

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial statements. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses and income. The document further explains that proper record-keeping is essential for identifying trends, managing cash flow, and complying with tax regulations.

In addition, the document highlights the role of technology in modern accounting. It notes that while traditional methods like ledgers and journals were once the standard, the use of accounting software has revolutionized the field. These tools can automate repetitive tasks, reduce the risk of human error, and provide real-time access to financial data. However, it also cautions that users must understand the underlying principles of accounting to effectively interpret the data generated by these systems.

The document also touches upon the ethical responsibilities of accountants. It states that accountants have a duty to provide accurate and unbiased information to their clients and the public. This requires a high level of integrity and a commitment to professional standards. Any attempt to manipulate data or engage in fraudulent practices can have severe consequences for both the individual and the profession as a whole.

Finally, the document concludes by encouraging continuous learning and professional development. The field of accounting is constantly evolving, with new regulations, technologies, and best practices emerging regularly. Accountants should stay informed through ongoing education, attending workshops, and staying up-to-date with industry news to ensure they remain effective and relevant in their roles.

CC Team Takes League — Again

The cross-country team has completed its first season under its new head coach, Dave Sears. Mr. Sears replaces former head coach, and author of Madison cross-country, Mr. Don Strother. Mr. Sears had served ably as Strother's assistant for the past several seasons and at one time acted as head coach while Strother took a year at college in order to get a degree. Mr. Sears is now assisted by Mr. Jack Pavesich, former Perry head coach.

Upon announcing his resignation to his team in August, Mr. Strother gave both Sears and Pavesich the highest rating as Coaches.

The team went on to capture its third consecutive league title. It also sent Paul Kershaw and Ralph Rogers to the district competition in Akron's Good-year Park.

The team also participated in several invitationals this year, such as the Willoughby South, and the Mentor Invitationals.

Many of the area's better teams were in attendance.

Rough Season

Bluestreak football '74, although not as successful as in 1973, managed to pull out a fair season. Combined, the three teams compiled a record of 12 wins and 13 losses.

Mr. Hribar's second year as coach of the varsity was not as successful as his first. The '74 Streaks racked up a won-lost record of 4-6.

Perhaps the best performances put on by the varsity all season was the homecoming victory over Ashtabula Harbor, 15-14. As queen Liz Elliot looked on, Gary Bukky's hard running and a great goal-line stand, holding back Harbor on the 6-inch line contributed to the Streaks second win of the season. Outstanding individual performances were numerous. John Talbot's pounding defensive play earned him a spot on the all-NEC first team, and end Al Booth was named to the second team. Seniors Tom Gordon and Steve Girton and Juniors Brian McCully and Randy Nichols shone on the defense. For the offense, Steve Kline's trap blocking was consistently dependable. Mike Godson, Coming back after knee surgery, gained 126 yards in the last game against Perry.

Golf Season Is Moved to Fall

The Madison High School Golf team posted a record of 8-9-2 for this it's first fall season. The sport was moved to the fall because the golf course owners felt the courses were not in good enough condition to be played on as early as the team has to in order to be ready for their season,

The biggest highlight of the season was Jim Martin's hole-in-one in a match against Chardon High School.

In Junior Varsity action this year the JV's put together a 10-2 record. The J.V. squad produced four outstanding players in the eyes of Coach Miller: Mark Rogers, and Dave York, both freshmen; and Phil Michelson and Rick Evans, both sophomores.

Highlighting the season were a victory over Perry High's Varsity squad, a round of 36 shot in the rain by Mel Walker, and Kiki Webb's 40 for Medalist Honors.

The entire golf squad and coaching wish to express their gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Al Brotzman, who have extended the use of their course, Erie Shores, to the team free of charge. Madison is one of the few teams to whom this service is extended by any course anywhere.

Bluestreak Cagers Show Real Improvement

The Bluestreaks have shown this year to be an ever improving basketball team.

The freshmen had a seven and seven season and finished fourth in the N.E.C. Coach Iarocci commented that he considered this year a big success and that this group learned a lot plus the fact that they won more games than any other previous year.

Tim Elliott and John Parker led scoring and rebounding, while Craig Holibaugh and Don Byrnes showed good ball handling and 100% hustle all the time.

The J.V. team also came through with an improved record of ten wins and eight losses, tied with Ashtabula for third place in the N.E.C.

Leading rebounders were Kirk Peine and Chris Cincenas, while Kirk, Keith Hall, Ralph Rogers and Rick Evans led the scoring. Jimmy Dolan and Keith Hall led the assists. When asked for the season highlights Coach Truby stated, "Two games come to mind immediately, one being our come from behind victory over Riverside when we scored twenty nine points in the last quarter. The best team effort was against West Geauga when we won fifty two to forty five. Another great game was against Ashtabula where the final score was 65-63 in double overtime."

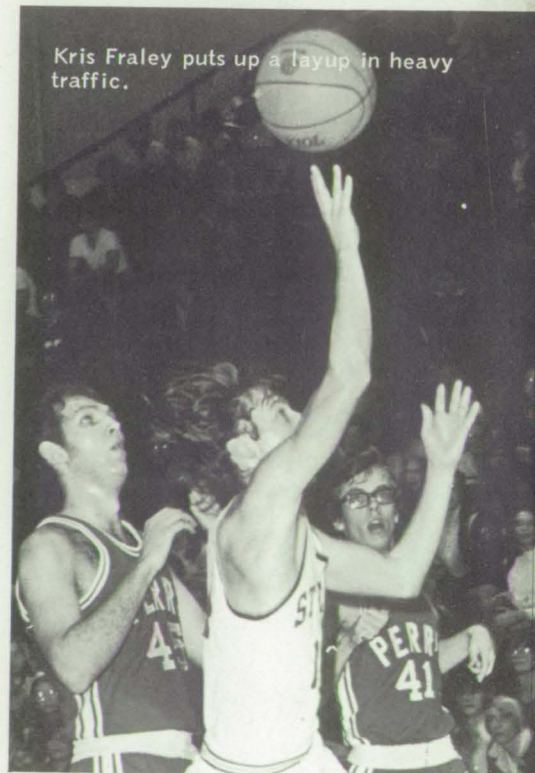

The varsity squad finished their season with a record of 12 losses and 6 wins. This may not seem too good but the record cannot indicate the ability of the team due to the loss of starting center Dan Cleavenger in four of the important league games, and twice the team played Wickliffe who is ranked among the top ten of the state. Madison's Bluestreaks tied for fourth in the N.E.C. Dan Cleavenger led rebounds and along with Phil Rozick and Kris Fraley led scoring. Mike Lawrence put out an excellent effort playing guard, a position new to him. Rick Kowalczyk was the most improved player on the team while Blair Denison was said to be the most versatile. There were only three returning Seniors finishing the year.

The nucleus of the team was made up of Juniors so we have much to look forward to next year.

Wrestlers Suffer First Defeat in Years

Bluestreak wrestlers were not as successful as in the past; they still turned in an admirable performance, winning eight dual meets and losing two.

Kenston was the first to snap our 59-match streak. Later in the season, wrest-end rival Wickliffe beat us in a match which went down to the wire. This was the first season since 1967 that Madison has lost two matches in one season. The varsity also finished fifth in the tough Kenston Holiday Invationals.

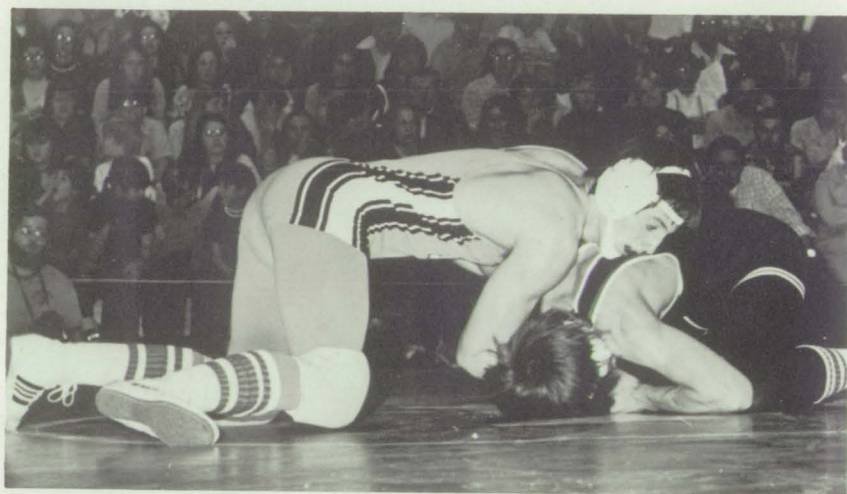

Part of the great success of Madison's wrestling over the years is due to their feeder programs. The junior varsity finished 9-2, including a win over Grand Valley's varsity. The junior grapplers also finished second in the Richmond Heights JV Tournament and fourth in the Brush JV Tournament.

The freshmen turned in the best record of all, nine wins and one loss. Several frosh turned in outstanding records, especially Ken Notte, who only had one point scored against him all year, finishing 10-0. The freshmen finished tied with Braden at 7-1, having avenged at season's end a 30-29 heartbreaker earlier in the season.

This year, Madison was host to the annual NEC Tournament, held here on February 15. This is the first tournament held in Madison. For more on that, turn to page 36.

Baseball Squad Takes League

Bluestreak baseball opened up a 25 game season in 1974 with a win over Crestwood, 8-3. They closed their season with the NEC League championship win over Ashtabula City, on the pitching of Junior Mike Kellison.

The team's overall record was 15 wins and 10 losses, with an NEC league winning record of 8 and 4.

Among the highlights of the 1974 season were no-hitters pitched by Mike Kellison and Bill Widlits, the latter coming in 9-0 decision over Riverside, and Kellison's over Ashtabula City, 7-2.

Unfortunately, we did not do as well in the State Sectional Tournament, dropping a 3-1 decision to Wickliffe, later the state champions.

The Junior Varsity had a final season record of 2 wins, 3 losses, and a tie, the tie coming against Crestwood, 5-5, in the season opener. The game was called due to darkness.

Cindermen Race to New Records

With 19 lettermen returning for '74, Coach Kovats found himself with the nucleus of what he hoped would become a respectable track squad. It proved to be true as the Cindermen racked up a healthy six and three dual meet record.

In our second year of NEC competition, several thin-clads turned in outstanding performances, breaking a school record.

The mile relay team consisting of Ron Mattox, Ron Fabian, Ralph Rogers, and Brad Stanton set a new school record of 3:27.9. Sophomores Brad Stanton, Ralph Rogers, and Paul Kershaw finished first in the NEC in their respective events.

N.E.C. Bows to Madison Again

"Good morning, and welcome to the 1975 North-eastern Conference Wrestling Tournament." At 11 a.m. on February 15, the excitement and tension that had been building all morning and all season was at a fever pitch. Would Madison, tough but not as strong as in previous years romp again? Or would Edgewood, backed by a surprisingly large turnout of fans, pull off the supreme upset? These were the main questions to be answered as the day's action progressed.

The tournament was run in a slightly different manner this year, using a double elimination system. This way, the "consolation bracket" is used to decide third and fourth places, unlike single elimination where third and fourth place are taken by those boys who lose in the semi-finals. By the last elimination matches, the tournament was pretty well shaping up to be Madison vs. Edgewood, with Madison holding a slim edge of 12 qualifiers to Edgewood's 11, and 9 Bluestreaks to 7 Warriors vying for top honors.

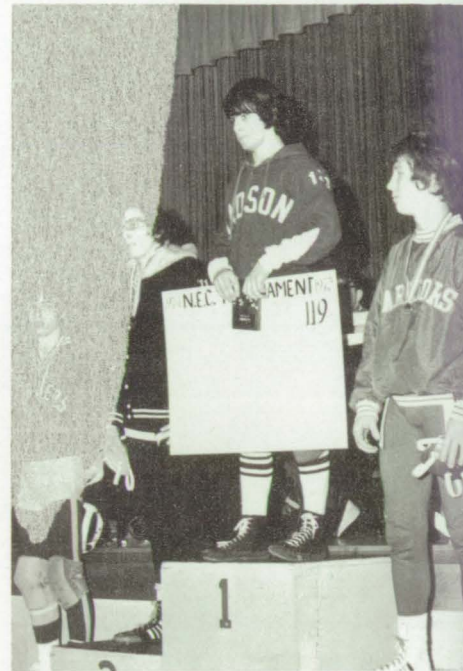

Finals began at 7:30, with the gym packed (with a healthy turnout of screaming Edgewood fans) by 6:45. Much of the interest at 98 pounds was in the consolation match, with Edgewood's Joe Monda beating Phil Michelson, 3-0. The Bluestreaks got rolling after that, however, with Al Lasko and Nick Ruland knocking off their Warrior opponents at 105 and 112 and Scott Buck beating

Paul Aquilla of Riverside 9-0 at 119. In one of the best matches of the evening, Mike Chilbert at 126 outmuscled Edgewood's top-seeded Larry Kent, 4-2.

Kerry McManigle handily disposed of his Edgewood adversary at 132, but Geneva's Sam Gilder-leeve, later named Outstanding Wrestler of the Tournament, beat our Tom Gagliardi in a hardfought match at 138 pounds. Dan Messerall needed some overtime, but he finally polished off Dave Oberg of Riverside, 5-2. Doug Darnell was nipped 2-0 by Rick Mayberry of Conneaut, but it was downhill all the way for the Streaks from there. Joe Palmer slipped by Elijah Lyons of Bula 8-7 to take a third at 167, Brian McCully (175) pinned Warrior Paul Schwarz in 3:38 and Kip Pethtel brought down Bob Gruber of Geneva in 3:28 to take a third at 185.

It was rather obvious that once again the Streaks had shown who was tops in the NEC. The final standings were: Madison, first with 127 1/2 points; Edgewood trailing with 96 1/2; Riverside 55 1/2; Geneva 41 1/2; Conneaut 40 1/2; Harbor 34; and Ash-tabula City seventh with 29 1/2.

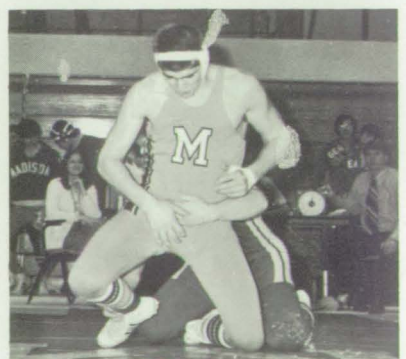

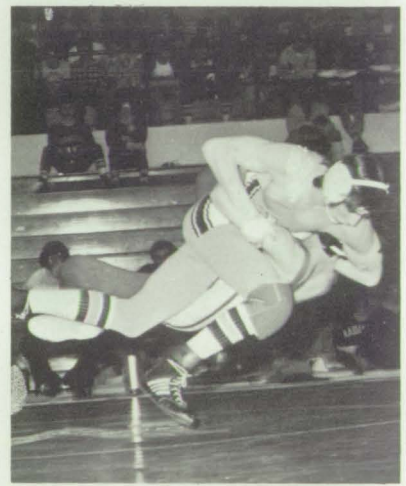

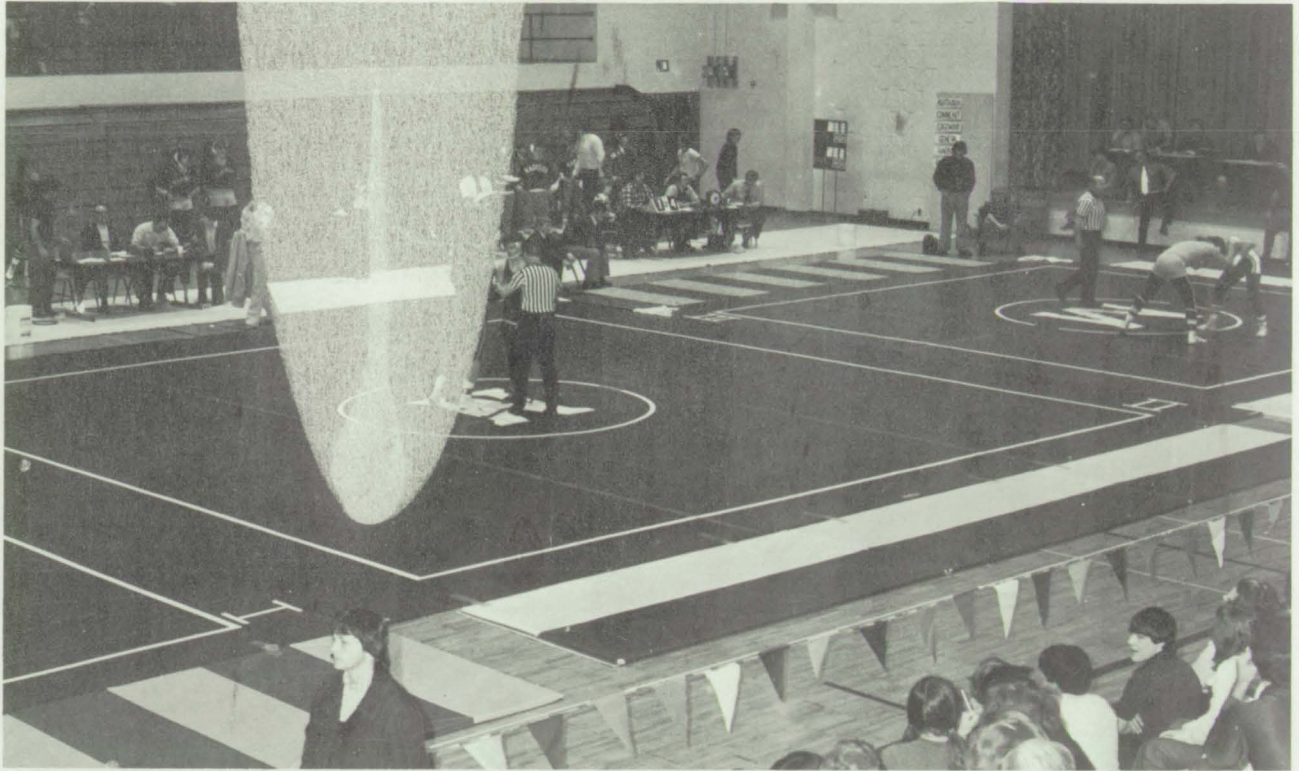

Boys finishing first in other weight classes than those mentioned were Greg Schnell of Riverside at 98, Glen Campbell of Edgewood at 167, and Bob Lyons and Dennis Carman at 185 and Heavyweight.

Girls Sports Come On Big in 1974

G.A.A. began its 1974 fall season with field hockey team had a record of 2 wins, 2 losses and 3 ties, which was an excellent effort. The J.V. team also produced a good showing with, 2, wins, 1 loss and 1 tie. (Along with interscholastic hockey in intramurals.)

The Cross Country team also had a great showing with a dual record of 6 and 1. The girls came up second in three big invitationals: the Chagrin Falls Invitational, the Kent Roosevelt Invitational, and the Chardon Invitational.

The volleyball team started their practices and games early this year because of a change in season timing. Like hockey, there are both interscholastic and intramurals.

Basketball, too, has both interscholastic and intramural teams. The Basketball team has really shown improvement, this year being the first year that girls played by the same rules as boys.

Voice of the Student Body Does Get Heard

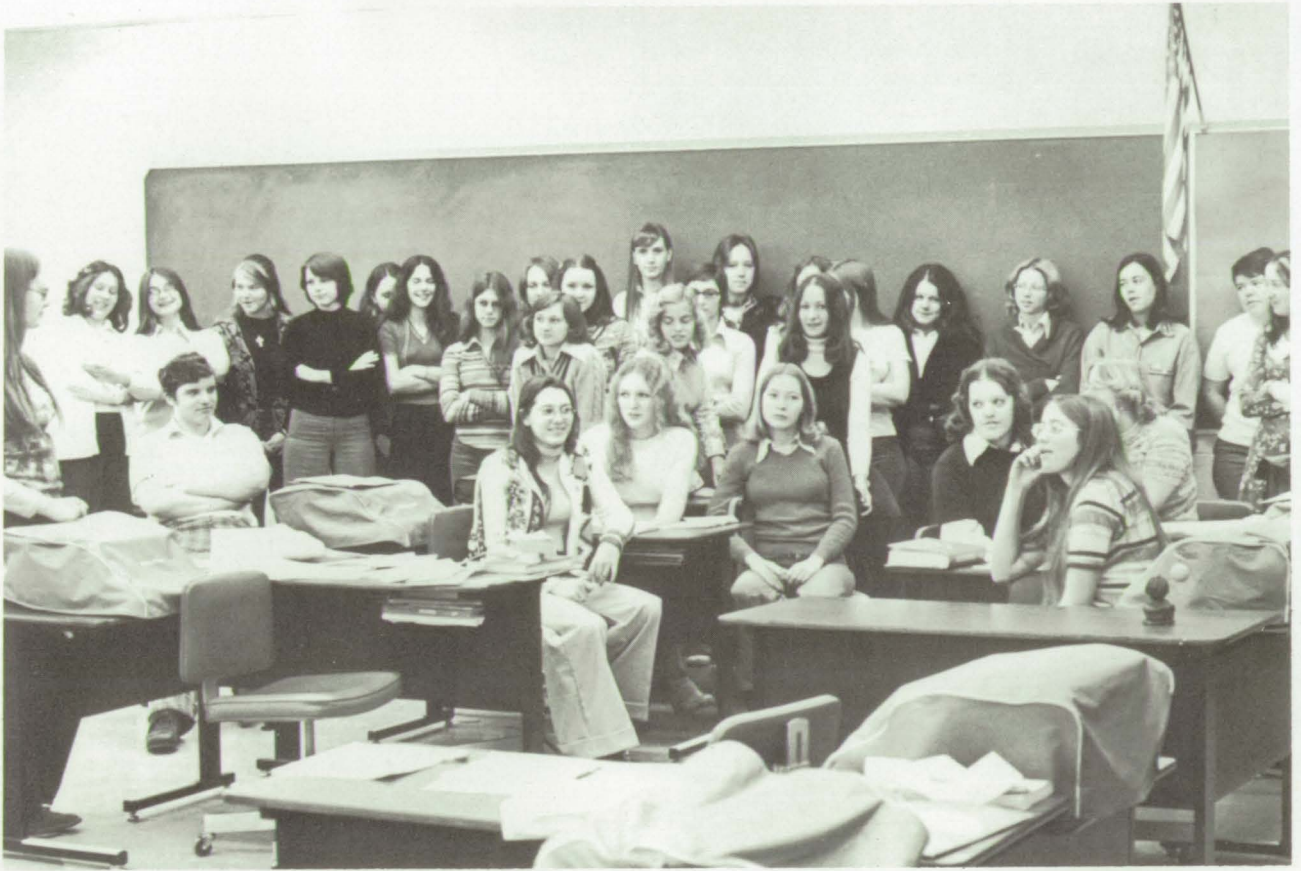

What does Student Council do? If you've ever attended a canteen, or hung up your coat at a basketball game or wrestling match or maybe decorated a room for the annual Christmas contest, then you've seen or witnessed the actions of Student Council.

The new officers for this year were elected last spring. The new Senior officers are president, Jim Turnbull, vice president Mike Godson, secretary-treasurer, Bill Sanders with representatives Birdie Denton, Jo Anne Bork, Robbin Craghead and Tammie Stallard. The Juniors are highly represented by Brian McCully as president, Kiki Webb as vice president, Doreen Gallo as secretary-treasurer and representatives Adrienne Worthy, Christopher Cicas, Carol Rumberger, and Denise Mattox.

Sophmores are represented by Liz Rose, president, Lisa White, vice president, and Vicki Gorsuch, secretary-treasurer, while Julie Grose, Sandy Stewart, Ann Yard, and Brad Pethtel serve as representatives.

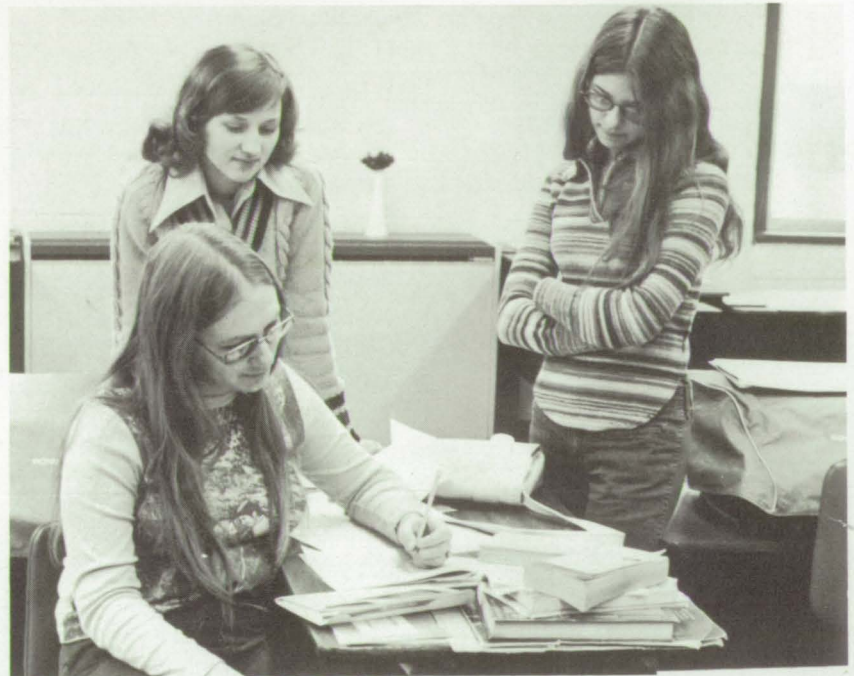

The freshman officers were elected last fall and they are president, Dan Foote, vice president, Cheryl Dean, and secretary-treasurer Karen Bates. With these new officers, come the new class representatives who are Sharon Sayers, Sue McGinnis, Andy Smith, and last but not least Cheri Woodworth.

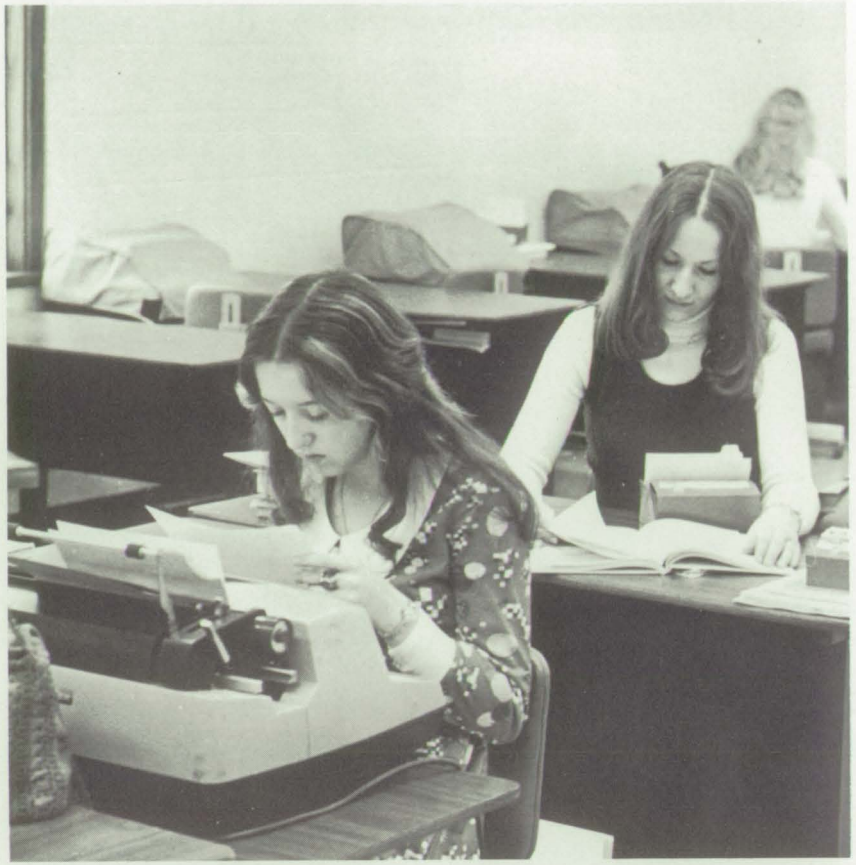

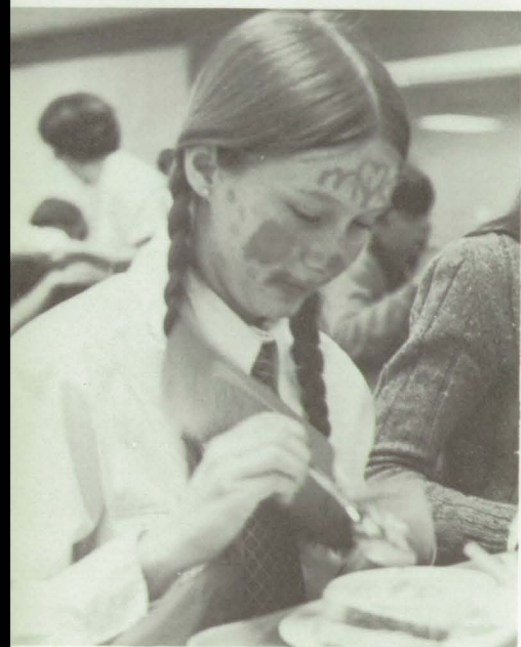

Business Club Raises Money for Department

Business club is formed primarily to raise money for the business department. The money raised by the club is used to buy more sophisticated business equipment for use in the department. Business club usually obtains their money by having a candy sale and sponsoring canteens. Other projects are also undertaken. The club elected officers in the fall. They are Genny Kalish, president; Debbie McGuire, vice president; and Justine Bryant, secretary-treasurer. The business club is advised by Miss Spiesman.

Coming Home With a Victory

Who will it be? This was probably the most asked question the week before Homecoming.

The court made their traditional parade around the football field in convertible cars and then were escorted out onto the field by their parents. As the tension mounted, the girls gave cries of pleasure at the announcement of Liz Elliott as Homecoming Queen 1974. President of the Senior Class, Jim Turnbull, congratulated Liz with a bouquet of roses and a kiss. The football team didn't disappoint the queen or the fans with their victory over Ashtabula Harbor, with the final score of Madison-15 and Ashtabula Harbor-14.

On Saturday night, the Homecoming Dance began with representations of fall and Halloween shown by the many odd creatures running around loose. Liz Elliott was crowned while her court, consisting of Barb White, Cherrie Peklay, Doreen Close, and Heather Pechak, proudly looked on. Most of the couples enjoyed dancing to the music performed by "Fresh".

The night was enjoyed by all who attended and ground was laid for many memories.

Springtime Dominates Prom

"Pieces of April" was the theme for the 1974 prom at Madison High School presented by the Class of '75.

It was held on May 11th at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria of the high school.

Entertainment was provided by a four-man group from Ohio State University called "Dust".

The main event of the evening was the crowning of the King and Queen. Junior Class President Allen Reynolds crowned the '74 Queen, Nona Stevens, and Vice President Linda Messenger crowned Mike Gagliardi as King.

Sophomores who were chosen to serve were Carol Rumberger, Denise Mattox, Beth Horton, Doreen Gallo, Paul Kershaw, Dan Messerall, Ralph Rogers and John Salo. Some servers took turns working at the wishing well punch bowl, while the others helped to announce and escort the guests to their tables in the atmosphere of springtime flowers and raindrops.

"Harvey" Presented by Juniors

Last years Junior class play was "Harvey." "Harvey" is about a young man who has a problem of seeing a 6 1/2 foot invisible white rabbit. The man's name is Elwood P. Dowd, and he was played by Allen Reynolds.

Elwood's sister, Veta Louise (Cindy Rumble) Simmons, And his niece, Murtle Mae (Joanne Bork) are fed up with Harvey. They, assisted by Judge Gaffney (Mark Rainsford), decide to take Elwood to Dr. Chumley (Gary Deurlein) and his assistant, Dr. Sanderson, (John Everson), both psychiatrists, in order to get Elwood committed into Dr. Chumley's sanitarium. The psychiatrists are assisted by Ruth Kelly, R.N. (Margareta Lanner) and Duane Wilson (Jim Bevan), an orderly. Throughout the play Wilson tries to put the moves on Murtle Mae, which adds to the fun.

It all ends up happily, with everybody (including Harvey) understanding and reconciling their differences. Other juniors in the play were Kathy Sutch as the Simmons' maid, Fran Comstock as Elwood's aunt, Beth Miller as Mrs. Chumley, and Bill Powell as the cab driver.

Seniors Stage "You Can't Take It With You"

"You Can't Take It With You" was presented by the seniors in early spring.

Set during the early depression the play centers around two families--the Sycamores, headed by Martin Vanderhof are the wacky but warm family. Each member is an individualist at heart, while the Kirbys are more socially minded. Their children, Tony Kirby and Alice Sycamore are in love.

Beth Miller and Jerry Atkin were Penny and Paul Sycamore.

The two star-crossed lovers were Scott Bowers (Tony) and Cindy Aumick (Alice).

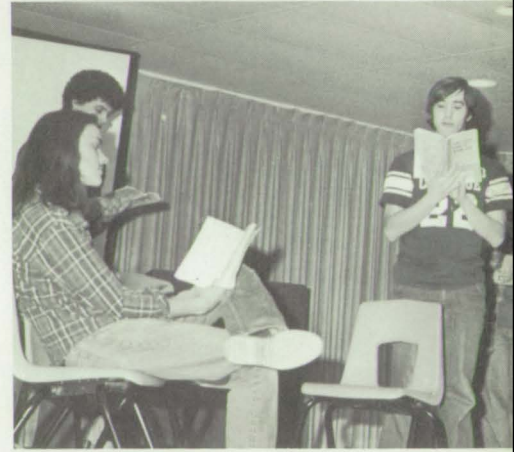

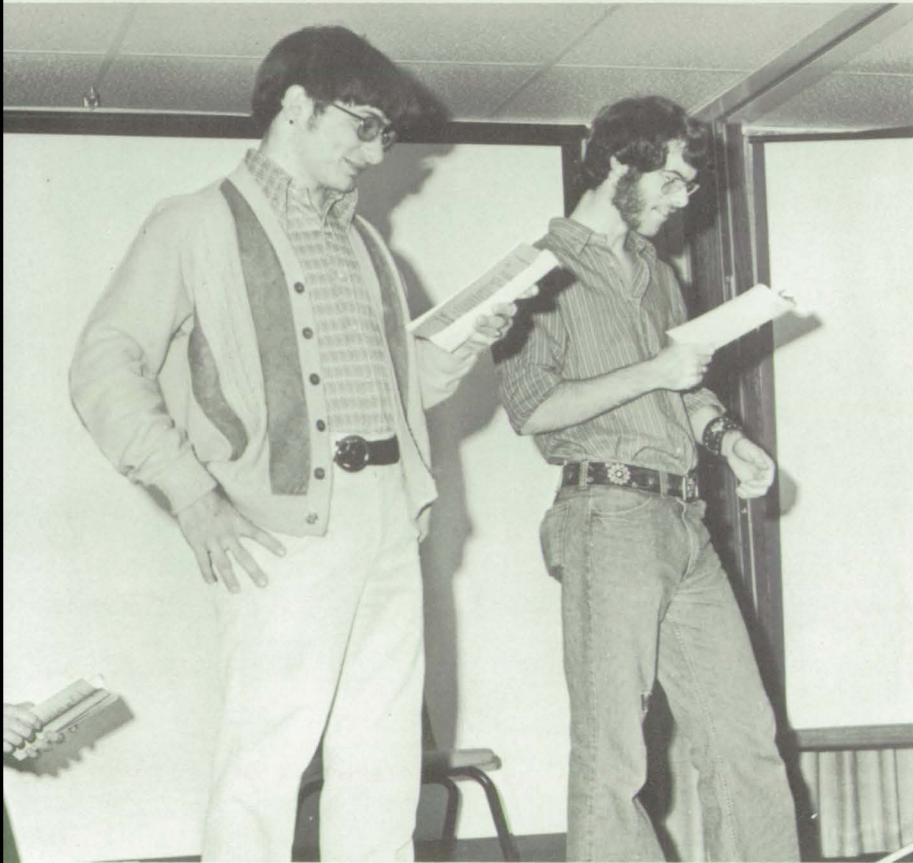

Other included Fran Comstock, Ken Stone, Gary Deurlein, Kathy McIntosh, Mike Chilbert, Maria Stillman, Tony Jewett, Tom Hull, JoAnne Bork, Tim Hanze, Birdie Denton and Rob Wooten.

Practices were held four days a week. This year's play would have never gotten off the ground without Glen Andrews, the director.

This Is Where It All Begins

Did you ever stop to think of all the work that went into putting out this year's Cauldron? First, the content (what subjects will be covered on each page) is planned at the beginning of the year. Then, each sixth period, the staff meets to work on getting it together.

The very first step in getting each individual page done is planning the layout. It is first sketched onto a small "dummy sheet," then onto a planner sheet, so we can see what it looks like actual size. It's then traced onto a "3-R" (triplicate) form. The pictures that will go into each block are printed to the appropriate size by Art Taylor's in Geneva.

While all this is going on, corresponding articles get written and rewritten to fit the allotted space. Headlines get thought up (tough work sometimes), and then hand-written on the 3-R. When the pictures come back from Taylor's, cut lines (captions) for them are written.

Eleven people give blood, sweat, tears, study halls, evenings, and lunch periods to get the book out. They are Jerry Atkin, Editor; Gary Deurlein, Art & Layout Editor; Tina Norton, Copy Editor; Scott Bowers, Head Photographer; Maria Stillman, Business Manager; Sue Stone, Doreen Gallo, Tom Galvin, Laurie Link, Barb Boxerbaum and Brenda Taulbee.

Bluestreak Under New Format This Year

This year the Bluestreak operated under an entirely new format. The paper was printed for us, along with other area schools, by the Telegraph. The papers were then circulated to the public as a supplement to the Telegraph.

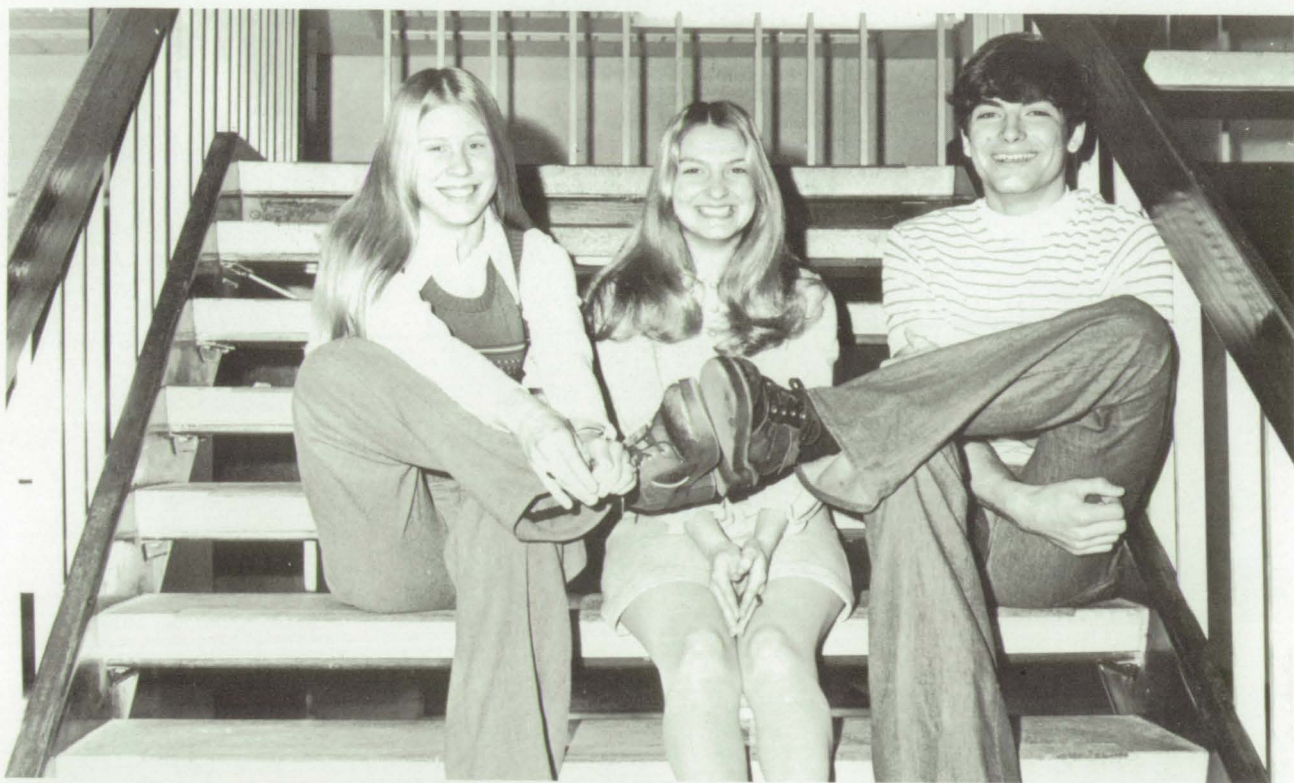

In doing so we accomplish two ends. The public sees what goes on in the school from the student's point of view, and the students are able to compare their paper with the papers of other schools.

The program used in putting out the paper is being reorganized in the hope of turning out a more sophisticated and journalistic publication. Next year will probably see the paper using an editor working along with various page editors. The Bluestreak is advised by Mrs. Billman.

Curriculum

 ABOVE: Mr. Matuscak and Mr. Martin are in charge of keeping the school system in order.

The Power Behind MHS

Do you know what makes this system click? It's the administration, of course. Heading our staff is Principal Paul Folmer, along with Vice Principal Lloyd Fox.

The newest addition to our staff is former English teacher Miss Jean Westfall, now Dean of Girls. Besides Miss Westfall's usual duties, she has taken time out to do such things as taking a group of students to the Opera and advising the National Honor Society.

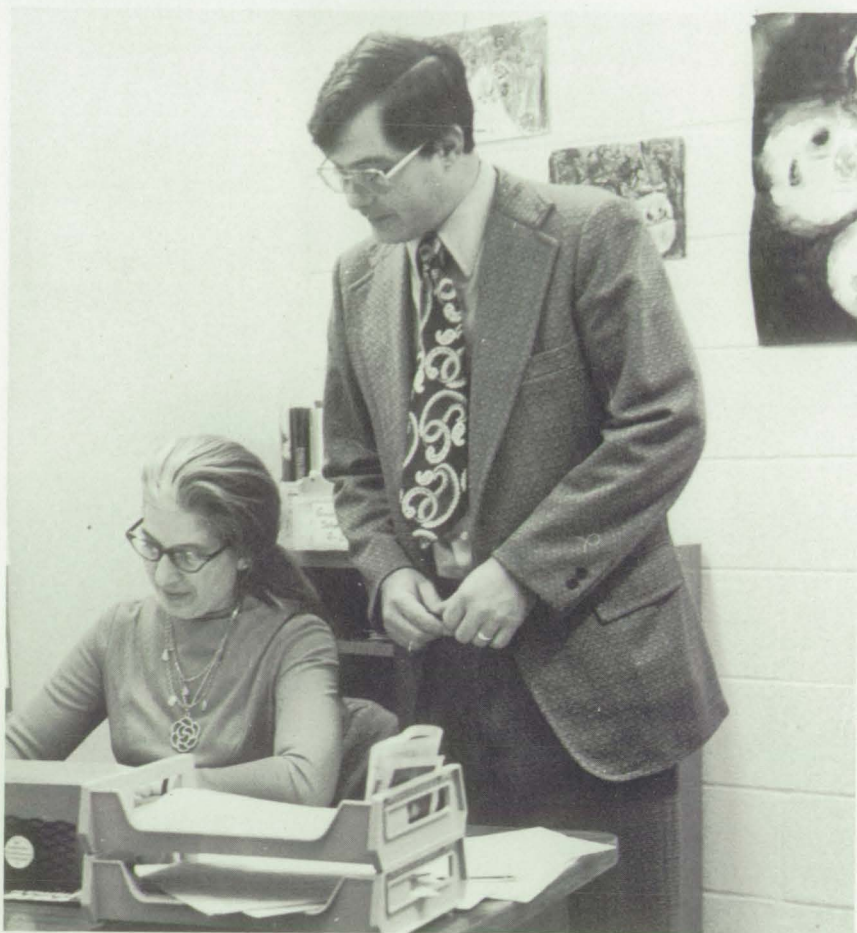

Our Counselors this year are Mrs. Billman, Mr. Stoll, and Mr. Winton. They aid in the hectic job of scheduling, advising, and probably most of all, just lending an ear.

Our hardworking secretaries this year are Mrs. Gibbon, Mrs. Roth, Mrs. Jopko and Mrs. Anderson. The teamwork of these efficient women shows what togetherness can do.

Exploring Avenues of Creation

The art department at Madison consists of four major divisions. Art I is taught by Mrs. Musiek while the remaining three years, plus the Exploratory Art course, are taught by Mr. Heichel.

The first year of the program emphasizes shading and basic techniques. Second year students go deeper, developing their talents and experimenting with tools and crafts.

In Art III and IV, the students are left the responsibility of doing their own projects without everyday class assignments. There is not set deadline for completion of these projects, but the students are graded on effort and work done.

New in the program this year is the Exploratory Art course. This course is designed for students who are interested in art but have no room for it in their schedules. It is a one semester course.

Students in the field of art learn to express themselves creatively through widely varied media.

Filling the Void With Music

It all began for the Blue-streak Showband in late June with the first summer practices. After teaching freshmen and first year people the techniques of marching (not to mention playing at the same time), they got off to a grand start by marching in the Fairport Mardi Gras and Madison Old Fashioned Days parades.

In late August, the band spent a grueling week in the rain at band camp in Ripley, West Virginia, learning the steps to the halftime shows. Assisting Mr. Acerra, the director, were Mr. Roytz and Mr.

Soriano, two students from Youngstown State University. Mr. Roytz worked out the complicated fancy footwork, while Mr. Soriano helped the band with music.

The Showband performs at halftime of all Madison football games. They also performed in both the Conneaut and Strongsville Band-A-Ramas, and the Stars and Stripes Festival, held this year at Eastlake North. Also, a small group of interested musicians forms a pep band, which entertains at pep assemblies and home basketball games.

TOP: The Symphonic Band on any given day.

More to It Than Marching

Did you ever really think what happens to the Showband after marching season? They don't fold up their horns and call it quits (at least not without getting out other ones). They divide, forming the Symphonic Band and adding to the Freshman Concert Band.

The Freshman Concert Band consists of people who did not participate in marching band in the fall. Freshman marching band members enter this band after marching season--they practice 7th period and play on the same program as the Symphonic Band.

The larger Symphonic Band consists of the sophomores, juniors, and seniors who were in the marching band. They play in concerts at Christmas and in the spring, at the East Lake County Festival, with other bands at this end of the county.

Some band members played in ensembles or did solos at State Solo and Ensemble contest held February 22 at Lakeland. Some members of the Concert Band participated in contest in May.

They Got the Music in Them

Have you ever noticed the talent that erupts from Madison? If you haven't, you had better sneak down to the choir room second or third period. Second period is the Junior choir which consists of only freshmen. Then there is the Senior which consists of Seniors, Juniors, and Sophmores.

Both choirs perform for the Christmas concert with the band along as an added attraction. With spring-time comes the spring concert, where both choirs combine to perform for the last time during the year.

Singing is a form of self-expression, so express yourself and join the choir.

Basics of Making a Home Taught

"A stitch in time saves nine", or so they say, The people in Mrs. Avellone's sewing classes are given the chance to find out. She teaches Basic Sewing to the seamstresses of tomorrow, Intermediate Sewing to those students who have had some experience in sewing, and tailoring to the more advanced students, guys or girls.

While Mrs. Avellone's classes are hard at work sewing, Mrs. McMahon has her kids slaving over a hot stove and enjoying every minute of it. The basic foods classes deal with things like muffins, cookies, and later in the course, spaghetti. The intermediate foods and gourmet cooking classes have their hands full with projects such as complete meals and gourmet dishes.

Classes in the Home Ec. Department are aimed at better preparing the students for future life.

Entering the Business World

The business department at Madison provides an alternative for the student who has decided upon a career in the world of business, rather than college upon finishing high school. The classes are structured to give a comprehensive background in business and enable the student to go directly from the classroom to the office.

Courses taught by the four teachers include Bookkeeping I and II, Office Practices, Exploratory Business, Personal Typing, Shorthand, and General Business. Also taught through the department is the Intensive Office Education program, which simulated actual office conditions.

Students in IOE spend the first three periods of the day learning how an office works and doing clerical jobs for the school. They provide much of the help in straightening out the little details that make the school run smoothly.

Madison's business department has enabled many students to get successful jobs in the business world. And after all, isn't that its purpose?

Language Culture Discussed

Como estas? Comment-allez vous? Wie geht es dir? If you take any one of the three foreign languages offered here, you would know and understand these famous lines. The languages taught here are Spanish, German, and French.

The courses have been divided up into semester courses this year, with 1A and B for beginning students, 2A and B for more progressive students, 3A and B for the more interested students who really want to speak and learn the language and 4A and B which are individual studies that help the students develop their own skills.

Another language course offered this year is Comparative Cultures. This course tries to cover the cultures in some of the Spanish, German, and French speaking countries. Such topics would be covered as the bullfight and traveling in Germany and France.

TOP: Mr. Pavesich helps Brad Stanton through another day's English.

Reading and Writing for Today

What exactly does English mean to you? Perhaps it's a class where you can express your feelings and tune in to other peoples ideas through literature and discussion. Maybe it's a class that you take because you have to, or maybe you don't know because you haven't been awake enough to find out.

You can find whatever kind of English you want at Madison. There is an honors course, regular classes and English A courses. Seniors can choose about anything they want; subjects range from English for Living and Composition, to Modern Novel and Mass Media.

Also included in part of the English department is the Yearbook. This gives students practical experience in journalism and typographical work.

New Librarian Brings Changes in Policy

Shh! Students at work!
This is probably how most school libraries are run. Ours? Well, even ours has a great deal of order and the person who helps keep it intact is our new librarian, Mr. Rakow.

There have been several changes made this year such as the new system for passes to the library. This is designed so that the student coming to the library from study hall now does not need to report to the study hall classroom, he just comes to the library and signs in. Other new items this year are magazines such as Hot Rod, Circus, and Popular Photography.

By the way, don't forget your library books this year; they have started a new two-cents-a-day fine for overdue books.

With all these new added attractions, our very own library has just got to be great.

RIGHT: Ken Stoneman and Mark Rainsford use the facilities to work on a research paper.

Learning to Cope With Today's World

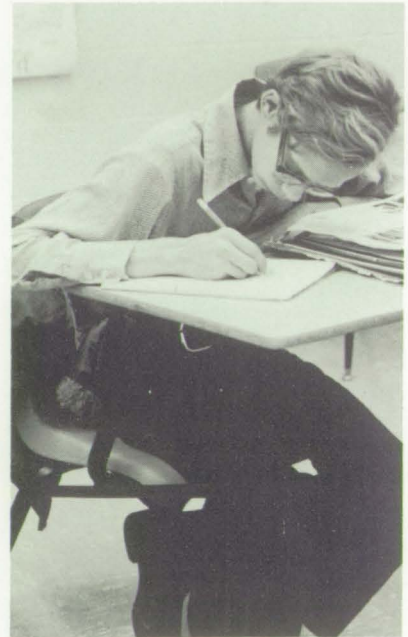

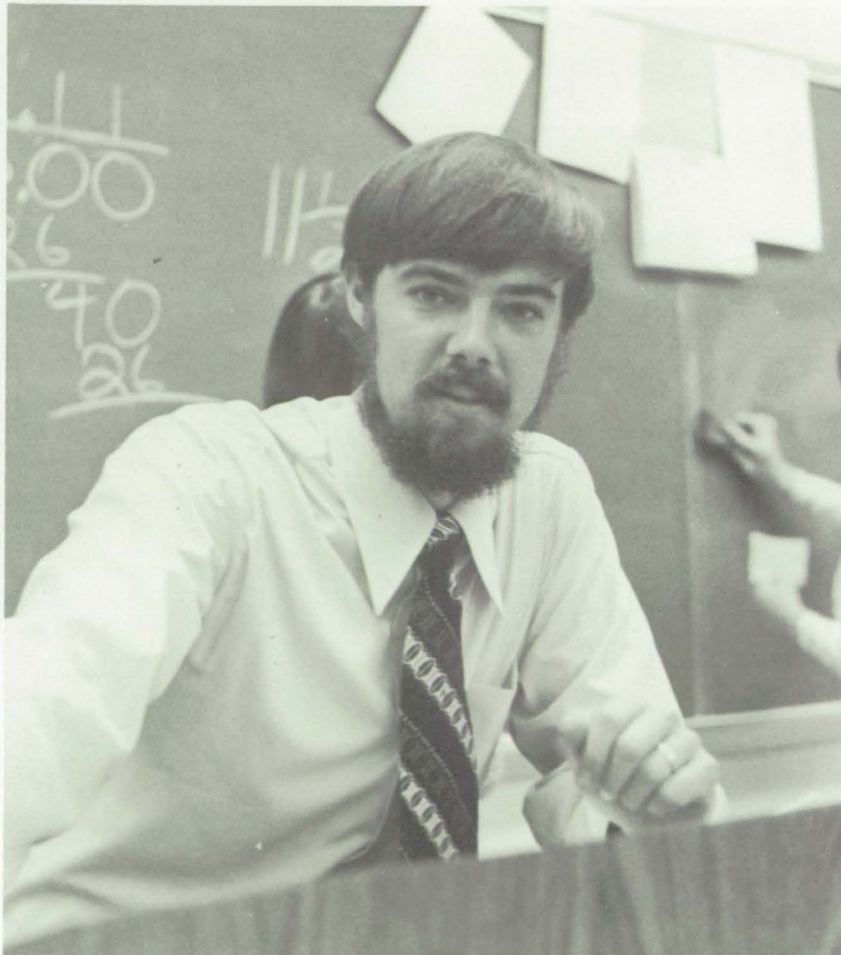

In its fifth year, the Work Study program at Madison has made great strides in turning out self-sufficient citizens, who are able to cope with problems of everyday life.

Students in the program work either in the school, helping in the cafeteria and working with the janitorial staff, or in various establishments around the community. They also attend classes both here and at the Vocational School in Painesville.

Seniors must attend Senior Seminars once a week, which are discussions with an adult coordinator about subjects such as job problems and money management. The entire program is geared toward a complete, fulfilling life upon completion of school.

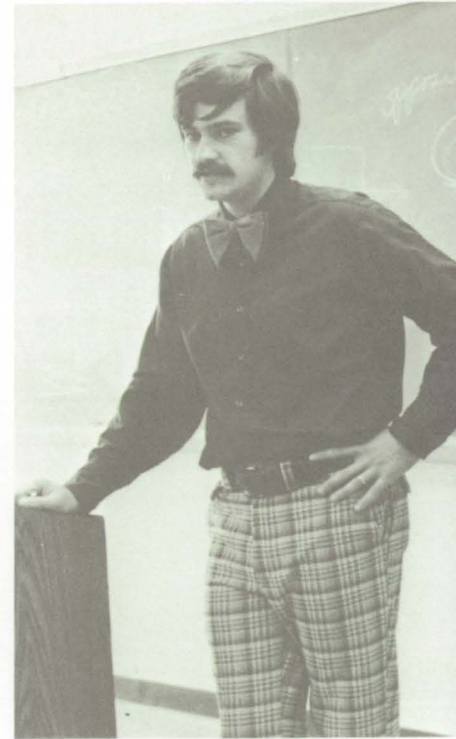

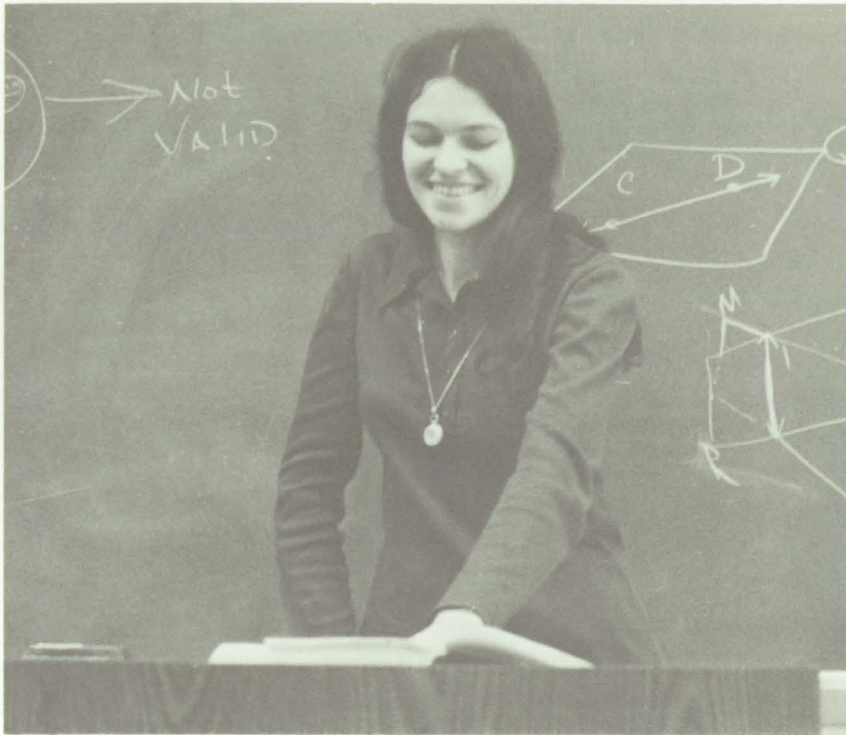

The Work Study program has put many capable citizens into the area community. We hope it will continue to do so for many years to come.

The Fascination of Numbers

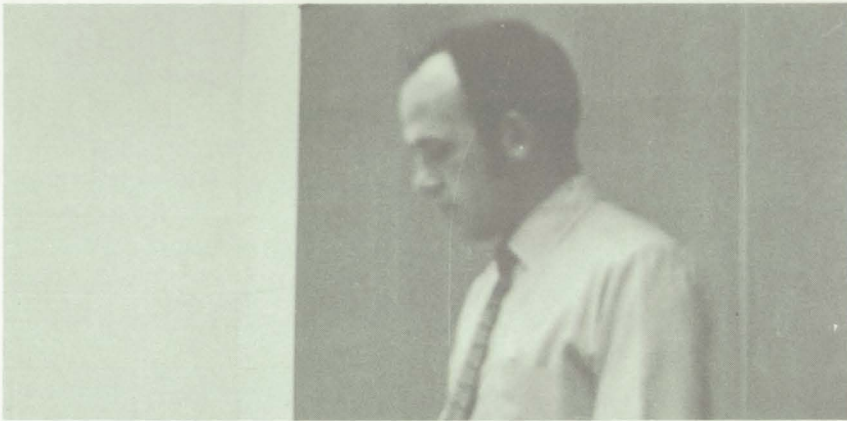

If there are three ducks in the pond and five chickens in the henhouse, then how many horses are in the barn? Does this seem like one of those familiar story problems given to math students? Whether given in general math or geometry, algebra or trigonometry, sometimes they all seem as senseless as the horses in the barn. But they are needed because when you think of it, isn't all of life a story problem?

Two new math courses offered to Juniors and Seniors this year are Concept of Limits and Probability and Statistics. Along with these one semester courses, Analytic Geometry replace the traditional Senior Math. The amount of math a student takes is up to him or her as long as the one essential credit is earned.

College bound students would be the ones to take advanced math, while others seem more geared for Technical Math or General Math. Students making the choice should keep their future plans in mind and stick with it, no matter how many horses are in the barn.

CENTER BELOW: Besides teaching Algebra 2, Concept of Limits, probability and Statistics, and analytic Geometry, Mr. Black gets another point across to his Analytic Trigonometry class.

Phys. Ed. Semester Course

Subject areas of the one semester health classes are presented through a behavior approach. Mrs. Pavesich and Mr. Dolan attempt to bring out the importance of human growth and development, mental health, good grooming, alcohol, tobacco, and drug abuse, and over-all physical fitness. Health classes are aimed at trying to prevent negative behavior before social or emotional problems result.

Along with the state requirement of half a credit of health, a full credit of Physical Education is being taught a little differently this year, mostly with juniors and freshmen having it every day during the first semester, and sophomores and seniors having it every day during the second semester.

The reason for this is that the students learn more in situation occurring every day.

The Health and Phys. Ed. department at Madison provides insights into one of the most important people in the world--yourself.

Ask Questions, Get Answers

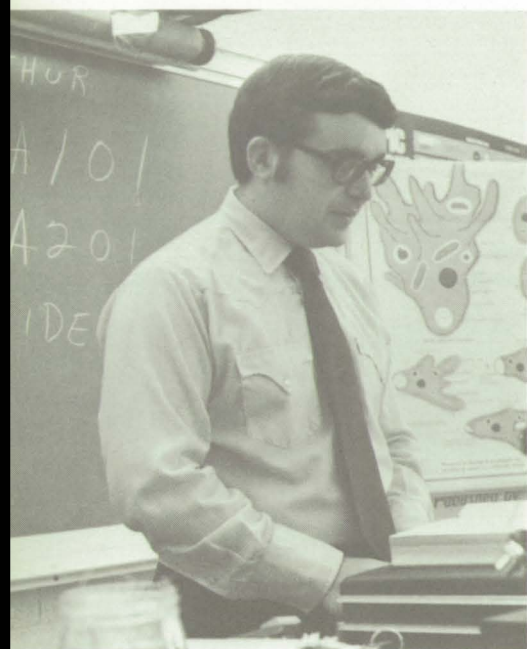

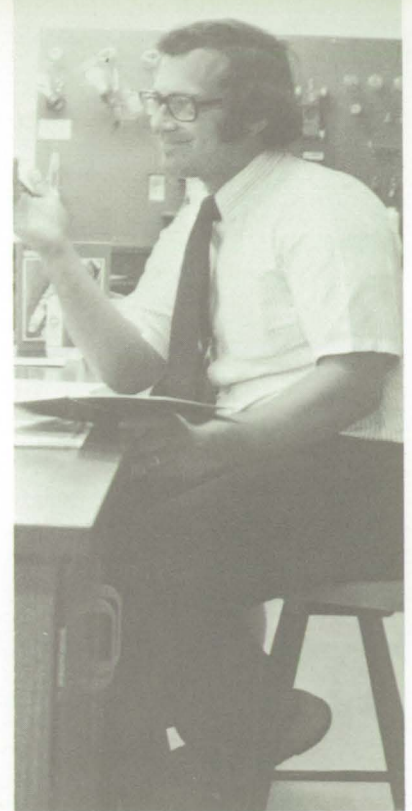

Science--Knowledge acquired by study... For some of us it may take a lot of studying but for others, learning the anatomy of a frog may be a breeze.

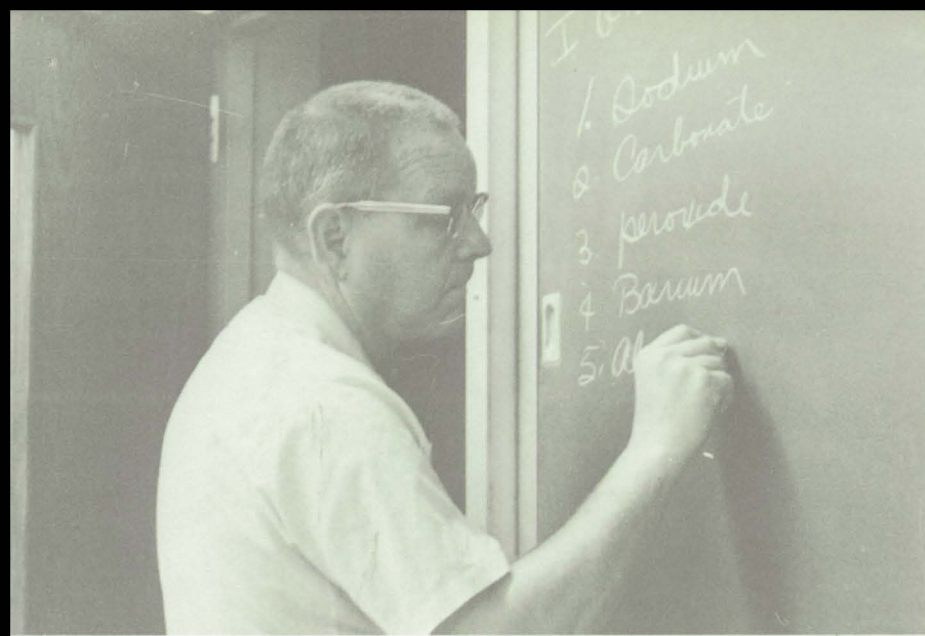

The new ISCS class for freshmen this year replaces the former Earth Science and General Science of years gone by. Another new science course offered this year is Advanced Biology, a senior course. This course includes the sciences of microbiology, genetics, embryology, and human anatomy and physiology.

Sophomores and Juniors are still taking Biology I, BSCS Biology and Chemistry, while the Seniors struggle with the world of Physics.

The science courses you take are similar to those in math in the way that the choices are entirely up to the individual.

Making Drawings Come Real

Students in shop learn all kinds of neat things! They can choose between hot and cold metals or wood. There is also a girl's shop course, which deals in basic repairs and a little craft work, and General Shop, a survey course.

Wood shop students learn basic woodworking techniques and use of machines. Metal shop students learn to use either hot or cold metals, whichever they choose, and basic soldering, welding, and riveting.

Also included in the curriculum of the Shop Department is drafting. One-semester courses offered in this area are Basic and Advanced Architectural Drafting, which deal with plans of buildings, and Basic and Advanced Machine Drafting, which deal with the reading of plans and structure of machinery. Drafting 1 and 2 are offered as more advanced courses. The student is more on his own, doing projects such as urban renewal and simple commercial building design.

The Shop Department provides adequate training in ideas that most students can probably use for the rest of their lives.

Tying the Past to the Present

"In 1776, John Cabot discovered Outer Mongolia, thereby starting the Industrial Revolution..." Not quite, but Madison's Social Studies department is succeeding at teaching both yesterday and today to the adults of tomorrow.

Sophomores can take Social Studies electives of World History (and World History Honors) and the one semester courses of World Geography and Economics. Juniors must take some kind of American history--they can choose from Advanced Placement, the semester series 1-3 A and B, American History Survey, and Inquiry, USA. To Seniors are offered the required one semester of Foundations of Government; then they must choose from Justice and the Law, Problems of Today, or Politics and the People. Government Survey is offered to Vo-Ed students, and History and Government Surveys are taught in summer school.

Psychology and Sociology included in the program as Senior Electives, are studies dealing with how people think individually and as a whole society.

Learning Thru Work Experience

The Lake County Joint Vocational School consists of students from Kirtland, Chardon, Madison, Riverside and Perry High Schools. The primary purpose of this school is to equip these students for useful employment.

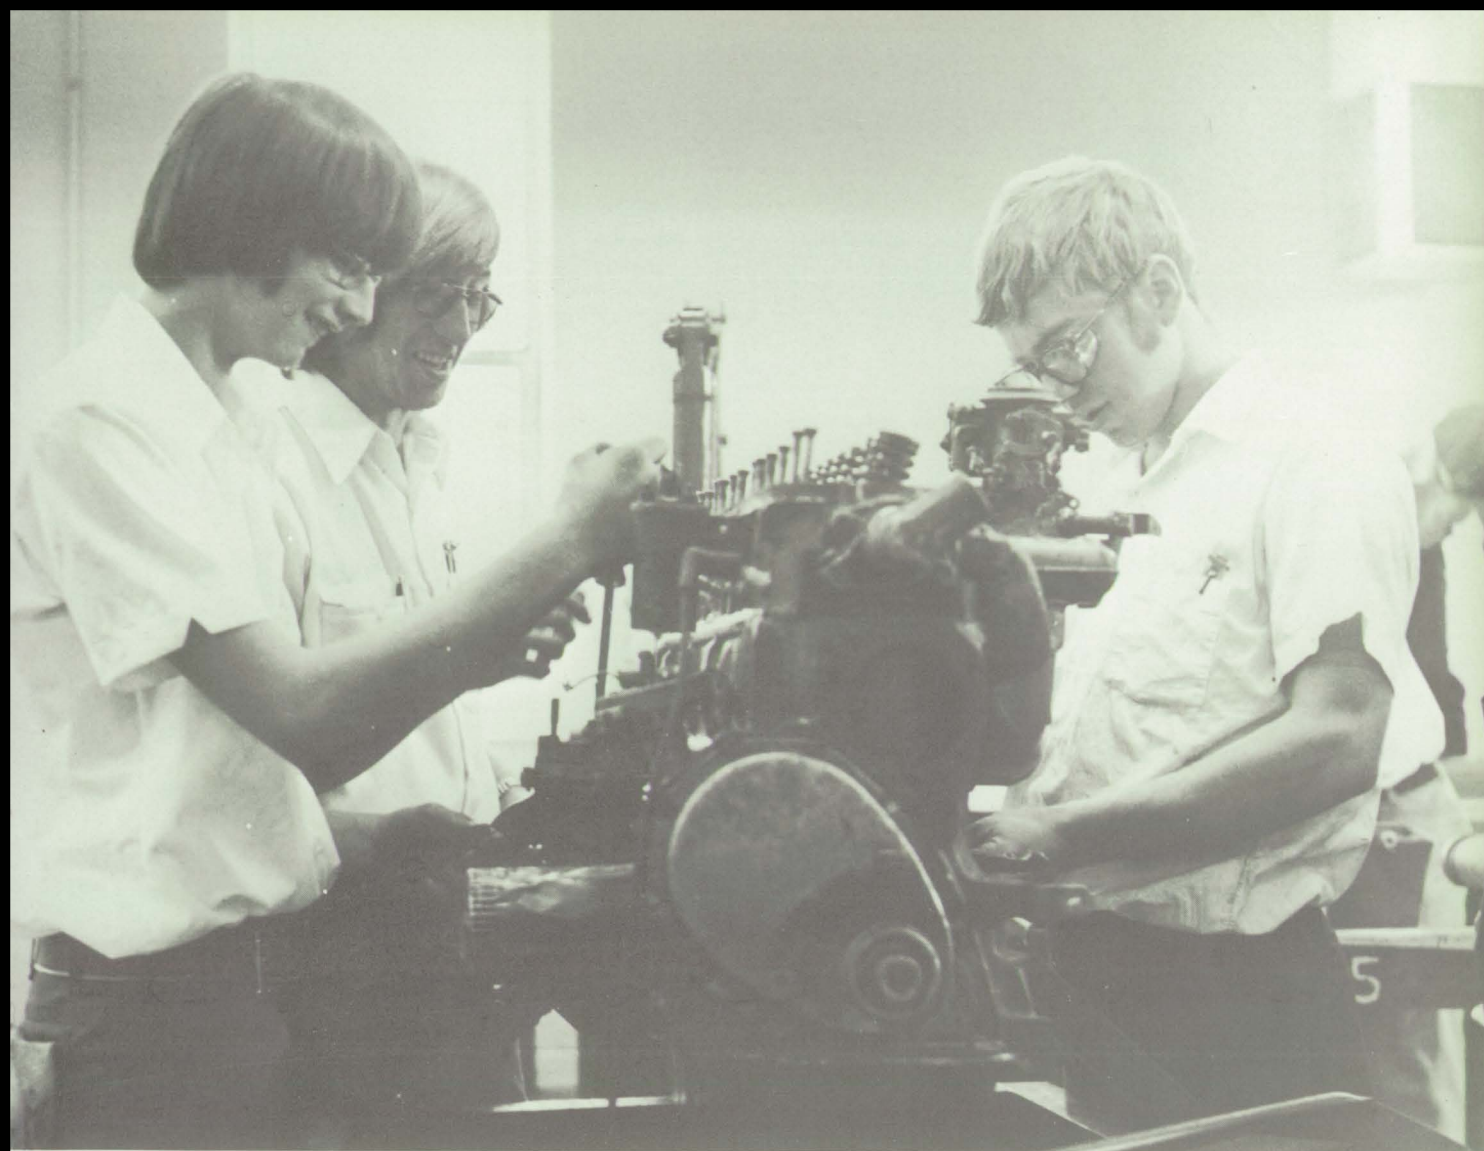

Students attending the school spend part of the day at the Lake County Joint Vocational School, and the other part of the day in their own high schools. These students are eligible for sports and all other activities in their schools.

Groundbreaking was held in October for a new $1.4 million addition, scheduled for student occupancy in September '75. It will add five courses including office communications, diversified health communications, high skill stenography, fabric service, and building maintenance. Enrollment will increase from approximately 430 students to 800.

The Vocational School is a part of a well-rounded program of studies aimed at developing qualified, efficient workers.

As you close this book, and with it another year of your life, remember that it is not truly an ending, but also a beginning. Today is the first day of the rest of your life--may it be a good one. Even if your high school years are now at a close, remember that really, this is it--this is where it all begins.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial data. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses and income. The document provides a detailed list of items that should be tracked, such as inventory levels, accounts payable, and accounts receivable. It also outlines the procedures for recording these transactions, including the use of double-entry bookkeeping and the importance of regular reconciliations.

The second part of the document focuses on the analysis of the recorded data. It explains how to calculate key financial ratios and metrics, such as the gross profit margin, operating profit margin, and return on investment. These calculations are essential for understanding the company's financial performance and identifying areas for improvement. The document also discusses the importance of comparing the company's performance against industry benchmarks and historical data to provide context for the results.

The final part of the document addresses the reporting requirements for the financial data. It outlines the format and content of the financial statements, including the balance sheet, income statement, and cash flow statement. It also discusses the importance of providing clear and concise explanations for any significant fluctuations in the data. The document concludes by emphasizing the role of accurate financial reporting in decision-making and the overall success of the business.
