Our World Is Full Of Neverending Changes

For Better or for worse, every year leaves its mark on America. But this year it seems that worse has tipped the balance. Gunpowder politics rattled the Mid-East this year, as it has in the past, as another truck-bomb terrorist hit the U.S. Embassy in Kuwait. Also, the U.S.S. New Jersey opened fire with its 16-inch guns on Syrian positions in Lebanon. But a very special event among all the confusion was the removal of our Marines from Beirut.

Back at home, Americans continued to find new sources of entertainment. This year the big rage among children of all ages (and adults for that matter) was Michael Jackson and the Jacksons in the world reknown "Victory" tour. Also swept up by the crowds was Prince in his new movie "Purple Rain". Other movies that caught the public's eye were "Ghostbusters", "Gremlins", and of course the always popular "Rocky Horror Picture Show".

For every year there are always a few firsts, but this year seemed to be an extraordinary period for premieres. Such a first was the experience of Ride and Hutchinson, the first women to ride and walk in outer space. Back here on Earth, the domination of the Olympic games by American athletes was an uplifting feat that people across the U.S. will soon not forget. But not all events were as admirable. The tarnishing of the Miss America crown by Vanessa Williams was an episode that some would soon like to forget. We even had some political firsts: the first time in history that a black, Jesse Jackson, ran for the presidential seat, and the first time in which a woman ran for the vice-presidential seat. And of course, the ultimate premiere was the introduction of the new game that swept the nation, Trivial Pursuit.

With its firsts each year brings its losses. All too often, these losses are people that, even though we don't know them personally, we still hold a place in our heart. Such a loss was the death of Richard Burton and the coma state of Dorothy Fuldheim. Even though we can never bring them back, a part of them will always live on in each of us.

Hard Work Pays Off

Many Madison High students are involved in some sort of school activity. Sports are a major part of these activities after school. Even though sports activities take a great deal of training and hard work, many students still face the challenge and compete. Extra-curricular activities also require hard work and determination. There are long hours put into such activities as Student Council, Yearbook, Language Clubs, and Honor Society. Not only does participation in these activities help the individual, but they also contribute to Madison High School in a variety of ways. Student involvement in activities at Madison High School has enriched everyone's lives.

1. Traci Weema and Lori Robison prepare for the half time show.
2. Mike Wilson is off to a good start on the mile.
3. Julie Bavetz takes a break and comes up with some clever ideas for Yearbook.
4. Mr. Snyder gets a focus on life.

1. Rodger Bliss patiently waits to get back into the game.
2. Scott Whitehouse eyes the hole for his final putt.
3. Amy Otterman swings for a home run.
4. Tim Palinsky, Tim Wilson, and Mark Strothers take a rest in the dugout.
5. The marching band practices for their second show.
6. Lori Baker gives it all she's got in the home stretch.

Paying Our Own Way Is Tough!

Any student who has a job, whether in the summer and/or during school, can tell you how much work they actually do. Be it working in fast food places, bagging groceries, or working in a nursery, each student gives it his all to make his job a success and get some experience in the real world. Between school and work, students have very little time for any other activities. Such activities may include sports, dances or just going out. However, it's worth it for most.

These jobs permit students to save for college, future plans or just to have a little spending money. When it comes down to it, not having to ask parents for money makes it all the more worthwhile.

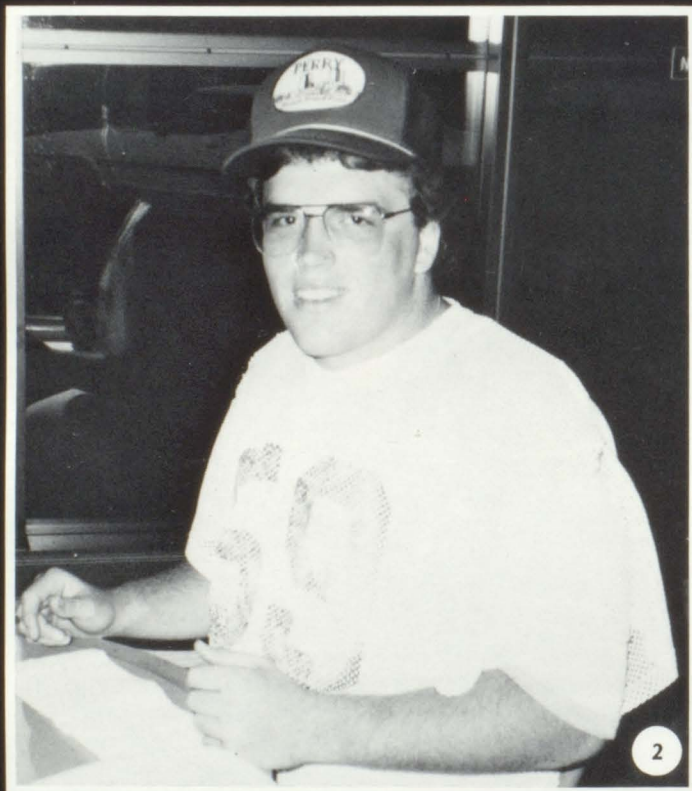

1. Kathy Pivonka and Bobbie Alexander prepare food for Burger King.
2. Chris Boles cleans the floor at Kroger's.
3. Kelly Skull sorts the children's clothes at Fisher's Big Wheel.
4. Shawn Taylor puts up a shelf at Fisher's Big Wheel.
5. Becky Garbark works the late shift at McDonald's.
6. Theresa Bohinc takes an order at McDonald's.

1. Gina Matthews writes up a receipt at Fisher's Big Wheel.
2. Karen Polewchak waits on a customer at Arby's.
3. Jim Bradbury sets up a K-Mart display of Michael Jackson dolls.
4. Julie Bavetz takes an order at Burger King.

Thank God It's Friday!

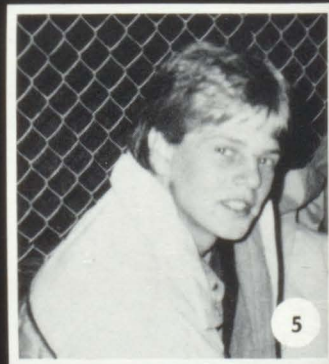

Mondays drudge slowly by, Wednesday is over-the-hump, and then finally it's Friday. When the final bell rings and the students empty out into the halls, school is the last thing on their minds. It's time to get ready for the weekend! Some students enjoy watching the Blue Streaks lead the school to victory, either at a football or basketball game. Many students enjoy participating in these events. Of course, there's always a party to go to. And it's always nice to just sleep in. All in all, students look forward to the weekend.

2. Jim Fortney gets ready to munch at Burger King.

4. Terri Salvatore takes time out to pose for the camera at a football game.

5. Brian Williams was caught chatting with a few friends at a football game.

1. Jared Brichford and Kristen Marshall sit and watch the football game.

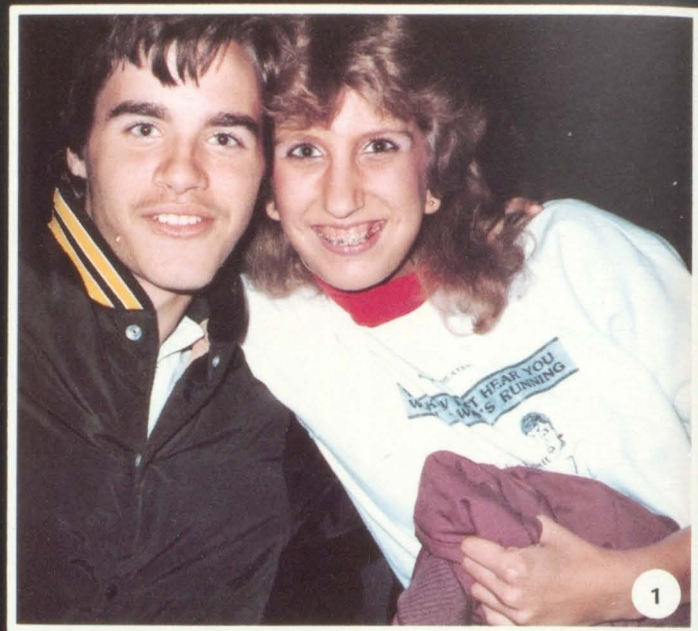

2. Rhonda Turner laughs at her friends' antics at the game.
3. The Madison Blue Streak Soccer Team gets something cold to drink at half-time during the game against Chardon.

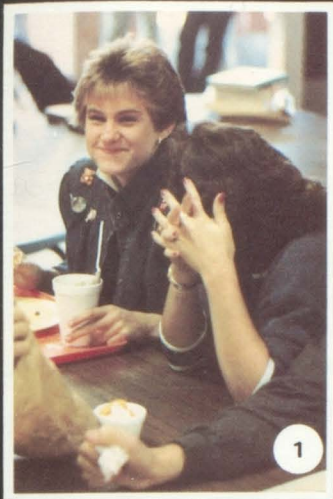

4. The Marching Blue Streaks get ready for the game to begin so they can cheer the Blue Streaks on.
5. Kris Silveroli takes time out from socializing to pose for a picture.

A Friend In Need Is A Friend Indeed

Friend, we laughed when humor had passed.
Friend, you listened with closed lips while opening your heart.
Friend, you felt my sorrow and we formed one tear.
Friend, these things I'll remember as the thought of you warms my heart. - Lanny Allen

1. Showing us their Kool-Aid smiles are Jim Preston and Barb Teleha.
2. Missy Crantz shows us her girlish charm.
3. Bob Baker poses for applauding crowds during the Slave Day auction held to raise money for the Girls' Club.
4. Debbie Ehrcke and Melissa Elliott crack a smile for our camera.
5. Lorie Hanacosky cuddles up to our rival's mascot.
6. Interrupted during lunch to get a smile are Chris Goodin and Chris Masterson.

1. Trina Ames sits bewildered as Chris Urban hides her face.

2. Troy Livingstone and Bill Eaton rejoice after their audition.

3. Elaine Musser and sister Laurie show us that even family make good friends.

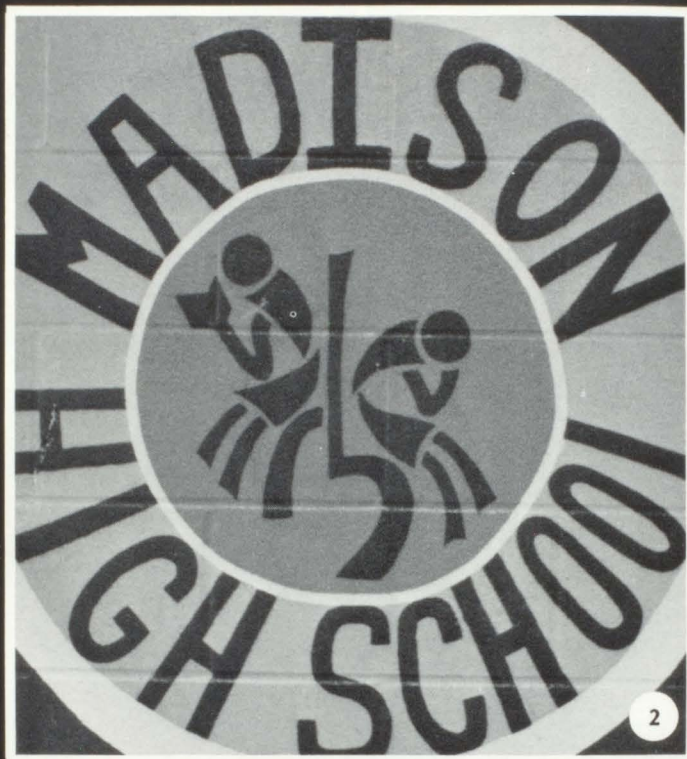

4. Lori Clark and Patty Herron have discovered friendship at work.

5. Mike Mills, Buzzy Jarvis and Mike Santarelli show that friends are for leaning on.

6. Snuggling close to get their picture taken are Trudy Gardiner and Mr. Jim Dolan.

7. Julie Nautting and Sandy Sol-den smile as their picture is taken at a Friday football game.

Fast Times Move At Madison High

1. Amy Zoldak hams it up for the camera.
2. This picture is found outside of the student center. It was designed by Dave Kline and sponsored by the class of '79.
3. Jeff Sandru blasts the sax while band director, Mr. Joe Acerra, looks on.
4. Madison football fans enjoy the social part of the game.
5. Miss Kathy Jackson cooks up a storm for the language fair.

1. H.E. Skull and Ron Griffin imitate their football heroes from Lake Catholic.

Summer: It's "Beachy"

Madison Students find fun and excitement over summer vacation. Some Students manage to find summer jobs, most of which are not the least bit exciting. However, the constant thought of money keeps them going through the entire week. Weekends usually bring parties, which are a highly popular activity. Some might take a trip to Geauga Lake, Cedar Point or take a real vacation to Disneyland. In the pursuit of fun, a person can spend a lot of money. However, money is not an important factor in having a good time. People tend to spend a lot of time at the beach. While at the beach, weather permitting, waterskiing is very popular. Other beach activities include swimming, playing in the mud, and, probably the most common, people attempting to get a suntan. Summer comes and goes and in what seems like no time, students are once again faced with a school year.

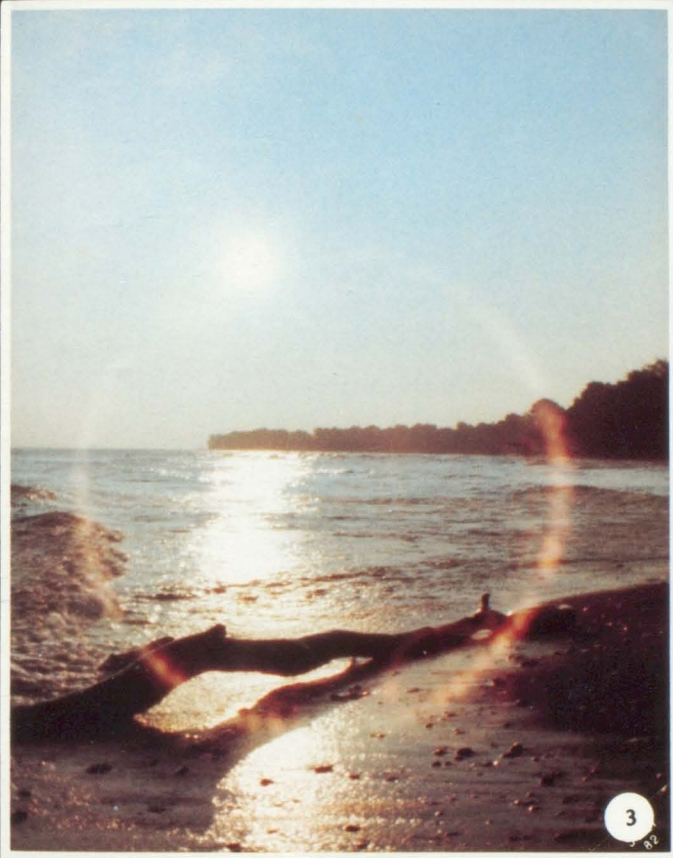

1. Jackie Bell and Marsha Adams give Goofy a hug during their vacation at Disneyland.

2. George Hollister gets ready to go out for some fun in the sun.

3. Lake Erie holds many beautiful sunsets.

4. A family is silhouetted by the Florida sunset.

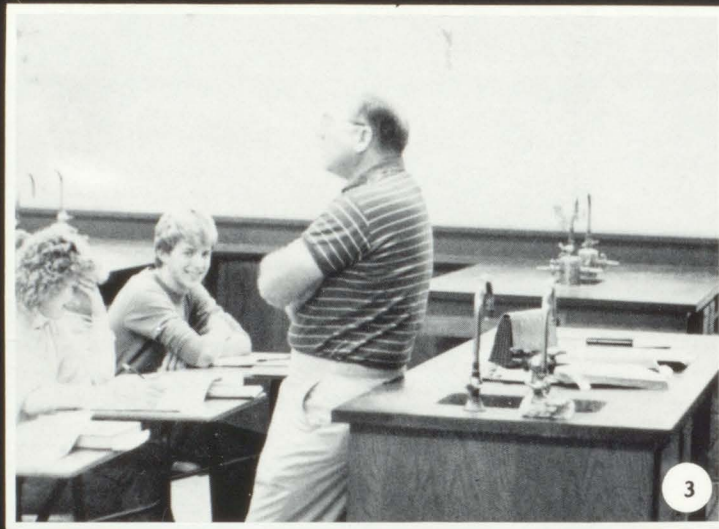

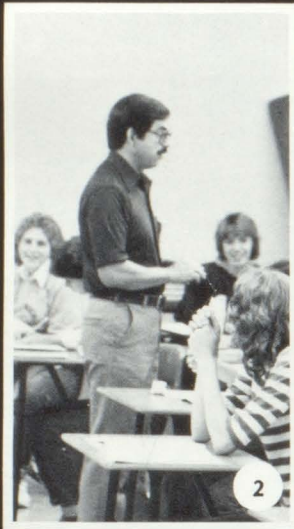

1. Senior band members get a kick out of Band Camp.
2. Lake Erie proves itself beautiful.
3. The camera makes an interesting spectacle of a Lake Erie sunrise.
4. The spires of Cinderella's castle rise high above Disneyland.

Academic Life Builds Futures

Academic Life to students is probably something they consider not worth remembering. But as horrible as it might seem, it is the main reason for school as compared to the long-accepted idea that school is just a gathering place of friends.

But instead of frowning on academics, let's take a look at the benefits that are received from them. Academics not only lays the educational groundwork, but also the social base needed by students to take their place in the world. Academics also provides the base for a person's livelihood in the business world. Anyone and everyone knows that, without a high school education, you won't be smart enough to know you're poor.

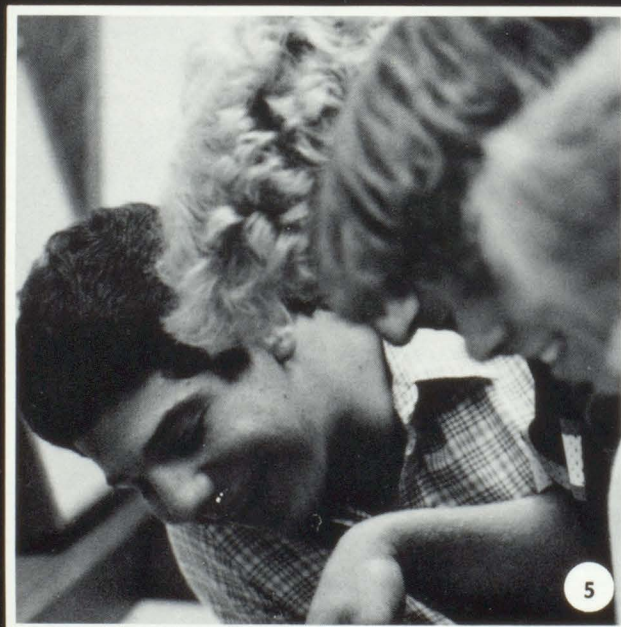

1. Wrapping specimens with Brian Canady. Mr. Jerry Deel looks up for the camera.

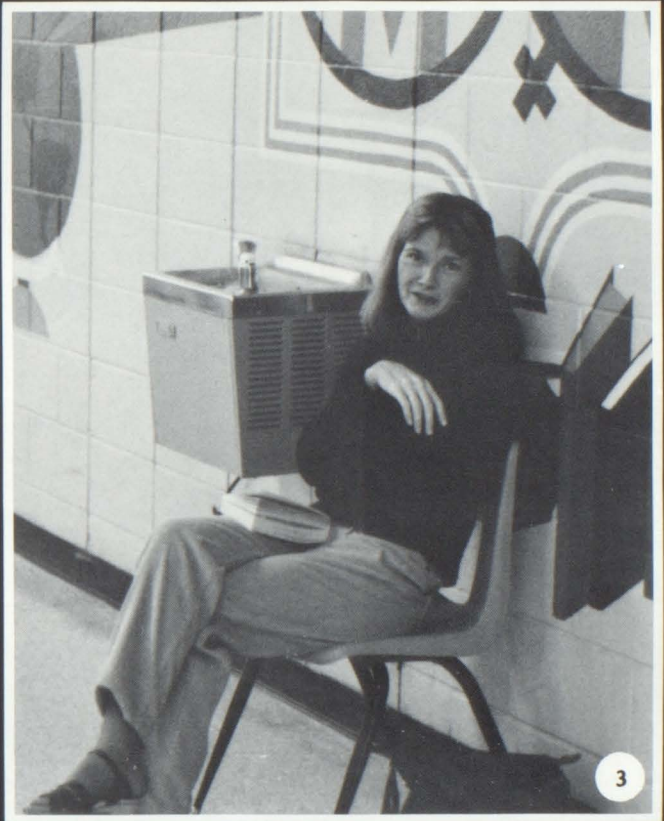

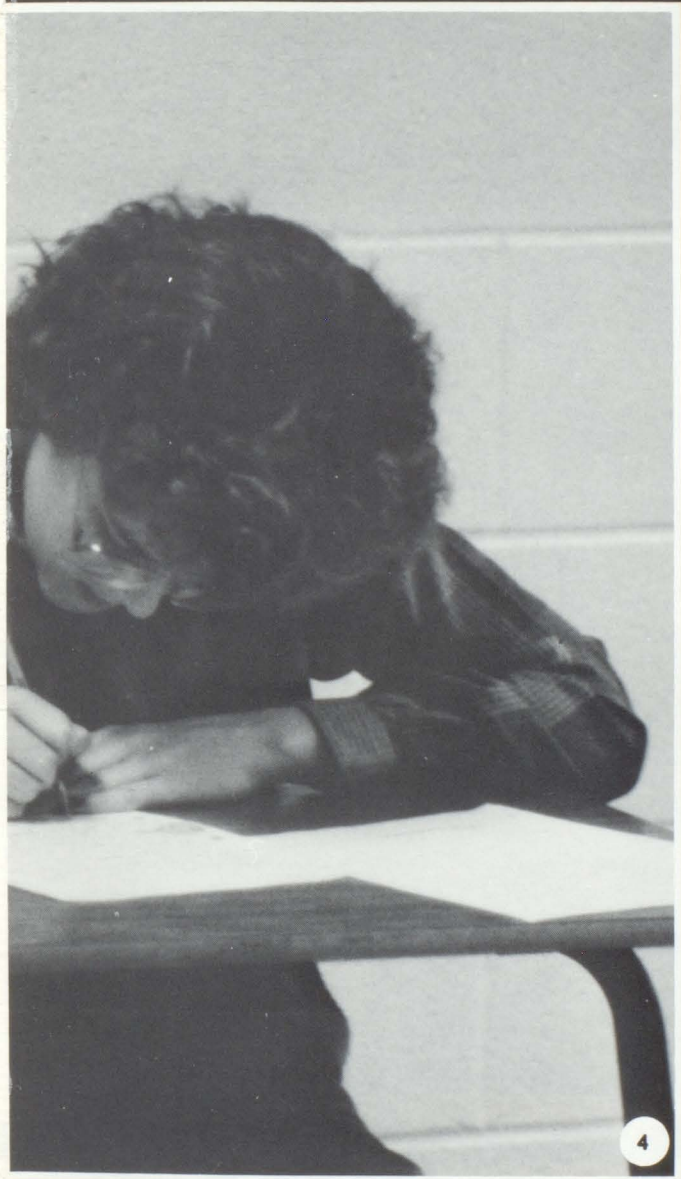

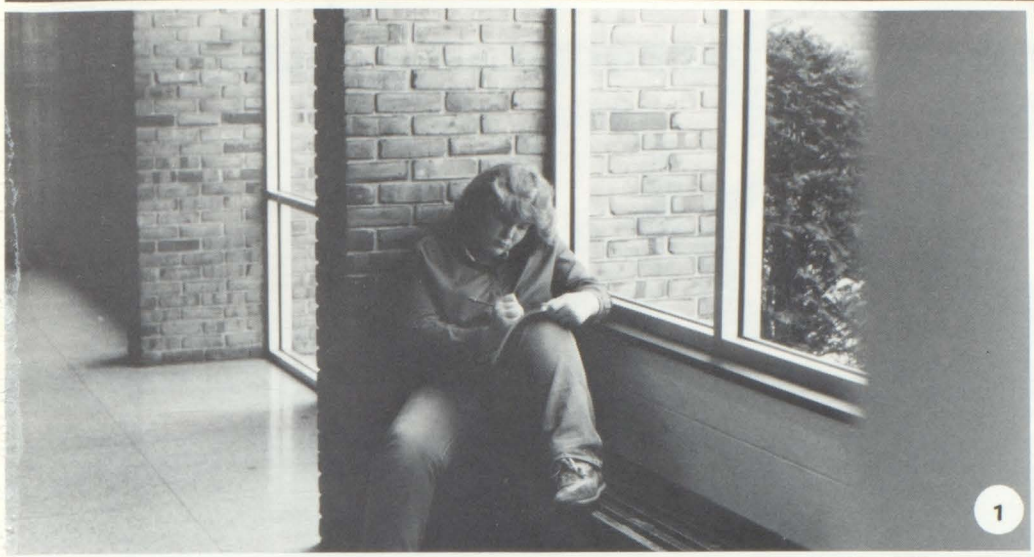

2. Mr. Jack Pavesich lectures his class on the finer points of grammar.

3. Joe Acerra and Sherry Donch make the best of Mr. Steve Mallick's chemistry class.

4. Taking an English test comes easy for Sharon Moss.

5. Dissecting a fetal pig seems to be fun for these Biology II students.

1. Lisa Leggitt does last minute studying.
2. Mrs. Darlene Sampson reads some of her favorite American literature to her juniors.
3. Hall duty is one of Mrs. Sherry Dornhecker's favorite past-times.

Seniors

1985

When talking with seniors, it seems that their favorite thing about being a senior is superiority over all underclassmen. It is now, finally, their chance to be boss. Next on the list is that this is their final year. Other seniors interjected that they are glad to be leaving this school and are now allowed to wear what they want, including sailor uniforms and checkered shoes! But most of all, they experienced the great feeling of knowing they accomplished one of the hardest goals in life, high school. They have agreed, though, that this is a very productive class. Some are looking forward to college, some are working full time. Others plan to sleep in and do absolutely nothing. All know it is now time to be adults, and live as adults, in the real world.

The two most enthusiastic seniors when it comes to having school spirit are Kelly Yoe and Bill Fedele. They attend almost all athletic activities of the school. While Bill is in the stands making classmates rowdy and leading cheers, Kelly is down by the bleachers cheerleading. These two not only spread spirit and enthusiasm at games, but also during school. Let's all thank these two for making us proud of our school.

There are always a couple class clowns in every class, and the two seniors who were nominated class clowns of this year's senior class are Vicki Mayer and John Lackner. When asked what makes her funny, Vicki responded, "Dirty jokes!" She also added that she was embarrassed by this honor. When John found out he was nominated class clown, he acknowledged, "When Mom reads this, she'll be mad!" When asked what makes him funny, he replied, "I'm totally speechless."

"Mum" is the word for the two seniors who were voted quietest by the senior class. These two seniors are Sarah Tascone and Eric Von Eschen. Both agreed that they are quiet but admitted that they talk more around their closer friends. When confronting Sarah about her honorary award, she replied as expected, "I'm speechless." Sarah also added that she expected this honor, but stated she will make up for it in college and be a loud-mouth. When asked, Eric seemed a bit questionable and confused but commented. Everyone wants success, and the two seniors who were voted most likely to succeed are Amy Zoldak and Mark Lavergne. Both said that they are planning to go to college after high school but aren't sure which one they would like to attend. Amy has been a National Merit Semi-Finalist for the PSAT. After she graduates, she would like to major in engineering. After college, she wants to make a lot of money. Mark would also like to major in engineering and also wants to make a lot of money. He added that he wants to build a brewery.

Flirting seems to come naturally to some people, and the two seniors who were voted class flirt by their classmates are Kelly Cartwright and Danny Stewart. Neither was embarrassed by this honor and felt that their friendliness and talkativeness caused them to obtain their honor. When asked about how she felt about this, Kelly responded, "I think it's cute!"

Dressing up is a once-a-week thing for most people, but for Kelly Siperke and John Boyd, it's almost every day. These two were awarded best dressed by their classmates. Both Kelly and John admitted they feel good when they dress up. Most everyone would have to agree they look good when they dress up, too.

1. Jerry Hites is wondering, "Why am I here?"
2. "I'm a pepper, She's a pepper, He's a pepper, wouldn't you like to be a pepper, too?"
3. Sharron Swartzwelder, 'Day-dreaming again'!

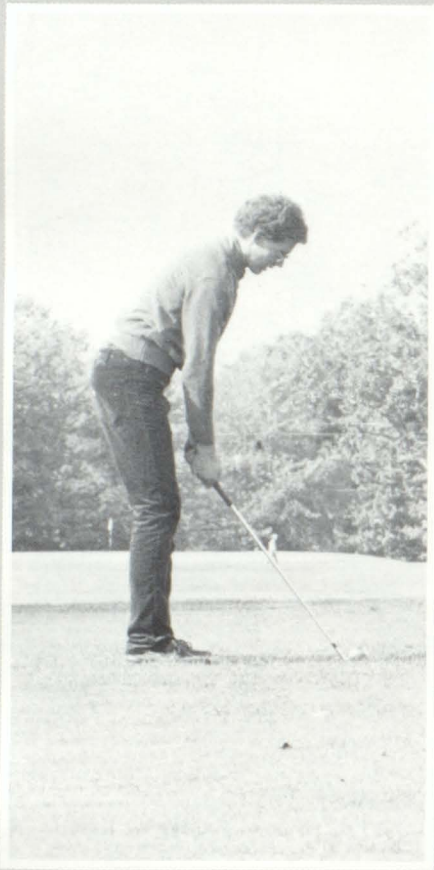

1. Lisa Day is looking at something she shouldn't be.

2. Craig Snyder is 'Hard at work' in his favorite class.

1. Mike Buser patiently waits for the "crowd" to quiet down.
2. John Lackner lands from his parachute fall.

1. Ron Griffen and Sue Lipka are wondering where their lunches went.
2. Well, you see in order to make this work you must first . . .

We've Got Tonight.

Two hundred and seventy-five students attended the Junior-Senior Prom which took place at Thunderhill Country Club on May 19, 1984, at 7:00. Rocking the night away, the students enjoyed the beat of Broken-English. To host the Senior Class for Prom, the Junior Class sold magazines and Christmas candles. The court consisted of Doug Brown, Belinda Tiller, Lisa Amos, Chris Frisbie, Victoria Sabo, Randy Hearn, Larry Hall, Tony Ciammaichella, Tammy Booth and Debbie Travis. Reigning over the court were Chris Frisbie, King, and Debbie Travis, Queen. The sponsors were Mrs. Beverly Lee, Mr. Roy Winton, Mrs. Florence DeLong, and Mr. Jerry McIntyre.

After announcing the Prom Queen, Tony Ciammaichella congratulates Debbie Travis with a kiss.

After being crowned King and Queen, Debbie Travis and Chris Frisbie take their positions on their throne.

1. Kevin Coleman and Joe Cooper invite their dates to dance.

2. Todd Palinsky starts a new tradition by removing Kelly Yoe's garter.

3. The 1984 Prom Court consisted of (L. to R.) Doug Brown, Belinda Tiller, Lisa Amos, Chris Frisbie, Victoria Sabo, Randy Hern, (Middle) Larry Hall, Tony Ciammarella, (Bottom) Tammy Booth, Debbie Travis.

I, Marsha Adams, will Jenny Josza my brother Jay, and lots of love and luck to John.
 I, Bobbi Alexander, will to Lenny (Bubba) Geib my promptness to school, Kelly Alexander my ability to talk my way out of anything, and to David Meacham all of my great driving abilities.
 I, Tina Amos, will to Leonard (Bubba) Geib my ability to get to school on time everyday, and to Kelly Alexander the ability to look innocent even though you know you're guilty.
 I, Michael Anderson, will to the future generation of Madison High this great-ha, ha School!
 I, Deanna Andresen, will leave to all the upcoming seniors all the "luck" in the world to achieve all their goals in life and the ambition to keep trying and to Jim Preston my love and all the memories that we had together.
 I, Denise Bailey, will Doug Bailey all of my outstanding abilities, and to Jerry Smith my jokes and nerve pills!
 I, Terri Baker, will my love for a lifetime to Matt Hanna; my great ability as a "rah-rah" to Julie Chandler; my book of A, B, C's to Mr. Kovalchik; all of my almond candy bars to Mr. Sater; and my friendship 'til we die to Heidi Gordon.

I, Mark Strother, will leave to Jenny Square all of my Van Halen Paraphernalia and to Stephen "Snoopy" Snopel all of my cans, and to John Slovick a big miracle to get his diploma and to party with the Stones.

I, Mark Swanson, will to Dave: a lavender bathing suit, to Roger Bliss: a V.C.R. with Fred Flinstone videos, to Lisa Travis an eternal friendship with Adolf, to the rest of the brotherhood: 365 days of Situation E.

I, Sharon Swartzwelder, will Richelle Kirk & Wendy Aragabrite my ability to B.S. their way out of trouble, Mr. Angle socks and shoes, Mr. Pinelli my good ole' days of two cans & to Madison High—the last of the Swartzwelders.

I, Kathy Swiger, will Ron Swiger & Patty Goodman all the great times they can handle at Madison High.

I, Susan Tarsovich, will my procrastinating feelings to Mark Czernic, Matt Jevack, & Paula Spanzy, also my dear friendship to Bob Zorn, Mike Winters, and Troy Livingstone.

I, Brad Tate, will give my '70 Chevelle S.S. to my brother Brett to destroy.

I, Tammy Taylor, will leave my old locker to my little sister, dog & little Teri all my dirty socks.

I, Lisa Travis, will my "experiences of life" to Garpukka and all our memories, and the brothers I leave "FUN" forever. (Lastly) to brother Knopfler I leave the beach, the stars and Romania.

I, Rebecca S. Upole, will to Mr. "A" and the trombone section in the marching band, my little bro, and to the gang at my lunch table (especially Judy Mead), lots of fun next year.

I, Cindy Vaughn, will leave everything I own to my family and my boyfriend Tom Beach.

I, Eric VonEschen, will leave all of my forgotten homework to Mr. McIntyre.

I, Marcia Wallace, will Mr. Sater & Mr. Leitch the courage to put up with another Wallace for 4 more years.

I, Jeff Whitehair (Whitey), will leave Jeff Haase my bank account and my cheerleading abilities.

I, Amy Wickert, will to Joann Miller the mirror from my band locker to put in her own. And my stat pencil to Kim Bower so she can keep all the basketball players in line.

I, Jenny Wickert, will Jason and Jake Reiner each a set of keys to my car.

I, Wayne Williams, will leave my sister Linda the courage to stick it out and graduate as the last Williams to come through Madison High School.

I, Joe Willis, will my books and burned out locker to Tom Owens (and all my secrets in blowing up garbage cans.)

I, Peggy Wilson will to my sister, Colleen, the best of luck in her career because even though she may not know it—she is my best friend.

I, Eric Winfield, will the most awesome section a drummer could ever want to Tim Pyles.

I, Virginia Wood, will my Chemistry Log book to my brother, Mark, & all his friends.

I, Kelly Yoe, will leave to Heather Anderson all the guys in the High School but Todd Palinsky, and to Mr. Piker a round trip ticket to Egypt to see King Tut, and to Vicki Mayer a moon light drive listening to Quiet Riot.

I, Jackie Zerbe, will to all next year's seniors my love, and to a new year Senior I.O.E. student I leave Mr. Peterson's work. May you have tons of fun. And to my brothers, Bill and Bob, I leave my sympathy for being in school still, and to Mr. Dolan I leave my nerves and sanity because he needs them after teaching the students he had this year. Hopefully his next year students will be a lot better.

I, Toni Zimcosky, will to Mr. Loeffel all of my Tom Petty albums (of little importance).

I, Amy Zoldak, will some enthusiasm to my brother, John, and to Mr. McIntyre I leave stacks and stacks of college recommendations, to Eric VonEschen I leave a smile and some negative volume, to Lisa Pierce I leave my great luck and grades (she needs it.)

I, Marjana Zupcan, will my pleasant personality to Mr. Kovalchik, my laugh to Joe Accera, and my maturity to Miss Jackson.

I, Beth Zasadzinski, will leave all the great and crazy times I had to all the coming seniors.

Make this the best, cause this is your last year.

My future plans are

(Marsha Adams) to attend a four year college in PA and get my degree in Physical Education.

(Bobbi Alexander) I am going to hit New York City with great expectations but end up coming home broke and working at Burger King for the rest of my life.

(Tina Amos) I am also going to hit New York City with Bobbi, but she heads back home, leaving me a wino wandering the streets of New York.

 (Beth Zasadzinski) to become a rich and beautiful legal secretary.
 (Michelle Zollner) to become a coporate lawyer.

The Twenty-Third Psalm

The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures
He leadeth me beside the still waters
He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:
thou anointest my head with oil;
my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life:
and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever

Midnight Madness

SHOW

a different set of jaws.

Many kids at M.H.S. have discovered a new craze, "The Rocky Horror Show". This is a film that was made in the early 70's and has since acquired a "cult" following. That is that people thought this movie was so ridiculous that they went and saw it again and again because it was so bad it was funny. Then it began to catch on. People started to dress up as the characters, memorize the dialogue, and come and play along with the actors on the screen. It soon became so popular that it is now well-known nation-wide. It is shown in hundreds of theaters all over the country. Most recently, it came to Mentor, so now more Madison students have been able to see it. (Formally they would have had to go all the way to Mayfield Heights.) As soon as a few people saw it, suddenly everyone was packing the theaters at midnight to get pelted with rice, toast, playing cards, and toilet paper. They also got to learn a new dance step and get "rained" on. Altogether "The Rocky Horror Picture Show" is a great way to literally shout out some of school's frustrations and have a lot of fun.

In Pursuit Of Fun

Trivial Pursuit is a new game that has swept the nation. It is based on a person's knowledge of the insignificant—the more trivial facts he knows, the better he will play. The general first edition is called "Genus" and includes the playing board and six round colored discs which hold triangular colored "pies". The board is also arranged in a circular pattern, like a wheel with six spokes. At the end of each spoke, a special space will win the player one of the pies if he answers the question correctly. 6000 questions come with the basic game; each falls under one of six categories that is color-coded. The Categories are History (yellow), Geography (blue), Art & Literature (brown), Science & Nature (green), Sports (orange), and Entertainment (pink). After the player has mastered the first set of questions, he can buy other boxes of them, such as Silver Screen, Baby Boomer, and All Sports. From Trivial Pursuit, other trivia games have blossomed and are promising to be around for a long time.

In The Beginning

Paleo-Indians, Archaic Man, the Erie Indians and the Iroquois were the first settlers in the Madison area. These primarily small game hunters and fishermen released the lands of the Western Reserve to white men in 1796 for 25,000 beef cattle and 100 gallons of whiskey. The Connecticut Land Company divided the Western Reserve into townships. Township 11 was named Chapintown (later called Centerville and then Madison) and was founded in 1802. The southern boundary remains the same today, while the northern boundary was Middle Ridge Road.

Township 12, the area between Middle Ridge and Lake Erie, was called a gore of fractional township because it contained less than five square miles of land. By 1811, Townships 11 and 12 were united, and Madison became the largest township in the state.

Did You Know?

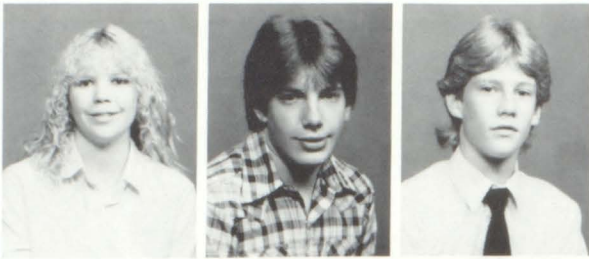

Madison Community Flag was designed by Kenneth Smith, a Madison resident, and was unveiled on Flag Day, June 14, 1978. The basic design is a large gear symbolizing Madison's progress. The center of the gear features a drawing of a man and his family. From this "hub", eight spokes are generated. Six spheres contain characters representing industry, religion, medicine, government and education. Two spheres have been left empty, leaving room for future developments in the community.

Madison Helps Slave Escape

Madison was located near the Underground Railway System. In 1841, two brothers and a sister, runaway slaves from Kentucky, were visiting from Oberlin at Dr. Merriman's, one and one-half miles west of town. One of the slaves was overtaken while driven by the owner's son and a professional slave catcher and taken before Judge O.R. Paige at Bliss Tavern. Word immediately was sent out, and young men drove into town in wagons, excited and determined no slave should ever be taken from Lake County. The slave was returned to the two men, but in Ashtabula County, they were arrested for assault and battery. After much scheming, the slave was spirited away and landed in Canada where he was followed by his brother and sister. This brother was the real George Harris of Harriet Beecher Stowes' Uncle Tom's Cabin.

What A Difference

The first school was taught by Mary Witter Crary in 1813 in a log cabin building. Miss Crary married Cyrus Cunningham in 1814 and moved the school to their home on Dock Road. There they taught all the children within a two-mile radius. The first graduating class of Madison High School was in 1875, and in 1895 the rural schools of the township were consolidated.

It's Academic

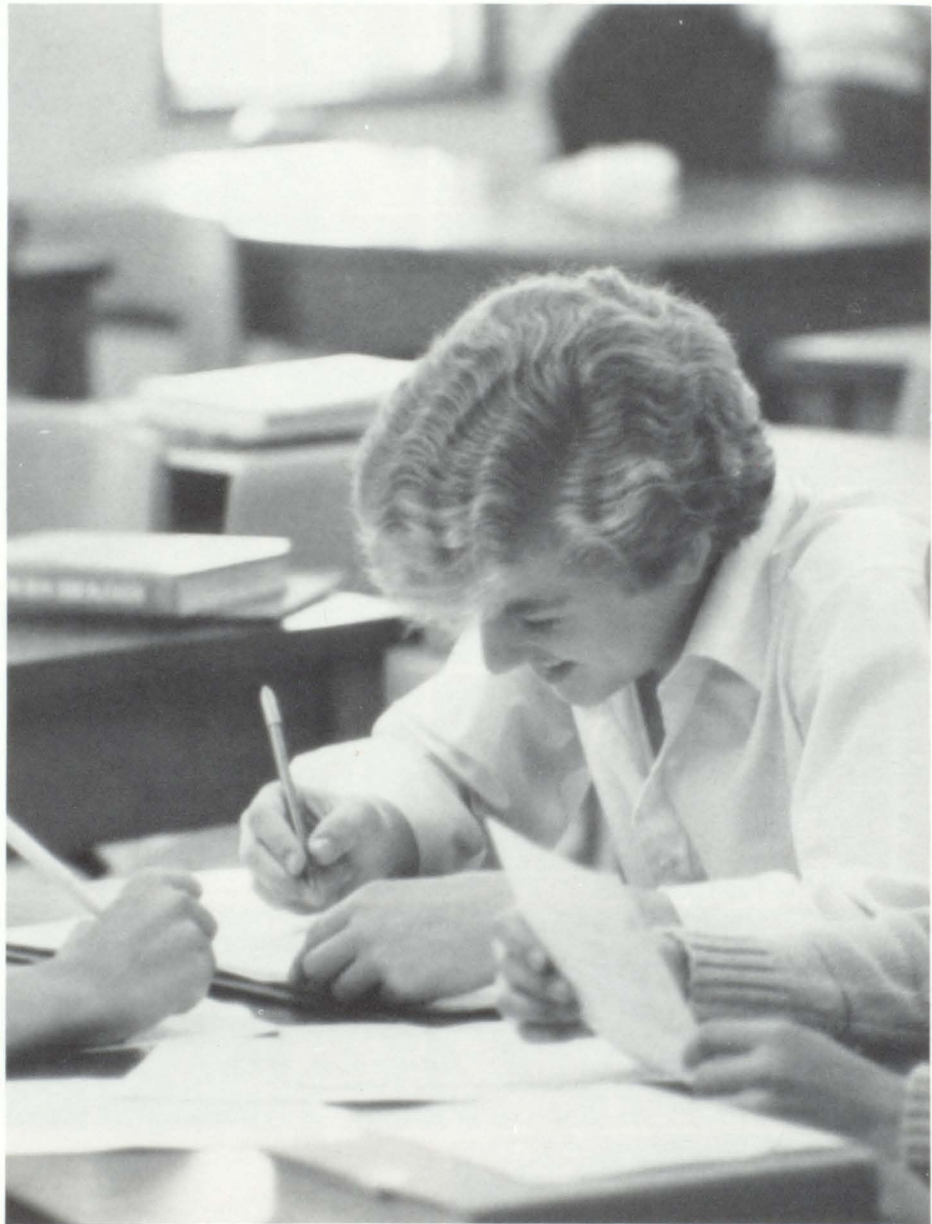

Throughout the school year, many changes came about. Students adjusted to new teachers, classes, and higher standards. The new teachers adjusted to the new classes.

The Freshmen have it the toughest. They must earn a total of twenty credits to graduate. Furthermore, the Freshmen must have two credits both in Math and Science.

Students also had the opportunity to enroll in new classes, such as Reading for College, Study Skills, and World Cultures.

Another change was the athletes of the school had to maintain a 1.5 grade point average to participate in their sport. All these changes should upgrade Madison's educational program.

Sports

Beaming with pride, the Madison High School Sports have come a long way in recent years. The attitude of the athletes as well as the coaches has steadily improved over the past couple of years. For example, in four short years, the Madison High School soccer team has gone from an unknown to the Sectional Champions and District runner-ups. As the snow begins to fall, the Varsity Boys' Basketball team will anxiously look forward to starting their season with a new dream. When spring arrives, the Girls' Varsity Softball team, after going to the Regionals last year, hopes to achieve more this year. In conclusion, with much effort and sheer determination, Madison High School Sports will continually get better and better.

Streaks Score Well On The Road

The Madison Blustreaks Football team opened the season on a good note. They defeated their main rival, Perry, in a hard-fought battle, 17-0. From then on, they battled injuries. Streaks hung on with a 5-5 record overall, 3-4 in the N.E.C.

After the loss of Dan Stewart, sophomore quarterback, Tim Wilson wrapped up the season with a 2-1 record and the Streaks outscored their opponents 65-22.

The mixture of Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors helped the streaks gain respectability in the N.E.C.

Purple Rain Falls On Madison High

The 1984-85 homecoming shook down the house to the beat of Risque. The theme of this year's homecoming was Purple Rain by Prince. The decorations were really well set up. Purple rain drops on the wall named each senior, and pink and blue streamers perpetuated the image of purple rain. Everyone had a great time and really enjoyed him and herself.

This year's Homecoming Queen was Kelly Yoe, who is a favorite of the student body. Her attending court consisted of Jayne Wainio, Stacy Pisor, Denise Bailey and Lorie Clark. It was a difficult choice to select the finalists, for each had her own hidden talents and each was beautiful in her own way. Not only was the choosing of the queen tough, but the homecoming game was also rough. As the fog rolled in, the Streaks rolled down. The football team played Riverside, the top ranked team in the conference, and they lost in the second half, 30-14.

1. Joe Christopher enjoys crowning Kelly Yoe, the 1984-85 Homecoming Queen.

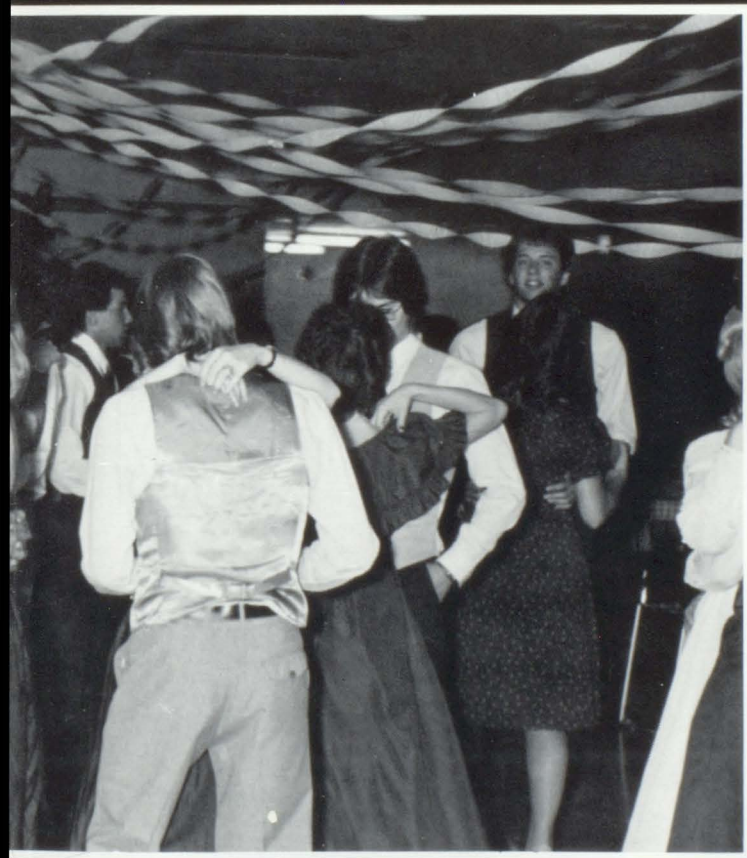

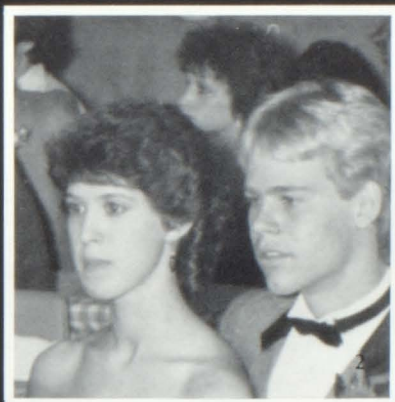

2. Stacy Pisor is escorted down the field, to await the announcing of the queen.

3. The students dance the house down to the beat of Risque.

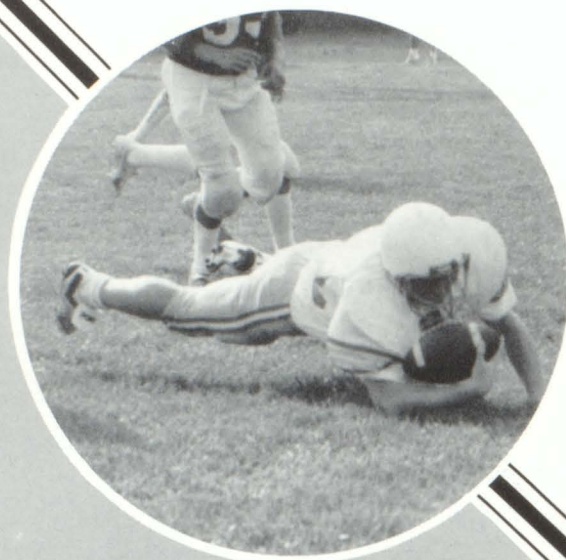

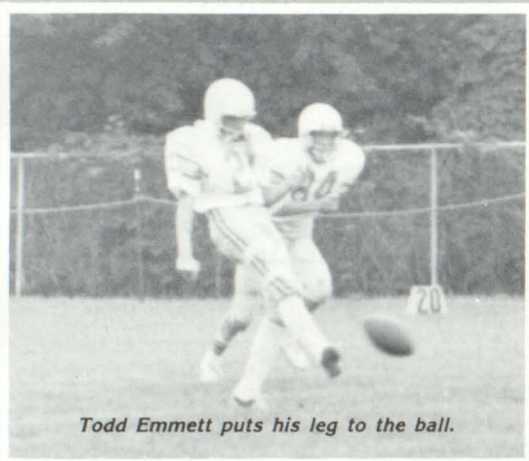

1. Deina Albus begs John Sandru for a dance.
2. Mike Hietanen and Marie Ashton take a break from the action and enjoy the music.
3. Kelly Yoe and Todd Palinsky share a moment together.

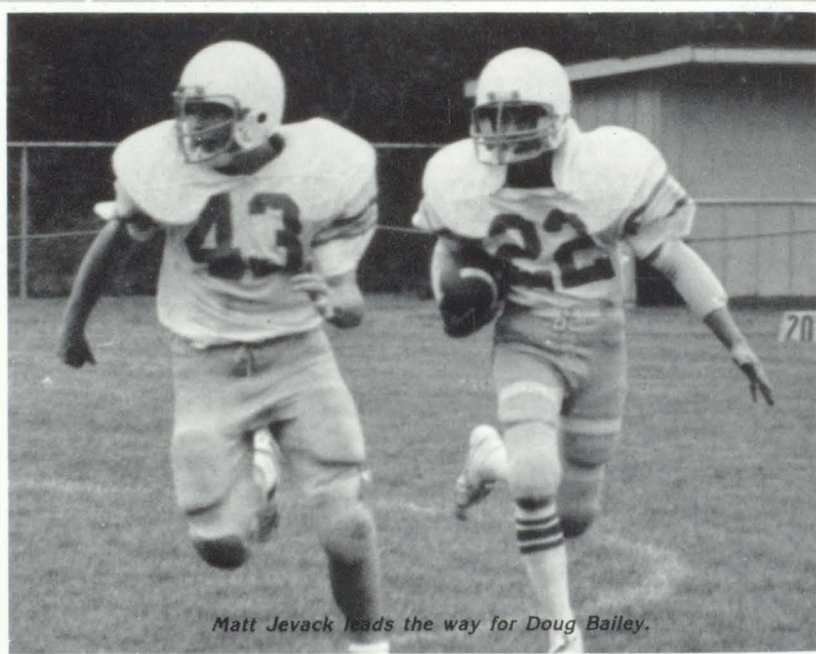

Streaks Reach Goal

The Freshman Football season was rewarding for the team. The team's first game was a battle of defenses. The only score for Madison was a pass from Dev Kovats to Todd Emmett. Then, the two point conversion failed. After the Freshmen got over the excitement of their first game, they came back in their second game, and the offense showed their power by scoring 29 points, leaving Harbor scoreless. The team also accomplished a second shut-out against Geneva. They showed they could play under pressure when they came back in the fourth quarter and scored 14 points to beat Conneaut 14-13.

Todd Emmett puts his leg to the ball.

Matt Jevack leads the way for Doug Bailey.

Soccer Team Get's Respect

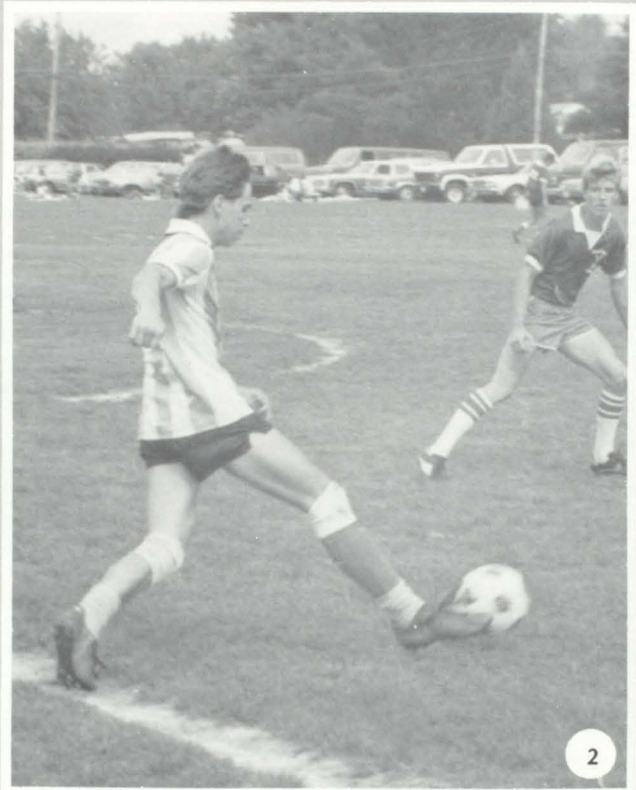

1984 was the most successful season yet for Madison High School soccer. The team's record (13-3-4) was the best achieved in the four years of the soccer program's existence. In addition, the team won 3 games in the state tournament and became the AAA Northeast Sectional 1A Champions. Also this season, Madison High School soccer produced its first All-Ohio player, Eric Delp.

The soccer program is attracting increasing participation each year. This fall, 39 persons were involved as players, a substantial increase over the previous years.

Madison J.V. soccer team had another winning season.

Their overall record was (7-4-4). The team consisted mostly of outstanding freshmen. Their freshmen showed a lot of promise for their future team.

What Happened?

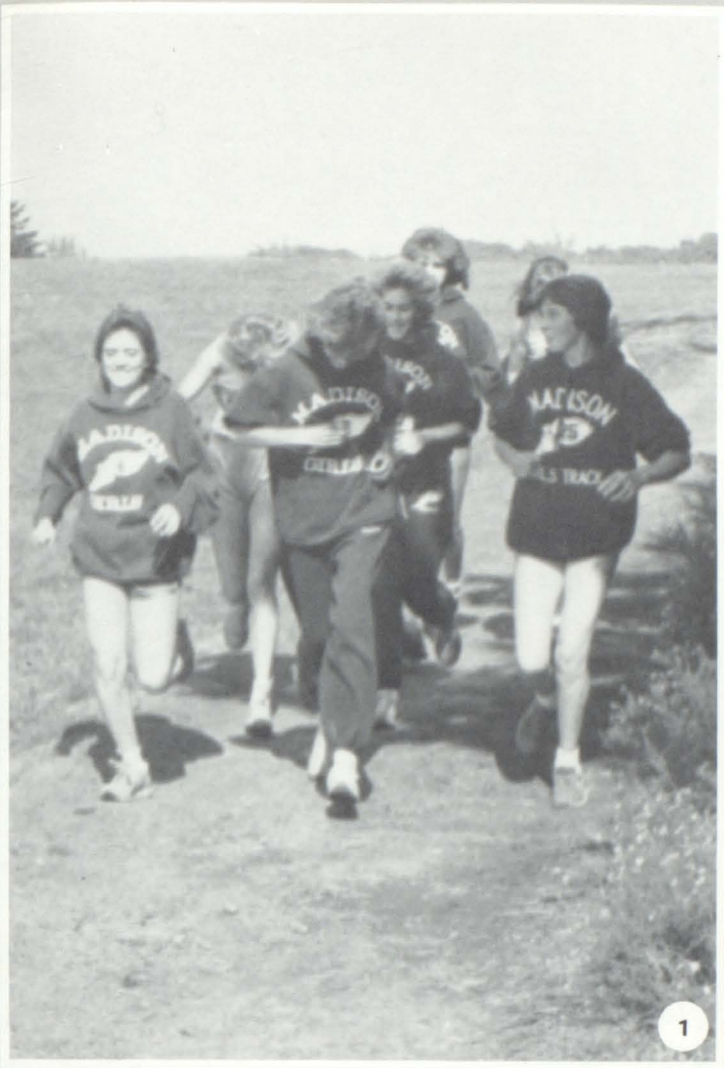

The 1984 Girl's Cross Country Team began the season with great expectations. Returning letter winners led the team to five consecutive victories; unfortunately, the team's luck didn't last. With three of their top five runners out, this only allowed them to place no better than third at any invitational and also caused a four-meet losing streak. This year, the team came out even in the NEC with 2 wins and 2 losses. Overall, their record was 6 wins and 3 losses. Four fine runners will return next year for the 1985 season. Hopefully, 1985 will be a much better season for them.

'84 Spikers Finish 3rd

The 1984 Girls' Volleyball season proved to be a success as the team completed a 12-10 record overall and a 9-5 record in the N.E.C.. The squad earned a very respectable third place behind league champs Geneva and St. John. The team had the benefit of 6 returning letter winners from the 1983 season which made it possible to play a variety of offenses and a more exciting game of volleyball. Seniors Val Lasko and Stacy Pisor, and Junior Becky Crawford handled the offense as setters while Senior Marsha Adams, Juniors Jackie Bell and Michele Klein, along with Freshman Shana Delp, maintained as our main hitters. Seniors Cathy Gesdorf and Beth Zasadzinski also saw playing time as hitters. Juniors Dana Smith, Becky Tarone, and Michele Sykora saw playing time as both hitters and setters. Highlights of the season included very strong showings against traditional powers of Eastlake North and Shaker Heights. However, the peak of the season came in the last week of league play when the squad nearly upset first place St. John.

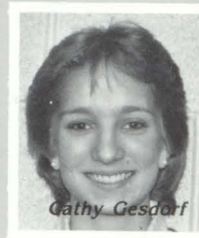

The following players received the following recognition during the N.E.C. selection: Val Lasko, first team N.E.C.; Stacy Pisor, second team N.E.C.; and Marsha Adams, Jackie Bell, Michele Klein, Becky Crawford, and Shana Delp all received Honorable Mention.

The Junior Varsity finished the season with a 11-7 record.

Varsity Wrestling

Continuing their success, the Streaks pulled off their sixth consecutive NEC title, finishing their season with an 11-3 overall record and losing only to Euclid, Lake Catholic, and Willoughby South. They finished the NEC with a record of 7-0, a fact which put them in first place. The Streaks also finished very high in the Kenston tournament, placing fifth.

Some of the team leaders included Senior Captain Jeff Whitehair who led the team in take-downs with 45, Jake Reihner also led the team with the most points. He had 67 team points.

At the 98 weight class, sophomore Ted Ransom had an overall record of 15-7-1, placing third in NEC. At 105, Junior Jake Reihner had an overall record of 17-3, and he placed first in NEC and second at Kenston. At 112, Junior Buddy Ransom had an overall record of 10-6-1. He placed second in NEC but was unable to complete the season due to an injury. However, freshman John Schmidt took over and compiled a 4-0 record. At 119, sophomore Craig Rowan had an overall record of 8-11 and placed third in the NEC. At 126, senior team captain Jeff Whitehair had a really impressive season with an overall record of 14-2, placing first at Kenston, and he was the team leader with 45 take downs. At 132, senior team captain Scott Francis had an overall record of 17-2-1 and placed first in the NEC tournament. Throughout the season, the 138 weight class was shared by senior Mike Mills and Junior Dave Eland. Mike had an overall record of 8-8-1 and placed second in the NEC Tournament. Dave had an overall record of 6-8 and placed third in the NEC. At 145, senior team captain Todd Sadler had an overall record of 16-3 and took a first place in the NEC Tournament. At 155, Junior Jason Reihner had an overall record of 12-6 and placed fourth at Kenston and third at the NEC Tournament. Sophomore Mike Lackner had an overall record of 5-10 at 167. The 175 weight class was shared by junior Scott Morgan and sophomore Jim Hall. Scott had an overall record of 10-10-1 and placed fourth in the NEC. Jim had an overall record of 0-4 at 185, and senior Larry Skoch had an overall record of 16-6. Larry placed second in the NEC and third at Kenston at Heavyweight. Ernie Sigler had an overall record of 2-4.

It was an impressive season for all the wrestlers, and we look forward to more of the same next year.

Wrestling Does It Again

The 1984-85 season for the Freshman wrestling team was an encouraging one for Madison. The team had a record of 4 wins, 3 losses, and one tie. The team's toughest match was against Parma Valley Ford, which resulted in a tie. The team traveled to two tournaments, St. Ed's and Mentor Shore. At St Ed's, the team came in ninth place, and at Mentor Shore, the team came in second place.

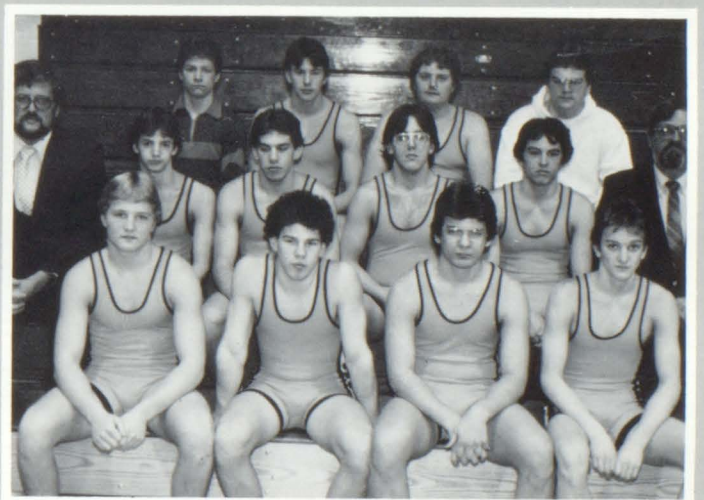

The 1984 - 85 Junior Varsity wrestling team had a satisfying and good season. The team had a better than five-hundred season. The team's toughest match was against Richmond Heights, in which Madison came out victorious. The Madison J.V. Invitational was a success with five J.V. team members placing. In conclusion, one of the team members said next year we are going to keep the pride, determination, and tradition and bring Madison another Varsity N.E.C. title.

Madison Has Trying Season

Todd Braunlich

Duke DiPofi

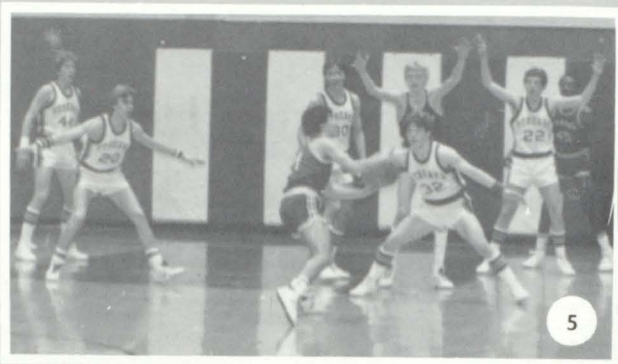

Rick Miller

The Madison Blue Streaks basketball team had a long, tough season. They only had one player from last year's varsity team return.

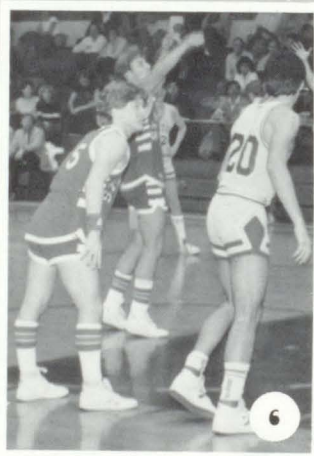

Coach John Higgins had much work to do with few returning players, and even though they lost all of their games, the team worked very hard every game.

The captain of the team, Todd Braunlich, kept the team together when things were going downhill. Leading in team points, Ben Kriegmont scored 296 followed by Todd Braunlich with 206. Leading in shooting percentage was Mike Warren with 43%, and in freethrow percentage with 73%. Leading in team rebounds was John Josza with 137. Leading in assists was Mike Warren with 67. Leading in steals were Ben Kriegmont and Mike Warren with 35, and followed close behind with 33 was John Josza.

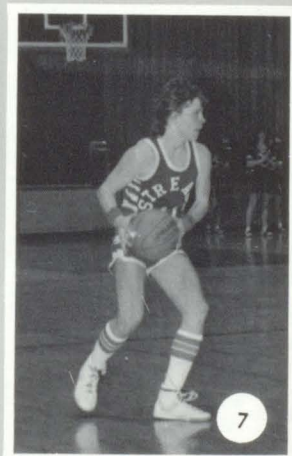

The team should come back with a strong standing next year with all the starters returning except for one.

Lady Streaks Push To Victory

The Lady Streaks, consisting of five returning lettermen, added a new coach and four new players to compile a record of 9-11 overall and 6-8 in the N.E.C. Their N.E.C. finish placed them tied with Ashtabula Harbor for fifth place. Returning were seniors Marcia Wallace, Marsha Adams, Stacy Pisor, and Val Lasko, and junior Jackie Bell. Added to the team was new coach Bob Petersen, juniors Carla Pyle, Chrissy Sutyak, and Pam Leitch and sophomore Tammy Thomas. Sophomores Janie Brown, Heather Anderson, and Lorna Dilley alternated their playing time between J.V. and Varsity. The team ran a very patient offense and scored a total of 780 points, with an average of 37 a game. Their rebounding gave them trouble at times, but the Lady Streaks averaged a respectable 26 per game. The girls' best games came against strong opponents. Beating Riverside in overtime proved to be an exciting and rewarding game for the team. One of their best performances of the season came against Conneaut, the N.E.C. champs for the past two years. The Lady Streaks shot 41% from the field and 60% from the line for their second highest point output of the season with 54. Their rebounds rose above the season average with the Streaks pulling down 33. 13 assists were dished out and 5 shots rejected. With five lettermen returning next year, the Lady Streaks are looking forward to a successful 1985-86 season.

Girls J.V. Wins

The girls Junior Varsity Basketball team finished the season with a 13-5 record. In the conference, they placed second with an 11-3 record. The team had five sophomores back from last year. The rest of the team was made up of newcomers. Also, a new addition to the team was Coach Ann Ruck. It was her first year at coaching at the high school. The year seemed to be successful. Sophomore, Heather Anderson led the team in every aspect. Following Heather in the categories were Lorna Dilley, Darlene Evans and Janie Brown. The remainder of the team also gave their share of ability.

2. Janie Brown gets ready to shoot.
3. Lorna Dilley drives to the hoop.

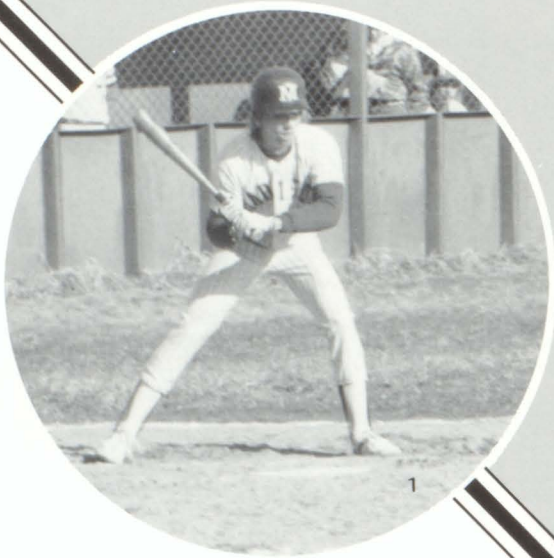

The 1984-85 Freshman season was well-played with 12 wins and 3 losses, all of which were very close games.

The team had many good athletes who were easy to work with and were willing to improve their skills in basketball. Not only were they good athletes, but their decorum on and off the court caused them to receive many compliments by other coaches as well as officials.

The student body is looking for an exciting future from these boys, and many are already on their way to being quality varsity players.

Streaks Swing Into Action

The Madison Blue Streaks Baseball team had a fair season by placing third in the Northeastern Conference. The team under the coaching of Mr. George Opron and the leadership of their team captain Larry Hall had a 11-10 overall record. The team's strong point was pitching while their weak point was batting. Tim Palinski made all NEC, and Jerry Hites and Larry Hall were awarded special mention, highlighting the season. The team's best game was against Edgewood when Edgewood had only 3 hits and there were no errors on Madison's part.

1. Tom Palinski uses his judgement and lets the ball go by.

Top "Eight" In State

Climbing the N.E.C. ladder from 5th place in 1983 to 2nd place 1984, the Varsity Girls scrapped their way to Regional Runner Ups. The Streaks advanced farther than ever before aided by seven returning Lettermen. (Seniors) Kelly Barnes, catcher; Janeane Wirfel, pitcher; and Tracy Petti, third baseman; (Juniors) Marsha Adams, shortstop; Stacy Pisor, leftfielder, Val Lasko, first baseman, rightfielder; and Amy Otterman, centerfielder. The rest of the team consisted of Sherri Hammil in the outfield, Michele Klein in the outfield, Jackie Bell at second and first base, Julie Chandler at second, Becky Crawford at 3rd and designated hitter, and Freshman Pitcher, Amy Hull.

Highlights of the season included winning the Lake County Classic; losing to Harvey and then coming back to beat them 11 to 3; winning the district game against Shaker (whom the team had lost to last year in the Districts); and beating Lancaster in Regionals, 7 to 3. They were in the top 8 in the state, (one more win would have put them in the top 4.) Beating Conneaut 16 to 15, and losing to Glen Oak for the Regional Champs were the most difficult games. The easiest game was beating West Geauga 12 to 3 in Sectionals. Coach Hance said, "I had the best girls in the school!" The team was well-disciplined, with a very strong defense. The main offense—they had to be scrappers (get on base any way they could).

Records broken during the season: The pitcher, Janeane Wirfel had a total record of 35-10 for her three years on Varsity. Senior Tracy Petti broke the R.B.I. record from 1982 with 33 to 55 in 1984. Marsha Adams, a Junior, broke the stolen base record from 1978 with 33 to 41 in 1984.

The team managed to do well in the N.E.C. drawing. The team placed four girls on the first team. The girls were Seniors, Kelly Barnes and

J.V. Determination Pays Off

JV Baseball Streaks swung into action with an overall record of six wins and four losses. Their only loss in the N.E.C. was to Geneva, and even that was a close game, lost by one point. They had an average non-conference record of two and three with wins over Mentor and Perry. Overall, they showed great promise to be a big help to the varsity squad in the future.

Defense Carries J.V. 'S

Maintaining the first place spot in the NEC, the J.V. girls used their great defense to propel their way to a 4-1 NEC and 9-2 overall record. The girls also managed a feat not accomplished in recent years. They beat the Conneaut Spartans, the team to beat, by a 14-7 score. The girls' only weakness was their hitting. A player usually needs a year to make the adjustment from slow-pitch to fast-pitch hitting.

Leading the team were Sophomore, Carla Pyle, with 21 runs scored and 20 hits, and Freshman Michele Winter, 21st 25 RBI's and a batting average of .447. Amy Hull, the team's leading pitcher, compiled a record of five wins and no losses before moving to Varsity. Back-up turned starter, Tammy Thomas ended the season with a 4-2 record.

Cinder Streaks Score Big In N.E.C.

Sprinting past N.E.C. opponents, the Cinder Streaks, with the help of superb senior sprinter Jay Davis, took a 9-2 record into the N.E.C. championship meet. Unfortunately, they fell just eight points short of capturing the N.E.C. title, something they have not done since 1975. Jay Davis, who was the N.E.C. champ at the 110m high hurdles, went on to capture first place at sectionals, second place at regionals, third at state and sixth place at the Midwest Meet of Champions. Bob Julius also had an outstanding year; he was the N.E.C. champ at pole vault and went on to qualify for regionals with a pulled cartilage in his ribs. He also broke the school record of 13ft.6 1/2 in. All in all, the Cinder Streaks earned a lot of respect in the area while they learned from their mistakes.

Girls Slaughter South!

Opening the season with a 103-24 rout over the Willoughby-South Rebels, the Girls' Track team went on to a 5-3 overall and 4-2 NEC record. The team tied for fourth place in the NEC meet.

Adding to the combination of youth and experience were ten returning lettermen. Becky Martorana, Roz Ruland, Annette Sanders, Deanna Andresen, Lori Baker, Lorie Clark, Peggy Wilson, Tammy Chaffee, Cathy Pivonka, and Chrissie Sutyak.

Becky Martorana had an outstanding season for the Streaks. Her achievements included District and Regional champ in the discus, state meet qualifier, and school record holder in the shot put and discus.

Looking forward to next year, the team would like to attain more depth in the hurdles, long jump, and high jump.

Match Point

The 1984 Madison Tennis Team, led by senior Rob Rozick, and juniors Eric Delp and Dawn Kahley, had an admirable season. In the Northeastern Conference they won ten and lost only four. Even better, overall, their record was 12 victories with just 5 defeats. Other team members included junior Nelson Paquet, sophomores Mike Higley, Jim English, junior Pat Connors, and freshman Chip Otterman. The Streaks also captured second place at the Lake County Classic. Coach Jack Higley looks forward to another good season in the spring of '85.

Golf Tees Off

The 1984 Golf Team ended its season superbly. Beating out Brush High School by two strokes, they captured fourth place in the Section, and advanced to District play. Six Madison men went to Ravenna's Windmill Lake on October 12th. Senior Nelson Paquet, junior Dean Corbissero, freshman Scott Whitehouse, junior Mike Hietanen, freshman Tom Slovik, and senior alternate, Mike Buser made a good showing, placing nineteenth in a field of twenty-one. Coach Jack Higley was very excited about the team's first ever District competition, saying it was definitely the highlight of the season. The team's overall record was 12 wins and 6 losses, and they took fourth place at the annual Lake County Classic. All in all, it was a great year for golf.

Cheerleaders "Spark The Spirit"

Senior Varsity Cheerleader Kelly Yoe receives her roses after being announced Homecoming Queen.

The Cheerleading squads are composed of girls from the Freshman class to the Senior class. Their duties are to cheer our teams to victory and to bring out spirit in the student body. Being a cheerleader calls for complete dedication, lots of practice, and a peppy personality. The cheerleaders also go to cheerleading camp in the summer to get new ideas and increase their skills. Miss Leslie Trbovich is the cheerleading sponsor. She comes to the practices and games to suggest ways to do a cheer so it will look the best. Miss Trbovich puts forth a lot of effort and time for our cheerleading squad.

Organizations

The World Is Alive With The Sounds Of Music

The Concert Band practices, under the direction of Mr. Joe Acerra, everyday. They gave concerts in which they played for the community. They had a concert on March 10 at Riverside. Throughout the year, the Concert Band had people from colleges come in and help as well as give lectures about certain instruments. From this, the Concert Band obtained more knowledge that was used in their playing.

The Stage Band is a fast, jazzy band that takes a lot of skill and ability. The Stage band also participates in the fund raisers that the other bands do. They have had a few concerts this year, one of which was when they went to Lakeland Community College for a Jazz Festival. There, they were judged according to three judges. The Madison Stage Band had to compete against high schools throughout Ohio.

The Madison Marching Band, under the direction of Mr. Joe Acerra and drum major Jeff Sandru, were very busy this year. The marching band not only played half-time at football games, but they also had concerts and festivals to attend. Being in the marching band takes a lot of practice, which is everyday, and hard work. Fund-raisers included selling pizza, cheese, and football deeds to the community. They also had a tag day in which the band members went out for donations. These profits and donations will go to new band uniforms. As one can see, being in the marching band isn't just playing an instrument.

The majorettes work with the marching band. They go to practices and do the fundraisers with the band. To be a majorette, a person must first be in Marching band for at least her freshman year. In the spring, there are tryouts to see if one can become a majorette. During the football season, the majorettes go out on the field at half-time with the marching band. There, they add color and pizzazz to the half-time show. Being a majorette takes time, dedication, and most of all, practice.

We've Got Perfect Harmony!

This year the choir underwent some changes. Mrs. Lori Eppler became the new choir director. The choir sang everyday in preparation for their upcoming concerts and events. This Christmas, the choir put on a tremendous show in which the choir sang as a whole and performed quartets and solos. They also will perform at graduation.

The Pep Band is sure to be found in the bleachers at a home basketball game. This band gets the team and crowd psyched up with all their enthusiasm and music. It takes a school-spirited person to be on the pep band since it's all volunteer work. With this dedication, the pep band supports the team through thick and thin.

Vo-Ed

Vo-Ed is a way to get education without going to college. The Vo-Ed classes are held at Auburn Career Center. The Seniors go on the bus for Auburn after second period and the Juniors leave after third period. At the end of the day to get any classes left, they come back for seventh period.

There are many areas of training at Vo-Ed. These areas are broken down into groups called VICA, VOCATIONAL INDUSTRIAL CLUBS OF AMERICA, and OEA, Office Education Association. The groups raise money by selling kits and other merchandise. These students have a trade for when they graduate and may receive many outstanding recommendations for their work. After learning their trade well, the students may wish to participate in state and local contests to show off their abilities. Vo-Ed students learn an occupation and trade that may stay with them for the rest of their lives.

Dawn Black is one of the many Madison Students that go to the Vocational School.

Larry Skock, Nathan Pyle, Dave Riversi, Greg Mola-han, Charlie Barnicoat and Brian Sabo attend Vo-Ed for Senior Machine Trade.

National Honor Society Builds Character

The 1984-5 National Honor Society had an eventful year. As a fund-raiser, the group helped out the Athletic Booster Club again by setting up for Monday night Bingo. They also held a popcorn sale in January. The reward for all this work was a trip to Toronto before commencement. In the Canadian city, the students visited the CN Tower (the world's tallest building), the Ontario Science Centre, and several museums. The annual induction ceremony was held in March to accept the new junior and senior members into the club. Under the guidance of Miss Kathy Jackson, students wrote speeches on the four qualities of National Honor Society members: scholarship, leadership, character, and service. The 1984-85 NHS officers included Marjana Zupcan, President; Jim Gum, Vice-President; and Connie Proud, Secretary/Treasurer. Members also helped out by taping children's books for the learning disability classes.

Model UN Represents The World

The Model United Nations is a new club at Madison High this year. Along with their adviser, Mr. Jim Deering, the group participated in several events. At the end of February, they traveled to New York City. Here they toured the U.N. Building and met with various missions such as Nicaragua, Egypt, and Israel. Later, the students visited Chinatown and the Empire State Building. In March, a three-day session was held at Kent State University's Ashtabula branch along with sixteen other North-Eastern Ohio schools. The purpose of the Model U.N. is to understand world affairs and to promote international peace.

Student Council Succeeds Again

Student Council experienced many changes in 1984-85. A new adviser, Mrs. Donna Sabo, former School Board President, took command. Each class still has three officers (President, Vice President, and Secretary/Treasurer) and up to eight representatives. But now, the Council itself has officers, one from each class. Student Council President is senior John Kurila; Vice President is junior Mike Santarelli, and Secretary/Treasurer, sophomore Jenny Thompson. As a service organization, the Council co-sponsored a canned food drive at Thanksgiving for the poor families. They also sponsored a computer dating service to raise money for a spring dance.

Computer Club Gets Down to B.A.S.I.C.S

Computer Club consists of students in the Computer Science classes. They learn BASIC programming on the Apple 2e computers and create their own games. Again this year, Mr. Jim Pelich is the adviser. To

Drama Shows "Spirit"

1984-85's Drama Club performed Noel Coward's Blithe Spirit as their fall production. The play was set in Charles Condomine's house in Kent, England, in an unknown time. When Charles invites Madame Marcati over to have a seance, the trouble begins. His first wife is conjured up from the spirit world, much to the despair of his second wife, Ruth, who cannot see the ghost. The play starred Ron Griffin, Lisa Spano, Suzie Barto, Dana Hudec, Mark Lavergne, Vicki Reed, and Jenny

Thompson. Directed by Miss Kathy Jackson, the comedy was a great success. Other students who helped out with the play included Rae Laufenburger (stage manager), Maria Ashton (sound), Melanie Shemkunas and Barb Teleha (lights), Nora Masterson and Jennifer Schnaible (set), and Dawn Kahley and Marjana Zupcsan (house managers). The spring play, You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown, was directed by Mrs. George Ann MacLellan.

Premiere Year For French Club

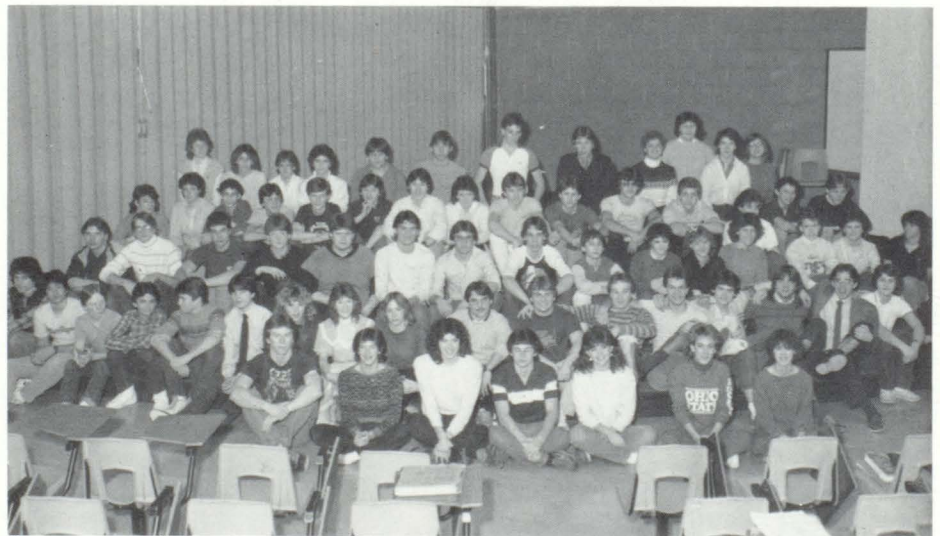

1985 brings with it a new language club to MHS. The French club, advised by Mrs. Ruth Ann Strother, brings competition to the German Club. The French Club is open to students in grades 9 thru 12 with the prerequisite of being enrolled in a French class. The French Club, so far, has had a bonfire and has gone on a ski trip to Alpine Valley with the other language departments.

The German Club this year has gone on a field trip to The Cleveland Museum of Art and after, dined at the Haufbrau House. It also went on a ski trip to Alpine Valley with the other language departments. The acting advisor of the German Club is Mr. Donald Strother.

Teen Institute Sets Example

Teen Institute or T.I. as it is known is a group of caring students who try to fight chemical abuse and promote having fun without drugs or alcohol. T.I. meets twice a month and quite often holds "emergency" meetings during school. The members also occasionally attend retreats during the weekend.

The President of T.I. is Beth Howes, the Vice-president is Amy Fraley, Trish Nicholson, Secretary and Joe Acerra, Treasurer. Mrs. Beverly Lee is the group's advisor.

Local S.A.D.D. Chapter Begins Fight Against Driving Drunk

Madison High School students with the advisory of Mr. Frank Haibach opened their local S.A.D.D. (Students Against Drunk Driving) chapter this year. The primary purpose of this nationwide organization is to combat driving drunk.

The students raise money for S.A.D.D. through dances and donations from local businesses. Five representatives from Madison's S.A.D.D. chapter attended a convention at the Richfield Coliseum to learn about S.A.D.D. methods.

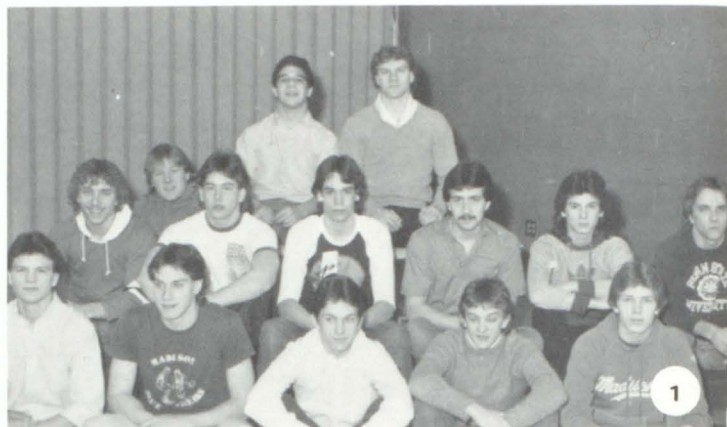

Student Clubs Help Out

Key Club is back in its second year at Madison High and going strong with thirty members. Their adviser, Dr. McHugh, a local dentist, stresses that the club's purpose is to promote leadership and to do community service. Members are chosen from all four classes. Key Club is the first step in Kiwanis. The second is college, the third, community.

G.I.R.L.S. Club celebrates its twentieth year in '85. Created during the 1964-65 school year as a service organization, G.I.R.L.S. stands for Generosity, Industry, Responsibility, Leadership, and Service. Their adviser is Mr. Leitch. The club officers include Becky Garbark, President, and Theresa Sency, Secretary/Treasurer.

Accomplishing The Impossible

Publishing one book with fifteen people is a very difficult job, but the 1984-85 Cauldron staff did it. Many people do not realize how much work is involved in making lay-outs, writing copy, and writing captions. Contrary to popular belief, publishing a yearbook is an aggravating task. We started the year off trying to sell ads to pay for the book. Rae Laufenburger, editor of the yearbook, really appreciated the help and support that the staff provided. Rae said, "I couldn't have done it without you." This yearbook stands above previous books in that we added new sections, such as "Hot off the Press." This year's photography was greatly improved with three photographers on staff to catch many more unforgettable times. Tim Gervan, a senior, always seemed to be in the right place at the right time; thus, he took a ton of great shots. Needless to say, photography is his hobby. On the whole, the Cauldron staff enjoyed putting the book together for the students. The memories are precious.

1. Adam Stephens throws a devilish look toward the camera.
2. Yearbook Sales boomed to over 700 this year.
3. Yearbook staff members Tammy Thomas and Pam Leitch look over pictures for the book with adviser, Mrs. Jill Bangarter.
4. Julie Bavetz, John Crockett, George Hollister and Todd Fisher are surprised to find out that their deadline is up and coming.

Success Isn't Easy !

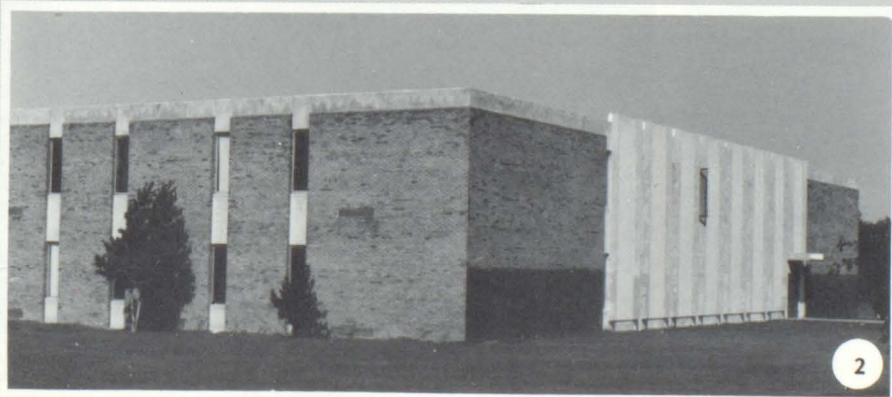

There are just over 1300 students that attend Madison High. The students pictured here don't just go to school, they work at it. Though they are all very intelligent, it isn't brains that get one good grades, it's determination. These students work hard at most everything they do. Granted, some classes are a "breeze" for them, but one could hardly call Physics, Calculus, and Honors English a breeze, especially all in one semester!

Many of these students are also in-involved in other activities besides school. Some hold a job, are in a sport, and/or participate in clubs such as National Honor Society, Key Club, GIRLS Club, German Club, Computer Club, Student Council, and the Model U. N.

It isn't just grades that make a person deserving of honors, it's effort. Unfortunately, we cannot picture all of the people that try so hard, for there are many. No, success isn't easy, some people just make it look like it is!

1.) (top right-) Achieving 4.0 grade point averages at printing time are Val Lasko and Toni Zimcosky. Marjana Zupscan is not pictured. 2.) Editorial: The Unpopular Decision

Seniors had a big disappointment this year. In years past, it had been a tradition for the Seniors to get out two weeks before the rest of the classes. From this year on, the seniors will have to stay in school until the end. This policy was a result of the requirement of the State Superintendent of Schools. Another requirement is that high school students must be in school five and one-half hours each day to be considered a full-time student. After January 22, 1985, there were no more permanent early dismissals until after 12:50.

The major feeling of the Seniors was that it was stupid and there was really no sense in enforcing it this year. This year, they had their schedules made to get early dismissals, but then they were forced to sit in studyhall. If they had been forewarned, they could have had their schedules changed, but they were stuck.

*Prestige And Honor
Surround Coach
Melin*

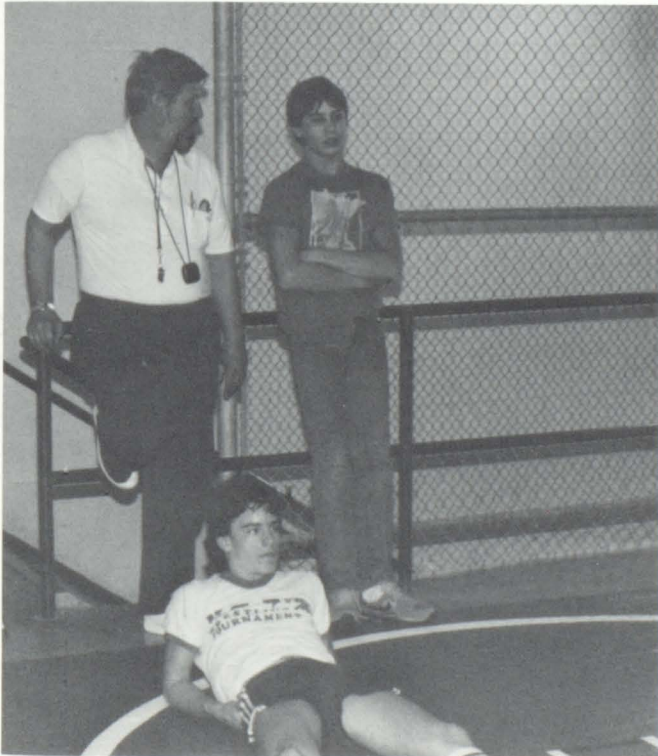

On behalf of the student body, the Yearbook staff would like to take this opportunity to honor Mr. Gene Melin. As head coach of the Varsity Wrestling team, he has led the Streak matmen to six consecutive NorthEastern Conference titles. On March 16, 1985, he was inducted into the Wrestling Coaches' Hall of Fame. It is a great honor for both him and the school.

Mr. Melin began coaching in 1963, when "nobody else would take the job." He learned about the sport from reading and a lot of practice. But even as a rookie, his first few seasons were commendable. After six years, the team's total record was forty-two wins and only twenty-two losses. The following five years, his teams went undefeated, encompassing an astounding fifty straight victories. Surprisingly enough, Coach Melin never wrestled in high school. He went to Edgewood High, and the school did not have a wrestling program while he attended.

Presently, Mr. Melin's son wrestles for Geneva. Thus, he gets to see his son in action but rarely. He hopes to buy a video recorder in order to tape the matches. He does, however, give his son pointers on the sport.

Coach Melin is very fair about his wrestlers. When asked to name his better competitors, he replied, "I don't try to single out anyone, but there have been quite a few."

Congratulations, Mr. Melin, and good luck in the future years.

2. Breaking the surface of the water, Keith Smith shows the strength and stamina it takes to perform the butterfly.

Madison High School has a new edition to their athletic program this year: the swim team.

Last year, Robin Stauffer began a petition of students that would swim for Madison. Quite a few students signed up, and due to the persistence of Robin Stauffer, Madison now has a swim team. This year's swim team is very promising with many young swimmers that are already looking forward to the future.

Led by co-captains Keith Smith, George Hollister, Kelly Siperke and Robin Stauffer, the team improved dramatically during its first season. Other swimmers who also made a large contribution to a strong starting season were Bill Putzke, Mark Wilcoxon, Chip Otterman, Guy Smallwood and Marc Koski, for the boys' team and Carrie Satterfield, Shanna Kreigmont, Lisa Pierce and Melanie Shemkunas for the girls' team. All the swimmers contributed with their talent, making it a fantastic season. The team's size with approximately twenty boys and twenty-five girls also helped clinch the meets; all the swimmers bettered their times throughout the season.

The boys' and girls' teams (with two meets left at printing) are planning on finishing up the season with a 500 record with the boys 5-5 and the girls 3-3, which is a very respectable start during a first season where they swam a very difficult schedule.

Their coach, Mrs. Terry Crow, is originally from New York, where she swam both in high school and college.

On Monday, November 5, 1984, Dennis Eckart came to Madison High to talk to the senior class. He addressed many issues of concern to himself as well as to the twelfth graders. Mr. Eckart, our eleventh district Congressman, visited on the day before his reelection. A panel of students was chosen to ask him questions after his presentation. Mary Dilley, Kent Smetters, Becky Upole, and Amy Zoldak asked the Congressman about such interesting subjects as abortion, the deficit, and women in politics.

The first item Eckart addressed was the biggest, most crucial problem in the 11th district: unemployment. In Ashtabula County, twenty percent of the population does not work. Eckart is currently involved in writing a proposal to bring more industry and thus, more jobs, to our area.

When questioned on abortion, our Congressman presented a complex view. It seems our district is composed mainly of Italian Catholic women. Taking this fact into consideration, Mr. Eckart's political view of abortion is pro-choice. He feels if the mother's life is endangered by her pregnancy or if she was raped, aborting the baby is a plausible choice. His own personal opinion is anti-abortion. He feels that abortion is not quite the black/white issue it seems.

On the subject of women in politics, Mr. Eckart's views are quite clear. He is a good friend of Geraldine Ferraro and supported her wholeheartedly in her race for the Vice-Presidency. It's not an issue, he said, of whether or not she wins. It's that she is a pioneer - the first woman to ever receive a nomination from a major party in a Presidential race. Eckart was also questioned about the possibility of Jeanne Kirkpatrick, the United State's ambassador to the United Nations, running as Reagan's Vice President. There are two reasons why she would not be a suitable candidate. First, Mrs. Kirkpatrick's area of interest is foreign policy. Her background is too narrow for her to be second in command. Second, Vice President George Bush is highly popular and experienced. In fact, both Mondale and Ms. Ferraro's chances in the election did not look good. Ronald Reagan's popularity overwhelmed the Democrats. In the electoral college, they won only one state. Dennis Eckart also talked about the draft registration, which he feels is unnecessary, the deficit, which must be controlled before it gets out of hand, and his parents, who live here in Madison. He favors lowering the drinking age. All in all, the Congressman made a good impression on the senior class.

Perry Profile is a group of juniors and seniors from Perry High School dedicated to helping other teens to face their problems. On October 4, 1984, the seven, (from

The group prepared skits rather than a lecture for the classes. Each skit was left open-ended so that the audience could draw its own conclusion. During their weekly activity periods at school, the group talks out problems, discusses solutions, and prepares the skits. It takes a lot of research—they call lawyers, doctors, and other professionals for information. Any controversial subject is fair game for Perry Profile. Other than alcohol and drugs, they deal with teen pregnancy, grades, love and infatuation, and parents.

Perry Profile's first public performance was their trip to Madison. They hope to return in the spring, since freshman health is a semester class, to talk to a new group of students. "I feel that with us doing what we're doing, we learn as well as teach," Becky Tharp said. Summing it up, she concluded, "I find myself caring about what other people are doing with their lives."

Why did seniors dress up for Halloween? Because they're seniors, that's why! Seniors agree it's a time to laugh at themselves and friends. "We enjoy dressing up and being crazy- that's what Halloween is for," explains Chris Carabotta. Ernie Sigler wanted to show off his legs when he dressed up as Peter Pan. Mike Mills always wanted to be a cheerleader. Halloween is also a time to get friends together as John Josza, Scott Stewart, Shaun Sill, Duke Dipofi, and Bill Fedele did. They were known as the Mofia, with Bill Fedele as their leader, the Godfather, and the rest were his bodyguards. The Mofia walked down the halls knowing nobody would mess with them. All in all, Halloween was a new and successful experience.

When Christmas rolls around in Madison, the excitement is uncontrollable. Both students and teachers get caught up in the spirit of peace, giving, and especially Santa. 1984's Santa, Adam Stephens, had a great time harrassing the faculty and posing with students on December 14th, the last Friday of classes before vacation. The math department hung its Christmas tree from the ceiling of the "McIntyre Wing" (otherwise known as the math office). The teachers decorated the tree with flashcards, paper rulers, protractors, and other arithmetic paraphernalia. The senior class put a large, if not healthy, tree in the courtyard and decorated it, in line with tradition.

You Can't Fight Fashion

The new word in fashion this year is "neon". Sunglasses are no longer just a fad, but a necessity in shielding one's eyes from glaring yellow, orange, and green sweatshirts, sweaters, and socks. Jewelry has also taken a new 'twist'. Telephone cord type necklaces and bracelets are all the craze.

There are always the old stand-bys: concert T's, jeans, and the still popular preppy look. Many people insist on being individuals and dress to suit their own tastes. They are the trend-setters, or maybe they're just weird, who knows? But no matter how one dresses, it's always fun to see just how different people can be!

1. Pins are in no matter what they say.
2. Mr. Sater has a lot of friends, including a couple of animals.
3. Heath Wells shows off his 'individuality'.
4. Bob Baker thinks leather is cool.

6. The past comes to life with Jim Durant conveying a message of love and peace..

From Start To Finish

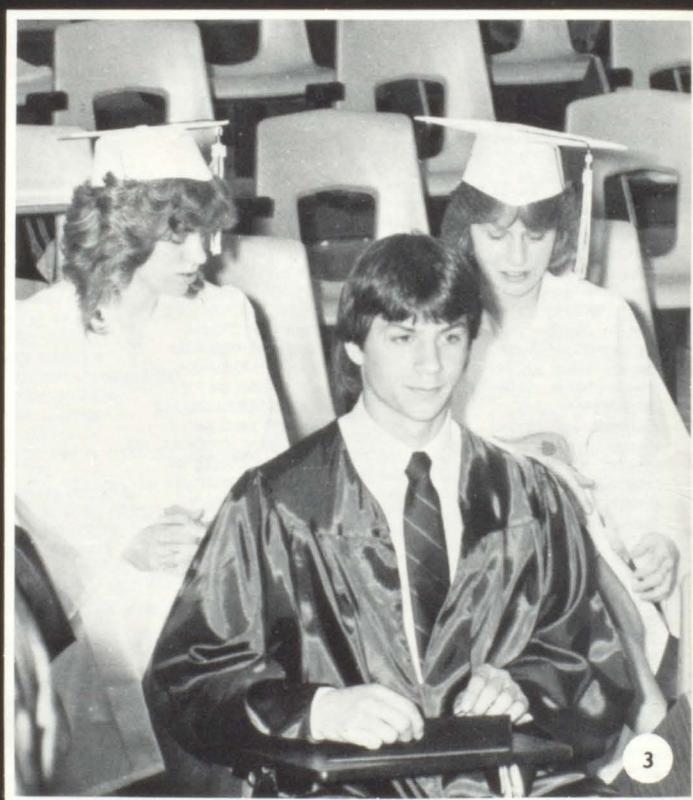

The year has come to an end with 1984 quietly sliding out and the nation settling into 1985. In the news, Ronald Reagan was elected into his second term of the presidency, and the Supreme Court ruled on a controversial law so school administration can now search students with reasonable suspicion.

Locally, at Madison High School the outlook on education has changed. Seniors are required to stay in school longer. This year's Sophomores need 18 credits to graduate and the Freshmen need 20, along with a few new required courses.

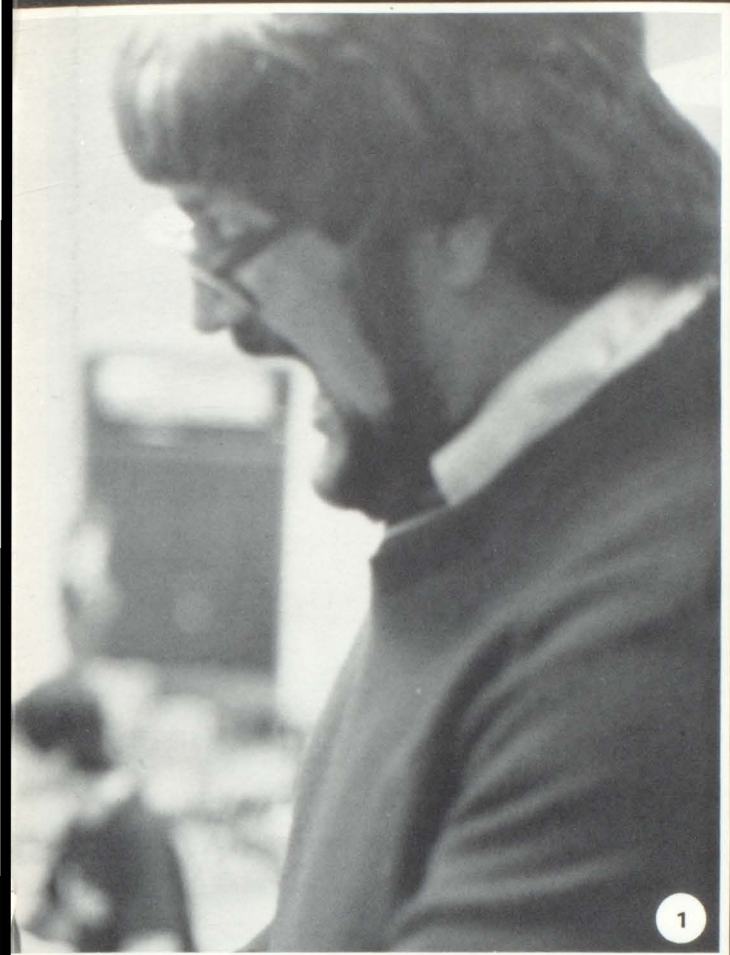

The main theme of this year's yearbook has been focused on change. There've been a lot of changes, a few firsts some old traditions broken and some new ones started. Let's hope most of these changes have been for the better. Whether you are graduating this year or looking forward to another three years at MHS, change plays a big part in your life. It helps to set your outlook for the day, year, and maybe even longer, the rest of your life.
