During your high school years, you go through a number of changes. Most of these changes deal with the factor of maturity. Freshmen come to the high school totally unaware of how the school operates, and by the time they've reached their senior year, the entire high school situation has become so familiar that it is difficult to break free of the routine behavior that they have developed. All through high school, you become more mature, but the final step is when you no longer have high school and must grow away from that which you have grown so accustomed to. Even though everyone in high school is very different, each goes through the separation from this and is thrust into the real world. Hopefully, this transition will be smooth for all. If so, then high school can be considered a successful experience.

When you look back at this book, you will realize the unimportance of specific events and view the value of high school as an experience in growth. It is the prelude to the rest of your life and, although it is one of life's great joys, all should remember that there is much to look forward to in the rest of your days. In the end, everyone is the same with the same chance for success. Everyone must set his goals high and work hard to accomplish them.

Seniors Enjoy Final Year

Finally, seniors have arrived at the moment for which they have been preparing for twelve long years. Being a senior means having the best year of all. It is filled with parties, laughter, and good times with friends. It means finally being able to exert power over the underclassmen. But with becoming a senior comes the facing of the real world. Decisions about post-graduation plans must be made. Some choose college, others choose the armed forces. Those who are undecided may just work after high school. But whatever the course they choose, they all realize that when graduation comes, they will be ending a part of their lives and starting a new one that is even more exciting and challenging. By entering the adult world, seniors face the chore of saying good-bye to their high school friends. What these friends must realize is that they will never be forgotten because memories will last a lifetime. All in all, the cherished memories of high school and friends will stay with them as they venture into the "real world."

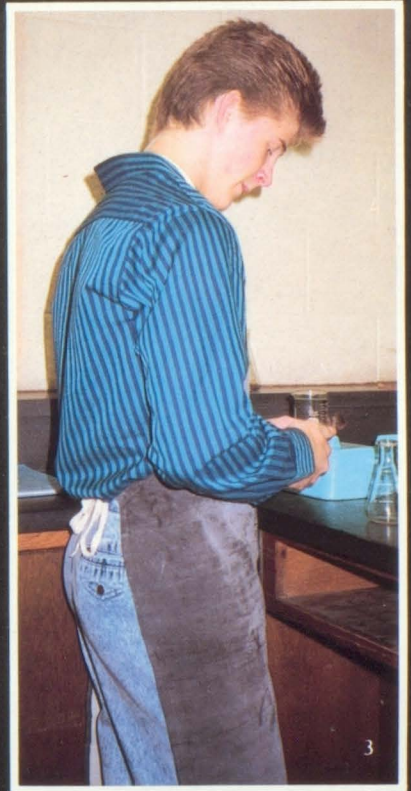

1. Michelle Fry and Jenny Eddie show enthusiasm about their friendship.
2. Kelly Cohagan takes a sneak preview of the Streak's first issue.

Making The Grade

The whole high school experience is made up of two areas: academics and social development. Out of these two, the biggest and most important area, is the academics. Although many students do not yet realize it, the main reason for being in high school is to learn. It is the preparation for our journey into the "real world." For freshmen, their basic classes, consisting of Algebra, World Cultures, a science and English, give them just a taste of what is to come in their sophomore and junior years. Then, as students start to mature into their second and third year of high school, they are faced with classes that are the basis for their upcoming senior year. After the obstacles are finally met, students begin to prepare for college or other post-graduation plans as they venture into their senior year by taking such classes as Calculus, Physics, and Government. Finally, seniors realize that by taking these classes, they are studying for their future and preparing for new challenges.

1. Mr. Roy Winfield goes over homework with his fifth period Chemistry class.
2. Mr. Jim Deering helps his students prepare for a World Cultures test.

New Looks

Madison High School students entered this year with many different styles and types of hair cuts. The way someone wears his or her hair can say much about their personality. Some people had long hair, some short, some colored, some shaved, some designed. The vast variety of hair styles just goes to show the many different tastes of M.H.S.'s students.

1. With lines on the side, Jack Clause has a different haircut.

Friendships Working

The emotions of friendship play a major role at Madison High School. It is a feeling of trust for some people, and for others it is loyalty, but no matter what qualities permit those special to be friends, the emotions bring a familylike atmosphere to the school. Friendship is much more than an acquaintance. It is a special bond that, in some cases, will last a lifetime. Without friends, the school can be a rough and lonely place to attend. A friend can pick a person up out of a slump, make him or her smile after a bad day, and help out through the worst of times. School gives people the opportunity to learn and grow with their friends. This helps them to become closer and more sensitive to their individual needs.

1. Nichole Renick and Missy Francis embrace each other in friendship while posing for the picture.
2. Greg Cocca, Kevin McInerney, Tom Slovick, Bob Sutyak, Brian Hegland, Trevor Tagliamonte, Mike Ribblett, and Rich Hall team together to discuss their goals after High School.

4. Rebecca Jersey and Joanne Smoot, while in conversation, stop for moment for the photographer.

Pursuing A Dream

Over the past years, several students have participated in some sort of sports activity. Their participation in sports gives them a feeling of accomplishment, self-worth, and school pride. It gives them a chance to show their talent and to be the best they can be. The athletes spend a great deal of time and energy at practice so they can obtain their goals for themselves and the team. The athletes go through many disappointments but still pursue their dreams of being on a sports team. Some students participate in sports to prepare them for the college level, to get in shape, or to give themselves a boost of confidence, but for whatever the reason, the athletes can still show their pride and spirit by their involvement in school sports.

Experience Through Work

Working after school is a daily routine for most high school students. Students work for several reasons, one of which is economic need. College bound students need to save for tuition. Others whose parents are laid off work to supply money for their families. Some work solely for extra spending money, buying tapes, clothes, and fuel. A few students work to gain experience for future career goals.

Maintaining a job has pay-offs. Besides earning money, working gives a person a sense of responsibility. When working, a person learns the importance of being punctual. A person must be competent and aware of his or her duties. A person also learns how to handle pressure and to deal with stressful situations. Working, thus, may also be a growth experience.

This year's nomination of most school spirit goes to seniors Rob Booth and Gina Leone. Gina feels that she has put forth the effort and time to increase the spirit of the school as a whole. She has accomplished this by being a cheerleader for the past four years. "It's important to have spirit, and a school's reputation depends on it." Rob was also asked how he felt about this award. "I was surprised to receive this award." It is clearly evident that the school has prospered from the efforts of Rob and Gina.

The Senior Class of "88" decided upon Darren Corbissero and Shannon Kriegmont as the most fashion conscious students in our class. Shannon commented, "I think people just think I'm weird, so they decided it was fashion conscious." Darren responded. "I just buy the clothes that are sold in decent stores." Although each was voted most fashion conscious, Shannon dresses in her own unique style, while Darren dresses a little more on the conservative side. This exemplifies the many different ways students at MHS dress.

Eric on the other hand, replied, "I hope they take this into account when they nominate me for my Emmy."

This year's honor of being nominated "most artistic" belongs to Kari Ashton and Matt Biscotti. When Kari was asked how she felt about this award, she responded, "I was really surprised that I won most artistic. I like to think I'm following in my dad's footsteps." Following in her "dad's footsteps," she plans to major in art education at Ohio University. Matt Biscotti was completely taken back when he found out he won. "I think I won by default!" Matt plans to attend the University of Cincinnati as undecided, but he's thinking of a career in art.

The two most humorous students in the senior class this year were Dan Skelly and Tippi Cooper. Both were usually seen laughing or with a smile on their faces. Tippi commented on her selection: "I was happy that people thought I was funny. I guess that things just sort of come out." Dan replied with his usual good natured grin, "I was glad to see that Madison High School had a good sense of humor." Both of these students are very much enjoyed by the others, and it is a pleasure to be around them.

It was attended by many people from the community and was a success.

The Stage Band plays Jazz and Old Rock melodies such as songs like "String of Pearls" and "Just the Way You Are"

For the Christmas season, the Choir went to NEO Hospital and sang Christmas Carols down the hallways. That same night they went across the street to Madison Place and went door to door there.

Teamwork Produces Excellence

For the third consecutive year, Mr. Frank Ashton and the eighteen member Streak staff continued to produce our school newspaper. The newspaper won two national awards for its outstanding workmanship. The newspaper consisted of nine editions. Each one sold for only a quarter. The staff ordered 500 copies of each edition. After the printed copies were sold, very few were left over. When asked about the newspaper, Mr. Ashton replied, "I'm very pleased with its reception and quality." The staff's teamwork and dedication were what made it such a great paper.

The newspaper is important to school spirit. It keeps the students informed of school events while at the same time it provides a source of fun and entertainment. # Christmas Time Rocks

On Saturday, December 5, 1987, the Mistletoe Ball got underway. In the morning, Student Council worked on decorations for the dance. They furnished free cookies and sold pop. Around 7:45, the MHS cafeteria began to fill and students started to dance to a professional D.J. Overall, the students had a fun time and would like to thank Student Council for putting on such a successful dance.

1. Seniors, Kevin McInerney, Doug Knauf, Curt Warren, Ted Pennoyer, and Paul Siperke enjoy their last Mistletoe Ball.

2. Julie Naughton and Jack Muzzio share a humorous time at Mistletoe Ball.

3. Brad Knauf and Mike Masters seem to be confused about the meaning "Mistletoe."

4. Chris Robishaw, Tom Evans, Dan Skelly, Ben Huck, Sylvio Pellegrino, Cindy Finch, Matt Mead and Amy Grist stop dancing to pose for the camera.

Spooks Emerge At M.H.S.

The tradition of dressing up in a Halloween costume was, once again, followed through by many students this year. The school day turned out to be, as usual, very interesting. A good time was had by all as each person enjoyed the creativity and good humor with which the costumes were conceived.

1. Michelle Smith and Laura Varga show off their Halloween costumes.
2. John Davis decided to dress up as a Transvestite this year for Halloween.
3. Andy Stambaugh, as the Church Lady, opens lunch with a prayer. Now isn't that special?

People say that the junior year is most difficult in all your high school years. In your junior year, most students take more challenging courses such as Chemistry and Algebra II. A very select few take Trigonometry when they are juniors.

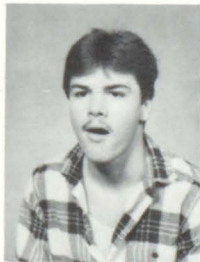

As juniors, more students find it necessary to do better in school because most colleges analyze your junior year.

Students also start thinking on what career field they want to enter. Many students in their junior year take the PSAT test to prepare for the SAT or the ACT which juniors take in the spring.

The college entrance tests are essential for college entrance. These and much more make the junior year the hardest.

Moving Forward

This year's Junior class is realizing how fast the past three years have gone. They think back to the time when they were just freshmen and barely getting along in school. They had to adjust to the new scheduling and the different environment surrounding them. Next came their sophomore year, which was better because many looked forward to their class rings. Getting their rings made them feel more like a part of the school and gave them more school spirit. Many also received their driver's license, and some also went out into the world and started working to get extra spending money. But now, the junior year has arrived and the junior must start making decisions on which colleges to attend by preparing for the SAT and ACT tests.

Sports Thrill

If you have ever been to a varsity game of any kind, you know how exciting it can be, especially the thrill of playing the game instead of watching it. Everyone knows how painful it can be to sit and watch a game from the sidelines, and this is the year when juniors get their first opportunity to play in the game instead of being a spectator. Some of the advantages of being on varsity are the excitement of having a championship team, or of being highly recognized in your own school and others. Other advantages can be going to districts, regionals, and finally to the state level, which is a great accomplishment alone or as a team. The competition on a varsity team can be very enticing, and it takes a good athlete to accept the challenge.

Class Officers

The 1987- '88 Junior class officers: President- Rob Hudson; Vice-President - Carla Andrikanich; and Secretary/ Treasurer- Julie Bukky. The officers, along with eight representatives from each grade, make up Madison High School's Student Council. Student Council meets every other Wednesday morning before school. The Student Council officers' responsibilities are to show leadership and establish good examples for their respective class members. Student Council is under the guidance of their advisor, Mrs. Donna Sabo. The Junior class representatives are Mrs. Carol Boback and Mrs. Jean Gesdorf. Together, they have advised the junior class in making decisions concerning the Jr.- Sr. Prom and other upcoming events. The junior class has sold candy as a fund raiser to pay for Prom's expenses. The Officers' main goals this year are to help everyone show their school spirit by becoming involved in the school's activities.

Business Educates

When looking for career building skills of a way to perk up basic knowledge on business related topics, Madison High's business Department is a good place to start. Courses are offered for personal use, such as, Typing and Salesmanship. These personal courses affect almost every student. The average student takes at least one business course, thus enabling this business department to aid most of the student body. At the same time, other courses are offered with the goal of establishing a career. The Intensive Office Education course handles most of these classes, which are job oriented studies. These courses are taken three hours daily by those involved. The department strengths are the variety of courses offered and the different way each can help the future of the student's education.

Also in our school is the OWA program which is geared toward students in ninth and tenth grade who plan on attending Auburn Career Center. The program allows them to have school courses, work, and hold jobs at the same time. This enables them to further their future prospects.

Write For Future Success

Last year marked the beginning of a new program focusing on the building of composition skills in students of all grade levels. The State of Ohio is making composition competency a mandatory effort for all schools. By 1990, a working system must be installed to insure the proper education of writing skills which are essential for future success. Madison High School started ahead of most surrounding schools. At the freshman level, the students dealt with single paragraph compositions. A district-wide competency writing was given to all sophomores. Juniors were taught the assessment of printed material along with multi-paragraph essays that support a thesis. Persuasive essays and literary criticisms were the focus of Senior English. This program progressed well, and permanent files were kept with all students' writings so faculty can review old errors and note improvements. This system was introduced to help the student identify his problem and improve the quality of the paper he or she writes. This was a positive step toward future success in each student.

A Program To Be Proud Of

Many things are incorporated into science, and the separate fields are ever changing. All science teachers on the MHS staff have kept up with changes by furthering their education. During the summer and during the school they have attended workshops, seminars, and they have taken additional classes to enhance their knowledge. For this reason, they have kept up with the constant changes in science, thereby bettering the education of Madison High School students. They are all experienced teachers and are very adept at teaching their subjects. Combining this new knowledge with the teachers' expertise and experience, they combine to make a strong department the Madison community can be proud of.

Fun With Numbers

This year's math department kept busy adding things up. They tried to stress the importance of math in a person's everyday life. For example, math will help in the financial area of paying bills, balancing a budget, and determining how much money will be left over at the end of the month.

This year there was one particular problem the department had to defeat. This was the overcrowding of students in math classes. Overcrowding cuts down on the one-to-one relationship the teacher tries to develop with the student. With the continuous hard work of the teachers, they had no difficulty defeating the overcrowding problem.

Students Learn Past And Current Events

History classes are teaching past and current events to the student body. Some of these teachers are reinforcing individual rights and democracy because this year marks the 200th anniversary of the Constitution. "This is really important to stress to the student body," says Mr. Bill Angle. The history courses include World History, American History, Government, Social Studies, World Cultures, and World Geography. All of these classes help the student to better understand the world.

Art Lays Foundations

This year's art program offered a variety of courses, ranging from Art Foundations and Drawing to Jewelry and Painting. A range of materials was also used. For a fee, students were offered a choice of everything from ink and paints to wax casting, metals, and lapidary stones.

Senior Art Jewelry was another class available for seniors who needed an art credit for college. This course required a full year and was a combination of hands-on and art appreciation. Art was taught by Mr. Frank Ashton.

Students Learn Culture

Language students were offered an opportunity to understand the culture of other lands. French, German, and Spanish were the three languages offered to the students at Madison High School. In charge of all three French classes was Mrs. RuthAnn Strother. The school's only German teacher, Mr. Don Strother, instructed all German classes, and Mrs. Karen Battes took charge of Spanish I, II, and III.

Skills For Life

Students who take shop and or Home-Ec can learn many new skills that will be useful later on in life. Under the direction of Mrs. Patti Ashton, Mrs. Betty Jean Green, and Mrs. JoAnn McMahon, students in the Home-Ec department can, among other things, learn how to cook and sew. In the shop department, Mr. Jack Becka, Mr. Bob Peterson, and Mr. Fred Morrison instruct their students in the art of drafting, woods, and metals. With these newly learned skills, students are given a strong foundation for whichever direction they choose after high school.

Students Learn Good Health

The physical and mental health of high school students depends highly on the gym and health courses instructed by Mr. Gene Melin, Mr. Steve Trivisonno, Mrs. Linda Pavesich, and Mr. Mark Oravec. Health and physical education are both semester courses required at the freshman level. Physical education is also required as a sophomore.

While in gym, students can release some of the stresses of a day at school and at the same time learn the skills necessary for such sports as volleyball, basketball, soccer, softball, and kickball.

Concert Band Ends Successfully

The 1987-1988 Madison High School Concert Band, directed by Mr. Joseph Acerra, had another fantastic year. The band played in many small concerts and had fun doing it. Being in Concert Band requires discipline and a lot of enthusiasm. The band played many difficult pieces and enjoyed their year in Concert Band. They are looking forward to coming back for another exciting year.

Band Strives For Perfection

The 1987-1988 Symphonic Band was under the direction of Mr. Joseph Acerra and Mr. Ben Soriano. Each class picked their own officers, and this year's Band Officers were: (the Senior class) Cheryl Piks and Tina Stapleton; (The Junior Class) Natalie Stollings and Greg Upole; (The Sophomore Class,) Mike Young and Angela Wang; (The Freshman Class) Beth Billington and Brian Bosworth. The band had an exceptionally exciting season and enjoyed their year in the Marching Symphonic Band.

Seniors Gain Experience

Auburn Career Center is a very worthwhile program to be involved in. For students taking courses at Auburn, opportunity abounds. Not only can students learn valuable trade skills, but they can also earn high school credit while they're doing it. With the help of Auburn Career Center, students are ensured some sort of skills that will be very helpful in their quest for a successful vocation after graduation.

Vo-Ed

Auburn Career Center gives Juniors the opportunity to choose between a full high school schedule or going to a vocational school. While attending Auburn, students can learn a great many skills such as cosmetology, stenography, building maintenance, autobody, welding, electronics, and communications. Auburn is composed of two main parts: OEA, Office Education Association, and VICA, Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. The students are required to have a period of class study time and a period of lab work where they put their skills to work. Through DCT, Diversified Co-operative Training, students gain actual job experience. These are jobs that the community has to offer. Auburn students should be proud of their work. They are well deserving of a pat on the back.

Admin. Sets Standards

Madison High School's principal, Mr. Robert Leitch, and his Administration stressed a more positive attitude for the students and faculty this year.

Miss Sally Phillips, the Dean of students, showed the desire to provide help to kids who needed and wanted it. She encouraged Madison's athletes to become one large team, and more spirit and enthusiasm were generated.

All in all, Madison's Administration is looking forward to a very promising year during which Madison's students will reap the benefits M.H.S. has to offer.

Sophs. Lead

Student council makes very important decisions concerning the student's interests. These include raising money towards the Christmas Basket for the needy Family Program, and assisting in the collection of the United Way monies and canned goods for the food ministry. This is why being an officer of Student Council is such an honor. Sophomore class officers for this year were Jenny Stossel, president; Robin Wheeler, vice-president, and Deena McBride, secretary-treasurer. To become an officer, all three had to first have a petition signed by twenty-five of their classmates. After becoming an officer, their main goal was to plan as many exciting extra-curricular activities as they could. Some of these activities included the Mistletoe Ball and the Spring Project.

Sophomore Friends Are Forever!

Having made it through their first year of high school, students who have come back are now called sophomores. Sophomores are a peculiar breed, often lost in the shuffle between the hectic life of a freshman and the more responsibility-oriented seniors. However, most of them manage to get through with a little help from their friends. Friends play a major role in high school life from academics to sports to social life. In today's society, a friend is one of the most valuable things a teenager could have, especially if he or she is a sophomore going to Madison High School.

Sophomores Step Up

Being a sophomore means that a freshman can now step up in the social life and be respected by his or her classmates. Upper classmen may invite them to parties and include them in many after-school activities. The sophomore is able to get recognized more and are picked on less. During the year the student may turn sixteen and obtain a driver's license. He or she may have mixed feelings about breaking away from childhood and entering into the adult world. The student has to start preparing for college by taking certain subjects required, such as Algebra, English, Chemistry, and a foreign language. This year's sophomores have greatly matured and are ready to become respectful juniors who will be prepared to face life.

Movies

As usual, movies were a popular pasttime for Madison High School students. There were many movies released but Top Gun, starring Tom Cruise and Kelly McGillis, was the most popular. It combined a love story with a lot of action which made it well worth the price. Lost Boys was next and was followed by Dirty Dancing, Like Father Like Son, and Fatal Attraction. Movies were also popular for couples on dates. Just as dates, movies will never go out of style.

The freshman class officers this year are: President, Jeff Smith; Vice-President, Marge Dilley, and Secretary Treasurer, Mason Williams. The main task in which these representatives took part was the setting up of the Mistletoe Ball, which by the way, was very successful. Their future plans include more student involvement and activities. They wish to schedule more events and come up with new creative ideas. Along with these goals, they wish to establish a better student-teacher relationship. This enthusiastic bunch seems to have their goals set high and are definitely on their way to accomplishing them.

The freshman academic year brings about many new and interesting courses. Those required are gym, health, and World Cultures. In other areas of study, they are offered a great selection; for example, some freshmen have consumer math while others are in geometry. In the science department, they may choose from general and earth science and biology. The key to this year in education is diversity. It sets the tone for years to come. Most freshmen have no academic troubles in jumping to the high school. They welcome their new and more specialized coursework.

When Freshmen first come up to the high school, they are very intimidated by the upper-classmen. Before entering, they hear wild tales about how freshmen are always getting picked on. Really, though are all these true? Not according to Emily Kriegmont, who said, "At first, people told me it was really hard, but I learned everything is normal." Another freshman, Kevin Cocca, said, "In eighth grade, I heard a lot of stories, but I found out they weren't true either."

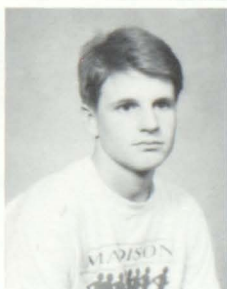

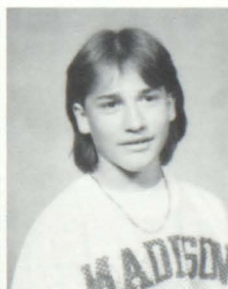

So what do all these freshmen have to look forward to? Some look forward to future plans such as college. Others, such as Mark Hall, don't really think about it except for the fact that they will no longer be freshmen but now sophomores.

For freshmen entering High School, sports are a great opportunity to get involved. Not only do they become active in the realm of High School athletics, but they also get to make a whole lot of new friends. Although sports is a chance to make their mark at Madison High, some freshmen quickly learn the meaning of the word ineligible. For some, academics and athletics don't hit if off right away, but that is the challenge high school life presents when one wants to be successful.

The incoming freshman class each year inherits an inferiority complex. The cycle is now repeated just as it was in the lower schools. They must start from the bottom and work their way to the top. It is a cycle that all high school students go through, but in actuality, being a freshman is not all that bad. Things may be a bit dull, but most find things to do. In addition, they can all look forward to the years ahead. The important thing to remember is to just sit tight because it is one more step added to the development of maturity.

Blue Streaks Build On Season

The Madison Blue Streaks Varsity Football Team had a good year overall. The Streaks played with intensity and enthusiasm all year long. The team went 5-4 in the N.E.C. and 5-5 overall. The Blue Streaks would have been 4-5 in the conference, but the 22-6 loss to Riverside had to be forfeited by the Beavers. This happened because a senior starter was ineligible and played in the game, forcing the Beavers to forfeit. The Homecoming game, when Coach Reigert was asked how he felt, replied, "We'll take the win, but it was Hollow Victory, but everyone must abide by the same rules of the playing field. I respect Riverside for their honesty."

At the beginning of the season the Streaks were 2-0 in the N.E.C. in a championship game against Ash-tabula City and suffered a tough loss.

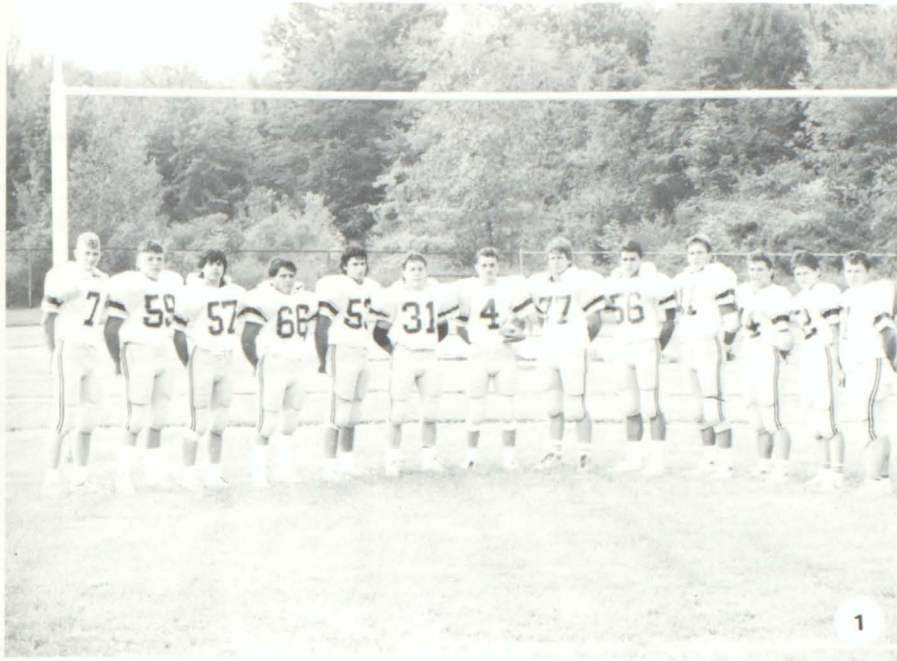

"All in all the team played hard. Sometimes we didn't get the breaks. Injuries hurt us. Outside the record it was a positive season, a good learning experience."

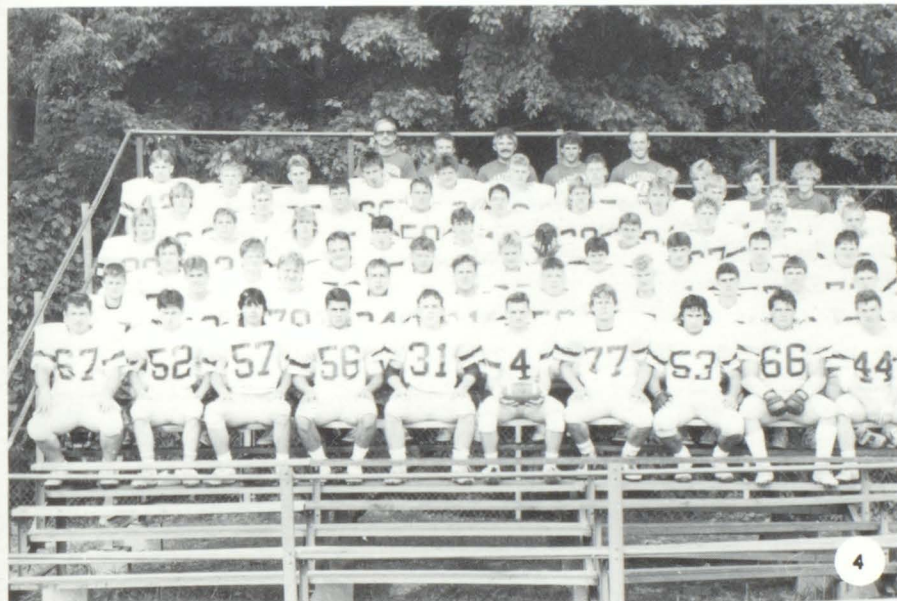

1. Rob Booth awaits the opening kick-off ready to run for six.
2. Dev Kovats sets to throw a pass after a fake field goal.
3. Blue Streaks Defense stops Riverside on a third and short. In on the tackle are Grayson Alexy, and Bill Paliobies.

J.V. Looks Ahead

This year, Madison High School played without a freshman football team. Instead, the 9th grade players combined with the Junior Varsity team. They stressed team work and had a lot of fun in the process. JV ended up with a 3-5 record; they defeated Perry, Jefferson, and Harvey. The losses were mostly close ones.

Golf Wins Title

The golf team finished this year with a successful 13-4-1 record. Led by captain Tom Slovic, the team achieved their 500th win under Coach Jack Higley. On top of this feat, this year's team also was recognized for setting a new school low score of 142, one less than the previous record. They also accomplished a three-way tie for first place in the N.E.C. with Geneva and Conneaut.

Team Work Spells Success

This year's Varsity Soccer team had an outstanding season. They overwhelmed their opponents by out-scoring them 113 to just eighteen goals and out-shot them 500 to 130. The team was coached by Mr. Earl Delp and assisted by Art Young, and the team's Co-Captains Gregg Klein and Frank Willis. The team's biggest victories were the two over Kirtland, one which clinched the League Championship, and the two victories in the Sectional Playoffs over St. Joe's and Euclid. The team finished with an overall record of 16-3-2 and recorded twelve shut-outs. Coach Earl Delp said, "This year's team was very enjoyable to work with." He also stated that the players communicated well and worked really hard. All this added together equalled a terrific season for the Blue Streak soccer team.

1. Tim Link puts the move on the Ashtabula City offensive player.
2. Head Coach of the 1987 Varsity Blue Streaks Mr. Earl Delp.

3. Junior Holly Horvath practices hitting.

4. Junior Julie Naughton dinks the ball as Shana Delp tries to block her.

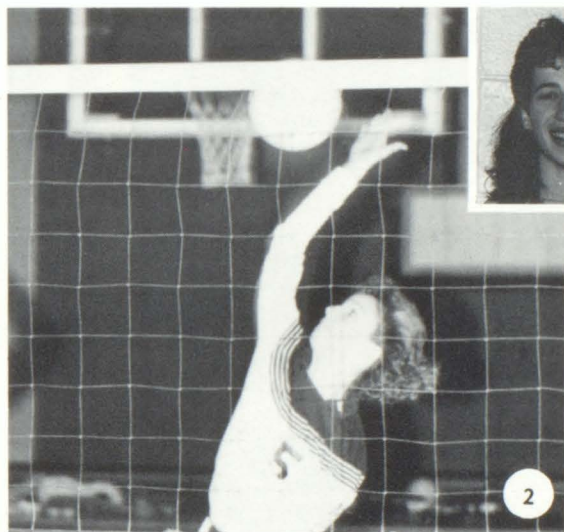

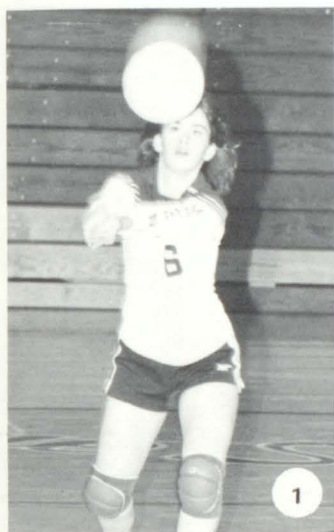

Although the girls' Varsity Volleyball team only ended up with a fourth place finish in the N.E.C., they proved to be both a physically and emotionally fit team. With a record of 9 wins and 9 losses, they peaked at just the right time.

The 1987 team had only one senior, a fact which is very unusual. That senior, who was also captain, was Shana Delp. The other eight members were all juniors and worked very well with each other.

Although intensity was something the team lacked at the beginning of the season, by the end of the season, the intensity was really running strong, as the record shows.

Those receiving special honors were Shana Delp - first team N.E.C.; Michelle Schayes - second team N.E.C., Holly Horvath - Special Mention; Gretchen Bonner and Renee Reihner - Honorable Mention. The team did a very nice job, and Coach Chris Anderson was very pleased with the progress they made. She is hoping next year to have a winning season and with the upcoming Sophomores and a lot of team effort, it is definitely possible.

1. Renee Reihner concentrates on her bumping skills.
2. Gretchen Bonner goes up to hit the ball.
3. Shana Delp, Senior
4. Missy Lewis watches the ball intently.
5. Junior Stephanie Finch praises the crowd.
6. Amy Pohto shows her determination.

J.V.'s Excel

The 1987 Junior Varsity Volleyball team was coached by Miss Cheryl Zook. Coaching the Streaks for her second consecutive year, she led the team with an eight-ten N.E.C. and eight-eleven overall record. Captains this year were sophomores Terri Spaulding and Erica Snitcher. Working together as a team made coach Zook feel pleased with the outcome of the season. The team was able to achieve individual goals as well as team goals. Playing at a J.V. level enabled the players to gain valuable experience to prepare for varsity competition.

The Junior Varsity soccer team this year had an outstanding year that spoke for itself. Their record, one of the best ever: twelve victories, two ties, and two defeats. Overwhelmingly pleased with this year's performance was their coach, Mr. Arthur Young.

This year, the varsity wrestling team had six seniors; Doug Bailey, Mike Domitor, Richie Hall, Dave Osborne, Dave Soulsby and Geoff Toscano. Doug Bailey, Mike Domitor, and Rich Hall were the team captains. It was a trying time with up to seven sophomores starting varsity. This young team tried to capture its ninth consecutive N.E.C. title, although they lost two crucial N.E.C.

matches against Riverside and Geneva. There was still a possibility of winning the tournament and continuing the tradition. This year's 1987-88 varsity wrestling team was coached by head coach Mr. Jack Becka and assistant coach Mr. John Sangdahl. Both have dedicated their time to improve the sport of wrestling at MHS.

1. Mark Tamborski works his opponent to his back.

Frosh Increase In Knowledge

The Freshmen team had a tough schedule. The team only consisted of eight wrestlers, but they toughed it out to the end. Some of the matches included St. Ed's, Mentor, and Euclid tournaments. Rex Reigert, who coached the frosh, was a little disappointed at the number of kids that came out for the team, Mr. Reigert feels that weight lifting is an important ingredient for the upcoming freshmen and he hopes next year will be better.

The J.V. wrestling team hosted their Fourth Annual J.V. Wrestling Tournament. The tournament consisted of 24 teams and 400 wrestlers, to become the largest J.V. tournament in the state. Coached by John Sangdhahl, the J.V.'s were basically a fill-in team for the varsity squad, but the hard work will pay off for next year.

Striving For Tournament Success!

The Blue Streak Express got off to a slow start. However, due to the great senior leadership, the team constantly improved and headed themselves to a great season rally. Head coach, Mark Oravec, stressed a strong defense all year.

As one player described, it was dive, scratch, and claw. Tough practices demanded one-hundred percent effort and made the Streaks one of the best conditioned teams in the area.

1. Scott Whitehouse sets up a Conneaut opponent as he prepares for a scoring drive.
2. Kevin MacInnerney and Dave Albert battle on the board for a rebound.

A Hoop-Full Future!

The 1987-88 Freshmen Boys' Basketball team was coached by Mr. Steve Baldwin. Leading this year's freshmen were captains, Mason Williams and Doug Stossel along with fifteen other impressive players. Working together, they developed the skills to produce an excellent record of nine victories and two defeats. Their first loss was to St. John. Their second N.E.C. loss was to Harvey. This made them more determined than ever to win. The team's next goal was to come up on top at the Jefferson Freshmen Basketball Tournament.

The 1987-88 Junior Varsity Girls' Basketball season proved promising for the future. Under the direction of Coach Kevin Snyder, the girls comprised a record of 16-4. The Streaks consisted of only two sophomores and fourteen freshmen. The team became very competitive in the N. E. C. One of their best games was when they beat the undefeated team from Jefferson. After developing a positive attitude, the girls perfected each of their own individual skills and worked together to be successful.

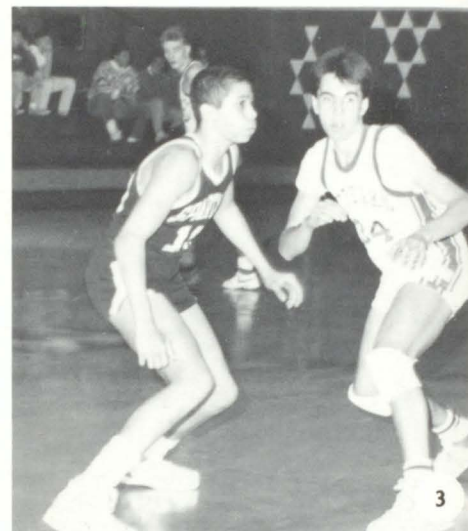

This year's Junior Varsity Boys' Basketball team was instructed by Mr. Stu Baffer. Coach Baffer helped prepare the boys for competing at the Varsity level. During the year, the team improved greatly. The Streaks' main strength, shooting, was backed by a well-balanced team.

1. The 1987-'88 J.V. Girls' Basketball Team:

2. Jackie Gricar grabs a rebound.

3. Shana Delp shoots to score.

With only five Seniors, this year's Girl's Varsity Basketball team was very young. However, the strength of the team was in its youth. The coach, Mr. Bob Peterson, summed it up best when he said, "Winning is secondary to what this team has accomplished. It is my opinion that making any progress is a sign of positive support." This support was definitely reflected through the team's record, which, at printing time, was 7-7 in the N.E.C.

1. Shana Delp shows good offensive skills.
2. Julie Naughton goes for the points.

The 1987-88 swimming season proved interesting for both boys and girls. The girls, led by Co-Captains Shannon Kriegmont and Amy Retsch compiled a record of 5-4. Two of their four losses were by 2 points or less, and three of their five wins were by 20 points. The boys, on the other hand, led by Co-Captains Mark Scheller and Andy Leitter, had a record of 2-7. One of their two wins came during a tri meet against Chanel and Riverside, in which they edged Riverside 71-70. Although the teams didn't win many meets, 10 records were broken during the season, and everyone was looking forward to next season and to breaking more records.

Entering the season, the 1987 boys' Cross Country team had very high hopes. With their willingness to work and train, they desired to win the NEC, qualify for regionals, and send at least one person to state. None of these really materialized, but it was still a successful season. In their first dual-meet, they crushed the defending NEC champs, Riverside. Because of their racing as a pack, they came in third place at the Cloverleaf Invitational, which hosted over 80 teams, and second in the U-Wanna Come Back Invitational, which they hosted, while they compiled a 9-1 dual meet record. Although they did well and worked hard, there was a lack of experience at the end, and it showed. Overall, the team accomplished a fine season and demonstrated how valuable hard-working, positive people can be to a winning program.

1. Jerry Smith shows a fine stride while Joe Gerger presses forward.
2. Jay James and Jeff Loofboro look tired, but Joe Gerger looks as if he could run forever.

Determination Pays Off

The Girls' Cross Country team had an extensive summer program which enabled them to have a very successful year. There were also seven returning lettermen, a fact which greatly added depth and strength to the team. In the N.E.C., they had five wins and zero losses. They were the first place finishers at three invationals, including U

Wanna Come Back, Cloverleaf, and Sim Earich. After so much success, they were determined to qualify to Regionals and did so by becoming the District Champs at the Hawken District. This then took them to the Regional meet at the Lorain Community College, where they finished eighth. They hope to continue their success in future years.

1. Sophomores Merideth Spring and Bobbie Foreman push each other during their race.

2. Senior Heidi Mazza is victorious after her first place finish at the U Wanna Come Back Invitational.

3. Melissa Pohto and Julie Jesswein concentrate on closing the gap between them and their opponents.

Varsity Football Cheerleaders

Kick-Off

This year's Varsity Football Cheerleaders really outdid themselves. The squad started preparing for this season by attending Baldwin Wallace Cheerleading Camp during the summer and having practices three or more times a week at the crack of dawn.

Their first game was an experience because they had to learn to cheer with two new Junior members: Sue Markgraf, and Valerie Grover, but very quickly, the games passed by and the squad had united into one big family.

Led by Ms. Leslie Trbovich, this year's football squad will be losing four seniors: Captain, Gina Leone; Theresa Wetzel, Trina Ames and Sherrie Cotrill. They will be sadly missed; but with the spirit that these four showed, we know that they'll be back next year to root for the Streaks.

This squad did an excellent job. Their efforts and enthusiasm were appreciated by athletes and fans.

2. Madison Bluestreak 1987-88 Varsity Football squad: Trina Ames, Sue Markgraf, Theresa Wetzel, Gina Leone, Sherrie Cotrill, and Valerie Grover.
3. As one happy family, the squad shows their spirit and smiles.
4. Varsity shows off their legs.

Varsity Basketball

The Varsity Basketball squad started off with a bang this season. They spent three of their summer days at a Cheerleading Camp located at Baldwin Wallace College.

Their Cheerleading advisor is Ms. Leslie Troovich and they'll be losing two seniors from their squad: Captain, Kathy Stremple and Karen Ranel. They will be missed by everyone. The rest of the squad includes four Juniors: Mindi Price, Dina Sanzobrino, Lisa Reichert and Pam Johnson.

All the hard work paid off because this Varsity squad did an excellent job and will continue to do so always.

4. Juniors Dina Sanzobrino, Mindi Price, and Larissa Reichert chant the Streaks to a VICTORY.

3. The Freshman cheerleaders: (L. to R.) Top: Amy Boback, Kathy Bard; Middle: Cheryl Graper, Julie Jenks; Bottom: Laura Zimcoski, Trisha Slovic.

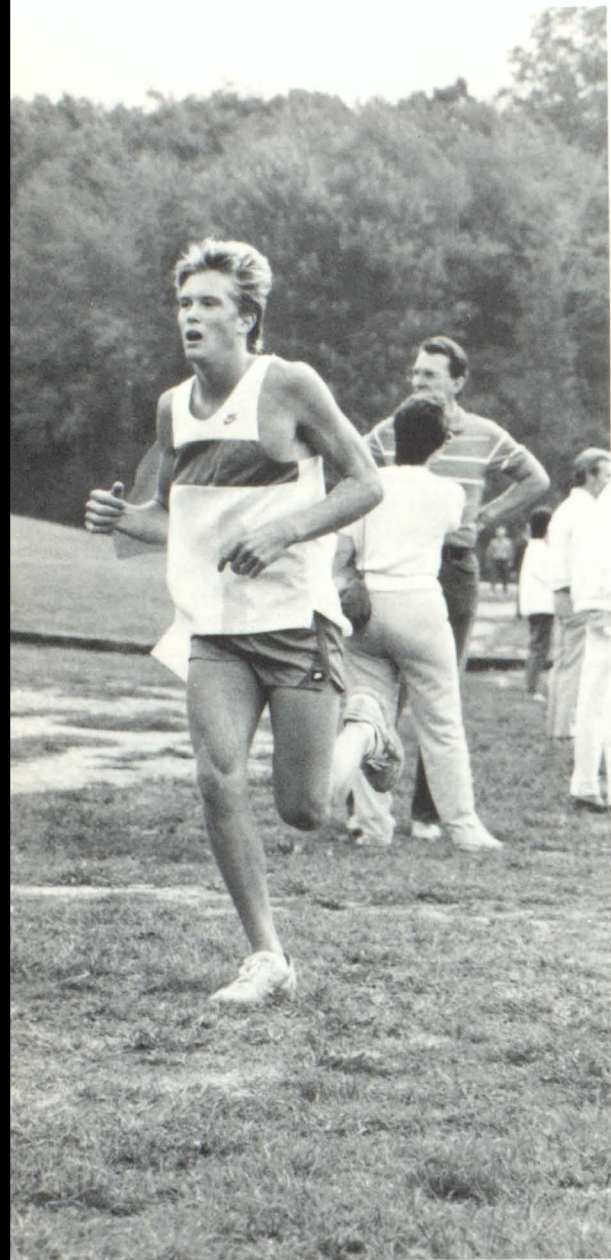

Many people don't consider cheerleading a sport. They think it's just fun and games. Being a cheerleader means lots of dedication and hard work. Over the summer, the JV. Squad attended a cheerleading camp at Baldwin Wallace College, where they learned cheers and chants designed to help bring out the pep in our school. Cheering for JV, there's even a bigger responsibility. That is cheering for two seasons: JV. boys' basketball and football. The JV. girls are appreciated for their pep and school spirit by the athletes and fans.

1. Jv. Squad set the beat to get the crowd off their seat.
 2. Captain Val Shelt smiles for a snap shot.
 3. Val shelt, Anjie Miller and Danielle Cochrelle wait in suspense for a foul shot to be made.

Nations And School Represented

The Model United Nations group, now in its fourth year at Madison High School, is headed by Mr. James Deering. The students involved this year represented various countries around the globe in a simulation three-day conference at Kent State's Ashtabula Campus along with students from other area schools. This conference, held in April, ended a year of researching and reporting on different critical issues affecting the world today. The members also had the opportunity to visit New York City and the actual U.N. building. This year's president was senior Curt Warren. The countries represented by Madison students included the United Kingdom, Italy, Japan, and Saudi Arabia.

Students of Madison High School have the right to voice their opinions on school affairs. Student Council was developed for that reason. Representatives are elected by their respective classes to express the student body's concerns and beliefs on certain issues. This organization, led by Mrs. Donna Sabo, serves the school as well as the community. In school, Student Council is responsible for the annual Mistletoe Ball and other beneficial activities to the school. They also backed the canned food drive as well as the United Way fund raiser. The president of the 1987-1988 Student Council was Kim Layman.

Yearbook Excels!

The Yearbook staff worked hard all year to make one of the best yearbooks ever. The staff consisted of twenty hard-working individuals. The two co-editors this year were Rob Booth and Curt Warren. When asked about this year, Rob said "I was very pleased with the young staff, they worked very hard and learned quickly." When talking with Curt, he added "The year flowed very smoothly, all deadlines were met, and we completed the yearbook without any difficulties."

Having fun without the use of drugs and alcohol is what Teen Institute and Students Against Drunk Drivers (S.A.D.D.) are all about. Teen Institute is a group of students who speak out against using drugs and try to influence other students into not using or abusing them either.

S.A.D.D. is a group of students who try to convince people not to drink and drive. These students make posters and discuss the advantages of not drinking.

Stats Keep The Records Straight

Madison High School should be very proud of their stats. Most people do not realize how devoted and hard working our stats are. The statisticians go to away and home games to keep statistics of every athlete participating in his or her sport. The coaches of every sport have a lot to worry about, but with good stats like we have, it makes their job that much easier.

Boys Rule

Four boys from Madison High were chosen to attend Buckeye Boys' State last June. Those who attended were Curt Warren, Treasurer of McCaw City, Rob Booth and Greg Cocca, members of the House of Representatives, and Tedd Pennoyer, Assistant to the County Engineer. This opportunity gives students a chance to take part in acting as part of the American Government. The boys stayed at Bowling Green State University for ten days with all expenses paid by the American Legion.

Varsity Lettermen Club Begins

This year Madison High School has added yet another group to their long list of activities, the Varsity Lettermen Club. The group was organized by Mr. Mark Oravec, and they in turn elected their own officers for the 1987-88 school year. They are Presidents, Rob Booth and Shana Delp; Vice-Presidents, Scott Whitehouse and Tippi Cooper; Treasurers, Eric Watson and Gina Leone, and the group's Activity Organizers are Greg Cocca and Kim Laynam. This year's Varsity Club has a strong foundation and shows strong and excellent hope for a bright and lasting future.

Welcome To Our New Addition

This year's new addition to the school's administration is Mrs. Cindi McKibbon. Mrs. McKibbon, a secretary, started work here last August. She previously had worked at Homer Nash and Memorial Middle Schools. Because the students are older, she enjoys working at the high school the best. Also, the rest of the staff, including her co-workers, make it an even more pleasurable experience. Mrs. McKibbon's ambition was always to be a secretary because of the great satisfaction she receives from working with others. Plus, it is more convenient than other careers due to the fact that she has the same days off as her children. At home, she keeps herself busy by taking care of her husband and their three daughters. In her spare time, she teaches aerobics at the local YMCA. She also enjoys sewing and doing crafts but does not have much time for them between juggling her job and family life. Overall, her contribution of her expertise in clerical work is an asset to all of us.

Superpowers Try For Peace

The two superpower leaders, President Reagan and General Secretary Gorbachev, met in Washington on December 7 to sign the I.N.F. Treaty. The treaty, an agreement dealing with the reduction of intermediate range nuclear missiles deployed in Europe, is just the first stage of U.S. - Soviet talks on eliminating nuclear arms that hopefully will occur in the near future. Opposition to the treaty prevails among rightwing Republicans who do not trust the Soviets' intentions. Critics believe the Soviets are using the agreement as propaganda, and that they do not intend on keeping to the treaty. Only time will tell if the I.N.F. Treaty will prove effective. It is important that the U.S. and the Soviet Union keep talking so that relations do not become strained.

Sex Scandal Shocks TV Ministry

During 1987, the followers of PTL were shocked by a scandal which rocked the world of TV evangelism. After accusations were brought out of Jim Bakker having had sexual relations with a church secretary, Jessica Hahn, he was forced to resign as president of PTL. Jerry Falwell spokesman, took control of the establishment, trying to revive the financially failing empire. But according to Bakker, Falwell stole his ministry, which consisted of the PTL television empire and the Heritage USA Christian resort. His wife, Tammy Bakker, was publically scrutinized for her lavish spending. The scandal was followed by many tears from Tammy and begs of forgiveness from Jim. As PTL struggles to stay alive with their TV audience, Jim and Tammy continue on with hopes of starting a new ministry.

Gary Hart Is Back In The Race!

Senator Gary Hart, the Democrat from Colorado, has made the headlines all year. On May 8, the Presidential hopeful withdrew from the race. This was blamed largely on his so-called relationship with Donna Rice. However, Hart re-entered the race in December to the shock of the rest of the Democratic Party. The Republicans are happy with this because they feel Hart can't possibly be elected. When asked how his family feels about his decision, Hart said that they had pushed him to re-enter the most.

Seniors Heidi Mazza and Eric Watson were chosen by the International Sports Exchange to compete in the Olympic Stadium 10K run in Munich, West Germany. They left at the end of December and the race took place on New Year's Eve. It consisted of roughly 1200 runners. The 6.2 mile course was at the site where the 1972 Olympics were held. Along with approximately 50 other athletes from Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, they had the chance to live a dream. They experienced the European way of living, which made them appreciate America. They were gone nine days, and both of them commented that they would have liked to stay longer in order to see more of the sights. These memories of this accomplishment will be cherished in their lives. Congratulations to Heidi and Eric!

18 Month Old Captures Nation's Heart

In October of 1987, the people in America poured out their hearts to an 18 month old little girl named Jessica McClure. It was about 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, October 14, when the 58-hour ordeal occurred. In Midland, Texas, Jessica's mother answered the phone, leaving her daughter momentarily unattended. During that time, Jessica somehow slipped into an 8 inch wide, abandoned well shaft. After much struggle, the paramedics finally managed to retrieve Jessica, who was practically unharmed. With the support and care of not only her family, but people nationwide, Jessica managed to pull through this traumatic experience.

Ollie On Trial

Lieutenant Colonel Oliver North, who in November of 1985 was found to be selling weapons to Iran, was put on trial in front of the Iran-Contra panel in July, 1987. The key issue in the trial was exactly who was in on the covert operation. North testified that CIA director William Casey was his mentor, while Secretary of State George Shultz, Attorney General Edwin Meese and Admiral John Poindexter all knew of his operations. It was thought that President Reagan was in on the operation, but it was not proven during the trial.

Sugar Ray Leonard defeated Marvelous Marvin Hagler in a 12-round controversial bout. Sugar Ray, coming off a severe eye injury, beat the middle weight champion which tasted a defeat for 11 years. Hagler won in the money department, earning at least $13.5 million While Leonard received about $12 million. It was a proud moment for Sugar Ray to show that he has retained his skills and still had the sting of the young Sugar Ray. But he announced that this was his last fight. This was probably the fight of the decade and played a profound part in the sport of boxing.

Alleged War Criminal Faces Justice

An extremely controversial issue has plagued the Cleveland area this year. A retired autoworker from Cleveland has been accused of having been a Nazi war criminal. They believe that Demjanjuk was known as "Ivan the Terrible", a guard who operated the gas chamber at the Treblinka death camp during World War II. At this concentration camp in eastern Poland, it is estimated that at least 850,000 people died. While being tried in Jerusalem, the awful memories of World War II are crashing in again on those who survived the tortures and humiliations by Ivan the Terrible. With disturbing evidence and conflicting witnesses, Demjanjuk's trial may continue for quite some time, but hopefully justice will be served in the end.

Scholars Recognized At M.H.S.

Madison High School is proud of all of its academic achievers, but seniors with a 3.5 G.P.A. or higher are even more special because they have maintained these grades throughout their entire high school career. Moreover, they are not just involved with academics, but also many extracurricular activities. Many of these students participate in sports, band, choir, student government, Model U.N., and help out in the office or library. They go about the day helping others and trying their best at everything they do. By putting much hard work into their academic careers, they have achieved success for themselves and for their school. These talented students are the leaders of this school and are an excellent representation of what Madison High School can achieve.

3.7: Kelly Grimm, Eric Fisher, Kim Germovsek, Theresa Wetzell, Rachael Kulp, and Sharon Joiner.

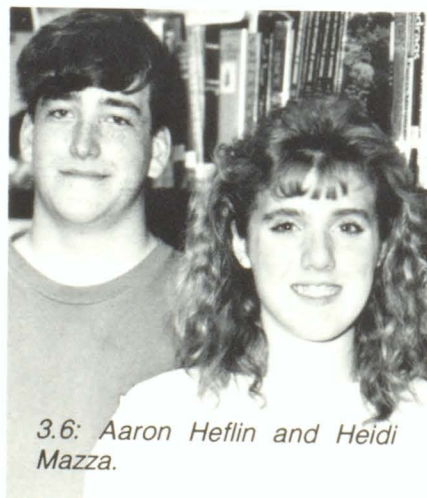

3.8: Nicole Westbrook, Monique Kovalchik, Rob Booth, Darren Colassero, and Mary Beth Jacobsen.

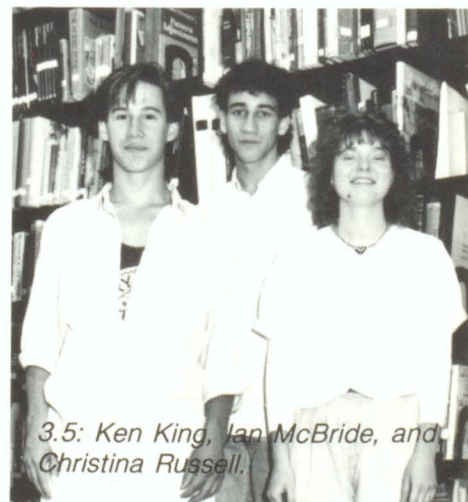

4.0 or above: Shana Delp, Miller, and Julie Janco.

3.9: Kari Ashton, Shannon Kreigman, and Heather Hoffman.

3.6: Aaron Heflin and Heidi Mazza.

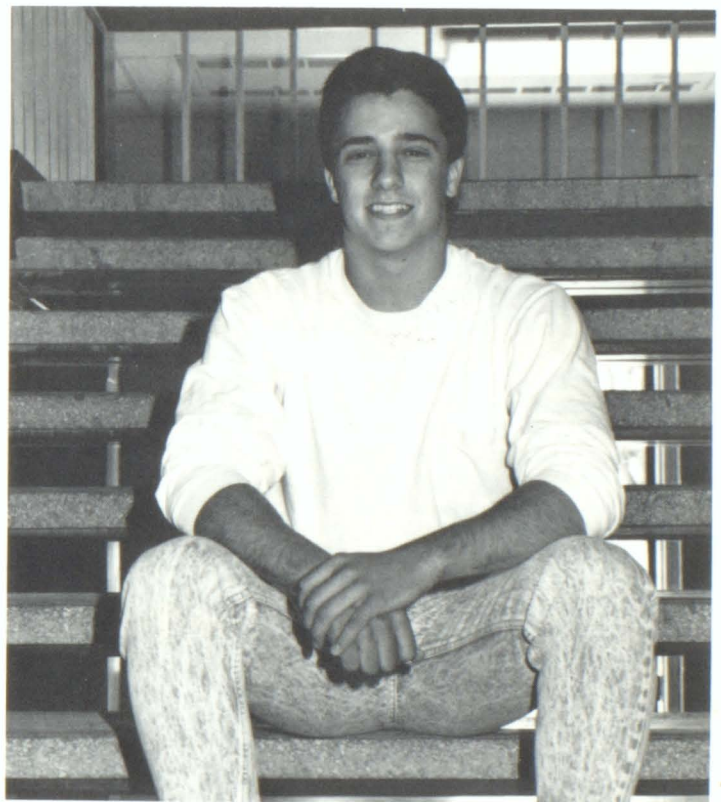

3.5: Ken King, Ian McBride, and Christina Russell.

Valedictorian, Salutatorian

This year's valedictorian and salutatorian both have worked long and hard for this great achievement. Valedictorian Greg Cocca, while keeping his outstanding grades, has been involved in many sports, including football, track, and swimming. He also participates in the band, Model U.N., and Honor Society. Greg is planning to major in engineering at Case Western Reserve University. Salutatorian, Shelly Miller has been an outstanding model at Madison High. She excels not only in the classroom, but also out on the court in both basketball and tennis. She participates in band and was the stage manager in Bye-Bye Birdie. Along with many other activities, she is vice-president of National Honor Society. Shelly plans to major in Biology at Washington and Jefferson College. Because of their hard work and dedication, the Senior class of 1988 can be proud to have these two at the top of their class.

Students Show Ability:

Under the the direction of Mrs. Sandy Jaroscak, the National Honor Society once again had an active group. Earlier this year, the members participated in Teacher Recognition Day, making the teachers feel appreciated for all of their time and effort. They continued the program K.I.D.S., in which the members of N.H.S. tutored fellow students as they needed help in troubling areas. This year, the group also started the Apple Orchard project. This was a program that was set up in order to honor a different student each week. N.H.S. members also got involved by successfully organizing project T.E.A.C.H.. This was the time that they really got to show their leadership qualities by teaching students from grades K-12. Overall, this year's National Honor Society had a very successful year.

A Kite Let Go

The string unwinding, seemingly forever,
 an eternity of freedom.
 Maybe it won't return,
 simply drift away, like a bright star,
 lost in the sunny sky.
 Belonging to the night, set free in the light, roaming among the clouds and the treetops,
 leaving behind a long trail—of memories, of dreams, of both good and bad moments.
 Yanked from my hand,
 by a wind I could not control and could not feel,
 until the kite was no longer in my grasp.
 And the harder I try and the higher I jump to grab hold, the further it drifts. And I realize that it was meant to fly,
 and that I too could wander, although remain on the ground. And the clouds didn't hide the sun, and the wind was not so strong that day—the string was weak and, maybe, flying a kite just wasn't for me.

 I couldn't control it, so I merely let go,
 and it slipped gently, gently from my hand, until I really didn't remember ever holding on. I caught a glimpse of something bright high above with a long string trailing behind, well beyond my reach, but never out of sight.
 And now when the wind is stirring and the breeze is warm,
 I watch the kids with wonder, as they hold tight to their kites,
 their little strings of hope,
 and stare into the endless sky of eternity.

Shannon Kriegmont showed outstanding creative writing ability at the Lakeland Community College Poetry Contest. Her entry, among many others from area high schools, was chosen as the first place winner and will be published in the Lakeland Forum, the literary magazine of faculty work, in Fall, 1988.
 Her use of imagery and metaphor elicited praise from Cleveland State Professor L.
 Trawick.

1. Mr. Frank Ashton and Mrs. Joan Parks proudly stand with the Madison High students who won awards in the Lake-Geauga Juried Student Art Show.

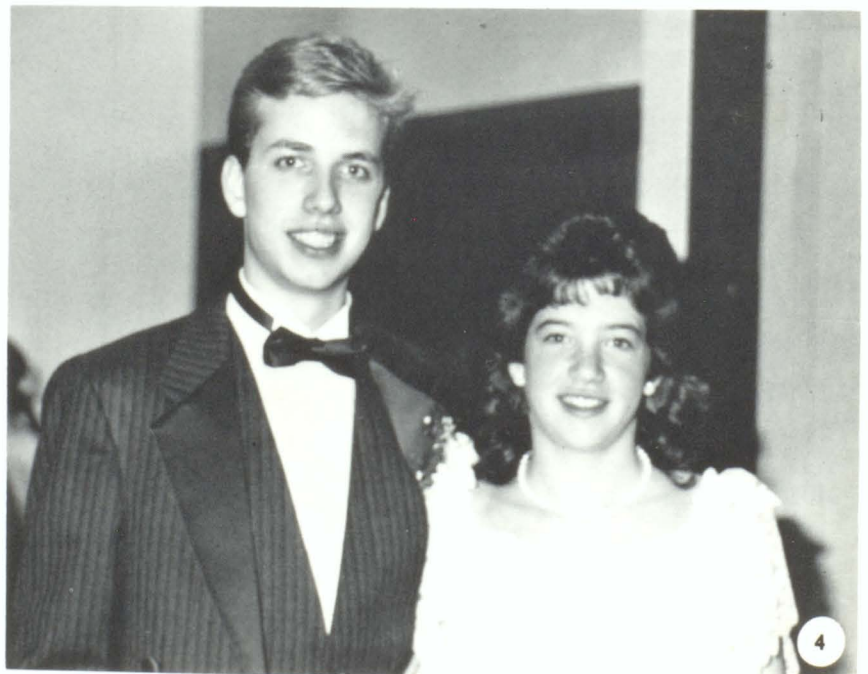

2. Senior Shaun Pugh displays his printmaking artwork which won a Blue Ribbon Award.

The art students at Madison High showed their talent at the Lake-Geauga Juried Art Show held at Lakeland Community College. Madison entered 41 pieces of art and 26 pieces were accepted for this great honor. The following students received awards: Kari Ashton, Anna Boyce, John Cichello, and Kathy Stempel for jewelry; Heather Denmead, Deanna Snider, Michelle Suttman, and Shaun Pugh for printmaking; Scott Hribar and Amy Swain for pastel drawings; Maria Fedele for poetry; Matt Heitanen for mixed media; and Matt Biscotti for pencil. Several students received Gold Awards. These included Deidra Floyd, Zoe Spellman, and Amy Swain for drawings; Shaun Pugh and Matt Jevack for jewelry; Robyn McIntosh for ceramics; and Roz Marshall for printing. Blue Ribbons were given out to Kerry Cohagan for sculpture, and Jeff Sawdy, Crystal Boylen, Deanna Snider, and Shaun Pugh for printmaking. As one can see, the artistic talent at Madison High is something to be quite proud of.

"Seniors Rock-On"

Prom is the Seniors' last bash while still in school. The dance was held at the Derubertis Party Center on May 21, 1988, from 6:30 - 11:30 p.m. As the limos pulled in, the excitement filled the air. Dinner was served, and the night began. The band was Champion, and when they started to play, the rhythm of the music began to fill the couples' souls, and they began to party!! The dance hall was beautifully decorated with stars, lights, and heavenly scenes. The King and Queen courts consisted of Scott Whitehouse, Rob Booth, Doug Bailey, Todd Emmett, and Greg Cocca;- Shana Delp, Tippi Cooper, Heather Hoffman,, Monique Kovalchik, and Theresa Wetzel. Towards the middle of the dance, the King and Queen were announced. Scott Whitehouse was crowned the King, and Monique Kovalchik was crowned the Queen. The two danced a memorable dance together as King and Queen for the night. The theme for the dance was Earth Angel. As the night came to an end, the couples went their own way, some to party and enjoy themselves with others, and some went off to make their own memories. It was obvious the 1988 Junior - Senior prom was a success.

Bye Bye Birdie

Guys and Dolls, Madison High School's drama club, presented the well known Broadway musical, Bye Bye Birdie for their spring production. The cast, consisting of approximately sixty hardworking and talented students, started rehearsing for the performance early in February under the direction of Mrs. Gloria Benz.

The Guys and Dolls performance of Bye Bye Birdie received overwhelming response. The gym floor was packed to its capacity all three nights of the performance, April 28, 29, and 30.

Bye Bye Birdie also did well at the annual Rotary awards show held at Lakeland Community College. Many of the cast received nominations, and two actually received awards, Kristen Webb and Shannon Kriegmont. Kristen won best leading actress in a musical production for her portrayal of Rose Alvarez, and Shannon Kriegmont won for best supporting actress in a musical for her portrayal as Mrs. Peterson. Those people who won awards deserve congratulations, but they are not the only ones. The whole cast and crew deserves recognition for their outstanding performance.

1. Conrad Birdie (Darren Foote) sings "One Last Kiss" on the Ed Sullivan Show, while Kim Mackiffee (Kelly Prasnkar) anxiously waits to be kissed.

2. Sweetapple teens find out about the big news: Kim and Hugo are "Going Steady!"

Cinderstreaks: On The Run.

Entering the 1988 season, the Boys' Track Team had many obstacles to overcome. First of all, the entrance of Mr. Rex Reigert as the new head coach brought a new and interesting approach to training for the various events. The presence of only eight seniors showed the lack of experience; however, it gave the team an opportunity to expand and develop new talent in an effort to build for the future. One of the highlights of the season was Ron Clark's throw of 51 feet of the shot put, breaking the school record. All in all, the track team showed a strong ef-

Winning Attitude Reflects Season

The 1988 Madison Girl's Track team had a very successful season. The seven seniors, Kim Layman, Cathleen Straffen, Heidi Mazza, Dianna McDonald, Lisa Loofboro, Mary Ann Guy and Gina Leone gave the team an extra advantage with their experience and determination. Many school records were broken, and this showed the team's outstanding ability and talent. Kim Layman broke her school record in the 800m run which she set as a Freshman. Michelle Shayes broke her record in the 100 m high hurdles. Heidi Mazza broke her school record in the 3200 m run that she had set as a Junior. The two-mile relay team, consisting of Kim Layman, Cathleen Straffen, Holly Horvath and Becky Heinz, broke the school record also. The distance medley team consisting of Kim Layman, Cathleen Straffen, Holly Horvath, and Heidi Mazza broke the school record by almost a minute. As one can see, the Madison girl's track team accomplished a lot this past season.

1. Lisa Loofboro runs the opening leg in the 4 x 1600 m, relay at the Wickliffe Rebel Relays Invitational.

2. Junior April Heck concentrates on staying relaxed during her race.

Varsity Baseball

The boy's Varsity Baseball team lost six starters last year and picked up several new good ball players. The team even has a new coach this year after twenty-five year Veteran George Opron retired. The Blue Streaks are now coached by Mr. Jim Pinelli. Even though the boys lost their first sectional game to Eastlake North (2-1), they did a great job in the N.E.C. While running for the league, the Streaks lost many close games and dropped off to third. The Streaks had yet to determine who would take the N.E.C. title by printing time.

The varsity softball team, coached by Mr. Bill Hance, had a winning season. The streaks were sectional champs and won their first district game but lost a hard-fought game against Austintown Fitch.

This year's team lost eight seniors, seven of which were starters. Although their season was not over at press time, they will most likely take second place in the N.E.C. These girls worked very hard this season and deserve a pat on the back.

J.V.'s Hit To Victory

The 1988 Junior Varsity Baseball Team had a very reputable season. Although they had a record of 9 and 4, there were eight players who hit over .400. Because of this, the team hit for a .392 batting average. The biggest accomplishment of the year was when the team beat Perry by the score of 10-1. In the game, there were five home runs. Tom Beans had two while Dan Wilson, Mike Leone and Jeff Fortney each had one. Coach George Herrick said, "Great things are in store for this team if they can become as consistent in the field as they are at the plate."

J.V.'s Hang Tough

If there is one word to describe the 1988 Junior Varsity softball team, that word would be durable. Although the team's record was 6-11, there were some bright spots in the season. At a game against Harbor, Aimee Yeager, Kelly Tamborski and Stephanie Baldwin pulled off a triple play. Coach Sally Phillips said, "The team had an excellent attitude, and many of the players should challenge for a position on the varsity team."

Strong Efforts For Top Performance

This year's tennis crew put forth a strong effort this year. The Streaks finished their season with a five win/twelve loss record in the North Eastern Conference. Although the team was short of wins, the crew managed to overtake astonishing victories over Edgewood and Ashtabula rivals. Strong senior leadership gave the team a great overall leadership. Hopefully, the team's depth will carry them through next year with returning lettermen Chris Cummings and Butch Begalke.

Graduation: Remembering Things "Passed"

June 12, 1988, was a very special day! It was the culmination of twelve years of hard work and determination towards the goal of graduating. It was a time to remember things "passed", a time to cherish the memories and reap the success and achievement of your work, a time to remember cramming all night with your friends for an exam, a time to share your excitement with people you've grown so close to. As beautiful and satisfying as this time was, it was also filled with fear. Graduation was the start of a new life that included leaving friends and family. However, it was a time we all yearned for, and it was an exciting beginning to a new start. But we will always remember things "passed."
