The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the research and the objectives of the study. It highlights the need for a comprehensive understanding of the subject matter and the role of the researcher in this process. The second part of the paper focuses on the methodology used in the study, detailing the data collection methods and the analytical techniques employed.

The results of the study are presented in the third part of the paper, showing the findings and their implications. The discussion then follows, where the results are interpreted and related to the existing literature. The final part of the paper concludes with a summary of the key findings and suggestions for future research.

The study has several limitations, which are discussed in the conclusion. These limitations include the sample size, the time period of the study, and the potential biases in the data collection process. Despite these limitations, the study provides valuable insights into the subject matter and contributes to the existing body of knowledge.

The research was supported by the [Organization Name], which provided the necessary resources and facilities for the study. The author would like to express their gratitude to the [Organization Name] for their support and to the participants who took part in the study. The author also acknowledges the assistance of the [Organization Name] staff in various stages of the research process.

The author has no conflicts of interest in this study. The data generated during the study are available upon request. The author has read and approved the final version of the manuscript. The author is responsible for the content and accuracy of the information presented in this paper. The author also warrants that the information is true and correct to the best of their knowledge and belief.

The author has no other publications or patents related to the subject matter of this study. The author has no financial or personal relationships with any of the individuals or organizations mentioned in this paper. The author has no other commitments that could affect the objectivity or integrity of the study. The author has no other sources of funding for this study.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial statements. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses, income, and transfers between accounts.

The second part of the document provides a detailed breakdown of the accounting cycle. It outlines the ten steps involved in the process, from identifying the accounting entity to preparing financial statements. Each step is explained in detail, with examples provided to illustrate the concepts.

The third part of the document focuses on the classification of accounts. It discusses the different types of accounts, such as assets, liabilities, equity, revenue, and expense accounts, and how they are used to record and summarize business transactions.

The fourth part of the document covers the process of journalizing and posting. It explains how transactions are recorded in the journal and then transferred to the ledger accounts. This process is essential for maintaining the double-entry system and ensuring that the books are balanced.

The fifth part of the document discusses the preparation of financial statements. It outlines the steps involved in calculating the net income, preparing the income statement, balance sheet, and statement of cash flows. It also discusses the importance of comparing the results of the current period with those of the previous period.

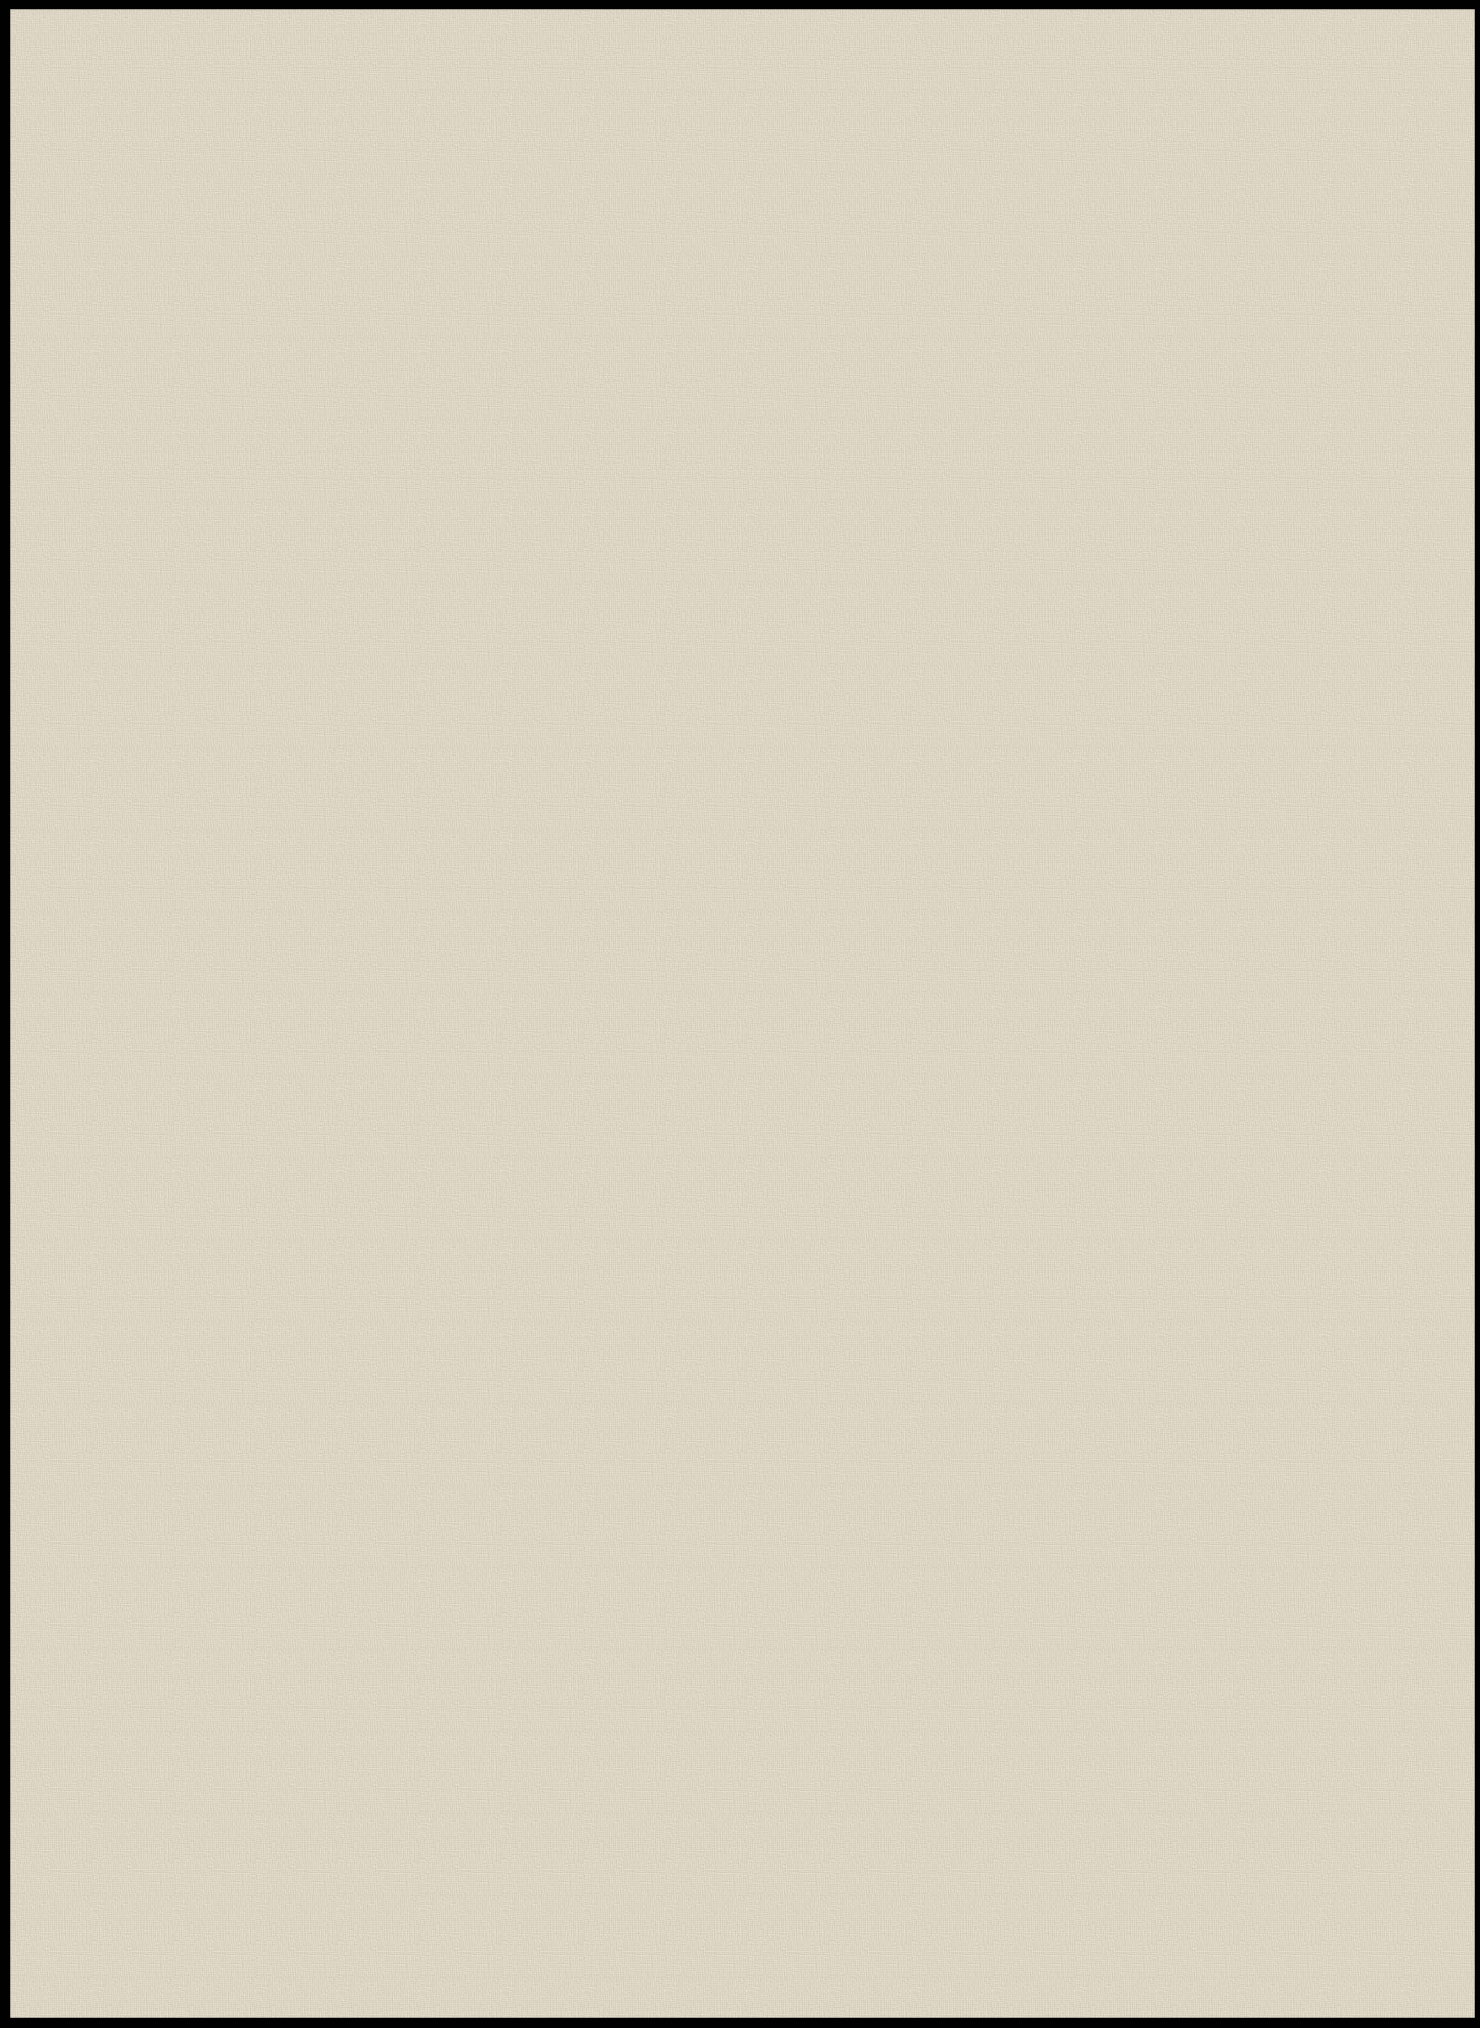

The sixth part of the document covers the closing process. It explains how the temporary accounts, such as revenue, expense, and dividend accounts, are closed to the permanent accounts, such as retained earnings. This process is necessary to reset the temporary accounts for the start of the next accounting period.

The seventh part of the document discusses the importance of internal controls. It outlines the various measures that can be taken to prevent and detect errors and fraud, such as segregation of duties, authorization, and independent checks.

The eighth part of the document covers the use of accounting software. It discusses the benefits of using computerized accounting systems, such as increased accuracy and efficiency, and provides an overview of the different types of software available.

The ninth part of the document discusses the role of the accountant. It outlines the various responsibilities of an accountant, such as recording transactions, preparing financial statements, and providing financial advice to management.

The tenth part of the document covers the importance of ethics in accounting. It discusses the various ethical dilemmas that accountants may face and provides guidance on how to handle them in a professional and ethical manner.

Track Takes First League Crown Ever

Cindermen show no defeat!
 This was shown in the 1975 season.

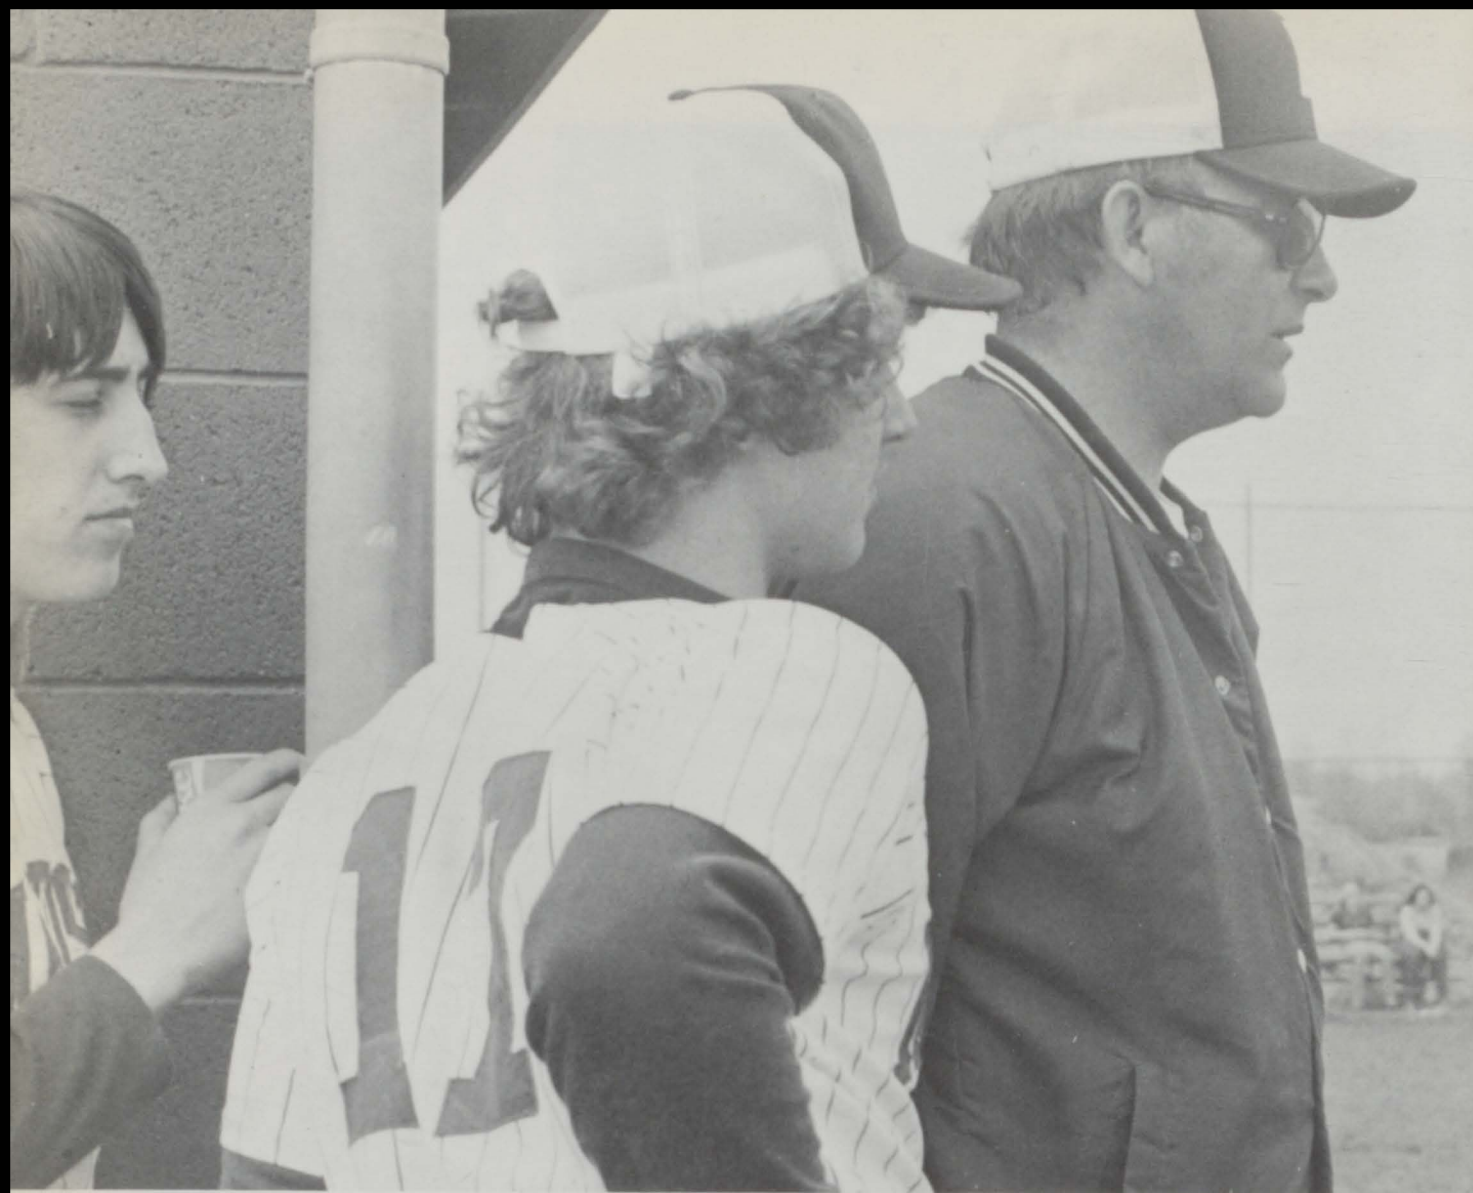

Our '75 track team finished its season with a record of eight wins and no losses, which coincided with our winning the league championship.

Coach Kovats credited the team's victories to the fact that there were so many outstanding players such as Ralph Rogers, Ken Bonnette, Dan Wyatt, Dave Potemra, Pat Berg, Randy Goist, Bill Rand, Steve Magda, Ken Stoneman, Tim Cornell, Dennis Gauntner and Paul Kershaw.

Brad Stanton had an extremely fine year, setting a record in the 440 at 51.9 and also going to districts. Brad, along with Ken Stoneman, Randy Coist, and Al Cate also set a record in the 880 relay of 1:34.5.

The majority of these outstanding players were underclassmen, so we can look forward to a great season in '76.

Baseball '75—A Very Good Season

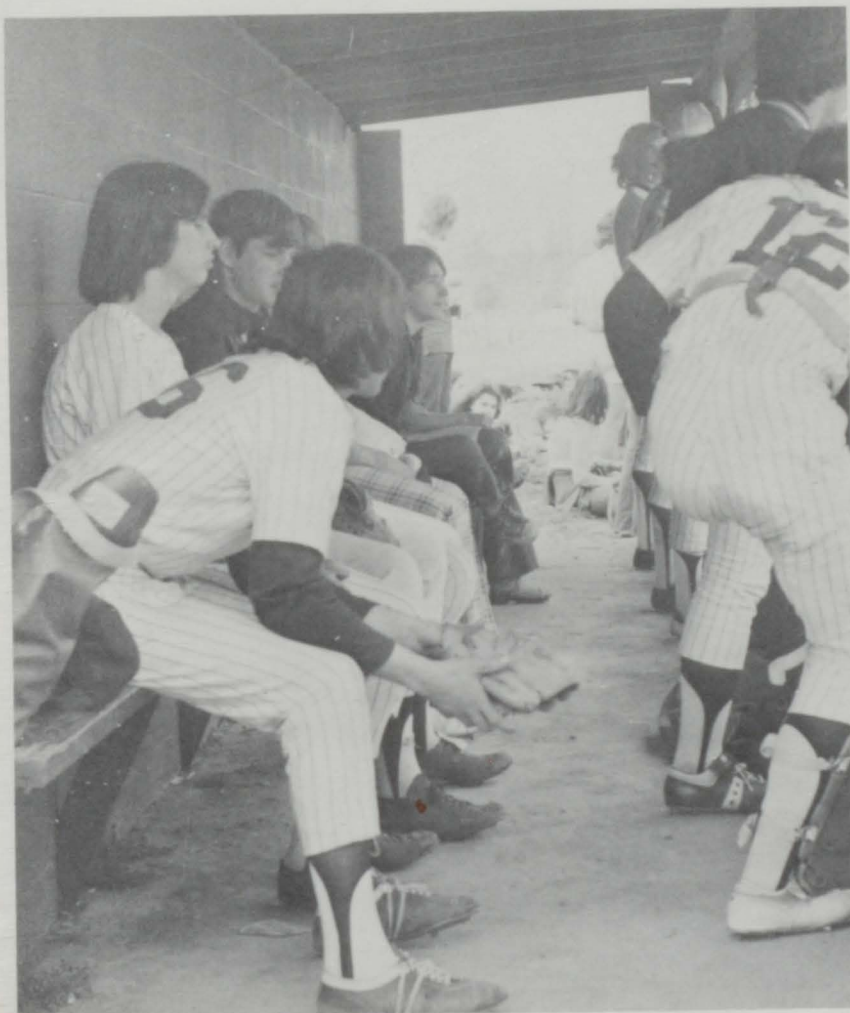

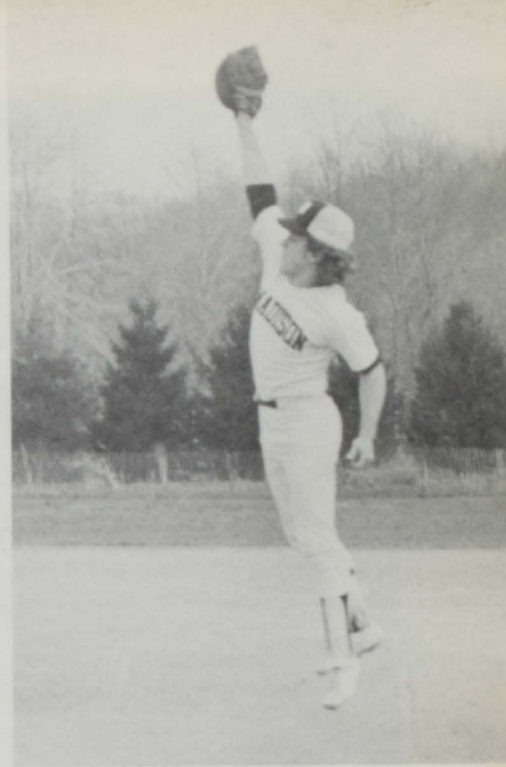

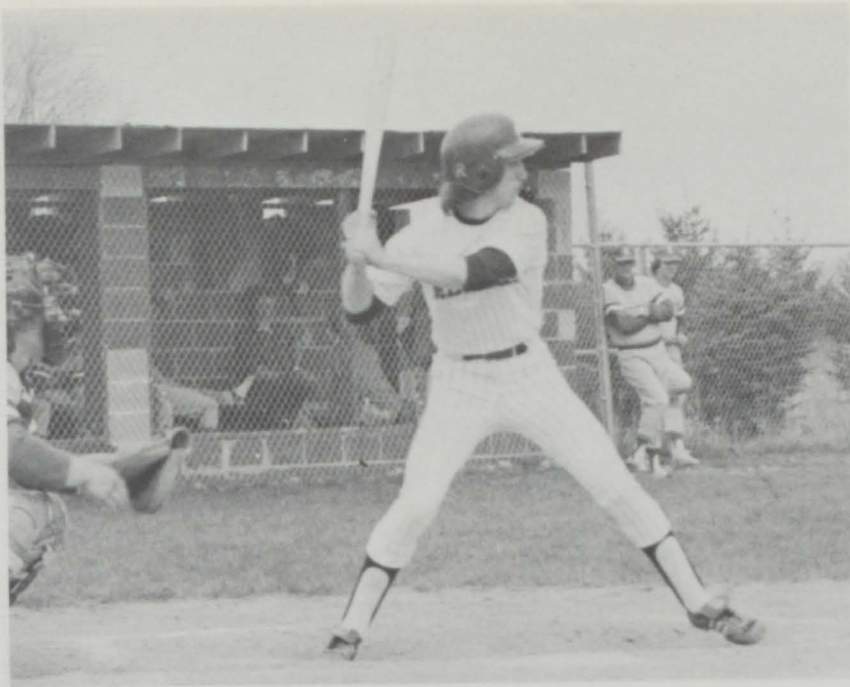

Between the good offensive potential and fine pitching the 1975 baseball team finished its season with fifteen wins and ten losses along with a second place in the N. E. C.

The outstanding players this last season seemed to be all seniors, such as Al Stier who led the Streaks in at bats, Steve Girton who was first on the team in hits, and Mike Godson who was first on the team with RBI's. Mike Lawrence led the Streaks in homers while Mike Kellison, Steve Kline and Andy Orris all held batting records of over .300.

These guys made up the nucleus of the team and provided for a winning year.

Tide Turns, Streaks Finish 5-5

This year's football team underwent a complete turnaround in the last half of the season, finishing 5-5 with many outstanding players.

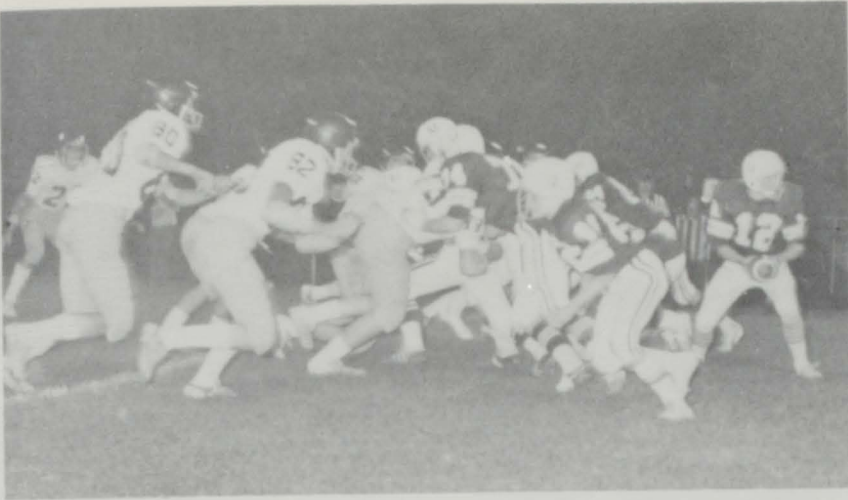

Dan Messerall was named the Trophy World Player of The Week for his performance against Conneaut and News-Herald Player of the Week when he ran for 218 yards against Perry. Brian McCully was named "Lineman of The Year" and Steve Magda's performances included a tremendous catch to set up the winning touchdown against Riverside. The team will lose several valuable players due to graduation, especially in the line.

Maybe the greatest honor for Bluestreak football '75 came when the all-NEC lineups were published. Brian McCully at end, Dan Messerall at halfback, and Steve Magda at defensive tackle were named to the first team; the second team included Dave Elliott at guard and linebackers Randy Nichols and Mike Agrippa.

We wish those boys leaving the team the best of luck in the future, and those coming back next year a very good season.

Cross-Country Second In N.E.C.

Our cross-country team finished its season with an eleven wins and three losses season. Great! Not only was the season beautiful but we finished second in the N. E. C.

Four other tournaments we participated in were the Malone College, Ashland Classic, Mentor and Willoughby South Invitationals. We placed fifth in the first two, Malone and Ashland.

Mr. Sears picked his top eight runners as the outstanding players. They were Paul Kershaw, Dennis Gauntner, Jim Galvin, Bill Rand, Mike Jewett, Brad Stanton, Rich Kloes and Tom Galvin.

This year was an excellent season accredited to the excellent runners. Even though the team was often plagued by illness and injury the squad-pulled thru another winning season. The team will lose many fine senior runners but still have much to look forward to next year.

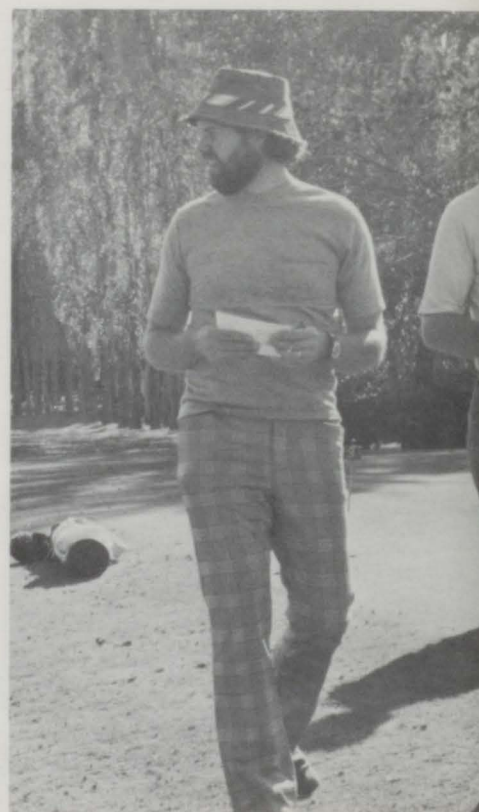

Golf Has .500 Season

The golf team had a good season this year, posting a 10-10-1 record but disappointingly ending up in seventh place in the league.

Coach Higley said that this year's season was one of the most enjoyable to work with and that the J. V. team was one of the best he had ever had. The J. V. team ended their season with a 13-5 record. Mr. Higley also commented that the up-coming teams would have much talent to look forward to.

Grapplers Take NEC—The Fourth Time

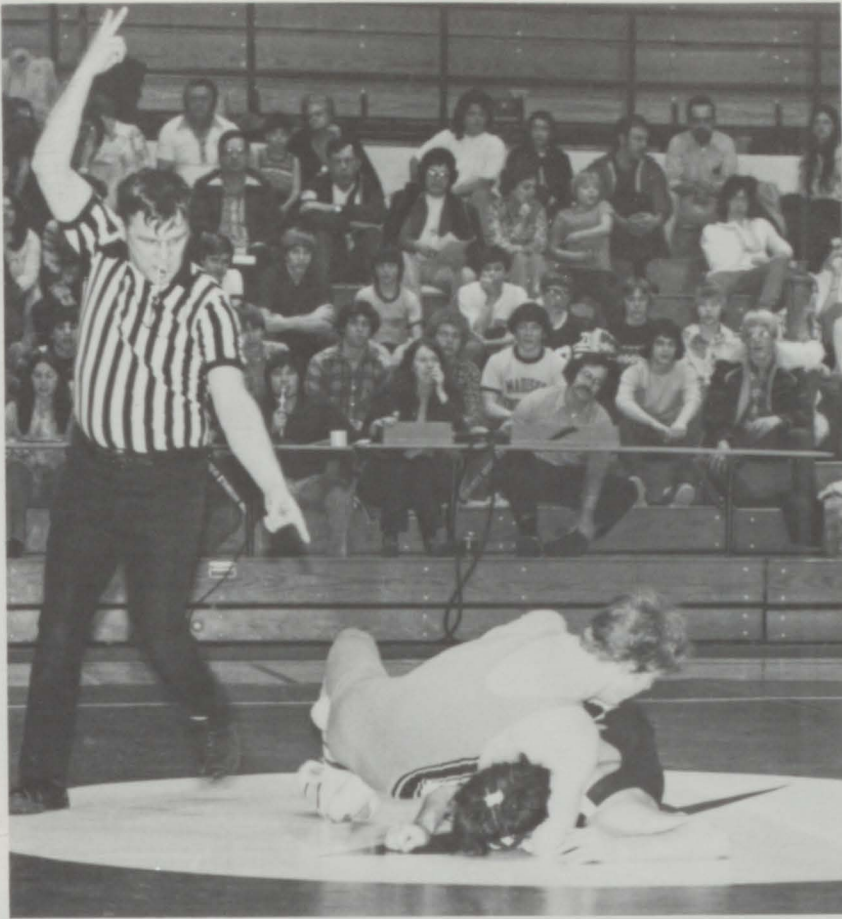

This year's Bluestreak, wrestling team came back as strong as ever, finishing 11-1 and wrapping up a fourth NEC championship. The Streaks wrestled one of their toughest schedules ever and at one time during the season were rated seventh in the greater Cleveland area by the Plain Dealer.

From the opening of the season in Chardon on December 6 to its finish here February 10 it seemed almost all the grapplers could do was win. They ate up the NEC like it was cake, and only had a little more trouble in the independent matches, knocking off A-AA State champion Kenston and AAA champs Eastlake North within a week of each other. The only loss was a squeaker at the hands of West Geauga (in a double dual with Newbury), 27-25.

Perhaps the proudest moment for the Streaks came on Valentine's Day when they had their fourth NEC championship clinched before the second session of wrestling was over. Madison finished first with 182 1/2 points.

Basketball '76—A Touch Of Class

After many years of suffering through losing seasons, the Madison High School basketball picture took a sudden reversal for the better, with a record of 14-4 and the co-championship of the N. E. C. The Streaks were undefeated on the home court and beat every team in the N. E. C. at least once.

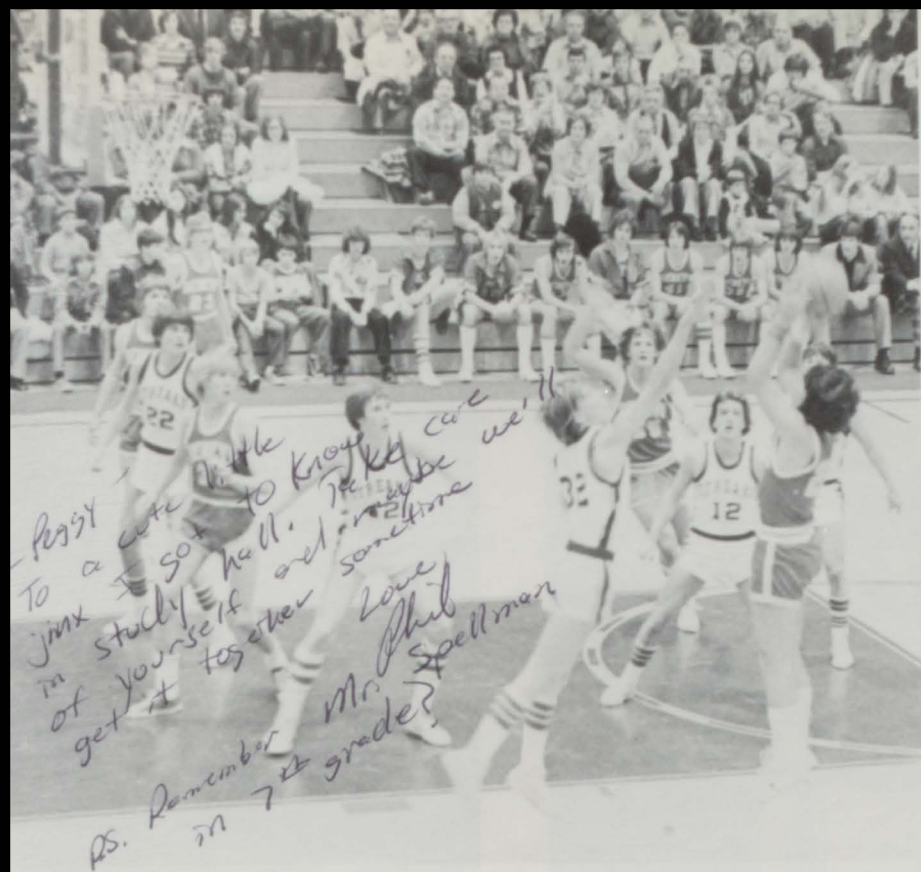

The Streaks, under the third year coach James Dolan gave the hometown fans many evenings of enjoyment and outstanding basketball skill. The team play, passing, shooting and most importantly defense, was as fine a display as seen in the Lake County area in many years.

The team began its season with returning lettermen Dan Cleavenger, Kris Fralley, and Phil Rozick, who also cutted as team captains throughout the year. Chris Cicenias moved smoothly into our center position and became not only a fine defensive ball player but led the league in field goal percentages. Chris was backed up this season at center by Kirk Peine, a very strong rebounder and a dedicated player. Jim Dolan became an excellent defensive ball player and provided the team with a play-maker so that each player could perform his specialty. Rick Evans took over the big forward spot giving us the much-needed height, plus a good outside shooter. Keith Hall provided the team with the speed at the guard position necessary on our press unit. Ralph Rogers, one of our great all-around athletes, played our small forward spot giving us good depth. Rick Keyse played both the guard and forward spot and was one of our best team ball players. The teams fantastic stomping of Geneva 66-47 was probably the best played game of the season. The inspirational win over City 67-56 giving us our N. E. C. basketball championship was another high point.

Track Girls Participate In State Meet

The 1975 girl's track team finished it's season with a record of four wins and three losses in dual meets. This year marked the beginning of an annual girl's state track meet. Our Sprint Medley team consisting of Lori Winton, Sue McGinnis, Nancy McDonald and Peggy Ruck qualified at the Districts to attend the new State competition.

In the Sectionals Nancy McDonald took a first in the 440 while Debbie Zirkle and Rita Storer placed second and fifth in the mile.

Our team faced tough competition thru out the season and should be commended for their fine showing.

Softball Team Takes NEC Championship

Champions! With a first place in the N. E. C. and a ten wins--two losses record, one might say the '75 softball team proved themselves to be just that.

Coach Phillips commented that after losing to Riverside, the girls defeated them in the last game of the season, insuring them of a first place. A loss would have created a three-way tie.

With such girls as Gayle Haase, who had a batting average of .560, Linda Rann, who was the best catcher in the N. E. C., and Judy Hvizda for a pitcher, how could we do anything but win?

BELOW: Jackie Leitch gets a hit.

Basketball Top-Seeded In Sectionals

An excellent team offense and defense brought a victorious season to the girl's varsity and J. V. basketball team. All the team members scored well and played exceptionally fine defense. Starting for the varsity were Jane Stanton, Gayle Haase, Lori Winton, Meg Anderson and Linda Anderson.

The team finished the season seeded first in the AAA sectionals with a 12-0 record.

Volleyball Finishes District Runner-Up

This year the volleyball team took the N. E. C. league championship. They also went into sectionals and won that. Then going on to the district competition where they placed second losing to Willoughby South two games to one.

The girls hope in the future to have restrictions on the referees. They want all schools to have official referees for at least all league matches.

A strong team will be upcoming next year as there are only three graduating seniors.

Cross Country Does Well This Year

Hey! Our girls 1975 cross country team really got it together this year.

We came in fourth in the Willoughby South Invitational and third in the Chagrin Falls and the Kent Roosevelt Invationals.

One of the best assets to the team was Debbie Zirkle who scored in our first position in every meet. Now that seems to be a top notch average for anyone.

With three varsity sports coinciding along with each other the talent is pretty much divided. Even though, the team proved to be exceptionally strong.

There aren't too many teams to compete with in this area so the team travels afar to compete with schools much larger than ours.

This year's hockey team proved itself to be one of the best. Although the final record was three wins and four losses the games were all extremely close.

The NEC does not play field hockey so our team must travel to the west to find competition.

Two people were chosen as the outstanding players of the season. They were Karen Schroeder on defense and Jean Turek on offense. Both gave "Schroeder's Raiders" a boost in the victories.

Stats Keep Sports Programs Rolling

Stand up and be counted! Many of the most indispensable people involved in sports are hardly recognized. These people are the girls serving as statisticians.

Many girls go out with the boys braving the cold weather to record the times and such information to keep coaches up to date on all the places taken and times coming in, while others keep track of shot charts, rebounds, turnovers, take-downs and reversals. Whatever the sport is, the girls always show their efficiency and value to the team.

Cheerleaders Build School Spirit

Introducing this year's cheerleaders is Mrs. Doroko, new cheerleading advisor of all the squads. The varsity football cheerleaders were Captain Sue Gielink, Denise Mattox, Beth Horton, Kathy Aikins and Kathie Dense. The varsity basketball cheerleaders were Captain Doreen Gallo, Sandy Wirfel, Joyce Klebe, Nancy McDonald and Angela Watts. The J. V. cheerleaders were Captain Sharon Sayers, Lynn Wirfel, Susie Bonham, Cheryl Dean and Sue Zimmerle. The freshmen also had a squad of five girls. Their captain was Cathy Cech. Julie Girton, Dee Dee Spring, Carol Hayden and Lori Thompson composed the squad.

Curriculum

Administration Keeps Things Rolling

The administration in the Madison School System is ably headed by superintendent Martin. Mr. Folmer is principal at Madison High. He sees that things at MHS run smoothly. Assistant principals this year are Lloyd Fox and Jean Westfall. Miss Westfall is new on the job but she has had much experience in counseling and teaching.

Mr. Stoll, Mr. Winton and Mrs. Billman are our guidance counselors. They listen to students' problems and work with the scheduling.

Secretaries Mrs. Roth, Mrs. Jopko, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Gibbons keep records and do a hundred other little things to make life easier.

This year three new deans were appointed to control discipline. They are Mr. Sater, Mrs. Delong and Mr. Kovats.

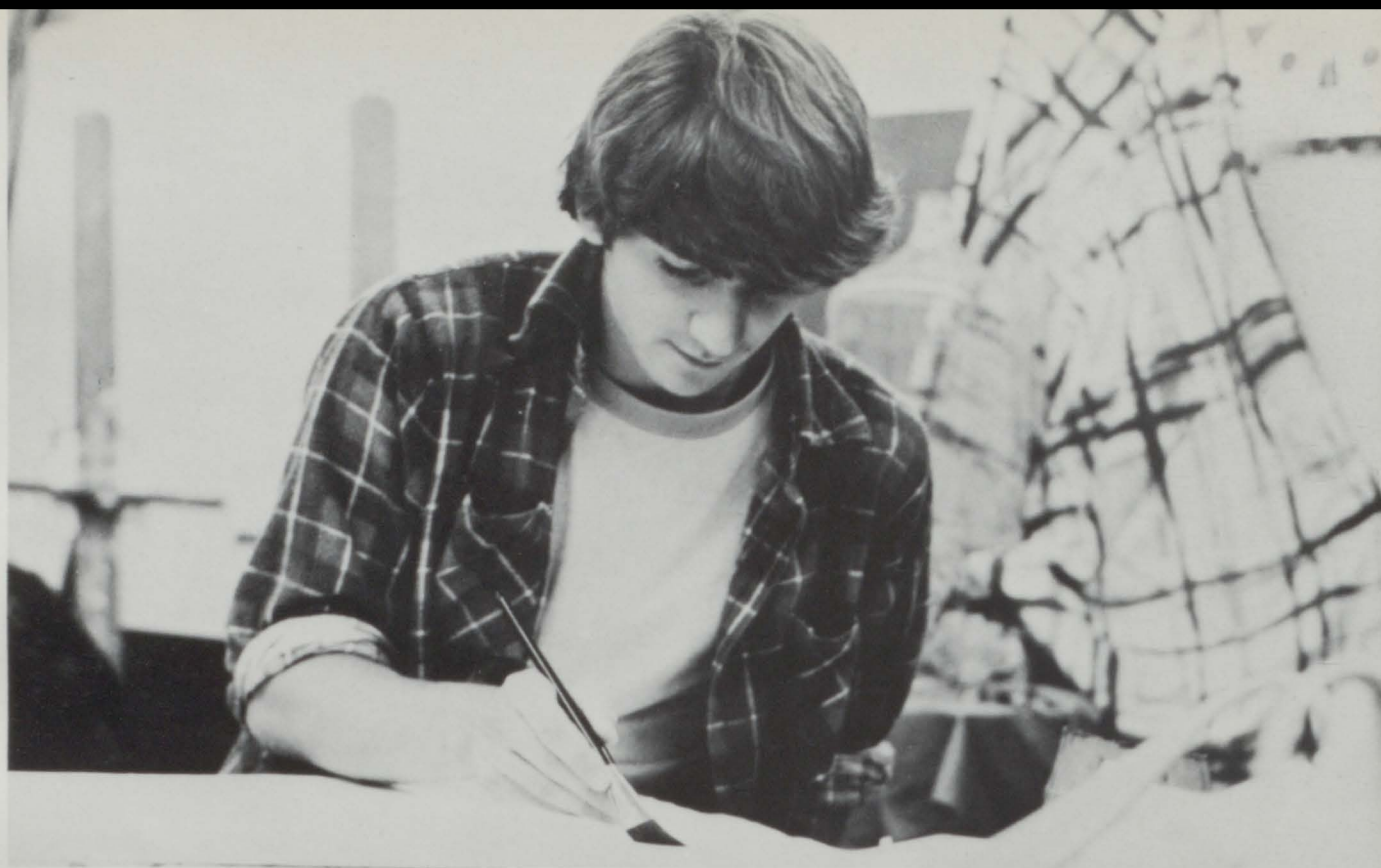

Madison High administration works at keeping wheels turning smoothly and helps to make Madison High one of the best schools around.

Getting A Little Better Each Time

Our Art Department has a new set-up this year. Art I has been divided into a semester course due to the heavy enrollment. Art II, III, and IV are still handled in the same manner and "Exploratory Art" is aiding in giving more students an opportunity to find their artistic talents.

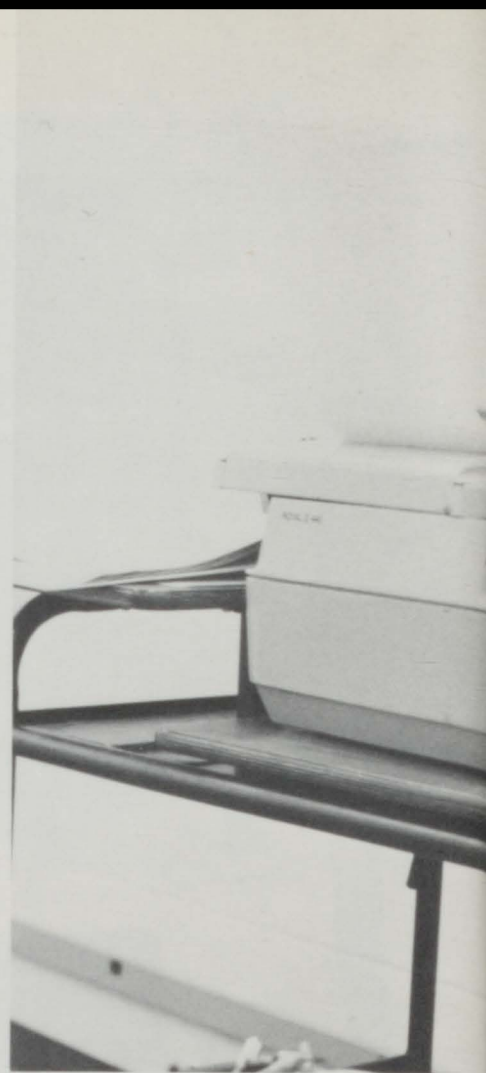

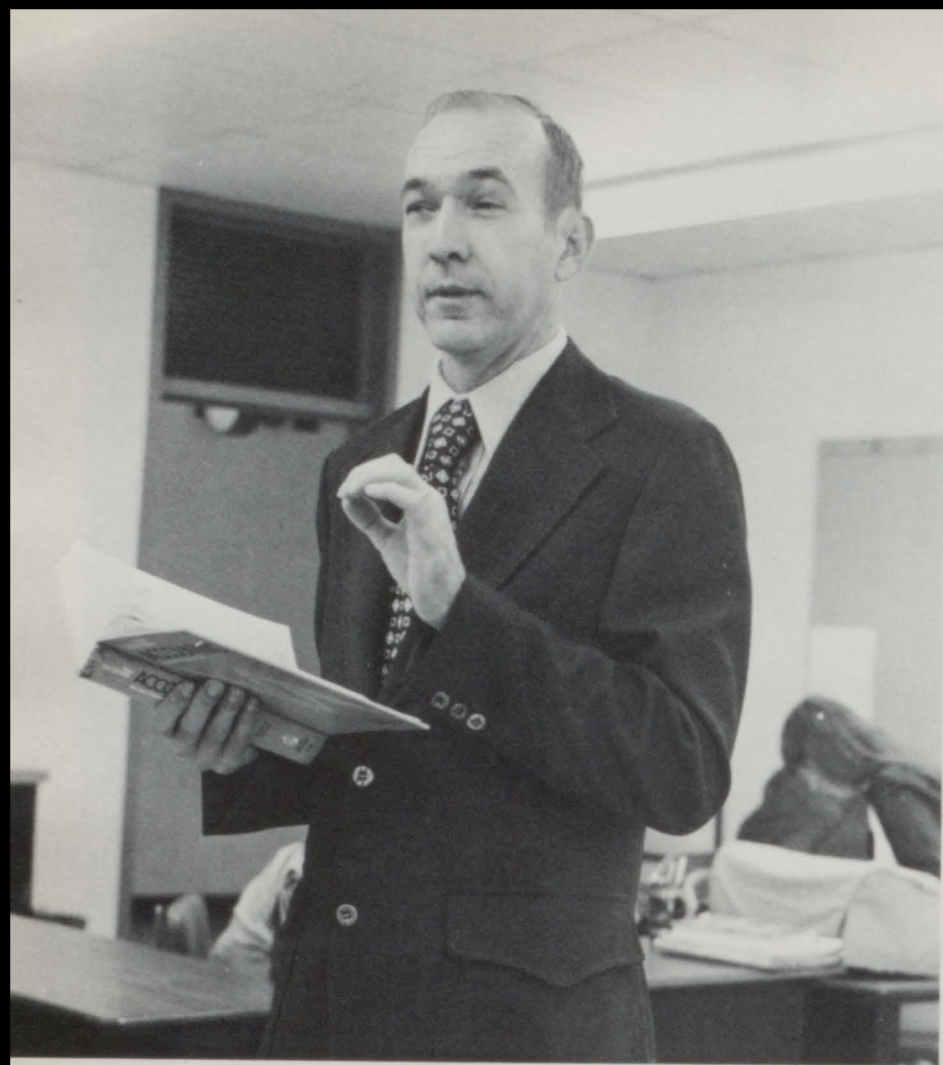

New also in our Art Department is Mr. Ashton, who's been doing a good job in getting his students to allow their imaginations to run wild.

During the year, students may enter the Scholastic Art Awards Show, where their work is judged and awards or honors are given.

Learning All About The Working World

The business department at Madison High strives to prepare students for fulfilling careers without the necessities of college.

General Business is a beginning course in the business curriculum. Here students learn the things that all people need to know about business.

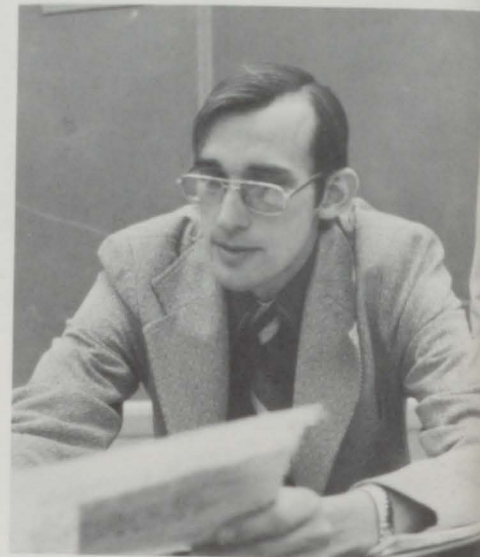

Business skills can be acquired in Typing classes, Shorthand classes, in an Office Practice Course or through Accounting Courses.

IOE, Intensive Office Education, is a two-year course for juniors and seniors to prepare them thoroughly for beginning office jobs.

The Culture Of Other People, Places

Here at Madison High School we have three languages, Spanish, French and German.

The classes are split into two semesters. The first is to learn the basic speaking and conversation. The second is to learn the art of writing. The first year of any of these languages is just to learn basics but the next two years get more involved and connected with the countries' customs, traits, etc.

Although languages are not required, many students enjoy taking them.

English Programs Set Minds Free

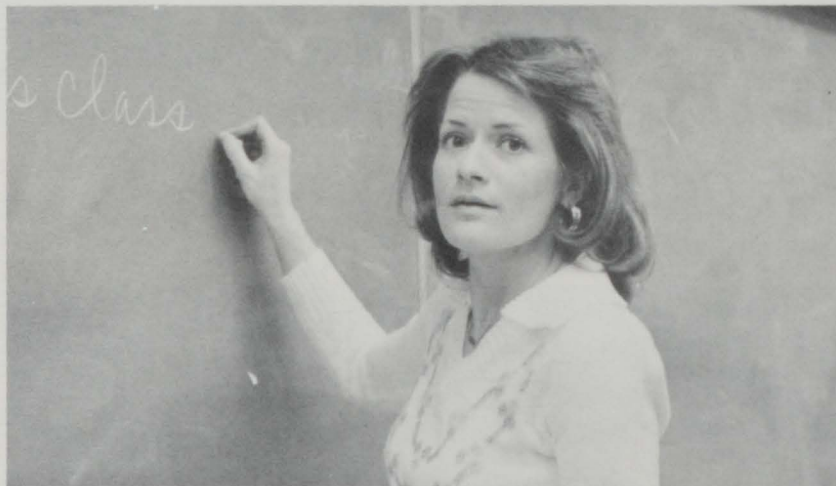

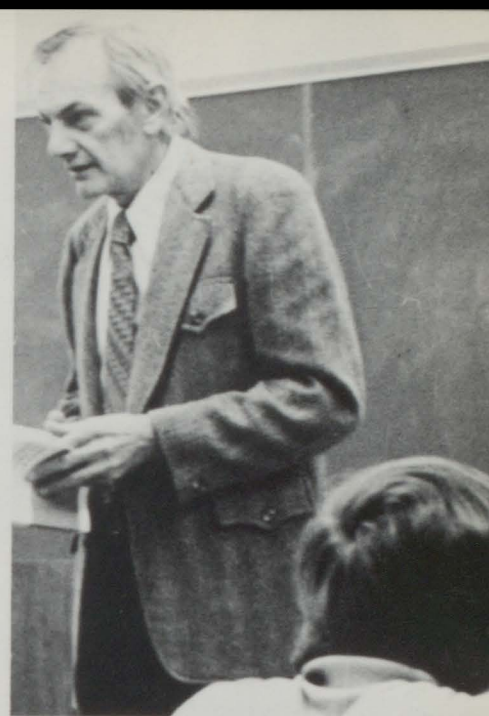

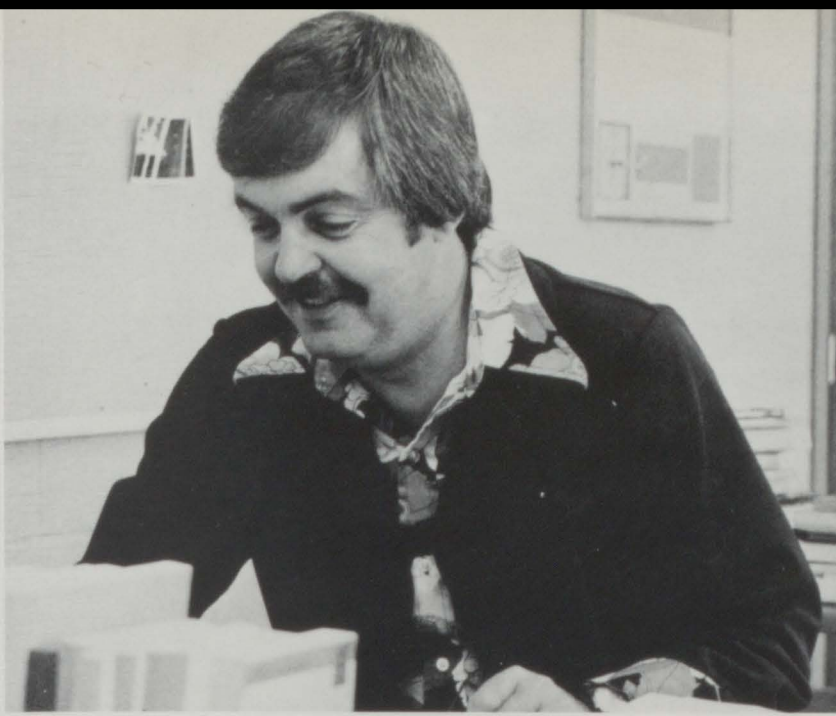

English is the most familiar of all the language departments. Here we have a four year English program which consists of literature, grammar, vocabulary and composition.

Freshmen get their first taste of high school English with speeches and grammar. Sophomores continue on with an introduction to short stories and poetry. American Literature awaits all Juniors as they study some of the books and stories of America's finest authors. During the Senior year students have a choice of many one-semester courses.

Humanities I and II are designed to teach the basic ideas of civilization. Composition and Speech go deep into the rules of writing and speaking. English for Living and Mass Media deal with the English of our society today. Modern Novel helps develop reading and comprehension skills while Mass Media TV gives the student an idea of whether the world of communication could possibly be a career for him.

Although four years of English is required by our system it proves to be enjoyable as well as educational course for many.

Home Ec Has Something For Everybody

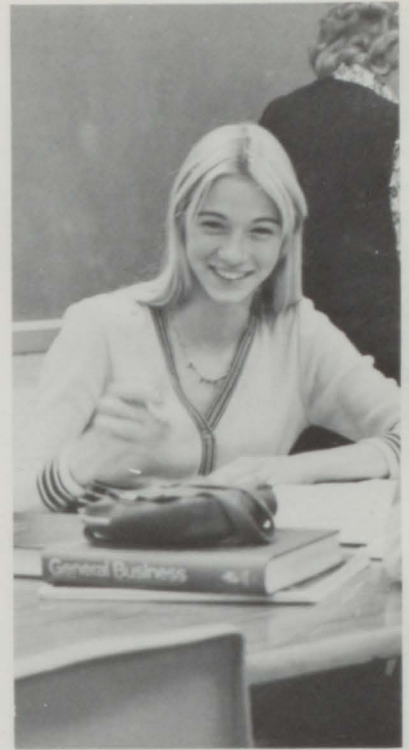

Students at Madison High School have a choice of two basic home economics classes, foods and sewing.

In foods, the student learns the basics of cooking and have a chance to cook new recipes. They also learn the ideas behind balanced meals.

In sewing classes, girls learn to create their own clothing, starting first with simple things, then on to the more complex.

In Home Ec. classes, guys as well as girls get the feeling of what it will be like when the time comes for them to run their own homes.

Senior Choir Sings, Sells Oranges

This year Madison's Senior Choir put out an effort to get down on your case and that's just what they did. This was the first year the choir got into the money making project of selling grapefruit and oranges. As most of the community could tell, the sale was a great success.

The choir had the honor of hosting the Lake County Coral and Band Festival held on February 25. Schools from Perry, Riverside and Madison performed for the public.

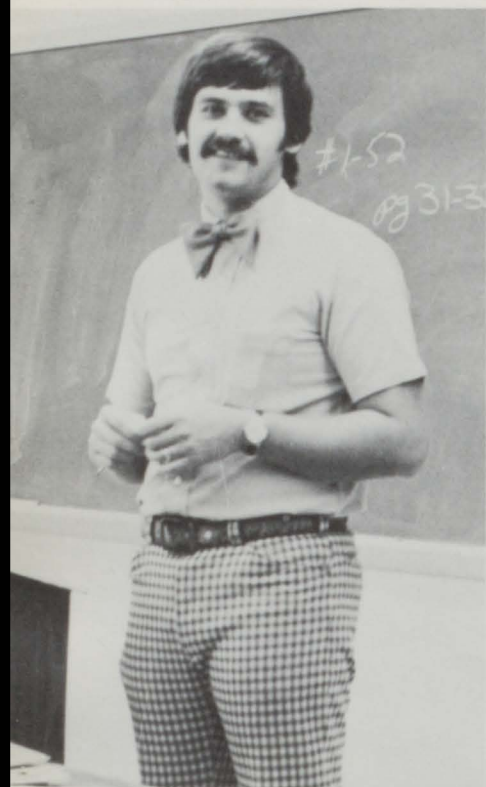

The Choir finished the year with the spring concert, thereby fulfilling a very outstanding year.

Free Your Mind—Take Math

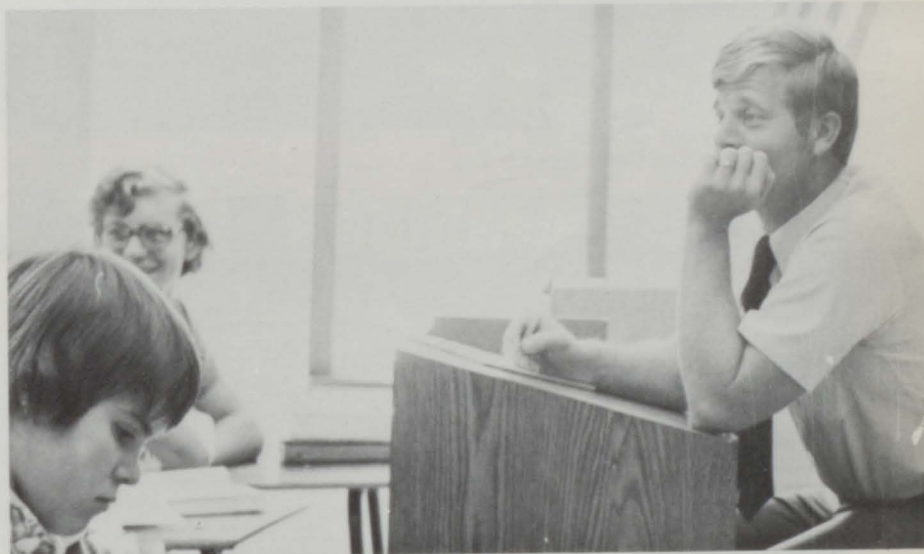

Mathematics is a subject taught in school that makes even the smartest students seem confused.

Freshmen have it easy with their choices of General Math, Tech Math I, or Algebra. Sophomores enrich their learning through Tech Math II or Plane Geometry. Juniors and seniors have many math courses to interest them. Algebra II and Probability and Statistics are most often junior choices. Analytical Trigonometry and Analytical Geometry are classes usually occupied by seniors and Concept of Limits is a math course designed for advanced students.

All freshmen and sophomore classes are the whole year long. There are four one-semester classes for juniors and seniors. The four classes are Probability and Statistics, Analytical Trigonometry and Geometry, and Concept of Limits.

The math department does a good job in inspiring many students to further their education in the field of math. Many future careers involve the use of math and here at Madison High we have the opportunity to become prepared to the fullest.

Activities were planned, including an awards banquet in which everyone's hard work during the seasons was recognized.

Band Plays For Browns This Year

The Marching Bluestreaks had one of their best seasons ever this year, performing for the public eighteen times between July and December. This is about the most performances in any one year a Bluestreak band has put on, but the band came through with flying colors.

Practices started in June as soon as school was out for the summer. Getting the forty-odd first year people to play and march at the same time was an arduous task, especially since only 22 seniors were left this year.

Band camp, held at Cedar Lakes Camp in Ripley, West Virginia, was long, hot and difficult. The band had lots of good help, however, from Mr. Ben Soriano of Youngstown State University, Gary Duerlein, Bill Fahnestock, and Chuck Teleha, former band members, other teachers, chaperones, and Mrs. Springsteen, the nurse.

The band was renowned throughout the area for its precision and flash. They performed from Strongsville to Conneaut and everywhere in between to great acclaim from all the crowds who saw them. Perhaps the best ending to a fabulous season was when the band entertained the crowd at the Cleveland Browns-Kansas City Chiefs game on December 14. Madison is one of the smallest schools ever to put a band on the field at the Municipal Stadium, and we hope it will be just the first of many such engagements.

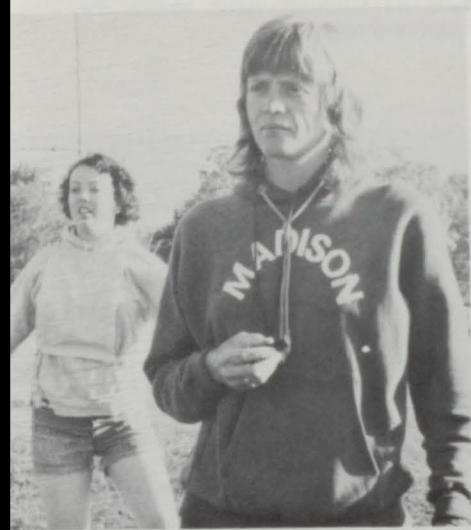

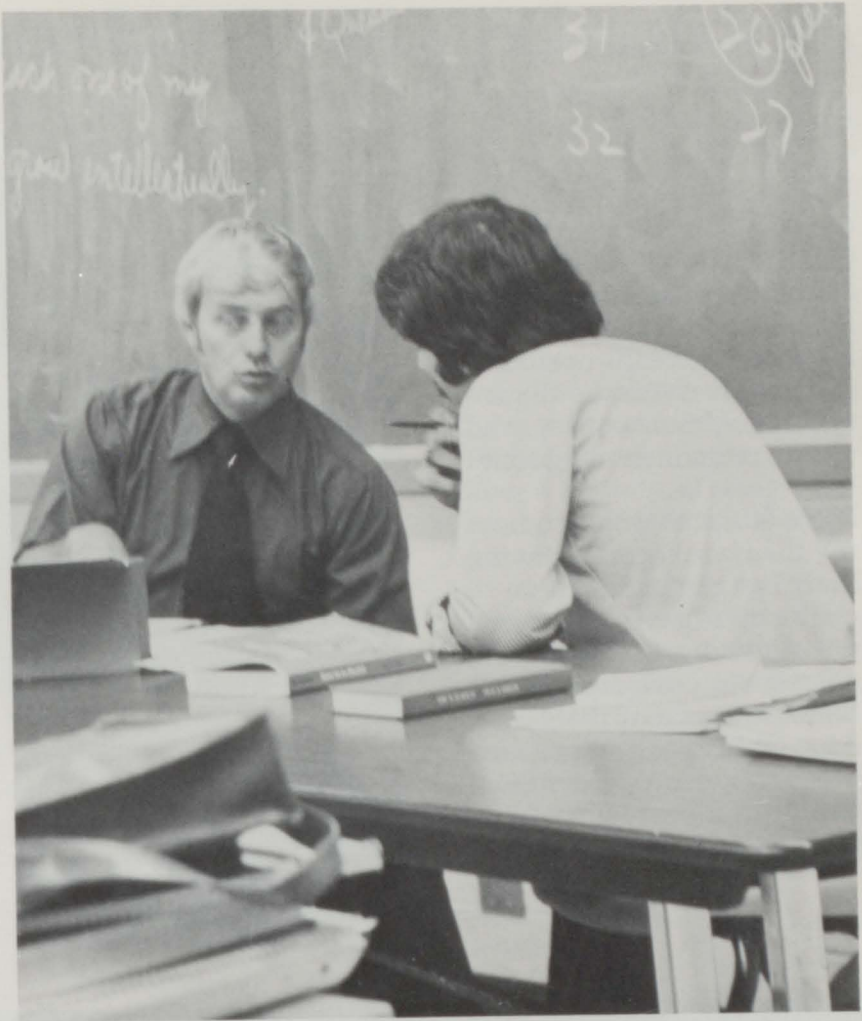

HPE Benefits Everybody All Around

Health classes this year will continue to present material in terms of behavior and consequences of that behavior. It is hoped that students will develop mature social habits.

Physical education is required all four years of high school. Freshmen and juniors take gym the first semester, while sophomores and seniors have gym the next semester.

When it comes to needing exercise, there is no discrimination. Both guys and girls need to keep in shape.

 TOP CENTER: Mrs. Pavesich teaches health to freshmen.
 LEFT: Mr. Greenwald observes his array of archers.

Concert band is made of freshmen and other students who are not in the marching band. Each day they meet seventh period to play music under the direction of Mr. Acerra, who also directs marching band.

Some students who are better than average at playing their instruments will go to contest this year as groups of a few instruments or a soloists to compete against other students of their age. Also this year there are plans for the concert band to play in a contest for ratings against other bands.

BELOW: Concert Band strives for improvement.

Junior Choir Bursts Into Song

Junior Choir is under the direction of Mr. Ayers. It consists of talented freshmen interested in music. Every day second period the Junior Choir meets. They sing a variety of songs and learn what the joy of singing can mean.

Twice a year, at Christmas time and in the spring, the freshmen join the Senior Choir in bringing musical entertainment to the community.

Any Science You Want

There are many science courses available for a student to take. They are chosen to appeal to the student and are made as interesting as possible.

Freshman students learn the fundamentals of science in I.S.C.S. This class gives the students a chance to come in contact with all the different types of sciences. Sophomores learn about the facts of life with regards to plants and animals in Biology I and Biology B.S.C.S. Interested juniors discover structures and compositions of different materials in Chemistry. For seniors who enjoyed Chemistry, there is Physics to satisfy their needs. Another senior course is Biology II, which is in its second year. Student interest in Biology II has grown enough for another class period to be added this year.

Whether Biology or Physics, science provides interesting situations for any high school student.

Shop Students Learn Something Useful

Students taking shop have a choice of hot or cold metals, woodworking or a course for girls on repair work.

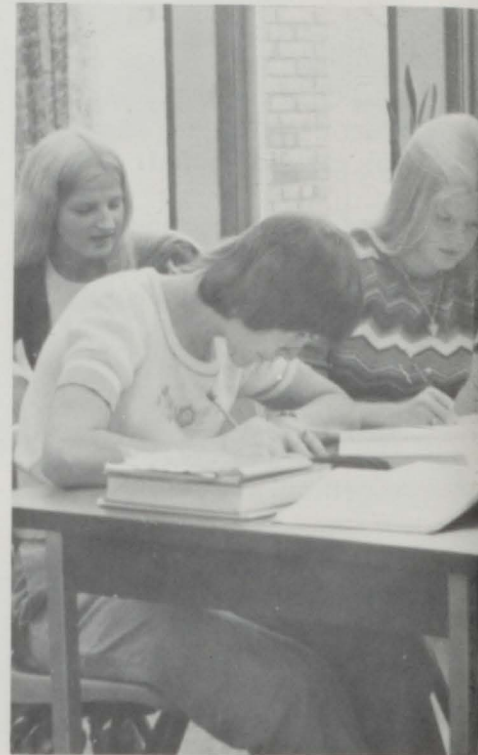

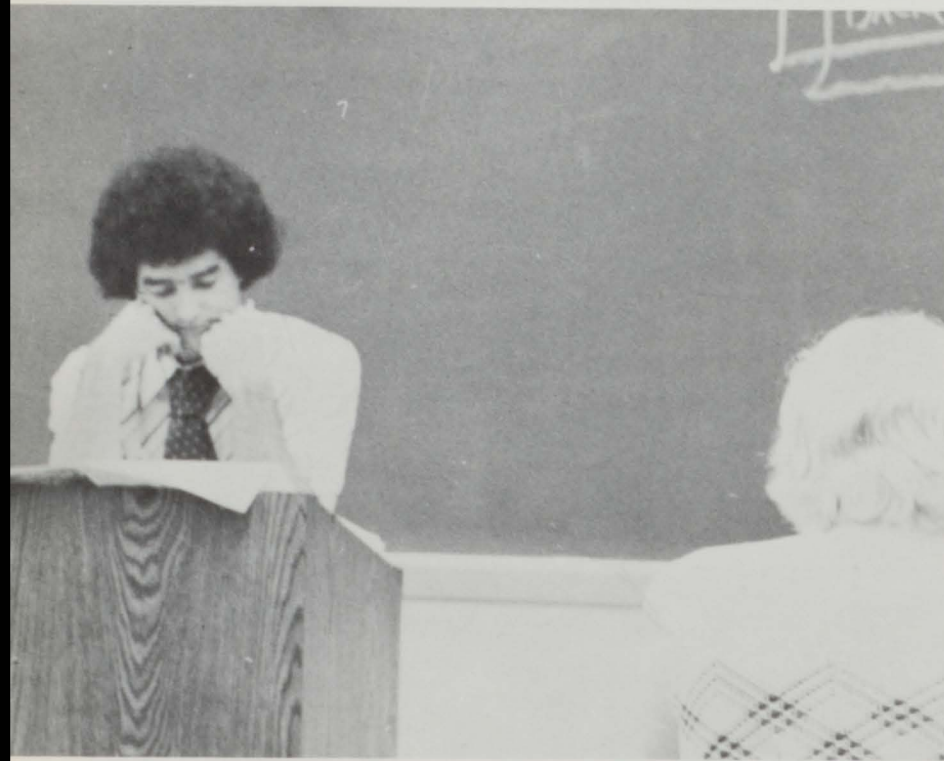

Students who choose wood shop learn woodworking techniques and the use of different types of woodworking machines. The students who choose metal shop will work on soldering, welding and riveting metal together.

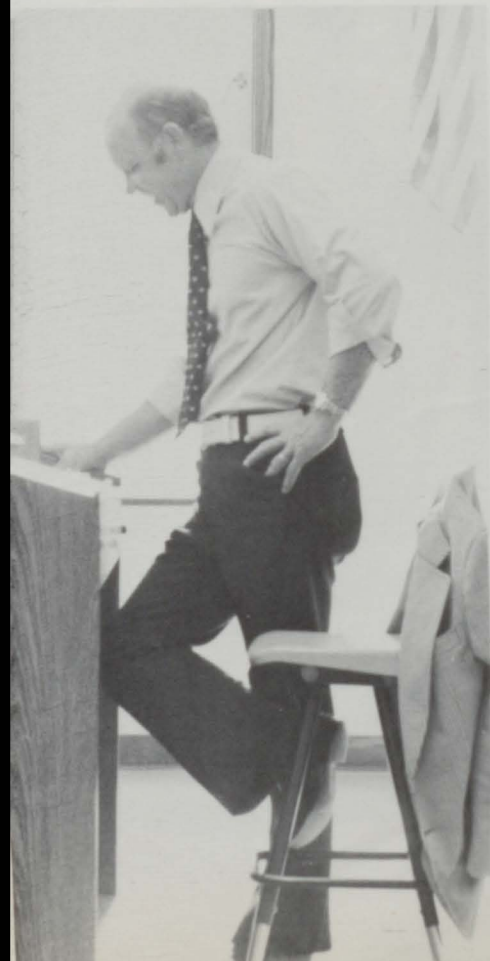

Drafting I and II allows students to be more on their own in doing urban renewal and simple commercial building design.

Social Studies Teach The Changing Times

 FAR LEFT: Mr. Iarocci deals with Problems of Today.
 TOP CENTER: Juniors use the li-

Great Variety Of Social Studies Taught

The Social Studies department here in Madison High is set up almost equal to that of last year.

Students have a variety of courses to choose from. Sophomores can choose to take a social studies course such as World History or Geography, both are electives. Requirements state that juniors must take American History although the student does get the chance to choose between three different types. Seniors are required to take two government classes. They may choose between four different classes so long as one of them is Foundations of Government. Two other classes offered to seniors is Psychology and Sociology. These classes deal with the human nature, which seems to be something good for seniors to know.

Auburn Career Center Expands This Year

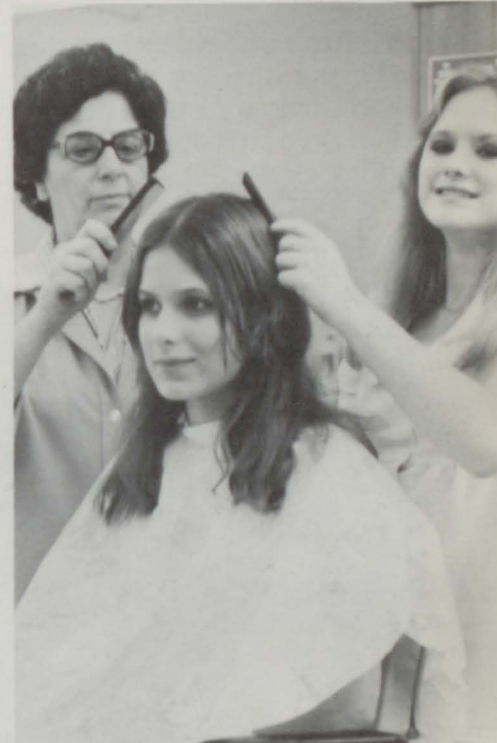

Vocational Education is one of the programs of study a student at Madison High can choose from.

This year there are five new courses and a new addition to the school. They are fabric creations, building maintenance, diversified health occupations, business communications, and high skill stenography.

The Auburn Career Center provides students with a chance to learn skills that will be useful to them outside of high school, in the business world.

TOP: Becky Hausrath and Cheryl Spencer work hard all the time.
LEFT: Rich Trumble lets us believe he has not really stuck that compass into his hand.

TOP: Janet Sanbom, Fred Stange, Debbie Burr, and Lori Moyers are ready to be unleashed on the restaurant world.

Library Helps Students Get It Together

When going to the library, you may be greeted with "Where is your pass?" Be prepared to show it.

Mr. Rakow is our librarian. Working with him is a dedicated group of library aides, who take off Mr. Rakow's shoulders such jobs as checking out books.

There are many new items in our library. This year we have microfiche. This system consists of magazines that have been reduced onto transparencies and a magnifier to read them. It's hard to know everything that is in the library, so anyone with any questions should feel free to ask the library aides or Mr. Rakow.

TOP: Mary Lynn McClintock and Jackie Kloes help keep things straightened out.

ABOVE: Jeff Heise and Joy Emerick have the job of checking out books. LEFT: Mr. Rakow, our school librarian, glances over some of the newest magazines.

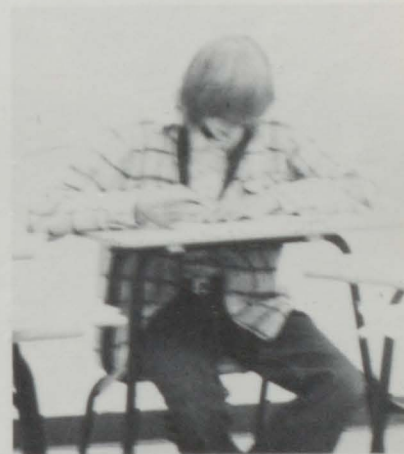

Work-Study Keeps Rolling Along

Now in its sixth year at Madison High School, the Work Study Program continues to meet the educational and vocational needs of the students.

The program is designed to ease the transition from school to the world of work by providing the students with four vocational programs beginning in their freshman year. The student is enrolled in one of four areas at Freedom Road Vocational School: Factory Production, Food Service, Building Maintenance, and Stabman Grooming.

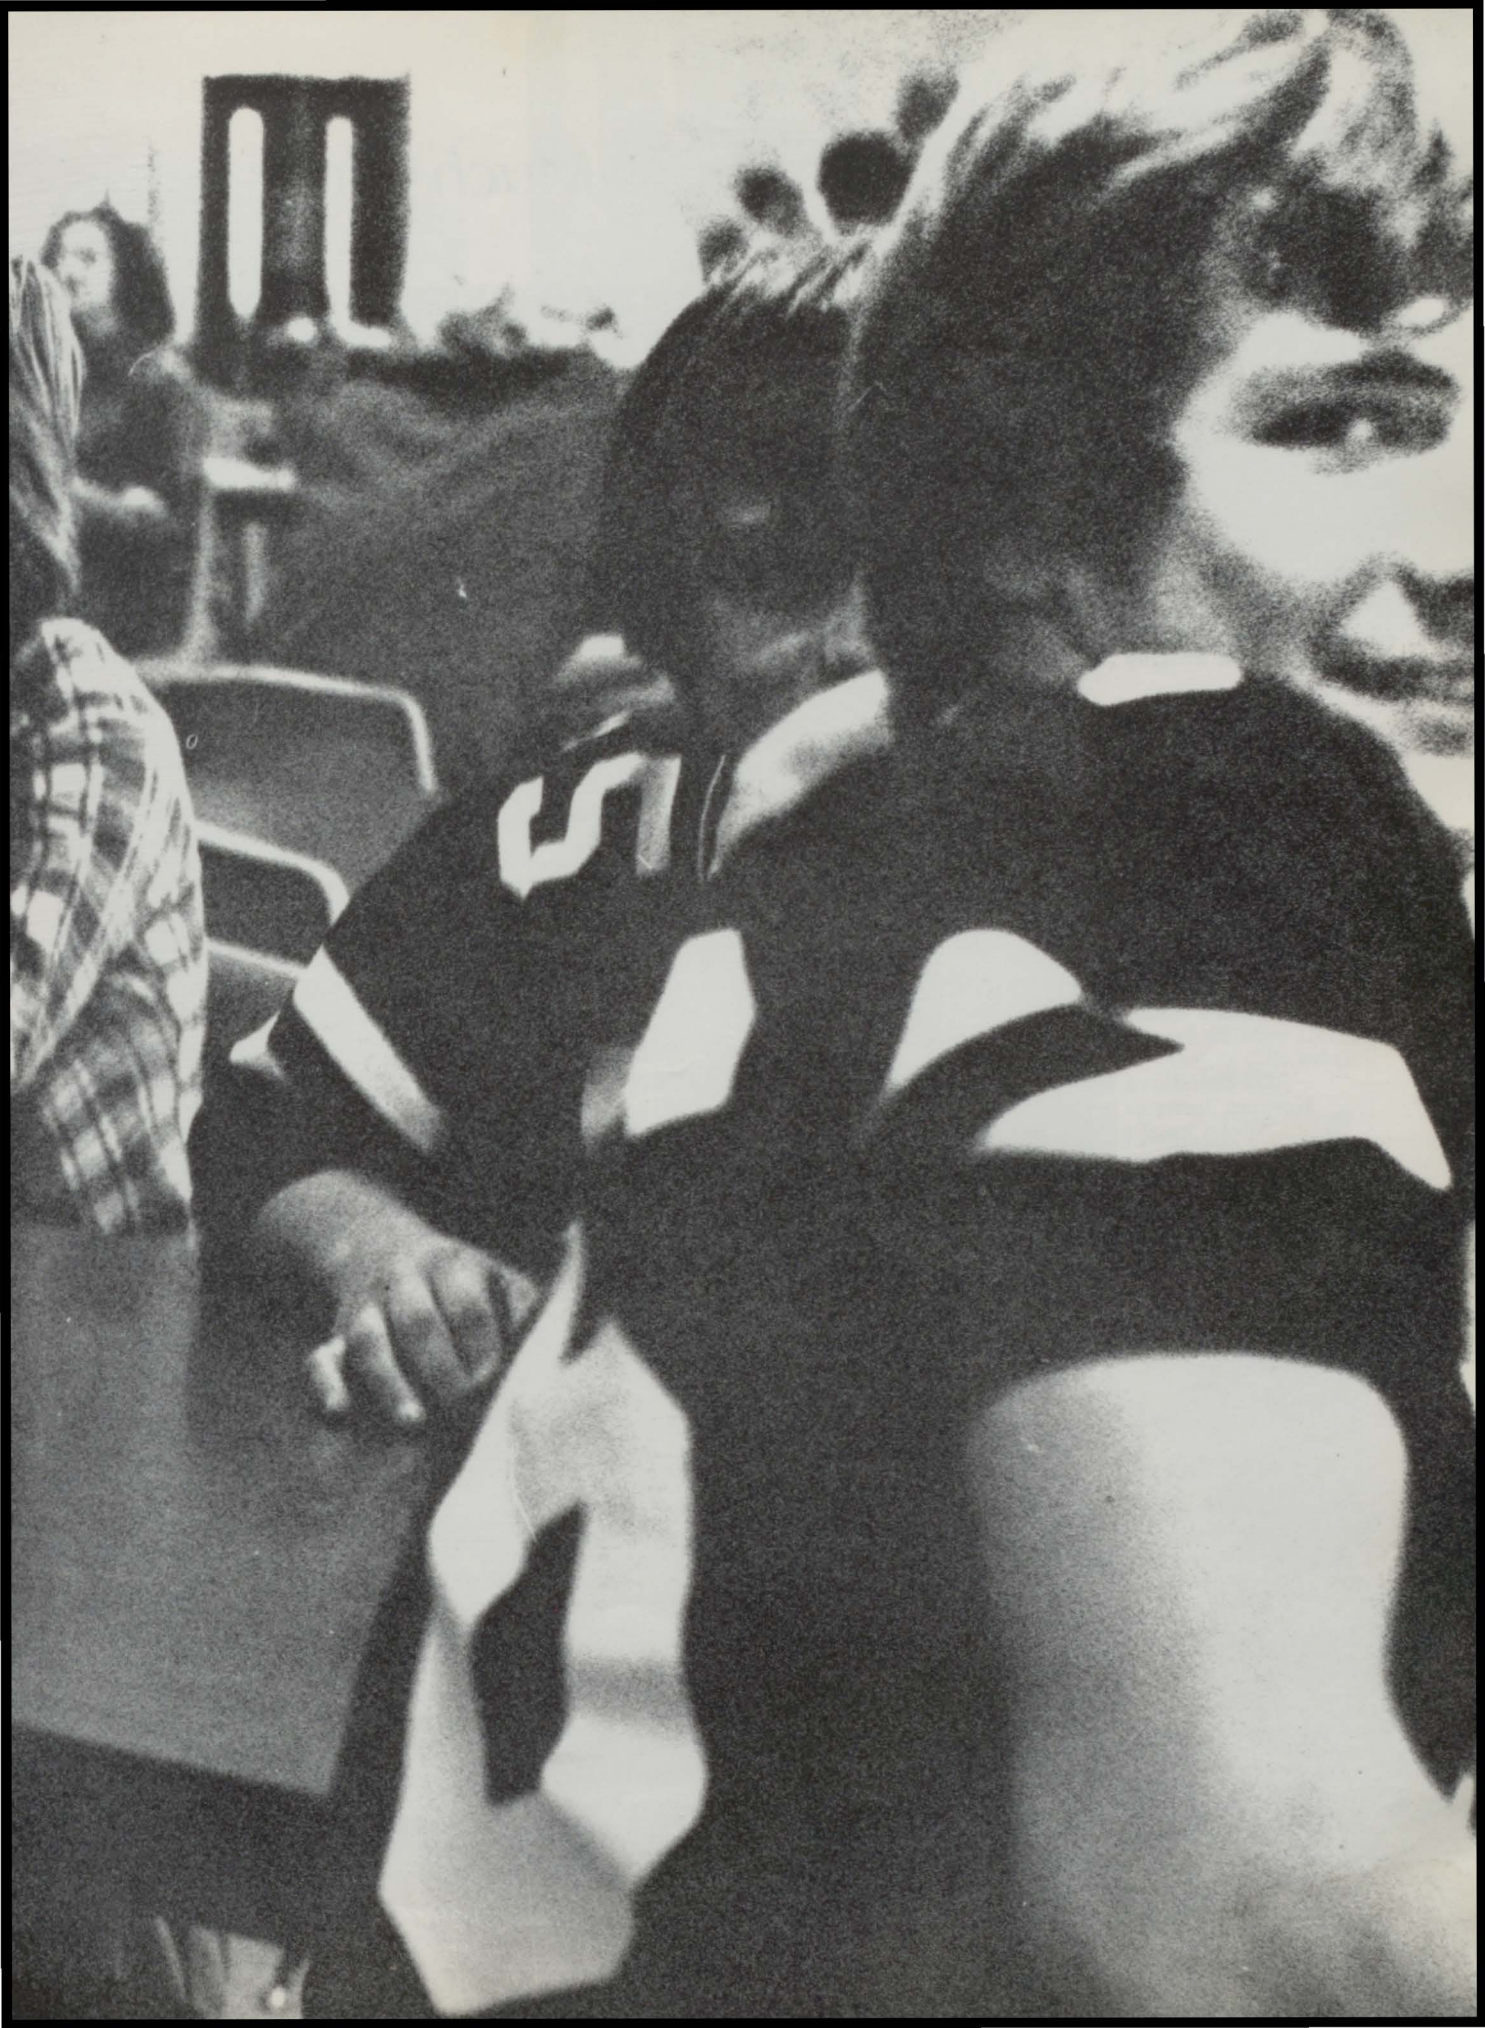

This program is designed to give students a greater opportunity for success.

TOP: Elbert Stivers and Randy Boone listen intently.

Prom: "The Great Gatsby"

Prom '75 was held this year at DeRubertis Party Center on May the tenth at 8:00, during which a buffet dinner was served. Entertainment this year was provided by "Dust".

The prom theme was "The Great Gatsby". The ballroom was decorated with silhouettes on the walls, while the center of the floor contained arrangements of geraniums and forsythia.

The main festivities were the crowning of king Tom Gordon and queen Doreen Close.

At 11:00 the prom was ended as the memories began. Thank-you, class of '76, for a beautiful prom.

Homecoming '75 Salutes Bicentennial

This year's Homecoming dance was held at the high school on October 18th. The dance started at 8:00 and continued until 11:00.

The decorations were red, white and blue to coincide with our bicentennial year. The music was provided by a band named "Lover's Lane".

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the '75 queen, Kiki Webb. The crowning was done by senior class president, Brian McCully, who presented the queen with a floral crown.

The queen's court consisted of Doreen Gallo escorted by John Everson, Beth Horton escorted by Tom Gordon, Kim White escorted by John Talbot and Denise Mattox escorted by Greg Fuller.

Following the crowning was a dance especially for the queen and her court.

Despite the poor weather conditions, a good time was had by all.

"Monkey's Paw" Heads Play Double Bill

The 1975 Fall Plays were "The Monkey's Paw" and "Frankenstein." Presented December 4, 5, and 6, "The Monkey's Paw" cast included John McIntosh as Mr. White, Tina Norton as Mrs. White, Casey Geary as their son, Herbert, Tom Simons as Sergeant-Major Morris, and Lori Reese as Mrs. Sampson.

The play developed around the infamous "paw," which brought death and disaster to anyone who wished on it.

Frankenstein Scares Audience To Death

The second half of the Fall Plays was "Frankenstein." The cast featured Mike Byers as Victor Frankenstein; Ginny Riel as Elizabeth; Kelly Garner as Frau Frankenstein, Alan Hammer as Ernst Hessler, Dan Foote as Henry Clerval, Kim Bryant as Sophie, Jackie Kloes as Justine, and Phil Johnson as the "creature."

Mr. and Mrs. Rakow were presented with flowers by the combined cast at intermission. This is Mr. Rakow's first year as a director of plays at MHS.

Pep Club Helps Spirit

We've got spirit! It was proven this year by many active students who joined the newly organized pep club.

Many students from freshman to seniors put in a lot of time and effort in putting up signs to cheer our teams on to victory and painting the calendar to keep students up to date on all the goings on here in school. Along with sign painting the pep club made available to students such items as spirit ribbons, pom poms and class pins.

Pep club welcomes all new members so, go out and show your spirit. Join pep club.

Feeding The Crowds

Five, four, three, two, one! It's halftime and the Blue-streaks are winning. Everyone is hungry but where do they go for food?

Service Club is made of sophomores, juniors and seniors. They are the people who sell candy and pop during basketball and wrestling season. Instead of watching the game, these dedicated students wait upon the hungry crowds.

Supervisors of the club help the students set up and keep watch over the going on. Three men have this job-- they are Mr. Piker, Mr. Winfield, and Mr. Quiggle.

Credit is due to those who make the comfort of others more important than the wants of themselves.

Council Makes Life Easier

The main goal of student council is to get the student body more involved in every area of governing themselves while in school. "I can't say we've been totally successful in that goal, but we gave it a try", said Pete Bonham, president of this year's Student Council.

Student Council provided the cafeteria with a juke box this year. They have also sponsored dances and supported the Super-Walk marathon which was very successful. Student Council helped out with freshman orientation. Also they were responsible for the Christmas wish. This year people could write letters to Santa, and then Student Council decided which were most thoughtful. In answer to one of the letters, Student Council donated $25.00 to the American Cancer Society.

Also honored at this ceremony was Mr. Robert Black, math teacher, who was made an honorary member of the society. Mr. Black will be retiring after this year.

Bluestreak Gets It Together This Year

After many trials and tribulations, the Bluestreak has finally come into its own.

This year's staff was headed by editor Sharon Sweeney along with assistant editors Amy Crawford and Amy Fahnstock. Those girls met with advisor Mrs. Billman second period.

We hope that the Bluestreak will continue to maintain this years high quality in the years to come.

Drama Club Gives Students A Change

After a very successful first year, Drama Club came back for an encore. They are advised by Ms. Smith and this year worked hard to improve their dramatic skills.

At one of the early meetings the club elected officers. Those elected were Mike Byers, president; John McIntosh, vice president and Carol Burke, secretary.

In the fall, Drama Club held a poster sale to raise money and in the spring planned a production to be presented to the elementary schools.

Cauldron Shows The Way We Were

TOP: Our Editor, Tina Norton.

Sue Stone strives to meet each deadline.

This year's yearbook staff was made up of many dedicated workers. Tina Norton was Editor-In-Chief. Tina earned this honor through hard work in past years. (Besides that, she could spell.) Overseeing the completion of this book was by no means an easy job. Laurie Link also had her hands full. Not only was Laurie in charge of taking pictures but she was in complete command of which pictures went in the book and where they were placed.

Copy Editor Sue Stone had the difficult task of making sure each article and caption were written, sized, and typed. Balancing the books was the main job of our business manager, Doreen Gallo.

There were many other people who poured out a lot of time and effort into this book. They were Terri Hoffman, Ginny Riel, Mary and Ed Giunca, Cathy Elersic, Julie Girtton, and Lori Kelly.

The staff meets every day sixth period to work on the book, although many a lunch period, study hall and holiday has been given up to getting pages finished and deadlines met.

Business Club Works For The Department

The business department is aided again this year by the Business Club. They began the year with a student vs. faculty volleyball game. The next project for the girls in business club was their annual candy sale.

The officers elected this year were Judy Hvizda, president; Kim Carrick, vice-president; Connie Byrnes, secretary; and Laura Wood, treasurer. Miss Spiesman is the business club advisor.

Key Club Benefits The Whole Community

what I want
say. a verbal
luck in the future and don't get into much trouble. come to my graduation party
13th of June Jill

Peggy
I'm really glad I meet you this year. Remember its been a blast. Remember that and all the fun we had. May the best of luck be with you in your future years.
Bunda.

Carly Simon once said
"These are the good old days;" the things you did here, the slow change from freshman to senior are what you'll think of tomorrow. More than anything, remember high school for the common, everyday things--the times you spent laughing, thinking, growing and just being yourself.

Peggy
I picked on you for four years and you've picked on me just as much. But you've always got a smile on your face. ~~the~~ Knowing people like you make me feel good.
You're just a great girl to be friends with. God Bless
Good Luck Buns

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial statements. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses, income, and transfers.

The second part of the document provides a detailed explanation of the accounting cycle. It outlines the ten steps involved in the process, from identifying the accounting entity to preparing financial statements. Each step is described in detail, with examples provided to illustrate the concepts.

The third part of the document discusses the various types of accounts used in accounting. It explains the difference between assets, liabilities, and equity accounts, and how they are classified. It also discusses the importance of understanding the normal balances for each type of account.

The fourth part of the document discusses the process of adjusting entries. It explains why adjustments are necessary and how they are recorded. It provides examples of common adjusting entries, such as depreciation, amortization, and accruals.

The fifth part of the document discusses the preparation of financial statements. It explains how the adjusted trial balance is used to prepare the income statement, balance sheet, and statement of owner's equity. It also discusses the importance of comparing the financial statements to the company's performance.

The sixth part of the document discusses the closing process. It explains how the temporary accounts are closed to the permanent accounts and how the closing entries are recorded. It provides examples of closing entries for each type of account.

The seventh part of the document discusses the importance of internal controls. It explains how internal controls help to prevent errors and fraud, and how they are designed to ensure the accuracy and reliability of the financial information.

The eighth part of the document discusses the role of the accountant. It explains the various responsibilities of an accountant, including recording transactions, preparing financial statements, and providing advice to management.

The ninth part of the document discusses the importance of ethics in accounting. It explains how accountants are expected to act in a fair and honest manner, and how they are held accountable for their actions.

The tenth part of the document discusses the future of accounting. It explains how technology is changing the way accountants work, and how they are adapting to these changes.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial data. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses and income. The text suggests that a consistent and thorough record-keeping system is essential for identifying trends and making informed decisions.

In the second section, the author addresses the challenges of budgeting and financial planning. It notes that many businesses struggle to stay within their budgets due to unforeseen expenses or changes in market conditions. The document provides several strategies to mitigate these risks, such as creating a contingency fund and regularly reviewing the budget to adjust for any deviations. It also highlights the importance of having a clear financial goal and a realistic timeline for achieving it.

The third part of the document focuses on the role of technology in modern business operations. It discusses how various software solutions can streamline processes, reduce errors, and improve overall efficiency. From accounting software to customer relationship management (CRM) systems, the text explores the benefits of digital tools and provides recommendations for selecting the right technology for a specific business. It also touches upon the importance of data security and privacy in the digital age.

Finally, the document concludes with a section on the importance of human resources. It stresses that a skilled and motivated workforce is the backbone of any successful business. The text offers advice on how to attract, train, and retain top talent, including the benefits of employee development programs and a positive work environment. It also mentions the need for effective communication and collaboration within the organization to achieve common goals.
