After graduating from Madison High, Renee Knight decided to be "Army Strong." Renee is going into the Army National Guard. She started her training during the school year at a Jefferson base.

Alec Richmond decided to join the Navy and specialize in Cryptological Collection, Here, he will work with computers and "hack" into them for legal use. He leaves for eight weeks of boot camp on August 6, 2007 in Great Lakes, Illinois and then will travel to Pensacola, Florida for seventeen weeks of training.

Trisha Nolan's path will take her to The Ohio Center for Broadcasting. This school will help her become more familiar with the camera that she has grown to love. She wants to go here because she has a passion for the art of film.

There must be a "storm" coming. Stephanie Zalar will be creating a "storm" by attending Lake Erie College and majoring in Early Childhood. The decision to attend Lake Erie College was simple because it was close to home and yet it still will be enough of a challenge to accomplish things on her own.

Three Steps to Planning A Road Trip Step Two: Step Three: Step One:

Where you are going?

Plan a budget.

Have fun!

Google, MapQuest, a travel agent or past experiences, if you don't know where you are going then your road trip won't budget may be the most imhappen. Make sure your chosen destination is reasonable and can fit into your budget. Also, think of what you want to do. Do you want to focus on sight seeing, lounging at the pool, outdoor activities, or spending time with friends. If your destination does not match your needs, then you may No one wants to come home have a bad time. Who wants hitchhiking or hidden in a to be miserable on a road trip? train car so plan accordingly.

Cash, traveler's checks, credit cards, money from the couch, or a summer job, planning a portant thing you do on a road trip. Even if you go to the fanciest restaurants and see the most spectacular things, not knowing if you can budget in a flat tire, dead battery, road tolls, snacks or extra gas could put a major road block into your road trip.

MP3 player, iPod cell phone, digital camera, video camera, portable DVD player, friends, books on CD or magazines, what will make your road trip fun? No one wants to go on a horrible road trip, so double check your list. Whether your adventure is a one-day road trip to Cedar Point, a weekend trip to Put-in-Bay, or a week long getaway to Daytona Beach, enjoy the adventure!

Road Trip Delays

road trip can get delayed for many reasons: a wrong turn, construction, car problems, and weather. This summer showed that Mother Nature can do some crazy things. The community of Madison and many other parts of Ohio suffered from devastating flooding during the month of July. Roads were closed, bridges were crushed, culverts overflowed and extensive flooddamagewasreported. People were digging out of destroyed basements months after the flood waters receded. As your road trip begins this school year, what obstacles are you going to let affect your success? Will you be able to find an appropriate detour to help you reach your success?

The Giant Eagle parking lot located off of Route 20 could not handle all the rain water in July. Giant Eagle suffered extensive flood damage and was closed for several days.

Arcola Creek busts its limit as it overflows onto Hubbard Road between Valvoline Express and Joey's Italian Grill.

This barn shed located on the culde-sac of Meadowood Boulevard in Square's Acres shows the magnitude of the flooding this summer.

One's High school experience is more than what happens in the class-noom. Like a road trip it's not about what happens in the car but more about the people you meet and the places you go. For students at Madison, Student life is driven by everyone's individual social avenue.

Finding the Treasure 2006 Homecoming Assembly

The fun and excitement of the 2006 Homecoming set sail once the senior class voted for their court, and didn't end until they reached their destination- Treasure Island, Homecoming 2006. Right from the beginning, the assembly had a Treasure Island vibe about it. The ladies of the court made a grand entrance into the gym as they were carried on wooden chairs to their partners who waited for them on stage. Energy levels were kept high as the band played their signature "Heavy Metal Jam" on the trash cans along with the chants from the cheerleaders, then the court took center stage. Couples Alex Ungers and Emily Nemanic, Scotty Evans and Tara Nebraski, Aaron Byers and Mallory Zehe, Corbin Lichtinger and Alyssa Judd and Alex Dulac and Megan Auciello participated in a Fear Factor style relay race. The race consisted of the boys walking on stilts, then the girls "walking the plank", followed by the infamous hamster ball, and ending with the girls fishing through tanks full of noodles to find a trinket. The assembly concluded with a tug-of-war competition over a pool of slime. Being good sports, every member of the court got slimed. However, the enthusiasm didn't end there. On Friday, October 6, 2006, the ladies of the court received their glory. Each one took a memorable walk across the track with their parents, in front of a stadium packed with fans. As the sun begantosetandthestadiumlightsflooded the field, the anticipation built. The roar of crowd hushed as they waited to hear who last year's Queen, Kristina Romano, would crown. And with no further delay Alyssa Judd was crowned Madison High School's 2006 Homecoming Queen. With the homecoming festivities well under way, the football team took the field, ready for the big game. For the class of 2007, Homecoming 2006 will be one they will treasure for years to come.

Homecoming Dance

aturday, October 7, 2006, was pure Blue Streak celebration. Over 800 students enjoyed the evening which began at seven o'clock. Students partied island style in the transformed cafeteria until eleven. Planned by the senior class, they paid careful attention to detail to create the island vibe. While helping coordinate the dance, senior class advisors Mrs. Meshginpoosh and Mrs. Collins were able to surprise everyone with a showing of "Pirates of the Caribbean" in the gym on the big screen. Each student began their evening by finding their own piece of treasure in the form of beaded jewelry or a pirate eye patch. A thatched roof tiki hut marked the entrance to the once drab cafeteria that had been transformed into an island paradise. All these events lead up to the climax of the evening, the crowning of the 2006 Homecoming King, Corbin Lichtinger.

Junior Brad Morrison and senior Sam Perkins make their entrance into the Island Oasis as they pass through the tiki hut.

Is this a scene from "Pirates of the Caribbean?" No, it's seniors Kevin Hegarty, Garrick Brant, and Scott Epple attempting to capture the heart of Elizabeth Swan.

Having fun at their first homecoming, these freshmen look great in their formal wear and smiles.

Juniors Jessica Raico and Sonya Tilley enjoy their time in Treasure Island before going back to the dance floor. Working up a sweat, senior Alan Miller, and juniors Nick Vaidean and Cory Meek take a breather to

On a "Role"

The Drama Department Takes Two

he MHS Drama Department started off a busy year with the production of the fall play entitled "Agatha Rex." It is based off the Greek myth "Antigone". Agatha Rex is a star student and the perfect role model at Thebes High. Her brother Elliot is a good student and the basketball star. Her other brother Paul, however, is a trouble maker and known for breaking the rules. Both brothers decide to pierce their ears, which is, of course, against the school rules. Paul is suspended while Elliot just has to write an essay. Realizing the injustice done, Agatha decides to take action and right the wrong. The fall play was simply at teaser for the drama department though. During the cold winter months, the drama department began preparing for the annual one acts, which were performed February 9-10.

The 2007 selections included "Sure Thing", "Kitty the Waitress", and "Overtones". The only student director this year was junior Andi Anaya, taking on the production of "Sure Thing". Her cast consisted of sophomore Caitlin Rose and senior Kevin Hegarty. "Kitty the Waitress" starred seniors Heather Helms, Aaron Byers and Corbin Lichtinger, along with junior Liz Fako. They were under the direction of Ms. Kathy Jackson. The show ended with the performance of "Overtones", which starredseniorKatjaRyabsteva, juniorLiz Nunnally, sophomore Amy Mihalik and freshman Myrissa Yokie. The variety of shows were a success and provided the Madison students and community with another great night of entertainment.

Freshman Linda Tomajko's character debates whether to take a stand for what she feels is right, or to remain silent among the crowd.

Members of the chorus watch the action on stage, while pondering their fate as students at Thebes High.

Dr. Creon, played by senior Aaron Byers, lectures Paul and Elliot (seniors Anthony Wells and Kevin Hegarty) about the importance of following the rules.

Harriet, also known as senior Katja Ryabsteva, listens to Hetty, her inner self, played by sophomore Amy Mihalik.

Margaret, played by junior Liz Nunnally, reveals her true feelings through Maggie, her inner self played by freshman Myrissa Yokie.

The cast of "Kitty the Waitress" poses for a quick picture before going on stage.

After the trouble caused by a hypocritical punishment, senior Ken Holcomb's character aids Agatha Rex in standing for what is right.

Masquerade Winter Formal

n Saturday, February 24, 2007, MadisonHigh School students attended the annual Winter Formal. Masquerade, sponsored by Key Club. Over 280 students were in attendance, many being seniors celebrating one last memory at MHS, as well as many freshmen creating their own high school memories. One such memory was the crowning of seniors Zach Wachs and Natalie Green as King and Queen of the masked ball. "It was more fun then anything and it was a great experience," said Wachs. As the magical night came to a close, students removed their masks and returned to reality, but each kept their special memories hidden behind a mask from the rest of the world.

Seniors Robert Coolbaugh, Ken Holcomb, Stephanie Miller, and Sarah Bevan take a breather to get something to drink after the court is announced.

Controlling the dance floor, sophomores Will West, Robert Braidich, Drew Paramore, Nathan Johnson, and former Madison student Taylor Johnson take off their masks and share their moves while having a terrific time. According to West, he simply wants to "keep it real." While Braidich demands, "Get out of my way!"

Technical support for the dance comes from seniors Hannah Gerlosky and Trisha Nolan who are having a good time while they video tape for the Madison Television Channel 29.

Having a wonderful time together, juniors Chris Walter, Shawn Hoefert, and sophomore Amber Nicastro stop to capture this moment during the dance. Amber reflects excitedly, "I had a great time at the dance."

Destination Urinetown MHS Musical

nroutethroughthe2006-2007 schoolyear, Madison students and staff took a pit stop at another point of interest. On May 18-20, drama students and director Nicole Groah made a production of "Urinetown," a play about a twenty year drought that causes the government to take some drastic and inhumane actions. "I felt that "Urinetown the Musical" was the best musical to date," said Groah. "The students involved really 'got it' and did a fabulous job." The play, despite its odd title, was received very well by the students and audience members. The actors brought their characters to life throughout the show, and the overall stage production was done in a professional manner, making

"Urinetown" an enjoyable evening. Crowd favorites consisted of "It's A Privilege to Pee," "Cop Song," "Don't Be the Bunny," "Snuff That Girl," "Run Freedom Run," "Why Did I Listen to That Man?" and "I See a River," along with other numbers. Student's voices were featured in many of the songs, each performing at their peak. The talents of the actors at Madison High School were captured and developed to a new level. The spring musical is traditionally the last event of the school year, and with such a great production, "Urinetown" was the perfect note to end on.

Officer Lockstock (Aaron Byers) and Little Sally (Laura Lagania) narrate the upcoming scenes for the audience.

Seniors Aaron Byers, Justin Mackey, Heather Helms, Katja Ryabtseva, Korbin Lashley and Dustin Goyetche gather together one last time on Madison's stage.

Caldwell B. Cladwell, played by senior Justin Mackey, shows his daughter Hope the way to run Urine Good Company.

Hope, played by sophomore Caitlin Rose, listens to Bobby Strong's heart.

Junior Eddie Carney, playing Hot Blades Harry smiles as he sings and dances to "Run Freedom Run."

Josephine Strong (Katja Ryabtseva) expresses her feelings over the tyranny of mandating public amenities.

Ashleigh Hanzak, Sarah Derezic, and Michelle Tilley relax after dinner and anxiously await for the DJ to 'pump up the volume' and kick off Prom.

An Evening in Paris Prom 2007

his year's Prom was an evening to remember. Held at LaMafa Party Center on Heisley Road in Mentor, the Class of 2007 made their last hoorah an elegant and classy affair. Walking in to the spacious ballroom, attendees will not fail to forget the sights, sounds, and tastes of their "Evening in Paris". With each ticket came a delicious, hearty dinner with four main dishes of choice, filling sides, followed by various delectable desserts. As the night moved on, many students hit the dance floor until the end at eleven-thirty. The dance floor, however, will be one thing everyone will remember. With a record high of almost 450 students in attendance, the dance floor

"It was a tight fit," said Senior Alyssa Judd, "But I think it made it better because it was everyone literally coming together to have a great time." With the new location came new prices, the prices were raised from the price of the last three years of ninety dollars per couple at Derubertis to this year's cost of one hundred and ten dollars per couple. Even with the raised costs of Prom. Madison students still arrived looking their best. In Mrs. Battes opinion, she thought the girls this year had the prettiest and most varied dresses she had ever seen and the food was great too! "An Evening in Paris" was a night few will forget, many will cherish and all wish they could do again. The following day MHS students continued their road trip to Cedar Point for the traditional after-prom.

Stacey Minix and Josh Szekely take a breather from the dance floor to sit back and reminisce of their days in High School.

Fall sports manks a fresh start for the new school year. It's where the spirit and athletic standard is set for the rest of the year. The student athletes who competed in this years fall sports suffered great victories but also great defeats all while learning the follies of competition. Taking to the field all of these students showed their tenacity as athletes and their passion for their sport. Junior, JD Ingalls looks for the open man in the first quarter of the John Marshall game. JD had to miss big three games this season because of a MCL tear after getting sacked in the game against Lake Catholic.

In Coach Gilligan's opinion Scott Bennett was one of the best defensive players out on the field because of his versatility and his will to never quit.

Coach Martin, the new offensive coordinator, reviews a few plays with his offensive line. The coaching staff went through some changes. Mr. Gilligan became the defensive coordinator and Mr. Dragas was the new special teams coordinator.

The defensive line gets ready to tackle as Marshall tries to score some more points on the board. Marshall gives a good effort but is no match for Madison as they lose with a 53-13 loss.

ast year's losing record of 4-6 really took a toll on all the players, coaches, and even fans. But when the team took their first steps out on the field this year they didn't look back. The Varsity team came back with a fire and won four out of their first five games. They believedhardworkequalssuccessand battled through everything thrown at them this season. They did suffer some tough losses to big P.A.C rivals of South, Riverside and Chardon. Even so, Coach Willis couldn't have been more proud of his team for their dedication and their hard work, especially the seniors. The senior captains of Stephen Keates, Brad Seibert, Alex Dulac ,Scotty Evans, and Scott Bennett were all quality young men who showed their team great leadership and set the tone for the season with their work ethic and dedication. hisfalltheMadisonBlueStreak Cheerleaders had a busy season. They cheered not only at football games, but also competed at the Chardon Cheer Invitational and placed second out of five varsity squads! This all sounds great, but it didn't come without a lot of hard work. The cheerleaders had to wake up very early to practice tumbling, jumps, and new material. When the squad's coach, Ms. Garbet, was asked what their strengths were, she replied, "Tumbling, timing, sharp motions, and picking up new material. [They] work well under pressure." When she was asked what she hopes the squad will improve on for next year, she answered, "Nothing! They are one of the best squads in the area!" Overall, Ms. Garbet was very happy with the season. "They pleased the student body, faculty, and the coach. It was a great season and I enjoy it."

Welcoming spirit from the fans, sophomore Alyson Deak cheers as loudly as she can in order to help the Streaks pull off yet another amazing victory. Exhilerated by the excitement of the crowd, junior Eddie Carney and senior Megan Auciello smile brightly while cheering against Coach Willis's alma mater, Lake Catholic.

Changing Directions

Boys' Cross Country takes a New Route

he 2006 season was one of new beginnings for the boys' cross country team. With a young team and a new coach, the possibilities were unlimited. The guys displayed an attitude of wanting to improve, and a willingness to work hard for their goals. "There were lots of great kids in the program this year," said Coach Verdi. "They had a willingness to get better and never gave up on the season even though it's not the best they had ever had." Despite the rainy season and poor racing conditions, these runners held on until the very end. They had a drive and determination to improve not only individually, but also as a team. "If I could describe the team in one word, I'd say talented," said Verdi. "These guys are hard working and will be back as PAC champions in the future."

Junior Joey Teter works through the pain and stays ahead of Jefferson's runners at the Lakeside Invitational over the summer.

including distance running three to eight miles, speed work, and the weekly Friday aqua jog, these Lady Streaks were ready for any task or invitational thrown their way. Over the last five years, the Girls' Cross Country team has shown a tremendous increase in their dedication. This team worked in unison focusing on their goals.

Mr. Hanes's Comment

"My best memory from this year was Tiffin invitational because I got to see them work hard day in and day out. I will miss the seniors this year, they were good people not only good athletes but had smiling faces, dedication, and leadership."

Exhausted but exhilerated, junior Jill Dickman tries to beat her season PR of 19:59 as she crosses the finish line. She was one of the top finishers for the Girls' Cross Country team this season.

Disappointing Defeats

ven though this year's golf team wrapped up their regular season with a winning record of 9-5, they still suffered some disappointments. Last year, the team tied for second place in our conference and this year, they lost two matches by only a few strokes to PAC rival Riverside, again finishing second. Many seniors were disappointed at their last chance to regain Madison's reign as golf PAC Champions as it has been for so many years. Unfortunately, the success of the season turned into upsets during playoffs. The PAC and sectional tournaments were huge upsets for Madison, finishing only in 5th place at sectionals. Team Captain George Rimes said,"Even though we had some tough losses at the end I thought we had a good season. I was honored to be team captain and wish luck to next year's team." The five graduating seniors of George Rimes, Cory Raico, Chris Judd, Alex Taylor, and Jeremy Schneider leave the team with only three returning lettermen. Coach Hupertz believes that if three JV players step up to fill out the rest of the starting roster they will still be able to continue their competitive game and also be a possible contender for winning PAC.

he Madison Girls' Varsity Soccer team competed opponents fierce against including Riverside and Brush. At the beginning of the season, the girls beat Riverside, who were PAC contenders. Unfortunately, the MHS Girls' Soccer team suffered a tough loss the second time they challenged Riverside. Some difficulties the teamedfacedwerefillingthepositions of graduated players and finding a goalie. Although the team struggled with fulfilling these positions, senior Natalie Green said, "It was nice to have a different perspective being goalie. You got to see the field from a different angle." The team's main accomplishment was beating the Chardon Hilltoppers twice. Helping out his goalie, sophomore Adam Nemanic maintains his sweeper position as he clears the ball away from this North Ranger.

Shortage on Players But not on Spirit

ne of the most memorable highlights of the Boys' JV Soccer season was against PAC rival Riverside. The score was all tied up and both junior Greg Stewart and freshman Ian Hadley went down with injuries. The team was short on subs all season; this game being no exception, the rest of the Riverside game had to be played two players short. "The guys really showed a lot of heart and teamwork, but we lost 2-1." recalled Coach Blabolil. Injuries continued to be a road block for the junior varsity team throughout the season making it difficult to compete against teams who could sub five or six players over the course of a game. Madison was forced to play several games with one or no subs. Despite this adversity, the team focused on the fundamentals of team soccer strategy. Sophomore Drew Vince helped hold the defense together for the team while Ian Hadley and Adam Nemanic were in charge of anchoring the midfield. "I was really proud of our guys." stated Blabolil, "Many were asked to play out of position and they really came through for us."

Being fast and furious, freshman David Booth makes roadkill out of this North Ranger.

A Slow Start

Girls' JV Soccer gains momentum

ith not enough players to fill the field and a first time coach, Liz Beattie, the JV team had a rough start. Over half of the team were freshmen so Coach Beattie had her hands full, but she came prepared bringing new drills that would prepare the girls for the season that lay ahead. One drill specifically was a team obstacle course around the practice field for a full 70 minutes straight. The team worked throughout the whole season to improve themselves, even though their record did not reflect it. They had tough games against North and South that they will never forget. Supporting the varsity team, the JV girls' team then watched and cheered on the varsity team. By the end of the season, the team became a family. With a record of 2-2-2, the JV team ended their season, even though it wasn't the end of the family bond they had formed.

After a long, hard game, the girls' JV team sit to watch and cheer on the varsity team.

Not a Bump in the Road For These Tennis Teams

7th a final score of 9-8 in a tie breaker, everyone wants to come away with a victory but not all of us do. This season was great. Between tie breakers in JV and shutouts in varsity, this season was very exciting. Although the JV team had only three girls for their last tennis match, they still ended on a good note. The varsity tennis season didn't end that badly either. They ended on a good note, a victory. Even though it's not the car radio, Mr. Vidmar's singing of "Wouldn't It Be Nice" by the Beach Boys provided the girls with plenty of entertainment at practice. "Well, it depends on what song he sings," remarked Sarah Swartzwelder, "but for an eighth grade science teacher, he wasn't too shabby."

Shoot 'Em Up

Varsity Girls' Volleyball

an you dig it? The Madison Cirls' Varsity Volleyball team started its season strong by winning their first three games. Senior starter and returning letterman, Jenn Davis's key outside hitting helped contribute to this fine start. However, the rest of the season fell into an unfortunate losing slump. Despite the losses, the team developed a strong sense of communication on the court and honed in on the skills learned during the four days the team spent at summer volleyball camp at Dayton University. Pregame warm-ups included bumping, setting, and playing "pepper" followed by work to improve their hitting skills at the net. Losing two other key seniors, Samantha Perkins and Nikki Stone, the girls look to the returning starters to build momentum for the team.

Words From Coach Joslin

"I look to next season with optimism. We have four returning starters and several players who gained some experience at the varsity level although they mainly played JV. Since we kept most of the sophomore class together, the JV team was very successful as were this year's freshmen. If the freshmen and sophomores indicate anything about the future of Madison Volleyball, then the future looks bright."

JV and Freshmen Girls' Volleyball

he Madison JV Volleyball team closed its season with a winning record of 9-8. The development of team unity throughout the season led to this winning attitude. Some of this season's memories included working together as a team, never giving up, playing their hearts out, playing tag during warm-ups, wonderful goodies provided by Mrs. Pierce, and fun inside jokes contributed to the team unity. Along with this positive team attitude, some key players were sophomore Megan Boggs, an all around player and strong outside hitter, sophomore Taylor Southall an aggressive setter and passer, and junior Chelsey Hearn a middle hitter who was a blocking machine. In addition, three talented freshmen joined the junior varsity team Kate Oberstar, Sheryl Powell, and Kate Thompson.

Words From Coach Polzer

"My favorite memories were our team huddles. Whether I was saying something off the wall or one of the girls were, we always had a laugh and got fired up. Our season was the most successful this year! This team worked very well together and they had the desire and will to win! They were a joy to coach!"

"These bows are styling," says sophomore Megan Boggs, as freshman Sheryl Powell gets her ready for the big game against Chardon.

Class of 2010 Over 50% of all freshmen said that they would like to go to California if they could take a road trip while listening to "Fergalicious" (Fergie). Most freshmen would take their best friend instead of their favorite CD or digital camera. Isn't that what friends are for! Almost all of this year's freshmen would stock up at the Madison Wal-mart and talk to their friends on the phone instead of text messaging them. MHS ninth graders would like to get a Ford Mustang for their 16th birthday and then drive up to Hot Topic at the mall. Most of our freshmen would not want to go on a road trip with a teacher. However, if they had to choose somebody, they would pick Mr. and Mrs. Gilligan.

Foreign Exchange Students year's exchangestudents have traveled up to 14 hours just to get the experience of a lifetime. Marcelo Lira and Camila Esteves arrived in August from Brazil. Their countryman Yuri Oliveira joined them in January and is staying like all the exchange students for one year. Nadiya Chernysh Olha Kryvovyaz joined us from Ukraine. Ksenya Ibragimova and Samsonova Natasha flew over the ocean from Russia. From Germany, we have exchange student Christiana Mueller. Finally, Lu Liu and Eimi Mori traveledthelongestdistance from Japan to the U.S.

Lu Liu was born in China and has both Japanese and Chinese citizenship. Most of the exchange students were involved school clubs, teams and activities.

"It was very exciting and I'm very happy. I would have never expected to do so good!" - Ksenya Ibragimova She helped Madison score second place at the Kent State Math Competition by tying third with senior Scott Epple. The top five students from each school made up that school's score.

It was a season filled with passion. The boys' varsity basketball team had a complete turn around from last season winning 17 games and the PAC title. Swimming had its success in the post season with Greg Pristov breaking a school record and making it to districts. The wrestling team put forth a strong effort all season being mostly a younger team. They were still almost able to be PAC champs. The girls' basketball program also came close to winning their conference. What victories did you experience on your road trip?

Taking the ball to the hoop, junior Nic DiLillo goes up strong for another two points against South.

While in zone defense position, junior Brad Morrison and senior Dan Wolfe block the other team from passing the ball.

The boys' basketball team took a field trip on January 5, 2007, to Broadmoor School in Mentor. According to senior Alex Ungers, "It was a good experience, coming together with a bunch of schools to help the underprivileged kids and to raise their self esteem and to influence them positively."

On the Highway to Fame

Varsity Boys' Basketball

his year the Madison Boys' Varsity Basketball team began a new tradition, a winning one. Under new coaching, the team was able to come out and have 18 wins during the season while, becoming Co-PAC champs with Riverside, and winning their sectional title, two tasks that have not been accomplished since 1984. Coach Pat Moran brought with him a new attitude and instilled this "hate to lose this win set the momentum mentality" in the boys. His new approach infused the program with intense training and discipline. The boys showed up and won their first 10 games, drawing a record number of fans out to support this new team attitude. Coach Moran believes their first true victory was against Kenston, "Kenston is a quality team that won 18 games throughout the season, for the season and helped the team with an unbelievable confidence." Along with the Kenston game, the team also brought home some impressive wins that are hard to forget. The game winning shot at South, the 3-pointer from Harp against Lake Catholic, and the lay-up against Shaw that won the game at the last second by Ungers. Not only was the team impressive but Coach Moran also won awards for his coaching ability. Some of the awards are: Division I NEC District Coachof-the- Year, PAC Coach-ofthe-Year, News-Herald Coachof-the-Year. The new coach, new attitude, new approach, and hard work earned great success for the varsity team this year. Hopefully, this will be the year fans will remember as the season that started the boys basketball program on a new road, the road to success.

year's spirit section was committed supporting Basketball Boys team the crowd's phenomenal. The student section, led by the cheerleaders, were always on their feet and screaming. Along with leading the crowd, the cheerleaders competed at the Regional Cheerleading Competition at Girard High School in Pennsylvania and placed second. They also competed at Berea High School and were sadly one point short of first. The competition squad consisted of the six varsity squad members, Madi Maruna, and Alyson Deak. They were the first MHS squad to make it to Nationals in Cleveland in March where they placed fourth. Overall, the season was very successful for both the Madison basketball teams and the cheerleading squads. Madison has not seen a season like this since 1984. "The student section was outstanding; they couldn't have done any better unless they had bought more tickets," said Athletic Director Jim Pinelli. The student section at home games averaged around 250 students per game. This spirited crowd also followed the team to away games, averaging about 150 fans at away games. It was an exciting season that caught the attention of the community and student body. The crowd not only supported basketball but also the cheerleaders and pep band. The pep band is comprised of one third of the band. Each member of the band is required to attend four games; six to receive a letter. The band opened games and played at half time.

he wrestling team went into the 2006-2007 season with expectations of success. Being a mostly younger team, they knew they would have to work hard to accomplish their goal of winning the PAC title. They came in a close second behind Riverside. Coach Ryan Wirtzberger said "I was proud of the team. They wrestled well at the end of the season." Despite such disappointment, the team worked hard until the end, finishing with a respectable record. Coach Wirtzberger said it was the hardest they have ever worked. The majority of the team didn't miss a practice. Leadership was provided through the seniors who all had a great season. We can only expect great things to come from such a hard working group.

Speeding Up for Some Success

Boys' and Girls' Swimming

espite a losing record, the MHS Swim Team had some successes. The MHS Swim Team spent much time practicing and working hard to achieve their goals. This year's captains included seniors Linnea Swanson, Mallory Zehe, and Anthony Weston. Coach Tom Sill's goal was to qualify at least one swimmer for districts at Cleveland State University. Sophomore Greg Pristov helped meet Coach Sill's goal by qualifying for the district meet in the 100 yard butterfly. Top finishers throughout the season included Greg Pristov, Derek Kuester, Robert Braidich, Graham Loftus, Zach Schraufl, Jenna Mackey, and Linnea Swanson. "It was a challenging season, but we had a really great time," said Captain Anthony Weston.

Freshmen Mitchell Helms and Heather Rice have fun in their science class as they use toilet paper to measure the amount of time between different evolutionary eras.

This year, Madison sent two rocket teams to compete at the National level. "The teams made many sacrifices to make it this far," said Mr. Fick. "They did very well under the weather conditions."

Peer editing each others' research papers, sophomores Dylan Hulderman and Josh Munshower make sure their projects are just right before turning them in for English 10 CP.

Making a list and checking it twice, senior Seth Millam completes his vocabulary list for Ms. Watts' (substitute for Mrs. Vacca) British Literature class.

Looking lively to learn Literature, sophomores Bri Zavodny, Jenny Bush, and Sarah Fleischer relax before the start of Miss McManus' (substitute for Mrs. Kilpatrick) class.

Finalizing her paper, junior Ashley Covell writes the conclusion to her daily journal for American Literature.

his year at MHS was a hectic one for the English department. With three teachers on maternity leave part-way through the year, it wasn't just the new teachers who had a hard time adjusting. Junior Sonya Tilley had Literature 11 CP with Mrs. Kilpatrick. "We came back from winter break with a new teacher", she says. "At first it was a hard transition, but Mrs. McManus was really fun." These words sum up how all the students felt about the wonderful new teachers, but they also can't wait for Mrs. Bowden, Mrs. Kilpatrick, and Mrs. Vacca to come back from their own road trip!

ment CP and AP, U.S. History AP, Western Civilization, Modern Politics

Mr. Deering and Human Behavior. Projects in the social studies department included creating a business in a market economy, the supreme court case research project, and the president research project. Two guest speakers, Mr. Cassell and Judge Richard Collins, entertained the students. "The students were very open minded about Mr Cassell's illegal incident," said Mrs. Replogle. Mrs. Gilligan missed the last few weeks because of her maternity leave. And at the end of this year, Mr. Deering will be retiring after 35 years of service. The Social Studies teachers and students will all miss Mr. Deering. "Mr. Deering was a great role model, friend and colleague." said Mr. Gilligan.

Brittany Ortiz tries the "tasty" caviar in International Club on September 22. Her reaction shows what many kids are thinking about languages, a little bit too different for me!

Foreign Languages at MHS

If you want to take a road trip, you're at the right school. At MHS, we have several different languages that can be useful for your trip. Señora Battes, Señorita Busse and Señora Bekhechi are teaching Spanish. Madame Bekhechi is also teaching French and, finally, Mrs. Ry-abtseva teaches Russian and German. First year teachers at MHS, Mrs. Bekhechi and Mrs. Ryabtseva are ready to take on the challenge of preparing Madison High School students for travelling overseas. Mrs. Ryabtseva really enjoyed her first year so far and feels the support from her teacher colleagues is extraordinary. She also emphasized that she had a lot of fun teaching the Russian classes and is looking forward to teaching them more. All four languages are offered at a variety of levels. So, I wish you: "Viaje feliz!", "Bon voyage!", "Priyatnava puti!" and "Gute Fahrt!"

"High school students must learn to function independently in college, in their careers, and in their adult lives," says librarian, Ms. Jackson. "To do so, they must be prepared to interpret and use all the media available to them-books, computers and the internet, television and other news sources."

Not only does the library program affect media, but Business, Keyboarding, and the Audio-Visual department all do as well.

Proving that the media department is an extremely crucial part of our lives, junior Rvan Earl videotapes a D-day reenactment.

hether you are learning CPR with Mrs. Craigo, practicing your backhand swing with Mr. Reigert, bench pressing 100 pounds with Mr. Willis, or investigating your Body Mass Index with Mrs. Mullan, Health and Physical Education are life-long skills everyone can use. MHS offers three health courses and seven physical education courses. MHS also brings in groups like Operation Keepsake. This organization allows young adults to share personal experiences to send out a message to young adolescents. Operation Keepsake uses a slide show; it is one of the most memorable parts of the program. Mrs. Craigo says, "It speaks volumes to the danger involved - not just pregnancy." In addition, most students think it's gross! Further, students are taught CPR which could one day save a loved one or someone you don't even know. Since MHS has many different physical education classes, students who are not as athletic as others have classes they will fit right into. Course selections range from Advanced Weight Lifting all the way down to Racquet Sports. "Take care of your body now and it will take care of you for years to come," says Mrs. Mullan. Being healthy and in good physical condition can be started or continued in the MHS Health and Physical Education program.

Open New Doors Auburn Career Center

uburn Career Center offers a variety of College-Tech Prep programs and Career-Tech Training programs to more than 100 Madison High School juniors and seniors. Corey Keever comments, "I am currently a junior at Auburn and my experiences there have been great. There is a lot of hands on learning involved and the class size was pretty cool because the teacher actually notices you." Sophomores have an opportunity to visit Auburn Career Center and attend an evening open house to determine if this path is the right one for them.

Replacing the broken fan, senior Robbie Coolbaugh diligently works on this computer. Robbie is excelling in the CISCO Computer Networking technology at Auburn.

Enrolled in the Emergency Medical Services program, juniors Danielle Tomko and Chris Knight are "cool under pressure" as Chris checks Danielle's vitals.

Junior Rachel Shack practices curling hair on this manikin in her Cosmetology course. Rachel is working toward her Cosmetology certificate which will allow her to get a job right out of high school next year.

Securing her manikin, senior Katherine Martin performs CPR and prepares to graduate from the Emergency Medical Services program.

Senior Kristeen Martin stops in the commons to do some work before her Business Computer class.

Junior Kimberly Trussell demonstrates how to make a bed as a Patient Care Technician. "Auburn has changed my life," comments Trussell. She would like to work at a rehabilitation facility for injured patients once she completes her education at Auburn Career Center.

Juniors Jeff Avery and Zack Underwood work together to miter cut this board properly. Jeff won a Gold Award for his computer drafting competition and will travel to Kansas City, Missouri for a national competition where he could win scholarships to continue his training after he graduates.

Senior Sadie Britton uses her skills she has acquired in the Early Childhood Education program to help her student make a paper bucket. Members of the Madison Jazz Band enjoy a "cup of joe" during their evening outing at Arabica coffee shop on Painesville square.

Junior Leotie Yard concentrates on her clarinet part at the Wind Ensemble's performance at the Spring Concert in the beginning of May.

Concert and Jazz Band

This year's bands have done an outstanding job in entertaining the Madison community and more. During Concert Band season, the entire band gets to show their amazing musical side and prove that not only can they march well but also play symphonic pieces with intensity.

Mrs. May Mr. Soriano

Mrs. May's favorite part about concert band included the performances at OMEA at Mentor High School. She is also going to miss the seniors of 2007 because of their constant desire for improvement and wants to wish them the best of luck. Showing Madison's own talented musicians, some students also participated in Solo and Ensemble. This is a challenge for many because it is usually the first time playing alone in front of an audience. The Madison Jazz Band took part in some great evening performances like the Sweetheart Dinner part in some great evening performances like the Sweetheart Dinner Dance and Senior Citizen Prom. They were praised by everyone who saw them play and perform. All students committed a lot of their free time to improve both bands and did a recognizable good job at it. "The Blue Streak Band always had and always will have something special and magical. It is a pleasure to share it with the world."-Mr. Soriano

During the Holiday Concert, senior Liz Misich, junior Paige Berry and sophomore Patrick Messenger are looking at their music while waiting for their time to join the Madison Concert Band.

Sophomore Alex Geddes plays with the Ohio All-Star Jazz Band in Columbus, Ohio. He was selected as one of the most talented 20 jazz-playing students throughout Ohio and is the first student ever from Madison to participate in this extraordinary concert.

Freshman Rebecca Hord, sings "Solitary Snowflake" along with the chorus at the winter Holiday Concert.

The Concert Choir sings "Wassail, Wassail" under the direction of Ms. Groah during the Holiday concert in December.

Resounding Voices MHS's Choral Department

The Choral department rose to the challenge with learning new pieces and styles of music throughout the year. The Chorus, made up of mostly freshmen, sang pieces such as "Why does The Willow Tree Weep," and "Change of Heart". The Concert Choir learned new styles with the group numbers for the 2007 Lake County Choir Festival were they sang "Kyrie" by Earlene Rentz, and Finale from "The Condoliers" by Gilbert and Sullivan, both providing their own challenges. An extra curricular group, Chamber Ensemble learned French for their song "El Ilest Ne'" for the Holiday Concert. Another out of school group, Ladies Ensemble prepared a piece for each seasonal concert along with a piece they took to the LCMEA (Lake County Music Educators Association) Solo and Ensemble. The ladies favorite piece was "Now the Winter," said senior Stephanie Miller. These groups performed at seasonal concerts and the Homecoming game along with the middle school choirs. In addition, the Concert Choir performed at the Lake County Choir Festival, and sang at graduation. The Madison High School Show Choir, Eclectica had many community performances including a trip to a nursing home, local elementary schools, and their annual Cabaret.

Show Choir Soloist, senior Trisha Nolan sings "Night Fever".

The Chorus reacts to the thundering applause of the audience at the Holiday concert.

"It Ain't over 'til it's over!" -Yogi Berra Varsity Baseball

Berra, " It ain't over till it's over" describes one element that the Varsity team worked on this season. They worked really hard at keeping themselves in the games. Even if mistakes were made the Varsity team would not give up. This intense spirit made them extremely competitive during the season and allowed them to play some great baseball even though their record didn't quite reflect that intensity. During the season, the team also had the privilege of playing at he famous quote by Yogi Classic Park in Eastlake as a Fundraiser against the Perry Pirates. In good ole bluestreak spirit the boys went on to win it 12-2. A few other highlights of the season were two Grand Slams hit by Shawn Sprafka and the other hit by Mario Lombardo. Coach Dragas believes the seniors: Jack Galvin, Steve Hutton, Cory Blabolil, Mario Lombardo, John Vollene, and Allen Filkins were good leaders for the team. He hopes their example will be carried on by the underclass next season.

Breaking the Speed Limit

Boys' and Girls' Track

The girls' track team had another great season, ranking third in the area while making a strong push for a league title next year. Leading the girls with their performances were Jill Dickman in the mile and the 4x800 relay team. In addition, excelling for the Streaks, Chelsea Lovell, who missed going to state in shot put by a quarter inch, is the current district champion with a throw of 37' 11.25 inches. Low numbers didn't effect morale for the boys' track team. Leading the boys with their performances also included Eric Monty in the high jump, Joey Teter in both the one and two mile race, while Curtis Weiss was one of the highlights of the team. He won both the 100 m and 200 m races at the PAC meet with a time of 11.39 seconds for the 100 meter dash and a time of 23.11 seconds for the 200 meter dash. Weiss scored 16 of the 19 points for the boys during this league meet.

Constructing the Future Varsity Softball his year's softball team had a great start to their season and kept the momentum going. They began 8-0, an achievement that hasn't been accomplished within the last four years. According to Coach Jim Pinelli, seniors Nikki Stone and Liz Misich stepped up in leading the team. Their leadership reflected in the success of the 2007 season for the girls. "The program has come a long way," said Pinelli. "When the seniors were freshmen, they won a total of two games. This year they won thirteen." The improvements have not stopped there. One of the teams goals this season was to win a PAC game. Although they suffered tough losses, the girls can be proud of what they have achieved. Five of the PAC games were lost by only one run, and with a young team full of great players, the future can only be bright for the returning members.

Up to bat, senior Liz Misich gives a good hard swing at the ball and makes it to first base.

Swinging into High Gear

his year went great for the Boys' Tennis Teams. Coach Vidmar comments on the boys' strengths. "The players always gave their best effort and in the tradition of past Madison teams, competed with class and good sportsmanship." When the captain of the team, senior Chris Judd, was asked who the most improved player of the season was, he nominated sophomore Patrick Messenger. "He did really well, being a sophomore." Coach Vidmar says the keys to success include the doubles teams consistently winning, the steady play of singles, and the contribution of reserves Josiah Huber, Jam Panyathong, and Anthony Wells. Overall, with great players and even greater attitudes, the season was a smashing success.

Preparing for a perfect back swing, sophomore Patrick Messenger gets ready for his match against Lakeside,

Hitting The Ball in High Gear

JV and Freshmen Boys' Baseball

Both the Junior Varsity and the Freshmen Boys' Baseball team ended on a near even score. The Junior Varsity team started off with a 7-1 record but due to their tough competitors, they soon fell to their glory. In the PAC, the boys ended up with a 3-6 record with an amazing defeat against South with a score of 13-6. Even though the season might not have gone as well as the boys thought, they still had their drive throughout their whole season. The Freshmen Baseball team also had a near even PAC record. Their record was 5-4 in PAC with an exquisite 10-6 win against North in the middle of their season. Both the Junior Varsity and the Freshmen Boys' Baseball team always showed their potential.

JV Softball Gets the Green Light

This year the IV girls' softball team had a great start to their season. In the first ten games, they won all except two, one against Riverside and the other against Perry. First time Madison Coach Brynn Ryan said, "Everyone on the team had a role, which was key in helping us have a successful season. We had speed, good bats, and good defense. And I can say all the girls had at least one of these qualities." This team won together, lost together, and made memories together.

For example, when they played Riverside for the fourth time, having lost the three previous games, they finally came out with a win. Coach Ryan also said, "The JV girls were wonderful this year. The team was extremely talented and they meshed well together." All of the girls played their hearts out and even though some will move up to varsity next year, this team will not forget the season or the friendships they made. They ended the season with a record of 18 wins and 5 loses.

Sophomore Kristy Rutledge runs up on a ground ball during practice before a game. As Kristy reflected on the season, she said, "It was a good season because we had many victories."

Freshman Sheryl Powell gets a piece of the ball but it's not enough to keep it in play, the umpire called a foul ball.

Sophomore Alyssa Amato steps off first to catch a pop up ball in hopes to snag a double play with an additional tag out on a Riverside player.

Book Club

Organizations at Madison breathe life into the student body. They plan activities and events that provided us with great memories of our days within these halls. For an NH5 member, they'll never forget the day they sold their brain. Nor will anyone forget the first time they gave blood at the blood drive sponsored by Key Club, or the annual activities of spirit week. What organizations were you apart of on your road trip?

Navigating the School

government designed to raise the spirit of Madison High School. Organizing many school-spirit activities, Senior President Alyssa Judd has contributed a lot of her time and effort along with the rest of the Student Council team. "We had the Powder Puff Football game, Oktoberfest, and Spirit Week to keep the tradition alive. We also introduced some new activities that we hope will become traditions here Madison High School like stockings for the teachers and the Prom Preview," said Alyssa Judd. Introduced as a fund raiser, the Prom Preview was a huge community activity for the Student Council that turned out to be a big success. Formal dresses were loaned for the show and many photography, flower, make-up, and jewelry shops came to advertise their businesses for the big night. Many seniors modeled the trends and fashions for the audience in preparation to "A Night in Paris" Madison's own prom. The club adviser Mr. Smith said, "I enjoyed watching the students come together to put on some great events this year." Mr. Smith will also miss the personalities of his senior leaders and their love for their school. He also believes that they have had a successful vear and hopes the events they had this year will continue to grow.

Academic Challenge/NHS

Academic Challenge Team as well as the National Honor Society at MHS include some of the top students as their members. Josh Szekely, Aaron Byers, and Wesley Byers participated a competition between North-East Ohio Ouiz Teams on TV. They finished second out of three. The show was aired in January. The other members of this year's Academic Challenge Team were Christine Cadman, Mallory Zehe, Alex Ungers, Corbin Lichtinger, Alex Taylor and Kristin Daniels. The group also competed in a pop culture tournament and NAQT tournament, where they did fairly well. Mr. Hupertz, the adviser, appreciatestheteamseffort to come to all the practices although they are involved with a lot of other activities. The team was very well rounded. Mapping the Journey earbook and Newspaper are formal ways remember your experiences at Madison High School. Memories good or bad are savored forever in these books and papers. There have many changes this year for yearbook including a new adviser, Mrs. Meshginpoosh and a new publishing company, Herff Jones. Mrs. Meshginpoosh's new challenge also reflects her passion for photography. addition. Madore enjoys the fun challenge of a "puzzle without a picture." Both of these teachers love their job of capturing the moment and spreading the news. Both Yearbook and Newspaper set goals for the year. One goal for Yearbook was to sell more ads. This was achieved by a record breaking $6100 in ad sales. A goal for Newspaper was to make the newspaper more student centered and not use a select few people to make the paper. "This was achieved by having a letter to the editor section, so that the student body can write back, which was very successful because the students responded and gave their opinion on many articles," says Mr. Madore. Always wanting to learn more, the yearbook and newspaper staffs attended the 69th Annual Press Day at Kent State University. Whether it is monthly or annually publication, we are here to record the moments of everybody's road trip, to map the journey for other people, and to share the good times as well as the bad.

2006-2007 Cauldron is a publication of the Madison High School Blue Streak Yearbook Staff. Four hundred and fifty copies were printed by the Herff Jones Publishing Company in Gettsyburg, Pennsylvania. Most copy and headlines were set in AHJ Bodoni font, captions in AHJ Souvenir font, and scoreboards in AHJ Baskerville font. Pre-sale price of the yearbook was $60. The yearbook staff would like to thank the many people who came to our aid by submitting photos or taking photos. A few names deserve mentioning: Eileen Findak of Findak Photography, Kathy Jackson, Alexa Collins, Debbie Morgan, Emily Grau, Tricia Mullan, Mark Fickenscher, Pat Moran, Mrs. Bevan, Jackie Lovejov, Christopher Laska, Kyle Keefover, Ethan Laing, Tyler Hale, Tara Nebraski, Robert Braidich, Danielle Tompko, Liz Nunnally, Sadie Britton, and Christine Cadman, among others. Please remember that the Cauldron is a student publication. We work very hard to avoid, find, and correct errors, and we apologize for those we missed. We sincerely hope you enjoy your Road Trip yearbook.
