Beyond That Big Blue Sky

At the tender age of five you were forced to go
Beyond naptimes with your blue blankey
To a world you did not know.
The place was filled with people
That you had never met,
But little did you know
That you'd be friends with them yet.
Then as soon as you were comfortable,
The time had finally come
To move beyond spelling books and recess
To a place that terrified some.
But once you got past your initial fears,
You started to really enjoy
All the many perks of junior high--
Like having parties that were girl/boy!
You didn't get to drive yet, but
You never seemed to care.
Your favorite blue bicycle
Always got you from here to there.
Then again once you were at ease,
The time had quickly past away.
You had to go beyond being sheltered
To attend high school that first day.
You began as a scared freshman,
But every year you grew.
You started to enjoy new freedoms
And to find the "real you."
High school was exciting with
Its sports, clubs, and events,
But all too soon came senior prom.
The years had all been spent.
It was time to leave the friendships
You made the last four years behind.
To go from the comforts of a classroom
To the real world waiting beyond.
Just remember as you begin your life
The lesson you have learned--
That moving on and trying something new
Should never make you concerned.
So when you go for your dreams,
Reach for the stars up high.
Don't ever be intimidated.
You never know what blue ribbons lie

 8. Shake, shake, shake! Shake, shake, shake! Shake your booty! Brian Craig has no problem doing a little jig in the hallway.
 9. Future Martha Stewart, Lacey Minnick proudly shows off her prize-winning cherry pie.

Activities 1

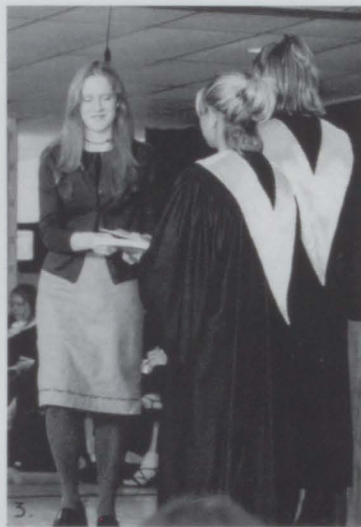

More than Just an Honor

NHS enrollment soars as prestige still remains on top

It's one of the most prestigious groups at Madison High School and the National Honor Society proves that it's only getting bigger with time. The chapter inducted 66 new members in 2002, the largest group in school history. The group choose its members based on four qualities: Leadership, Character, Service, and Scholarship.

"This year's NHS class was really great and I'd like to thank them for all their help through the year," said co-adviser Mrs. Watts.

The group was led by President Sarah Goda, Vice-President Shannon Weiss, Secretary Britney Howard, and Treasurer Jon Ostanek.

▲Some people will do anything to get out of school work for a day. Sophomore Kathryn Fedele bids on Kimothy Plorkowski's brain for the NHS fundraiser "Buy a Brain."

▼With all the flashes going off, the members of NHS are beginning to feel like celebrities. Here, the new NHS members stand with the current members for a photo after inductions.

1. After all their hard work collecting toys for the Toys for Tots fundraiser, NHS members Laura Fussaro, Jon Ostanek, Amy Blauman, and Valerie Smith relax in their collections.

2. "We can handle this!" Valerie Smith, Jen Occkial, Jessica Jameson, Wendy Lang, and Amanda Briggs help pass out programs before the NHS induction ceremony.

3. With all smiles, Kristen Andres receives her certificate signifying her induction into NHS.

4. Passing on the tradition! Wendy Lang hands a certificate to Brad Eckert upon his induction into NHS.

5. "How much longer do we have to wait?" These juniors look like they're ready to head on in to the lecture hall for the induction ceremony.

Beyond the Events

Student Council continues to sponsor events that help the school and community.

They are in charge of most of the activities at school, yet most of the time they are unnoticed. This year they had several underclassmen members attend a lecture, learning how to run everything more efficiently. They were also in charge of this year's highly successful spirit week. Each class tried to be the best with the hall decorations, but the seniors came out on top. Finally, the senior members of Student Council struggled to come up with a gift to leave the school. They finally decided on new counters for the office and more digital clocks to put in the school.

4. Ashley Estabrook can still manage to smile through all the hard work she put in, hoping that her class will win.

5. Senior Student Council officers Sarah Goda, Sandy Tobul, and Jessica Hanifon show off how stunning they are in front of the flag mural.

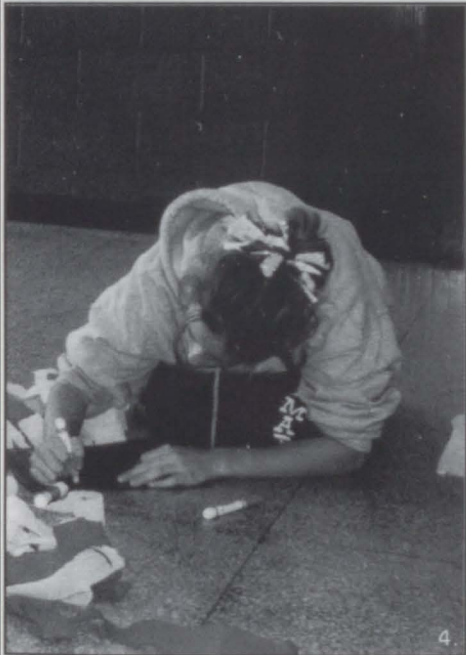

6. Sophomore student council members Vicki Smith and Jessica Scott help their cause by dressing up on twin day.

7. Heidi Baker and her sister show their true patriotism by decorating the hall.

1. Frantically working to finish their hallway, Sophomores Jessie Rose and Sarah Blake start painting a sign for the barnyard.

2. Mrs. Watts helps Chris Mauck put up the sign with all the senior's old yearbook photos in their dorm room.

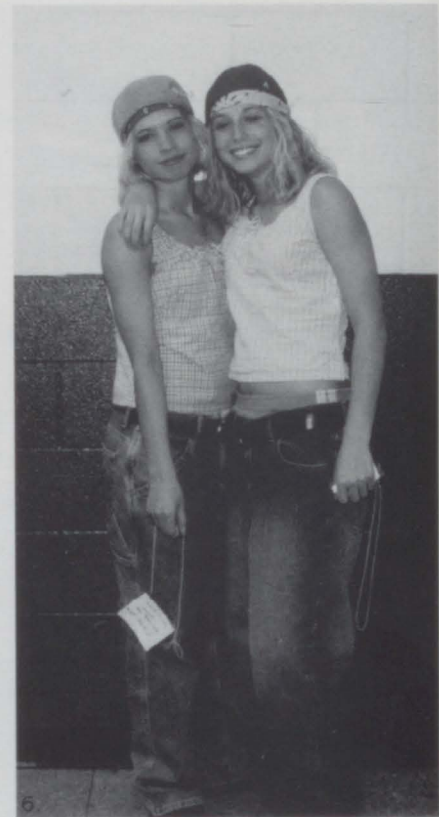

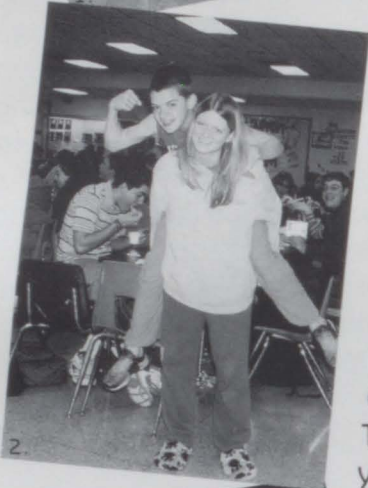

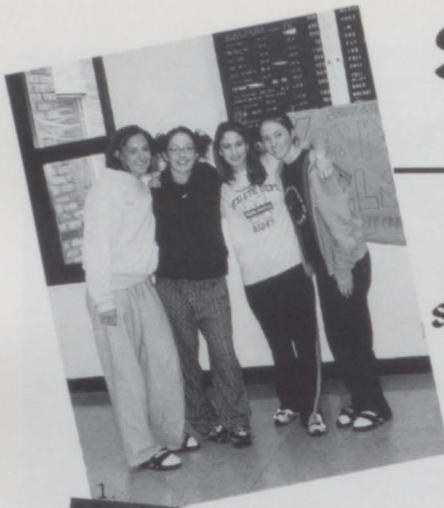

3. Tess Polivka plays cowgirl, trying to escape on the wooden horse in the junior's Wild, Wild West themed hall.

Spirit... Let's Hear It!

Madison students go above and beyond to show off their spirit during Spirit Week 2002.

Spirit Week 2002 took place Monday, April 22 through Friday, the 26. It was a lot of fun for all the grades and included pajama day on Monday, twin day on Tuesday, dress like your favorite teacher or celebrity day on Wednesday, blue and white day on Thursday, and dress like your hallway day on Friday. The hallway contest was won by the seniors for their theme of Dorm Life. The juniors came in second with their Wild, Wild West theme. Sophomores put great effort into their Barnyard themed hallway, earning them third place, while the freshmen showed their pride with their Spirit of America theme. Overall, spirit week was won by the seniors. The freshmen did an awesome job for their first year by coming in second. The sophomores earned themselves third place, while the juniors pulled in last. On Friday the juniors overtook the seniors in the powder puff game with a score of 21 to 14. During half-time, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes supported a pie-throwing contest where students got to buy tickets to throw a pie in the face of an MHS teacher. The winning students were Cassi Menko, Jessie Hart, and Matt Buchanan. The lucky teachers were Mrs. Craigo, Mr. Brainard, and Mr. Feola. Spirit week was a great time for all those who participated in the student council ▼ Wild, Wild West! Cowgirls Heather Britton and Liz Beattie make friends with the hallway horse.

◀ It's a farmer's life for these sophomores. Nick Mackee, Cassie Kuth, Amanda Titman, and Jessie Rose play in the pig pen in the sophomore hallway.

► Gearing up for college life, Kathy Casto, Tina Schafer, and Josalyn Barton relax in the senior hallway.
 ◀ Down on all fours, the junior cheerleaders for the spirit week assembly have some winning moves.

▲ Excellent! Adam Burney and Jason Verdi look just like Wayne and Garth, their favorite celebrities.
Opposite page: 1. P.J. Buddies, Karla Kershaw, Molly Gehring, Jen Occkial, and Katelyn Orris look ready for bed at anytime.
 2. Pajama Power! Jed Powell and Ashley Nash are comfy cozy for pajama day.
 3. A great shot by Cassi Menko as she slams a pie into Mrs. Craig's face during the FCA pie contest.
 4. Freshman Brittany Baucco, Kevin Watts, Mark Jones, and Chuck White show their American Spirit.
 5. Playing hard, Sarah Goda and Margret Lalka gang up on Lindsey Schmid at the powder puff game.
 6. Almost identical, Cassi Neely and Jennifer Butram stop to show us their outfits.
 7. Tina Schafer cooks up a Miss Zupp look-a-like costume for dress like your favorite teacher day.

 ◀ Broadway-worthy twins Brittany Burkholder and Jessica Fleischer bust a move.

1. Sophomore Cassie Kuth arranges her pictures for the sophomore spread that she covered for the yearbook staff.
2. Analyzing two different pictures for her spread, yearbook editor Jessica Bright asks Ms. Thurston for her input.
3. We are family! Members of the yearbook staff Kathryn Fedele, Jessica Scott, Sarah Nagy, Ingrid Brainard, Erica Baird, and Rachael Haury are a close knit group.
4. Senior Deana Sritalapat files away her spread information at the end of a long day of work.

Yearbook and Newspaper Staffs Keep Us In The Know

For now and in the years beyond

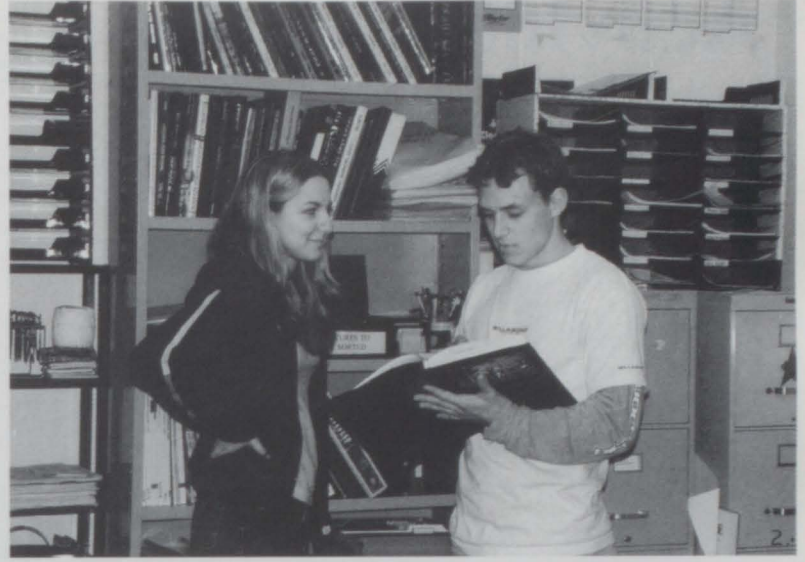

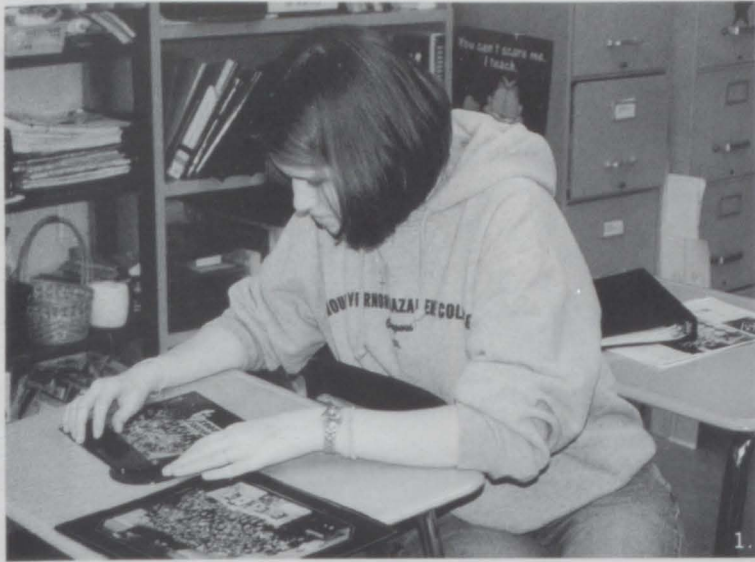

Members of the yearbook and newspaper staff were hard at work, covering events from the terrorist attacks to Homecoming to students' views on civil rights. Both staffs went through similar changes, having new teachers step in to take over the programs.

The yearbook staff, having only six returning members, brought many new faces, and with them, opportunities to develop new ways of thinking. With the new staff membership so high, it was necessary to pick experienced editors; unanimous votes for Kathy Casto and Jessica Bright prevailed. Editors in place, the staff shared the expected responsibilities, including selling ads, taking pictures, and creating layouts. "It is fitting that our theme for the year was "Beyond the Blue" because many of my yearbook staff members went above and beyond the call of duty to make my first year as successful as possible," commented Ms. Thurston, the 2002 yearbook advisor.

The newspaper staff, which boasts the most visited website for a high school paper, broadened its scope of coverage, being the only paper allowed to photograph in Tops before it got opened, and it also covered people in their careers, such as news anchor Stephanie Schaffer, in their article "A Day In the Life." Newspaper advisor Mr. Madore commented that "although finances were low, the staff maintained a positive attitude and were very dedicated, resulting in much positive feedback."

1. Jessica Scott crops the class of 2002's senior and freshman class pictures.

2. Senior yearbook students Laila Farhood and Will Fidele analyze old yearbooks to get ideas for their upcoming spreads.

3. Brainstorming ideas for their future articles in "The Streak" are newspaper staff members Ashley Moles and Ashley Elder.

4. Getting down to business. Newspaper staffers Tabitha Walters, Chris Durham, and Ashley Moles make use of the new computers to write and proofread articles.

5. Senior Doug Ivancic concentrates on typing up his story for The Streak.

Activities Candida

▲ All tired out. Yearbook staff members, Karla Kershaw, Chris Zundel, and Ingrid Brainard, take a relaxing break from their hard day's work on a table outside of the yearbook room.

▲ "Are you ready?" Referee Mike Smith waits for both the junior and senior powderpuff teams to get in place so that he can hand off the ball.

▶ "We're waiting!" Seniors Renee Carlson and Ashley Nash patiently wait in line for the NHS induction ceremony to get under way.

▼ "What should I write?" Junior yearbook staff member Ashley Moles diligently works on trying to come up with captions for her band layout.

▲ Foresight. Seniors Nick Seibert, Rick Fike, and Jim Bugbee show how much studying will get done next year for their spirit week hallway theme, "Dorm Life."

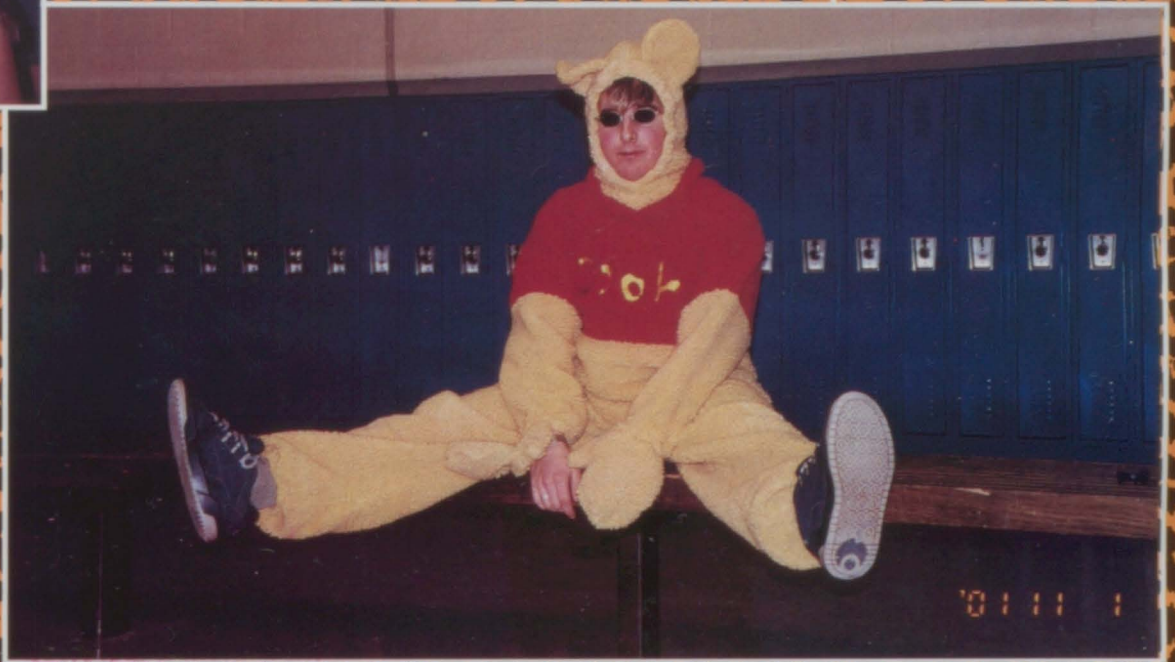

▲ The muse? Newspaper cartoonist Brandon Lichtinger looks up to fellow staffer Doug Ivancic for advice on his newest comic strip.

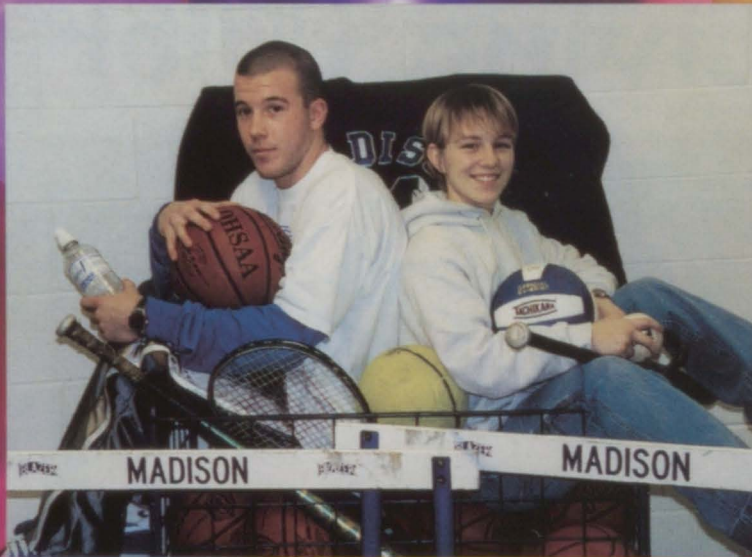

▲ Teamwork is key. Newspaper editors, Brad Eckert and Stephanie Sparkman work together on story ideas for an issue of The Streak.

Looking Beyond These Walls

It is finally here, our senior year! The class of 2002 have met the end of Madison High School. After we graduate everyone will go their separate ways either to college, the military, or the work force. Looking beyond the walls of M.H.S. can be very exciting, yet it can have its scary aspects. Now the future is all within our reach. No one is writing us a pass to go out on our own and create a new future.

But wherever we all end up, we will carry the memories of friends and classes at M.H.S. Many of us will remember cheering for or playing sports, acting in plays, being in clubs, playing in the band, and attending dances and parties. What we have experienced in high school, either good or bad, we take with us and learn from it.

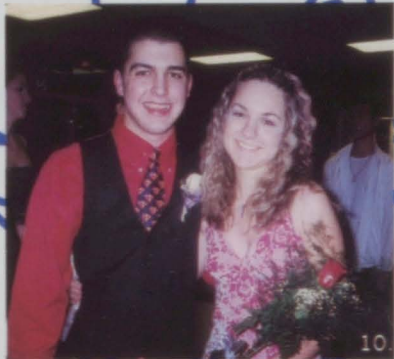

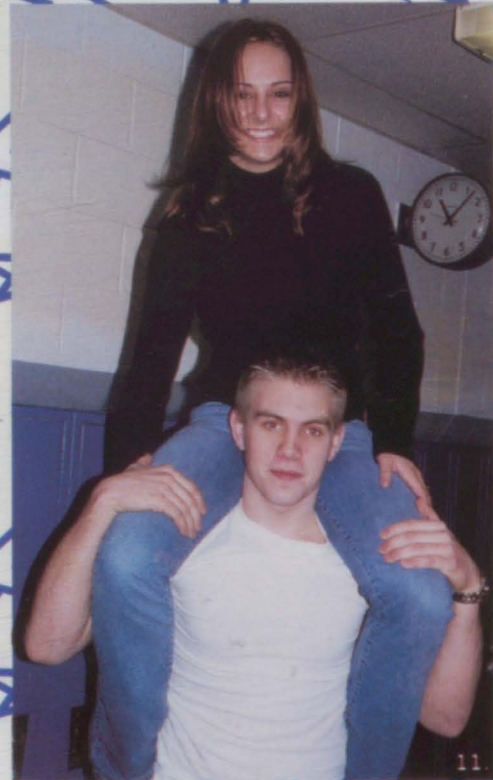

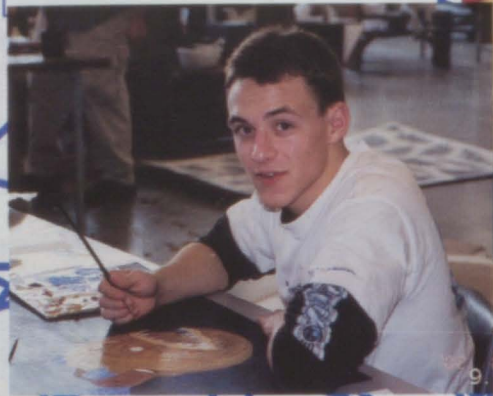

1. Showing her love, Kathy Casto affectionly tackles Sean Talikka, outside the student center.
2. Alex Blair, Wendy Lang, Kathy Casto, Lindsey Gautner, and Josalyn Barton have a going-away party for Kathy's... we won't say.

3. Showing a little bit of their mature side, are Ray King, Kevin Barnhart, and Nick Seibert.
4. Jessica Mickle, In-Jeong Hwang, Erica Gibbon, Henning Brust, and Shannon Payne are feeding their faces at lunch.

"Merry Christmas" from Aileen Klauer and Dan Watts.

5. Best dressed and strong? Ronnie Brehm and Laura Fussaro strike a pose.
6. Dan Watts, Rikki Yeager, and Aaron Balaban are goofing around after lunch.
7. Sporting the hat in school? Steve Millberg makes that outlawed hat look good.
8. Jessica Jameson loves the Christmas season, especially candy canes.
9. Working on a very interesting fish painting is Will Fedele. He later said, "It turned out sweet!"
10. King and Queen of the Winter Ball! Mike Whipple and Laila Farrhood are about to receive their crown.
11. Making a scene in the hallway are Jessica Bright and Mike Fade.

April Smith is painting her masterpiece for her independent art class.

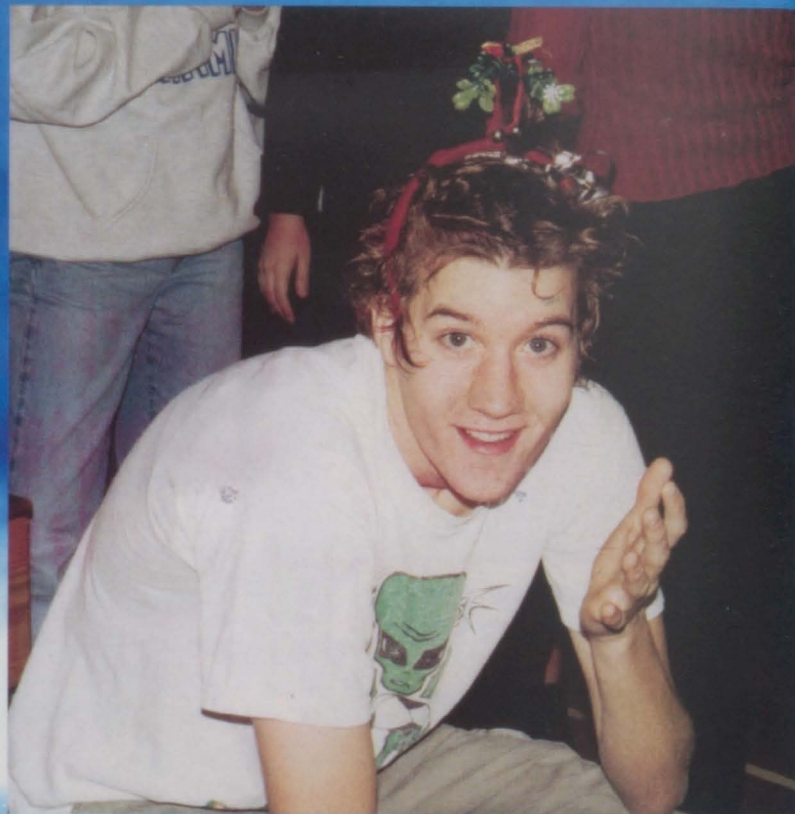

Stepping Into a New World

The juniors focused their sights beyond high school

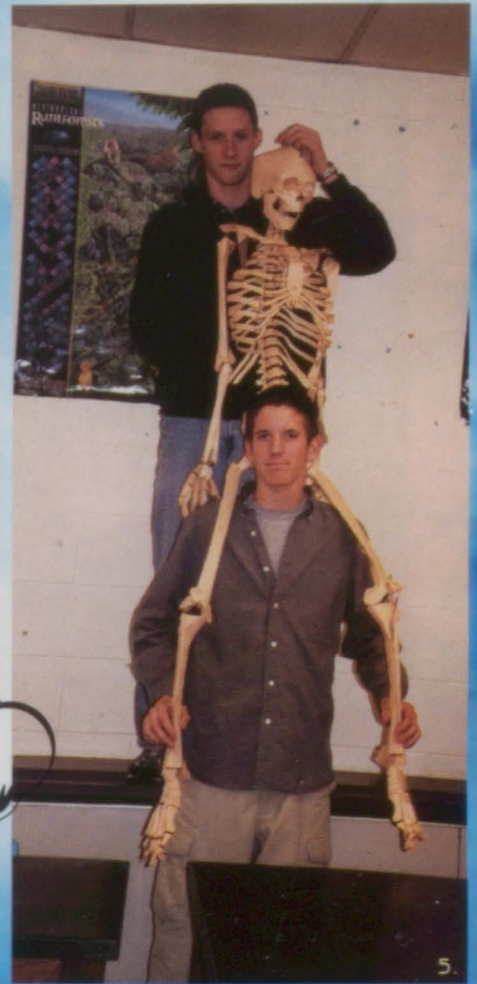

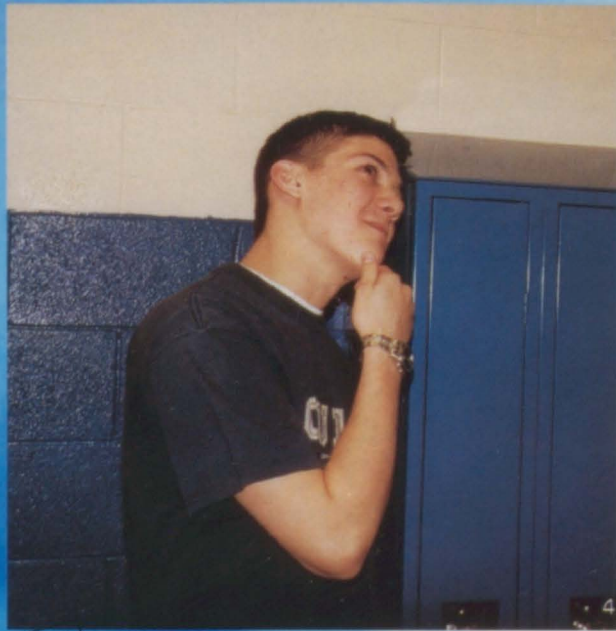

The class of 2003 took a major step into the world of being upperclassmen this year. New memories were created, but many responsibilities were also placed upon their shoulders. Many juniors were forced to juggle friends, sports, and academics, as they prepared for the rest of their lives and still made time for fun.

This was the year when many students began planning the rest of their life. Some attended Auburn to learn their future trade. Many juniors prepared for college by taking the SAT and ACT. These tests helped the students discover their strengths and weaknesses. Another way that the juniors prepared for college was by participating in post secondary schooling. This was a crash course in college life. "I think that post secondary is a good experience because it will help me prepare and understand the expectations I'll encounter in the college of my choice," stated Brad Eckert, who attended Lake Erie College.

Even though they were stressed, the members of the class of 2003 still made time to have fun. This was the first year that the class was formally invited to attend the Madison High School Prom. At the fall sports assembly, the junior class showed off their crazy school spirit in a cheerleading dance competition and won a contest. They knew how to liven up a crowd. With the experiences and trials the junior class encountered this year, they are now ready to step into seniority with their heads held high.

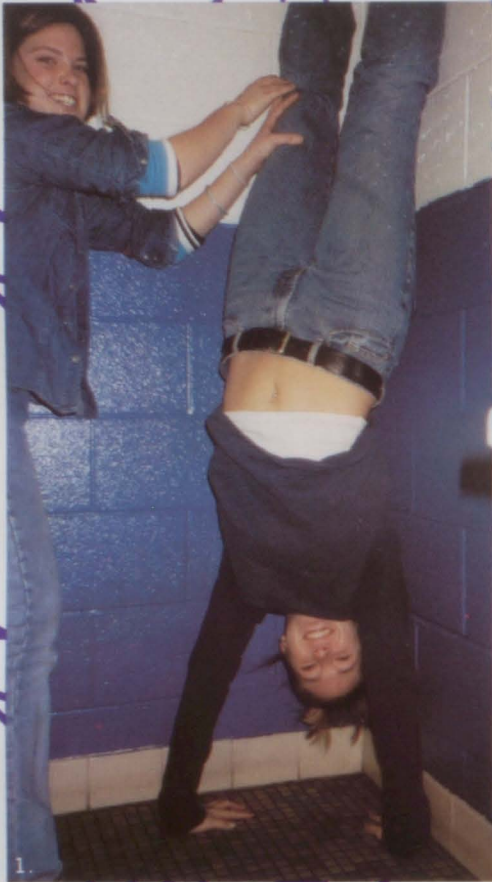

1. "Want a kiss?" questions Alex Hearn from under his mistletoe.
2. Go Streaks! Melissa Kuntz and Tess Polivka support the varsity boys basketball team at Riverside.
3. Sorry Josh. I don't think he is going to fit. Josh Heymire tries to store his good friend Chad Abrams in his locker for safe keeping.
4. Deep in thought, Chris Burdan wonders, "What's for lunch today?"
5. Bad to the bone. Bob Conrad and Josh Sumpter show off the skeleton they made in anatomy class with Mr. Hanes.
6. Jessica Hart, Lindsay Schmid, Rachel Pike, Sara Fike, Liz Beattie, and Rachel Klimkowitz finish up their lunch before they have to go back to class.

Beyond Our Freshman Year

The Class of 2004 came into the big house last year as freshman and now have graduated to sophomores at MHS. So many new things start the sophomore year and many of these are drastic such as getting a job, license and a later curfew. Parties are a big hit on the weekends with friends. "It's so much better than your freshman year. You get to stay out later and go beyond sitting at the house and doing nothing," stated Rachael Haury.

Sophomores also thought about their future and whether or not they are going to Auburn next year. Then they waited to find out if they were accepted. As these students left their freshman year and became sophomores, they matured more and built more friendships and even relationships. Kathryn Fedele said, "You've already started to look down on freshman, but I've realized that I was once one too."

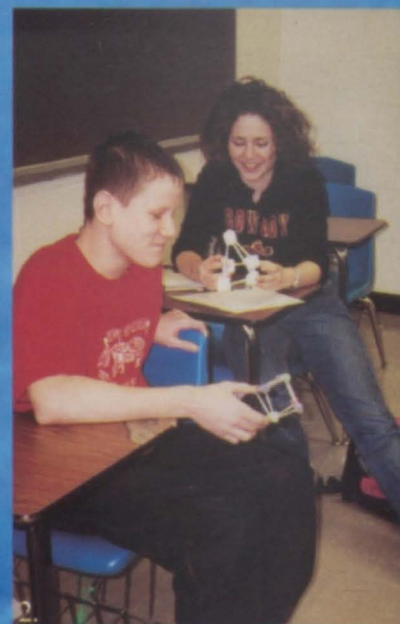

Soon these sophomores will be going beyond their tenth grade year. As juniors they will very close to graduation. While some students want to graduate now, many love high school and don't want to. For now, they'd rather think about who's doing what next weekend and where. These sophomores had a great year and are very close to reaching the top of their eleventh grade year.

1. Errgh.... Adam Burney is freaked out by the camera.
2. Is there a doctor in the house? Yes! Dr. Shelby Jenkins shows her Halloween spirit as she stands with Amy Findak.
3. Sophomore Crystal Clutter shows off her spectacular specs.

- 3) 1,2,3... GO! Mike Blauman demonstrates a perfect cartwheel, when he should be in class.
- 4) Everyone listen to me! Elise Caunter is the center of attention as her friends try to avoid getting into the picture.
- 5) Kym Baldwin and Heidi Baker stop the singing for a bit to get a picture taken.
- 6) Jacquie Byrnes and Catlin Kawallc look pretty and stop for the camera before entering the Homecoming Dance.
- 7) King me! Jason Timperio gets a little crazy during a card game during his lunch period.
- 8) I'm confused! Chuck White struggles with a difficult English project.
- 9) These freshman girls lean on each other for support.

Fresh Faces Join the Halls of MHS

The class of 2005 concluded their first high school year as an overall success, having to adjust right away block classes, unfamiliar faces of the upperclassmen and teachers, and the activities they became involved in. Jumping right out of the middle school proves to be very tough, but these freshman can count on each other to pull through. Many of them made friends with older kids or peers in the same grade, which gave them a different perspective on freshman way of life. With hard work and determination, many of them excelled in sports, stood out in clubs, and became very comfortable with the high school way of life rather quickly.

10. During a break from choir, Amanda McCabe and Samantha Layman smile brightly for the camera while classmates focus on the song.

11. Tony Hall seems to have sprouted ears while Danny Worrell, Chuck Mace, gather around for a group picture in an effort to stall math class.

12. Stacy Bukavac and Justine Haper enjoy a healthy lunch together.

13. Hurry! Hurry! Brittany Fako rushes to her next class after the bell to avoid a tardy.

14. What's that? Brittany Manypenny looks at the camera as Ashley Rebol finds a distraction.

▲ "I Wear my Sunglasses at Night." Robert Polana and Breanne Vickers goof around in the cafeteria, where punch and snacks were served.

◀ Shining, Ashley Rebol, Gabriela Nappo, and Sara Oakes pause for a group hug on the dance floor.

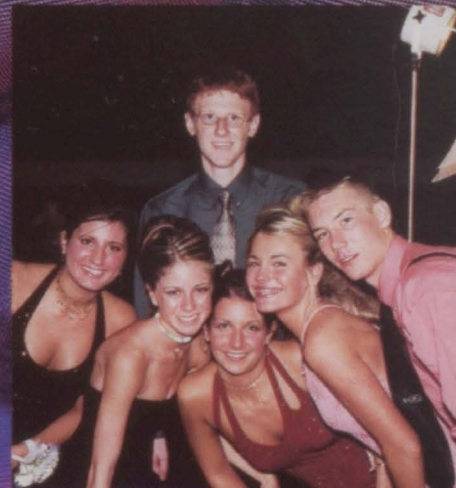

▲ In front of "city lights," Tara Zgodinski, and Kim Serwatka enjoy the dancing in their velvet and sparkles.

◀ Ready for the cover of GQ, Nathan Balaban, Romaro Davis, and Kevin Barnhart are snazzed up in their dress shirts and ties.

Homecoming: A Night on the Town

Elegant, exquisite, and luxurious, the students went out for a "night on the town" in style. Some even in limos, popular places to dine included Ferrante's, Tony Romas, and Laura Fussaro's house. The Madison High School cafeteria was transformed into a city at night and couples arrived amid brilliant multi-colored lighting and music to move to. "They had good dance music and a variety," said Chris Zundel.

Halfway through the dance, an aisle-way was parted, and 2001's Homecoming Court proceeded down to the stage. The couples were Amy Blauman with Romaro Davis, Kaitlyn Fails and Richard Fike, Shannon Weiss escorted by Bob White, and Wendy Lang coupled with Aaron Balaban. The crowd anxiously waited as Romaro Davis was crowned king. Homecoming Queen Kaitlyn Fails and her new king then danced to the theme song, "I Need You." Beyond the dance, Mad Town partied down or relaxed at home with a date. All in all the night was a complete success and these memorable moments will last a lifetime.

And the contestants are. . .

The Homecoming Assembly this year was a rowdy "dance-off" in which the court proceeded to demonstrate the modern moves. The winners were Falls and Romaro Davis, who were crowned at the football game and dance. Going clockwise from the picture directly to the right the court are Amy Blauman, Shannon Weiss, Emily Blauman, Wendy Lang, Richard Fike, Aaron Balaban, Brian Craig, and Bob White.

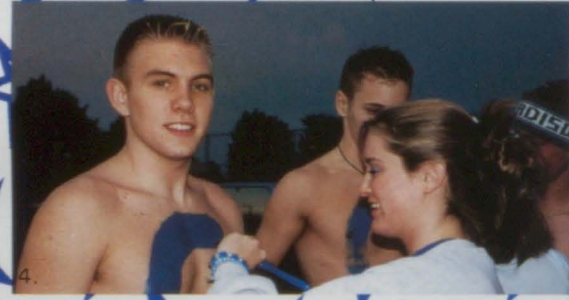

1. YMCA! The DJ leads some wild students in the classic oldie song.
2. "Waiting for tonight!" Ravers of Madison High seem to be in a music video for J. Lo.
3. It's the singer of the Pitted Moonshine Cherries!! Doug Ivancic boogies down with his girlfriend Audrey Leonard.
4. With flowers and glitter in their hair, Jessica Hanifon, Amanda Briggs, and Gina Fuchs take a break from the dance floor and relax in the cafeteria.
5. In curls and diamonds, Crystal Moniot, Ingrid Brainard, Katelyn Orris, Monica Ungers, Rachel Kimkowics, and Karla Kershaw are the bells of the ball.
6. Senior night! Only ravishing young ladies in stunning gowns allowed! Here all the senior girls gather for a group picture with the people they've spent the last four years with.

1. Whooping it up at the pep assembly, Kristen Meiers let's everyone know that we are #1, while Corey Kozan asks why his picture is being taken.
2. Staying true to their letters, Eric Koppenhofer (G) and Bobby Zarzeczny (O) "go" for a victory lap around the football field flying the Madison Blue Streak Flag.
3. Maybe trying a little too hard to get the cheerleaders attention, Adam Butcher jumps on Rick Fike's back to be better seen while cheering with the rest of the seniors to win the spirit stick.

"What does it take to be #1?"

Everything that we've got!!

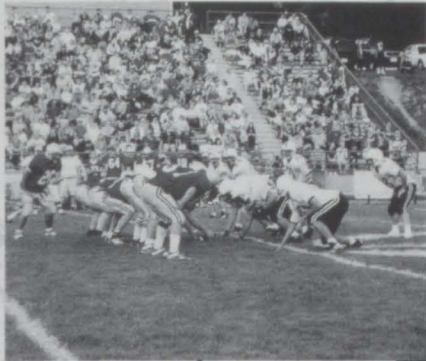

▲ "Spirit Sticks" made a big bang with fans this season.

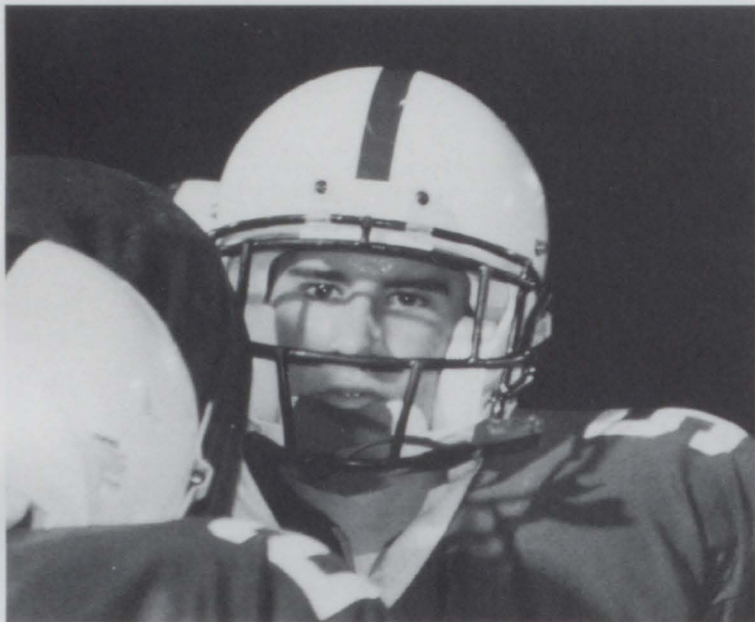

4. Picasso? No, it's Cathy Casto sporting her artistic abilities on Mike Fade's chest at a tailgate party before a Friday night game.
5. Mary Beth Daley stands proudly, both hands on hips, representing both her country and her school.
6. Giving a bit of melody to the mob, the Madison High School Marching Band organize the fans' cheering with catchy tunes that also encourage school spirit.
7. Die hard fans party hardy before every home game and some away games. These tailgates normally get pretty rowdy with all the food and paint.
8. Bearing a little skin to show a little spirit, Lauren Longo and Nathan Balaban are thankful for this fall's warm weather.

Going Beyond The Limits

"The season was filled with many highs and lows. Beating Chardon, Austintown Fitch, and Riverside in the same year shows how successful this season was. The players put their heart and soul into this and it has paid off in the end," said Coach Tim Willis, summing up the season. Led by eleven seniors and captains Joel Szymanski, A.J. Chasko, Bob White, and Steve Reed, the Madison Varsity Football Team did have a successful season this year. They had a 6-4 record. The team also was directed by Head Coach and Defensive Coordinator Tim Willis. Next to him was Offensive Coordinator John Dragas, Defensive Back Coach Matt Bradley, Offensive/Defensive Lines Coach Mike Martin, and Special Teams Coach Mike Gilligan.

A highlight game of the season that is going to be hard to forget would be their game against the Chardon Hill Toppers, traditionally State Champions. The boys went into the game with intensity and believing in themselves, the final score was Madison 27-14. Great job guys!

▲ Bob White #28, A.J Chasko #36, and Aaron Parks #5 recover from the play.

▲ Kicker Chris Zundel, aims for a field goal.

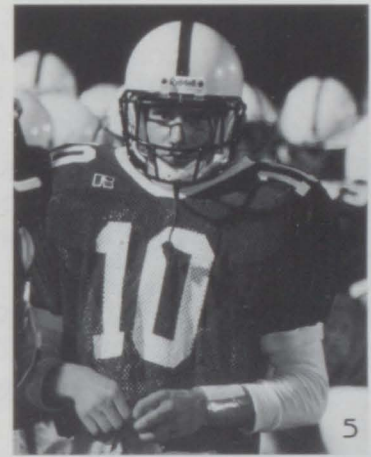

" Football has taught me a lot throughout the years. It's much more than a game to me. We didn't meet all of our goals this season, but I still feel that we had a very successful season. The best moment was beating Chardon 24 to 14." Said Senior Joel Szymanski.

Boys, Play Nice...

While they make the other team black and blue!!

"They learned to play like a team and their work habits improved," said Head Coach Mr. Hernan. By learning to work together, they no longer black and blue each other, but they took out their aggression on their opponents. Once the towel-snapping subsided, the freshman team was able to concentrate on battering the other team. Their greatest achievements this year were their 3-1 P.A.C record and beating South, North, and Riverside. "A win we never expected to achieve was taking Mentor," said Coach Hernan. Team player Matt Nunley thought that the freshmen worked hard in order to "move" as a team and deserved the scores they brought home. Way to go boys!!!!

Madison's junior varsity team joined the freshmen in their decision to black and blue the other team instead of their own teammates. They also had a 3-1 record in the PAC. "We played really well this year. We had great defense and an offense that could really move the ball," said Sophomore Nathan Mix. Their star quarterback, Joe Deak, thought that they had a good team and with a bit more determination they could be even better. Well done boys!!!

Some advice that the coaches give to their players is to lift weights in the off-season and join Mr. Willis in his Bigger-Stronger-Faster Program.

Cheerleaders The Top

The football cheerleaders prove they are beyond having to defend their title.

▲ Number 1 Again! This season the competition squad showed their spirit and added another trophy to their collection. They defended their title at the Ashtabula Mall Competition in September.

The varsity football cheerleaders had a season that will be remembered beyond this year, and for many years to come. Fifteen girls contributed to what made one of the largest squads in MHS history.

Beginning in July, the girls attended camps at Eastlake North High School and Kent State University. Throughout the summer they fundraised and practiced. In an early effort to bring school spirit to life, the girls decorated the halls for the first day of school. They also participated in a pep rally the first week of school and in the Homecoming Assembly. At the pep rally the cheerleaders decided that the most spirited class was the sophomores, and they awarded them with a spirit stick. Now, the cheerleaders are hoping to make a tradition out of awarding a spirit stick at every pep assembly. This year, the girls also sold spirit sticks at every football game to raise money and help to get the crowd involved.

▼ In the spotlight, Jessica Elliott, Gina Garcia, and Lauren Kidder perform into the night.

Coaches Craig and Kennedy celebrate their victory with a new trophy.

The competition squad was able to prove that they are still on top by once again winning first place at the Ashtabula Mall Competition. Led by captains Kaylee Emmett, Rena Schafer, and Erin Coughlin, the girls performed their routine to a mix of "Cum on Feel the Noise" by Quiet Riot and "We're not Gonna Take It" by Twisted Sister. This original mix was compiled by Coach Linda Craig and Coach Beth Kennedy, with some help from Senior Adam Butcher.

"This was one of the best years I've ever had," said Craig. "The girls got along so well, and their dedication really showed. I can't wait until next year!"

Lady Blue Streaks Fly Beyond

Geese fly together, work together, and take care of each other. A flock will form an intricate "V" pattern that enables them to travel faster to their destination. Individuals take turns leading and when the leader is tired another steps in to break the wind, allowing the previous leader to rest in the back. If one goose falls behind, the group will not let it stay alone. One or more geese will stay with the straggler and help it along.

The Blue Streak flock was run much in the same way. Eight to nine people came together to form an intricate team, highlighted by each individual's personality and attitudes. Teamwork was a major strength for them most of the season. This allowed them to pull together and advance in very trying situations. This team bonding started this summer while the ladies attended a team camp at Youngstown State University. While this brought the girls together initially, they stayed close throughout the season by holding team sleepovers and spaghetti dinners.

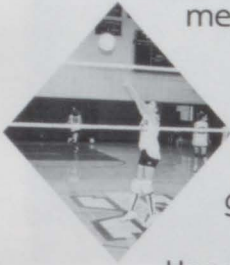

The girls had four goals this year. Two of these they met, winning the P.A.C. Championship and going undefeated in the P.A.C. In meeting these goals it meant that the ladies defeated Riverside twice this season. Unfortunately they did not beat them a third time to reach the third and fourth goals of 20 wins and qualifying for Regionals. The Blue Streaks went 19-5 over all, finishing their season with a great record and another P.A.C. banner for the gym wall. Returning letterman are Rachel Pike, Kristi Jackson, Lindsay Schmid, Jessica Kallio, and Taylor Gondak. Good Luck next year and fly together!

Serving Up A New Season...

And Preparing For The Future

The junior varsity and freshman volleyball teams served up great seasons with help from three new coaches. Leading the freshman team was one of these new coaches, Coach Jim Rosciszewski, known as "Roz" to all the girls. Roz led the girls to their first victory in three years against St. John Paul, making their record 1-17. "It was really exciting. We finally pulled together and did our best," said three-year team member, Alyssa Hill.

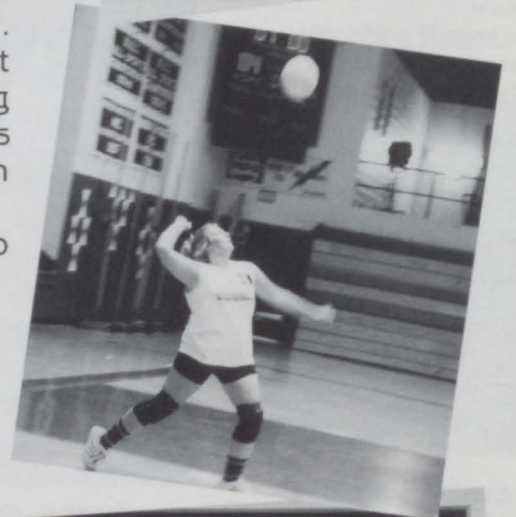

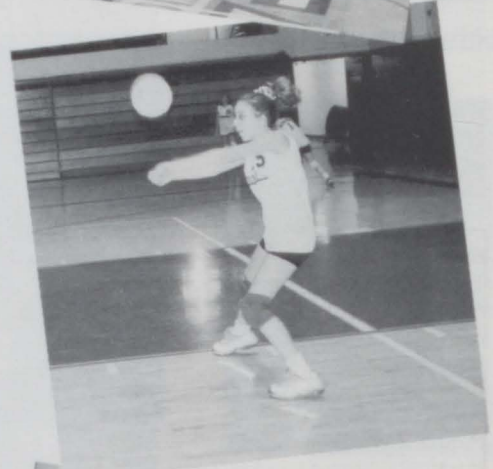

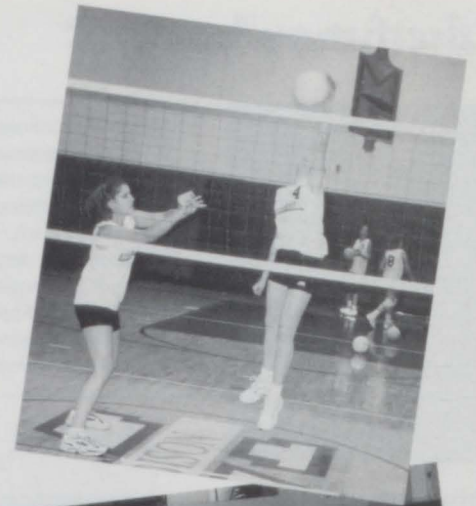

Roz commented, "Every game was an improvement. This year we were close in a lot of games thanks to the moving on the part of the girls." The girls put up a good fight in all of their games in preparation for the seasons to come.

The J.V. girls were also led by new coaches, Head Coach Cheryl Pocius and Assistant Coach Mindy Bartlett. Talking about these new coaches, Amanda Titman said, "Our season was a little rocky this year, but our coaches pumped us up and kept the game fun." Under the new coaches' leadership, the girls served up a record of 10-7. The team's record in the P.A.C. was 7-1, with one loss against their rivals, Riverside. The girls did well in tournaments, going 1-2 on Homecoming Day. About that tournament, Coach Pocius said, "Although it was a big night, the girls stayed focused on their games and should be proud of the way they played."

Both teams had great seasons and are looking forward to bright futures.

Blue Tennis Blew Them Away

The 2001 Madison Girls Tennis Team blew their competition away this season. In its fourth year of existence, the girls' tennis team had another incredible 6-0 season and an overall record of 16-1. The loss was to Massillon Jackson during a state tournament match. The Madison girls were undefeated in the regular season for the second consecutive year and have a regular season winning streak dating back to 1999 of 36 straight matches. The girls also captured the P.A.C. championship for a third year in a row.

Coach Mark Vidmar praised his team for their accomplishments this year by saying, "These girls have the ability to compete at a high level and have fun doing it. I am also very proud of my girls for achieving the P.A.C. championship again this year; they definitely deserve it. Another accomplishment that my girls were happy about was beating their big rivals Willoughby South twice this year. They were hard matches, and they pulled through them. They're the best; that's all I can say." Great job girls and good luck to all of you next season.

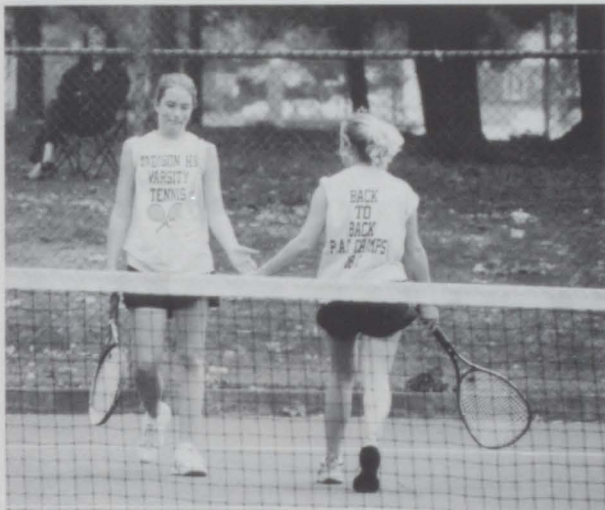

▲ The Madison Girls Varsity Tennis Team decides to take time out of practice and capture the fun personalities of the girls with their coach.
▼ Walking back for a congratulating slap of encouragement, Katelyn Orris and Erica Baird go on to the next point in the match.

Together We Can...

Go Beyond Our Goals

"If we played together as a team we will win," said Coach Zundel. This advice influenced the team so much that they adopted the motto "Together We Can." Also the team was inspired them to set goals to come together and grow as a team and finish the year with a winning record. According to Coach Zundel, "The boys finally listened (to my advice) and started to come together and we met a lot of our goals." The boys ended up finishing the season with a record of 8-6 with 2 ties and a PAC record of 4-3 with 1 tie. These scores earned the boys a 3rd place finish.

The players are satisfied with how their season turned out overall. According to Sophomore Chris Anderson, "I thought the team really molded together and played well as unit. I'm very happy with the way the season ended up." Seniors Tim Smith and Brian Byrnes said, "It was a pretty successful season, and we had a blast being part of the team."

Beyond Expectations

No one thought they would be so successful, but they never lost hope. The girls varsity soccer team was under new coaching this year as Chad Burgard stepped into Mrs. Mullan's shoes as head coach. The girls had a slow start, but ended up pulling through with a winning record of 11-7-2. Junior Ann Brackman said, "At the beginning of the season we lost some games we shouldn't have, but we picked it up towards the end, especially in the playoffs." The girls were led by three senior captains--Bonnie Bray, for the second year, Margaret Lalka, and Liz Grabel. At the start of the season the girls had three goals which were to win the P.A.C., advance in the playoffs, and have a winning season. They met two of these goals. The girls advanced to the District Finals for the first time since the program began in 1989. They beat Euclid 2-1 to advance to the Sectional Finals against 2nd seed N.D.C.L. whom they defeated in penalty kicks to advance to the District Semi-finals against 3rd seed Cleveland Heights and became Sectional Champs. They defeated Cleveland Heights 3-1 and achieved the title of Division One District Runner-up after a tough loss to #1 seed Mentor. They came out second in the P.A.C. after beating Chardon 4-3 which was one of their best games. With 20 minutes left in the game the Streaks were down 3-2. In the closing minutes Margaret Lalka and Bonnie Bray scored the final goals to give Madison the win. Their biggest rival was Lake Catholic, against whom Madison is undefeated. Madison gained some respect by defeating Mayfield 3-0. Where did the team get the strength to play so well? Before Saturday games the girls ate breakfast at a hometown favorite, Potbelly's. Senior Bonnie Bray said, "I couldn't have asked for a better senior year. Good luck to those who follow."

Coach Burgard taught us to play with heart throughout the whole game and to never give up! That's why we had a history-making season.

8. After the win Ashley Locker leads the team in congratulating Euclid on a game well-played.
9. Senior Margaret Lalka controls the ball and looks to pass forward as Jessica Boonstra gives support in the back.
10. After a tough District Final loss, the girls varsity soccer team still had smiles on their faces. They were happy that they made it so far. They made history!

Building Towards The Future

The junior varsity soccer team was back and kicking with a team that was built for success. Junior Josh Munnally said, "This season really went well from the defense up. We had Todd Anderson at sweeper, a strong midfield that consisted of Joe Naso and Josh Waltman # 2, and a variety of forwards who could put the ball in the net." Josh Munnally was the leading scorer for the streaks.

The team had a winning record of 9-4. The best game the boys played throughout the season was their first match against Perry which they won 8-0. Junior Anthony Mcgee said, "We had a great season and we improved from last year." The boys look to go forward even more next season under the coaching of Gary Granger.

The JV girls soccer team started out rough. They didn't have much in the way of experience starting the season. The team was mostly made up of freshmen, many who hadn't been playing very long or had never played soccer before. This lack of experience didn't stop them from having fun. Freshman Morgan Galloway commented, "I had a great time, even though it was my first year."

Their record was 5-9, but it doesn't really do them justice. Freshman Ashley Wickert added, "The record doesn't show how hard we worked." Captains Angie Wickert and Alicia Egy used their experience to help the younger girls improve. Coach Candy Tannish emphasized togetherness. That and the rapid improvement of key players helped them build a great team that ended the season by beating Euclid and PAC rival Chardon.

▲ Junior Josh Munnally keeps the ball under control as he strides toward the goal.

◀ After taking a shot at the goal, Tyler Granger walks back to his position to get ready for the next play.

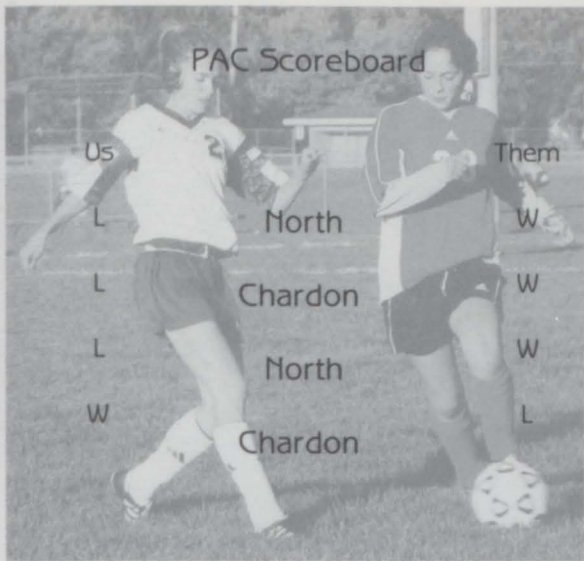

▼ With time to spare, Brittany Hallenback traps the ball and prepares to pass it to another teammate.

◀▼ Kim Gabel is a brick wall, nothing gets past her!

▼ Morgan Galloway races her competitor to be the first to the ball.

Sticking Together And Stepping It Up

The excited girls screamed, "Let's Go! Let's Run! Let's Win!" before they head to the line for the race to begin. This chant started every meet as tradition. The Madison Girls Cross Country Team dominated the regular season by holding a strong P.A.C. record of 3-1. In the P.A.C. overall, they were second. The championship season was yet another success. The top varsity runners were able to move on to Regionals as a team for the ninth-consecutive year! Several girls ran their first season at the varsity level. These first-year runners were a huge asset to the year's success. For example, Senior Wendy Lang defied the odds by emerging as one of the top runners with ease. At the Colt Cloverleaf Invitational, Cassie Neely showed extreme courage. Despite being spiked by an opposing runner after the first mile, she was able to finish second for the team and place in the top twenty overall. She later needed twenty stitches in the five-inch wound. The veteran runners provided inspiration as well. Junior Rachele Orris, like Neely, showed a tremendous amount of courage. After falling rather hard during the Eastlake Meet, she was able to get back up and run one of her best times for the season. Junior Stephanie Sparkman set an admirable example for the younger runners by running several meets sick.

With many runners plagued with injuries and sickness, other teammates stepped up to make up for the loss of the injured. Saturdays were great examples of how the team, of new and old runners, pulled together to win. The young team is expected to keep the winning tradition going strong, with the super direction of Coach Pelich and the frequent help from alumni runners, who came to several practices over the course of the season to encourage the team. Senior Captain Ashley Dorr shared her thoughts at the end of the season, "I think the girls cross country season was very successful in and out of competition. Our P.A.C. record was an outstanding 3-1. We worked really hard and pulled together as a team. I'll miss my cross country days!"

▲2001 captains, Stephanie Sparkman, Ashley Dorr, and Rachele Orris, helped pull the new and old runners together as a strong team.

"We worked really hard and pulled together as a team. I'll miss my cross country days!"
said Co-captain Ashley Dorr.

1.

▲ Ready for the gun: The girls wait at the starting line for the gun. They took home another win against their rival, Riverside.

2.

1. Helping Madison keep a strong scoring position, Rachele Orris stays in the front of the rest of the runners. She led the win against P.A.C. rival Riverside.
2. First-time cross runner, Tina Shafer, shines as she paces herself in the second mile.

1. Teamwork is what is being shown here through Kevin Craigo and Tim Heckman. Using their strides, they later pulled up into the pack.
2. Senior Bobby "Z" is keeping pace with his competitor all through the race never letting him leave his sight.
3. Sophomore Kevin Craigo is discussing his race at Districts with his mother, Mrs. Craigo, and Coach Pelich.
4. Even at the end of the race, Randy Schultz still is looking his best. He sprinted into the finish line ahead of the majority of the pack.

Boys Cross Country Takes it All in Stride

Helping each other out was what this Madison Boys Cross Country Team had in them to take on every challenging meet! The previous runners brought out determination and endurance in the new runners who joined this year. The team gave all they had to place in the P.A.C. meet and they got to move onto Districts. The team welcomed two new senior runners this year, Brian Craigo and Jon Osanek, who showed great efforts and determination in every race. Freshmen Derek Daughters led the team in just about every race from start to finish. Captains Randy Schultz and Kitt Lashley made this one of the best seasons yet through sensational teamwork. One way the team bonded was through eating spaghetti dinners together before meets. Captain Kitt Lashley stated, "The spaghetti dinners that we had as a team were always fulfilling to my belly. They were held at Randy (Schultz)'s house every Tuesday!"

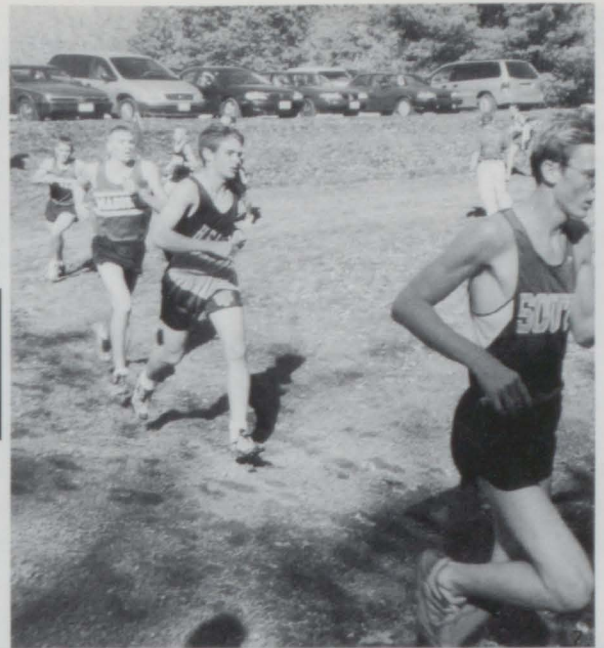

The Blue Streaks team accomplished many personal records while taking on challenging opponents or being selected runners of the week. In addition, the team voted Derek Daughters "Most Valuable Runner" and Randy Schultz "Outstanding Runner of the Season!"

5. Neck to neck with his rival right up to the finish line is Kitt Lashley making his move.
6. Acting like tough guys: The captains, Kitt Lashley and Randy Schultz, lead their team to districts.
7. Picking them up one by one, Randy Schultz goes on to take the challenge against Cleveland Heights at Districts.
8. With thumbs up, Clint Chasko shows how much he loves the bus ride to practice, while Bob Conrad and Timmy Brunner are deep in thought about what kind of practice they are in for today.
9. Threatening his competitor, Bobby "Z" uses all he has to go and get him.

READY • SET GO

According to Coach Hanes:
"The season went really well and it improved as it went along. As the season improved they started to have confidence in themselves. They saw what it would take to become the winning team. A goal for next year would be to win the P.A.C. and go on to Districts and to get some people to be state qualifiers."

10. Third-year runner Kitt Lashley is in deep concentration as he runs another outstanding race.
11. Running with eyes closed, Kevin Craigo keeps focused.
12. Freshman Derek Daughters is another one in concentration as he leads his team to victory in this race.
13. Taking off in the first half of the race, the boys have a strong lead.

Moving on to Greener Fairways...

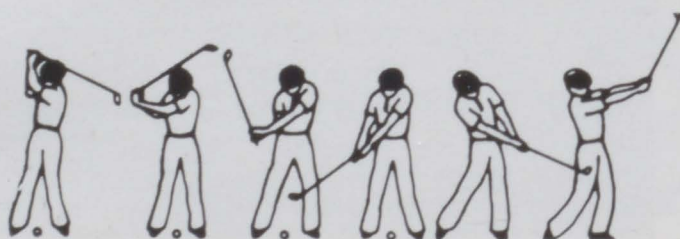

Leaving their legacy behind

The 2001 Varsity Golf Season was short but memorable. This year's seniors, Rick Fike, Jason Cieslinski, and Jim Polivka were members of Coach Beans' first golf team in the middle school. In their four years of high school, the team won a P.A.C. Championship and had numerous All-Conference Golfers. They hope that their hard work and dedication has rubbed off on the future varsity team. They have grown very close over the years, and the final banquet was very sentimental. "This year's golf team was comprised of leaders on and off the golf course," says Varsity Coach Tom Beans, "I was very proud of my seniors for their dedication to the program and for the example they set for the underclassmen." This year's team had a record of 10 and 5 putting them in 2nd place for the P.A.C. and took 7th place in Sectionals. Vice-Principal Jack Thompson coached the J.V. team to a 17 and 2 record. The team was lead by Freshmen Matt Nicholson and Scott McIntyre, and Sophomore Max Ungers. The team practices involved an emphasis on fundamentals and basics. Next year's team looks promising and is led by future Seniors Eric Hughes and Nick Horvath, and soon to be Sophomore, Chet Delong. Good luck on your next season guys!

Beyond the Boiling Point MHS Band Heats It up

Red hot. That sums this year's Madison Blue Streak Marching Band. Ashley Dorr led the band through the heat of the season. The band got to a quick start in early August with band camp. Although it was very hot this year the band was able to make it through the heat and prepare for The Madison Old-fashioned Days Parade, where they won first place.

"Band Camp was pretty darn hot this year. I sure hope it isn't that hot next year," said Sophomore Ashley Elder. Even though the band members were bothered by the heat, their hard work in the sun paid off during their half-time shows at the football games.

The band prepared two shows for the 2001 marching season. Their rock show got the band to break out in a sweat. First, they featured "American Woman" followed by "Come Sail Away." Then the whole band danced to "I Want Candy" and finished off with "You Really Got Me." The show was a big hit. Then they switched gears after the Homecoming Game and got fired up for the classical show. They came onto the field creating a sun while playing "The House of the Rising Sun." Next came "Little Bitty Pretty One" with the majorettes heating up the field with some old-time dancing. Then the band played "Hit The Road Jack," which was a real crowd-getter featuring the hot-blooded majorettes telling their guys to hit the road. To end the show, the band performed "Midnight Special," with a fantastic band dance that really sparked the audience's interest.

In looking back over the season, Senior Lacey Minnick commented, "Band was a lot of hard work this year. Most people don't realize the many hours spent and the amount of energy put in."

1. Looks like Senior Jessica Mickel is having too much fun as she gets ready to take her place on the field.
2. With great pride Junior Joe Kulman plays his trumpet during the 2001 Homecoming Game.
3. Taking a time-out during third quarter, Senior Sandy Tobul and drum majorette Ashley Dorr take a little break for a snack.

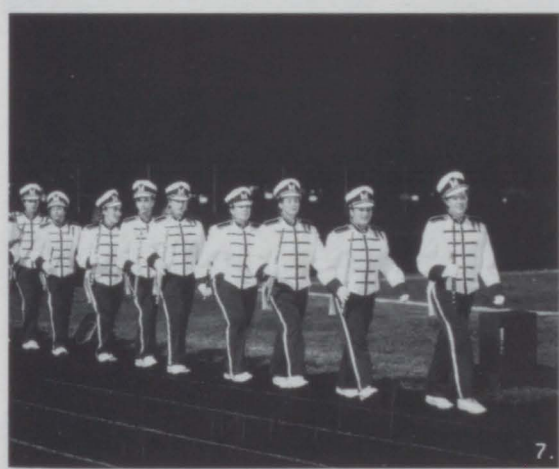

► Shannon Davis and Amy Russell take a time-out for pre-game preparation
▼ With a huge smile, Junior Stephanie Cline stands at attention waiting for the next command.

4. It's all about the music. Juniors Brad Eckert and Heather Britton play the solo in the National Anthem during the Homecoming Game. Every home game, different soloists were chosen to perform.

5. You can lean on me. Erika Gibbon and Sara Fike get ready to begin the dance they performed for the Homecoming Game.

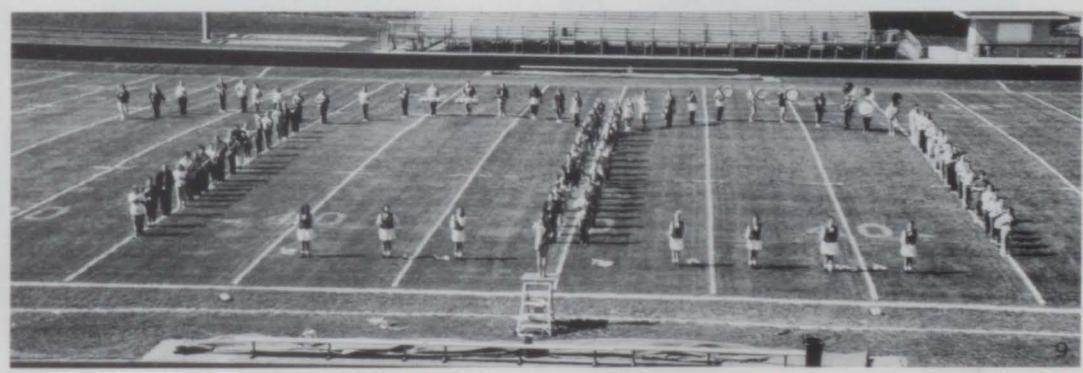

6. With great enthusiasm, Junior Shannon Davis ends the routine "Midnight Special" with a fabulous pose.

7. Before the fiery drill, flute players Lacey Minnick, Ashley Elder, Brittany Burkholder, and Kristen Andres take a deep breathe.

8. Sizzling tuba players Audrey Leonard, Jessica Bender, and Paul Bodager play "The House of the Rising Sun."

9. The band makes the script "M" formation as they perform for the elementary children.

1. Dynamic duo, Laura Fussaro and Jessica Jameson, try to get themselves pumped up in the Sectionals Match against Cleveland Heights. The duo went on to qualify for the second round.
2. A true family this year, the girls volleyball team huddles up to discuss game strategy and encourages each member to do her part.
3. Keeping the pace, Junior Randy Schultz strides uphill at the Perry Outdoor Center Golf Course.
4. Star Freshman Chet Delong chips to the pin while trying to save par.

▼Quarterback Richard Evans hands off the football to Senior Running-back Bob White.

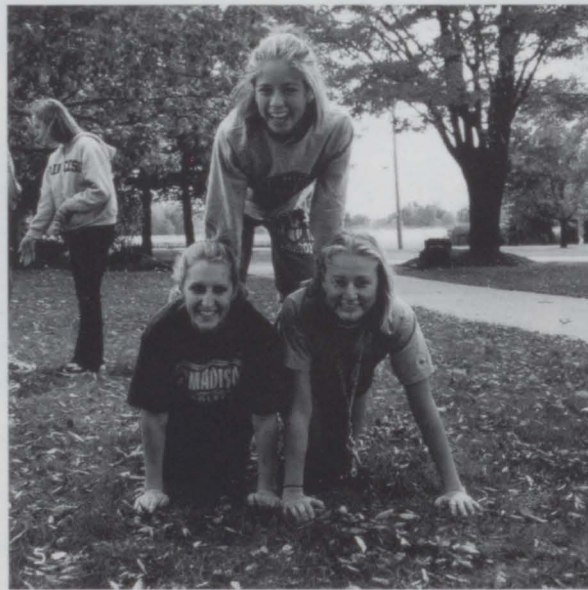

Fall Sports Wrap-ups

▲Saying goodbye, Senior Amy Blauman fondly leaves her mark on Madison tennis courts.

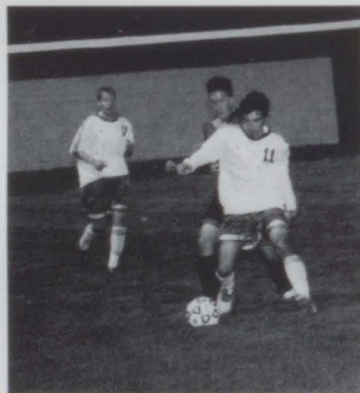

▼Chris Anderson battles for the ball against Chardon.

5. During a harrowing practice, cross-country runners, Kimothy Piorkowski, Stephanie Sparkman, and Rachelle Orris, show their team support system.

6. Sticky and muddy, like they just got done fighting a war, the girls soccer team shakes hands.

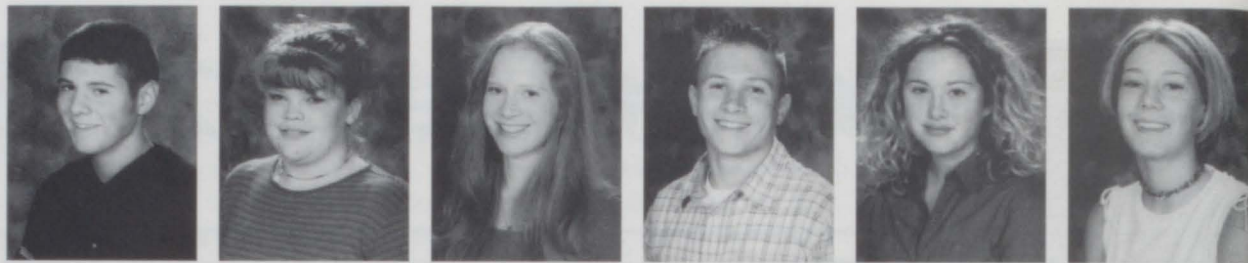

7. Giving it their all, the cheerleaders perform their first-place dance during a competition at the Ashtabula Mall.

Winter Sports 2001-2002

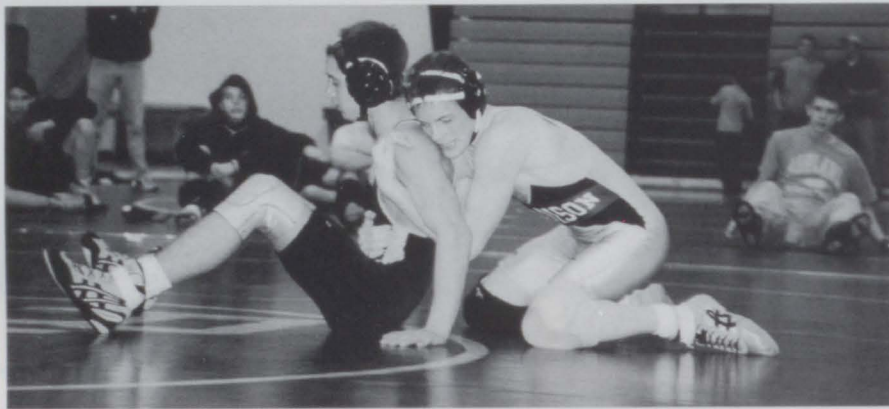

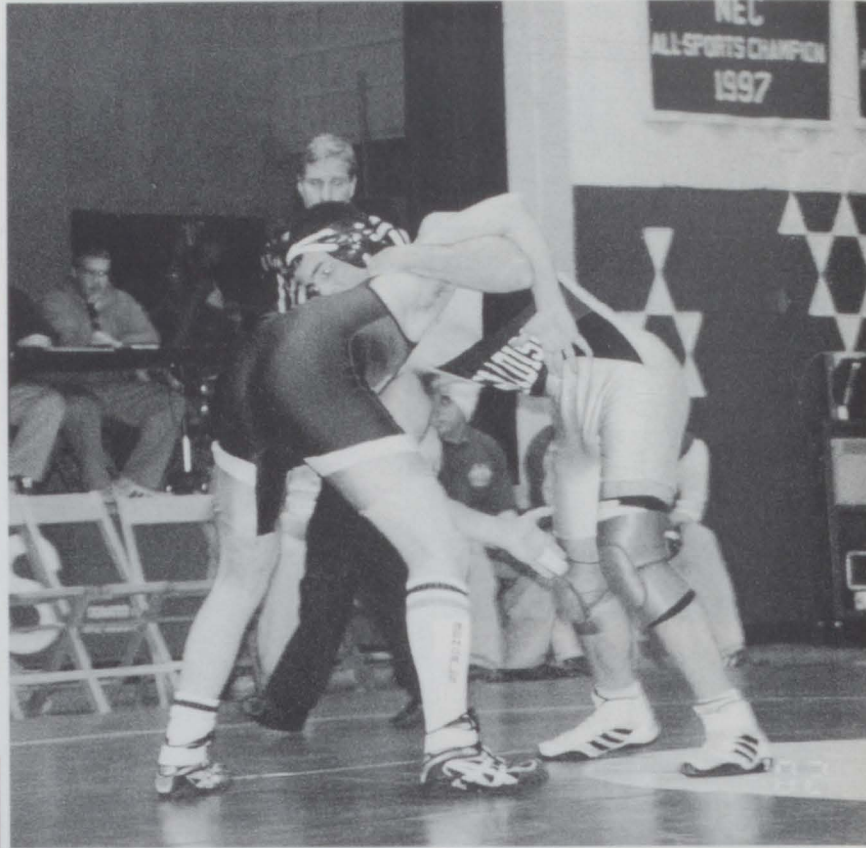

Benny Barrette struggles to stay in control during his match against Chardon's 119-pound wrestling match.

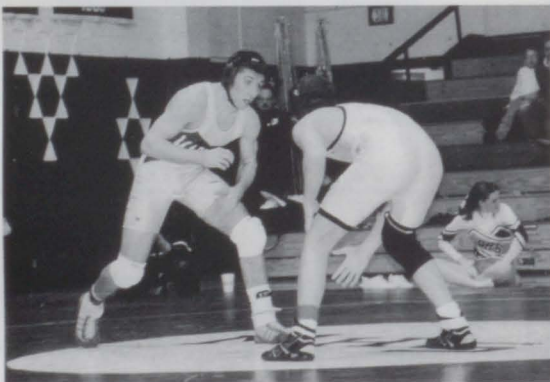

Eric Koppenhofer set up a move by using his power to throw his opponent. It works well, and Eric has made a killing off of it.

Desperately holding on, trying not to let this Riverside wrestler escape, Brad Suchomski clings on as hard as he can. It was a tight match and every point mattered, letting him escape would give Riverside two more points.

Causing this stunned look on the Chardon wrestler's face, Junior Paul Gompton smashes his head into the mat. Being in a situation like this, it is difficult to do anything. Paul takes advantage of it.

Despite recently recovering from a bad ankle sprain, Nick Verdi goes out and risks another sprain in order to give Benedictine's wrestler a run for his money.

Showing off their bumps and bruises, Seniors Joel Szymanski and Bob White prove how physical a sport like wrestling is.

Beyond Their Limits

Wrestlers were challenged more than ever before

Challenging. If a word was needed to sum up the varsity wrestling season, that would be it. This year's team was pushed to their limits.

First of all, Madison's varsity wrestling team had one of the most challenging schedules ever. Head coach Gary Fortuna set up this schedule on purpose to prepare his wrestling team for Sectionals and Districts, and hopefully State. The outcome of some of these grueling tournaments was not as pretty as the years before, but proved to be a great help at the end of the year when they entered the Sectionals Tournament. Twelve out of fourteen wrestlers advanced to Districts. Nick Verdi, Bob White, Ryan Kershaw, and Chris Tabor made it to State.

Fortuna also came up with another great idea to challenge the team further. Every year Madison has a large number of wrestlers, and many of them have great potential. Wasted potential does not sit well with Fortuna, so he created a varsity "B" team. This allowed other wrestlers who normally would be wrestling on the J.V. mat to get a chance to wrestle varsity teams with experienced wrestlers who would challenge them. Hopefully it will make them better and prepare them for later years when they wrestle varsity.

Despite the challenges, Madison's varsity team had a very successful season. Their only loss was to Chanel, a division three powerhouse. Madison showed every team they faced what they are made of and kept their winning tradition alive.

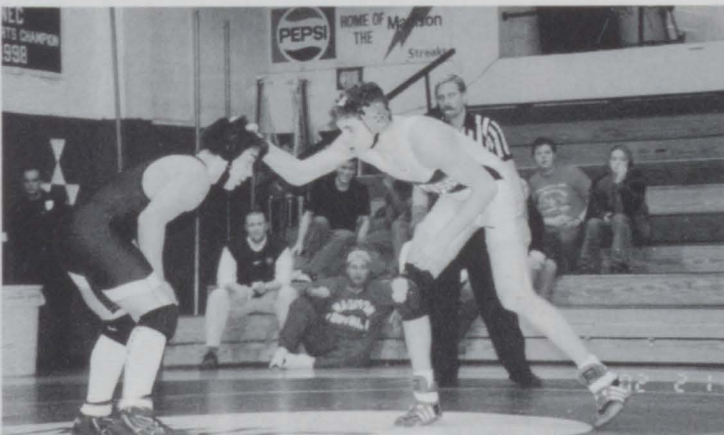

Hoping to end the match with a pin, Senior Ryan Kershaw goes for a "Half." After the wrestler put up a fight, Kershaw won the match with total domination.

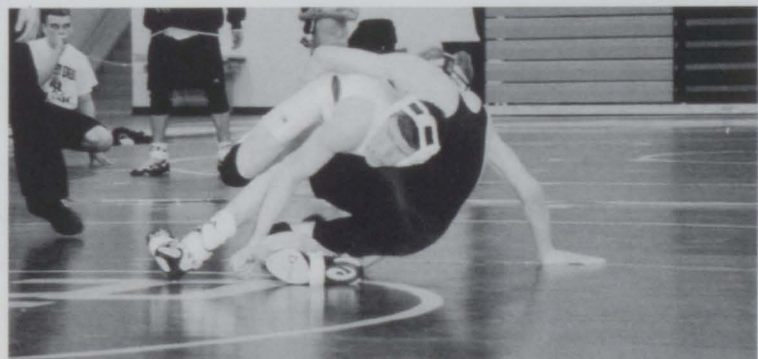

Stepping it up, Senior Joel Szymianski strives for a pin by "putting in" a deadly hold. In wrestling, this is called a "bar".

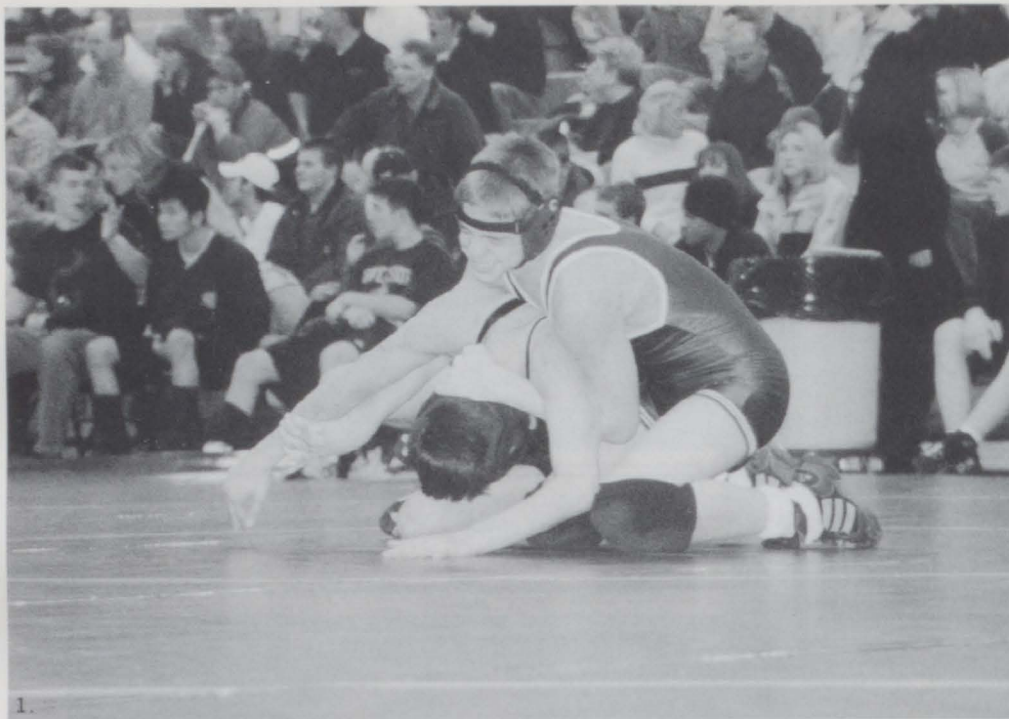

Watching and waiting, Chris Tabor looks for any mistake that this Chardon wrestler will make. Timing is everything in wrestling and Tabor has mastered it.

Freshman David Bowins steps to the mat. Having a freshman wrestle on varsity is very uncommon, but he proved himself worthy by winning in a close match.

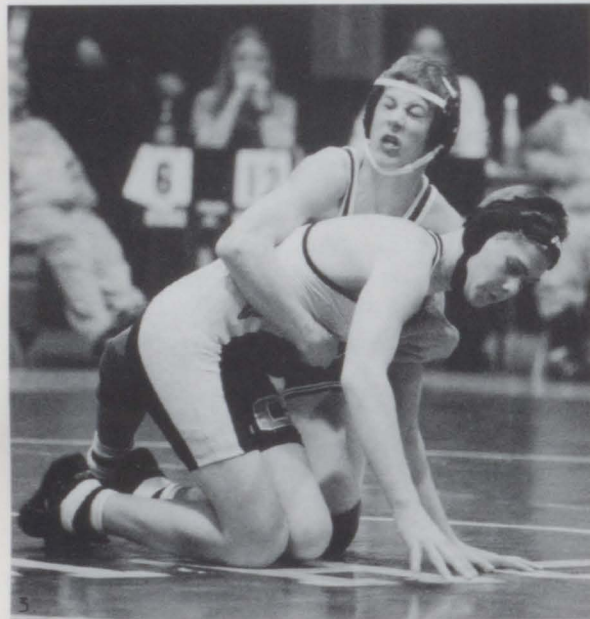

Riverside's 112-pound wrestler falls to the mat as Junior Joe Garisek blasts a double to take him down.

Wrestlers go beyond their fears

Freshman wrestlers had their chance to Rumble in the Jungle for the first time. Junior varsity wrestlers had their second chance at the jungle. What is the jungle you ask? Think of an ordinary gym. Then picture mats draped all over the floor like vines. Add a few cheering fans that act like monkeys. You have created the jungle! According to Coach Becka, all of his boys did a fine job this season.

How do you feel about the freshmen, Coach Becka?

"Outstanding group of freshmen who will be successful varsity wrestlers."

How did the teams improve?

"Many freshmen saw some varsity action. Derek Oelbracht, Timothy Reed, and David Bowins wrestled some varsity."

How can all of the wrestlers improve?

"Hopefully many will compete in freestyle wrestling this spring and attend camps this summer to get ready for next year."

What are your thoughts on both of the teams?

"With the underclassmen we had this year we should be a strong varsity program, ready for the immediate future."

Some first-time wrestlers had to say this about their experience in the jungle:

What gets you hyped for a match in the jungle?

Music

Were you scared your 1st time competing in the jungle?

Not scared, just nervous

What is your favorite wrestling move to use in the jungle?

Fireman, Barrel, Ankle Pick

Splashing Toward New Goals

This year the 2001-2002 swim team created and accomplished many goals. Both of the teams succeeded in their particular goals. This year the teams were lead by their captains Shannon Weiss and Jessica Jameson.

The boys team this year set the goal of building a strong team for next year. Their team was composed of only freshman, sophomores, and juniors. Although the boys lacked senior leadership, they united as one and succeeded in a winning record of 4-2. One of their greatest accomplishments was the advancement of Freshman Chet Delong. He qualified for districts in the 100 meter backstroke.

The girls team's major goal this year was to expand their record of wins from last year. They accomplished this and advanced their record by an extra win and a tie with a final standing of 2-6-1. They attempted to win the P.A.C. conference, but instead they graciously accepted second place.

Both teams set many high goals and together as a team to achieve them. "The achievement of our goals were not easy, but the team supported each other and worked hard," said co-captain Jessica Jameson.

1. "Eight laps to go!" Tim Brunner helps Bob Conrad remember how many laps he has done in the 500 meter race.
2. Ready, Set, Go!! Sophomore Todd Anderson takes a strong starting position to get a good lead on the race.
3. Getting in shape. Sophomore Jessica Rose and Junior Karla Kershaw take part in the swim workout devised by Coach Egnot.
4. Freshman Chet Delong practices backstroke for Districts.
5. Flying through the water, Senior Megyn Pike advances strongly toward the finish line.
6. "Ahhhhh!" Jed Powell shows how demanding swim practice can be.
7. Going back to the basics, Justine Harper strengthens her freestyle flutter kick.
8. Literally showing off their stuff, some of the guys try to intimidate their Riverside opponents.
9. Rule #1: Don't splash the coach! Unfortunately Junior Brian West learned this rule the hard way and Coach Egnot used him to set an example for the team.
10. Keeping the stats, Michelle Mayer, Rhonda Sherwood, and Stephanie Beller help their team by recording their times.
11. Beary good captains! Seniors Jessica Jameson and Shannon Weiss support their team as they wait for their next race at sectionals.

Beyond the 3-Point Line

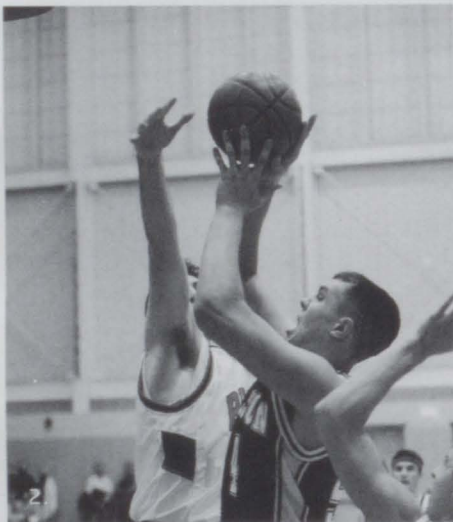

A Record-Breaking Season

This season, the varsity boys basketball team shattered many records, most of which were from beyond the 3-point line. They broke the school record for 3-pointers by making 123. Brian Craig passed by the school record with 50 3-pointers. They broke the record for total points in one game with 102 points against Harvey. The team averaged school record-70 points per game. MVPs of this season, Brian Craig and Chris Moore average 20.6 points and 16.8 points respectively. Other outstanding feats are that they won eight games in a row at the end of the season until a loss to Shaw in the tournament. Also they upset Eastlake North with a shot at the buzzer that put them ahead 65-62.

"I'm looking forward to having six returning lettermen next year." Head Coach Bob Peterlin expressed about the next years' varsity team.

Maybe they will help keep the record-breaking "streak" going.

1.) Time is running out. Aaron Parks tries to keep the ball away from Riverside rivals by wasting time so that his teammates can get into their positions.

2.) He's not going to get it. Derek Daughters, Charlie Gorman, and Chris Moore fight to keep the ball away from the rivaling Perry player.

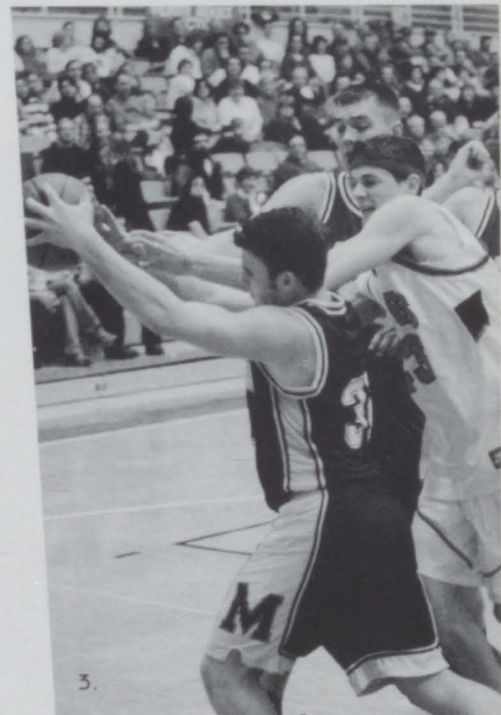

3.) Most valuable player for a reason. One of this year's MVPs, Chris Moore, towers over the rival Perry player while going up for this shot with the cry of a warrior.

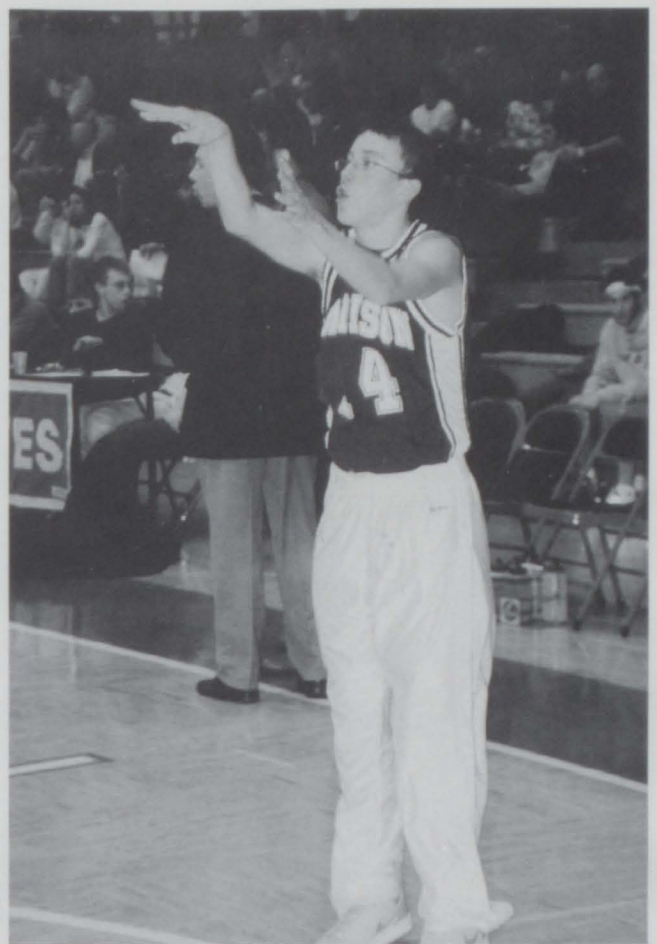

◀ He's not getting anywhere! Teamates Kevin Craig and Eric Hughes work on stopping their rival from getting to the other side of the court.

▶ Beyond the 3-point line. Varsity players Charlie Gorman, Eric Hughes, and Derek Daughters wait for their game to start from the bleachers.

▼ Dressing up. Normally a JV player, Ben Vaidean gets the chance to dress as a varsity player.

▲ What a way to end the season. Senior Bobby Zarzecney vibrates with glory during the warm-ups before the last game. He sunk this shot from beyond the 3-point line, leaving a reminder to all that he's never going to give up playing basketball.

▼ That's foul, man. With a little concentration, Senior Brian Craigo steps up from beyond the 3-point line and shoots this foul shot that later sunk, pulling the Streaks ahead by 1 point.

4.) Team-work is key. Junior Charlie Gorman goes up for this right-handed layup while teammate Derek Daughters waits for the rebound.

5.) It's all good. Coaches Bob Peterlin and Tedd Wagner gives the varsity boys a pep talk before letting them go back on the court.

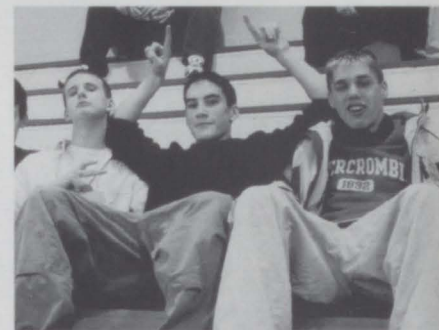

Dominating The Court

JV/Freshman Boys' Basketball finish with winning seasons

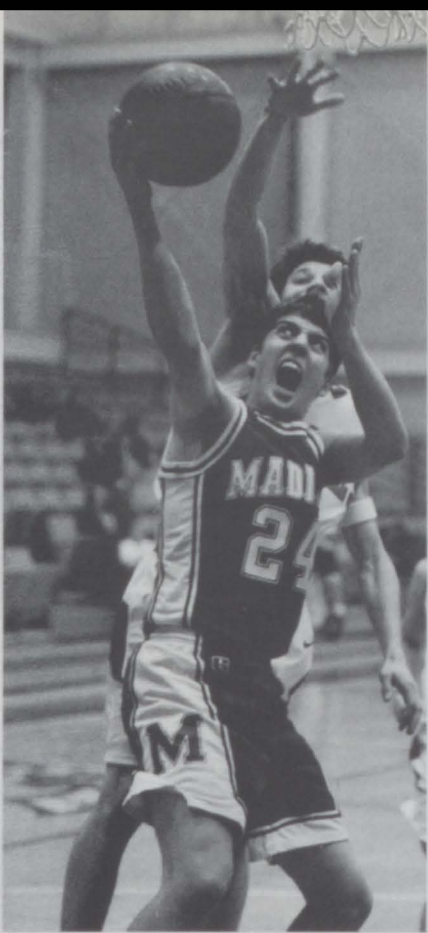

This year's MHS JV and freshman teams shared one thing in common...they dominated their opponents on the court. The JV team went 17-3 overall and 8-0 in the PAC. "We did very well this season. Wags did a good job coaching a large team with a variety of attitudes," said Chris Durham. The freshman team kept up the winning record and went 12-6, including 2 wins in tournaments. The varsity team is going to be fortunate to inherit the talent of those on the younger squads.

5. What does it take to be #1? Freshman Joe Naso, Clint Hardy, Alex Harper, and Dan Nebraški seem to know.
6. Running into some trouble during a game against Perry, Sophomore Joe Lander jumps and attempts to sink a two-pointer. Lander followed through with the shot to help bring Madison back in the game.
7. With the ball in hand and a basket in mind, Sophomore Josh Ferrá runs by a Riverside player to get to the hoop.

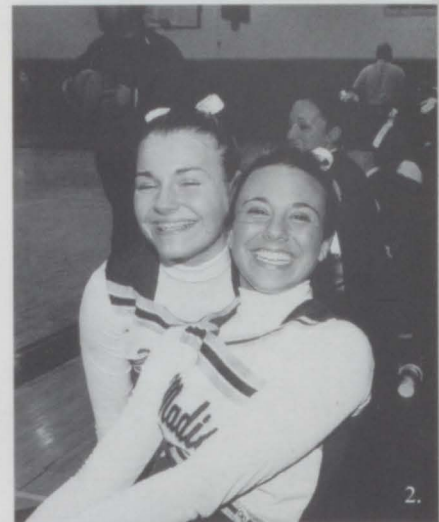

Jumping Towards the Sky

Cheerleaders Reach a New Height in Performing

This year's winter basketball cheerleading squads elevated their abilities. The competition squad began their season with a second place finish at the Americheer Regional Competition. After finishing second once again at the CVCA Competition, the girls ran into some trouble at the Jefferson Competition in February. Here, some of the girls collided during a tumbling pass. In the end, the girls came back, but the mistake had caused them to finish in fourth place. Amazingly, this didn't seem to phase the girls, as they went on to claim second at Berea High School and then finish as qualifiers after the OHSSA Regional. The girls reached the peak of their season when they ended their year as they had begun it, with a first place finish at Geneva High School.

This heightened performance was largely a result of the coaching efforts put forth by Linda Craigo and Beth Kennedy. The pair worked very hard with the girls this season. Every move was perfected, pictures were even taken of everyone's toe touches to help eliminate any errors. Their effort, evidently, went on to be noticed by the judges at the various competitions.

1. During a quick time out, the JV cheerleaders make sure that the crowd keeps their spirit high.
2. Their smiles already shining, Freshman Carly Locke and Mackenzie Johnson wait for the JV boys basketball team to take the floor.
3. Go Big Blue! Junior Kimothy Plorkowski smiles as she watches the Blue Streaks take control of the game.
4. Before the game begins, Stefani Hines, Erin Coughlin, Ashley Estabrook, Stephanie Sparkman, Taylor Gondek, Kimothy Plorkowski, and Tiffany Howard take some time out to relax and get ready to perform.
5. Pom poms in hand, Rena Schafer, Taylor Gondek, Stephanie Sparkman, and Kimothy Plorkowski get the crowd to make some noise during a time out against PAC rival Riverside.

▶▶ Spirit Fingers!
The varsity squad watches anxiously and gives their good luck to the boys basketball team.

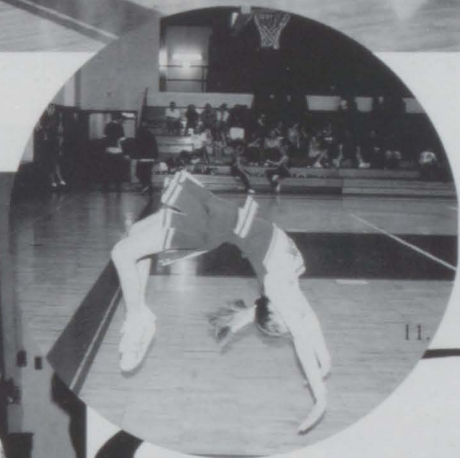

6. Seniors already! Rikki Yeager gives Rena Schafer a hug before one of her last games.
 7. Ready? Okay! Junior Stephanie Sparkman snaps into position as the girls perform their half time show.

8. Showing that she cares, Junior Taylor Gondek gives Rachel Pike a hug before she begins to cheer at a game against Chardon.
 9. Showing that hours of hard work and dedication pay off, Tiffany Howard, Stephanie Sparkman, and Ashley Felleisen execute their left front hurdler jumps perfectly.
 10. Performing a foul shot cheer, the varsity squad encourages the boys to "put it in" the hoop!
 11. Tumbling down the court, Junior Tiffany Howard shows off her special talent.
 12. You can do it! Junior Heather Britton watches anxiously as the JV team comes running down the court:

Lady Streaks Battle A Black And Blue Season

Overcoming adversity could have been the theme applied to the 2001-2002 season for the Lady Streaks; another would have to be teamwork. Adversity came in the form of injuries to starting forwards Rachel Pike and Jessica Kallio, as well as the absence of other key players throughout the year, due to injury or other unexpected events. In order to respond to these obstacles, the Streaks put together a balanced attack of players that could play any position, point guard through forward. With this versatility, the Streaks focused on the quickness of both their guards and post players to run a tenacious pressure defense as well as generating points from anywhere on the court, from any player, at any time. The experience and teamwork of the girls helped them persevere through such games as Perry (63-64), Geneva (56-62) and Geneva again (51-53), and led them to a district semi-final, their first in 5 years, where they ran out of time in a 53-50 loss to Shaw. The Streaks finished with a 17-5 record.

SENIOR AMY BLAUMANN

"The season was a lot of fun; we had a good team and we pulled together when things got tough," commented Senior Amy Blauaman of the Streaks 17-5 season.

SENIOR WENDY LANG

Giving her opinion of the season, Senior Wendy Lang states, "We pulled together well as a team, and fought through every game until the buzzer went off."

▼ Beware the Biceps! Lady Blue Streaks Lindsay Schmid, Courtney Peine, Angel Wickert, Amy Blauman, Rachel Pike, and Kristi Jackson intimidate opponent NDCL by showing off their "loaded guns." These guns appeared to be firing pretty well, as Madison went on the beat the Tigers, 68-41.

▲ Basketball isn't all just sweat and odor; just ask these Lady Streaks, who cleaned up well for their game against NDCL.

1. Form, focus, and follow-through. Jessica Kattlo encompasses all three as she attempts a free throw during the Streaks opening game of the Tip-Off Classic.
2. Senior Wendy Lang elevates in the tip-off of the NDCL game, winning her team the possession. Throughout the year, Madison had 6 different girls jump for the opening jump ball.
3. Nothing can get in the way of this girls' team unity! The Streaks, shown eating a spaghetti dinner at Courtney Peine's house, found that team get-togethers were a great way to relax and bond.
4. Ingrid Brainard looks for an opening in the North defense so she can "drive and dish."
5. Sprinting to catch up with their players, Kristi Jackson and Courtney Peine run the floor against Eastlake North.
6. Allison Izzarelli, Alesia Richmond, and Wendy Lang relax before they run out for warm-ups.
7. Pre-game preparation. Lyndsay Schmid and Amy Blauman practice shooting form and boxing-out before their game.
8. Jump around! Juniors Courtney Peine and Allison Izzarelli shoot around at NDCL.

Building Blocks for the Future... JV and Freshmen Girls Basketball

At the beginning of every season teams have to go in and start building on what skills they have. The girls JV and freshmen basketball teams both had building years, but in very different ways.

The freshmen team had a record of 8-7, but that doesn't reflect all their hard work and how people stepped up into positions that they weren't used to playing. This meant that they had to start all over again and build on the basics. These building blocks turned into great plays later on, and with each game they greatly improved. After losing to most of the PAC teams early in the year, they struggled at practice to regain confidence. Using this renewed confidence, they played one of their best games by beating rival North by one point, in the final seconds of the game.

The girls JV team had a record of 11-7. The girls began the season looking good, but they started losing a few games, and personal conflicts arose. These minor problems started to affect the way the team played together, and their record began to suffer. The players decided to solve their problems. They worked to build everyone's trust back as they began to play as a team again. This little decision helped them start to win again, accept their losses, beat North, and end the season with a victory over John Marshall.

3. "Stay low on 'D.' Make her make the first mistake," is what Sarah Eland is thinking while guarding the point guard. ▼ (behind scoreboard) If she thinks she's getting the ball, she's crazy. April Gregory keeps a close eye on her man, making sure she doesn't get the ball.
4. Tough and proud!! The girls freshmen team takes a few minutes to celebrate a hard fought victory.

Lady Tracksters Strive Standing In

Coming into the 2002 season, the Lady Blue Streaks knew that they were going to have to face multiple obstacles throughout the year. The problems began with the unusually low participation rate at the beginning of the season that continued to dwindle as the year went on, leaving only the athletes willing and able to work to achieve their goals as well as those of the team. Because of the talent that was graduated last year, the team expected to have to train harder and longer than previous years to obtain their goals of clinching the P.A.C. Championship and climbing the ladder to the State Meet. So train they did, everyday, fighting the abnormally cold temperatures of the spring, but despite their preparation for the hard work, the team began to suffer from their vigorous workouts. With so few girls to begin with, and their key runners battling injuries, the team found it difficult to compete at times, ultimately leading to the team's first P.A.C. loss to Willoughby South. This loss lit the fire under the team, driving them to recover and refocus on their goals. Although South had beaten them in the duel meet, the Madison ladies came back strong to win the P.A.C. Championship 113.5 to 100.5. After the Championship win, they had one goal down, so with that the girls began to focus on the trek to the state meet. With only a week between the

- Congratulations!! Your girls won the P.A.C. Meet, and you won the ice bucket from Jessica Bright and Rachelle Orris for the second year running!
- Third place at the State Meet "isn't bad for a white girl." Jessica Bright waits to receive her medal.
- Good-bye to some of the seniors, Jessica Bright, Tina Burkhammer, Bethany Nahm, Shannon Payne, and Brittany Howard at the awards banquet.
- Wendy Lang claims her crown as the P.A.C. Champion and the school record holder.
- With her medal around her neck, Bethany Nahm waits to get her picture taken at the State Meet.
- Stephanie Sparkman runs her leg of the shuttle hurdles at Euclid.
- Upcoming star, Nicki Chavez holds her own in the P.A.C. 4x800m.

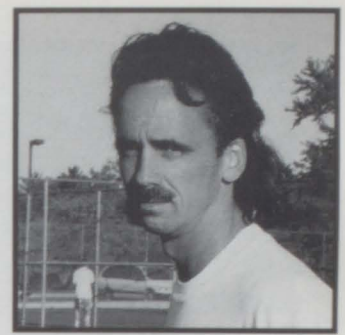

Beyond the Barriers Their Way

P.A.C. and the District Meet, the team stayed hard at work, working out the kinks and perfecting their form, growing more determined with every day that went by. The hard work paid off as the team sent three girls down to Regionals at Austintown Fitch-Bethany Nahm, Jessica Bright, and Jennifer Butram. Along with their District Champion titles, Nahm and Bright also qualified for Nationals in the shot/disk and 100m hurdles respectively. State hopefuls continued to press at Regionals. Nahm advanced to the state meet with a Regional Championship under her belt while Bright was able to brag Regional runner-up. The road to Dayton was looking promising for the Madison All-stars and proved to be a worthy challenge that the girls responded to with a flare of enthusiasm. Bright finished her senior season with a third place in the 100m hurdles, tying with Francine Rhinehart as the highest placing MHS female track athlete at the state meet, while Nahm also came through, reaching her goal of placing at state with a sixth place finish in the disk. Both the girls' and the team's will to excel shined brightly through the smiles of Bethany and Jessica as they were rewarded for all their hard work, receiving their medals and taking in the moment. Good luck at Nationals and good luck to the team of 2003, aim high and may your rewards be just as sweet.

Going the Distance

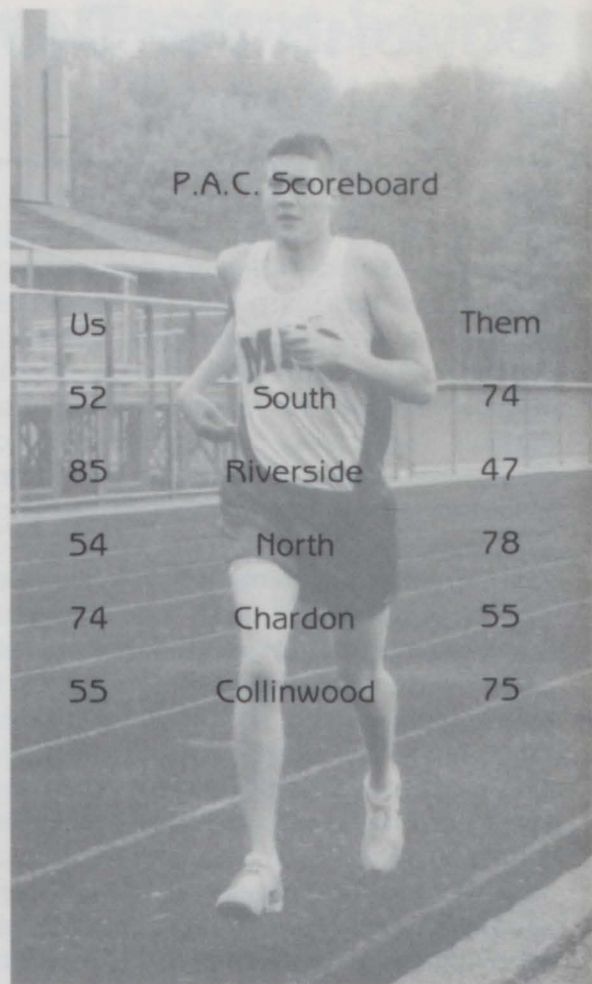

From the first meet to the last meet, there was obvious improvement in the 2002 boys track team. Although they ended the season with an overall record of 2-3 and 2-2 in the P.A.C., their record doesn't show the hard work they put into the season.

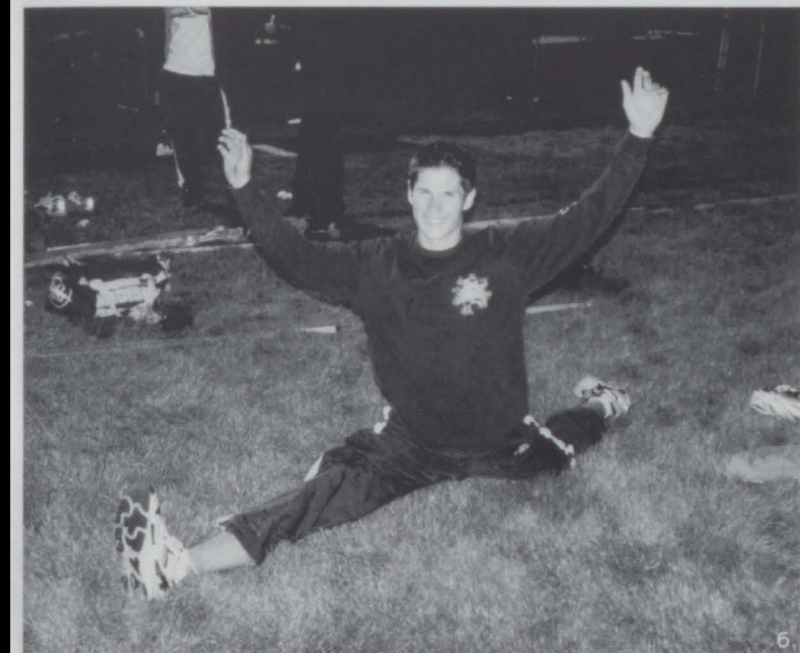

The boys really came together in the P.A.C. League Meet. They fell short of taking home the championship by losing to rivalry North. However, they ended up with the runner-up spot by beating South, a team that the boys lost to earlier in the season. They had a number of outstanding performances in this meet. They had two P.A.C. champs. They were Kevin Zimmerman in high jump and two-time state qualifier Nick Verdi in pole vault. Also placing in the top three spots in the league meet were Dan Gund, who placed 2nd in discus and 3rd in shot put. Jared Pikor placed 2nd in the 110 high hurdles. Joe Lander got 2nd in the 100 and in the 200 meter dash. Placing 3rd for the streaks were Dillin Morris in discus, Charlie Gorman in the high jump, Derek Daughters in the 1600, Chris Zundel in the 800 and the 4x800 team made up of Chris Zundel, Kitt Lashley, Chris Anderson, and Dan Rediger. All of the team members that scored will be back next year.

This season may not have been the winning season the team aspired to, but everybody improved their times throughout the season. The team will have a large returning core for next year. "If we keep up the hard work in the off-season then I think we will have one of the best seasons that I have ever been involved in," said Junior distance runner Kitt Lashley.

8. Jack be nimble, Jack be quick. There goes Kevin Zimmerman over the high jump stick. Kevin is at 5'8" and he goes on to clear 5' 10" and win the meet.

Beyond the Bases

While some of the varsity players will be back again for another season of Madison High School Baseball, others will be going beyond the bases of our field to play on college teams, city teams or just backyard teams. However, all of them will take the lessons they have learned and the experiences they have had playing for Coach Dragas with them. The boys had an awesome season this year with a 9-10 record, but their skills go beyond the high school baseball fields. Nick Seibert and Ray King played at Jacobs Field in an All-star Game. Also Brian Craigo, Brian Blystone, Nick and Ray all played in the Tri-County All-star Game. Each of them tried their personal best and had fun with the time they had left with their fellow teammates. Good luck next year to the players that will return to the high school fields and also the former members of MHS who are going beyond the bases and moving on to their own fields of dreams.

1. Diving for the ball, Junior Mike Bukky goes to make a play at first base.
2. Senior Ray King throws the ball to third base before the runner has a chance to make it there.

JV and Freshman Baseball Players Keep a Positive Attitude

1.

A positive attitude. It is a little thing that can make a big difference. Author Charles Swindoll once said about attitude "Life is 10% what happens to you and 90% how you react to it." Many people agree with him that a good attitude is essential.

"Look on the bright side" is a phrase that many people say, but not typically follow. However, the members of the boys' JV and freshman baseball teams definitely practice what many people only preach. Even though their seasons didn't turn out how they wanted them to, they still remained positive by looking on the bright side, learning from their mistakes and still having fun. "We were a good hitting team that had a lot of positive effort and attitude. We stayed with the game even when we were losing," stated Junior and JV player Alex Kerr.

Hopefully they will keep their positive attitude next year and this will cause them to do better.

Serving Up a Successful, Unforgettable Season

Working toward many goals the tennis team of 2002 had a fun and successful season. This year the boys tennis team achieved a winning record of 5 and 3 in the P.A.C. The young varsity team was lead by the seniors, Tim Smith, Mike Whipple, and Jason Miller. This team was mainly comprised of sophomores and only one junior. This year the tennis team focused on strengthening their players and rebuilding for the following years. Although they were rather young, they still obtained many goals. The first singles player, Sophomore Todd Anderson, successfully made it into the final round of Sectionals. The boys also achieved many titles for themselves. The first doubles team, Mike Whipple and Tim Smith, and second doubles team, Chip Whipple and Mike McGuire, were ranked First Team All P.A.C. Their third singles player, Ricky Williams, was ranked Second Team All P.A.C.

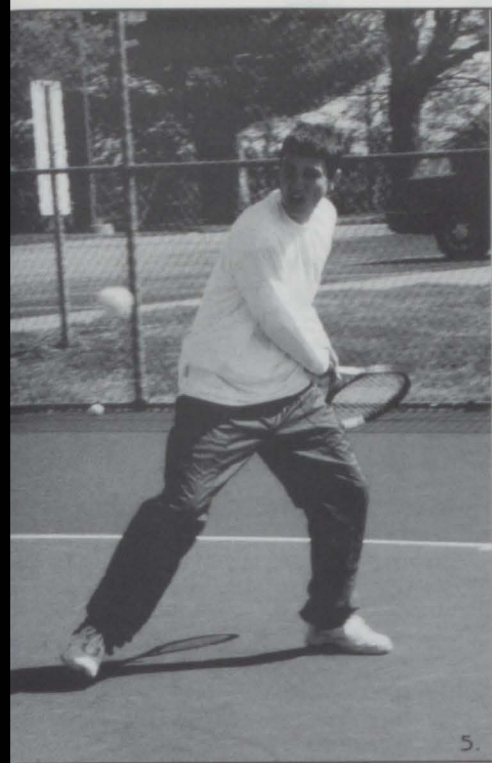

The boys team this year experienced many fun moments together. They were not only united as a team but also as friends. They shared many inside jokes and quotes such as: soggy balls, mouse head, "there is no crying in tennis" (Steve Epple), and "mommies are more important than tennis" (Mike Blauman). They worked really hard, but at the same time they had a lot of fun. Coach Vidmar described this team as being "young, competitive, and very classy." Together they achieved many goals and created many memories.

1. Unfortunately, second singles player Evan Larned had to miss his last couple matches because of a hand injury.
2. Creating his own style, Senior Jason Miller shows off his amazing forehand technique.
3. Making up their own rules, Seniors Tim Smith, Mike Whipple, and Jason Miller team up and use their extra man advantage to beat their younger team opponents during practice.
4. Earning a JV position on the team, Matt Gehring, accepts a certificate for all of his hard work.
5. First singles player, Todd Anderson gets ready to send a deadly ball back to his opponent.
6. Working on his hand-eye coordination, Junior Joe Judd entertains the tennis team before a match.
7. Preparing to send his second serve, Mike McGuire walks back to the base line.
8. Showing his good sportsmanship, the third singles player Ricky Williams shakes his opponent's hand before they play their match.
9. Helping out the younger team, Coach Vidmar teaches sophomores Josh Perkins and Steve Epple a new strategy to approach the net.
10. Defending the net, Chip Whipple waits for the perfect shot.
11. Focusing in on an easy ball, Senior Tim Smith gets in position to drive the ball.

Varsity Softball Swings a Step Beyond

Talent, luck, and a call... "TLC" to Coach Hietanen and the girls on the varsity softball team. With six returning starters, both returning pitchers, and a lot of six a.m. practices, the girls certainly had the talent. Having a combined team batting average of .300, as well as pitching by Liz Grabel and Kristi Jackson that allowed a combined 1.5 runs per game, the Streaks mixed a combination of "Small Ball" and "Big Ball" and an indestructible defense to lead them to their school record-- 28 wins, along with 3 losses. When taking into account the caliber of teams on the Streaks schedule, those 28 wins become that much more impressive; Conneaut, Columbus Winchester, Wadsworth, and Medina, to name a few. Traveling to tournaments like that of Ashland and Kentucky gave the Streaks very valuable experience, so did losing to Elyria by one run and beating Wadsworth in nine innings, as well as beating a state champion, Kentucky Greenwood, in 10 innings. The ladies won 16 of their games by one run. Undefeated P.A.C. Champs for the second year in a row and seeded first in the District Tournament, the Streaks had bulls eyes on their backs the whole year. But each time their target was threatened, they rose to the occasion. After beating JFK and North, they reached a District Championship game with rival Riverside, a hard fought 12-inning battle, the Streaks pulled out victorious to make their second straight Regional appearance. With the Small Ball mentality set in the back seat, Alesia Richmond and Lyndsay Schmid cranked two homeruns over Medina to next face Boardman in a Regional Final match-up. After a heart-wrenching 9-8 loss in an all-out slugfest, the Streaks finally proved to Ohio what Madison softball is all about.

Senior pitcher Liz Grabel winds up for a pitch during the Streaks' game against South. Liz will take her pitching talents to Edinboro University next school year.

Focus, form, and follow-through. Kristi Jackson fires the ball as she warms up.

Junior third baseman Lyndsay Schmid crouches in a ready position. Lyndsay also played catcher throughout the year.

3. Keeping her eye on the ball, Allison Tzarelli strides toward the North pitcher for a hit during District Semifinals.
4. Short stop Ingrid Brainard watches the ball skid into her mitt, an action the players fondly referred to as "hugging the bear."
5. Rachel Pike pivots and "looks back" the runner before flipping the ball to first base.
6. S-T-R-E-T-C-H! First baseman Kristi Jackson reaches for the throw during warm-ups. Jackson also pitched for the Streaks, racking up an untainted 10-0 record and pitching the first perfect game in the history of Madison against South.
7. Lending a helping hand, these softball girls sure know how to have a good time! During the ladies' tournament in Kentucky, despite rainy conditions, they beat State Champion Kentucky Greenwood as well as a team from Trimble County, Kentucky.

What's Beyond the Fence and on the Field?

The J.V. season this year was one for building a team as well as long-lasting friendships. "We got to know each other really well. We played as a team and not individually," said team member Jessie Rose. With Coach Jack Thompson leading the girls, they earned a 2-14 record overall. His team members stated about him, "Thompson realized everyone's strengths and weaknesses and put us in where he thought we would do our best." The girls really learned how to play together this year and will carry that knowledge to their upcoming seasons, putting them at an advantage over the other teams. These girls put in a lot of effort and sweat and worked until the end. They came close to winning in a few more of their games even though they didn't claim the victory.

▲ Beyond the dugout, on the other side of the fence, and in front of the catcher, stands Ashley Estabrook as she determines the right time to swing.

▲ Between innings, J.V. player, Kim Gabel, expresses her sense of humor as she makes a crazy face.

The freshman team started off the season with two new coaches, Tim and Tara Leonard. The coaches, who did a good job for their first year, led the girls to a 3-14 record for the season. The season began with a few losses, but the girls got stronger and more experienced near the end and had a few wins and a near victory. "The season started off rough, but it got better near the end," said Freshman Stephanie Kerr. She also said that it was exciting to be on the field for the first time as a freshman and that the whole team worked well together and played their best. Hopefully their taste of victory at the end of the season will bring them luck next year as J.V. players.

▲ As one of the heads of Math Club, Mrs. Collins being the other, Mr. Morgan speaks at the Awards Banquet on his group's successes throughout the year. Among these, In-Jeong Hwang took first at Kent State Math Night and competed, along with Alison Fisher in the American Math Competition, a nationwide competition.

▲ Ashley Dorr proudly displays her award for her participation on the Academic Quiz Team. The Quiz Team attended one competition, taking 7th place out of twenty other teams. To prepare for competitions, they planned scavenger hunt competitions in the library, trivia contests, and geography knowledge tests. Other members included Jim Polivka, Jessica Jameson, Josh Perkins, Brandon Lichtinger, Brandon Howard, Shannon Payne, Ashley Dorr, and Matt Gehring.

★ Model UN, headed by teachers Mrs. Bralley and Mrs. Gilligan, traveled to Youngstown State, Kent State and Jefferson High School for their conferences this year. At Youngstown State, presidential and delegate awards were given out to the students, and other individual awards were given out at Kent State. Participants included Jessie Collins, Rick Boonstra, Dawn Bittner, Josh Perkins, Lacey Minnick, Gena Fuchs, Chris Johnson, Stephanie Niederkorn, Jim Polivka, and Corey Green.

★ Math Club was involved in many competitions, among them were the Kent State University Math Night, American Math Competition, and the Ohio High School Math Contest. In-Jeong Hwang came up with a first place finish at Kent State. She took first place, along with Jessica Jameson, in the local Madison competition, and qualified for the American Math Competition. She also earned second place in the vgOhio Math Contest. In addition to competing the club helped out in the middle school by tutoring students.

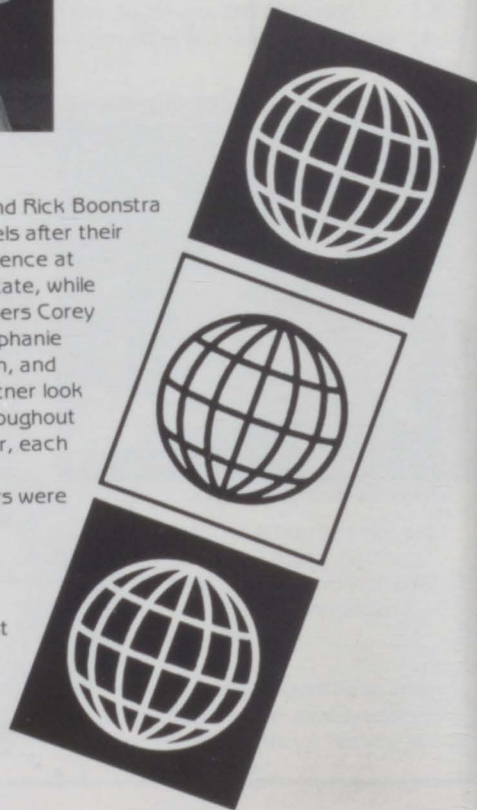

★ The Academic Quiz Team traveled to only one competition this year, but they took 7th place out of twenty teams.

◀ In preparation for the National American Math Competition, Madison hosted its own local math competition. Partners In-Jeong Hwang and Jessica Jameson took first place after completing a series of complicated and tedious tests.

◀ Josh Perkins, Jim Polivka and Rick Boonstra show off their gavels after their Model UN conference at Youngstown State, while fellow members Corey Green, Stephanie Niederkorn, and Dawn Bittner look on. Throughout the year, each of the members were assigned different countries, which they debated about against other schools.

For the Ohio High School Math Contest, which involved taking a series of six tests throughout the year, Hayley Kilroy took first place, In-Jeong Hwang took second place, and Carolyn Fisher took third place.

3. Participants of Math Club Chris Mauck, Carolyn Fisher, Alison Fisher, Jessica Jameson, and In-Jeong Hwang accept their awards during the Awards Banquet. Carolyn Fisher and Alison Fisher, as well as Joe Judd, In-Jeong Hwang, Hayley Kilroy and Samantha Orogvany also took part in the OCTM test, with In-Jeong being among the top 200 kids in the state of Ohio.

A Little Bit Goes A Long Way

"When I was first chosen to direct the fall play here at Madison, I wanted to find an 'easy' play with small cast, minimal set, and easy costuming. It makes me laugh that I did just the opposite," said Ms. Marcy. First of all, Marcy's idea of an easy play with a little cast was short-lived. So many students were interested that Marcy expanded her idea by choosing 23 cast members and a not-so-easy play to accommodate them. Her decision proved to be a good one though. Marcy stated, "They really came through as a cast learning all the lines in this very line-intensive and long play. They performed a play they can really be proud of and I am so delighted I could direct them in Little Women." The not-so-little play, Little Women by Louisa May Alcott, is a great historical story about four sisters and their family during the Civil War that shows how strong women can be in times of turmoil. "For a while, honestly, I wasn't sure we would pull it off, but in the end it was a great show. I was so proud of us all," said Junior Amanda Venable, who played Aunt March. As far as the minimal set went, Marcy again had to stretch her ideas. Because it was a period piece, she had to borrow antique furniture from Old Orchard Furniture. The costuming was another area where she went beyond her original plans. The cast had to get their old style costumes from Rabbit Run Theatre. However, they couldn't find petticoats, so they had to get crinoline and sew their own. Some actresses were still sewing their petticoats the day of the last dress rehearsal. All in all, Ms. Marcy's "little" play turned out to be a big success in the long run. The school's new drama director stated, "I'm really happy with the end result of the play."

Beyond the Borders.....

Foreign exchange students add an international flair

The Students Who Spiced It Up Were:

- Henning Brust-Germany
- Marcus Diener-Germany
- Max Gabutti-Switzerland
- In-Jeong Hwang-Korea
- Benjamin Kleidienst-Germany
- Jimena Sanchez Mejadora-Mexico
- Shqipe Mjekiqi-Cosovo
- Elisa Pirto Santori-Brazil
- Javier Sanz Alvarez-Spain
- Abel Vianna-Brazil

Webster's dictionary describes a flair as "a skill or instinctive ability to make good use of something; uniquely attractive qualities (such as elegance or intelligence)."

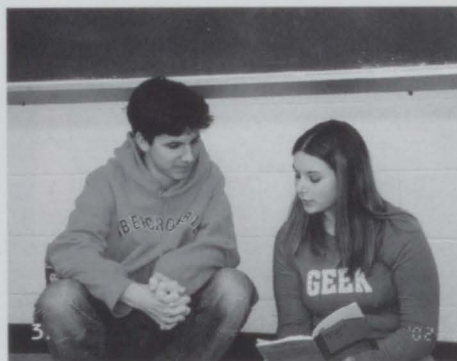

A person who has a flair for something means that they have a knack, talent, or ability to do something. This can include sports, being artistic, or a musical talent.

Every year, the citizens of Madison host many foreign exchange students. These students have a flair of their own that they bring to the halls of MHS.

▲ "We're so egg-cited!" Christopher Joyner and Kaytlin Falls join exchange student Jimena Sanchez Mejadora in getting ready to drop their egg carriers. Their physics class project had a flair of its own.

► "This is so interesting!" In-Jeong Hwang shows her flair for her studies as she is captivated, along with Kailee Emmett and Mr. Deering, with another student's opinion in the class discussion.

1. What a flair for humor! Without even trying, Shqipe Mjekiqi makes both Amanda Sidowski and Cherish Thomlison crack up.

2. Having a flair for teamwork is key. Foreign exchange students Henning Brust, In-Jeong Hwang, and Benjamin Kleidienst work together to accomplish a chemistry experiment.

3. Actor Max Gabutti adds a theatrical flair while practicing a play for his drama class.

4. Varsity football player, Marcus Diener shows off his flair for the game by joining the huddle.

MHS students add a little bit of international flair to their lives.

2.

2. Working hard for the less fortunate, Seniors Shannon Payne and Heather Harper stuff decorated Christmas bags full of fun little toys.
3. Ha ha ha... Brandon Setler and Ms. Zupp have fun helping one another make their Mardi Gras masks.
4. Getting into the Christmas spirit, Rachele Orris, Nicole Nowakowski, and Ed Battes help one another put together Christmas bags.
5. Helping out the community, Chad Buttler and Joe Judd have fun stuffing bags with Christmas goodies.

Beyond the Keys

Key Club continues tradition of community service

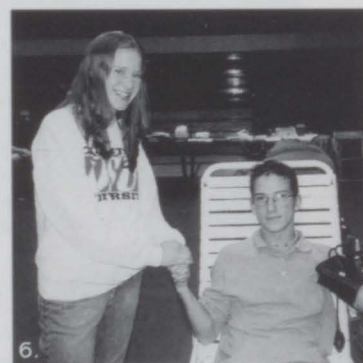

Whether it was visiting a nursing home or reading to elementary children, this year's MHS Key Club made it their goal to give back to the community.

The year started with the club holding a campaign to raise money from the September 11 tragedy. Over $3,000 was raised in one week from MHS students. Members also helped out with the Lake MetroParks' haunted hayride in October.

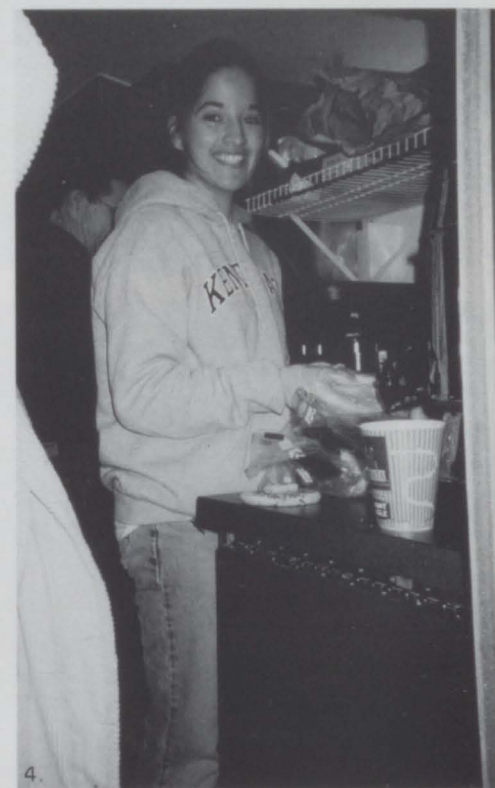

This year's club was headed by President Jenny Anderson, Vice-President Amanda Briggs, Secretary Maria Soriano, Treasurer Kristen Andres, and Public Relations Officer Brad Eckert.

"We were really able to get out into the community this year, helping increase our goal of service to beyond just MHS," said Steve Hertrick, adviser.

The club held their third-annual Senior Citizens' Prom at Bill Stanton Park. In addition, they helped provide for club scholarships by gift wrapping at the Ashtabula Mall during the holiday season.

1. "It's not as easy as it looks...HONEST!" Sophomore Ashley Elder traces out stars for the Key Club's "Winter Formal."
 2. Making every penny count! Senior Heather Harper counts some change that MHS donated after the terrorist attacks.
 3. What better way to finish off a day than at Burger King? Seniors In-Jeong Hwang, Elisa Sartori, and Shqipe Mjekiqi grab a bite to eat after Key Club's visit to the nursing home Inn-Madison.
 4. Senior Shannon Weiss helps cook hot dogs for the Community Halloween Party.
 5. A little Halloween spirit goes a long way for Sophomores Brandon Lichtinger and Sara Holl.
 6. "It will be okay..." Junior Kristen Andres lends a hand to Junior Josh Nunnally while he gives blood.
 7. These Key Club members have singing down to the beat! Ashley Elder, Krystal Posavad, Jodie Toward, Sara Holl, Lindsey Taylor, Brandon Lichtinger, Tom Weiss, Aimee Oliver, and Laila Farhood traveled to Inn-Madison to carol to the residents for the holidays.

8. The smiles on the children's faces say it all. Sophomore Jodie Toward reads a book for Right-to-Read Week. 9. Key Club members listen attentively while President Jenny Anderson reads upcoming events for the club.

10. Junior Ashley Moles and Senior Amanda Briggs present a $250 check to the Madison Ministerial Association.

11. Simply perfect. Junior Stephanie Sparkman cuts out paper for the Winter Formal decorations.

12. With arms wide open, Key Club members make deliveries to the Gabel's House in Madison. Jenny Anderson, Jodie Toward, Casey Toward, Rachel Klimcowicz, Kristen Andres, and Brandon Lichtinger showcase the donations that the Key Club submitted.

The Office of the Keys

"I feel that the club really moved towards the right direction this year."
Jenny Anderson, President

"People worked together to get a lot accomplished this year."
Amanda Briggs, Vice-President

"Key Club was a lot of fun this year. But, I think it will be even better next year."
Maria Soriano, Secretary

"We were able to do a lot of successful things this year, and I know that that will continue through next year."
Kristen Andres, Treasurer

"There were a lot of new people who joined Key Club this year, which is pretty cool."
Brad Eckert, Public Relations

Where in the world did all the donations go?

November 2001- Gave $3,000 to relief efforts from the terrorist attacks

December 2001- Gave $250 to the Madison Ministerial Association for food baskets

December 2001- Purchased Christmas presents for families at the Kaylee Home

April 2001- Filled Easter baskets for the Gable's home in Madison

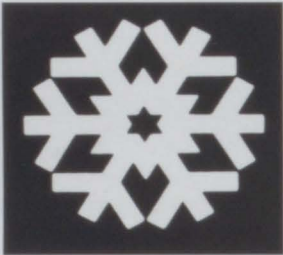

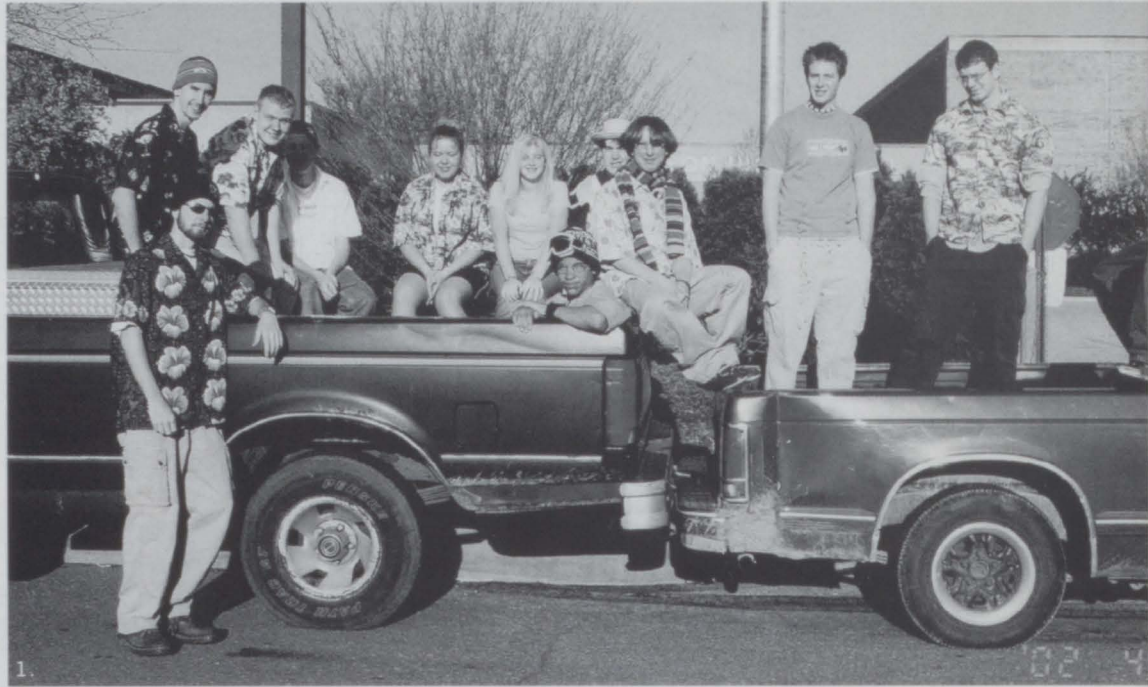

S.A.D.D., T1 and Ski Club . . . More Than Your Average Clubs

1. Ready for the slopes? Ski club members Jason Miller, Andy Repko, Jacob Holland, Nick Horvath, Amanda Briggs, Sarah Holl, Brandon Lictinger, Brandon Thompson, Ben Kleidienst, Ryan Wintersteller, Greg Whipple, and Corey Kozan look ready for sun not snow.

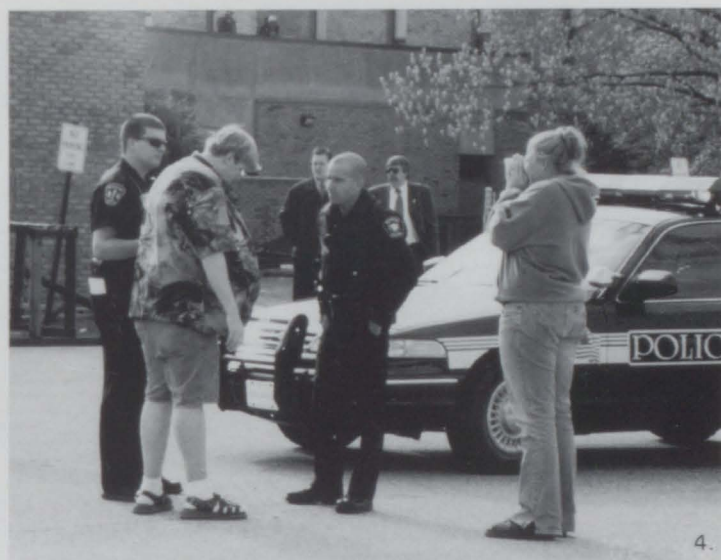

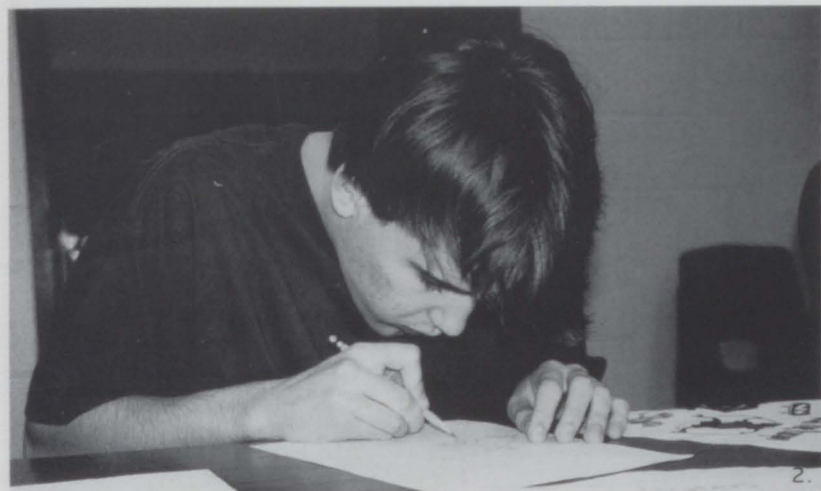

2. Judge Cicconetti speaks to juniors and seniors about the dangers of drinking and drug abuse.

3. Keep your socks on! A crash victim, during the mock crash before prom, is stripped from his boots and driven to the hospital in the ambulance.

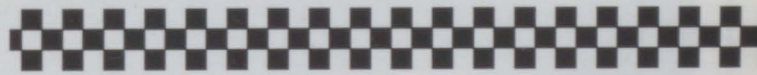

Ski Club offers students in grades 9-12 the chance to hit the slopes over the winter season, helping them to learn to ski or to improve their skiing. Supervised by Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, they trekked up to Peak and Peak every Saturday. Students had the opportunity to go at night or day to experience skiing from different angles.

1. The Madison Fire Department helped with the mock crash demonstration by showing exactly how a crash would be handled.
 2. Don't monkey around with drugs, at least that is what these TI members, Shelby Jenkins, Jodie Toward, Brian Toward, Casey Toward, Audrey Leonard, Brandon Litchtinger, and Sara Holl, and their adviser, Mr. Hertrick, promote on the t-shirt they designed.
 3. TI member Brandon Lichtinger designs a t-shirt to advertise the Rock the Ramps fundraiser they sponsored.
 4. A.V. student Courtney Peine gets up close to the action as Matt Drews receives intense questioning while the police try to find out who to blame.
 5. An unfortunate victim of the crash, Alex Kerr, was removed from the car by the "Jaws of Life," but not soon enough. He faked his death to add to the effect the mock crash had on the students.

SADD stands for three very important concepts: Students Against Drunk Driving, Student Athletes Detest Drugs, and Students Against Deadly Decisions. Throughout the year, the club worked on many projects to promote these concepts. The mock crash, put on just before prom to discourage drinking after and during prom, showed students that drinking and driving puts them and everyone around them in danger. The members' focus saying was "Friends don't let friends drive drunk."

T.I. also promotes drug-free living. The members served as examples through their actions, sponsored Red Ribbon Week to encourage MHS students to not do drugs, and went to the elementary schools to spread their message.

Activities II Candida

▲ Twins? Junior Kristen Andres and Freshman Rachael Andres appear to be identical in the one act Feeding the Moonfish.

▲ Lean on me. Senior key club member Heather Harper stands by Cassandra Mohar as she gives blood at the Red Cross Blood Drive ▲ Playing around. Foreign exchange student Jimena Sanchez Mejadora goofs off in drama class with some of her friends.

▲ Christmastime. The cast of Little Women decorates the Christmas tree.

▲ Superhero or MHS International Club member? This man behind the mask is club member Branden Setler. He proudly displays the Mardi Gras mask he made during a meeting.

▲ There's always time for fooling around. T.I. members Sara Holl and Shelby Jenkins have some fun in Mr. Hertrick's office.

▲ Here comes help. The police and paramedics show the MHS students what they do when they are called to an accident site in the "Mock Crash" that S.A.D.D. put on before prom as a warning to the upperclassmen.

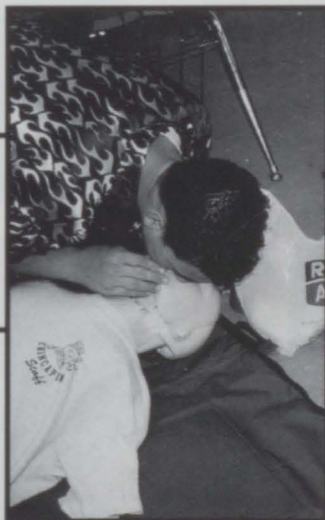

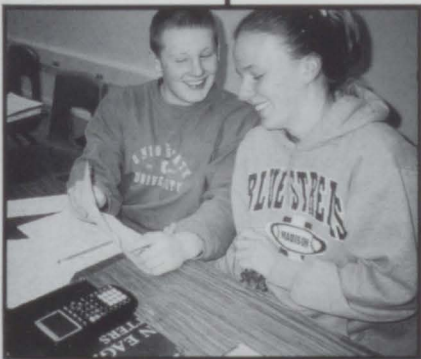

▲ "I'm telling you." Amanda Venable tries to talk Josh Dean into choosing her in the one act The Actor's Nightmare.

▲ "We're brothers?" Matt Gehring and Rick Boonstra read a paper stating that they are long lost brothers in the one act Box and Cox.

Academics

1. Better than you can get at McDonald's! Jodi Hribar goes out of her way to make sure the students' fries are nice and crispy.
2. It not just a pumpkin; it's our very own lunch lady Jill Kerby humoring students with her Halloween costume!

3. Officer Ralf Caswell goes beyond the call of duty. He patrols the halls to help our school stay safe and is also an adviser for Students for a Safe School and SADD.
4. Who says two cooks spoil the soup? Mary Barchok and Nancy Bukky are back in the kitchen whipping up the chicken patties for today's lunch.
5. She works hard for the students! Tammy Whitely puts some elbow grease into grinding up meat for hamburgers.
6. Ready at a moment's notice. These janitors, Mick Collins and Zack Beesler, make sure that the school building is in working order everyday by responding to problems right away.

Beyond The Line Of Duty

Everyday important people at MHS go beyond the lines of their jobs to make our school a fun, safe, learning environment.

7. Keeping things on track is what Student Center secretary Mrs. Bowman's job is all about at MHS.

8. Always willing to lend a helping hand, guidance counselors Mr. Baptie and Miss France are available in the student center.

9. "Hello, Madison High School," is a common phrase main office secretary Mrs. Quayle can be heard saying on the phone. Mrs. Quayle also organizes graduation.

10. When they are not keeping the school safe as assistant principals, Mr. Hitchcock can be seen refereeing a senior/faculty game and Mr. Thompson can be found coaching the JV girls softball team.

11. Miss France's work is never done. She and Molly Gehring share a smile at the Winter Formal.

12. Guidance counselor secretary Mrs. Watts can be seen in places other than the student center. Megan Chandler and Mrs. Watts get ready for the NHS Inductions 15. Always occupied by work, main office secretary Mrs. McKibben keeps herself on schedule.

14. Dedicated M.H.S. nurse Mrs. Kneisley treats a sick student, Christina Isabella. 15. Service with a smile. Barbara Roth, financial aid advisor, is always offering suggestions to juniors and seniors. 16. Athletic Department Secretary Mrs. Ersick is always available with directions to sports events.

17. Mr. Fisher shows his basketball knowledge as he referees the senior/faculty game.

18. Mrs. Bowman heads up the Powder Puff Football Game between the junior and senior girls.

◀ Faith Huber and Shannon Weber cut apart a poem and try to use the words to make their own poem.

► Mrs. Gale's student, Little Richie Garcia, receives his Santa letter reply from Ms. Thurston's creative writing class. Richie attends Redbird Elementary as a first grader.

▲ Don't pack your bags yet! Shane Brennen points out his dream place to go, New Orleans during Mardi Gras, in Mr. Deering's class.

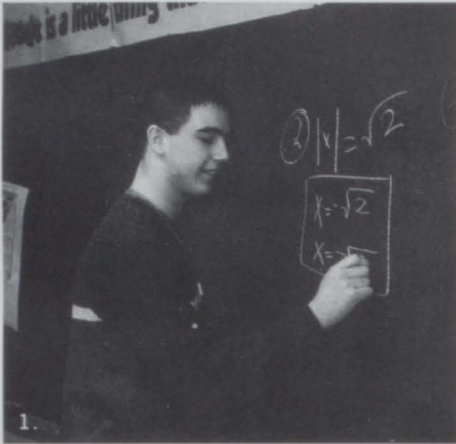

▲ All smiles, Mike Medved gladly reviews for a test in Mrs. Bralley's class.

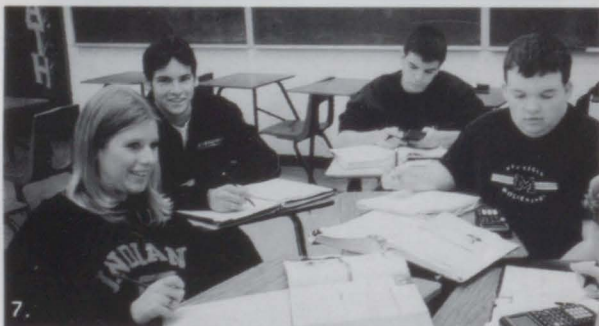

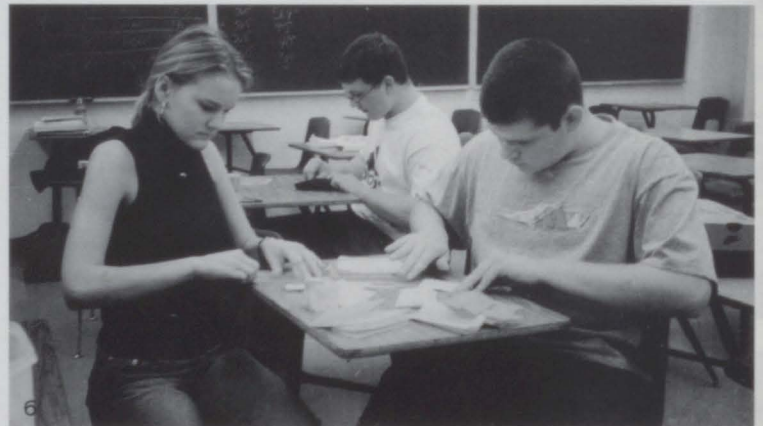

► Brian Juratovac, Cassandra Mohar, and perform an interesting skit in Mrs. Bralley's fourth block government class while reviewing for a test.

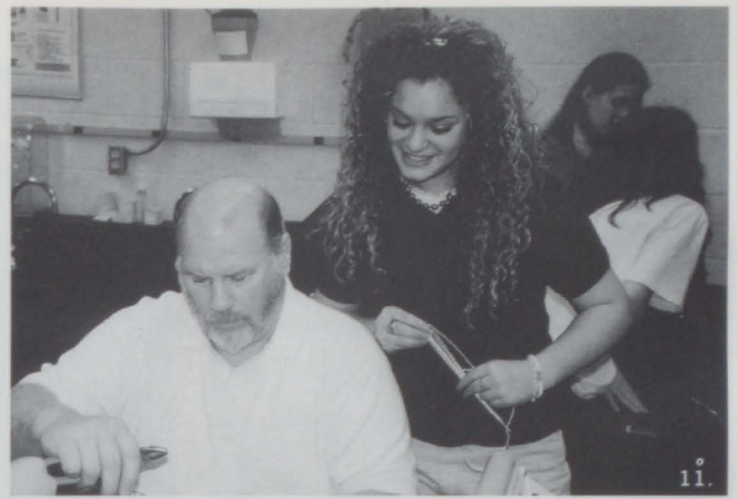

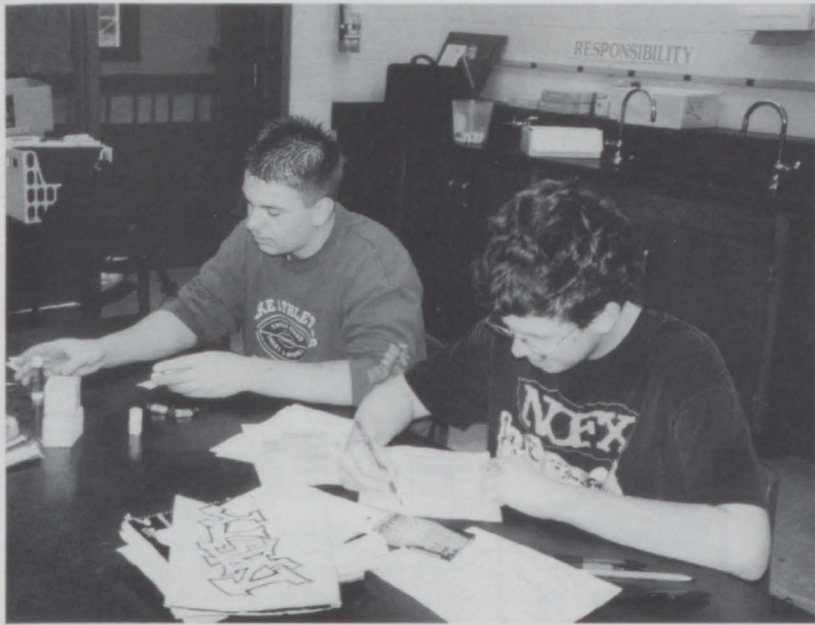

Beyond Measure

1. Smiling away, Matthew Osborne shows his classmates how to do this Algebra II problem right.
2. Having fun with math, Joe Garisek, Paul Compton, and Tyler Phillip work on the computers with Mr. Hernan creating their dream houses.
3. Tickled pink, In-Jeong Hwang happily accepts her award for highest score at the Kent State Math Night competition. She was the third MHS student in a row to receive this honor.
4. Showing off her work, Veronica Bosquet displays her house project for her geometry class.
5. The math squad (back row) Katelyn Fails, Dan Rediger, Shannon Paine, Jessica Jameson, In-Jeong Hwang, Wendy Lang, Shawn Stephans (front row) Lorena Shafer, Christina Shafer, Ashley Dorr, Shqipe Mjekaqi, and Molly Gehring pose for a picture after their win at the KSU math night competition.
6. Cut and fold. Lauren Warholic, Ryan Kershaw, and Frank Rosier work on their paper cubes in Mrs. Collins' class.
7. Teamwork, Tiffanie O'Donnel, Abel Vianna Neto, Javier Sanz Alvarez, and Zack Powell work together to get their Algebra II work done.
8. Peekaboo! Jennifer Shaffer and Kristin Spetich hide behind their tessellation shape project.
9. Whoa, look at this! Brandon Brennen examines his geometric gum drop shape while Brandon Thompson looks on.

... or Microscope

10. Nice job staying in the lines, Shawn McLane and David LaForce. They help Mr. Daily's earth science class color a mobile of shapes.

11. Gabriella Nappo watches Mr. Daily of how to complete the mobile.

12. Don't let that egg crack! After her egg landed safely, Katelyn Fails landed her "A" for her project.

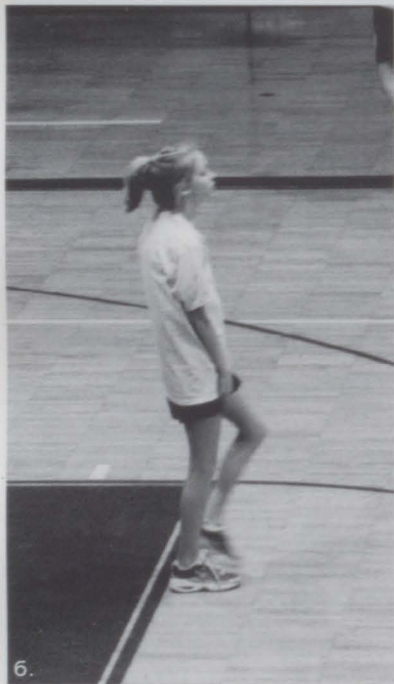

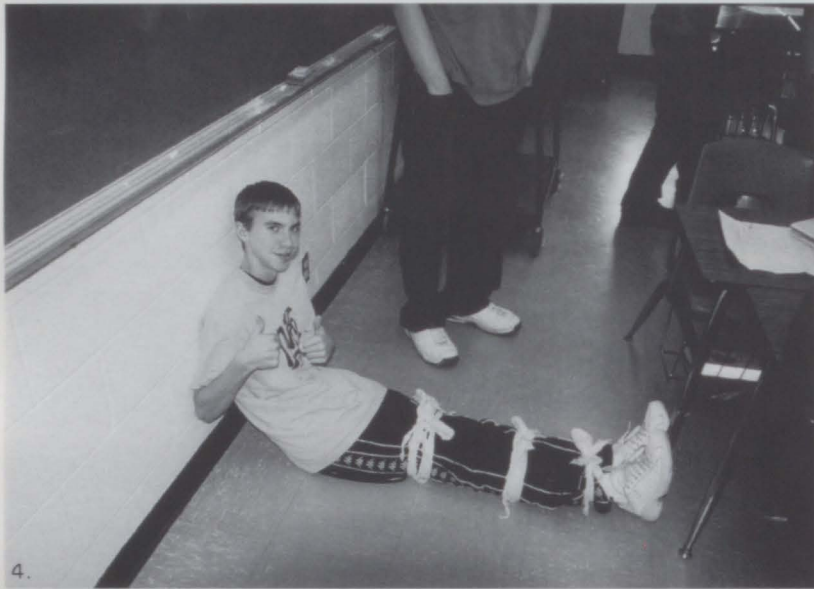

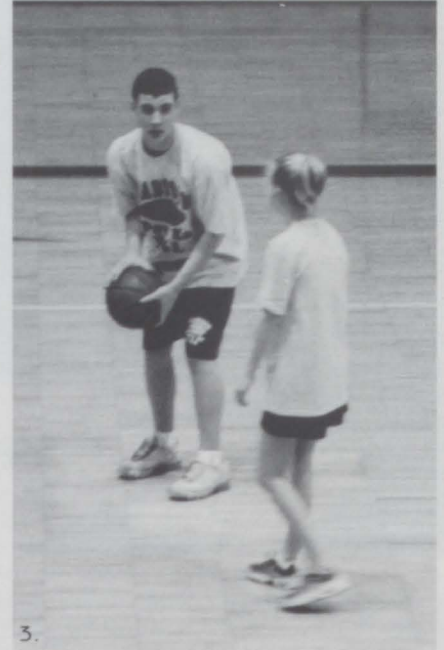

13. Finishing up his experiment, Dan Loesch gets advice from Mr. Daily.

14. Pouring the dry ice is Jessica Mickle, while the observers, Henning Brust, Ben Kleidienst, In-Jeong Hwang, Shannon Payne, Erika Gibbon and Chris Mauck, watch with amazement.

15. Brain Burns is telling Katelyn Fails and Jamie Webster when to fire off their experiment. Their experiment of gravity worked like a charm.

Beyond the Basic Bookwork

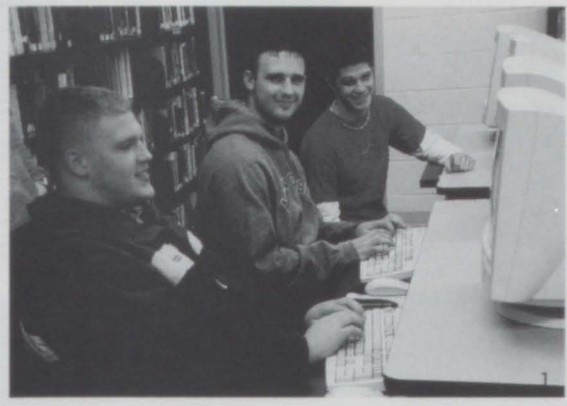

Students get their hands on the lesson

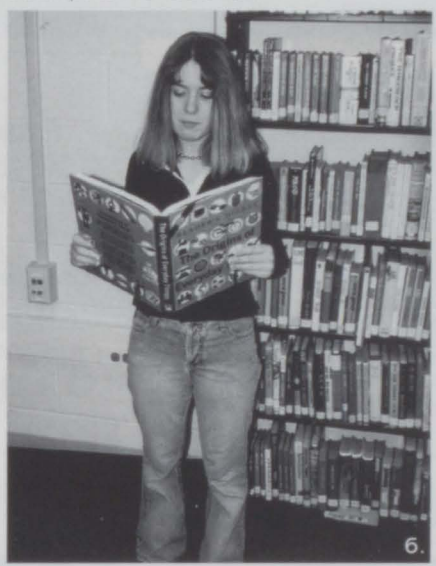

1. "Help me!" Andy Stoltz wishes a lil' cutie will walk his way and do CPR on him.
2. "Let's play doctor," says Jamie Csepegi as she makes a sling for Zach Marshall's arm.
3. Take it from a pro. Matt Nunley teaches Justine Harper how "to shoot some hoops!"
4. Jeremy Woodworth doesn't mind being bound together.
5. Future EMT, maybe? Jacob McCoy practices CPR on Mrs. Mullan's dummy.
6. "I'm waiting..." says Justine Harper as she hopes for a ball to fly her way.
7. Michael Jordan? No! It's Kyle Garcia practicing his jump shot!

Opening Windows to New Ideas

1. Using their time wisely, Steve Reed, Kevin Gorman and Joel Szymanski are researching Shakespeare on the new computers in the library.
2. Rachelle Orris is laughing at a joke co-host Jason Verdi has just made while introducing clips from the their show.
3. Awaiting to commentate the next basketball game Alex Hearn rests in the A.V. room.
4. Senior Corey Kozan works on the graphic designs for the Madison Channel.
5. Zooming in on the hosts, Courtney Peine tries to focus the camera for a better shot.
6. Looking up interesting facts Caitlin BarnHouse is finding out who invented socks.
7. "Can you see it", freshman Mark Nagy, Holly Engler and Ashley Johnson strain their eyes to try and find the pictures that are in the Magic Eye books.
8. Mastering the Art of Origami, Allison Woodworth, Catlin BarnHouse and Renee Bardbeer attempt to make a swan.

9. Getting ready for the A.V. Christmas party, Rachelle Orris, Amy Blauman, Mike Blauman, Aileen Klauer and Lauren Kidder decorate the little Christmas tree.

Safety first!

Goofing around in metals class, Richard Wayman pretends to cut senior Cory Kozans hand off while working on a project together.

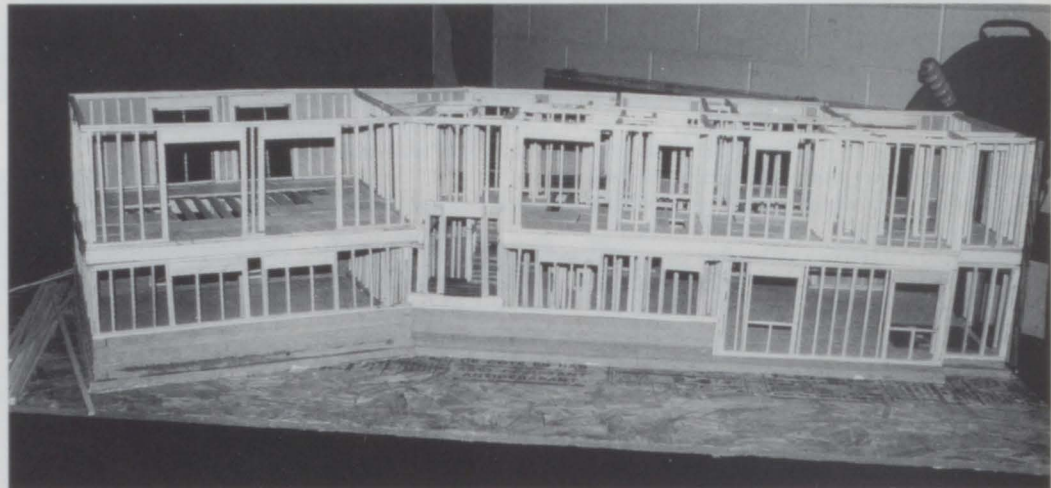

Impressive!

Vanna White couldn't have done a better job showing off Mr. Peterson's brand new shop vac. Mark Jones may have a hidden talent!

A not so mini model.

This massive project was designed and eventually built by seniors Robert White and Eric Koppenhofer. The project was built with amazing detail, utilizing any material around them to help with the project. They made the whole project to scale and used real concrete and carpet inside!

A table full of hard workers.

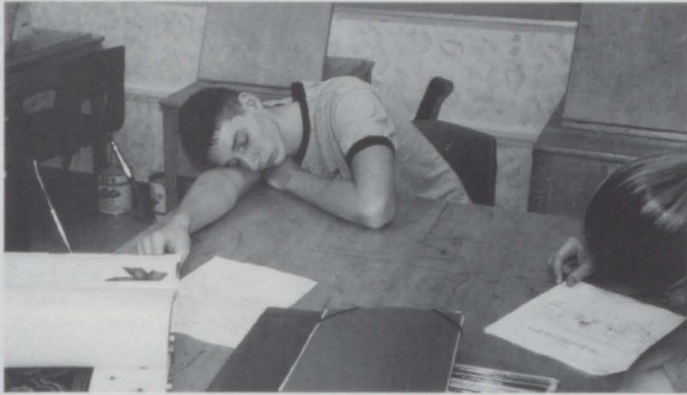

These freshman - James Smith, Aaron Cottos, Jason Timperio, and Tyler Granger work as a team to complete their project. They are making C.D. racks in woods class, just one of the many things they made throughout the year.

How does this thing work?

Freshman Craig Walker looks a little confused before he cuts a board in woods class. He must not have been paying attention in class!

BEYOND THE MAKING

Now that's dedication!

Taking on the typical senior reputation of work ethics Michael Bush, takes a little break after a long days work.

Drawing up success.

Focusing in on completing an assignment in art foundations Kori Egeland, Jenie Lambert, Melissa Schmidt, and Danielle Brant strive to finish their sketches.

◀ Deep in concentration.

Senior Jason Cieslinski carves away at his art work.

▶ Voila!

Daniel Quayle and Kelly Cox proudly hold their food they made.

Is that how it's supposed to look?

Elizabeth Talikka and Brittany Hallenbeck make food from the food groups out of playdoh.

Hmmm.... I wonder if it's going to work?

These messy cooks John Makee, Christopher Anderson, Christian Burden, and Jeremy Woodworth, wait to see if their meal turns out right. Would you trust their cooking?

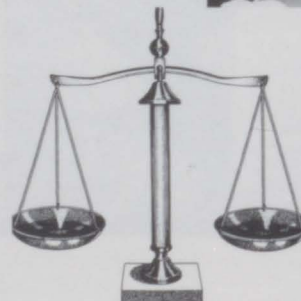

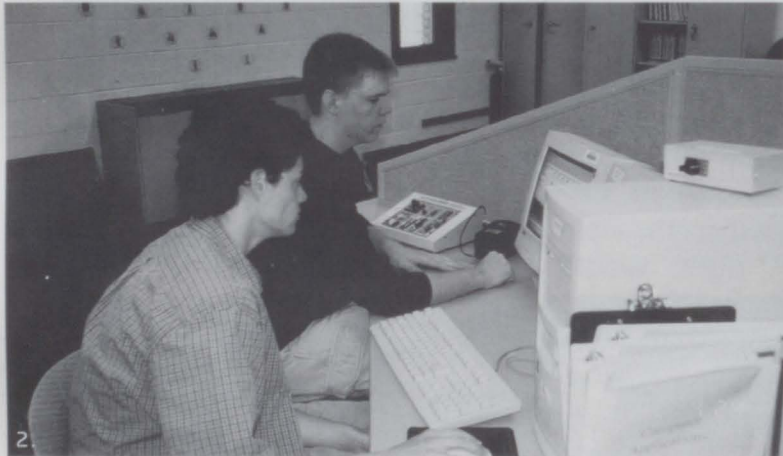

The Future is Now...

These Madison students prepare themselves for bigger and better things by taking computer and business classes.

- 1) Smiling away, Dan Gund, Ryan Winterstellar, and Tom Rose laugh at the silly seniors (Dan Hyer and Dan Reddiger) as they surf the internet.
- 2) Concentration is the key, Tim Heckman and Dan Seits intently read over their own work.
- 3) Future real-estate salesman? Shannon Coss and Melissa Schmidt play a competitive game of monopoly in Mrs. Craig's business class.
- 4) Hmmm... where do we go from here? Kyle Curry and Trevor Ness look a bit confused as they try to figure out where they went wrong. It's just too easy to get into trouble on a computer.
- 5) Technology pro's... Steve Millberg and Jake Holland have just finished taking pictures of each other with the digital camera.

- 6) Woman on a web search mission, Casey Toward answers her web site questions correctly.
- 7) Keeping their noses in the books. Mr. Petrus's accounting class takes this saying a little too literally.
- 8) YAY, PARTNER WORK! Brad Brueggerman and Nick Horvath work together on a computer assignment that Mrs.Gill handed out.
- 9) Giving the teacher a lesson, Senior Sarah Paratto explains to Mrs. Gill what she's been doing. That's a switch!
- 10) Clicking away.....Sarah Fike and Josh Sumpter work on their computers.
- 11) "Teacher, Teacher! We have a question!" Stacey Russell and Jennifer Hanifon ask Mr. Petrus a question about their accounting assignment.
- 12) Mrs.Gill watches over Sophmore Andy Sommers to make sure he is doing his work efficiently.

Pep Band Keeps the Blue Streak Spirit Alive!

1. As the basketball team warms up before the game, Sophomore Mitch Spaid plays his saxophone with the pep band.
2. Staying friends is what it's all about for Juniors Ashley Moles and Katie Cadman.
3. At last, Senior Rick Fike displays the hard work put in for the senior show. The seniors had to play their song at the basketball game, after the weather prohibited them from doing it at the final football game.
4. Senior Erika Gibbon prepares to throw her baton during the band's senior show.
5. Freshmen Derek Daughters, Steve Aucillio, Kyle Garcia, and Sophomore Jodie Toward watch the action on the court during a boys basketball game.
6. Members of the pep band help keep the energy flowing at the game.
7. Sophomore Jessica Rose and Junior Nicole Sovizral have a good time at the basketball game.
8. Goofing off during band is what it's all about for Junior Shannon Davis, Senior Becky Weber, and Junior Brad Eckert.
9. Waiting for the cheerleaders to finish their routine is drummer Tom Weiss.

Great Performances Take The Blue Streak Band Beyond Their Competition.

The MHS band's winter season went incredibly well this year. The group went to Gatlinburg Tennessee to participate in the Smoky Mountain Music Festival where they took first place. Miss Groah said that they also saw some unusual things while in Tennessee, "We saw pigs race, people ride ostriches and Madison students behave!" They also were the first Madison band in 20 years to go to the OMEA contest where they earned a 2 overall and a superior 1 in sight reading. The stage band this year never went to any contests but played for quite a few events. These events included the Senior Citizen Prom, The Geneva Tulip Tea, the MHS Awards Banquet, and played for all of the elementary schools.

▲ Director of the MHS Marching Blue Streaks, stage band, and the wind ensemble, Mr. Josue Perez talks to the crowd at the final band concert.
 3. The woodwind section of stage band plays a lil' tune.
 4. Miss Groah leads the chamber ensemble at the Christmas Concert in December.

▲ As leader of the MHS choirs and assistant director of band, Miss Nicole Groah directs her students.
 1. The drum section of stage band, Mike Schiberl, Josh Hunnally and Rick Fike pound away at the Spring Band Concert.
 2. The girls of show choir belt out a song at the second annual Cabaret.

Mr. Perez said this year's band was full of hard workers and they accomplished things that have never been done before. "I'm going to miss them," said Mr. Perez, because this is his last year at MHS. The bands this season also were split into two groups. Miss Groah led the concert band, while Mr. Perez took control of the wind ensemble. This setup allowed them to focus more on each student and get an even better sound.

▼ In the Christmas spirit, Gina García goes caroling with the show choir.

For the fourth year in a row, Miss Nicole Groah led the Madison High School Choirs. These choirs included chorus, concert choir, show choir, and the jazz and chamber ensembles. The choirs this year had a really successful year altogether. The show choir held its second annual Cabaret, which was a huge success. "The Rhythm of Life was the highlight of the night for me," commented Miss Groah. The chorus had a great year and greatly improved from the beginning of the year to the end. The concert choir went again to the LCMEA festival at Fairport High School and had a great selection of music. The chamber ensemble was part of all the choral concerts except the spring concert and had "unforgettable" music. Their songs included Alleluia and Psalmo 150. The jazz ensemble also participated in all but one of the concerts with their array of popular and classic music. Overall Miss Groah's fourth year of teaching here at MHS was a great success, and she looks forward to the years to come.

Beyond the Misconceptions...

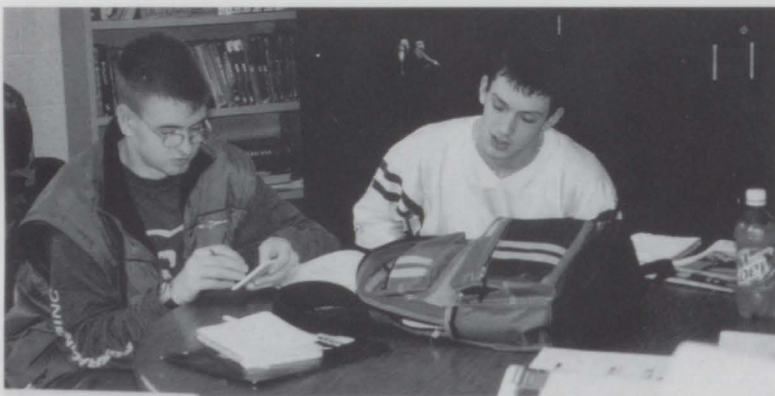

I get by with a little help from my friends

Thinking about her response, Michelle Medved talks with Michelle Rosa about the poems they have to write.

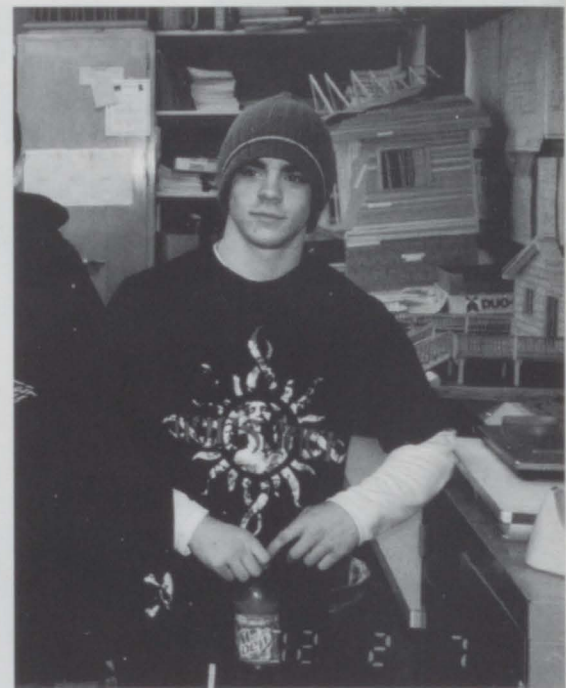

Brandon Barnes checks his answers to his geography assignment with Mrs. McCue.

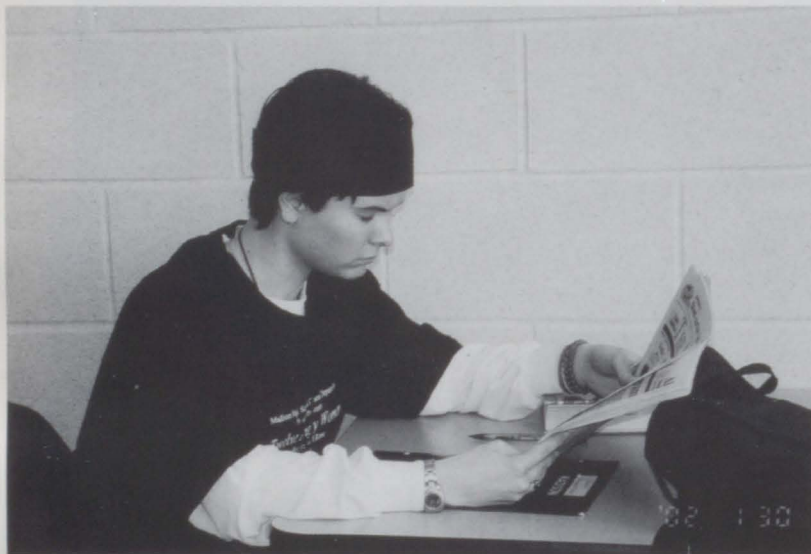

Tim Taylor and Chris Satterfield enjoy the company of friendship while working on some math problems.

With all of his work done for the day, Ryan Lardie looks over and smirks at what one of his friends is doing in the hallway.

Partners in crime, Mrs Lovejoy and Mark Magy review his geometry homework. They have been working together since he was in elementary school.

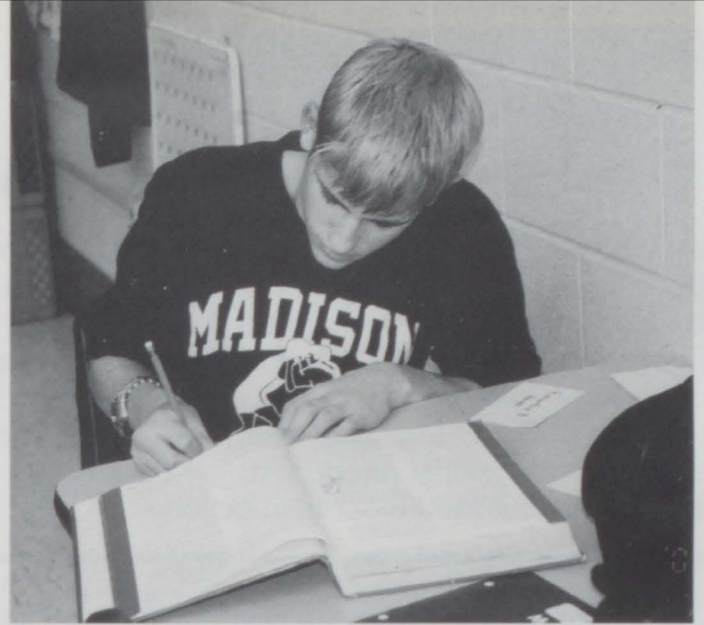

Using The News Herald as a guide, Amanda McKeever gets an idea of what to write for a newspaper article.

Justin's hard work inspired Amanda Burgess to finish her note cards.

Man on a mission, Justin Nowakowski diligently finishes up his vocabulary notecards for American History.

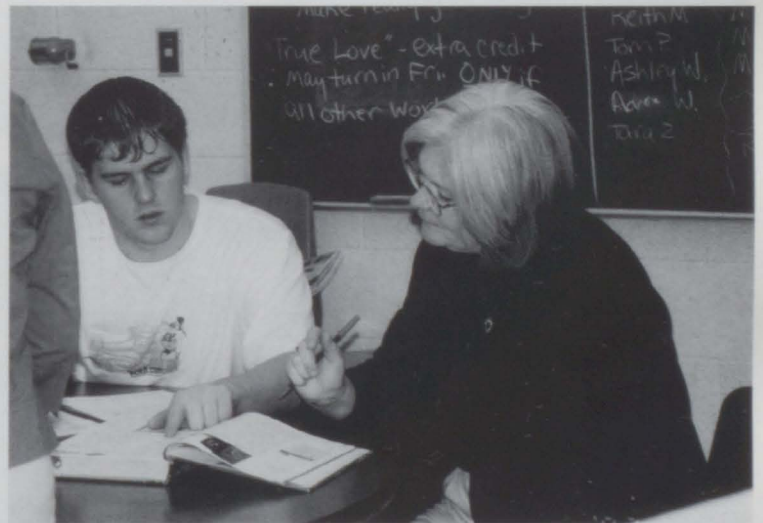

The principals helped Jason McFadden, Amanda McKeever, and Matt Deering enjoy the sunshine on a warm January day by having a fire drill.

Mrs. Funk listens intently as Anthony Gustin really gets into his explanation of what he just read out of his sophomore English book.

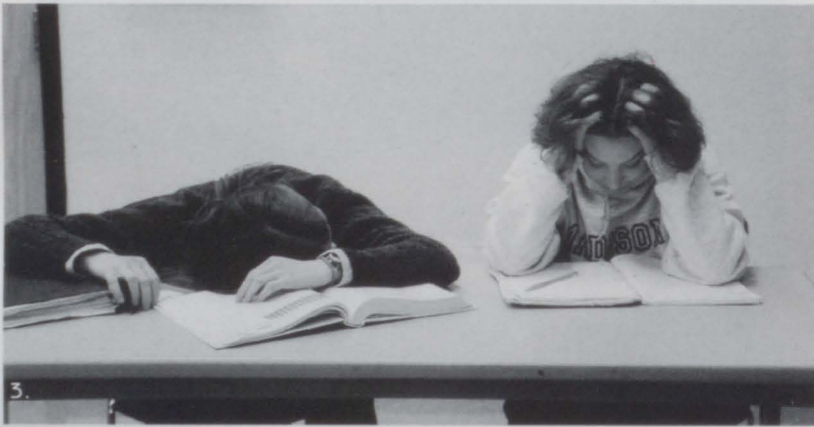

Uninspired, Bob Nye looks up for inspiration, but Mike Beach seems to know what to write about next.

Damian Dicken gets a little help from Mrs. Westfall on his science project.

The Out of Towners...

Many students here at MHS take advantage of all the educational opportunities that are offered. Auburn and the post-secondary options are perfect examples of this. The post-secondary option lets upperclassmen choose between many community colleges such as Lakeland, Lake Erie, and the Kent-Geauga. Auburn is a goal-oriented career school. This school teaches basic skills needed to pursue future professions. We caught some of the students in action.

1. Mr. Mechanic, Jay Judy, shows off to his teacher by showing him his car skills.
2. Boys and their toys! Chad Russell and Kale Burnheimer hope to one day have such a massive variety of tools, just like the ones they are holding.
3. Ever wonder what college is like? Brittany Howard and Sara Goda seem to be concentrating really hard on their assignments.
4. Bridging the gap between college and high school these students challenge themselves to be part of the post-secondary program.
5. Playing around! Jen Kampi, seems to be having fun while watching the children at Auburn's very own Child Care Center.

6. Beauty expert, Jennifer Manus, shows how to do a perfect perm on the mannequin head.

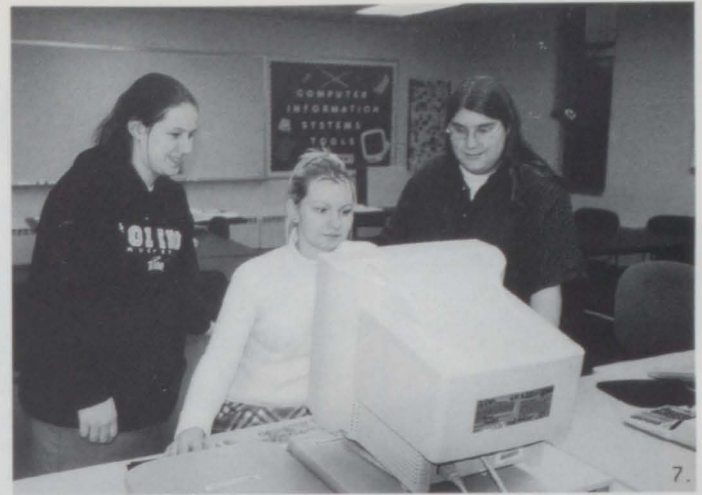

7. Whoever said all beauty, no brains obviously has never met these three lovely ladies. Megyan Pike, Crystal Gibson and Andrea Strike show off both these traits in their Auburn computer class.

8. College girl Megan Chandler, walks through the doors here at Madison High School before heading off to Lake Erie.

9. Open wide! Christina Isabella demonstrates her dental assistant skills on a fellow classmate.

10. Take the time to stop and smell the flowers. Dan Jones certainly is as he tends to some poinsettias in Auburn's horticultural lab.

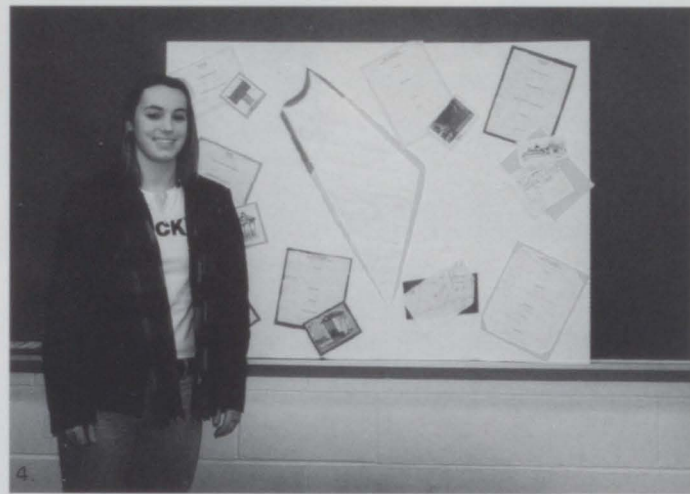

11. Welcome to the wonderful world of multimedia! Tess Polivka and Erica Dixon get ready to make some audiovisual magic.

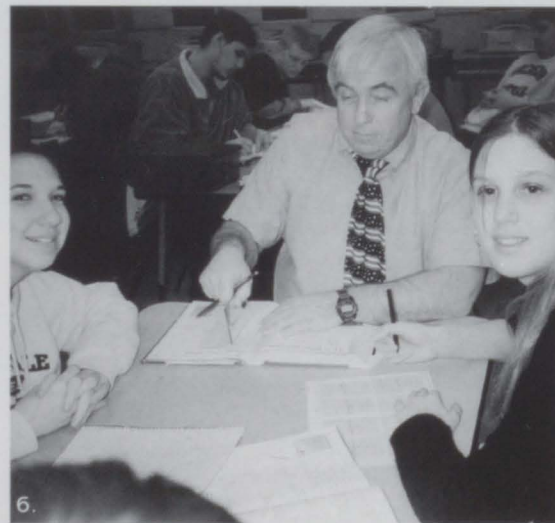

Natasha Gibson, Sarah Johnson and Danina Daughters invite everyone to play a game of holiday bingo with their little friends.

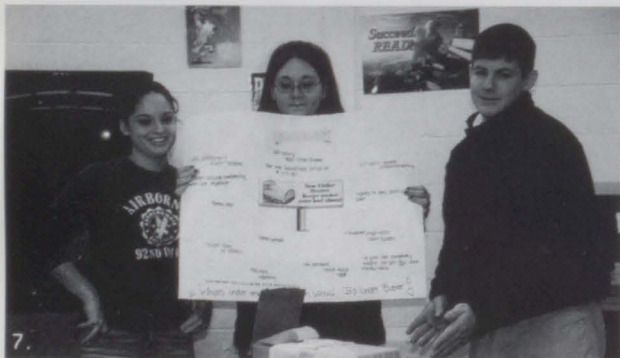

Academic Candids

1. "Spies" Josh Perkins and Jim Polivka give everyone a Mission Impossible look while running a test in Physics.
2. Feel the love. Brian Juratovic and Cindy Roberts show how much they "care" for each other in a mock trial for Ms. Bralley's class.

3. Home sweet home! Jamie Webster and Raeann Zalar work intently on their house projects for Home Furnishings.
4. Finally finished, Amber Nowakowski proudly shows off her hard work in her geometry presentation.
5. Look at the sparks fly! Dan Worrell seems to have the situation under control while he finishes up a welding assignment in metals class.
6. Mr. Hernan, a caring teacher, offers his special services in the form of help to Stephanie Vishak on her homework in his Algebra I class.
7. Showing off their creativity, these freshmen, Nicole Chernikoff, Amanda Shepherd, and Aaron Knight, tell the world, or at least their English class, about their Under Buster, a product that stores everything under your bed neatly.

5. Art pays off. Mr. Fisher congratulates Jon Ostanek on his award-winning design as he hands him a $600 check.
6. Enjoying the refreshments at the Freshman Awards Banquet, Derek Oelbracht, Kristin Rediger, and Sarah Eland celebrate their well-earned reward.

Beyond the Spotlight

This year the Madison High School play directors, Miss Nicole Groah and Miss Kerri Marcy, chose a play that allowed all of the cast members a time to shine. Each individual cast member in their musical, School House Rock Live! shined with their vocal or dancing talents. This musical also offered a lot of roles which was perfect for the Madison High School's musical and drama department because they have a very large group of talented students. The songs in School House Rock Live! consisted of many energetic and educational songs such as "Conjunction Junction" and "I'm Just a Bill." Co-director Marcy showed her satisfaction of the play by saying, "For such a large cast, cooperation was very important and they should be proud of themselves for putting on such an awesome play."

1. All coming together, the directors, the cast, and the stage crew that put together the 2002 musical, School House Rock Live, capture the moment of being together.
 2. Far out!! Senior Ashley Dorr performs her solo while Kristen Andres shows off some of her groovy moves.
 3. Getting all tongue tied, Rachel Klimkowitz realizes that she can use pronouns for really long names.
 4. Riding in style, Joe Kuhlman captures everyone's attention when he explains the functions of conjunctions.
 5. Waiting to become a law, the bill played by Amy Findak, fills the crowd with tears of laughter.

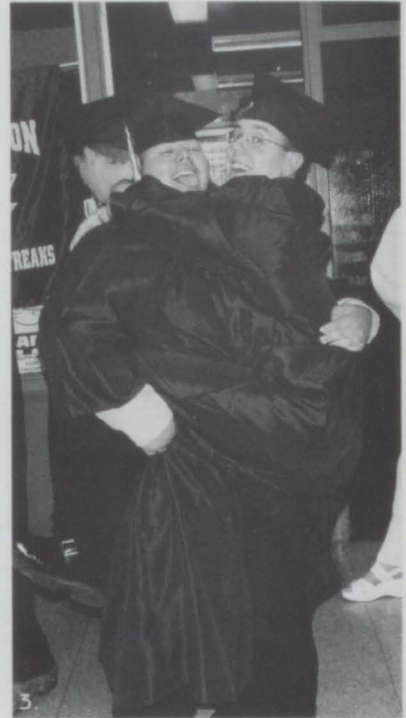

6. Taking control, Senior Colleen O'Leary, leads the puzzled Matt Gehring for a stroll across the stage.
 7. With the help of Ashley Dorr, Amy Findak, Colleen O'Leary, Audrey Leonard, and Sandy Tobul, Brandon Lichtinger learns the roles of taking care of a baby.
 8. Ouch!! Junior Josh Dean shows his endurance by counting upside-down.
 9. These guys like to go shopping for adverbs in style.

Senior Class of 2002 Takes Their First Step Beyond the Blue...

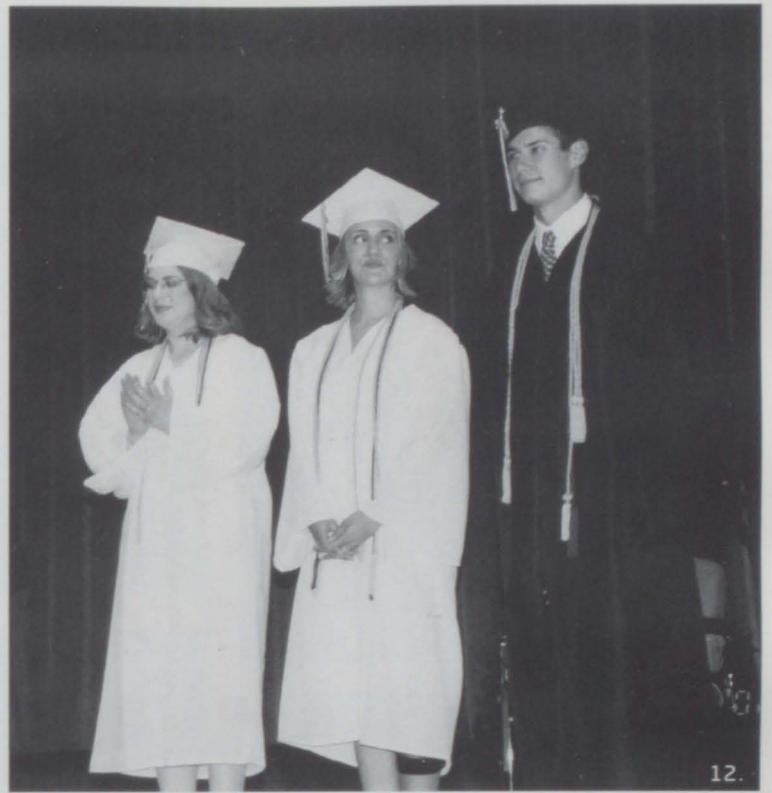

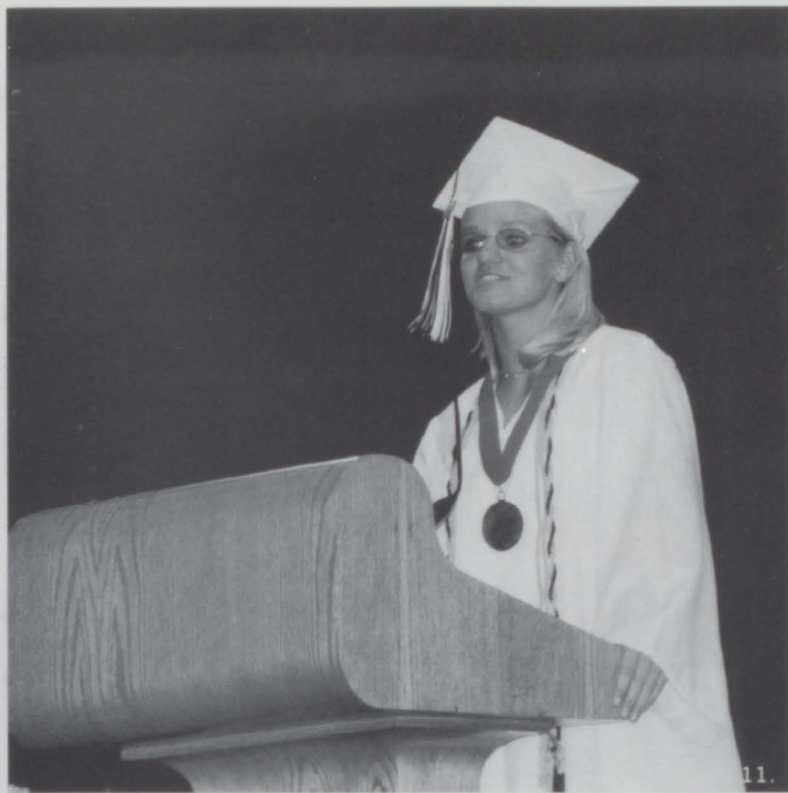

1. Erika Gibbon, Sarah Goda, Lindsay Hall, and Sarah Hanson file in to take a seat and wait for the ceremony to get started.
2. Sandy Tobul chimes in the graduation tunes.

3. Don't let me go! Dan Quayle doesn't want to ever let go of Nick Seibert.
4. Anticipating the throwing of their hats, the seniors cheer at the end of graduation.
5. Keith Arietta holds his youngest guest before the ceremony.
6. Finally able to walk across the stage, the World War II Veterans get ready to receive their diplomas.
7. Ashley Dorr steps up to perform her solo.
8. Laura Fussaro waves to her guests.

9. Lindsey Gauntner, Dan Rediger, and Megan Campbell stand in the cafeteria after the ceremony.
10. "Lean on Me," sang the seniors in the choir for the last time.

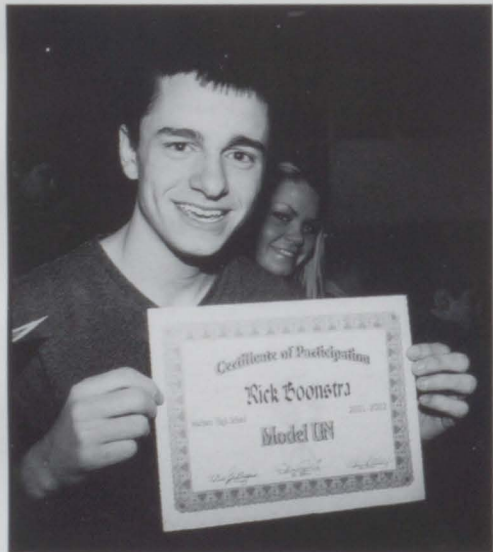

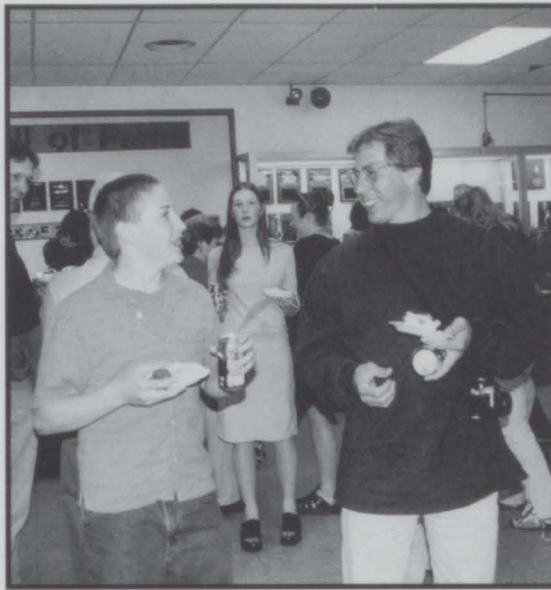

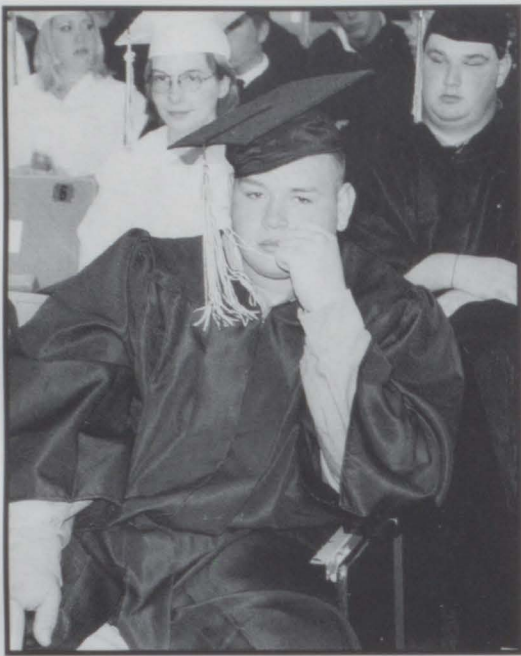

11. Valedictorian Wendy Lang, staying true to her character, gives her lighthearted, down-to-earth speech.

12. Tri-salutatorians, Jenny Anderson, Kristen Meiers, and Jon Ostanek, stand on stage humbly taking in their applause.

13. As usual, Aaron Balaban and Nathan Balaban, don't seem to be taking things seriously.
14. Anneli Curnock, Mary Beth Daley, and Amber Davis don't really understand which side to flip their tassels, so they just keep it neutral.

15. Steve Milberg, Jason Miller, Jon Ostanek, and Mike Whipple have a little guy moment before leaving.
16. Bittersweet moment, Ashley Lang and Erin Bonnema hold their flowers and each other.

Coloring in the Lines

Freedom

◀ "When adversity strikes us, God strengthens us."

Pride

◀ "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country," Corey Kozan quotes J.F.K.

Unity

◀ "United we stand," Jessica Bright & Kathy Casto say they think that the country is more united than ever.

Justice

◀ "There is nothing wrong with patriotism; however, I think too many Americans are allowing themselves to be blinded by it so that they make foolish statements about giving up their liberties."

Equality

1. These shirts, designed by Jeff Grier and Tom Hernan, have been sold to raise money to aid all of those affected by the disaster in New York. The shirts have traveled over seas and even appeared in the crowds of the Winter Olympics this year.

2. Sewn in remembrance of the blood and the tears shed and the lives lost, this quilt, made by Daniella Munnally, displays pictures of the aftermath of 9/11 and inspirational quotes.

Embroidered on the top is a square that reads "In Loving memory of those who died on September 11, 2001."

3. "God Bless America!" is what the front window of the Family Dollar Store reads soon after the tragedy of Sept. 11, 2001.

4. How's this for war paint Osama? Painted in red, white, and blue, Eric Koppenhoffer and Mike Fade take their football spirit and elevate it to the level of American patriotism by displaying the design of the flag.

5. Even the lunch ladies decide to "spice up" their wardrobes with a little star-spangled fashion this year by accenting their usual white uniforms with the red, white, and blue starred and striped aprons.

Dreaming in Red, White, and Blue: Reaching For the Stars...and Stripes

Only in America are We Free to express ourselves

America takes the phrase "dreaming in color" a couple of steps, or one giant leap, further than any other nation. Here in the 'land of the free and the home of the brave' you are what you make yourself. Dreams are as big as the dreamer dreams them. We possess the opportunities and mental materials to become anything that we aspire, or to do almost anything that we wish, and we choose our paths in life like few other countries are able to. The reason for this is our near obsession with protecting our personal freedoms, that we often take for granted until they are threatened. On September 11, 2001, the country was shaken as the imaginary bubble of safety and comfort was busted. As the Twin Towers crumbled down, America's defense and sense of patriotism began to soar. While Washington worked overtime to prevent another attack and to pursue those responsible for the 11th, the American people went to work reintroducing the stars and stripes of the American Flag to the everyday lives of the public. In support of the government's decisions concerning the war on terrorism, citizens displayed the nation's colors, flag, and inspirational quotes on anything that they could get their hands on: billboards, store windows, cars, or even their own bodies. Each individual's expression of their patriotism is as unique as the country in which they take pride.

Walking in a Winter Wonderland...

No, it's not time for Christmas carols!! This was the theme for the second annual winter formal, "Winter Wonderland." Madison High School's Key Club successfully sponsored this formal. The cafeteria was completely remodeled with cuddly polar bears and friendly snowmen. A beautiful gazebo was placed in the center of the dance floor, and stars were hung that lit up the room.

This year's senior court consisted of Mike Whipple, Josh Ozbeytemur, Brian Byrnes, Heather Harper, Kelly Mathews, William Fedele, Laila Farhood, and Nichole Nowakowski. It was tough to pick only two representatives for the junior class, so they elected four by a tied vote. The representatives were Molly Gehring, Charlie Gorman, Heather Britton, and Kitt Lashley. The sophomore representatives included Bridget Clough and Brandon Lichtinger. Last, the freshmen class was represented by Justine Harper and Alex Harper.

Many people enjoyed the atmosphere. "This was a great opportunity to enjoy a night out with your friends doing something out of the normal," said Sophomore Rachael Haury. Juniors Alex Hearn and Brandon Granger expressed their feelings in their own language by saying, "It was thou earnest experience to dine with thyn acquaintances and accompany them to the ball. The night was full of many joys and we proceeded home as happy boys." In translation they had a great time going out to dinner and had fun with their friends at the dance. Unfortunately the night had to end, but the memory will last forever.

1. Laila Farhood and William Fedele dance to O'town's "All or Nothing" as their king and queen dance.
2. Choo! Choo! Here comes the train led by Dan Rediger as Alex Hearn and Kitt Lashley create a tunnel.
3. Say Cheese!! The winter formal court gathers together for one more group shot. 4. No Boys allowed!! Sara Blake, Lindsay Schmid, Rachel Klimkowicz, and Amanda Titman have a girls' night out at the Winter Formal.

5. Check out these stylish guys sporting their NEW attire. Kitt Lashley, Charlie Gorman, Chris Zundel and Chris Anderson take time to strike a pose before they go bust a move.
 6. All eyes are on Laila Farhood as she is crowned "Snow Queen."
 7. Senior Dan Watts shows off his individual style.
 8. What's for dinner? Juniors Rachel Klimkowicz, Katelyn Orris, Karla Kershaw, and Courtney Peine go out for dinner at Ponderosa before they dance the night away.
 9. "I need a break," says Sophomore Rachael Haury. Junior Chris Zundel carries tired little Rachael off the dance floor.

A Night Spent Beyond the Gates of a Secret Garden

Welcome to the Secret Garden, this year's prom theme. Every year students enter into a different type of fantasy created for one night of magical memories, but this year students walked into a completely new set of doors. The doors belonged to the LaMalfa Party Center. Although the tickets were more expensive, many students agree that it was well worth it. In addition to the extra space, the food and dancing seemed to excel over passed years, & by the stroke of 12:00 dresses and tuxes were put away, replaced by the after-prom party get up.

Beyond These Walls...

These students show us what they like to do outside of school.

1.

1. MerryChristmas! Erika Gibbon, Jessica Mickle, Bethany Nahm, Shannon Payne, Sarah Nagy, and Jacklyn Mix celebrate the holiday season at Bethany's house over Winter Break.

2.

2. Trying to break the steer in, Tony Mandato and David Spisak work on Tony's farm in Concord.

3. Feel the rhythm! Feel the rhyme! Get on up! It's bobsled time! Nick Verdi, Chris Anderson, and Chris Zundel practice for the 2002 Olympics.

4. Not even a Kmart employee, Sophomore Jason Verdi welcomes customers just for fun.

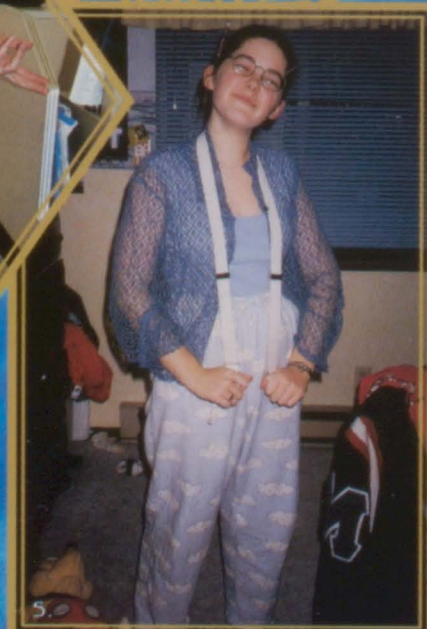

3.

5. Surprise! Jacklyn Mix shows her intelligent side in a picture that she didn't know was being put in the yearbook.

6. Experiencing some American culture, Jimena Sanchez Mejorada- Arias, Shqipe Mjekiqi, and Camilla Camargo try on hats at Spencers in the Great Lakes Mall. They later got in trouble!

Getting a Glimpse at a Future Career

Did you find the perfect job for you?

"After doing my senior project at North Madison, I have decided that teaching is definitely the career I want to go into."
 -Heather Harper

"Yes. I had a good experience learning what teaching is about and I loved being with the kids."
 -Eric Koppenhofer

"My great experience at North Madison showed me that teaching is what I want to do."
 -Kelly Mathews

"When it comes to education yes, but I am going into history education instead of elementary education."
 --Ed Bates

After a month of hard work, the seniors get honored. Assistant Principal Doug Hitchcock gives Brandon Drain a plaque to reward him for his achievement.

During senior project, students are given a mentor to guide them. Ron Brehm's mentor was Chief Ed Matty from the Madison Village Police Department.

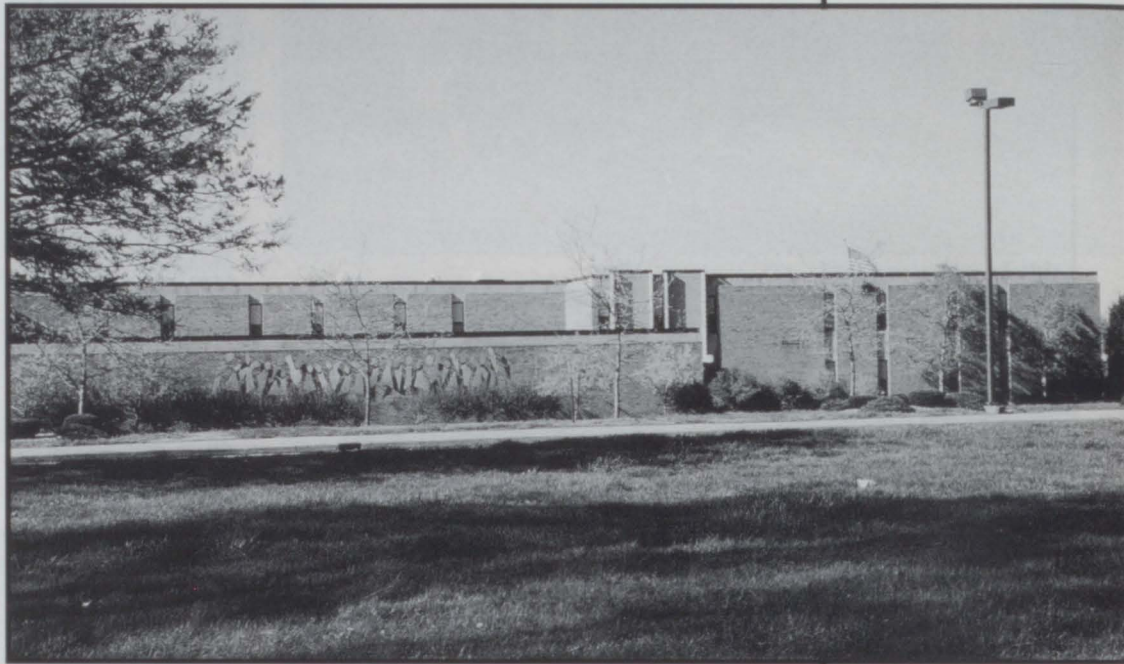

Gena Fuchs was worried if she would like working at a pre-school. She explained during her presentation that she ended up absolutely loving it!

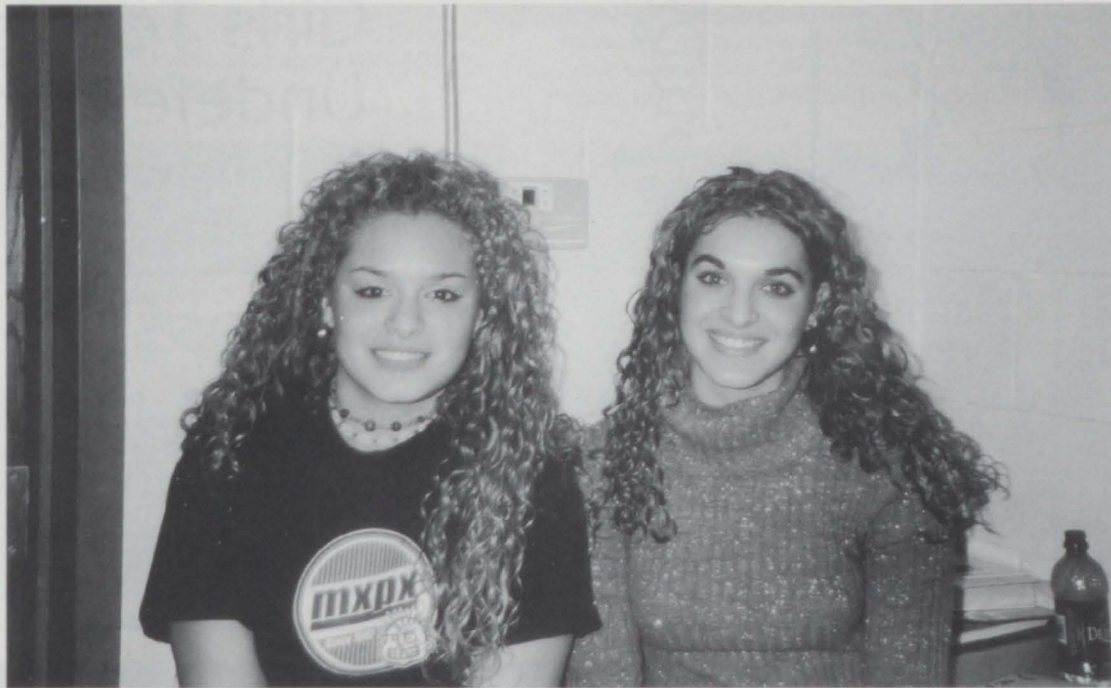

Ready to share their career knowledge. Tina Burkhammaer and Meghan Campbell are all prepared to give their senior project presentations.

To Gena Fuchs

As a little girl you were always by my side. Full of questions, "Where does the white go when the snow melts?" Witty answers, "The worms eat it!" As your quest continues, miles may separate us, but know that I will always be by your side.
Love, Mom

To Jessica Bender

Jessica,
Congratulations on your graduation! You have filled our lives with joy. We are proud of the women you have become. We wish you a life full of love, joy and happiness. We love you,
Dad and Mom

To Ed Battes

Dear Ed,
We're so very proud of you. Good luck at O.U. God bless you always.
Love, Pa, Nana, Mom, Mexi, and Kuchen

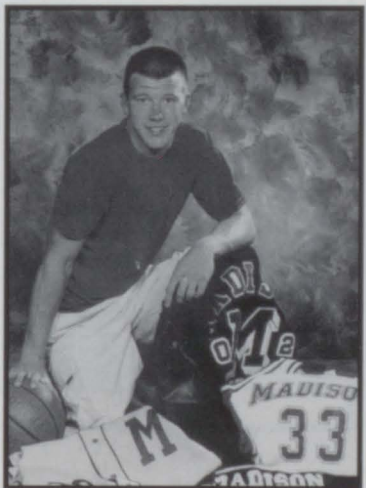

To Dan Watts

Congratulations Dan!
You are a true gift from God and it is an honor to be your parents. Remember, you are the light of the world. Keep shining! You will have our love and support wherever life may lead you. We love you very much! Dad and Mom

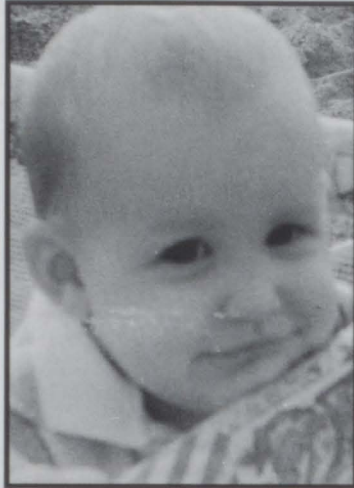

To Brian Craig

Brian,
Words cannot describe how proud we are of you! All of your hard work and dedication has paid off! Good luck at Houghton. Both in the classroom and on the court, you're a success!
Love,
Mom and Dad

to Tyler Gerard

Tyler- You have always approached life with an amazing reckless abandon: Continue to do so. We know that God has fabulous plans for you and we are excited to watch it all unfold. Continue to live by Romans 12:12 - That's you "2."
W.L.Y. So much -M. and D.

to Bonnie Bray

You are the joy of our lives. We are so proud of your accomplishments, but mostly the person you are. We'll miss having you around the house. We wish you health, happiness, and success. Keep smiling.
Love, Mom and Dad

to Kristen Meiers

From the first moment we knew you, you were loved. You have exceeded our expectations and have grown into the wonderful person we know. Your course is set. Stay true to it.
Love, Mom and Dad

to Ray King

Ray,
From the moment you were born you have brought so much joy to our lives. Always keep your special sense of humor and your quick smile. We love you and wish you the best.
Love, Mom, Dad, and Greg

Is There Life After Beyond the Blue?

We hope so!

When the 2001-2002 yearbook staff met for the first time in the fall of 2001, they were filled with uncertainty. Their fearless leader of many years, Ms. Kathy Jackson, was no longer heading up the staff. They did not know what to expect from their new advisor, Ms. Julie Thurston. However, they just had to put aside their fears and get to work. The first order of business was the theme and "Beyond the Blue in 2002" was chosen. Then they had to learn the yearbook program, EliteVision, (or at least be updated on the new version of it). Old members helped new members and soon the staff was on its way to putting together a great book. The fonts were chosen and it was decided that the headlines and subheads be put in Calligrapher and the body copy and captions put in Nouveau Gothic. The staff began interviewing people, taking pictures, writing copy, organizing pictures and notes, designing pages, revising, editing and proofing. The books went on sale at the school at a cost of $57.12 plus tax and the fee for the Yearbook Processing Center, which markets the book.

Overall, the year went well. Many people gave us their help. Mr. Fisher offered us advice. The custodians and secretaries put up with our many requests, as did many of the teachers, parents, coaches, and other staff. Several teachers took pictures for us including Ms. Kavoulakis, Mrs. Collins, Ms. Bralley, Mrs. Gilligan, Ms. Marcy, Ms. Jackson, and Ms. Zupp. Also, many people brought in pictures for us of themselves for the pages dedicated to student and teacher life outside of these walls. Mrs. Morgan was actually the most enthusiastic about this idea and never stopped giving us pictures, some of which the faculty tried to get back! Most importantly, though, Ms. Jackson gave us the most help. She always answered our questions and even came over to the room to help us. We really could not have put the book out without her.

Well, the pages got done finally thanks to the dedicated staff members, some of whom even came in the summer, and the committed editors. A special thanks to these editors and staff members who went above and beyond what was expected of them to help a first-year yearbook advisor survive her first year! They kept her organized, enthusiastic, and sane! Now all that is left is deciding what to do with our free time this summer and getting ready for next year's book!

< Stealing much of the headlines were the events on and after Sept. 11th. More than 3,000 people lost their lives at the twin towers of the World Trade Center, the Pentagon and aboard the four hijacked commercial airliners. Also getting the spotlight were the rescue workers and volunteers who were recognized by all Americans as heroes. Sadly, it also marked the end of R&B sensation Aaliyah, another one of the Beatles' fab four, George Harrison, and legendary comedian, Jack Lemmon. <

VIGILS

An outpouring of emotion was expressed from coast to coast by a nation in mourning.

FUND-RAISING

Our nation's youth displayed to the world their patriotism and compassion by donating blood and raising monetary contributions in a number of creative ways for the victims and their families.

< After Sept. 11, sitcoms offered plenty of laughs. "Undeclared" centered on quirky college roommates faced with the freedoms of being away from home for the first time. The bewitching comedy, "Sabrina," conjured up strange changes as she became a college sophomore. "Gilmore Girls" explored the odd relationship between a mom with a heart of a teenager and a teenage daughter that acts like an adult. "Angel" used its dark humor to reveal the twists and turns of a vampire avenger in L.A. <

> NEW SITCOMS > "Scrubs" puts a wildly inventive and hilarious spin on hospital life. Instead of assaulting viewers with jokes, "Bernie Mac's" life unravels in unexpected, offbeat ways while he raises his sister's kids.

< As with everything else, it was a strange year for music. How else can you describe the success of the soundtrack "O Brother, Where Art Thou?" and Michael Jackson's less than "Invincible" return as the King of Pop? But that didn't stop 'N Sync, Britney Spears, Usher and the like from commanding the airwaves. Country music got a kick from Tim McGraw who was named CMA Entertainer of the Year, while ears couldn't get enough of newcomer Alicia Keys' "Songs in A Mirror." >

< It was another blockbuster year in Hollywood. "Pearl Harbor's" stunning special effects were a big hit. Singer Mandy Moore teamed up with Shane West in a sweet, idealistic love story that brings out the young romantic in everyone. Speaking of true love, young and old fell head over heels for "Shrek." Also in the field of computer-generated optical illusion, "Final Fantasy" proved to be another artistic masterpiece. In contrast, Angelina Jolie brought the video game "Tomb Raider" to life, transforming into the tough archaeologist/adventurer Lara Croft. <

< Technology continues to evolve at dizzying speeds. More compact and personal, mp3 players are killing the portable CD star. Now, CDs and mp3 files ripped off the net can be transported from the PC to your ears anywhere you go. Not to mention, portable DVD players let you catch your favorite movies on the run. Dean Kampen also unveiled the Segway Human Transporter that totally reinvents the wheel. Apple is changing the way people view technology with a new iMac designed around a 15-inch LCD flat screen. Amazing. <

> VIDEO GAME SYSTEMS > Microsoft's Xbox went head-2-head against Nintendo's GameCube and Sony's PS2 for control of the multibillion dollar game console market. Each delivers speed combined with graphically rich gaming environments that further blur the line between virtual and actual reality.

< What were the haute fashion trends? For starters, low-rise jeans were in. And credit Madonna for causing people to switch from the baseball cap to the tattered, straw cowboy hat. The look changed after Sept. 11. People showed their true colors with the return of Old Glory and by wearing "I Love NY" t-shirts. The hair: rough, tumbled and tousled emerged to contrast elegant styles for a balanced look. For zooming around, let's not forget the shoes. >

The world's best assembled to compete at Salt Lake City. New events included the skeleton, where athletes steered their sleds headfirst. Women's bobsleigh was also seen for the first time. Five events were even added to nordic combined and shortened from two-day to one-day races. Plus, the 1500-meter short-track speed skating was unveiled. In snowboarding, the giant slalom was replaced by the parallel giant slalom as snowboarders raced head-2-head in a single-elimination format.

> Recapping a few sports highlights: the thrill of getting a 22-year monkey off Ray Bourque's back made the Avs' 3-1 championship victory over the Devils extra sweet. And let's not forget the World Series where the Dbacks (after losing two dramatic games in extra innings to the Yankees) claimed the championship with a 3-2 win in game seven. His Airness also returned to the hardwood, this time sporting 23 on a Wizards' jersey during the 2002 All-Star Game.<

<SUPER BOWL XXXVI <The preseason favorite Rams with their high-powered offense and revamped defense clashed with the underdog Patriots lead by football mastermind, coach Belichick. The outcome: 20 to 17 with the New England Patriots kicking the game-winning field goal as time expired.

>X-GAMES >Are these dudes nuts, or what? X-treme athletes performed daunting, gravity-defying moves. Adults watching ESPN hoped their kids never try this at home.
