Back in the Day...

For the Class of 2001, another important phase of your lives is quickly drawing to a close. Within the next few years, you'll be finishing college, looking for jobs, advancing careers, marrying and starting families. Whether you continue to make your home in Madison or end up far from here, the years you have spent at MHS will always be a part of who and what you become. Before long, you'll be planning your own high school reunions, and hopefully you'll find this book will help you remember back in the day. As time passes and one generation follows the next into adulthood, it's important to put your lives into perspective—to treasure the past but still look forward to the future. So this is where it all begins... and in the following pages you can look back in the day when you were here and Madison High was such an important part of it all. But before you turn the page, consider these facts about the seniors of 2001...

... most of you were born in 1983, and you know you're a part of this generation if... you had a crush on one of the New Kids on the Block... you wanted to be on Star Search (Come on, we all did!)... you ever uttered the word "Radical!"... you thought you lived on Fear Street... you wore jelly shoes and jelly bracelets... you thought "Beetlejuice" was by far the coolest movie... you remember watching shows like "You Can't Do That on Television," "Wild & Crazy Kids," "Hey Dude," "Roundhouse," "Kids Inc.," and "Double Dare"... your teacher complained about your Trapper Keeper... you can remember the freaky eyes Michael Jackson had at the end of his "Thriller" video... you can remember your parents watching the Gulf War on CNN... you wore one of those slap-on wrist bands at some point during your youth... you French cuffed the bottoms of your jeans... you had slouch socks, and you puff-painted your own shirt at least once... you owned a doll with "Xavier Roberts" signed on its butt... you watched O.J. Simpson's infamous journey in his white Bronco... you took your Skip-It and Pogo Ball to school for recess... all the cool kids you knew had Gushers in their lunches... you understand the profound meaning of "Wax on, Wax off"... you thought that Leonardo was a Turtle before you knew he was a painter... you had tennis shoes that either pumped up or lit up... you knew how to summon Captain Planet... you can remember watching "Full House" and "Saved by the Bell" for endless hours... "T.G.I.F." is more than just a restaurant... you remember having a moment of silence for the victims of the Oklahoma City bombing... you have seen at least 10 episodes of "Fraggle Rock"... you yearned to be a member of The Babysitters' Club, and tried to start a club of your own... you sat on your back porch, playing with your My Little Pony, Rainbow Brite, and Strawberry Shortcake dolls... you wanted to hang out with the Boxcar Children... you hold a special place in your heart for "Back to the Future"... you came home from school to watch "Animaniacs" or "Tiny Toons"... you know what "sike" and "not!" mean... you wanted to be a Goonie, or Elliot from "E.T."... you owned a troll... you ever wore fluorescent/neon clothing or nail polish... you did the Macarena with everyone else at the middle school dances... you know who He-Man and She-Ra are... you remember when ATARI was a state-of-the-art video game system... you know all the words to "Ice Ice Baby"... you went to sleep with your Glowworm... you remember M.C. Hammer... you can still sing the rap to "Fresh Prince of Belair"... you own any cassettes... you were led to believe that in the year 2000 we'd all be living on the moon... you carried your lunch to school in a Ninja Turtles or Popples lunchbox... you have ever pondered why Smurfette was the ONLY female smurf... you wanted to communicate with some being named Cinergy, or you wanted green hair like that lead singer of the Misfits... you totally LOVED Barbie's cooler, punkier counterpart, "Jem" and her "Rockers"... you wanted to have an alien like ALF living in your house... you wore biker shorts underneath a short skirt and felt stylish... you had WonderWoman or Superman underwear... you wanted to be The Hulk for Halloween... you thought the Transformers were more than meets the eye... partying "like it's 1999" seemed SO far away!!

Board members Mr. Bob Wickert, Mr. Jay Fabian, Mr. Rick Collins, and Mr. Dave Maher join student council representatives Lauren Kidder, Sarah Scott, Claire Findak, Rachel Klimkowicz, and Sarah Goda in celebrating Madison Schools as one of "Ohio's Best" building excellent schools for the 21st century!

Senior Class Officers: Michelle Schultz (vice-president),
Stephanie Clough (secretary/treasurer), and Claire Findak (president). ▼

Looking Back to the Day

Remembering Back in the Day

In Tribute to Our Friend -- Gregory Adam Giegerich

"Adam was a good person and he didn't deserve to die as young as he did...he had a very bright future."
--Michael Mitchell

"Adam was a good friend. He always made a point of challenging himself, and I really respected him for that. If he were with us today, he would be pushing all of us to be better." -- Amed Hussaini

A best friend's dedication. . . by Chris Gilmer

I can still see his face. . . full of the life and energy that every person destined for greatness has. That gift. . . that certain karma. . . that personality. . . that smile. His pure heart radiated from him to everyone he knew.

There isn't enough room in this yearbook to describe fully and accurately exactly what made Adam the best of the best. Where does one start? In fact, where would one finish? Would any amount of words do Adam justice? Never. . . He was beyond words.

Since the day I met him in Mr. Ostrander's class, I knew he had something different. His confidence and personality intrigued those who knew him or interacted with him. . . he could grasp you in a conversation and hold your attention for as long as he needed. It's beyond explanation how one person could impact so many lives in this way.

Why he chose me as his equal--or "best friend," if you will--is something I could never explain. Maybe he saw something in me like everyone saw in him. I was not the "ideal best friend" by any measure. I never cut him any slack and I acted like nothing he did was good enough. I'm not really fit to praise him. However, somewhere inside me, I think he wanted it this way.

No one. . . not in the past, the present, nor the future. . . ever has been more deserving of having the chance to prove his worth in life. President. . . that would have been it, or humanitarian. . . serving not himself but others, or a healer. . . these were the many of his paths in life. . . taken from us in a flash by someone less deserving, someone in an alcoholic haze. Why doesn't God smile on those who deserve it?

We should never forget Adam or how he affected us personally. Forgetting someone is how they truly die. I haven't forgotten. . . I still cry every November 19th (his birthday) and every August 8th (when I found out he died). Sometimes I will just cry because I miss him and didn't get to grow up with him or see him become what I knew he could be.

The hole that has appeared in my soul has never been filled by anyone. . . it can't be because it is too big. I remember when Adam saved up all summer umpiring softball games to buy a bike. That was the introduction of a new direction in his and my life. Anything he did, I had to do. That was when we began hanging out with John, Dan, and Dan. It was also a turning point in Adam's life. . . as I'm sure we all know.

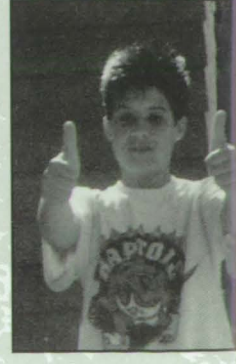

I also remember when last year. . . I was in Mr. Dragas' class when Jared showed me a section of the newspaper. There was a memorial to Adam in a "Happy Birthday" column. It was about how it isn't fair that Adam will never get to grow up and be Daddy.

I'm sure all of us have other memories of Adam, too. Cherish them. Greatness should not be forgotten. Don't let him fade away, ever. He never would have to you.

As we now move on, this Class of 2001, we should strive to be our best--to go out and show the world that even with a friend lost, we are still strong. We can still be what we were destined to be. We can prove to the world that, with Adam inside every one of us, we can take his greatness and use it ourselves to better this planet in our own ways.

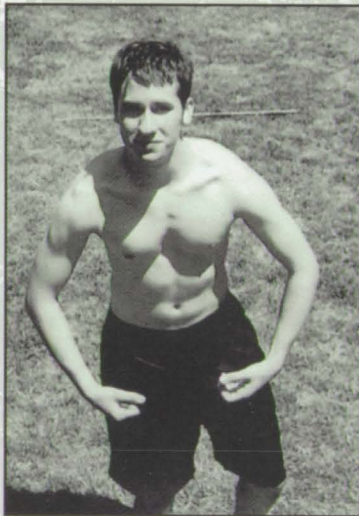

My love goes to Greg, his father; Kelly, his mother; Gary and Grant, his brothers (and mine); and to all of Adam's family. I don't know how you go on; coping is so hard.

Adam, I miss you. You are my brother and I love you. I'll see you there, when it's time.

Looking back . . . What's the most memorable thing that ever happened to you in elementary school?

Moving On and Looking Back

Seniors at last: Our time at Madison High School has come to an end and we will soon go our separate ways. Some people will go to college, others will join the military, and many will enter the work force, but wherever we go, we will always carry with us the treasures of our time spent at M.H.S. Many of us share the great times at football games, pep-rallies, dances, and parties. We remember the laughs we've shared, the classes we've struggled through, the friends we've made, the days gone by. These are the kinds of memories that will last a lifetime.

Looking back over the past four years, it is clear that the class of 2001 has left a great impression on M.H.S. Many seniors have contributed to the success of the award-winning Drama Club and other various academic accomplishments. Senior athletes have helped to earn Madison a reputation of outstanding athletics. As we move on to the future, we hope we will leave our mark on M.H.S. as much as it has left its mark on us.

Juniors: Back and Ready for Next Year

The class of 2002 has finally reached the end of their junior year—a year in which they began to participate in varsity sports, take more challenging classes, and accept more responsibilities for next year. But this class knows how to have fun, too. They supported their Streaks by painting their faces at the games and being more outgoing with their school spirit. Many of the girls participated in the Powder Puff game against the seniors. Although they lost, the girls still had a good time, and their fabulous boy cheerleaders won the spirit award.

Some juniors elevated their learning experience this year by going to Auburn Career Center and local colleges. Student Sarah Hanson commented on her classes at Lakeland Community College: "Post-secondary is a great opportunity for students to take advantage of if you meet the requirements. It gives you a variety of options and completely free classes. I really like it, and I'm going full-time next year."

The class of 2002 was also responsible for the first annual winter formal, dubbed the "Crystal Ball." The juniors of Key Club spearheaded the project to put on the dance. The dance was very well attended and helped Key Club earn a lot of money for their charitable activities.

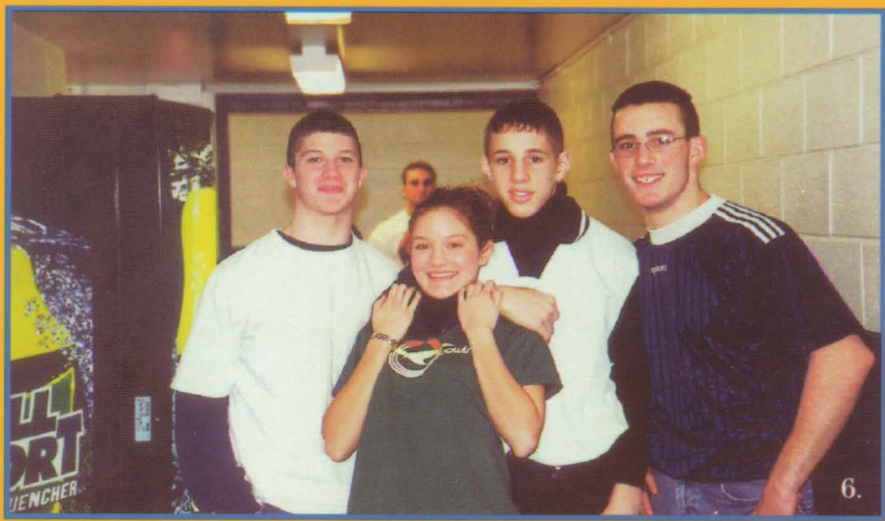

Taking on the responsibility of seniority next year should be the task of fun, smart, athletic, talented, and caring people. The upcoming freshman class should benefit from good role models because next year's seniors fit the part.

1. Long-time friends Rikki Yeager and Val Smith hang out together at lunch.
2. Since when did Richard Nixon become a Blue Streak fan? Ed Batters and Dan Watts go all out to show their class spirit at the Powder Puff game.
3. The junior boys perform their winning routine at the Powder Puff game.

4. "Did the bell ring?" Rory Lindahl, Amy Blauman, Mike Fade, Kathy Casto, Romaro Davis, Ronny Brehm, and Bonnie Bray seem in no hurry to get to class.
 5. You just can't hold these junior girls down. The Powder Puff team looks ready for some action against the seniors.
 6. Chris Tabor shows friends Joel Syzmanski and Eric Koppenhofer his latest catch. Victim Laura Fussaro doesn't look too frightened.
 7. "Where'd you park the horse?" Jessica Bright asks Brian Craigo how they're getting home from the Homecoming dance.
 8. A.J. Chasko tells Lisa Emmett to "Lean on me."

Sophomores Make Their Mark on MHS

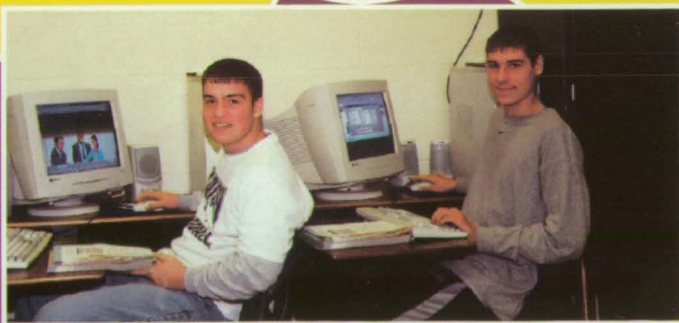

The sophomores of the year 2000 grew one year more experienced, facing many new challenges as they walked the MHS halls for their second year. Excited to get back to business and show his newly-found niche as a sophomore, Rick Boonstra stated, "Well, at least it is better than being a freshman. Like they say, initiative comes to those who wait."

There was also a lot of new territory to be covered by the veteran underclassman, such as more advanced classes, part-time after-school jobs, and the kind of freedom that comes with a driver's license. With these new opportunities to drive from place to place, sophomores really became active in supporting many school activities and became more involved in school engagements. Josh Nunnally commented on how he handles all these new responsibilities: "Driving is fun until you lose control because of black ice and then slide into a ditch!" Kristi Jackson added, "It's great when you get your license because you have more freedom and can do more things with your friends." When asked to contribute her views on life as a sophomore, Heather Balaban said, "It's not the same as being a freshman; you're older and you can drive."

The Class of 2003 has proven its leadership and its ability to react successfully to the many adjustments they've needed to overcome. These sophomores truly shine when faced with a complicated situation, and will go on to be great future leaders of MHS.

Back to the Beginning

The freshman class of 2004 came into an unfamiliar environment when they left the middle school behind and headed up to MHS. Led by class officers Stephanie Hines, Lauren Kidder, and Bethany Moles, they faced many challenges with new classes to take and new people to see.

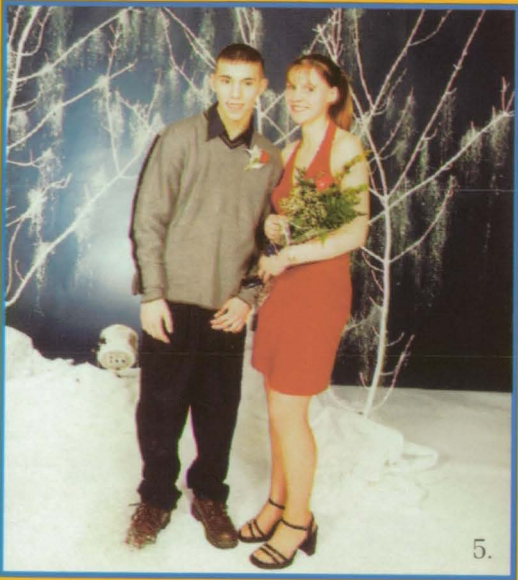

The Class of 2004 is following in the footsteps of a very talented sophomore class. Freshman teacher Mr. Heitanen explained why he enjoys working with this year's class: "The freshmen team scheduling is tremendously positive for both the students and the teachers."

Block scheduling also placed some stricter requirements on this year's freshmen. They are able to take some of the core classes earlier and can get through electives quicker, but they must have an astonishing 24 credits to graduate.

Freshmen learn quickly that they can't just look back on their days in middle school—they must focus on getting the most out of their high school years. Freshman Mike Bryan commented: "It's a lot different from the middle school because the classes are longer and harder."

Homecoming 2000: A Disco Explosion

Homecoming 2000 will be a night seniors and underclassmen will always remember. This year's was not just some ordinary dance—a lot of work (not to mention money!) went into making the night spectacular. The events started off with the school assembly where the Homecoming court reenacted their own "Survivor" show. The group voted couples "off the court" instead of "off the island" because they either cheated or finished last. Eric Toulouse commented, "It was a lot of fun being on court and making the video was interesting, plus it got us out of school when we went with Mr. Richmond down to Lake Erie to film!"

The evening continued with the football game vs. Riverside and the committee setting up after the game. The next day, the music crew came to the high school prepared for a long day of work. It took six hours for them to set up the stage and to hook up all their equipment.

The night brought some more surprises, especially with the weather—rain, snow, and the occasional thunder and lightning—but that didn't stop MHS from putting on an awesome homecoming dance.

Students entered not knowing what to expect from a homecoming promised to be one of the best Madison has ever had. The cafeteria was transformed into a mini concert. Students walked in and were amazed by the two huge screens, which throughout the night showed music videos of the songs being played or at times live clips of the crowd dancing. Along with all the equipment, the DJ brought along a VJ (video jockey) and an LJ (laser jockey). They tried teaching dance moves and always kept the crowd going.

After being crowned king and queen, Nicole Cleversy and Adam Bonnema took over the dance floor for the theme song, "Somewhere Out There." Senior Breana Krotz summarized the experience: "The entire evening was a blast; the DJ by far was the best I've ever seen and the whole atmosphere brought an indescribable feeling to many seniors."

Fall Sports

In the Backfield

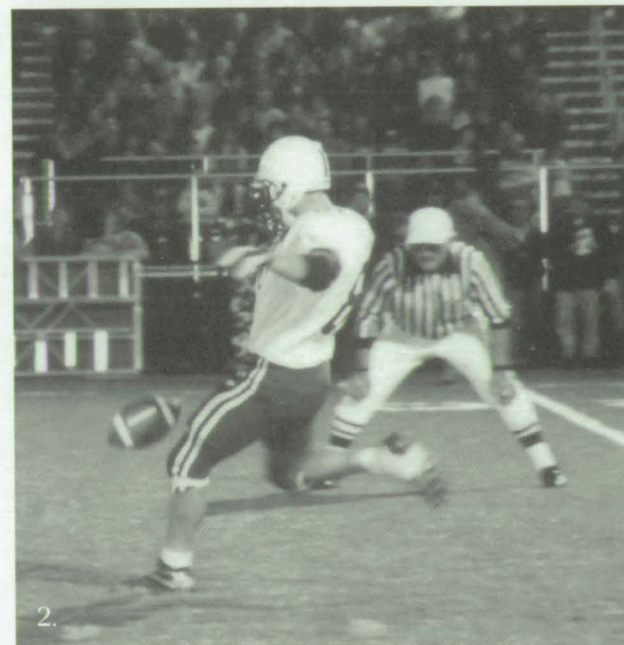

Under new leadership, the Madison varsity football team excelled through their entire season. This year the team consisted of many younger players, with only eleven seniors. Some of their key players were underclassmen. One included Ricky Evans, a sophomore and the starting quarterback. He was throwing 989 yards his first year of playing at the varsity level.

Being such a young team, the seniors had to hold their heads high. This year's captains were Ken Dezman, Nick Forro, Chris Kovacs, and Eric Toulouse. The team was lead by head coach and defensive coordinator Tim Willis. Under him was offensive coordinator, Jon Dragas, and special teams, Mike Gilligan. Together the team worked hard to obtain the record of 4-6.

Despite that record, the Blue Streaks fought hard, gaining more strategies every game. The scoreboard did not show the amount of skill the team developed during the season. Coach Willis summarized: "I would have wanted to win more games, but I feel the season was a success because we were a better team at the end of the season than the beginning."

The season started out with the team victorious, beating John Marshall, Geneva, and Edgewood. Scheduled against harder teams, they then hit a wall, though they never lost their heart for the game. "It was a fun season. We had a lot of good and bad times, but it was always exciting," commented senior captain Chris Kovacs.

Back to Basics

The quality of the JV football team was evident in its very successful 2000 season. The team should be proud of their 6-2 record, especially since their schedule was packed with tough opponents. One of their highlight games was their victory against long-time rival, Chardon. Playing on Madison's home turf, the JV team won a very close and exciting game. Junior Milo Drain remarked, "The team's win against Chardon was such an achievement. I was very proud to be a part of team like we have." Coach Martin added, "Our win against Chardon says a lot about our football program. We are strong-willed and dedicated players, and that is how we come out winners." The confidence gained through the wins of this year's team will ensure a very promising varsity team next year.

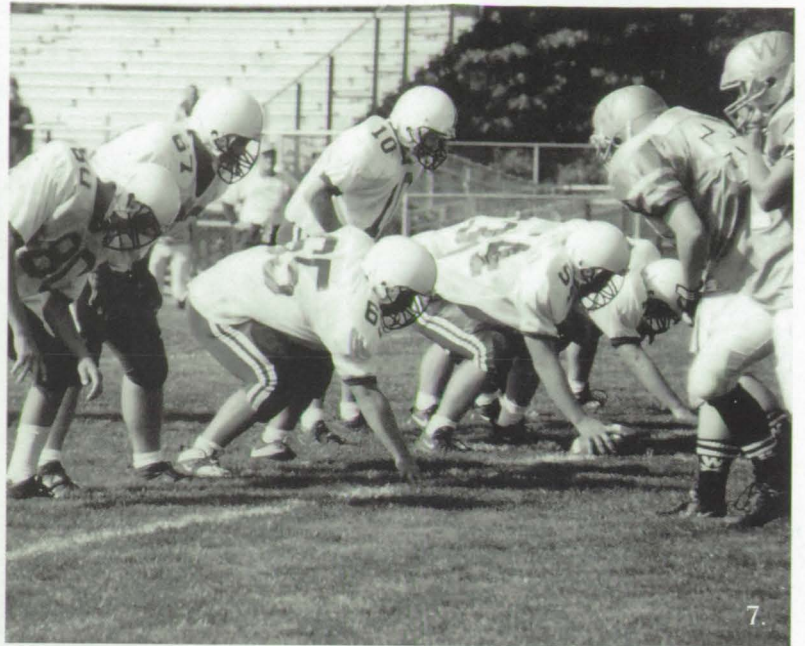

Although the freshman football team endured many losses this season, they gained valuable experience that will help to build a stronger team for the future. The knowledge gained will help make them winners in the years to come. Looking back on the year, freshman Dylan Morris chose Lake Catholic as their most challenging opponent: "LC showed us that they have really good defense, and that is one region that we have to work on. They always kept us on our toes." Coach Forro summed up his season: "We had a coach with a lot of talent that didn't quite mesh as a football team. When we work as a unit, we will be a great football team."

Cheerleaders Cheer, Compete and Win First

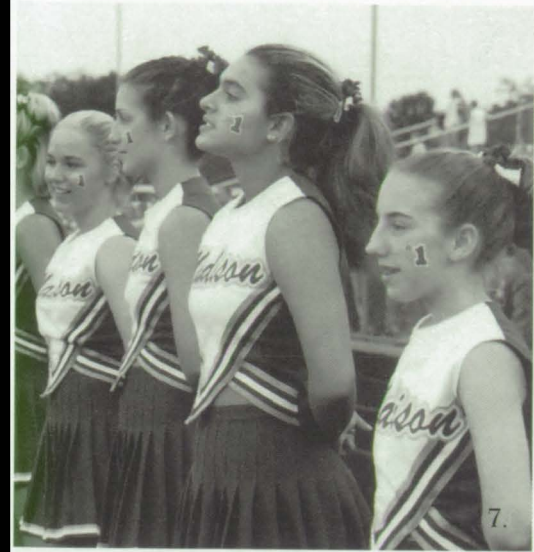

The Madison varsity football cheerleaders had a memorable season from start to finish. "I was very proud of this year's football squad. They worked very hard and this was exhibited by their performances on the track as well as their first place finishes at both the Ashtabula Mall and Chardon competitions," said Head Coach Linda Craigo.

Beginning in July, the girls began preparing for their cheering and competition season. After attending a three-day camp at Kent State University, the girls realized how capable they were of performing at a top level. The squad walked away with a motion award, two team awards, one top team finalist award, seven blue ribbons for superior rating, and a spirit stick. The girls were thrilled with their accomplishments and even named their spirit stick "Suzie Spirit."

"Camp was awesome! We really competed against some tough squads. We proved to ourselves that we had the stuff to compete and win," said sophomore Jessica Elliott. The girls opened their season with a competition at the Ashtabula Mall, where they placed first. Next they held a pep assembly for the opening of the football season. The squad cheered on the Blue Streaks for ten games, increasing school spirit to the final game. They finished their competition season with a first-place win at Chardon High School.

The Blue Streak's Mascot James Gehring once again was on the track helping with crowd involvement. He summed up his experience during the season: "It was fun but depressing cheering our senior year. I had a blast while it lasted. It was the most enjoyable thing I've done in high school."

Back in the Swing of Things

These Lady Blue Streaks were back in the swing of things with a record-breaking season. The team accomplished three of the four goals they had set for themselves: ending their season as the first group to go undefeated in the P.A.C.; becoming the first Madison volleyball team not to lose a single game to Riverside; and racking up twenty wins (actually, they can boast a record of 21-5!). Unfortunately, the team fell short on the fourth goal of beating Mentor to become the first Madison volleyball team to move on to Regionals.

To reach these goals, the girls put in time over the summer attending the Youngstown Team Camp and playing in open gyms. At first things were a bit rocky as the team suffered the loss of graduated passers. After a few lost games, however, the team began to pull together,

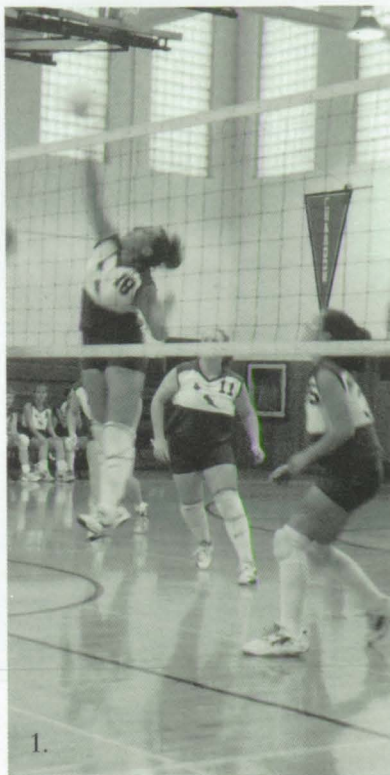

"We had a great season; we gave a strong effort and made each day fun,"

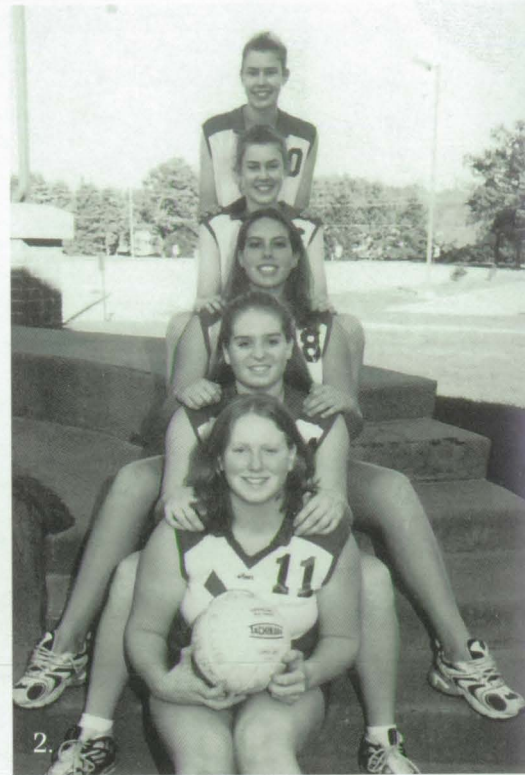

—Juniors Nichole Nowakowski and Emily Blauman

becoming almost unstoppable.

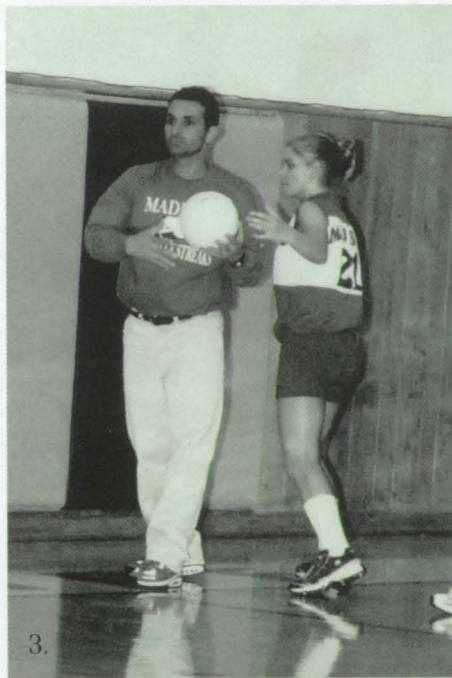

Newcomers this year included sophomores Ingrid Brainard, Rachel Pike, Kristi Jackson, Lindsay Schmid, and junior Wendy Lang. They joined teammates and varsity lettermen Emily Blauman, Jessica Bright, Nichole Nowakowski, and Jessica Kallio on the court. The graduating seniors—Tonia Brennen, Kara Jackson, Jenne Schmid, Melanie Fisher, and Natalie Fisher—will be greatly missed, but the team still looks forward to an awesome season next year. Starting a New Day

The start of the new 2000 season brought new coaches for the JV and freshman volleyball teams. Coach Mersiliate, the freshman volleyball coach, was "a good leader and helped us work as a team," commented Amber Nowakowski, one of the starters on the team. The girls were undefeated in the PAC but lost a few games outside of it. Still they made a good showing with their final record of 14 and 2. They worked hard as a team, supporting and cheering for one another through the good and the bad. Over all they had a really good season and had lots of fun in the process.

The JV also started out with a new leader in Coach French. Sophomore Heather Howell, one of the players on the team, said that she was a good coach and that she learned a lot from her. The team had a great season with a record of and 11 and 7. They also had a lot of fun working together. They came together and helped each other out when they weren't doing so well in the games. They always came through for each other, win or lose.

Back-to-Back Champions

In only its third year of existence, the Madison girls' tennis team racked up an incredible 6-0 season and won the P.A.C. crown for the second year in a row. Even more impressive and daunting to the competition is the fact that the young Blue Streaks' team is packed with talent for years to come.

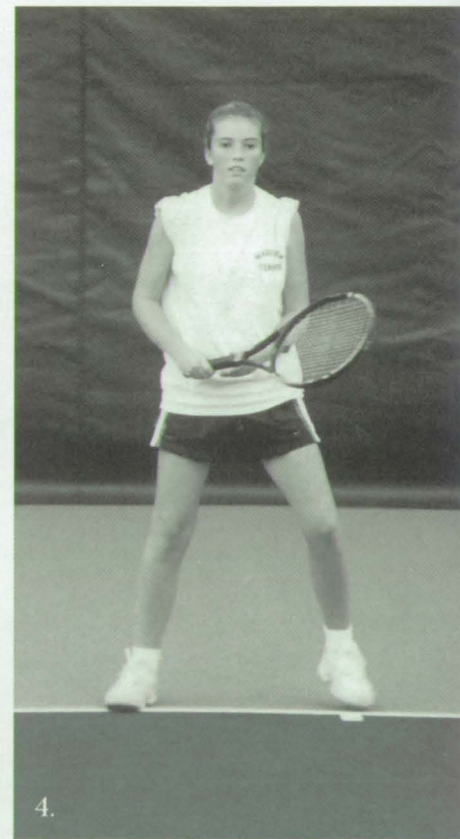

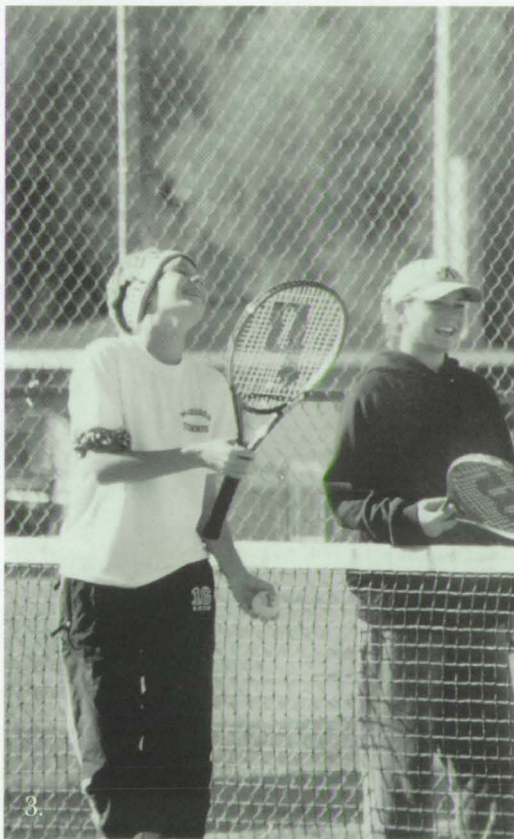

Named the News Herald 2000 coach of the year, Coach Mark Vidmar praised his team: "We had a terrific season. Our girls are competitive and know how to win close matches." He was also very proud of the girls for achieving an undefeated season, stating: "You don't see very many of those—I'm very proud of many of the girls for accomplishing that!"

"I'm very proud of all of our accomplishments this year. It was lots of fun and I feel that we'll be even better next year." —Jessica Jameson

Indeed, the girls were also very satisfied themselves for the awesome rankings they established. Senior Katie Shears and junior Jessica Jameson made first team for the News-Herald while junior Amy Blauman made their second team. The News-Herald also awarded honorable mentions to junior Laura Fussaro and sophomores Karla Kershaw, Erica Baird, and Katelyn Orris.

Back to the Basics

The 2000 varsity boys' soccer team ended the season with a record of 1-13-2. The team was once again young and inexperienced, and it was a tough rebuilding year for the boys. They had very few seniors to rely on for leadership. Junior co-captain Josh Ozbeytemur and sophomore co-captains Chris Zundel and Joe Judd led the team.

The boys played a difficult schedule facing state-ranked teams such as Brush and Holy Name. "I am really looking forward to next season; we should be a lot more competitive," said Josh Ozbeytemur. One of the highlights of the season was the game against long-time rival Riverside. The boys played well, tying the game 1-1. They got their only win against Ashtabula Edgewood, outscoring the Warriors 2-1.

A new coach also joined the program this year. "The guys worked hard and improved each game they played. Also, they helped me adjust to Madison my first year, so I am very appreciative. Next year will be even better," commented Mr. Feola, a new teacher at MHS.

The varsity boys were also very fortunate to have two foreign exchange students on the team this year, Volker Gross and Patrick Trapp, both from Germany. They brought their European experience to the field.

The team is looking forward to next season, hoping to improve their record. As usual, another tough schedule is ahead of them for next year, but the boys are confident they will be successful.

JV Soccer: Better Than Ever

Both of the JV soccer teams did well this year, stepping up to the challenges of the tougher competition that caused them problems last year. These teams also added a little international flair with the help of exchange students Alex Nagel and Juan Pablo Cueva Tello for the boys and Alice Trabant for the girls.

The boys' team ended up with a 10-5-1 record, a huge improvement over last year. They were, for the second year in a row, the only team to score on North, one of the powerhouses in Northeast Ohio. They were a pretty young team, and sophomores Chad Butler, Dustin Osborne, Alex Hearn, and Matt Toward acted as team captains, because coaches Gary Granger and Frank Feola didn't choose captains. Their youth didn't stop them from beating many good teams and ending with a conference record of 4-0-1.

The girls' team also improved greatly and played well this year. They started out slowly with a lot of young players who were unsure of their talent. Second-year coach Chad Burgard used last year's experience to help the team gel together. By the middle of the season, they started to turn around and win games. Sophomore Angie Wickert commented, "We're doing better than last year and the season is going great." The captains—juniors Sarah Goda and Jen Waggoner—were proven leaders and became the bond that held the team together. They used their leadership and helped boost the team to the next level.

Both teams did very well and hope to continue to do well next year. Their enthusiasm for the game and the skills they have built should also benefit the varsity teams in the 2001 season.

Back & Kicking

The Madison girls' varsity soccer team came through with an incredible season this year. With a record of 10 wins, 6 losses, and 1 tie, the girls pulled through with the best record in Madison history. Following the leadership of captains senior Lauren Kirby, senior Rosie Brackman, and junior Bonnie Bray, the girls were able to defeat tough opponents like Notre Dame Cathedral Latin and Lake Catholic. Rosie Brackman shared her reflections on the season: "I was very happy. Thinking back to my freshman year, I remember wondering how my senior year would turn out. I don't think I could have asked for this season to turn out any better than it did."

This year was an exciting one for the Lady Streaks because they finally got to compete in the Premier Athletic Conference. "The girls worked exceptionally hard this year. They really wanted that PAC title," said Coach Mullan. "It's a shame that we had to settle for second place, but

Junior Stephanie Epple was an important asset to the team this year: "We had a great season. What made it even better was our 10-6-1 record—our best yet."

I'm proud of them all." This is the last year that the Madison Lady Streaks soccer teams will have the privilege and pleasure of learning from Coach Mullan. The team agrees that she was a very dedicated coach and they'll all miss her.

From Start to Finish

After losing three of their top seven runners, the girls thought this would be strictly a rebuilding season. However, dedication and heart led the 2000 girls' cross country team to places they never thought they would reach. Led by senior captains Katie Peplowski, Erica Harper, and Francine Rhinehart along with junior captian Ashley Dorr, the girls raced to become PAC runners-up.

The season progressed very slowly in the beginning because many of the key runners suffered minor injuries. Working through the pain, the girls emerged victorious in the end. After losing their first race, the girls became discouraged. Working harder than they ever had before, they pulled off a winning season with only two losses in dual meets.

"We always helped each other and pushed each other along during each race.

Teamwork is what made this season spectacular!"

— Stephanie Shaffer and Tracy Crawford

After their districts, the Lady Streaks went on to the regionals where they finally beat rival Riverside. In this meet, Madison advanced two runners to the state meet in Columbus, sophomore Rachele Orris and senior Francine Rhinehart. All together the girls pulled off an amazing season. Senior captain Katie Peplowski commented, "The girls really made this season one to remember, and I wish next year's girls the best of luck."

10. Once the finish line is in sight, Kimothy Piorkowski gives it everything she has.

Cross Country Makes It to Districts

The Madison boys' cross country team faced many difficult opponents during their rebuilding year. Senior Mike Mitchell led the Streaks through the regular season, and later moved on to districts with Randy Schultz, Kevin Zimmerman, Mike Romano, Bob Conrad, Kitt Lashley, and Greg Church.

Although the Blue Streaks' record was not as great as the team had wished, individually the runners accomplished many personal goals by beating personal records or being selected players-of-the-week. In addition, Mike Mitchell was first-team and Randy Schultz second-team all P.A.C.

Runner Randy Schultz said,

"Even though the team is young, there are a lot of younger runners, including myself, who will become better by the experience that this year's season gave us."

The team also has welcomed Coach Collins. He has been a part of the team now for two years and the boys couldn't be happier with the replacement they received after the loss of Coach Pavesich.

Golf Team Has a Rebuilding Year

With only one senior returning from last year's team, the 2000 golf team had to focus on rebuilding this season. Coach Beans had some work cut out for him, working with a varsity team of mostly juniors and sophomores. Senior Tim Rideout shared his thoughts on their performance: "We started off the season pretty strong with a 14-2 record, but we didn't end it as well as we would have liked."

Still, the team had a pretty good season, ending with a 15-9 record and earning a ranking of second in the conference tournament.

"We learned a lot this year and it got us prepared for next year," —Jon Ostanek

Although no one made it to districts this year, Tim Rideout, Nick Horvath, Eric Hughes, and Rick Fike all did very well, and Jason Cieslinski only missed districts by one shot. With a very young team this year, next year's golf team should come back with more experience and get the job done.

POWER

Bring Back the Music

The 2000-2001 Blue Streak Marching Band was under the field direction of Drum Majorette, Nellie Pike. Band camp was very early this year but the directors, Mr. Pe'rez and Ms. Groah did a great job and kept the music going for the first game.

The band prepared for several parades and festivals during the year, beginning with the Madison Village Old-Fashioned Days' Parade, where they received first place, and ending with the Madison Memorial Day Parade. They also march in the St. Patrick's Day Parade in Cleveland each year as long as the weather permits. This year they also performed at a festival in Perry where they got to see the University of Ohio marching band perform their amazing show.

With 111 members, the Streaks exploded with sound when they performed their Caribbean show. They played "Hot, Hot, Hot," "Cheeseburger in Paradise," and "Mambo No.5," featuring Han Fleischer as Lou Bega. The Marching Band also did a patriotic show with "Summon the Heroes," "Stars and Stripes," and "God Bless the U.S.A." in honor of the Presidential elections and the Summer Olympics.

The band did a great job this year. Sophomore Heather Britton said, "It was fun and I liked the drills. And I enjoy doing both cheerleading and marching band." Freshman Linz Taylor added, "It was enjoyable. We got to meet a lot of other bands and they were nice."

1. Matt Stoltz leads the trumpets on the field during the pre-game show.

Streak Wrestlers Pin Another Winning Season

Madison varsity wrestling once again had another very successful season, finishing with a 16-2 record. As the season was about to get started, everyone was counting Madison wrestling out of the PAC conference. With only three seniors coming back, Coach Fortuna had to look to the underclassmen to step up and learn their role on the team, and they did exactly what their coach told them by sending ten people to district and two to state.

Captain Dave Klimkowicz, one of the two state qualifiers, shared his thoughts on the season: "I knew we had something to prove and that is exactly what we did." Helping Dave lead the team to a third PAC conference championship were senior co-captains Matt Perle' and George Patzakis, who made it to state for the second year in a row.

Other highlights of the team's season included the North Canton Hoover and Wadsworth tournaments as well as the one at Willard, where they took first place. Their toughest match of the season came against Willoughby South: It came down to the last match, but junior Ryan Kershaw teched his opponent to help the Streaks win 32-26. Nick Verdi summed up the success of the season: "Our biggest accomplishment was taking 2nd at sectionals after no one thought we would even make it in the top-five."

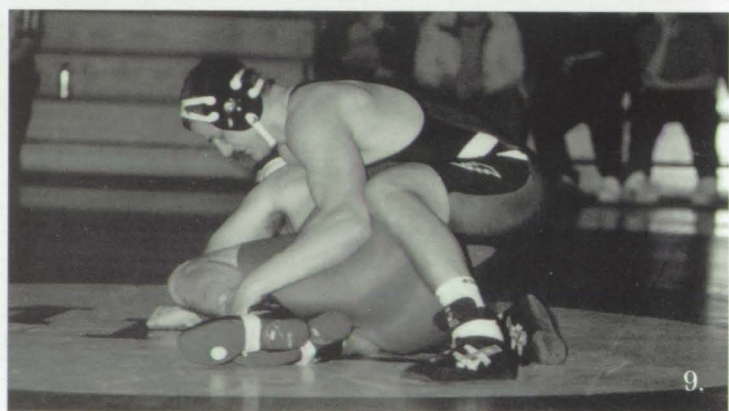

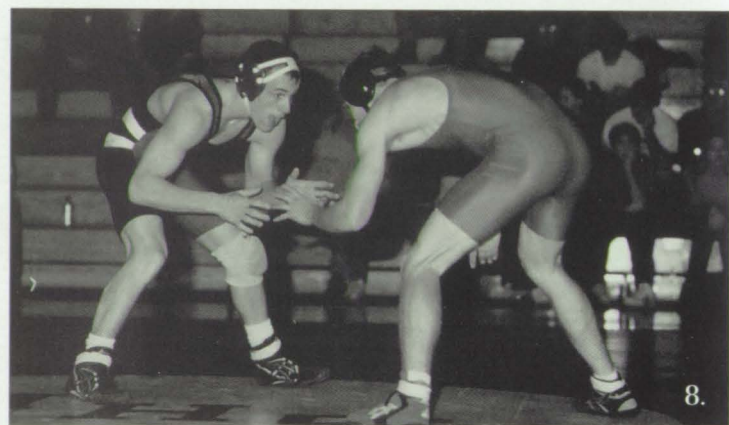

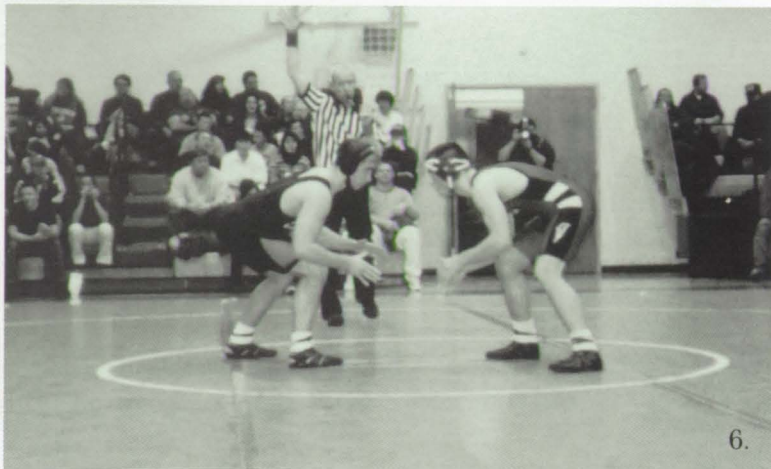

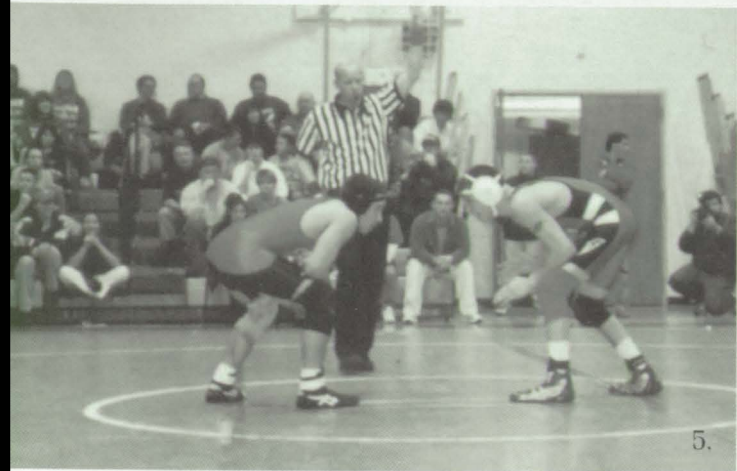

1. Joel Szymanski pushes his opponent's head down while getting ready to grab his arm to get himself set up for his next move.

2. Todd Getzy tries to roll Geneva wrestler on to his back by locking arms in the heavy weight match Getzy went on to win by a tech fall.

3. Nick Verdi waits for the right opportunity to shoot on Geneva wrestler during the 145-pound match. Nick went on to win with the score of 9 - 3.

4. George Patzakis works his adversary on the mat during the 160-pound match.
5. Dale Lucas stares down his opponent before the match gets on its way.
6. Eric Koppenhofer gets himself ready to start the 171-pound match.
7. Matt Perle' gets his arm raise after defeating Chardon wrestler.

8. Bob White turns around his adversary to better position himself.
9. Dave Klimkowicz gets ready to cradle his opponent during his 189- pound match.

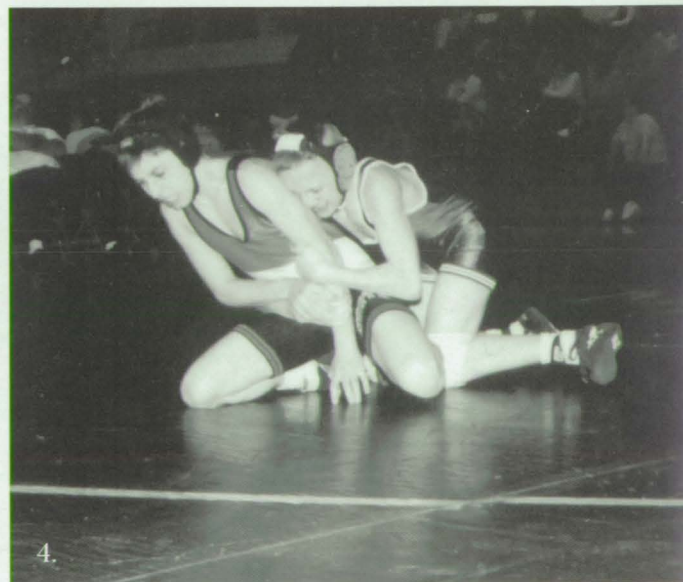

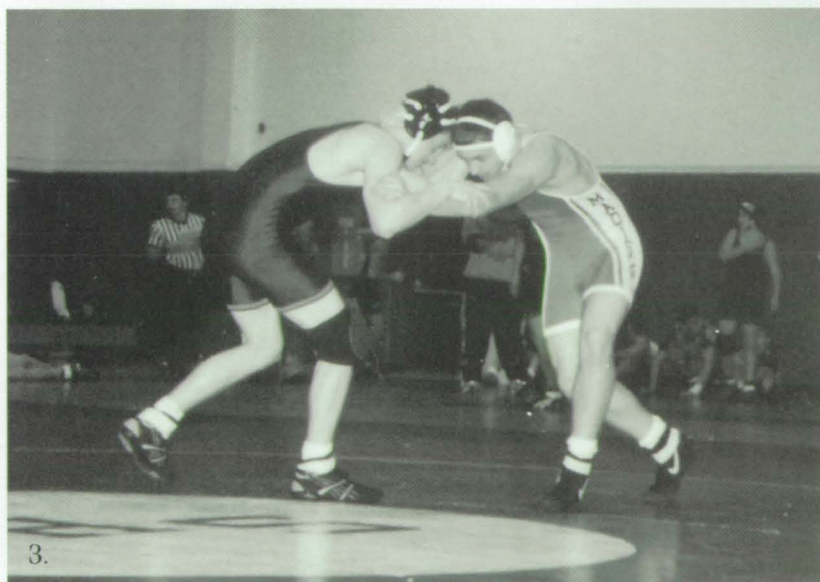

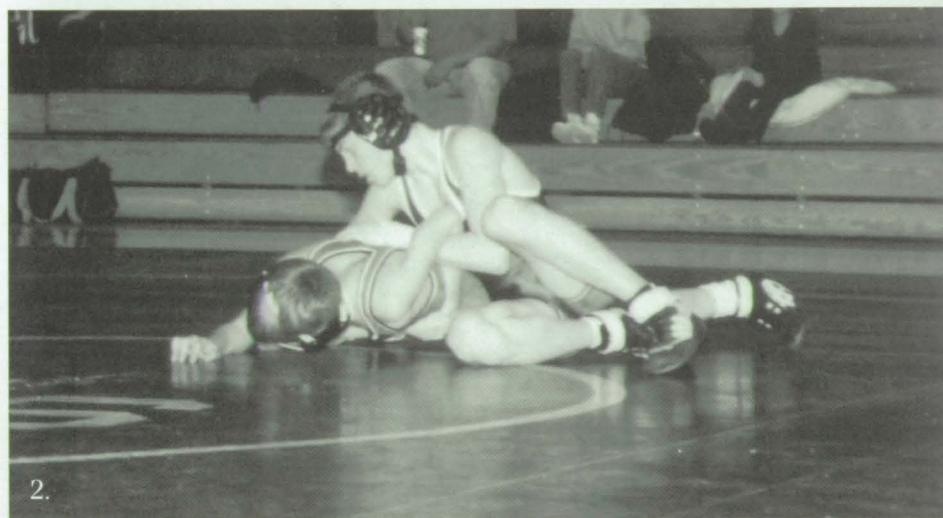

JV & Freshmen Wrestlers Back Up the Team

The 2000-2001 JV and freshmen wrestling teams had very rewarding and fulfilling seasons. The JV mat men won all of their dual meets and showed an impressive display of determination, giving everything they had to complete their season. Sophomore Dan O'Flaherty summed up his experience: "I had a lot of fun and improved throughout the whole season."

The freshmen had a rude awakening but did a great job coming up from the middle school to wrestle against Division I schools. Most found the hard work worthwhile, as Justin Nowakowski affirmed: "This season was very different from the middle school, but it was also a lot more fun."

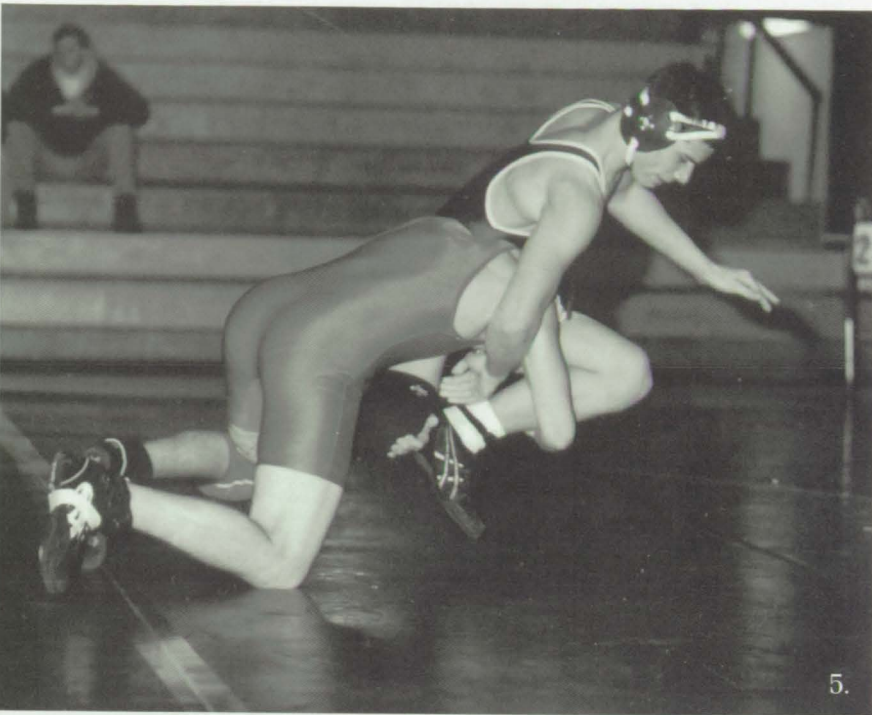

The guys had to fight hard to earn their place to wrestle in their tournaments and meets. The team had "wrestle offs" to decide who would go to the main JV wrestling events. Some of the JV wrestlers even got to wrestle with Madison's varsity wrestlers in one of the team's best tournaments of the season.

At the Madison JV tournament, all the Madison wrestlers placed in all of the weight classes, winning the meet. Perhaps the wrestling squad's greatest victory came when they traveled to Berkshire to compete against both their JV and varsity teams. The Blue Streaks JV wrestlers defeated both varsity teams, bringing an outstanding end to a great season.

Days Fly By for Madison Swimmers

Despite some difficult competitions, the 2000-2001 swim teams had another great season. Although the girls' team struggled with a record of 1-9, the boys clocked in at 7 - 2. The team was led by senior co-captains Jeff Hearn, Jen Jutz, and Faye Arnold.

The boys' swim team just about doubled in size this year, a factor which contributed to their success. "Last year the swim team had about six boys. This year about ten more joined. I am very glad to see that we will have a boys' team again next year," commented Jeff Hearn. The team placed second at NEO's, which was a highlight of their season.

In particular, senior Kyle Tobul had a very successful season, qualifying for districts, where he finished off his high school swimming career. He swam the 100-M backstroke in 56.24 seconds, breaking his previous school record of 57.31 seconds. "Our boys' swim team is the best we have had since my freshman year. They rocked!" Jen Lutz commented. Many great things should follow in the future for the boys' swim team

It was a rebuilding year for their counterparts on the girls' team. They lost a lot of experienced seniors last year, so many younger girls had to step up and play important key roles on the team this season. Lutz and Arnold were joined by only one other senior, Maureen Sisk. The younger, less experienced teammates looked up to them for direction and leadership. The girls are now focused on next year and hope to have a great season. "I am really looking forward to next year, although I am really going to miss all of the seniors that will be graduating," summarized junior Jessica

Varsity Boys Go Back to the Courts

The varsity boys' basketball team had a good season in 2000 and 2001. Led by Coach Peterlin, they went 12-10 over all, and 5-3 in their conference, receiving a second place in the P.A.C. With the experience of seniors Matt Stoltz, Andy Petry, Brian Brueggeman, Rob Verdi, Tim Rideout, and James Gehring, the team advanced to the second round in the division I tournament in Euclid. They were helped out a lot on the floor by juniors

Brian Craigo and Ray King.

The boys beat rival Riverside (59 to 53) for the second time in thirty-two games. "It was a good season. We played well as a team," commented senior Tim Rideout.

Towards the end of the season, some of the JV underclassmen also stepped up and played key roles in important games. Their added experience should help next year's juniors and seniors take the lead as the large group of varsity players leaves the Blue Streak court this year.

"I really enjoyed becoming friends with my teammates, and the dinners were always a pleasure."

In the post-season, the team went on to win their first game, 69-54 against P.A.C. rivals Chardon, but later lost to Glenville, a team that placed second in the district tournament. Asked to comment on the highlights of their season, Matt Stoltz listed several: "Beating Riverside, beating Ashtubula City on senior night, and getting dunked on by Glenville."

JV / Freshmen Boys' Shootin' to Be the Best

The JV and freshmen boys' basketball teams worked extremely hard this season to some day become part of the varsity team. The freshman team showed some promising talent for the years to come. Working hard under Coach Clark to build their skills and develop their plays, they finished with a great season at 13 and 6. In fact, they did so well that the JV team even recruited two of their players, Kevin Craigo and Chris Moore, to move up a level. The JV team had one of their most successful years in a long time. They began strong and fought to retain a nearly perfect record. Beating tough teams like Willoughby South and Eastlake North pushed the team to work extremely hard, and they deserved what they earned. Chris Moore commented, "We had a lot of fun but it was a lot of work." The team had a record of 19-1, losing only to Lake Catholic. Even that game was extremely close, and the outcome was only determined in the final seconds.

The varsity team is going to be very fortunate next year to acquire the talent of this year's JV team. Hopefully they can retain their success and bring a championship home. The freshmen will have a tough job living up to the success of their teammates, but they are up for the challenge. Next year will be the year to go watch basketball games on Friday night.

9. Max Ungers makes a fast-break for the basket to show the opposing team who's going to win.

Cheerleaders Bring Back Three Trophies

The basketball cheerleaders had a very energetic season with regular season games, playoff games and competitions. Most of the cheerleaders would agree that competing was the highlight of their season, winning trophies and the respect of many other schools.

The varsity and junior varsity squads combined into one large varsity squad, consisting of eleven girls. The team entered four competitions and placed in three. The outcome of their competitive season was quite successful, with one first-place and two third-place trophies.

Many would say the most satisfaction came with their first-place victory at Eastlake North. Beating their season rival, Chardon, also proved to be a memorable experience. "The first-place trophy was well-deserved. All of the cheerleaders showed motivation and dedication while practicing this award-winning routine," said JV co-captain Stephanie Sparkman.

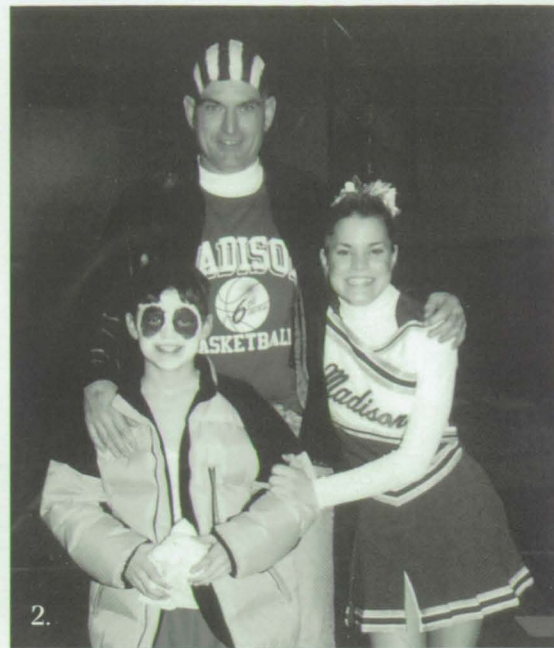

The girls also had a great time during the regular season cheering for the Blue Streaks. With various half-time routines and quarter dances, they did a fantastic job entertaining the crowd. Most fans will remember the "M.C.Hammer" dance for years to come. "It was a great season, and we improved a lot. I was really proud of everyone," said senior co-captain Rita Garisek.

Many hours of practice and preparation went into putting together their award-winning season. The girls attended a summer camp held at Kent State University, which helped to prepare them for many of their competition wins. After many evening practices of performing in the wrestling room, the girls were enthusiastic about taking their routine to the competition mats. They awed the crowd with countless jumps, creative choreography and upbeat music. They carried their hard work to the main floor mat and raised the level of difficulty for the years to come with a memorable season that dares to be topped.

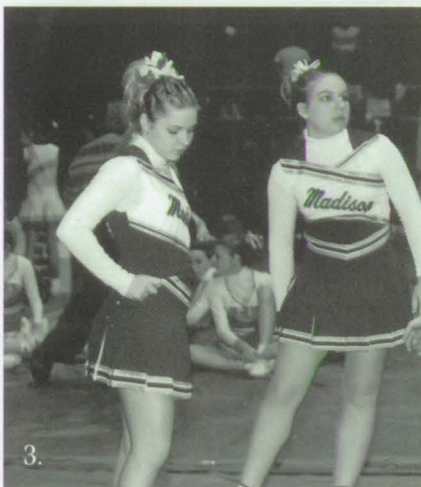

Backing up the cheerleaders, the pep band also performed at both pre-game and half-time for every home game. Playing the MHS fight song, "Sweet Georgia Brown," "Hang On Sloopy," "Cleveland Rocks," and "Gimme Some Lovin'," they kept Streak fans and the visiting teams entertained and charged up for victory.

Lady Streaks Bring Back a Winning Season

With only four losses to their name during the 2000-2001 basketball season, the Lady Streaks' season exemplifies the word "teamwork." The leadership of such players as senior co-captains Kara Jackson and Jennie Schmid helped the team accomplish their impressive record of 17-4. The true depth of the team shone through during such games as Lake Catholic and Ashtabula Harbor, where up to 11 players contributed to a Madison victory. However, one goal has so far eluded this Madison team—a P.A.C championship, which they narrowly missed during a 40-50 loss to North. Other losses came to state-ranked Regina, Brush, and twice to North.

During their 21-game span, the Streaks persevered through many close games: Brush (52-48), Howland (59-51), Perry (51-40), and their final game of the season against Lake Catholic, where the girls clawed back from a deficit to score eight straight baskets in overtime for a 64-60 win.

"We had a great season," senior Kara Jackson stated. "Our team was so close and such good friends. I only wish we could have done better in the tournament." The Streaks don't have much to show for their impressive record of 17-4 yet, but this young yet experienced team will be returning many varsity players and still has a chance to take that P.A.C. title.

"We went 17-4, and that ain't half bad," commented sophomore Rachel Pike. "We had a good team and accomplished a lot even though we don't have much to show for it. Way to go, Lady Streaks!" An optimistic Lyndsay Schmid agreed: "We had a real good season; our winning record of 17-4 isn't half bad. At the end of the year, I believe we REALLY came together."

Off the Backboard

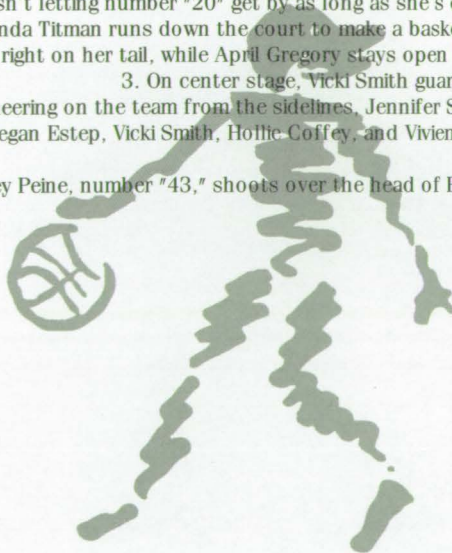

The freshman girls' basketball team entered the world of high school sports with a huge bang this year. They went undefeated with a winning record of 14-0, but their victories did not come without hard work and sacrifice. The girls put in extra time over the summer, traveling to different cities to play in tournaments. This year's starters were Bethany Moles, April Gregory, Amber Nowakowski, Vicki Smith, and Amanda Titman. Other key players included Jennifer Buttram, Jenna Izzarelli, Megan Estep, Jennifer Shafer, Megan Estep, Hollie Coffey, and Vivien Bentley. Streak fans look forward to next year's contribution of these up-and-coming superstars.

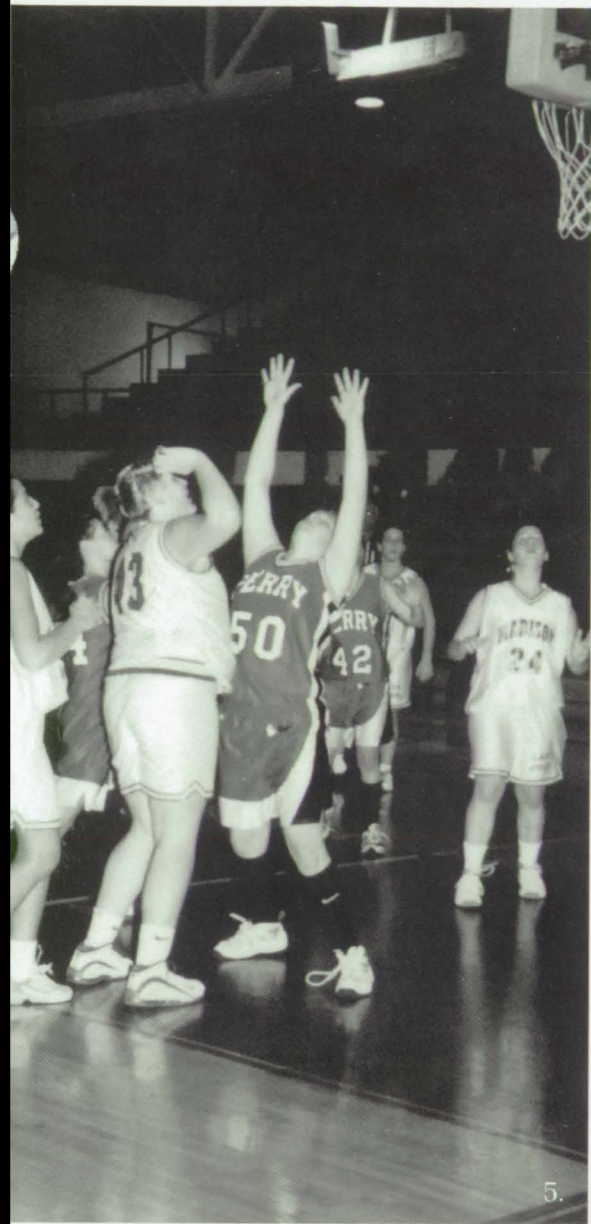

The freshmen were not the only ones with a winning season this year. The JV girls' team walked away with a record of 17-1, losing only one game by only one point to an arch-rival, Riverside. The JV girls' record was the best in the P.A.C., and that came during a season in which they lost two key players. Carly Keipert and Sonia Vickers both underwent knee surgery, but both then recovered and returned to play with their team.

This year's JV starters were Nichole Nowakowski, Allison Izzarelli, Valerie Smith, Courtney Peine, and Kristi Jackson. Other key players included Angie Wickert, Lori Per Due, Carly Keipert, and Sonia Vickers. Sophomore Allison Izzarelli commented about the season: "The JV's were awesome this year. We only lost one [game]; that ain't too shabby! Good season, girls!" Like their freshmen counterparts, the JV girls also traveled to tournaments over the summer to prepare for the winter season. Coach Smith is very happy with their season and looks forward to working with them on his varsity team next year. Next season looks as though it will come with much talent and many victories.

3. Nichole Nowakowski looks for someone to pass to, but Courtney Peine is busy with her Perry opponent.
4. Sophomore Devin Daughters soars for lay-up.
5. Sophomore Jay Judy faces his opponent to begin his JV match in the 140-lb. weight division.
6. Megan Chandler proves you really do need to put those math skills to use in real life when she keeps the record books for the freshman girls' basketball team.

7. Joey Lander plays a tough defense, watching for a chance to steal the ball from his Mentor Shore opponent.
8. Rose Gluvna tries to cheer up freshman basketball player Dan Gund, who's finding out what it means to be sidelined!
9. Coach Morgan calls his freshman team--including Vivien Bentley and April Gregory--in from warm-ups to give them some last-minute tips before the game begins.
10. Ingrid Brainard proves that "she's got game" as she passes the ball to a teammate.

Spring Sports

Boys' Track Races to Winning Season

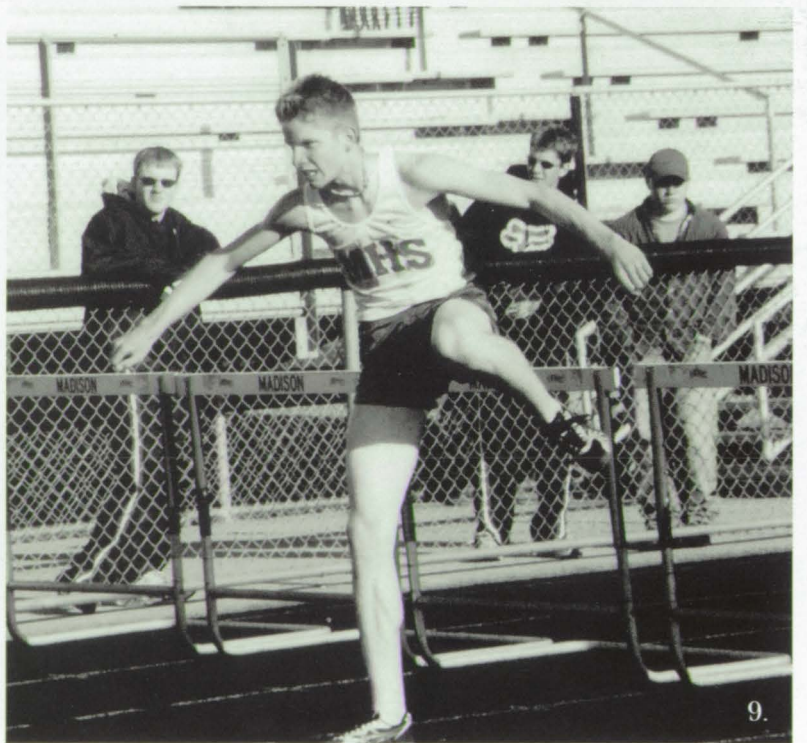

The boys' track team ended their 2001 season with a record of 5-2, with 3-1 in dual conference meets. Despite that winning record, they fell short of bringing home another P.A.C. championship, coming in second in the conference to Eastlake North. Still, senior Dave Tvergyak maintained a positive outlook: "It was a disappointing season because we're not used to losing, but hopefully they'll continue to win in the future."

For the first time this season, the boys' and girls' teams shared a head coach, Mr. Wagner. The boys faced another challenge in dealing with injuries among this year's team. Both seniors Nick Forro and Andy Oudomlith battled football injuries which kept them from excelling as they might otherwise have at their events. Despite everything, the season did have its stand-out moments. One highlight came, for example, when they again bested long-time rival Riverside. In addition, senior Gary Mazzeo broke his own P.A.C. record in the hurdles.

They also have a strong future in sight, with the graduating seniors "passing the baton" to a remarkable group of underclassmen, especially among this year's sophomore class. Kevin Zimmerman made it to regionals in the 800-m race. Fellow sophomore Nick Verdi went all the way to state in the pole vault event. He placed 14th there, and had bright hopes for the future: "My goal at State was to clear the opening heights, and I did. Now I have two more years to improve on that."

1. Seniors Nick Forro and Mike Mitchell insist on having their photo taken together with their shot put and disc.
2. "Look at me, look at me!" Freshman Jed Powell helps to lower the hurdles for the girls' 100-m hurdles.
3. Gary Mazzeo clears the hurdle with ease as he looks to capture first place in the event.
4. Bring it on! Senior Matt Stoltz eyes the next hurdle with a look of confidence and determination as he sprints toward it.
5. Sophomore Chris Zundel pushes toward the finish line.

6. With a look of determination, sophomore pole vaulter Nick Verdi pulls himself over the bar.
7. Senior pole vaulter Dave Tvergyak sprints down the runway as he tries to pick up the momentum he'll need to clear the bar.
8. Randy Schultz tries his best to pass Dan Rediger on the final lap of the race.
9. Josh Hehmeyer clears another hurdle.
10. Four-by-eight hundred teammates Chris Durham and Kitt Lashley pass the baton during the third leg of their race while Coach Wagner clocks their time.

Lady Tracksters Are Back

Under the new coaching staff of Tedd Wagner, the Madison Lady Tracksters had a record-breaking season this year. They almost cleared the record board with eight new records. The girls placed respectively in all invitationals that they attended and walked away with the P.A.C. Championship for the third year in a row. Undefeated in the P.A.C., they were finally only defeated by state champs, Cleveland Collinwood. The team also boasted five regional qualifiers, consisting of Jessica Kallio and Bethany Nahm in the discus, Brittany Howard in the high jump, and Jessica Bright in the 300-meter hurdles. In addition, Francine Rhinehart, who qualified in the 800-meter run, continued on to place third in the state.

On top of all of this, the girls are still training for Nationals in the 4x800 meter relay, the 4x400 meter relay, and the discus. Although the team is graduating a lot of talent this year, they will still be strong and solid for next year, expecting to take the P.A.C. Championship again and to set their goals high, carrying on the winning tradition. The seniors for next year include Wendy Lang, Emily Blauman, Brittany Howard, Jessica Bright, Ashley Dorr, Tina Burkhammer, and Tina Schafer. Good luck, seniors, and thank you for your leadership!

6. Runners to your mark! Tina Burkhammer ("Tiny") gets ready to start off the 4x100 meter relay.
7. Stefanie Dodge soars over the high jump bar.
8. Watch out! Here comes Nici Newman flying into the long jump pit.
9. Rachelle Orris goes on to win the 2-mile to beat Chardon.
10. All-star Wendy Lang finishes like a champ in her relay.
11. Emily Blauman brings it in to win the 4x200 meter relay.

Back to the Bases

Spring of 2001, it was back to the bases for our Madison varsity baseball team. Although the Streaks ended with a 9-13 record, they improved a lot from last year, winning six more games than in the previous season and placing third in the P.A.C. The team was led by lettermen Tim Rideout, Adam Smith, and Jason Zins. Tim Rideout was selected to play in the all-star games at Jacobs Field; Adam Smith played in the tri-county all-star News Herald games along with Jason Zins, who also played in the Star Beacon all-star game. They set a great example for all the juniors who are returning next year.

Showing off their talents, the team made it all the way to sectionals, where they won their first game but lost the second. They also distinguished themselves by being the first Madison baseball team in the past five years to win a sectional game. Summing up the season, Jason Zins commented: "We improved a lot from last year because we were hard-working and dedicated."

Next year's team looks very promising, with many of the juniors coming back for next season and JV players moving up. While the returning team will be focusing on improving their outfield and defense, Coach Dragas complimented them on their pitching and infielding skills. Anticipating their trip back to the bases in 2002, Dragas remarked: "It was an enjoyable Sean and the players worked hard. We are looking forward to next year."

Freshman & JV Baseball Show Promising Talent

The JV baseball team scored another successful season in 2001. Finishing with a 10 - 6 record, this group demonstrated a lot of talent for the varsity team to look forward to in the up-coming year. Topping the big hitters was freshman Matt Stanic, who hit 8 home runs in the course of this season. One of their big rivalries this year was against Willoughby South: the Streaks won the first matchup 3-2 but lost the next by a score of 3-4. Sophomore Tom Collinsworth shared his thoughts on their season: "We set our goals to have a winning record and I think we did a good job in accomplishing it." Keith Krecji added: "We had a lot of fun this year during practices and games. I only wish we could have finished with a better record than we ended up with."

The freshman team didn't do as well as the JV, but they did learn a lot about the game of baseball. With the assistance of a new coach, the players weren't the only ones new to the high school level. They finished their season with a record of 3 - 12, but they also won their last three games. Team member Kevin Cottingham commented on their record: "We didn't start as well as we would have liked to, but we started to come together and play like a team towards the end of our season." Now that these freshmen have gone through their first year of high school baseball, they show considerable talents to be developed on the JV field next year.

1. Sprinting to first base, Ray Garcia watches the ball go after hitting a single into the outfield.
2. Joe Franczek shows his good sportsmanship by picking up the baseball bat and giving it to the opposing team.
3. Brian Lemerise, Josh Ferra, Jesse Brown, and Dave Harris sit on the bench waiting for the next inning to get on its way.

- 6. Joe Deak watches the ball come towards the plate and gets ready to hit one of his four home runs of the year during their match-up against Perry.
- 7. Junior Tim Shinkle picks his mask up out of the dirt after having to throw the ball to second base.
- 8. Freshmen Kevin Craigo, Joe Deak, and Eric Grice watch their teammate while waiting for their turn to go in the game.
- 9. Jesse Brown pitches one across the plate.
- 10. The freshman team comes running out of the dugout to congratulate their teammate after he hit the game-winning home run.

Look Out for Their Backhand!

This year's varsity boys tennis season was far from disappointing. With only two returning lettermen, the team was very young and relatively inexperienced. Head coach Mark Vidmar said, "I was pleased that we were as competitive as we were with just Amed and Brian as the only two lettermen returning. We lost eight seniors last year so this team was very young. But they pulled together and overcame that and played very well."

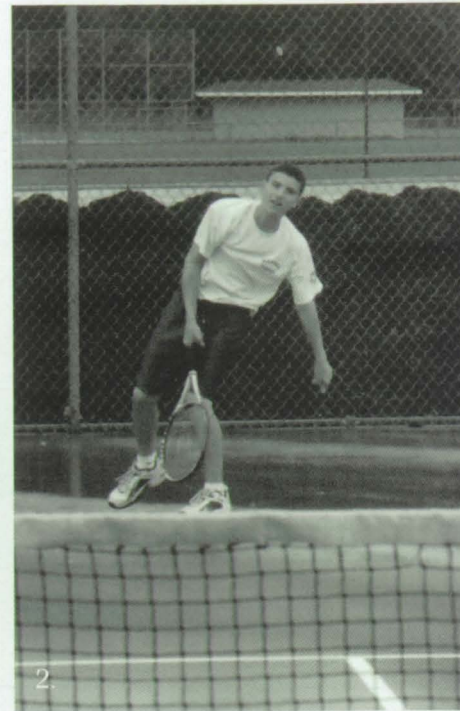

Coach Vidmar was also pleased with their record of 8-10 overall and 4-4 in the Premier Athletic Conference. Many expectations for the team were set low because of the lack of experience, but the boys pulled together to show that that was not going to stop them. Senior Amed Hussaini, who played first singles, was one of the strongest players with an impressive record of 15-9. "I think we did pretty well this season, especially taking into consideration how young the team is," commented Hussaini.

Coach Vidmar also pointed out that because of such a large group of younger players, they will be very strong, both as a team and individually, by their junior year if they keep pushing as hard as they did this year. Although neither the team nor any individual achieved the goal of obtaining a specific title such as PAC champ or state winner, the guys worked hard and came together. When they look back on this season, they can be proud.

1. Freshman Greg Church runs out of bounds just in time to make sure the ball is also going out of play.
2. Freshman Todd Anderson uses all of his might to lob his ball back to the other side of the court.
3. Brian Mallick, senior, watches as his teammate, Eric Hughes, sophomore, sends the ball back to their opponents.
4. Brothers and teammates Chip Whipple, freshman, and Mike Whipple, junior, prepare to gang up on their competition.

5. Freshman Mike McGuire uses both hands as he prepares to swing with all of his might.

6. Amed Hussaini, senior, keeps his eye on the ball and readies himself to show his opponent what he's made of.

7. Tim Smith concentrates and grimaces as he makes contact with the ball and backhands it over the net.

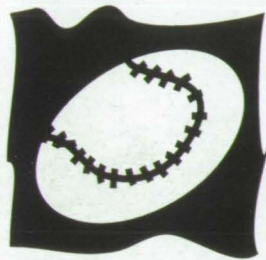

8. Junior Tim Smith stands back as his teammate, foreign exchange student and senior Volker Gross, steps up to take control of the ball.

Varsity Softball Swings into Regionals

With a record from last year of 23-5 and a loss of five senior starters, you might say this was a "rebuilding" year for the Lady Streaks. Also with junior pitcher Liz Grabel out with a shoulder injury the first half and senior pitcher Tracy Preston out with back surgery the last half of the season, the Streaks seemed to have all odds against them. That's where the attitude kicked in—the attitude of "Bring It, Baby," which soon became the motto behind the 25-5 record, the regional qualifiers, and the undefeated P.A.C. champs.

The season started off a little shaky with early losses to Edgewood, Dublin, and state-ranked Lafayette and Conneaut. But with continuous fundamental practices, defensive repetition, and being able to capitalize on key at-bats, the Streaks regained their confidence by going on a 13-game winning streak, beating teams such as Dixie, Kenston, and Wickliffe along the way. "We had a successful season with it, and have met a lot of our goals that we set for this season's situation," commented senior first-baseman Jennie Schmid.

The girl's cruised through Sectionals with wins over Collinwood (32-0) and Glenville (27-0). Districts brought on an interesting challenge, forcing the team to go through two P.A.C. rivals to make it to Regionals. With consistent pitching of back-to-back games by Liz Grabel and a few good innings, the Streaks advanced to Regionals, a feat that hadn't been accomplished in 15 years by a Madison softball team.

On the season, Rachel Pike stated, "I think it was very successful. We played well, had fun, and Coach Cupcake was good with the situation with it." The girls ended the season with a 4-1 loss to Cuyahoga Falls in Regional Semi-Finals, but with a returning line-up of 8 out of 9 starters, including some key pinch-hitters and upcoming pitchers, the future looks very bright for these young Blue Streaks.

- 4. Allison Izzarelli beats out a bunt against Collinwood.
- 5. Sophomore Ingrid Brainard sprints down the first baseline on a sacrifice bunt.
- 6. Rena Schafer swings at a pitch during a district finals game against Eastlake North.
- 7. Lyndsay Schmid dares a Collinwood player to throw her out.
- 8. Rachel Pike squares up to put down the bunt.
- 9. The team gathers after an inning of "throwing the leather."
- 10. Kristi Jackson scores one of the 32 Blue Streak runs in the demolition of Collinwood.
- 11. Margaret Lalka jogs into the dugout after she completes her base-running assignment.
- 12. Rena Schafer congratulates fellow outfielder Rachel Pike on her diving catch.
- 13. Bonnie Bray throws the ball back to the pitcher after an attempted tag out.
- 14. Senior Jennie Schmid helps catcher Alesia Richmond suit up in between innings.

Days Go By on the Field

The junior varsity and freshman Madison softball teams had very good seasons this year. Coached by Mr. Thompson, the JV team worked hard throughout the season to hold their record at 10-10. The closeness which the team established during the season made it very easy for them to work together.

Though they did not win many games in the beginning, the girls came together for a strong finish. They used their sense of humor to tackle the season and have a lot of fun.

Working to gain the skills so they can take over on the JV field next year, the freshmen girls were lead by Coach Filby. This team also had a lot of fun this year while learning more about softball, making the season fly by. It was a rebuilding year for them, but they worked together to make it through the season. In the end, the girls built up a lot of skills that they can use in their years to follow at MHS.

5. Sonya Hoplight takes her equipment off after a tough inning.
6. The JV team works together to get the next out.
7. Watching the pitcher to see if she can steal, Jen Dulac waits at first base.
8. SAFE! Amanda Titman slides into home plate for a scoring run.
9. Coach Filby gets his team ready before the next inning starts.
10. Sarah Nagy watches the batter in order to get the next out.
11. Making contact, Molly Gehring gets a hit to move on the game.

1. Bridget Clough jumps the hurdles to finish her great race.
2. The batter steps back to allow room for Ingrid Brainard to steal home on a foul ball.
3. Looking for the ball, Tim Rideout removes his mask to see where it went.
4. Volker Gross (in the foreground) and Tim Smith team up to play their doubles match.
5. Tired after the race, Bobby Zarzecny rests in the field.

Streaks Celebrate 2 Spirit Weeks

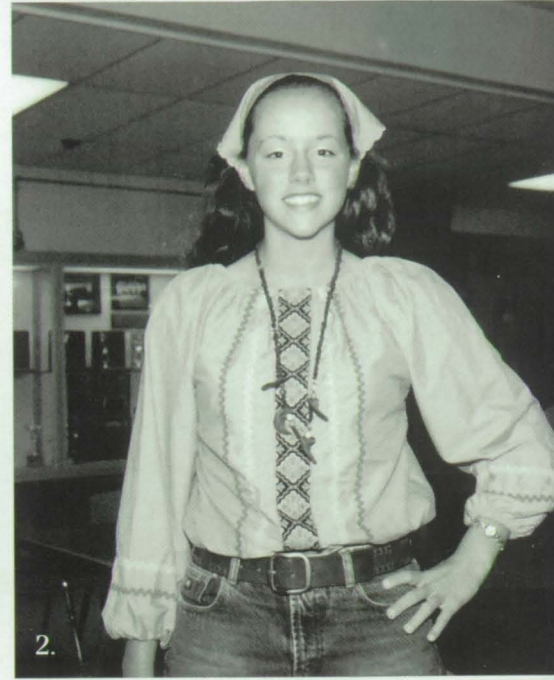

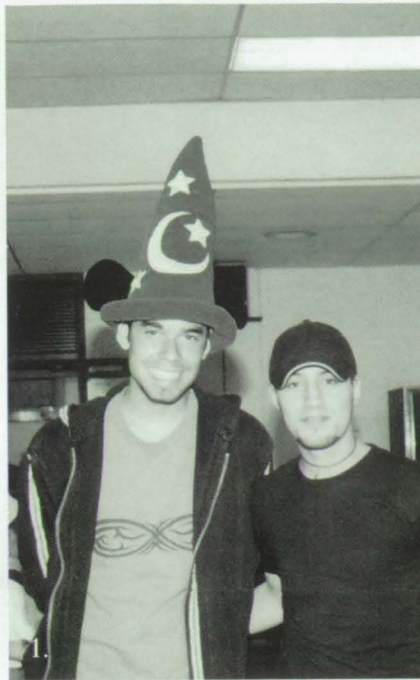

Madison High School students showed off their spirit the week of May 14, but only after some controversy. Key Club had planned the event for the first week in May so that all the seniors would be able to participate. Unfortunately a conflict in scheduling postponed Spirit Week until after several students had left to work on their senior projects.

Finally, Student Council took over the planning, deciding on the themes for each day and for the class hallways. The sophomores won this spring's competition. Joe Bates exclaimed, "Our hallway was the best! We have awesome school spirit!" The class of 2003 also won the hallway design with their theme "The Beach." The sophomores had real sand, rocks, and all the beach bums to make it a success! Maria Soriano said, "Spirit week was a lot of fun and I think our hallway turned out very well."

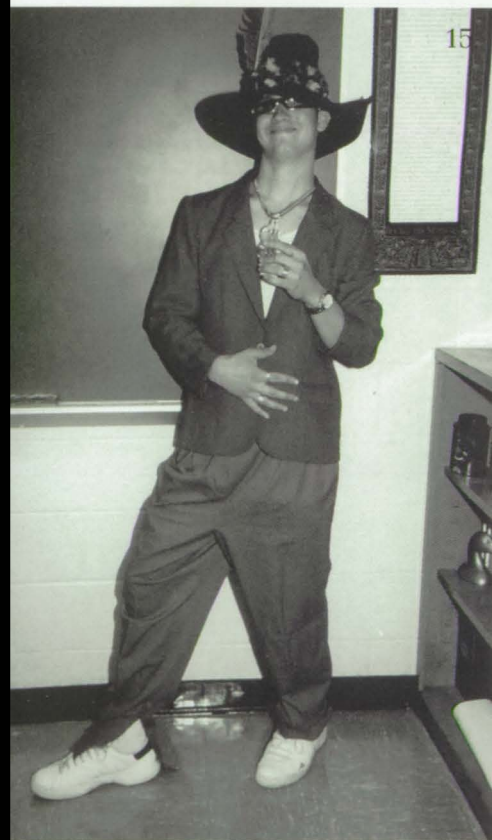

The freshmen came next in points, and third in their hallway design, transporting the AV hallway back to a prehistoric Flintstones era. Freshman Mike Moskowitz commented, "I thought spirit week was fun because I got to dress up goofy and got to act goofy in class. I thought all the hallways turned out nice, even though we should have won."

Juniors took third place overall and had a chance to walk through a game of Candyland. Student council president Kristen Meiers tried to explain their last-place hall design: "This year the junior girls had a lot to concentrate on, with prom and all. Next year we will be well planned and have a theme people can dress up for."

The senior class of 2001 had an awesome hallway and won second place. The seniors transformed the halls of MHS into a haunted house. Amongst the strobe lights, spiderwebs, and skeletons, the seniors brought excitement to their last days here at Madison. Once again, through the efforts of all the classes, spirit week brought tons of fun and originality to the halls of Madison High School.

We've got SPIRIT

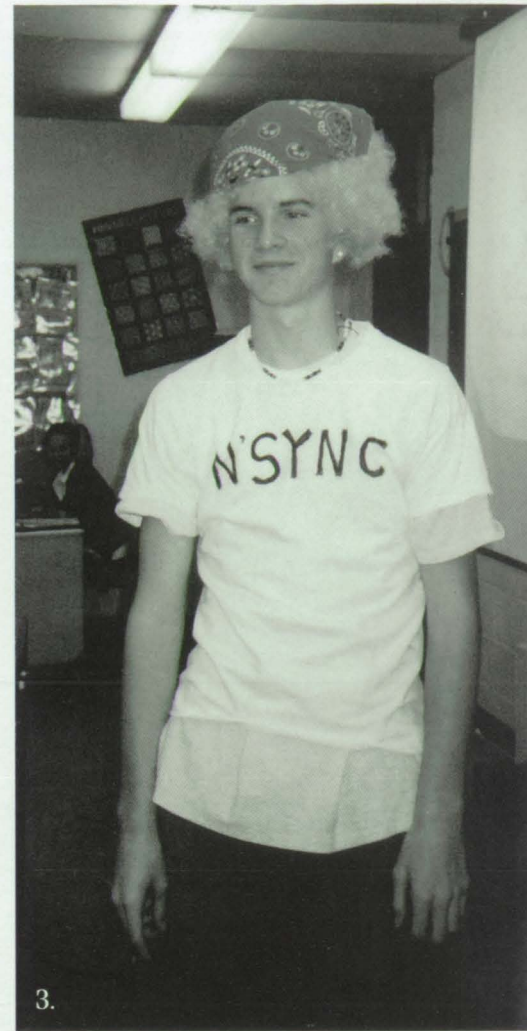

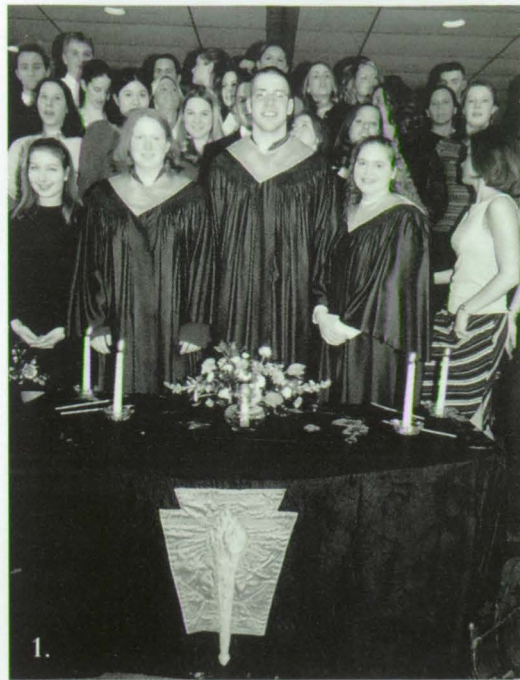

1. For "hat day," Vitor Araujo shows off his Mickey hat while Juan Cueva Tello plays it cool in his baseball cap.
2. April Gregory shows her 70's style on "dress like your decade day."
3. Meghan Campbell, Kristen Meiers, Jen Hanifon, Rick Fike, and Jessica Hanifon all work to create "Candyland" in the junior hallway.
4. Bam Bam... I mean Jed Powell chases after the camera.
5. Kyle Wood helps out friend Megan Telamente show some spirit by spraying blue streaks in her hair.
6. Freshmen Ross Chasko, Lauren Kidder, Kim Gabel, Erika Yeager, and Shelby Jenkins gather for a picture while working on their Flinstones hallway.
8. Cherí Ball and Justine Barnum show their M.H.S. pride.
9. Sara Fike slithers her way through the door into the sophomore hallway.
10. Juniors Aimee Oliver and Laila Farhood look comfy in their P.J.'s!
11. Seniors Jesse Kasper and Bridget McKeever try to scare the underclassmen.
12. A day at the beach: Courtney Peine, Rachel Klimkovicz, Danina Daughters, Matt Toward, Melissa Kuntz, Karla Kershaw, and Tess Polivka cut out decorations for their hallway.
13. Brittany Phillips and Erin Coughlin pose next to Fred and Wilma for a picture.
14. Dustin Drain is a cowboy on hat day.
15. Corey Kozan dresses like a star, with the jewelry to prove it.

Clubs Back up School and Community with Helping Hands

This year Madison's Student Council and chapter of National Honor Society continued their legacy of helping others and sponsoring many activities in the school. For example, Student Council sponsored this year's Spirit Week, while NHS sponsored the famous love surveys again this year.

This year was a busy one for the members of our Student Council. They started the year with many fundraisers to support their various expenses during the year. They sponsored a dance during football season, and helped Key Club introduce a new winter formal dance, the Crystal Ball. They also sponsored two Spirit Weeks this year, and both were a huge success, even though the major one, including the hall-decorating competition, was delayed until after many disappointed seniors had left for senior project.

National Honor Society finished up this year by inducting new members and letting people buy their brains. This prestigious group of students and exchange students sponsor many activities in the school as well as in the community. In addition to their charitable contributions, they volunteer at Memorial for the Latch Key program; there they help the kids with their homework or play games with them. They help in the school by tutoring students who are having trouble and need a hand. They also do the ever popular "Buy-a-Brain" activity, which raises a lot of money for NHS and gives the other students the opportunity for an easy day.

Another Successful Year for Academic Clubs

This year's Boys' State representatives were Steve Cordes and Phil Dodson; MHS sent Justine Barnum and Beth Ames to Girls' State. From their summer experiences and throughout the year, Madison offers students several extracurricular opportunities for those interested in more academic pursuits. Among these groups are Academic Decathlon, Academic Challenge, Model United Nations, and Leadership Lake County.

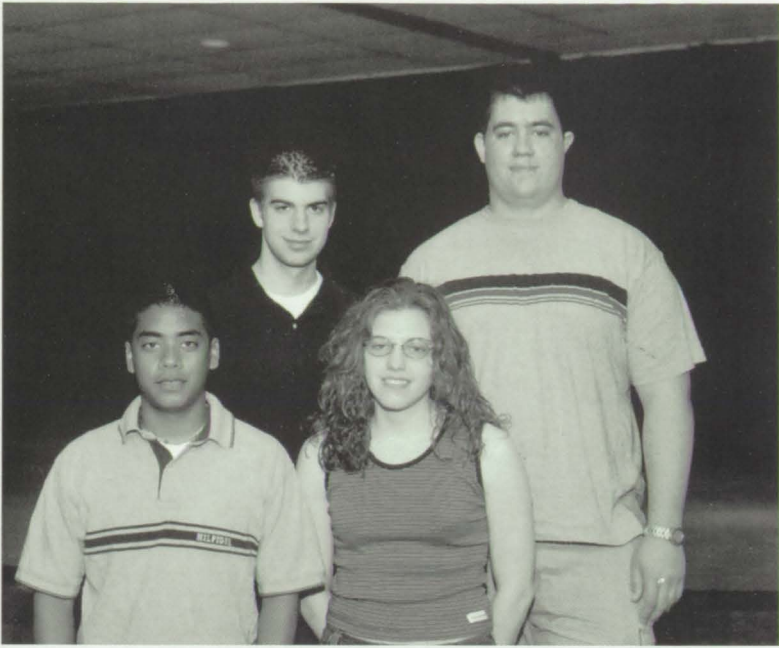

With the help of new advisors Mrs. Collins and Mr. Hupertz, Academic Challenge was rebuilt this year after the show was taken off the air. Rather than being televised, the new version was aired on the radio, channel 95.5. The Quiz Bowl team was very successful.

Likewise with new advisors—Ms. Gaca and Ms. Bralley—the Model U.N. also had a rebuilding year. They traveled to the Jefferson conference in the fall—a good learning experience for new members. From there they performed very well at the annual KSU Conference at the Kent State branch in Ashtabula. Award winners there included Glenn Bailey, Jesse Collins, Josh Perkins, Rick Boonstra, and James McDermott. For the first time, the team also joined up with Geneva's team to have a debate amongst the two schools in the early spring.

Representing MHS in the Leadership Lake County program were Jennifer Anderson, Adam Butcher, and Kristen Meiers. In addition to attending meeting with students from across Lake County, these three held a canned food drive and organized various other projects.

Another popular group, MHS's math club started a new tradition this year. Every Wednesday they traveled down to the middle school to tutor the younger children with their math. Along with helping others, they entered the famous pumpkin-chucking contest. Several students from the club put in extra hours after school and with the help of Mr. Petersen, they devised and built a catapult which launched their pumpkin. In the local math competition, Natalie and Melanie Fisher scored the highest points.

Backstage Pass

If you attended any of the three plays this fall, you would have seen not only some fresh faces but some new rising stars as well. A lot of credit should go to the directors, though. English teachers Ms. Pope (for "Stages") and Mr. Martello (for "The Nerd") split up this year, each taking on a different play.

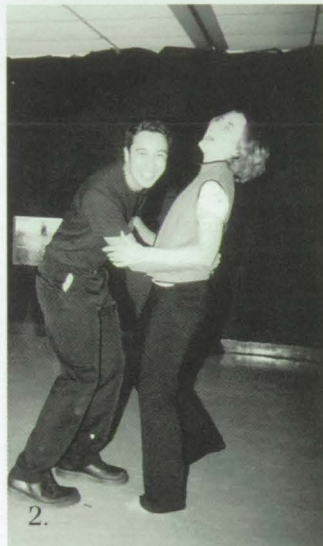

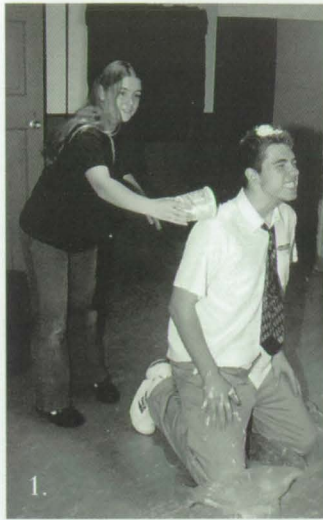

Mr. Martello, along with senior (and president of the drama club) Heather Guzzi, also directed "Tails and Things," a children's play with music. This addition to the MHS drama program allowed even more students to experience the thrill of performing on stage. Heather concluded, "It was lots of fun. I hope I can continue directing in college."

In her second year of directing, Ms. Pope chose "Stages," a play written by her own high school drama teacher. Because it is a collection of many shorter scenes, it offered her the benefit of selecting either a small or a big cast and made her job a bit easier. "It's one of my favorite shows because it has the message that life is like a circle and we really do begin and end at the same point," Ms. Pope explained.

The comedy "The Nerd" left not only Mr. Martello—who directed it—but the cast with lots to talk about. Mr. M. commented, "It's been a really long time since I've had such a good time with a cast. This cast was a lot of fun to work with!" Maybe it was all the cottage cheese!

Back-to-Back Success

For the second year in a row the Madison High School Drama and Music Department came home from Toledo's "In Celebration" boasting the grand championship. They were awarded this distinction after out-performing twelve other Ohio high schools. In one division of competition, the one-act plays, first place went to "Haiku," directed by Ms. Pope. In dual acting, the honor went to Jillian Schuur and Dave Tvergyak with "Nazi Vegans." Other winter plays that received awards included "Dentity Crisis," "Blind Date on New Year's," and "Attic Treasures." Superior Acting Awards went to Gina Garcia, Irene Egorova, Mladen Marinov, Amanda Venable, Tara Teschke, Josh Dean, Anneli Curnock, Audrey Leonard, and Alice Trabant. Senior Sarah Scott commented on the Toledo competition: "It was yet another great experience, and the school should be very proud of their drama department. I wish them the best of luck next year to hold up the tradition of grand champions."

The winter plays were also a success at home with the students and the community. Foreign exchange student Patrick Trapp commented on the one-act plays, "The plays were very funny; some were hilarious. The acting was very good because the actors really got into the characters that they were playing. Also the directing and props were nicely done. I was impressed." Obviously the long hours of practicing paid off for all of the actors in this year's plays. Congratulations to all of those who received awards and keep up the hard work. Good luck next year!

Adding Some Foreign Flavor

MHS students have several opportunities each school year to learn about foreign languages and experience foreign cultures first-hand. The Blue Streaks welcomed students from all over the world again this year. These exchange students join clubs and become an integral part of the high school. Several of them played in various sports, including soccer, track, swimming, and wrestling. Some participated in one of the choirs, bands, or drama performances.

Led by Spanish teacher Senora Battes, the International Club also aided in the study of foreign cultures. They kept very busy this year with their many projects and guest speakers. To demonstrate their charitable concerns, they made Christmas and Easter hispanic children for less fortunate Hispanic children in the Cleveland area. In October, they celebrated "Day of the Dead" by making masks and decorating Sugar Skulls. Some exchange students came by in December to talk about Christmas in their country. Also, Mr. Pe'rez came in to talk about Cuba and the club constructed French nativity scenes. Then in February they made Mardi Gras masks. They ended the year by making the kind of paper flowers which are commonly sold on the streets of Mexico.

Q&A

- What's one thing about the United States that you will never forget? ▶ "The people I have met that made a difference in my life." –Vitor Araujo, Brasil
- Is America all you expected it to be? ▶ "It is not all about how much an hour you get. Not all, but pretty much. I didn't come here with a 'Hollywood' stereotype in mind. I knew that life here is tough and that you have to work hard and put a lot of effort and even more time to succeed." –Mladen Marinov, Bulgaria
- If you could give President Bush any advice, what would it be? ▶ "Please! I don't wanna mess with Presidents!" –Juan Cueva Tello, Ecuador
- What do you think is the main problem with Americans? ▶ "The parents control their children too much!" –Patrick Trapp, Germany
- What was your first impression of the U.S., and has it changed? ▶ "Everything is bigger and so much further apart from each other... you depend on someone to drive you. But now I've gotten used to it. And fast food rules!" –Alex Nagel, Germany
- What's the main difference between your country and the U.S.? ▶ "Sports and other activities are in the community, soccer is the #1 sport ("What's baseball?"), and we don't have Skittles over there!" –Alice Trabant, Germany

Key Club Fills Days with Projects a Plenty

This year Key Club participated in many activities to service both school and community. For example, two blood drives held in the school raised nearly 160 pints of blood. Four members involved in the drive were invited by the Red Cross for lunch and entertainment at the Powerhouse in Cleveland. Continuing a popular event from last year, the club also held its second senior citizen prom at Bill Stanton Park. The group also decided to donate one thousand dollars to the Ronald McDonald House. Another activity provided for the community was a free spaghetti lunch for anyone at one of the local churches in Madison. Peanut Day was also held at various businesses throughout Madison.

The group was led by President Lauren Spada, Vice-President Bob Sampson, Secretary Natalie Fisher, and Treasurer Melanie Fisher. Each class also elected a representative and had to complete at least one major project. For example, the junior class held a winter formal that was a great success. The attendance was better than expected, but there is always room for improvement. Key Club members also participated in the Big Brothers, Big Sisters program, sending high school students to the elementary schools to tutor first- or second-graders on the subjects they had difficulty with. Key Club advisor Mr. Hertrick said, "The year was extremely fun and we got a lot accomplished." Club members logged in a group total of over two thousand service hours, an amount nearly doubled from last year.

MHS's First Crystal Ball

Madison High School held their first ever Crystal Ball—featuring the theme of “Winter Wonderland”—on February 3, 2001. Sponsored by Key Club, the dance was quite successful its first year, selling over 200 tickets. Many Key Clubbers are hoping to carry the tradition on as an annual winter dance. “Even though there were not many people there, we still had a good time,” said junior Jessica Bright.

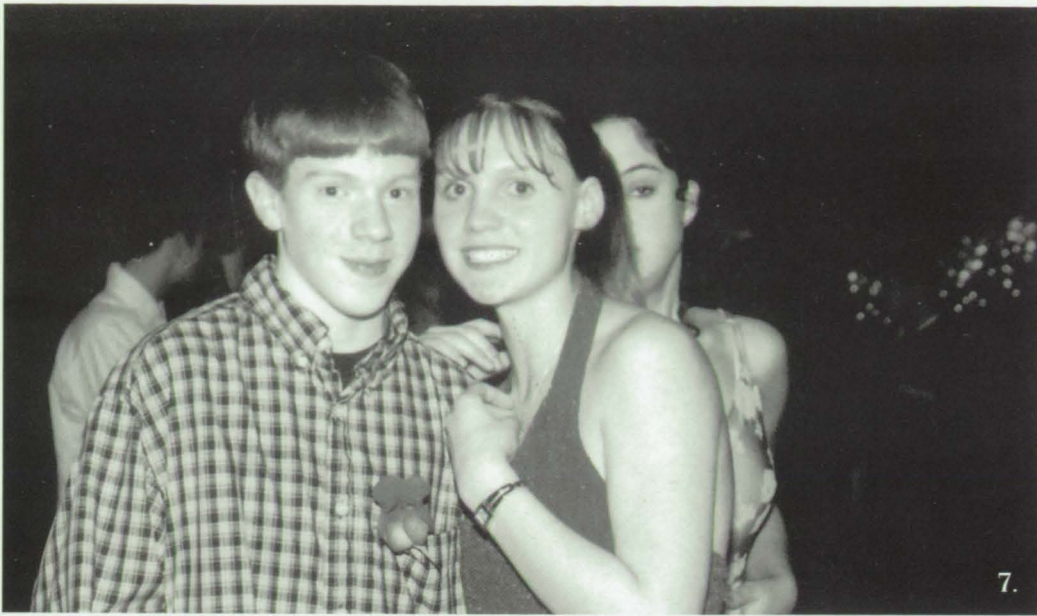

This year's dance had a Senior Court consisting of eleven seniors, chosen by the class of 2001. The court included Queen Danielle Pike, Danielle Sutter, Breana Krotz, Claire Findak, Kara Jackson, King Adam Smith, Bob Sampson, Matt Stoltz, Amed Hussaini, Gary Mazzeo and Dave Tuergyak. A new twist was added to the typical formal court when the ninth, tenth, and eleventh grades voted on a female and male to represent each of their classes. The representatives included juniors Emily Blauman and Romaro Davis; sophomores Michelle Medved and Mike Medved; and freshmen Hollie Coffey and Thomas Lasko.

The cafeteria set the mood for the evening with snowflakes, ice and snow glittering on the dance floor. “I think it was a great success and we’re looking forward to it next year,” said Key Club Advisor Steve Hertrick. Funds raised from the dance went to one of Key Club’s many charities.

New Projects Ahead for T.I. and S.A.D.D.

This year was an eventful one for S.A.D.D. (Students Against Driving Drunk). At Christmas time they raised enough money to donate $1500 to the Madison Ministerial Association to provide Christmas baskets for needy area families. Along with their other fund-raisers, the club also hosted the Harlem Road Kings, who challenged the Madison High School staff to a tough basketball game. S.A.D.D. also donated $100 to the Character Counts program, new to the Madison Schools and community.

Secretary Nichole Cline felt this year was successful. She hopes Officer Caswell soon has a permanent position at MHS. Nichole would also like to see the program expanded down to the eighth graders to help them get involved at an earlier age. Another goal the club has is to see the S.A.D.D. program venture out into the community more.

Still under the guidance of Advisor Traci Brandt, T.I. (Teen Institute) had a rebuilding year, especially since Ms. Brandt was not available at MHS this year to meet with club members. They held their annual sale of carnation flowers to help them organize and host Red Ribbon Week. The club also participated in and put on the PLUS program, going into the elementary schools to talk about the pressures at the high school and the tough choices students have to make.

Central Office Staff Runs the Show

The Madison High School office staff underwent very few changes this year. The only new factor the office staff had to contend with was the change in parking for students. The new senior section was a great addition to the school and helped to resolve some of the traffic problems in the student lot when school lets out.

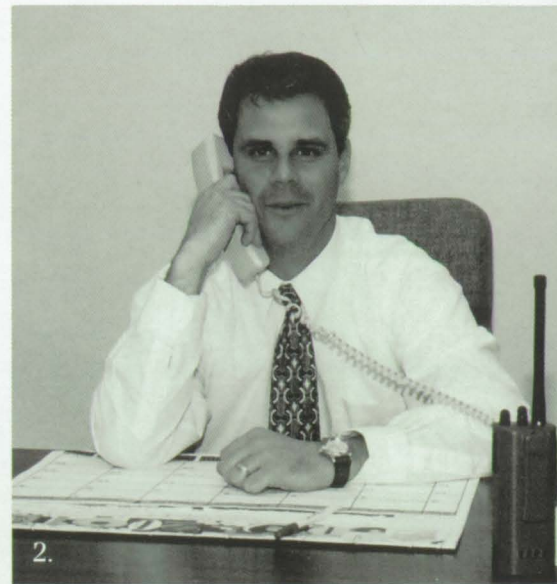

In the central office, Mr. Fisher is still in charge, with Mr. Thompson and Mr. Hitchcock there to back him up. Mrs. Qualye and Mrs. McKibben can still be found in the office, taking telephone calls and graciously helping students with their problems.

Mrs. Bowman is also still around, making attendance sheets and yelling at students for being late to school. The counselors Mr. Baptie and Mrs. Ankrom can always be found in their office helping students adjust their schedules and assisting seniors with their plans for college and scholarships. The entire office benefits from the expertise of Mrs. Watts. She can be seen helping with nearly all office functions.

Mrs. Ersek assists Mr. Pinelli with the athletic department. Mrs. Kniesley, the nurse, is rarely ever seen until someone scrapes a knee in gym or has a little accident in shop class, but she is a great help to the students who need her assistance. And although she hasn't been "captured on camera" yet, the elusive Mrs. Caruthers, the computer guru of MHS, is perhaps most important since no one could get a schedule or a report card without her!

Support Staff Backing Up M.H.S

The support staff at Madison High School keeps busy all day long. Teacher's aides can be found all over the school: while Mrs. Izzarelli and Mrs. Westfall are busy helping Mr. Andrus and the SBH students, Mrs. Leonard is helping students in the library. Mrs. Watts schedules appointments for counselors, and Mrs. Grimm keeps watch over the students in ISS.

New this year to MHS was the police-school liaison, Officer Caswell. When asked how students today are different from when he was young, he replied, "Kids today are more worldly. They are more aware of what is going on around them." Taking over in Mr. Haibach's old office, Mr. Hertrick counsels students for drug and alcohol problems. A busy man, he also advises Key Club, helps out with S.A.D.D. and T.I., and is in charge of the proficiency testing program.

Busy doesn't even begin to describe the hard-working cafeteria staff. These lunch ladies have perfected the art of preparing hundreds of meals for hungry students everyday. Like them, you can also depend on the custodians, headed up by Mr. Collins and Mr. Beesler, who work hard all day and all evening long to keep our school functioning, clean, and ready for the next day.

As the MHS Cauldron continues to grow in pages and cover more events each year, the 2000-01 yearbook staff had to really work hard to get things done. Editor Danielle Fredericks did an excellent job in getting everything organized and done on time, even if it meant taking some extra hours out of her spare time—or her summer—to do it. With the help of the second-year seniors to answer questions for new staff members and the tremendous patience of Ms. Jackson, the yearbook turned out to be another great success. Commenting on how she thought the year went, Danielle Fredericks said, "Everyone worked hard together and it should be a great yearbook."

This year's Streak staff also did a great job keeping the students informed on current events at MHS. Each issue was packed with information: updates on how the sports teams were doing, students' and teachers' opinions on school issues, editorials, investigative articles, movie reviews, games and cartoons. One of the editors, senior Breana Krotz praised the Streak staff: "They worked really hard to meet their deadlines each month and produce a quality newspaper for the student body. The internet access helped tremendously with the graphics and features." For the first time this year, the paper could also be accessed online. With the continued efforts of sophomore editor Brad Eckert, this site will hopefully become even more interactive next year.

Science Classes Go Back to the Lab

The sciences have been having a great time this year. Besides getting to do labs up to three times a week, the students get to learn a lot more. Because of the longer periods, the teachers can cover additional topics and provide more in-depth information on those subjects.

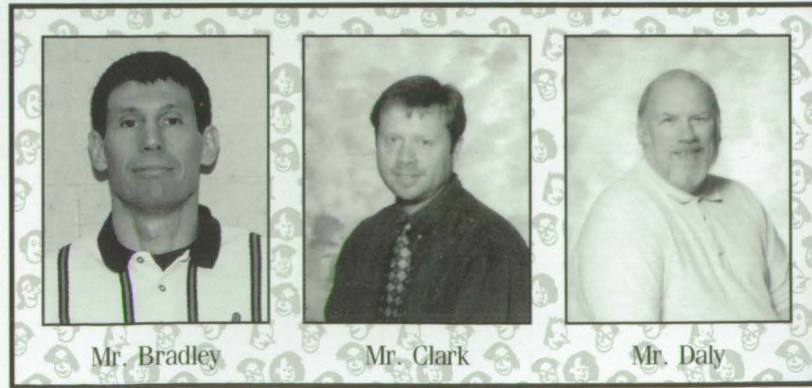

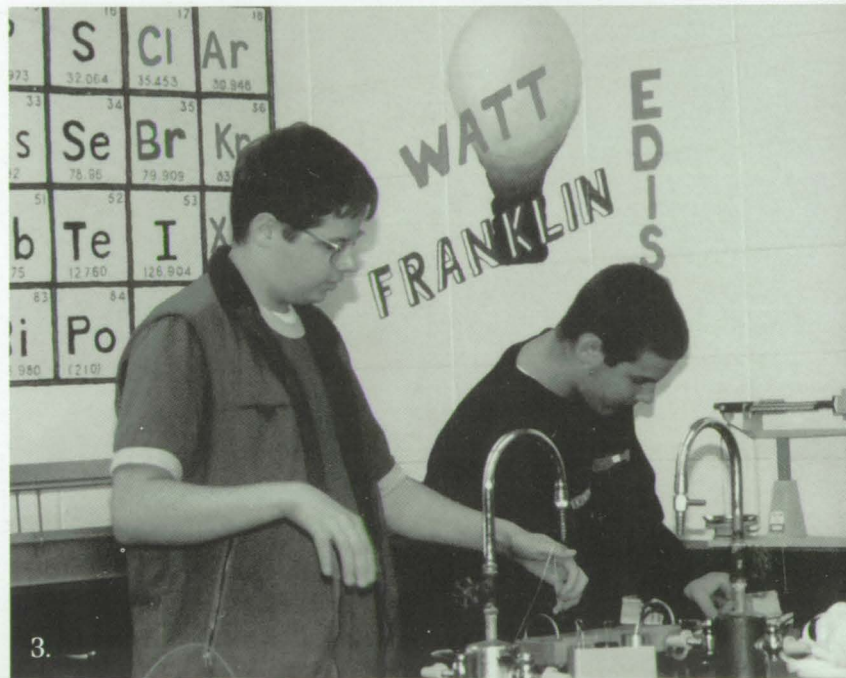

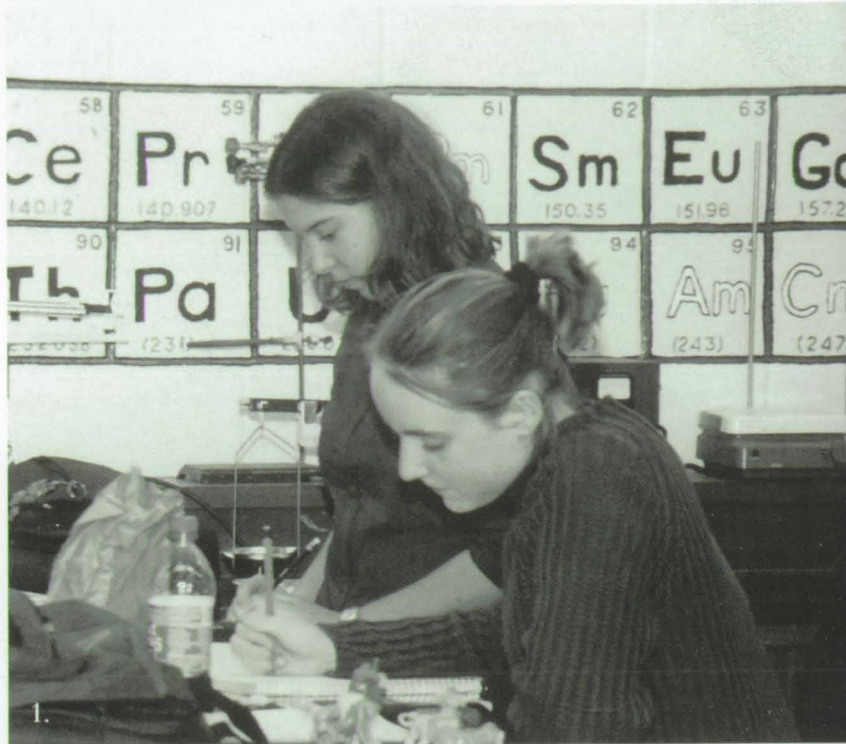

This is the second year for block scheduling at MHS, and it has had both positive and negative effects on the way the faculty has to teach. According to Unified Science II teacher, Mr. Pelich, "Block scheduling has had a very positive effect on the way I teach. I get to know the students better quicker. The students come to class more often. We do not get to cover all of the areas we did when we did not have block scheduling, but the areas we do cover we can go way more in-depth."

The ninth-grade proficiencies have added a major new concern for the science department. A great thing about the science curriculum here at Madison is that it is designed to prepare the students for these proficiency tests. From the basic courses to biology, chemistry, and physics, each area of study will probably appear in the questions found on the tests.

One highlight of the year for the department was having their colleague Mr. Fickenscher recognized as the Lubrizol Lake County Science Teacher of the Year. That award brought him a $1,000 grant, and along with grant money he received from other sources, he is helping them establish a computer lab with special science software. Mr. Fickenscher commented, "I am very proud to be associated with MHS and the MHS science teachers! I hope to make our department better each year and continue to make science more interesting for our students."

Adding Up the Year

We all know how stressful math classes can be, with all of those numbers running through your head the night before a big test. Whether you're studying for Integrated Math, algebra, geometry, or pre-calculus, it can all be tough. The math department has done a lot to provide the best opportunity for every student to succeed. They added two new teachers to the department this year: Mr. Bartholomew, a first-year teacher, and Mrs. Meshginpoosh, a former Blue Streak herself, were the newcomers. Mr. Bartholomew taught Algebra II and Integrated Math I and II; Mrs. Meshginpoosh taught Integrated Math I, Algebra I, and geometry.

Three teachers from the department—Mr. Morgan, Mrs. Collins, and Ms. Egnot—had the opportunity to attend a national math conference in Florida where they gave a presentation on math-related activities appropriate for ninety-minute block classes. One improvement that assisted the block math classes was the new math lab. "Having the computers in the classroom has made math classes in block not so long and repetitive," commented senior Jen Lutz.

Investigating the "fun" side of math this year, a small group of students led by Mr. Morgan and Mrs. Collins built a catapult for the pumpkin-chucking contest. The students involved in this project included Kristen Meiers, Tim Smith, Mike Fade, Jon Ostanek, Dan Rediger, Ed Battes and Will Fedele. "It was impressive to see how far they could fling those pumpkins," said Mr. Morgan.

What's to come next year? The math department has developed Algebra II-A and II-B courses in order to more thoroughly accomplish the objectives of Algebra II. Now it won't be just the Shakespeare students you'll hear wondering "II-B or not II-B"!

Looking Back on Days Gone By

If departments chose captains like the sports teams do, Mr. Deering would be the logical choice for captain of the social studies department. After teaching at MHS for over 20 years, he can look back on many years of Madison history.

Following the voice of Mr. Deering's experience are several younger teachers. They even recruited a new teacher this year: Ms. Bralley came in January of last year as a substitute and then joined the Madison staff. Among the projects students completed in her class this year were mock trials. They had to create a crime, plan a trial, and then defend the "criminal" who was on trial.

With the 2000 Presidential election, most of the government teachers and history classes focused on these issues for a good part of the first semester. To help the students better understand the election, Mr. Martin, Mr. Gilligan, Mr. Dragas and Ms. Bralley watched debates and talked about the electoral colleges and the voting process. Staunch democrat Mr. Loeffel even managed to relate the election to discussions in his Western Civilizations classes!

For the remainder of the semester Mr. Gilligan's class studied the stock market. The students had to pick stocks and check them every week to see if they were gaining or losing money. In addition to the Model UN field trips headed by Ms. Gaca, Mr. Dragas took a few students to represent MHS at a Cleveland City Club luncheon, where they listened to a speaker talk about freedom of religion.

Staying Healthy & Keeping Fit

This year's physical education and health classes got off to another good start, taking advantage of the 95-minute block periods for their activities. In the gym, many students learned new games, such as California kickball and pickleball, as well as improving at some old favorites. Freshmen Kevin Craigo, Shane Brennen, and Jeremy Bovee all agreed: "The games are fun to learn and you get told rules about old games that you have never heard before." Mr. Reigert, who has taught both the old and the new games for many years, commented that he still enjoys getting to know his students: "One of the benefits of teaching gym is that you get to see what a lot of the students are like."

After they've run the mile, played the games, and conditioned in the weight room as freshmen, most sophomores move on to study the academic side of physical fitness in health class. Mrs. Mullan, Mrs. Craigo, and Mr. Willis covered many practical subjects in their classes: proper nutrition, first aid and health care, CPR, and sex education. Sophomore Brian Lemerise commented: "I had fun in Mrs. Craigo's class because we did a lot of activities such as learning CPR and other life-saving information."

In the future the physical education department hopes to add some elective gym classes. Offering more than just the minimum requirement of one credit of gym would be especially beneficial to those students not participating in a sport. Another possibility for next year is a new option for freshmen to take a combined class, focusing on gym and health on alternating days.

Back to the Drawing Board

This year marked an important year for the art department: it was Mr. Ashton's last year teaching at MHS. Mr. Ashton did a lot for MHS, including starting just about all of the art classes taught at Madison from an art program he developed at a high school in Minnesota. He also started the Streak newspaper in 1985 and advised it for nine years, receiving seven first-place awards for it, and brought the "Character Counts Too" program to the school system. Mr. Ashton summed up his experiences teaching at MHS: "Out of the twenty-seven years I have been teaching here, I can honestly say that there has never been a day that I got up and didn't want to go to school."

The gallery was expanded and new boards purchased, but only a few changes occurred in the classes this year. To challenge the more skilled students, the painting class became more advanced. In addition, Mrs. Parks added Design Art to her Commercial Art, Drawing, and Art Foundation classes. Once again, MHS students participated in the Lake-Geauga Art show. A total of twenty three Streaks won awards there, and senior Marc Spangenberg received a scholarship for submitting the first-place portfolio.

Back to Conjugating

At MHS, the foreign language department consists of Mrs. Bangerter, French teacher; Mrs. Eichelberger, German teacher; and Mrs. Battes and Ms. Busse, Spanish teachers. Students in these classes not only learn how to write, speak, and translate their new language; they also learn about the countries and their cultures.

The teachers hope that by using repetition and teaching the basics, the students will learn to use this second language fluently. In fact, many students learn as much about the grammar of their own language by studying a foreign language because it offers them a new perspective. In addition to focusing on the fundamentals, these teachers try to make the new language as fun and easy to learn as possible. In some classes, the students construct family albums and create their own newspapers totally in their new language. Other classes write and act out commercials or skits for their classmates.

Every college preparatory student at MHS must take a foreign language, and they all have varied reasons for their choices, from interest in the culture to job goals to future travel plans. One bonus comes when MHS students get a chance to try out what they've learned on the foreign exchange students visiting Madison from other countries.

Life Skills Classes No Longer on Back Burner

The basic skills that Mrs. Ashton, Mrs. Delahunty, and Ms. Zupp teach MHS students are priceless. Whether it's sewing, baking, gourmet cooking, nutrition, career planning, or family relations, all are essential in everyday life. When the students acquire these skills in high school, they become prepared adults, better able to live out there in the "real world"!

The second year of block scheduling produced some changes in the department. Pastries and International Cuisine were dropped as separate elective options but combined into one class, Advanced Cooking Skills. In another change, they added craft projects to the sewing class and it became a full block, allowing students more time to work on their projects.

More and more students are benefiting from these courses. Never taking a home ec. class until the last semester of her senior year, Katie Peplowski recommended it to all students: "I loved the experience, and I learned a lot of the skills I'll be able to use when I'm on my own. It's a great opportunity. Also I met many different people through the class and had so much fun with them."

Back to the Basics

Although they may seem isolated from the rest of the school, the Industrial Arts department welcomes in a lot of students each day. With block periods, Mr. Becka, Mr. Petersen, and Mr. Tolchinsky can work with students of differing ability levels each period in their woods, metals, drafting and C.A.D. (Computer-Assisted Design) classes. This year they also continued to use the computers supplied by Auburn Career Center for a special Career Explorations class designed especially for freshmen to encourage them to look into their future options.

In addition to acquiring many skills which will be useful throughout life, students create projects they can take home with them—so instead of just getting a grade, they end up with benches and shelves, CD racks, tool boxes, or any variety of projects. Junior Ed Battes, who graduated from candlesticks to a table in his woods classes this year, commented: "Pete's an excellent teacher and an expert woodsman. He's very demanding and teaches us to be organized and precise, but he also has a great sense of humor and is fun to work with."

A.V. and Library

The Audio Visual Department and the library continued to modernize Madison High School. Miss Carlson, the librarian, keeps the library clean and quiet for those who choose to study diligently. Mrs. Leonard also can be found in the library helping students and assisting Miss Carlson. The library added a number of computer banks, allowing quick access to the internet for research or recreation. Two additional computers have the entire library catalogued to help students find the necessary books. It's always a busy spot, with individual students coming in from study halls or whole classes using the many resources provided.

Next door to the library, Mr. Bob Richmond, the A.V. director, introduces students to various technologies and teaches them how to use sophisticated equipment. He is assisted by a group of students interested in television production. The main focus of these classes is to keep Madison's television station running. The executive producers of MTV-29, Jeff Hearn and Nichole Nowakowski, work hard to keep the program up-to-date and error free. Information on all of the Madison schools and events can be found on on cable Channel 29. New cameras and advanced editing equipment provide the broadcasts with a very professional look. During the class, students get experience taping anything from sporting events to show choir concerts. This year's morning show featured Dave Tvergyak and Emily Blauman; Andy Petry and Amy Blauman hosted a sports show. The class offers a tremendous experience for those interested in electronics or broadcasting.

Classes Bring Students into the Future

J.O.G.S. (Jobs for Ohio's Graduating Seniors) classes have been hard at work this school year, preparing Madison's seniors for the "real world" through such activities as the Job Fair. This event helped make students aware of available jobs and the necessary qualifications and skills. J.O.G.S. also plans on sponsoring a "Penny War" to raise funds for needy children.

Business classes have also applied preparations for the future, taking on such projects as creating consumer products: "edible clothing" and "a poor man's candle," for example. They also dug into big-name corporations such as Coca-Cola and Harley Davidson, learning business skills and the "ins and outs" of running a business.

Other career-oriented classes included Keyboarding and Computer Technologies. While Keyboarding taught basic typing skills, structure of business letters and short reports, Computer Technologies students did more advanced work on the internet, learned how to create templates and Power Point presentations, and studied computer maintenance.

Band Takes Many Directions

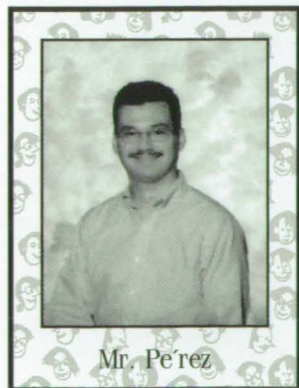

The 2000-2001 symphonic band played only a few times before they split up into two bands. The wind ensemble was directed by Mr. Pe'erez and the concert band by Ms. Groah. The two bands played together at the winter concert in December

In the spring the band switched back and forth from concert to marching band. They prepared for the St. Patrick's Day Parade in Cleveland, but unfortunately could not attend due to the weather. They did however march in Madison's Memorial Day Parade. After marching up and down the midway at Cedar Point, they spent a fun day at the park enjoying the rides.

This year the stage was full in all sections, with the exception of Mr. Pe'erez playing third trombone. Their performances were limited this year. When they performed at the Senior Citizen Prom held at Stanton Park, this year the whole band was able to play "The Chicken Dance." The stage band also took the place of the pep band at a few basketball games. Even with eight members leaving this year, next year's stage band should still be just as strong.

This year all the bands were very successful in all they were able to do. It just goes to show you that with practice and patience, you can go a long way.

Back-Up Music

The 2000-2001 musical seasons were filled with excitement and changes for the MHS choral department. The Show Choir decided to change their name from the old "...And Company" to "Eclectica," suggested by their choreographer, Ken Gasch. Their year was filled with a variety of performances locally as well as the usual school concerts, Cabaret nights, and a trip to Toledo to take part in the "In Celebration" competition for the second year. Ms. Groah chose three numbers for Eclectica to perform, all of which placed at the competition: "Night Fever" took 5th place, "Steam Heat" took 4th, and "Rich Man's Frug" took 1st place, yet again. "I am so proud of the group. We have worked very hard this year, beginning over the summer, and they should be proud of themselves for achieving these accomplishments," said Groah.

The Chorus and Concert Choir also worked hard all year and showed their stuff at the fall, Christmas, winter, and spring concerts. In addition to these school performances, the Concert Choir also participated in the annual LCMEA Festival at Perry.

4. Sandy Tobul and Mike Whipple concentrate on their strict movements as the Show Choir performs their 1st place piece, "Rich Man's Frug."

5. All the choirs gather at the Homecoming football game to sing the Anthem and the Alma Mater.

6. The Jazz Ensemble settles in for the first concert of the year: (l to r) Chris Liukkonen, Glenn Bailey, Derek Kasper, Aaron Rose, Tara Teschke, Sarah Scott, Anneli Curnock, and Colleen O'Leary.

7. Junior Todd Getzy gets all decked out in his 70's get-up to sing his solo in "Night Fever" at the Show Choir's 2nd annual Cabaret.

8. The Chorus prepares to enlighten the audience with their next number at the Winter Concert.

9. The Chorus, Concert Choir, and Show Choir gather as one large ensemble for the mass number "Moses" at the Winter Concert.

10. Senior Tara Teschke tap dances as well as sings her way through the Show Choir's up-beat song, "Trashin' the Camp," to end their Cabaret.

11. The Show Choir performs their 4th place song, "Steam Heat," for the judges in Toledo.

Making the Students' Days

A great variety of classes are offered at Madison High School; among them are many designed to give students the opportunity to learn how to succeed in school. Mrs. Funk, Mrs. McCue, Mrs. Morgan, and Mrs. Porter are in charge of these classes, and they have to be versatile, since they teach every subject in the curriculum, as well as study skills! These teachers are also available during the students' study halls and anytime they want the help. Different strategies are applied to meet the varying needs of individual students.

Mrs. Funk's students are also in charge of the MHS bookstore, which operates from their classroom. Those students operating the store gain real-life business experience, and their efforts give other students the chance to pick up necessary supplies during their lunch periods. The students also get involved with the school by attending sports events, joining clubs and sports teams, and showing a lot of Streak spirit in all they do.

All in a Day's Work

Auburn Career Center gives many Madison students a chance to take the vocational and college-prep. courses offered there. Their programs give high school juniors and seniors a head start in the fields they have chosen. The students also have the option of staying at ACC all day, taking even their required academic classes there instead of returning to MHS half way through the day.

Auburn offers courses in many fields: Administrative Office Services; Auto Mechanics and Auto Body; Building, Remodeling, and Repair; Community and Home Services; Culinary Arts; Cosmetology; Early Childhood Development; Diversified Health Services; Electronics; Graphic Communications; Horticulture; Industrial Technology; Informational Processing; Marketing Education; Transitional Employment; and Occupational Work Experiences. "I'm glad I chose to go to Auburn. It gives me a head start and good experience in what I want to do when I'm older," explained junior Megyn Pike.

Students like to have Auburn to go to so they can start early on the field they have already chosen. Many of them can enter the work force right after they have graduated, or Auburn can even help them find part-time jobs in their field so they can gain experience while still in high school. Whether they choose to further their education at a university or a technical school or go right into the work force, their courses at ACC give them insight into careers so they can make better decisions for their futures.

Final Memories

West Side Story Hits Rabbit Run

The MHS drama department held their spring musical, West Side Story, on May 9, 10, and 12. By taking the play to Rabbit Run Theater, they were able to stage a much bigger production. Director Matt Martello praised his cast: "The play was a big success and went better than expected. It was great." With the assistance of Ms. Jaime Pope and musical director Ms. Nicole Groah, he led the Streaks to a nearly flawless production.

Based on William Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet, the musical presents a twisted story of love and death. Two gangs, the Sharks and the Jets, prove that only the worst results from racial hate. The conflict begins when Tony and Maria, played by Glenn Bailey and Colleen O'Leary, fall in love after meeting at a high school dance. They vow to marry, but because they come from such different backgrounds, their friends and families try to keep them apart. After Tony is killed, Maria pleads for them to realize the consequences of their hatred.

Senior Tara Teschke added another strong performance in the role of Bernardo's flashy girlfriend, Anita. The entire cast had many opportunities to display their strong acting, singing, and dancing to sell-out crowds each night. "I think we really pulled the play together and did a nice job with the performances. I had a good time doing it," concluded senior Sarah Scott.

1. The Jet and Shark gangs gather for the dance at the gym to feature some of their best dancers. The gangs reluctantly listen to the instructions given by the adult authority figure, played comically by Rick Boonstra.
2. Maria (Colleen O'Leary) and Tony (Glenn Bailey) stand on the balcony of Maria's home singing "Tonight."
3. Riff (Mike Mitchell) and Bernardo (Ryan Hutton) fight in the alley during the rumble.
4. The entire cast gathers on-stage at the death of Tony (Glenn Bailey) after the rumble.
5. The Shark girls, led by Anita (Tara Teschke), tap their toes to the Latin beat while pledging their love to their new-found home in the song "America." Solos by Tara and Rosalia (Amy Findak) spiced up the Latin beat.

 8. Tony (Glenn Bailey) and Maria (Colleen O'Leary) imagine what their wedding would be like.
 9. The Jet gang taunts Anita (Tara Teschke) at Doc's when she goes there to warn Tony.
 10. In addition to acting in the play, Joe Kuhlman plays the trumpet in the pit.
 11. The Jet gang tries to play it "Cool" in Doc's for the leader of their gang, Riff (Mike Mitchell).
 12. Jillian Schuur, Mike Mitchell and Ryan Hutton present their special thanks and gifts to Mr. M. and the others who helped make the show possible.
 13. In the song "I Feel Pretty," Maria (Colleen O'Leary) sings with her friends, Rosalia (Amy Findak), Consuela (Audrey Leonard), and Francesca (Sarah Scott) about her love for Tony.
 14. Anita (Tara Teschke) and Bernardo (Ryan Hutton) show off for the Jet gang at the dance at the gym.

A Day to Look Back On

From cliques to couples, seniors to underclassmen, this year's prom fulfilled all of their expectations. With a theme of "Ever After," the fairy-tale-like atmosphere made for a magical evening. The juniors worked for weeks preparing the decorations, including an "enchanted forest" in the entryway—complete with a bridge and homemade trees—and "magic castle" centerpieces. Trying something new this year, the junior class presented prom-goers with the option of dining out. Not expecting such a great response, the junior class soon realized that they would have to cancel the Country Club's dinner altogether. This change in plans pushed back the prom to 8 o'clock instead of the usual 7 o'clock.

The court seniors provided themselves with made it very difficult to choose just one guy and girl to be our 2001 prom king and queen. This year's court included Rosie Brackman, Stefanie Dodge, Francine Rhinehart, Theresa Sprague, Danielle Sutter, Ryan Hutton, Mike Mitchell, John Payne, Kyle Tobul, and Dave Tvergyak. Walking away with the crowns were Rosie Brackman and Kyle Tobul. At the end of the evening, the guys took home souvenir candles and the girls received photo albums to commemorate a very special event.

Stephanie Clough:

"Today we break from this mold society has created to gather and celebrate the accomplishments of the Class of 2001."

Sarah Scott:

"Although we are heading down many different roads, the times we have shared and the lessons we have learned will link us together far into the coming years."

CONGRATULATIONS GRADS

Grads Remember Back in the Day, Look Forward to Days to Come

June 9, 2001, will always remain an important date to the Class of 2001: their graduation. Feelings of joy, sadness, and relief filled the hearts and minds of the graduates as they went through the events of the day. The class of 233 graduates proudly marched across the stage to receive their diplomas. Of that number, 45% are planning on attending a four-year school, while 33% will attend a two-year school and 22% will either enter the work force or join the military.

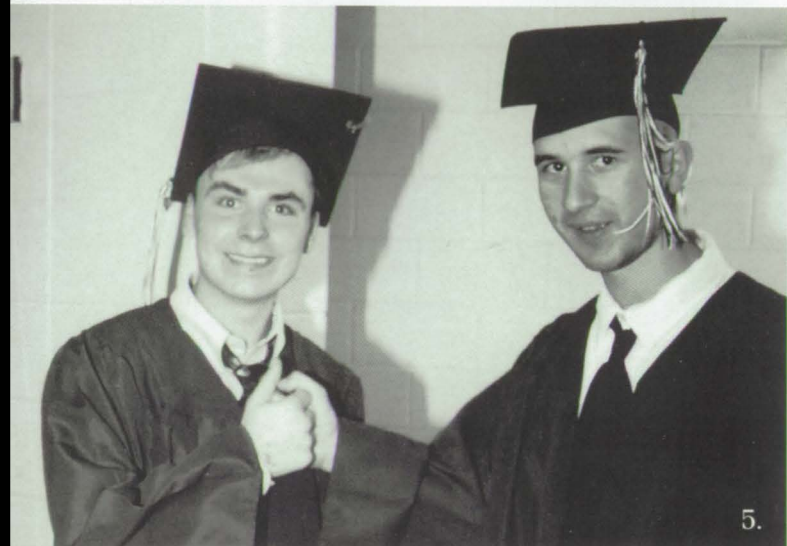

These talented graduates accumulated over $160,000 in scholarships and grants to various colleges and universities. The Class of 2001 also did well on the senior proficiencies. Because 97 students passed every section, the class earned the privilege of an open campus lunch for the last few weeks of school. Erica Harper, Scott Adams, and Phil Dodson stood out above the rest as they reached the honors level on all five sections of the tests.

To give the graduates and their guests the opportunity to look "back in the day," the AV department once again compiled a slide show of childhood pictures of the seniors, which was, of course, a highlight of the ceremony. This year they had the help of Mrs. Watts, who took over the task from Mrs. Morgan. Through the efforts of Mr. Richmond, the graduates' senior pictures were also displayed on the screens as they walked across the stage.

The theme song for the ceremony was Leann Womack's "I Hope You Dance," which was incorporated in the video and also performed by seniors Sarah Scott and Tara Teschke. Another highlight was the speech given by guest speaker, Congressman Steven C. LaTourette. Speaking to his own daughter, Sarah, and her classmates, he offered this advice: "Your parents are going to do things that will cause you deep embarrassment. But you know what? They don't care. . . I see a clock on the wall and the hands have spun way too fast. I don't know where the time went. . . Let life take you on whatever path unfolds before you and let your heart be your guide. Strive to do what makes you happy and don't be afraid to fail along the way."

Good Luck Class of 2001!

MISSION STATEMENT:

We are a diverse group of students with various backgrounds that stand for positive decisions that promote personal well-being: alcohol free, drug free lifestyles which benefit the school and community with our beliefs and values as people who care. We want to see that everyone knows what we believe in and what we stand for, to be free of harmful chemicals that have affected people in our community already. We can't change the past but we can change the future, and that's what we are hoping to do, to inform the younger generations about the dangers of drugs and alcohol.

At the End of the Day. . .

The 2000-2001 Cauldron is a publication of the Madison High School Blue Streak Yearbook Staff. Over five hundred copies of Volume 72, entitled "Back in the Day," were printed by the Taylor Publishing Company in Dallas, Texas. Cindy Carty served as our representative from Taylor.

Most copy was set in 10-point Finesse font, with headlines in Muse Script. Copy was completed on Dell computers and submitted on IBM disks, using the UltraVision 2000 program. The presale program was conducted by the Yearbook Processing Center of Murfreesboro, Tennessee. The presale price was $50 plus tax and a YPC handling fee.

The yearbook staff would like once again to express our unending gratitude to those people who make our job easier. Many students, teachers, office staff, coaches, parents, and friends have come to our aid on numerous occasions. A few names deserve special mention: Mr. DeLong and the first graders of HNK, Sandy Eaglen, Jacquie and Kathryn Fedele, Eileen Findak, Sam and Mary Jackson, Beth Leonard, Debbie Morgan, Coleen Moskowitz, and Josue' Pérez, among others. Thanks also to all of our advertisers!

I would also like to thank—in particular—Mr. Bob Richmond, who retired from MHS this year. Bob is one of those people who does more than most people realize, who always does what needs to be done, and who does everything well. He works quietly behind the scenes, with little recognition or reward, and he always takes care of his friends. I hope he enjoys every new day of his retirement, and I hope he knows how much we'll miss him.

Completing the yearbook is a long and involved process. Ironically, I finally finished up on Independence Day. I have helped to produce the past six books, and I have learned a lot in six years. Thanks to the staff members who came in during those long June days to help me finish—especially Danielle Fredericks. Good luck next year to the new advisor and staff.

Please remember that the Cauldron is a student publication. We work very hard to avoid, find, and correct errors, and we apologize for those we missed. We sincerely hope you enjoy your book now and treasure it for years to come.

Carpe Diem!

What a golden year for sports.

Michael Johnson won two gold medals in the 400 meter and 4 x 400 meter relay in the Sydney Olympics.
(Must have been the shoes.)

Multiple medals also went to Maurice Green and to Marion Jones, who took home three gold and two bronze.

She's the first woman to win five medals in one Olympics.

Tiger Woods did it again.
And again.
And again.

As the PGA Tour Player of the year, he placed first in tournament after tournament, including the U.S. Open, the British Open and the PGA Championship.

The golden girls of soccer settled for silver in Sydney.

Under a Shaq attack.

Shaquille O'Neal, with Kobe Bryant, shot the Lakers to victory against the Indiana Pacers in the NBA finals.

ONE SET MATCH

Lance Armstrong conquered the Alps and silenced cynics, winning his second consecutive Tour de France. His comeback from cancer makes him a double role model, to athletes and cancer patients alike.

The "Subway Series" made baseball big news. For the first time in 44 years the New York Yankees and the New York Mets went head-to-head at the World Series. New York came out on top. (As in Yankees.)

The Williams sisters continued to take the tennis world by storm. Rivals on opposite sides of the net, they're unstoppable as partners. Venus topped a stellar year with wins at Wimbledon and the U.S. Open. She took the gold at the Sydney Olympics in singles, and paired with Serena to take the gold in doubles as well.

It wasn't in the stars. The New Jersey Devils took the Stanley Cup back from the Dallas Stars after their nail-biting double overtime victory in game six.

D-FENSE!

The Baltimore Ravens extraordinary defense gave them the edge and a 34-7 win over the New York Giants in Super Bowl XXXV.

What goes around comes around.

Look behind the technology hype and you're sure to find recycled trends. Oh, the irony.

It's the 70s all over again.

Large tinted lenses make for look-at-me sunglasses and disco-era hairstyles return with "wings" and feathered bangs reminiscent of Farrah Fawcett's famous locks.

A new twist is the bright burst of hair color, maybe a leftover from the punk and glam rock resurgence last year.

STATE OF COOL

REFRESH

A rhinestone belt holds up your denims? Glittery studs on your faded jeans?

Totally.

England's Prince William took a "gap year" before college, following his mother's example of service and humanitarianism.

His volunteer and environmental work in Chile shows that the man who will be king is a true prince of hearts.

For the guys, the mop top is back with the "shag" hairstyle.

The bed-head hairstyles of Ricky Martin and Kevin of the Backstreet Boys is typical of the macho look many stars like.

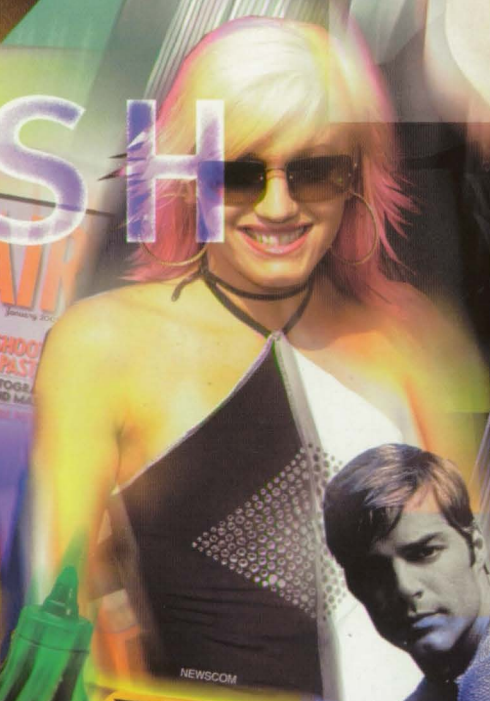

Leather whatever.

Leather is everywhere. Leather pants. Leather boots.

Everything else sparkles and shines.

We heard lots of wedding bells.

Two Backstreet Boys got hitched, Madonna married her Guy. Catherine Zeta-Jones wed Michael Douglas, and Jennifer and Brad tied the knot.

Caution. Heavy traffic ahead.

As in new millennium traffic. It seems like the more info there is, the harder it is to be informed. Technology promises a bright new age but it's still hard to communicate.

Some things never change.

The Pope journeyed to the Holy Land and prayed for peace, while conflicts between Israelis and Palestinians raged.

Allegedly linked to the unrest, the USS Cole was bombed off the coast of Yemen. This year we remember with honors entertainer Steve Allen, actors Walter Matthau, Jason Robards, and Alec Guinness.

SO WHERE ARE WE?

WHAT'S NEW?

And the nation waited 36 days for the drama of the 43rd presidential election to unfold.

Another first. After court battles and recounts, Florida's 25 electoral votes were finally awarded to Texas governor George W. Bush in the closest presidential race in history. In another dramatic sequence of events, tensions between U.S. and Cuba rose over the custody battle of 6-year-old Elian Gonzalez who was finally reunited with his father and sent back to Cuba amid anti-Castro protests.

Crash. Technology and music went head to head, as 19-year-old Napster co-founder Shawn Fanning battled the music industry over copyright usage of downloaded music.

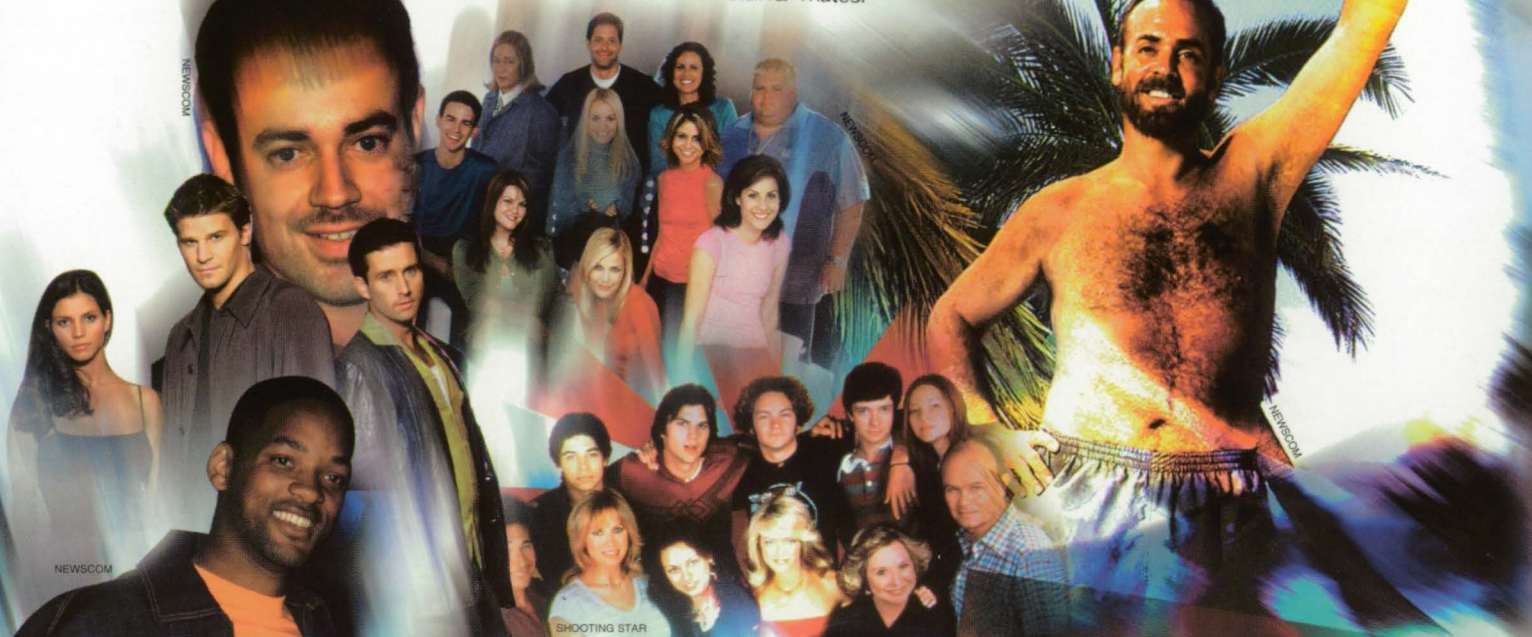

Firestone tires exploded on highways across the nation forcing one of the largest recalls in history.

Hillary Clinton stepped out of the White House and into the U.S. Senate, a first.

Television gives a crash course in life lessons.

The nation tuned in to see who would be voted out in this summer's biggest smash "Survivor".

The ultimate SURVIVOR, Richard Hatch, beat all odds in order to outlast his island mates.

ANYTHING 'ON'?

In shows like "Roswell" and "Angel," to SURVIVE means getting rid of the bad guys.

They showed that we all experience feelings of alienation, but we are not alone.

In fact, putting up with siblings, family issues and struggling to "find ourselves" are common denominators for us all.

Inventions topped inventions.

This year, we saw cable lines not only enhance television but surfing speed and e-commerce as well.

Electronic organizers rock.

From the palm of your hand you can check e-mail, invest in futures or buy a present for Mom.

Oh yeah, and get organized.

The newest digital cameras have greater picture quality as well as roomier disk space, while the next generation MP3s are smaller, faster, more portable, and provide better-than-ever sound quality.

Toyota was among the future-thinking car companies to introduce hybrid cars.

Half -electric and half gasoline-powered, these new wheels will eventually be as easy on the pocketbook as they are on the planet.

Playstation 2 and the latest Nintendo made the virtual world more entertaining.

SHOCKING!

Performers

like Hoku and Jakob Dylan of the Wallflowers emerged from the shadows of their famous parents.

Blink-182

lets their California style influence their wardrobe and music, which led them to an MTV music award for "All the Small Things."

Globalization has had a profound effect on the style-music industry.

Latin's back with a bang with the return of Carlos Santana and the rise of Enrique Inglesias along with Christina Aguilera's release of a Latin-style CD this year.

And we saw Ricky Martin going global with a tour reaching as far as Austral-Asia.

On the local scene, many underground performers have been rocketed into the mainstream, as was Moby, the one-time New York DJ, with the immensely popular "Play," image is everything.

LIVE BABY LIVE!

Madonna came alive (what else is new) with her new "Music," reinvigorating her original dance-music roots.

Unbelievably, this mother of two has topped the charts for some three decades now.

Her concert, performed in a London pub, was one of the most-watched events on the Internet to date.

And with MTV, VH1, Napster, and others, the faces of today's performers are seen live everywhere.

For pop princesses like Britney Spears, Christina Aguilera and Aaliyah, as well as the ubiquitous boy bands, image is as big as (maybe bigger than) their music.

For performers like the Backstreet Boys, LFO, 98° and especially *NSYNC, style is the substance of pop.

Check out their live shows.

REEL LIFE

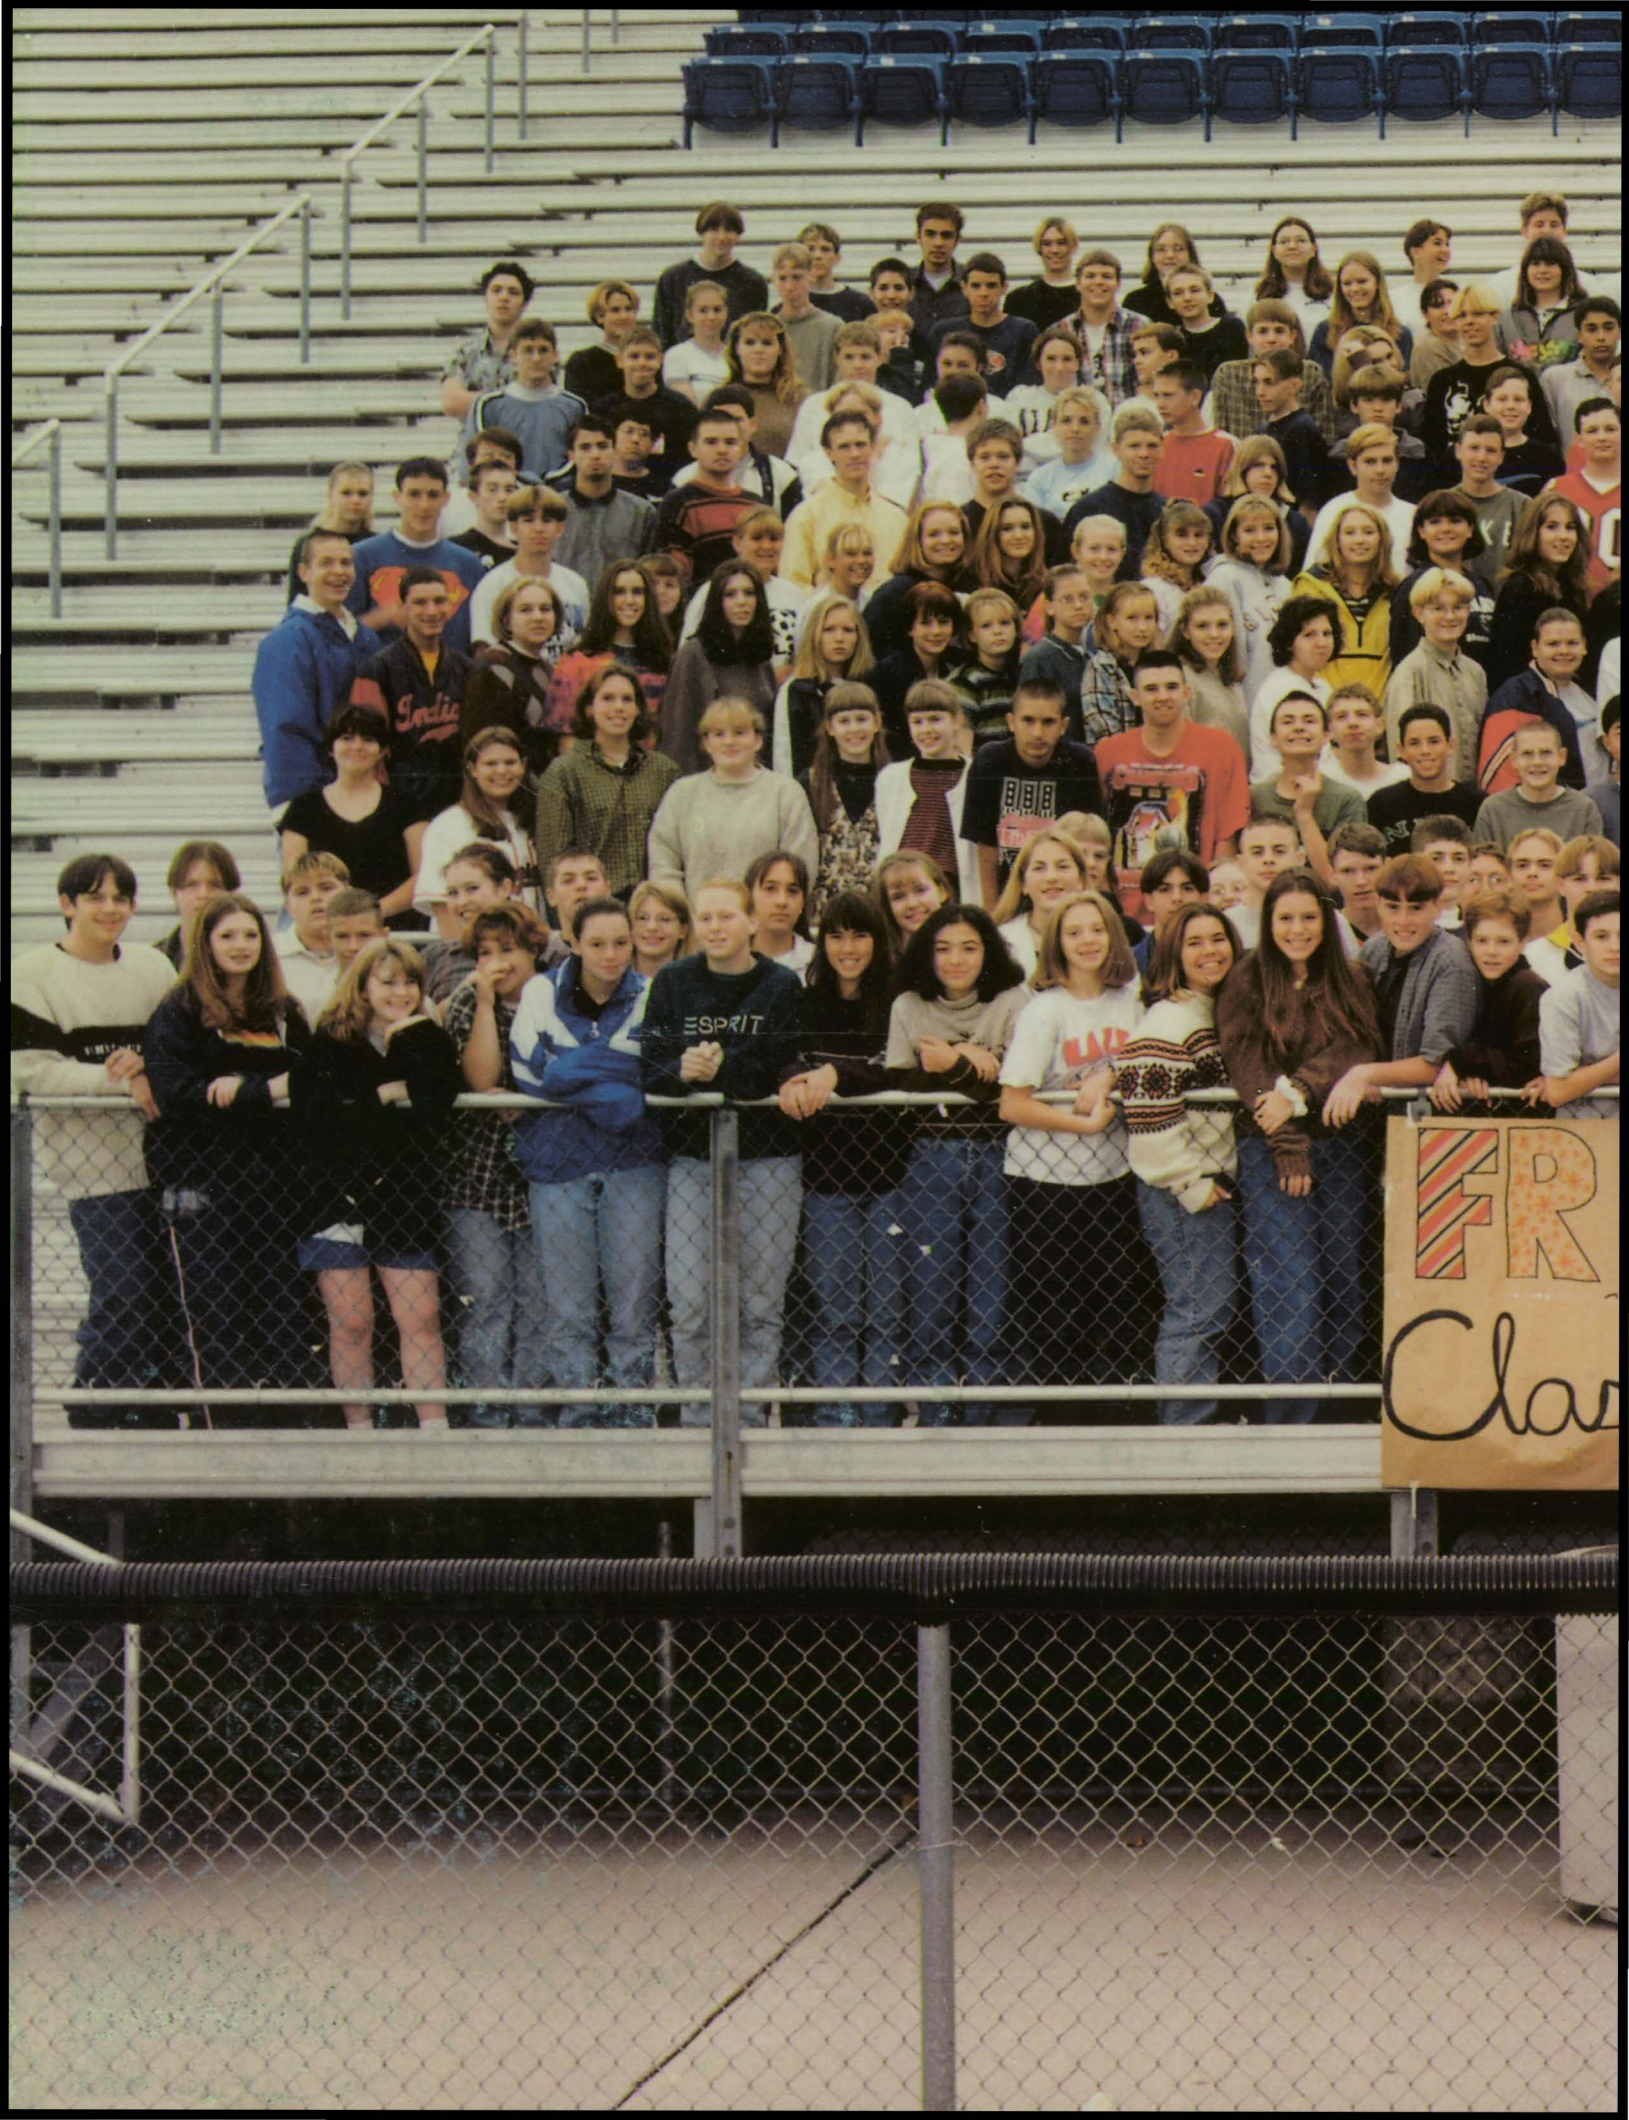

Rack up another hit for Jim Carey. Irresistible even when he's covered in green from head to foot. The Whos in Whoville are a must-see in Dr. Suess's "How the Grinch Stole Christmas."

There was something for everybody on the big screen this year. claymation genius brought the chickens of Tweedy's farm hilariously to life as they worked up a plan to fly the coop in "Chicken Run." "Shanghai Noon," with Owen Wilson and Jackie Chan heading out West to rescue Princess Pei-Pei, played by Lucy Liu. And Buzz Lightyear came to the rescue, and beyond, leading the troops on a mission to bring Woody back in "Toy Story 2." "Pay It Forward" proved it's possible to change the world and it doesn't have to be a big thing. Kevin Spacey, Helen Hunt and wonderkid Haley Joel Osment inspired us all to do a favor or two or three and make this world a better place.

X-termination avoided, thanks to the X-Men.

Enlightened Professor Xavier provides a safe haven for the world's newest and most persecuted minority, a group of mutant, genetically-gifted human beings called the X-Men. Their struggle against hostile Government agencies and mutant supremacist Magneto made "X-Men" one of this summer's biggest smash hits.
