantly, the league crown.

Madison had plans of sweet revenge against Chardon, the team who had cost us the crown the previous year. However, the bitter weather and the equally severe Hilltopper defense kept the Streaks scoreless. Char-don's single TD established our first defeat.

Ashtabula Harbor played host the following Thursday and surprisingly ran up an early lead. We were forced to play catch-up ball, but never did regain the lead. The season did end on a somewhat satisfying note as Riverside forfeited their game to us.

In this final year of the Western Reserve's existence, Madison really earned the outstanding distinction. Besides copping first place, ten of our players were named to the all-star team. As a result, this year's squad can be looked upon for a long time as one of the school's most brilliant ones.

J.V. Squad Represents Future Success of the Varsity Gridiron

Following in the footsteps of an outstanding varsity team, Junior Varsity football produced sparkling action, concentrated determination and an overall winning season. Guiding the underclassman through this season were Coach Kovats and Melin.

In the course of the schedule, the team met many of the same schools which faced our varsity. The early weeks of the season were characterized with a slow start, due to inexperience and many injuries.

But as the season progressed, the J. V.'s made needed improvements which really got things rolling. Following a loss to the Perry team, the Streaks gathered in three consecutive victories from Fairport, Jefferson, and Kirtland.

Opposing lines clash after the snap of the ball.

Coach Hance suffers with other spectators in the miserable weather.

The clash with Kirtland proved to be the greatest season highlight. The offense clicked brilliantly and the defense shutout the Hornets, thus turning the game into $\dot{\alpha}$ complete rout for Madison. Thus we ended the season with a very respectable record of four wins, three losses, and one tie.

Especially contributing to the success of the season was the defense, which displayed consistant strength. Many of the scores against the Streaks resulted from interceptions and fumbles.

Aside from the fine winloss record, the Junior Varsity's competitive action supplied another important result. Valuable playing experience was gained by many players who will continue to represent MMH's name on future foot. ball fields. Because of the school's future position in a new athletic league, the members of the J. V. squad are presented with a greater challenge of proving their ability and spirit to new opponents.

Enthusiasm Bursts From Pep Rallies

Tension builds early Friday morning anticipating the oncoming assembly. The tension comes to a climax as students pour through gym doors at the closing of the day. The reverberations of overpowering fight songs and enthusiastic cheerleaders greet them as they seat themselves and join in the excitement.

Seniors feeling the spirit scream their class cheer. Juniors pick up the chant and onto the conclusion with an earthshattering Freshman rah!

The assembly comes to $\alpha$ close as the students pour out the door shivering with enthusiasm and spirit for the oncoming game that night.

the Streaks finished strongly enough to gain a co-championship with Kirtland

The Streaks opened the season by taming Conneaut in a contest which went down to the wire. After building up a big early lead, the team was forced to keep up with the Spartan's scoring attack in the final period.

The following weekend brought on mixed emotions. On Friday, Madison began the league season by smashing Chardon, with fine efforts on the backboards. The next evening saw the Streaks greatly humbled in a non league contest with Ashtabula.

December 15 saw us gain another league victory at the expense of Fairport. Despite a constant full-court press by the Skippers, the Streaks kept a considerable lead throughout the game. Edgewood also bit the dust the following evening.

One of the Streak's costliest losses of the season came at the hands of Kirtland the next Thursday. The team's inaccuracy at the foul line proved to be a major difference. Madison would only lose a share in first place briefly, as the Hornets afterwards fell to defeat with Fcirport.

The Christmas vacation was marred by our loss to Geneva. The Streaks kept the game close until their opponents scoring outburst in the final minutes.

In one of the most exciting games of the year, the Streaks continued their title hopes with a squeaker over Perry on January 5th. At Harvey the following night, however, we came up on the short end of the score in our first meeting with this team.

The following three weeks found the Streaks on the road. Victory was the result at both Jefferson and Chardon, but Fairport proved to be a different case. Using a tight defense, the Skippers gave us our second and last league loss of the season. Our close victory over Ashtabula Harbo on Saturday set the ball rolling on a six-game winning

Wrestlers Dethrone Chardon as Wrestling Monarchs

The grappling mats were yet another location of Madison sports domination this year, as Coach Melin's Blue Streak wrestlers captured their first league championship.

This final season in the Western Reserve League turned out to be again a mighty struggle between Chardon, the team who had won 29 straight league matches, and Madison, their chief competi-. tion. At the start of the season, the big match appeared to be when Chardon came to our gym on January 21. As the weeks of December and January slipped by, this became a fact.

Along with Chardon, the Streaks tore the rest of the W.R.L. to shambles. In three back - to - back league contests, the team smashed Fairport $38-5$, Kirtland $43-0$, and Jefferson 30-11.

Bob Sater exhibits the high elation of the team after Chardon's downfall.

Adding to the attraction of the Madison - Chardon clash had been the results of the league tournaments, this year held at Madison. Of the eleven weight - class champions decided, Chardon gained six, Madison the other five: Roger Fike, Bill Misch, Russ Childs, Reggie Hathaway, and Bob Sater

The all - important dual match with Chardon left no Madison supporter disappointed from the start as Roger Fike gained a hard-earned pin on his opponent. The Hilltoppers then gained a slim lead, only to be permanently taken away through decisions to Bill Misch, John Reigert, Bob Gerak, and Larry Ortiz. The game - clinching points then came on a pin by Russ Childs. When it was all over, the scoreboard showed the Streaks on top 30-9, giving them a greatly deserved league crown.

The closing weeks of the team's highly successful season brought on more triumphs as Madison dominated the Edgewood Quadrangular Meet with eight individual champions. The team looked for further honors in the sectional and district tournaments.

Golfers Share League Title in '67

The Blue Streak golf team proved itself extremely successful last season. Although several key golfers had graduated, freshmen Stu Francis. Steve Van Rensselaer, and Clair Wright successfully took their places. Frank Crofoot, Bill Buttwin, Charlie O'Shauhnessy, Don Cocherell, and Steve Cross returned to give the team fine depth. Under coach Higley, our boys lost just one league match and finished with an overall record of 13-3. Skillful league play entitled our finish with Chardon for the crown. The team also competed in the District Golf Tournament placing seventh among other area schools.

Madison Minds Continue Competition

There is much more to playing chess than just moving sixteen figurines about a checker board and any member of the 1967-68 Madison High School chess team will vouch for that! If you are interested in the game or have ever tried to play, you must realize the high amount of concentration, mental ability. and proper technique involved in every move. Members of this year's team are: Keith Shoemaker, Keith Klein, Rich Svagerko, Dave Perdue, Ron Argo, Jim Gregory, Dale Robbins, Bob Misch Bill Brotz-man, Tom Castille, and Jef! Brown.

Each Monday night under the excellent guidance of Mr Baker, the club advisor, the chess team meets together at the school. Here, they learn new skills and master different techniques. At these practice sessions, the boys are able to make the most of their experience and profit by their mistakes. These meetings also give the members a chance to develop the competitive spirit which is so essential at their matches. The boys play and are eliminated until only five remain. These five are the boys who then compete in the match.

Interscholastic matches take place on Wednesdays. The Madison team plays such teams as Chardon, Mentor, Riverside, Perry, Willoughby South, and Kirtland. At each meet there are five individual matches. The boys must win three of these to win the match for the team. They are currently tied for fifth place and have a record of one win, one tie. and three losses.

Cinder Events Highlight '67 Track Season

With a grind of cinders our track and field men started their season with a tremendous victory over Grand Valley. The Streaks swept through the meet taking first place in 13 of 15 events. Following a loss to Geneva, Madison quickly captured two wins, first Jefferson and then Cardinal. A pair of losses to Fairport and Kirtland was countered by a win over St. John and the season closed on a loss at Chardon. Still, with a 4-4 record, the Streaks placed 5th in last year's W.R.L. race.

Advancing to the Regional Meet at Kent State, Jay Fabian placed 5 th against the best 880 men in the Northern Ohio District. The 7th Annual Solon Night Relays saw the Streaks score 12 points and finish 6th against eighteen Cleveland schools. Here Jay Fabian again in his best 880 form took lst place in 2:00:1. Also taking first honor was the team of Bill McGinnis, Bob Stoneman, Jay Fabian, and Jim Fabian. Their time of $3: 32$ grabbed the Medley Relay win for Madison.

This year the team will have many opportunities to break and set new records. Following the championship season of the Cross Country team the Blue Streaks should be well prepared for the 1968 Track season.

Bob Stoneman leaves Grand Valley sprinters behind with the agony of extra effort.

Baseball Team Takes WRL Title

Coach Opron's 1966-67 baseball team couldn't have looked better this year as they walked off the field with the WRL championship and a very commendable league record of seven wins and one loss. The team batting average was . 213 and Herb Prince had the highest individual average of 281

The season started off rather disappointingly with two losses to Geneva and Conneaut, both non-league games. But things began looking up for the Streaks when they gained their straight victories over Jefferson, Chardon, and Ledgemont.

The team's only league loss came on April 26 when Kirtland downed Madison 3-0, but the Streaks again recovered their winning streak and chalked up three more victories to finish the season.

With at least nine lettermen returning this year, it looks as though Madison will retain the last western reserve title

Curriculum

While a new school project remained on the blueprints, the faculty met the challenge of limited space and an expanding student body. Advancement of time and knowledge altered some school subjects and created several others.

Office secretaries Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Roth work busily during the morning rush.

Mrs. Antweiler; is our school librarian which involves caring for the books and directs students in finding needed information.

Mrs. Billman, our girls' counselor, advises college-bound Carol Arndt.

Superintendent Mr. A. J. Barr and Principal, Mr. Stephen Matuscak study plans for a new high school.

Administration Carries Out Difficult Tasks

With Tact

Our Administration, faced with the many burdening problems created by a high school, worked hard this year to keep Madison High an efficiently functioning organization. Confronted with the uncomfortable conditions of extreme crowdedness, directing our large student body was a terribly difficult occupation. Headed by principal, Mr. Matuscak with assistant principal, Mr. Winne and secretaries, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Roth, the administration made it possible for our school to operate each day. In addition to its mechanical operation, boys' counsellor Mr. Stoll and girls' counsellor Mrs. Billman were present to aid in the solving of personal problems of the individual student.

Mr. Stoll; is the boys guidance counselor, and also the Athletic Director. During the summer he spent two weeks at Kent State University

Mr. Winne, the Assistant Principal and the advisor for the Audio-Visual Club, discusses a problem with Debbie North.

Science Department Breaks Down

the Substance of Life

The science department is one which is constantly expanding in both courses and facilities. Freshmen are offered a choice of two science courses, General Science and Earth Science, a fairly recent addition to the curriculum at Madison. The BSCS Biology course, in its second year of operation, is offered along with the regular biology program previously offered to sophomores. Excellent courses in chemistry and physics complete the science program. The department welcomed two new teachers this year, Mr . Piker and Mr. Schlevenski, who supplemented the already fine teaching staff.
Mr . Baker : created the atmosphere in which Sophomores learn about Biology. He advises the Chess Club.

Mr. Schlevenski; has been getting involved in wrestling. During the school hours this year, he teaches the General Science courses.

Mr. Grimm; createa the atmosphere in which Sophomores learn about Biology. He also teaches the Freshmen General Science. This past summer he spent working on construction.

Mr. Piker; teaches Earth Science and General Science to primarily Freshmen. He is new to Madison High and has not as yet become involved with sports and clubs.

Mr. Quiggle; is the man who takes all the green scientists into his Chemistry class. He advises the Service Club during his spare time.

Jimmy Lorenz enjoys his first whiff of poisonous gas in Chemistry class.

Exceptional Math Program Developed

Consisting of six different courses of study, our department of mathematics this year offered the student more than any area high school. For the college-bound student the customary Algebra I, Geometry, Algebra II, and Senior Math were available in full. However, in addition to these, a fifth-year course, Advanced Math, was also added. This course was designed to even further prepare the student for the difficult college math courses that may lie ahead for him. Also, more recently added to our math program was the Vocational Math course. This consisted of a different course for both the boy and girl students. In each. case the boy or girl learned a type of mathematics which will be useful to him or her in later life. The boys, for instance, dwelled primarily on shop while the girls' course included home economics. Under the excellent direction o! the four teachers Mr. Black (Algebra II, Senior Math, and Advanced Math), Mr. McIntyre (Algebra II, and Vocational Math), Mr. Kovats (Geometry), and Mr. Rumancik (Algebra I), mathematics at Nadison included an important part of almost every student's school life.

Mr . Rumancik; instructs the students in the first year of Algebra.

Mr . Black; instructs three different types of Mathematics. They are: Senior Math, Advanced Math, and Algebra II.

Mr . McIntyre; instructs students in Vocational Math and Algebra II. During his spare time he is involved with wrestling, both junior varsity and varsity.

Mr . Winfield; became our new Phys ics teacher this year, and also teaches Shop Math.

Civilization Comes to Light in Social Studies Classes

Do you remember discovering a continent, writing a constitution or taking part in a presidential press conference? These are all personal achievements for the social studies students at Madison High who have relived, step by step, the eras in time. Remember traveling down the Appian Way? Sure, there's Mr . Carner, explaining and rebuilding the Roman civilization, from a village in an Italian valley to an empire ruling almost all of the known world. Now, let's skip all the way to the Revolutionary War. Look, coming across Lexington bridge, can't you see the angry New Englanders waiting on the village green? This is the job of Mr. Linhart and Mr. Hance, to draw and present an intricate picture of American history. Following are Mr. Higley and Mr. Delp, explaining the meaning behind the government those early New Englanders fought for. But, what made those people act and feel as they did and what are the reasons for the actions of human beings today? A trip into Mr. Hance's psychology and sociology class holds many of the answers and provides every ambitious student with the key to be successful and understanding in life.

Mr. Higley; attempts to instill Government and Geography into his students. He advises the Got! Club during the later school months.

Mr. Hance; teaches Psychology and American History. He coaches the treshmen football squad and assists in varsity football. Mr. Hance advises Varsity Club which is also associated with sports.

Mr. Carner; has two Histories: World and American in which he is involved. He traveled the American West the past summer

Mr. Kandare; is the adviser to Key Club which is sponsored by Kiwanis.

The Arts Encompass Vast Area

Ambitious pupils who enroll in any Art, Music, Home Ec. or Industrial Arts classes have the chance to learn and gain knowledge other than in the required curriculum.

The displays which added a type of "character" to our school are the. results of many hours work. The feeling expressed in an oil painting or ceramic work must first be a part of the student. In his art classes, Mr. Heichel works, by explaining and illustrating, to bring out this feeling and enable students to express themselves through their handiwork

The art of homemaking is as important to many girls as $a$ history course. The impending dieticians and housewives of tomorrow learn various necessary skills in Miss Sezon's cooking classes and Mrs. Avellone's sewing room. Their gay decorations also serve to brighten our school during holiday seasons.

Opposite from Home Economics are the Industrial Arts. Mr. Kandare's and Mr. Mackey's Shop I and II boys are preparing for eventual jobs as mechanics and welders. Who knows what famous library or museum may be drafted by one of Mr. Mackey's students?

Mr . Acerra; the man behind the 101 Marching Blue Streak Band. "Mr. A" also directs Symphonic Band and teaches Music Theory I.

Executives Developed in Business Courses

The graduating class of 1968 has many of its members headed toward a career in business. Leaping from shorthand class to a job as a stenographer will require some acclamation, but the knowledge learned in Madison's B.O.E. courses will provide invaluable. When listening to the rythmical clatter of typewriters floating from room 217 one feels that the dedication taken to master these machines, will also produce many fine secretaries. The business education staff also takes on the responsibility of preparing young men for the business world. How many future executives can you pick from the Business Law class? How many young people will benefit in firms from our business education classes and how many firms will benefit from Madison High students?

Miss Spiesman; is involved in the and Office Procedure. She advises school's B.O.E. program, including the Business Club, F.N.A., and the Typing Business Law Shorthand, Junior Class.

Mr. Reed; informs Freshmen and Sophomores in the right and wrong ways of English. He is the new assistant coach for varsity and Freshmen football squads.

Mrs. McElwee; teaches Special English to Freshmen and Sophomores, and also advises Future Teachers Association. This past summer she toured Europe.

Mrs. Delong: instructs Freshmen English along with giving them their first taste of Shakespeare.

Mrs. Anderson; instills English to the vocational students and also to the Sophomores and Juniors. She has plans for a Foriensic Club.

Mr. Andrews; teaches Junior English, he directs both Junior and Senior class plays. This past summer Mr Andrews toured the American West.

English Students Explore Wonder of Words

The English department is not only one of the best staffed departments at Madison, but one which is the most familiar to all students. An asset to the department is the new humanities course which replaces the former honors English course. In this course, instead of learning history and English in isolation, both are presented to the students along with a background of music and art. In this way they learn of the relationships which exist between the different areas included under

Mrs. Conner; is adviser to the G.I.R.L.S. Club. During school hours she teaches Senior and Sophomore English. She traveled to Expo '67 this past summer

Miss Westfall; returned from a summer tour of Europe to become part of the new Humanities course for Sophomores. Besides English, she directs the Speech class and the Na tional Honor Society the titlei"Humanities." The two period course is taught by Miss Westfall, Mr. Delp, and Mr . Heichel. The students are graded according to the honors system and receive two grades, one in English and one in history. The course has proved successful this year and will probably be continued.

Another addition to the English department this year is that of two new teachers, Mr. Reed and Mr. Schwartz Both teach freshmen English

Mr . Folmer; instructs Junior and Sen ior English. He became the head varsity basketball coach this year which is an addition to his coaching position for track

Miss Johnson; her schedule consists of P.E. and Health. She also has become a part of G.A.A. in directing primarily the Freshmen and Sophomore girls. She spent her summer as a co-director of a Y.W.C.A. camp.

Gail Fitzgibbons sits alone on the gym floor contemplating a volleyball test.

Physical Fitness-Aim of Gym Classes

Although not trying to make girls muscle-bound or boys fighters, MMHS gym classes keep young bodies physically fit. The importance of the physical fitness course is shown by the fact it is a required subject of all students except those who attended vocational school.

The girls' program includes field hockey, volleyball, basketball, tumbling, gymnastics, and baseball. Tennis is offered to Juniors and Seniors in the spring. Except for field hockey, the boys schedule follows the same pattern with the addition of football and wrestling.

An out-of-school program for the girls who enjoy athletics is the Girls Athletic Association, which meets after school or in the evening. Several hours of recreation may be enjoyed by girls of any high school class.

Madison has for a long time offered many sports fields to boys throughout the year. Football and cross country are well into full swing shortly after school resumes in the fall. These give way to the equally vigorous indoor sports of wrestling and basketball. To conclude the year, spring brings forth the flash of track spikes and the flight of the golf ball and baseball.

Thus the physical education program can greatly reward any student to what extent depends upon the students' committment of time desire, and effort.

Mr. Melin; teaches Physical Education during the school day and is an assistant coach to football and head coach to wrestling after school.

During the past summer he was again involved with athletics, by being director of the Summer Recreation Program.

The boys' Physical Education class gets a work-out.

Employees Put in Long Hours for School's Success

The cafeteria staff prepares a tasty meal hopefully to satisfy the viscious appetites of our students.

Who's the foundation of the school? Whose absence cause certain panic? Who is least recognized for their monotonous work? The school employees. 'These people are the custodians, cooks, and bus drivers. Our schol is good order every school day because the custodians put in long hours to make it so. Each day the cooks spend their time preparing and serving the food we receive at lunch. The bus drivers pick us up in the morning and take us home each day without failure. Our school owes a deep debt of gratitude to these people for their hard work

Throughout the day and far into the night our custodians continue their unnoticed task of keeping the school clean.

The grand parade of school buses prepare for their afternoon appearance on Main Street.

In its third year of operation, the Lake County Joint Vocational School is an important source of extended education to many Madison students. Open to the forthcoming juniors, it offers a twoyear program of specialized trades. Thus when these students graduate from high school, they have a better chance of obtaining jobs in industry.

Seven trade courses are now carried on at the school A drafting course has been created to instruct students in the preparation of drawings with the use of up-to-date instruments. These skills may become useful in future occupations in industry

Welding and sheet metal, machine shop, electricity-electronics, and auto mechanics are various vocations which are taught in an environment that is closely realistic to the conditions of these particular occupations. Students, besides working with the mechanics of their course, also learn some mechanical drawing procedures, mathematics, and the reading of blue prints and other diagrams.

Data Processing introduces a student to the complexity of modern business machines and trains them in their use in industry. Special business course also help bring the subject across.

Cosmetology concerns many of the facets of beauty care, giving students the chance to practice with styling chairs, hair dryers, and manicure tables

All courses include, besides actual training, the classrooms in which theory of that particular subject is discussed. Thus through expert instruction, high-quality equipment, and realistic working conditions, the vocational school plays an important part in the future of those who have the desire to enroll in its program.

Underclassmen

Underclassmen represent the changing of the times; their presence will always supply new challenges to the efforts of teachers, more unique thrills in athletics, and fresh leadership in school activities.

Juniors Begin Thinking College

Organizations

Of the many clubs at MMHS, every one is important in a special way. The clubs perform services to the community, the school, and to the student body. When first entering Madison High, students have a chance to join two or three clubs. As they continue on more clubs are available for them to choose from and become active in.

Governing Body of the School

-Student Council

The purpose of the council is the development of good citizenship, improvement of school morale and to promote the general welfare of the school. Also the council attempts student - teacher relationship and provide an expression for the students.

President Debbi Denton led the student organization this past year. The remaining officers were Bonnie Peklay, vice president, Judy Jakse, secretary, and Doug Norris, treasurer. The council was under the advisorship of Mr . Linhart.

There were four major committees within the student council. The rules committee which formulated the dress code for the consent of the administration. The foster child, school spirit, and publicity also worked on their individual assignments throughout the year.

Projects of the council included selling Christmas trees during Christmas vacation, operating the coat check during basketball games, and sponsoring various dances. Freshman orientation was again offered to the new freshmen, having proved itself worthwhile last year when it was first tried. The Sini Shuffle, introduction of new teachers, Students of the Month, and making pennants for the new Lake Shore League were all Council projects.

Student Council proved its effectiveness and need for both the community and the students at Madison High.

Council members make checking coats part of Council activities.

Key Club Serves Community

One of the important organizations in Madison is the Key Club. It is composed of Madison High male students with President, Phil Tatar, Vice President, Gary Mavko; Secretary, Mark Nixon, and Treasurer, Gary Burns.

The Key Club, sponsored by the Kiwanis, does various community work, such as gardening for rest homes, helping on fund drives, such as March of Dimes.

As for the major projects they had their annual pop bottle drive which was a huge success. They also went caroling to the rest homes at Christmas. The most humorous spectacle to watch is the initiation of the new members. This is the enjoyable to the members but an unforgettable experience for the ones being initiated.

Enthusiasm is plainly shown on the faces of these carolers.

Norm Tuuri and Rich Svagerko put best effort forth while collecting money for March of Dimes.

Jeff Svoboda and Dave Masek prepare to sing for Mr. Matuscak.

Sini and Cheryl sing 'Silent Night' to an appreciative audience.

Oldies But Goodies Dance Introduced by G.I.R.L.S. Club

This year to raise money the G.I.R.L.S. Club sponsored an "Oldies but Goodies" dance - the theme was to dress as your Mom and Dad would have way back then. Some kids came in long shirts baggy pants, wild bow ties, and saddle shoes.

As another school project, the G.I.R.L.S. Club planned school spirit week, where Freshmen wore blue and white on Monday, Sophomores on Tuesday, Juniors on Wednesday, and Seniors on Thursday. This ended up the week by a dress-up day on Friday

The Key Club and G.I.R.L.S. Club did many community projects together this year, such as at Christmas, when the combined group sang Christmas Carols at many of the rest homes. Also, another project done by the combined group was to have a fund drive for the March of Dimes. These are just some of the things the clubs did together. Also, the G. I. R. L. S. Club keeps up the gardening and trimming of shrubbery for many different organizations and groups Generosity, Industry, Reliability, Leadership, and Service are the five qualities that each girl chosen for G.I.R.L.S Club must possess. These girls display these qualifications in everything they do.

Cheryl Horst smiles a polite thank you for the money received for March of Dimes drive.

M.C.C. members Bonnie Bliss and Adria Disberger discuss business aspects of the club with advisor, Miss Ruth Spiesman.

Commercial Club

Sponsors Basketbrawl

Where are the business minded students of M.M.H.S.? They're in the Commercia! Club. From the many members they chose Pat Short as President, Debbie Post as Vice-President, Linda Hartzall as Secretary, and Judy Ettenger as Treasurer. Some of their many money making projects were car washing and the successful candy sale. As a grand prize they gave away a beautiful new stereo record player. To illustrate the athletic skill of the girls at basketball, they sponsored the Basketbrawl. Here they play the faculty and both have a riot playing basket ball.

Service Club Plays Profitable Role

Although not as widely known as other clubs for their activities, the Service club's efforts are an important source for the Athletic Fund. The sophomore, junior, and senior volunteers are under the direction of Mr . Quiggle and Mr. Miller. Providing spectators with refreshments and programs are the members' sole concern. The cluk lelected no officers, but divided into separate activity groups for the football, basketball and track meets at home Their determined service is acknowledged in the awards assembly in the spring.

Cauldron Staff Aims to Please

Editor Melody Hudgens has the time - consuming job of organizing all the various staffs. These staffs are: art and layout, copy, advertising and circulation, photography, and typing.

The art and layout staff has the job of designing and organizing the complete book. They also must size pictures and copy and fit the book together. Members are Sue Billman (head), Melody Hudgens, Marylynn Mantey, Judy Jakse, and Barb Davis.

The copy staff is responsible for all written material in the Cauldron, from captions to headlines. Members of this staff are Penny Keller (head), Sue Bodle, Mike Gehring, Dianne Friend, Charlotte Springer, Juliann Klapp, Connie

Brockway, and Leah Weinheimer

Photography was done by Keith Klein, Bob Braski, Jeff Svoboda, and Judy Jakse.

All typing was done by Sandy Novinc.

The advertising and circulation is the largest staff. They get all our backing and money for the book. They also circulate and distribute the book. Members are Cathy Potemra (head), Laura Heinrich, Martha Jameson, Lyn Fabel, Deb Brockway, Audrey Lasko, Roberta Novinc, Kathy Andrews, Wendy Mollohan, Paulette Rathbun, and Jenny Ungers.

What's Happening

Our own school paper, the Bluestreak, published every two weeks, lets the student world in on the happenings at M.M.H.S.

The Bluestreak keeps up on the latest in sporits. It includes write-ups on football, Cross Country, basketball, and wrestling, with plans for coverage of baseball and track. Also, it has many interesting editorials complete with the students' comments on the article in the next issue. One functional. aspect of the paper is its Lost and Found column. Other regular features are Mark's Corner by Mark Nixon and a column for students who have made special honors.

Members of this staff are the journalism students, who are under the direction of Mr . Strother. Editor of the Bluestreak staff is Kirby Ortiz.

The paper is a member of the Quill and Scroll, an honorary organization for school papers. As members of this club and for its contribution to the school, the Bluestreak staff deserves a vote of thanks.

Mrs. Antweiler Assumes Library Duties

Shipménts of books which came in during the summer were waiting to be carded, catalogued, and placed on the shelves. Books covered every available inch of space. Old books had to be relocated to make room for the new books.

There was a major change in the library staff as Mrs. Antweiler transferred to the high school from the middle school. She brought a new concept of a librarian's job with her. For the first time, M. M. H. S. librarians have a grievance chairman to whom they may take any library problems or complaints. In an attempt to bolster school spirit, they began publishing the Blue Streak sports; a weekly newsletter on the sports events of the week, the scores, and top players. The newsletter has proved itself a success and hopefully will be published again next year.

Semester break was another time of agony for library aids. The few days before and several days after the library was closed to M. M. H. S. students; where Mrs. Antweiler and helpers tore apart the library, dusting and recataloguing new and old books.

With the end of the school year in sight, the library starts the tedious task of preparing for next year.

G.A.A. Picks Apples

Any enthusiastic girls at M.M.H.S.? You bet! Most of them belong to the Girls Athletic Association
G.A.A. is especially proud of her track and field team which took three firsts and two seconds while competing in the North Eastern Ohio Track and Field meet held in Cleveland. One NEO record was broken with Debbie Brockway doing the standing long jump of $8^{\prime} 9^{\prime \prime}$ Barb Rose in the 440 and Chris Anderson in the softball throw brought in two firsts. These girls were competing with 270 girls from other NEO schools.

The money making project this year was picking apples so the girls could make their own cider and sell it to the community.

A.V. Club in charge of Equipment

The AV Club is one of the most active clubs in school. AV members are in charge of scheduling, operation, and minor repair of all audio-visual equipment such as movie and slide projectors, tape recorders, record players, and opaque projectors. Other responsibilities of the club include keeping the school activity calendar up to date, setting up microphones and lighting for assemblies and plays, and taping band and choir concerts.

Visual equipment is repaired by A.V. members Dave Gragg and Lou Mavko.

FNA Helps Initiate

Candy Striper

Program

This year NEO initiated its first Candy Striper Program. Madison Future Nurses of America made up almost all of the students in the new program. A Candy Striper volunteer works for a few hours after school and on weekends. A Candy Striper's duties include reading to patients, helping in the gift shop, snack bar, and hospital library serving juices, delivering flowers and packages to patients and keeping small children occupied.

Candy Stripers Debbie Brockway and Anna Wilson prepare a hot water bottle for a patient's comfort.

F.T. A. Expands

Are you interested in teaching? If so, F. T. A. is for you. This club is composed of sophomore, junior, and senior students interested in the teaching profession. Many of these students may become teachers or in some way be connected to the teaching profession. The object of this club is to help prepare these students for their teaching careers. Advisor is Mrs. McElwee.
F.T.A. president Leslie Talkington; vice president, Sandy Poling; secretary, Jane Peltoma; and treasurer, Sue Billman; host a tea for the Edgewood F.T.A.

Outstanding Students Join the Ranks of N.H.S.

February 21st proved to be a very important day in the lives of the top junior and senior students of our school, for this was the day Madison's Chapter of the National Honor Society inducted its new members. After entering the gym, each student was awed at the hushed, serious atmosphere; quite a difference from the noisy pep assemblies. Chairman Keith Klein immediately called for the list of those candidates who had been voted in by the faculty, and the old members started off the induction ceremony with the traditional tapping of new members. Then the proud parents were ushered into the hushed gym to watch this honor bestowed on their children. The induction ceremony included the explanation of the Honor Society seal, speeches on those qualities - scholarship, leadership, character, and service - which all members must uphold, signing new members into the register, and pinning each inducted student. After the ceremony, a tea for all members of the Madison Chapler and their parents was held, and each new member, from time to time, looked proudly at their new prized possession - their National Honor Society pin.

Tension builds as members circulate throughout the bleachers.

Sini Makes Herself Known to Madison

Sini Parssinen, our foreign exchange student, comes from Imatra, Finland, a town that borders Russia. She is the youngest of eight, having five brothers and two sisters. Her father is a Lutheran minister and her mother teaches physics and chemistry

Although Sini feels she is much too quiet, her hobbies are exciting and outgoing. She loves to swim and ski. Among her favorite T.V. shows are 'Bonanza' and 'the Danny Kaye Show

But Sini has little time for most of these. She is usually involved with her studying and extracurricular activities. Much of her studies involved the subjects she took this year Honors English, American history, American government speech, and French. Sini already speaks Finnish, German, French, and, of course, English. She also has traveled to Sweden, Denmark, Germany, and Belgium. Besides studying, Sini is constantly practicing her singing and piano. She is the youngest member of a music guild 'back home.

Sini says that an unusual custom in Finland is that the girls are allowed to wear slacks to school in cold weather which, in Finland is quite often.

When she returns to Finland, Sini plans to attend the University of Finland and major in either music, chemistry or psychology

Ella Fabel, A.F.S. President, leads club discussion on foreign customs.

AFS Promotes Student Participation

The A.F.S. club, sponsorea by the Madison chapter of the American Field Service, is in its second year of existence here at Madison. The major intent of the club is to promote student participation in exchange programs and help our exchange student become dcquainted with the school and student body. Under the leadership of officers Ella Fabel, President; Debbie Brockway, Vice President;

Penny Keller, Secretary; and Wendy Woodruff, Treasurer, the club sponsored some successful money making projects including its annual penny days and AFS dance.

Sini, our foreign exchange student, teaches Bob Pottenger the latest dances of Finland.

Sini listens intently to the Student Council business.

The 101 Do It Again

Flashing white spats and gloves were among the many eye-catching scenes provided by the 101 Marching Blue Streaks during the ' 67 football season. Exciting half-time entertainment was enjoyed by all as the marching band performed interesting shows each week. The Marching 101, under Mr. Acerra's direction, spent the entire summer and fall training for the various shows. Drills and music were practiced to perfection by each hard - working individual.
sion held late in August at Cedar Lakes Camp in Ripley, West Virginia. After a long bus trip, the band members worked five full days putting together the many routines they later performed before the large football crowds.

In a feature routine, drum major Iim Glavan entertains halftime audience.

Mr. Accera gives his full attention to the business at hand.

Is it necessary to take all that to band camp?

Skill and Practice Develop '67 Halftime Shows

Few people realize the amount of skill and hard work that goes into the production of each and every football halftime show. For drum major, Jim Glavan, feature twirler, Sue Godson, and majorettes Kim Mayhew, Charlotte Springer, and Shirley Swaddling, the summer was spent in preparation for the marching season.

Their schedules were busy ones. Not only did the drum major and majorette perform their major duties of attending evening practices and regular band camp along with the instrumental band members, but they also went to various special camps in Indiana. Here, they learned methods and skills which they could incorporate to produce dazzling routines used in the half time shows.

Highlighting the 1967 shows were lighted and fire baton routines plus feature routines by Sue Godson and Jim Glavan. Madison is very proud of the fine performances that the majorettes and drum major have provided this year.

Head majorette Sue Godson leads majorettes Shirley Swaddling, Kim Mayhew, and Charlotte Springer in practice for half-time performance.

Senior Choir Purchases New Robes

A panaramic view of combined Senior and Freshmen Chorus performing the final number of the Christmas program.

The Senior Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Ayers, contains some of the busiest, most active kids at Madison High. With September came the fittings for the choir robes and much excitement, as the music students plunged into the task of preparing their Thanksgiving and Christmas concerts. The Thanksgiving concert was presented to the student body on November 20 and less than a month later the combined Junior and Senior Choirs performed for the public what many think to be the best Christmas concert ever heard at Madison, Agair on December 21, the choir sang for the student body This time the arrival of the new blue satiny robes added an extra spark to the resounding Christmas songs.

Then along came spring and Madison exploded to the inspiring songs of Sing Out '68. With pounding drumbeat, twanging guitars, blaring trumpets and of course the booming voices of over 100 teenagers, filled every listener's heart with pride, both in himself and in the achievements of Madison's hard working, singing younc Americans.

The choir's final performance of this year was at the Baccalaureate service the last week in May.

This years officers were President - Wende Woodruff and Secretary - Treasurer Chris Anderson.

The Choir directs their full attention to Mr. Ayers.

Many of the students involved in the extra curricular singing projects are planning careers centered around their music ability. The knowledge and self-confidence gained by their performance will be of value, whether they are heading for the stage or a teaching career. Assisting, advising, or directing, all agree Mr. Ayers deserves much credit for encouraging and helping establish the talent shown by all choir members participating.

This year's music program has been enriched and broadened by various solos and ensemble members. Our more musically inclined students developed some beautiful and unusual arrangements for the Christmas concert and SingOut. As anyone who attended the Sing-Out can verify, the solos and small choral groups scored some of the highlights that will be most remembered.

Symphonic Band Strives for Goal of Perfection

The 1967-68 Madison High School Symphonic Band presented its annual winter concert on January 28, 1968. It was a free concert performed in gratitude to the community for their much needed and appreciated support throughout the year. This concert was quite an achievement in inself for the band since it was their first formal concert of the year and also since it signified the end of two long months of tryout nervousness and seating arrangements.

In March, the band went to the West Side Lake County Band Festival to play with such bands as Willoughby Sọuth, Eastlake North, Mentor, Wickliffe, and Kirtland. They also traveled to contests in hopes of improving the ratings of last years. There they brought excellent recognition to Madison.

This year's band has over 100 members. The officers are; co-presidents Sue Godson and Gary Mavko and secretary treasurer Juliann Klapp. It is not only a large and impressive group, but also a busy, hard-working organization, ever striving for their high goal of perfection.

The band practices many hard hours before perfection is achieved.

Intense concentration in this practice room is one reason for the high quality of the band.

Mark Nixon gets practice.

Mr. Acerra leads the symphonic band in warm-up exercises.

Gary Mavko leads the cornet section in its presentations.

Dances

Electrical vibrations and rhythmic tones mingle with the sound of shuffling feet and soft voices. Hands are clasped under the eerie blue lights while the noisy spirit of fun invades the school dance.

Mike Kalish displays his good dancing mood as other dance on.

The big crowd at the canteen shows the outcome of the game was victorious.

Blaring Sounds and Winding Bodies Make the Canteens

Kids drift across the caleteria floor in anticipation of what is to come. Music blares forth from the twin column speakers as writhing bodies fill in on the already crowded floor. Boys from the team filter in late to lean against the wall. Between records, kids wander the halls. The line by the pop bar swells and quickly shrinks again as a different sound blares forth. Blank expressions replace the laughter and all are lost in the rhythm of soul music. Small groups of kids are dotted across the cafeteria floor talking about the game. The record is a slow one and the groups scatter to be replaced by close couples, unrecognizable under the eerie blue lights.

Few will care to remember this night. It was only something to do, somewhere to be, someone to be with. It's our world of noise and confusion and sometimes, just once in a while, it's fun.

'And the beat goes on.

The action shifts from the football field and basketball court to the school cafeteria.

Madison Fans See Cheryl Horst Crowned and Jefferson Defeated

October 13th and 14th marked the 1967 Homecoming weekend as Madison played host to returning alumni. Friday night's festivities got under way before the game as the five homecoming candidates were driven around the football field and introduced to the enthusiastic spectators. At half-time, senior class president Jim Jackson, assisted by Eric Opron, presented flowers and a kiss to a radiant queen, Cheryl Horst. The cheering crowd then witnessed the Streaks defeat Jefferson.

The weekend was climaxed by the traditional Homecoming dance which was held in the high school gymnasium and featured music provided by George Parish and his orchestra. Blue and white crepe paper streamers adorned the throne. Over-sized yard line markers, megaphones, pompoms, and pen-nants completed the decoraand created the impression of a giant football field. Highlight of the evening was the crowning of Queen Cheryl Horst by Jim Jackson. After the coronation ceremony, Cheryl and escort Doug Norris led in the traditional queen's dance and were joined, first by members of the court and their escorts, and finally by everyone. The release of blue "football" balloons from under the yard line markers and megaphones marked the close of the enchanted evening.

Camelot Comes. to Life

All the time, energy and hard work that the juniors put into creating the prom was certainly rewarded on May 6th when "Camelot" finally became a reality. The gymnasium's formation which took place during the few days betore was remarkable.

At the entrance, apple blossoms floated in a quiet pond. Over this rose a drawchain and an adornment of flowers. In the center of the dance floor was a sparkling castle, revolving beneath a false ceiling of crepe paper streamers. Colorful shields decked the surrounding wall. Sandy Wester and Charlie Rizzo, prom queen and king reigned from their majestic thrones at the far end of the room. Music for the evening was provided by Ray Jangles. The annual pos $\dagger$ prom which was held at Anton's occupied the last minutes of an enchanted evening which was enjoyed by all.

Gary and company put finishing touches on castle for Camelot.

Seniors

Seniors reach the final summit of their high school careers, and after lingering back on its many pains and joys, climb for the further rewards of future years.

Honor Students Bring Recognition

Each year the number of graduating honor students increases and, for the past several years, Madison seniors, honored in the Lake County Scholarship Club, have far outnumbered those from the other area high schools. A 3.5 average throughout their four high school years is the qualification of an honor student, however, these pupils have shown themselves to be, through work and activities, the leaders in citizenship and service. Two of 1968's twenty-one honor students, Gary Mavko and Keith Klein, participated in the television broadcast, "It's Academic" and helped bring the winning prizes home to Madison

Girls' State

Representatives Find Political Adventure

The major things, that over the years Boys State was tried to instill in each generation of delegates, are the responsibilities of American citizens and the upholding of democracy.

With the first day of Boys State at Ohio University, Gary Mavko, Phil Tatar, and Jeff Lintern, began campaigning for political position. The ena of the week would find Gary and Jeff in the House of Representatives and Phil appointed at a lower level. While learning the intricacies of political life, the boys also enjoyed sports such as baseball and tennis.

Representatives Gain Offices

The campus of Capital University had just settled down for a peaceful summer when late in June it found itself swarming with over 1,000 girls. The girls from all over Ohio were the 1967 delegates to Girls State.

The main cim of Girls State is to give each delegate an experience in political responsibility. The entire organization is set up like a miniature state with elections held for state, county and city offices. Laura Heinrich, one of Madison's three delegates became mayor of her city while Leslie Talkington the post of sheriff and Evelyn Fabel was appointed to a city position

Pay Off in Production of "Pygmalion"

Keith Klein instructs Caren Selah in the act of being a lady

Through the fine direction of Mr. Andrews, the Senior class effectively shared with its appreciative audience the light comedy. "Pygmalion." The cast and crew-members culminated many weeks of earnest preparation the evenings of November 3rd and 4th in the school gym.

Written by British playwrite, George Bernard Shaw, "Pygmalion" is an attempt to illustrate the unusual dilemas formed by the clash of higher and lower societies.

The plot itself deals with the unique possibility of changing an unmannered gir! of the lower class into lady of high society. Keith Klein, as Professor Higgins, and Jim Glavan, as Colonel Pickerin, are London gentlemen who undertake this experiment. Appearing as their "guinea pig" is Eliza Doolittle, the lowly flower girl, portrayed by Karen Selah.

Also featured in the wellselected cast were the rest of members of the Higgins family: Debbie North, as Professor Higgin's mother; Beth Glawitsch, as Mrs. Pierce; and Sandy Kowalczyk, as the maid.

Wade Stroup played the comical role of Eliza's father As the play progressed he began to feel the effect of higher society as much as his daughter.

The Hill family, also connected with the English upper class, was comprised of Tom Orsini, Pat Schoenfeld, and Evelyn Fabel.

Jerry Palfy, Emil Ferenz, Terry Cummings, and Jake Mavko made up the balance of the cast as common bystanders of the London metropolis.

Closing

To the teenager all is pulsating:
New, vibrating.
They lead lives of constant joys -
Simple, pleasant joys
Of life.
With wide open eyes
Differently every day.
Teenagers do everything once -
They grope, feel, probe,
Ask silly questions.
They delve into all aspects of life -
Its joys, sorrows, pains, fears, escapes.
They're out
To find out
About life.
